

Multi skilled 80

Chapter 80: Yet to Give Up

Zi Yi did not return immediately after she left Metropolis University. Some of the items she purchased from the black market had arrived and instead of the receiving address being her current place of residence, it was sent to an express intermediate post office.

She made the payment and collected the package. Just as she was about to return, she discovered that her phone was being monitored.

She maintained her composure and checked further. Very soon, she found out the reason. "It seems like they've yet to give up."

She had blocked off all contact from the Zi Family, but she had forgotten to remove Li Peirong's supplementary card tied to this phone number. She did not expect that person to transfer her hundreds of thousands of dollars a few days ago.

She had coincidentally used this specific card earlier.

There was no need for her to think further to know of Li Peirong's intention.

Zi Yi's lips curled up. "Since you wish to track me, then I'll play with you."

She then directly drove towards the direction that headed outside the city.

The east side of the capital was close to the sea, which was a quieter place and more ideal to deal with some people.

With great difficulty, they had finally detected Zi Yi's whereabouts and hastily chased after her for a period of time.

The man who held onto the tracking device was surprised. "She's heading towards the direction of the sea."

Another man grinned. "Perfect. It'll be more conducive for us to take action. Since Mrs. Zi has told us to destroy her, and Miss Zi is also very beautiful, we'll definitely reap a huge profit if we use her to film AVs<sup>1</sup>. We'll also get to release our urges and enjoy her body."

The driver whistled. "This is a pretty good idea. After we're done with the filming, we can earn another sum of money if we send the video to Mrs. Zi. Heh heh..."

When they thought of those scenes, they revealed sinister smiles.

As Zi Yi's car drove to an increasingly deserted area, the car following behind her had lessened its distance.

There was a big seaport in the east, with numerous ships docking and leaving every day. The seaport was also crowded with people.

However, there was a large hillside behind the harbor. It was not considered high, but trees and reef beaches had filled the area. The terrain there was considered rather dangerous, and birds who are protected by the state also lived there. As a result, that area was undeveloped.

Zi Yi drove the car to the edge of the hillside before she stopped.

1

The moment she killed her engine, the van that was following behind her had also come to a stop.

Four to five burly men, who were obviously not kind souls, walked in her direction the moment they exited the car.

Zi Yi alighted and glanced at them before she walked further into the woods.

Her speed was not exactly very fast, but she had disappeared from their line of sight in the blink of an eye.

“Strange, why did she disappear?”

“She must have hidden behind a tree, let’s go in further. It’ll be easier to do things inside the woods.

“Leave the camcorder on. We’ll record as we search for her. It’ll be much more exciting this way.”

“Heh heh heh...”

The few men soon followed her into the woods.

Zi Yi deliberately exposed her silhouette from time to time. But despite her efforts, the few men still found it hard to follow her.

After she had walked for some distance, she simply stopped and waited.

When they saw her stop in her tracks, they misunderstood her and thought that she did not dare to walk in any further. All of them approached her with a sinister smile.

“Beauty, why did you stop?”

“Hey gorgeous, are you feeling afraid? Don’t be, we’ll love you dearly.”

Zi Yi coldly gazed at them. “Who told you to track my whereabouts?”

“No one.”

One of the hooligans said, “We’ve been attracted by your face and figure. You’re such a gorgeous girl and you should...”

Whoosh~ Pow!

“Ahh-nggg...”

That hooligan instantly covered his neck and was overwhelmed with pain. He tried to dig out the object from inside his throat with his fingers as he cried out.

“Ah Zhang, what’s wrong with you?”

“A stone is stuck in his throat. Quick, pat him on his back.”

In the face of the several hooligans, Zi Yi patted her hands clean which had been dirtied from picking up the stone. She then asked indifferently, “Who else wants to talk?”

They finally realized that the stone in Ah Zhang’s neck was caused by her. All of them flew into a rage and moved towards her with fierce expressions on their faces.

“It seems like you won’t understand your current situation if we do not show you what’s going on!”