Chapter 891: Lu Jingye's Ruthlessness

Lu Jingye's gaze darkened and he did not respond.

The person continued to speak, "The General said that Mr. Lu will definitely be interested in the present."

Speaking of this, he purposely leaned over and said in a whisper, "It has something to do with your wife."

Lu Jingye's gaze turned cold and he turned around with the intention to leave. While he walked away, he said, "Tell General Hank not to use my wife as an excuse whenever he feels like it. Otherwise, I won't be polite."

The man did not expect Lu Jingye to disregard General Hank to such an extent. His expression turned cold and he looked at Lu Jingye's back view as he said, "Mr. Lu, your wife is here. Are you really not planning to bring her with you?"

"My wife is in China and so she can't possibly be here."

After Lu Jingye said that, he had already walked quite a distance away.

The man stood there and his expression darkened even more.

Just then, a wave of footsteps came from behind him.

"What's going on? Why didn't you manage to keep him?"

Ravel walked over and stood next to him while speaking in a displeased tone, "If you can't keep him back, Grandfather will be angry."

Kevin trembled at the thought of this and could only say with a sullen expression, "He didn't even believe me when I said Zi Yi was here. How am I supposed to keep him here?"

Traces of a crazy rage flashed past Ravel's gaze. "Since he doesn't believe us, bring his wife out and show him."

Kevin paused for a moment before nodding his head and walking to another side.

Lu Jingye saw several guards quickly walking up to him when he arrived at the parking lot.

"Mr. Lu, our young master has asked you to wait for a moment."

Even though the guard said that in a polite manner, he had forcefully stopped Lu Jingye from entering his car.

Just as the bodyguard Lu Jingye brought along with him wanted to step forward, he was stopped by Lu Jingye's gaze.

After waiting for a short while, Lu Jingye saw a group of people making their way over from the other side. Among them, there was a familiar figure that made him squint his eyes.

The group arrived very soon to where he was standing and Zi Yi who was standing next to Kevin called out, "Ah Jing."

There was finally a change in Lu Jingye's expression. He looked displeased.

Kevin saw the change in Lu Jingye's expression and the corner of his lips curved up. "Mr. Lu, I did tell you that your wife is in the General's Estate. You didn't believe me."

Having said that, he turned to look at Zi Yi, and his smile deepened. "I'll hand your wife back to you now."

After Kevin said his piece, he even gave a gentlemanly gesture to Zi Yi and said, "Mrs. Lu, you can return to Mr. Lu's side now."

Zi Yi looked at Kevin with a displeased expression before she walked to where Lu Jingye was and said, "I originally wanted to look for you, but I was discovered by the people inside."

Lu Jingye narrowed his eyes and looked at Zi Yi who was approaching him. He suddenly asked her a question, "Where's the dress I prepared for you?"

"Hmm?" Zi Yi froze for a moment and then the corner of her lips curved up. "I found it troublesome to wear and changed out of it when I came."

"Is that so?"

Zi Yi nodded her head and increased her pace as she suddenly ran towards him with the intention to jump into his embrace.

"Ah Jing, I miss you."

Lu Jingye looked at her with a gentle expression, but in the very next second, he grabbed her by the neck.

"Ugh... cough, cough..."

Zi Yi's face instantly turned red in an instant. She tried to pry his hands apart, but she could not move at all and was about to suffocate to death at any moment.

Kevin, who was standing there, was shocked. He looked at Lu Jingye who had suddenly become cruel and fierce, not to mention, he was currently releasing a strong murderous aura. Kevin was frightened deep down inside.

"Lu Jingye, are you trying to kill your wife?!"

"She's not my wife," Lu Jingye said with certainty. His voice was very heavy. "No one can disguise as Zi Yi."

Without even batting an eyelid, he increased the force in his fingers, and subsequently, a cracking sound was heard. The woman in his hand had her neck broken.

She was dead.

After that, Lu Jingye headed to his car.

The guards standing around did not dare to approach him at all.

Even Kevin was overwhelmed by the murderous aura emanating from Lu Jingye that he forgot to react.

After Lu Jingye's car drove away, Kevin suddenly recovered his senses. He thought about how he would definitely receive a punishment by allowing Lu Jingye to leave just like that and hastily said to the guards, "Drive the car over and quickly give chase!"

The guards immediately moved.

At nine o'clock in the evening, an undisguised chasing game suddenly took place in the city. In particular, the cars behind had switched on police sirens and the nearby cars all gave way.

The car in front was driving very quickly and it was headed to the suburbs.

However, the people who were giving chase had no idea that the person in the car had already been changed long ago.

...

After Zi Yi and Qin Ze returned to the hotel, Qin Ze was about to ask what Zi Yi did in the middle of the banquet. However, he did not expect Zi Yi to shut the door as soon as she entered her room.

His nose was almost flattened and he subconsciously rubbed it before turning back as he returned to his room.

After Zi Yi returned to her room, Shadow II said to her, "Master, the people following you hid after reaching the door."

Zi Yi nodded and headed to the window to take a look outside before she took out her phone and sent Qin Ze a message.

[Someone followed us upstairs. I will leave here shortly, pay attention to your safety.]

Having said that, she put away her phone and took out a circular ball from her pockets. The circular ball floated above her head and subsequently, a soft light flashed before Zi Yi turned invisible.

She then openly swaggered past the people who were following her. She was well aware who had sent them here, but she had no intentions of taking care of them either.

When she reached the first floor, her phone buzzed. It was a message from Qin Ze.

Zi Yi hid in a camera blindspot and changed her face before revealing herself. She held her phone in her hand and headed outside.

Qin Ze: [Who is following us? Where are you going? Wait for me!]

Zi Yi: [Don't come out. Those people following us are only aiming for me. They won't do anything to you even if you stay.]

Qin Ze: [Then where are you going?]

Zi Yi: [To look for my husband.]

Qin Ze: [...]

Qin Ze: [Then do be careful.]

Zi Yi did not reply to him afterward as she put away her phone and left.

This place was the most prosperous section of the city. There were plenty of restaurants, cars, and people everywhere. A car stopped in front of Zi Yi.

After Zi Yi got in the car, she said, "Go to this address."

Having said that, a specific location was reflected in front.

The car directly drove out.

Half an hour later, the car stopped in front of an ordinary-looking two-story residential building.

When Zi Yi reached the door, she took a glance. There was an electronic lock. She took out a card from her pockets and swiped it across the lock before it opened.

There was no one inside and the lights were also switched off. She took out her phone as a light source and it took a short while before she found the switch and turned on the lights.

The inside of the living room was also rather simple. There was a fireplace, tables, chairs, and a small wine cabinet.

There were even several bottles of wine placed in the wine cabinet.

Zi Yi walked over to the cabinet and took a look. She ended up taking a bottle and a glass to the sofa to sit down. She then turned on the surveillance of the hotel she was staying at previously while waiting for Lu Jingye to arrive.

By the time Lu Jingye walked into the living room, he saw a bottle of wine in front of Zi Yi that was about to be emptied.

Zi Yi heard the door opening and turned around. At the sight of his arrival, she smiled and her tone of voice sounded light. "Ah Jing, you're here."

Chapter 892: What Kind of Stimulation Did Her Man Receive?

Lu Jingye walked over to her with large strides and sat next to her.

Zi Yi leaned over and sniffed his body. "You drank two more glasses than agreed."

The corner of Lu Jingye's lips curved up at her words. He raised his hand and pinched her cheeks. "Are you a puppy?"

Zi Yi wrinkled her nose discontentedly. She suddenly supported herself up using his shoulders and raised her legs before sitting down on his lap.

She then held his neck and asked, "Is everything going well on your side?"

"Mhmm."

"You must have encountered something."

Lu Jingye smiled, but he still told her what happened earlier.

Zi Yi said in surprise, "How can you be so sure that she wasn't me?"

"Even if your appearances are the same, those people are unable to imitate your behavior."

Zi Yi was pleased by his words and gave him a smooch on the lips before she told him what happened on her end today. In the end, she said, "That Runge guy even sent someone to follow me."

"I don't have much information on this guy. You should pay more attention to your surroundings in the following days."

"I'm not scared of him."

Lu Jingye pinched her waist lightly after hearing what she said.

Zi Yi shivered and said discontentedly, "Don't pinch my waist."

She then leaned her whole weight into his embrace and said while hugging him, "I've fought with him. He can't win against me."

"I heard that his marksmanship is very good."

"I'm even more unafraid of him now."

Zi Yi raised her hand to touch his chest and asked, "What time will you go back tomorrow?"

"Five o'clock in the morning."

"Will you be able to make it in time?"

"Yes."

"Then..." Zi Yi looked up at him while she was in his embrace. Her eyes were shining as she said, "Let's go and take a rest."

This house was prepared for her by Lu Jingye previously. Zi Yi wanted to stay closer to Professor Dou so she had not stayed here yet during this trip. However, the place was well-equipped with everything. Both of them held each others' hands as they walked into the bedroom. Lu Jingye got Zi Yi to take a shower first.

He removed his tie and said, "I'll have a look at the babies first."

Zi Yi held his hand without letting go and said, "Let's shower together and look at them after we come out. It'll save us time."

Having said that, she pulled him into the bathroom.

By the time Zi Yi was carried outside, she no longer had the energy to look at the babies.

Lu Jingye leaned over, kissed her red and swollen lips, and asked in a hoarse voice, "Yiyi, do you still want to look at the babies?"

Zi Yi did not even feel like lifting her eyelids right now. She answered him with a snort from her nose before she buried her head into the quilt and fell asleep.

Lu Jingye flipped open the quilt on his side and lay on the bed with traces of a smile in his eyes. Subsequently, he turned on the virtual screen and connected to the nursery at home. After looking at the babies for some time, he fell asleep with Zi Yi in his arms.

The next day, Zi Yi was woken up by her mobile phone, which was placed on the bedside table, buzzing.

She stretched her hand to reach for her phone. She then checked the caller ID and swiped to answer the call.

"Zi Yi." Qin Ze's voice sounded from the other end. "Zi Yi, where are you right now? Are those guys who were following us still around?"

Zi Yi turned on the virtual screen and took a glance. "They left."

Qin Ze breathed a sigh of relief and asked, "Where are you?"

Zi Yi looked at her surroundings and her hand patted the space next to her. There was no longer the warmth from the man she spent the night with. "Don't bother about where I am. You have breakfast first. We'll meet at the cafe near the place we stayed at."

Qin Ze was not the type to question someone aggressively either. Since Zi Yi had suggested so, he agreed.

After hanging up the phone, Zi Yi lifted the quilt away, only to discover marks all over her body. She touched her neck and muttered, "Don't tell me there are marks here too."

She was worried about it and headed for the bathroom after getting dressed.

The moment she checked herself in the mirror, sure enough, she saw that there were two marks. Moreover, they were in a place where clothes could not cover them.

Zi Yi revealed a smile as she touched the marks. What kind of stimulation did her man receive?

However, she likes this side of him.

She was not afraid of getting seen at all and so she openly headed to the cafe near the hotel she had stayed at the previous day.

Qin Ze was already waiting for her in the shop.

At the sight of Zi Yi's arrival, he whispered to her, "I paid attention to my surroundings before I came. No one was following me."

Just then, the staff member of the cafe just so happened to make his way over and Zi Yi ordered breakfast and a cup of coffee.

After the staff member left, Qin Ze looked at her with a strange expression. "You haven't eaten breakfast yet?"

"Isn't that normal?"

Zi Yi took out her phone and connected to Shadow's eyes. She had already got Shadow to follow Professor Dou since last night. They had yet to leave and were having a meeting in the conference room. They were discussing the trip to Country D's research lab today.

The staff member brought over Zi Yi's breakfast and a cup of coffee soon afterwards. When Zi Yi raised the cup, Qin Ze suddenly saw the hickey on her neck and he could not help but tease her. "I was still worried about you staying out alone last night. But as it turns out, someone went to meet her lover last night."

Zi Yi shot him a glance and rebuked him rudely. "An unattached man like you can only be envious and feel jealousy."

Qin Ze struggled to understand. "...Why would I feel envious and jealous?"

"Because you don't even have someone to meet."

Qin Ze: "..."

Can this woman's mouth be less poisonous?

When Zi Yi finished breakfast and was about to wipe her mouth, her phone vibrated. She grabbed her phone and took a look before she said to Qin Ze, "Those people are coming over."

Qin Ze furrowed his brows. "I didn't manage to shake them off?"

"No."

Zi Yi stood up and said, "Go out first. I'll head to the washroom... Settle the bill on your way."

Having said that, she headed for the washroom.

Qin Ze exited the cafe after he took care of the bill and he saw the people that were following them.

Those people did not hide even despite being found out. Instead, they came toward him directly.

Qin Ze subconsciously turned and ran away.

Sure enough, those people started chasing him.

By the time Zi Yi came out, Qin Ze had already lured the people far away.

She changed into another appearance and walked toward the hotel where Professor Dou and the team stayed.

At half past eight in the morning, Country D sent a car to pick up the China members.

Country D's robot research lab was located in the suburbs. The building covered a large area of land and the walls were made of copper and iron tiles.

After the car stopped, a large group of guards came over and did a check on everyone.

After the check, the management of the research lab who was standing next to the Robot Association's President said, "Dear guests from China. Today, you will be visiting the special studios of our robot research lab. Of course, I hope that everyone will not randomly touch anything when they are looking around. Also, please don't advertise what you've seen inside after you come out."

Even if the management did not say anything, Professor Dou and the rest could not possibly plan to do anything like that. After everyone agreed, they were led inside.

When they went in, the group of reporters who had been camping there for a long time took photos non-stop.

The group went in to visit for a whole two hours before they were warmly sent out by the management of the research lab.

The reporters waiting there had also swarmed around them in an instant.

Chapter 893: A Chip in Country D's Robot Research Lab Went Missing. China's Team Gets Suspected

"Is the robot research lab of country D going to cooperate with China's robot research lab? China's team was invited to visit the research lab this time, can you reveal what kind of technical departments you visited?"

"Excuse me, how does China's Team feel after visiting Country D's robot research lab?"

"Isn't Country D's robot research lab worried about the leakage of core robot technology by inviting the China members inside to have a look?"

"Is..."

...

The reporters got even more excited and they were acting as though they even wanted to know how many steps they took after entering the research lab.

It had to be known that this visit was a huge piece of international news. As long as they managed to get a piece of information, they would be able to report it however they like.

The one who responded was the President of Country D's Robot Association, and one of the leaders of China, Leader Lu.

Country D's Robot Association President said with a smile, "Everyone, you can slowly ask your questions. The reason why we invited China's team to visit our robot research lab is so that both countries can progress together."

Leader Lu also said, "Country D is the top country in terms of robot technology and our team members have benefited greatly from this visit. We also discussed the common development direction of robots for both countries."

...

Everyone continued to ask, but the replies of the two country's representatives were flawless. They did not reveal anything that shouldn't be revealed.

However, there were too many reporters keeping guard here at this time. One whole hour had passed since the start of the questions.

Finally, they had finished answering all the reporter's questions and China's team was about to get in the car to leave.

All of a sudden, a large number of armed guards rushed out of the robot research lab.

These armed guards had Professor Dou and the China team surrounded.

Everyone present was confused.

"What's going on?"

"What happened? Why did those guards surround the China team?"

"Could it be that something happened?"

Just as everyone was feeling baffled, a man with a colonel's epaulet strode out. He announced in a loud voice, "The most cutting-edge AI chip in the research lab went missing. In order to identify and locate the thief, we have no choice but to detain everyone from the China team and hold them in custody until the chip is found."

As soon as the colonel finished speaking, he waved his hand and the guards held everyone from China's team in custody.

"We didn't take your chip at all."

"We didn't even visit the most confidential department in your research lab. How could we possibly know where your chip went?"

"You guys are definitely doing this on purpose."

The China team detected that the situation did not look good at the sight of these armed guards coming out. However, never in their imaginations did they think that these people would frame them.

They would certainly refuse to admit it and struggle in such a situation.

Unexpectedly, as soon as they started struggling, the colonel said sternly, "We are currently only suspicious of you, so please cooperate. If not we will have a reason to suspect you are the culprits. Do you know the consequences of stealing the most cutting-edge AI chip from the research lab?"

The confused reporters were inexplicably excited upon hearing the colonel's speech.

The photographers continuously pressed the shutter on their cameras.

Soon, the situation here was uploaded online.

The whole internet exploded due to this incident.

“An expected behavior from a Country that is weak in robot technology. How could they do such a thing?!”

“They are really a disgrace to China. Country D is ranked first in the world in terms of robot technology. Are they trying to surpass Country D by stealing their chip?”

“Are the brains of those people scolding the China members for decoration? The one who emerged in first place in the international robot competition is China’s robot. Moreover, it was also Country D who invited the China team to visit. The moment China’s team came out, Country D’s research lab claims that their chip went missing. In my opinion, I think it’s a deliberate attempt by Country D to detain China’s team.”

“China’s robot only won a single competition and so do they think they’re that awesome? Country D surpasses China’s robot in all aspects. Their robot, Moonlight, merely won due to luck and this can’t prove anything!”

“That’s right. China’s team must have stolen the most cutting-edge chip from Country D’s research lab. They must be strictly investigated.”

“Hmph! Those scolding the China team must be hired keyboard warriors. China’s team aren’t fools, why would they try to steal Country D’s chip while they are receiving such attention worldwide?”

“That’s right. It’s no wonder Country D only invited China’s team to visit. They are clearly digging a hole for them to jump in!”

“I think that it’s because the China team visited Country D’s research lab and realized that there were plenty of cutting-edge chips they could not develop and thus, they took advantage of the situation to steal one.”

...

There were all sorts of comments on the internet.

At the same time, China’s Embassy had also issued a notice to Country D’s Embassy for the release of their people.

After the diplomacy talks between the two sides, the answer Country D’s robot research lab gave was: As long as China can prove that they didn’t steal the chip, they would release them.

Such a huge change happened in a single day and nearly the whole world knew of it.

There were many saying that those from China were goners and that China’s research lab was also dead meat.

If they were unable to prove themselves, not only would the first place they receive be questioned, even the several cutting-edge robot research results they recently announced would be questioned.

For a period of time, everyone's attention was on China's research lab.

When Zi Yi received Mr. Qin's phone call, she was currently in a cake shop eating cakes and drinking milk tea as she watched a video from the World's Economic Conference.

She answered the call and casually greeted the other person.

Mr. Qin's voice did not sound urgent either and he even had the time to ask about his son's situation with great interest.

Zi Yi took a sip of milk tea and said irresponsibly, "He's most probably hidden in a certain corner or he might have been caught by the Major General."

Mr. Qin said confidently after two seconds of silence, "I feel that the brat hasn't been caught yet. He's not that weak."

After he finished asking about his son, he moved on to the main topic. "What do you think about Professor Dou and the team's situation?"

"What opinions could I possibly have?" Zi Yi said, "Since Country D's robot research lab wants to play a big game, let's play along with them."

Mr. Qin asked again, "How do you plan to play with them?"

Instead of answering, Zi Yi asked, "What do you think about breaking in directly and bringing them out?"

Mr. Qin asked her, "Aren't you afraid that Country D is doing this to lure you out?"

Zi Yi clearly answered him, "Isn't this obvious enough? They're doing this on purpose."

Mr. Qin: "..."

Zi Yi took another sip and said, "Country D's milk tea isn't good."

Mr. Qin subconsciously added and said, "The cake there is not bad though."

Zi Yi responded affirmatively and used the spoon to cut the cake.

Mr. Qin changed the topic back again and asked, "When do you plan to take action?"

Zi Yi said, "I'll wait until Ah Jing returns to the embassy after today's meeting."

The World Economic Conference was held for three consecutive days, from nine o'clock in the morning to three o'clock in the afternoon. It was currently one o'clock in the afternoon.

Chapter 894: Welcoming the Attack

The situation of China's team getting detained by the robot research lab of Country D became increasingly intense. There were many people waiting to see what measures the higher-ups of China would take.

At quarter to four, there was a sudden deafening alarm in Country D's robot research lab.

The sound of the alarm was like a heavy hammer that hammered their minds.

There were those who were shocked, some in disbelief, and some who were confused.

At the highest command center of Country D's national robot research lab.

The group of high-level officials was staring at the surveillance installed all around with serious expressions.

"What's going on?"

"We can't find out who shifted all the surveillance."

"Impossible! The defense system of our research lab is the best worldwide and no one has the ability to infiltrate at all."

"Could it be those from the hacker alliance?"

"Impossible. Those from the hacker alliance aren't that skilled."

"We can't even find the slightest clue."

There was a lively discussion with everyone talking at once. Just then, the door to the command room was pushed open and Major General Runge who was wearing epaulets befitting of his position walked in.

Everyone immediately got on their feet to greet him respectfully.

"Major General Runge."

Runge returned their greetings and his cold gaze swept across everyone.

While everyone was stunned by his gaze, they made way for him at the same time.

The middle-aged man standing in the middle hastily moved away from the seat.

Runge sat down and said, "Where are the China team members?"

The middle-aged man hastily replied, "They are in the 17th lounge."

Runge's gaze landed on the screen and sometime later, he said, "Bring them to the surveillance room."

The middle-aged man was momentarily stunned before he hastily ordered the men to bring them over.

Runge also stood up and headed to the surveillance room.

Everyone immediately followed him.

17th lounge.

After Professor Dou and the team were brought inside, the people there did not do anything to them. They only got them to stay inside this lounge.

They did not expect to be brought out again after a few hours.

They had imagined many different possibilities, but none of them included what they were experiencing right now. They were brought to the surveillance room.

The surveillance room of Country D's robot research lab was extremely big and there were large screens on all three ends of the walls.

Beneath the large screens were numerous computers and a group of engineers seated before the computer as they tapped on the keyboards.

On the other side was a vacant space where the leaders of the research lab were standing.

Among the group of leaders, the young man standing in the middle was extremely noticeable.

Disregarding the epaulets on his shoulders, just his imposing aura was able to cause the atmosphere to stiffen and it made everyone unconsciously respect him.

Just then, Runge looked at them and after some time, he said, "Half an hour ago, all the alarms in the lab went off and we weren't able to find out who was behind it."

The members from China were all confused by his comment.

However, Professor Dou's heart clenched tightly.

Runge's gaze stayed on him for an additional two seconds before he started speaking again. "The defense system in our robot research lab is the best worldwide. Who could possibly have such great skills?"

His questions had stumped them.

The engineers subconsciously thought, "Even your team doesn't even know who the culprit is. Do you think we would know?"

After Runge said that, he used his sharp gaze to stare at them and he stopped talking.

The team members from China were all having chills from his concentrated stare.

Just then, an engineer from Country D screamed in a frightened voice, "All our surveillance is hacked."

Everyone subconsciously turned to look at the display screens.

They only saw the screen displaying a cosmic black hole.

All the nearby galaxies were rapidly swallowed by a black hole and the video made one feel their scalp was tingly after watching it for a long time.

"Immediately defend against the hacker!"

Runge's voice was terrifyingly fierce. The group of engineers who were stunned by the sudden attack instantly recovered their senses and hastily defended against the attack.

An image that looked like a fragment appeared on the screen.

Five minutes later, the screen seemed as though it had exploded and letters quickly appeared from the black hole.

“Remember all the letters!”

As soon as Runge gave the command, all the engineers quickly remembered the letters.

One of the engineers with a superb memory had combined the letters into a paragraph and read it out.

“Digging a hole for someone to jump in, what kind of skill is that? Since you wish to play, then prepare to receive our attack.”

The line of words caused their scalp to feel even more tingly.

Runge stared at the black hole on the screen and said, “Take out the secret robots in the lab to... welcome the attack!”

“General Runge, this won’t do...”

“This is an order!”

“Yes.”

The highest-level leader in the research lab immediately issued a command. “Activate Odin and Zeus right away.”

The team members from China also felt a tremor in their hearts when they heard this.

They have long heard about the secret robots in Country D. It’s said that if both robots transform together, their combined might is capable of resisting hordes of enemies.

Who on earth has such skills to force Country D to bring out these two robots?

Just then, all the screens returned to normal.

When everyone saw the two robots appearing on the screen, the people from Country D looked serious.

Professor Dou and the team members were stunned by the two robots.

“The robot that competed with Moonlight before wasn’t Zeus!”

Everyone turned to look at Engineer Meng.

One of the engineers in Country D said contemptuously, “The robots in your country don’t have enough skill for us to reveal the real Zeus.”

Engineer Meng instantly flushed red in anger at his words.

At this moment, Engineer Chu snorted and retaliated. “What’s there to be so proud of? It’s someone from our country that is challenging you right now. You don’t even know where they are right now.”

“Impossible! There can’t be someone that skilled in your country!”

“Why you...”

“Engineer Chu.” Professor Dou warned him. “Be mindful of what you say.”

Engineer Chu suddenly came to a realization and knew that he had been too irritable and chose to keep quiet.

Just then, the screen was controlled again and Chinese words appeared.

“Release the China team in an hour.”

While everyone had their eyes widened in shock, Runge’s cold voice sounded.

“It’ll depend on if you have the ability to take them away first.”

On the screen: “Then give it a try.”

After those words disappeared, there was a sudden rumbling sound outside.

The floor everyone was standing on started to tremble.

Before the others could react, Runge turned around and walked outside as he said, “Bring Odin and Zeus to the experimental base.”

The experimental base was located right beside the research lab.

The experimental base was where they tested the performance of the robots. It covered a large area and there were both flat lands and hilly terrains.

After Runge went out, he got in a military vehicle and headed in that direction.

By the time the others came chasing out after him, the car had long driven away.

“Quick, keep up with him.”

“Protect General Runge and don’t let him get hurt.”

There was a platform outside the experimental base.

It was at least fifty meters high and one can see the entire experimental base when they stood on the platform.

Odin and Zeus were already standing in the experimental base.

Runge stood at the top of the platform and the side screen connected to the surveillance inside the command room. He seemed to know that the person behind this could hear him and he said, “If you lose, you have to slog for Country D’s robot lab for a lifetime.”

Chapter 895: Causing an Explosion

The other leaders of the research lab had also rushed over.

Runge glanced at them for a second before he said in a deep voice, "Bring those team members from China."

Even though everyone did not understand the purpose behind his order, they still heeded his order and brought them here.

Everyone stood on the observation platform built with earthquake-resistant solid windows to spectate.

After waiting for a short time, no robots appeared

Some people started to get impatient.

"Are we being played?"

"Perhaps they were just hackers. I don't believe anyone has the ability to provoke our Odin and Zeus."

Speaking of this, everyone subconsciously turned to look at Runge who was staring at the ground below.

They were thinking about how there were instances where Major General Runge made mistakes in his judgment.

Just then, Odin and Zeus suddenly moved.

Before the spectators managed to react, they saw four robots appearing at the same time.

At the sight of the four robots, everyone who had seen Zi Yi's robot in the past revealed a surprised expression.

"Heavens! Those are Zi Yi's robots. Those robots have previously appeared in the previous robot exhibition held in China."

"She actually has four invisible robots?"

"How did these robots appear here in the first place?"

While everyone was feeling emotions of surprise, they subconsciously turned to look at Professor Dou.

Professor Dou calmly looked at the four robots who made their appearance. However, he was feeling mixed emotions internally.

Sure enough, in the end, they still needed his niece to rescue them.

"Hmph!"

Runge's cold snort instantly silenced everyone.

Everyone was staring at the ground below.

The six robots were engaged in a fight as soon as they met each other.

The fight this time was no longer an ordinary physical fight. Instead, all sorts of advanced attacks were launched one after another.

For a moment, light, wind, thunder, and electricity were all drawn toward the robots.

Soon, those who were standing on the observation platform were unable to clearly see the situation on the battlefield.

Just then, one of the leaders handed Runge a pair of glasses.

“Major General Runge. These are special glasses that will allow you to see their fight.”

Runge took the glasses and wore them. Sure enough, he was able to see the fight clearly.

It was precisely because of this fact that he was even more shocked by the abilities of Zi Yi’s robots.

Each and every move from her robots contained the strength and power that would make one feel a chill.

The fight only lasted for ten minutes before Odin and Zeus were forced to transform and combine.

After the two robots transformed, they turned into a ten meter tall huge robot.

The sizes of the other four robots were like ants when they stood in front of the transformed Odin and Zeus.

The leaders on Country D’s side finally had the chance to speak in a proud tone. “I don’t believe these four robots are capable of transforming together. Only the robots from our country are capable of such technology.”

As soon as he made that remark, before other people had the chance to agree with him, the four robots suddenly stood in different spots, as if setting up an array.

Shortly afterwards, all four of them turned invisible at the same time.

Everyone made eye contact with each other.

“What’s going on? Don’t tell me those robots escaped?”

“That must be the case. No matter how powerful they are, they can’t possibly surpass the transformed Odin and Zeus.”

Other people also wanted to say a few words. However, they suddenly saw a strong ray of light and they subconsciously used their arms to block the light. Only Runge who was wearing the special glasses saw what exactly happened to the robots who suddenly appeared.

This new robot was as tall as the combined Odin and Zeus. However, even he could sense the strength the robot was radiating through the glass.

In particular, he felt the powerful energy that was capable of destroying the land scattering in the surroundings.

There was only enough time for him to shout, “Everyone, get down!”

Just when everyone subconsciously followed his order, a powerful light ray spread in all directions.

BANG!

BOOM!

The structure beneath the observation tower was unable to withstand the wave of vibration and was about to collapse.

A strong sense of despair and panic surged within everyone's hearts.

Only Runge slightly raised his head while experiencing the strong attack.

He saw a light, similar to a barrier appearing in front of the observation platform that weakened the vibrations of the attack. At the same time, he saw a line of Chinese characters on the screen.

"You lost. Let them go."

The line of words disappeared soon after.

Several minutes or so later, the rest finally realized that they were perfectly fine. Everyone felt a sense of excitement about having survived after experiencing a near-death experience.

They hastily raised their heads, only to see that the youngest Major General was already on his feet.

Everyone hastily got up on their feet.

When they saw the base razed to the ground and the destroyed research laboratory, their expressions turned stern in an instant.

Just then, Runge's voice sounded. "Release the China team."

Everyone was feeling complicated emotions.

Just then, Runge walked to Professor Dou.

Professor Dou looked at the young man standing in front of him and while he was shocked by the sharpness within his gaze, he felt more at ease deep down inside.

Both of them maintained eye contact for a few seconds.

Runge said, "Go back and tell your Mr. Qin that we will be taking this talent."

Having said that, he turned to the others and said, "Whoever dares to spread the story of today will be dealt with by the military law."

Following that, he turned around and left.

Professor Dou looked at his departing back gaze and his lips were drawn into a straight line.

How could his niece possibly slog for the robot research lab of Country D?

The powerful explosion originating from inside the robot research lab caused the reporters who had been waiting outside to lose their bearings due to the shock. However, they were all extremely excited as they could not wait to rush in and see what had happened.

However, the whole base was guarded by armed guards and no one dared to rush in at all.

Minutes and seconds passed by and there was not the slightest piece of news coming out.

Everyone was finally feeling anxious.

“What happened inside? Did an explosion just happen?”

“Why isn’t the Robot Association coming out to explain?”

“Is Country D going to release the China team?”

Just as the reporters were all feeling anxious, there were the sounds of cars coming closer.

They subconsciously turned around to take a look.

“That’s the car belonging to the Chinese Embassy!”

“The Chinese Embassy is actually here to fetch the China robot team members in person.”

“Will Country D’s robot research lab release the people?”

Just as everyone was making all sorts of guesses, the China team was led out by a group of armed guards and leaders.

All of them had serious expressions on their faces and no one said anything.

Just as the reporters wanted to swarm over and have them surrounded, they were stopped by the armed guards.

“Excuse me, are the China team cleared of their suspicions?”

“What was exactly going on with the explosion sound earlier on?”

“Excuse me...”

The China team members did not say a single word and they were sent over to the Chinese Embassy cars by the guards.

The guards continued to block the reporters and prevented them from approaching.

Just then, the President of Country D’s Robot Association started to speak. “Everyone, this is just a misunderstanding. We have found the lost chip and at the same time, we have apologized to the China team. We hope that everyone can stop reporting indiscriminately.”

The reporters were momentarily stunned by his explanation and following on, they started asking questions they were even more concerned about.

“What’s with the powerful explosion that happened from the research lab earlier?”

“Did something happen in the research lab?”

...

Chapter 896: Don’t Tell Me Those Guards Are Looking For You?

“Everyone, please calm down.”

What a joke, General Major Runge had issued a command on this incident and no one was allowed to speak of what happened earlier on. Moreover, it was something so embarrassing and he was unwilling to mention it either.

The President said with a hint of displeasure in his tone of voice, "It was just a normal experiment that happened in our research lab. Nothing big happened. Please leave the vicinity right away."

The President turned around and left after he said this piece of information.

He did not have the thought of staying behind another second longer.

The President was in a complicated mood as he thought to himself, "Why did the robot technology in China advance so quickly? Or could it be that Zi Yi from China is basically an unparalleled genius?"

If that was really the case, can Country D still keep its reputation as the top country in robot technology?

He was simply afraid of thinking of anything further.

...

After the China team was released, the Director of Country D's robot research lab personally apologized to them on their official website. His tone of voice sounded very sincere, but he never mentioned a single reason why the explosion happened in the lab.

Many people were all making guesses in private.

"This incident is surely not as simple as it seems. In the beginning, Country D looked so forceful and confident when they detained the China team. How could they have let them go so easily?"

"Could it be that China gave them plenty of benefits or that they had promised them something?"

"It doesn't look like it. If China really promised them something, they would not have revealed proud expressions when they walked out."

Even though the China team did not speak a single word at that time, one could tell from their expressions that they were the winning party.

"Could it be that the China team produced evidence proving that they weren't the culprits?"

"It's likely. Country D isn't to be trifled with. But I'm curious as to how the China team produced the evidence and how they dug out the evidence. The evidence they produced must have been very strong, for the top leader of the research lab to personally step out and apologize."

"No matter what, the China team is the biggest winner this time."

"You're right."

...

No matter how other people had speculated in private, the China team and Country D robot research lab did not mention anything about the explosion.

Thus, the discussion slowly became as though it was a normal experiment that had happened in the research lab.

“Zi Yi, what did you do to Country D’s robot research lab?”

By the time Qin Ze found Zi Yi, she was currently seated in a barbecue shop and enjoying her barbecue.

Zi Yi pointed at the stool beside her and said, “Sit.”

Qin Ze sat down and a staff member immediately brought him chopsticks and a bowl.

This was a rather lively street where snacks were sold all around. No matter what country it was, these types of snack streets could be found everywhere. Not to mention, this barbecue shop was opened by a Chinese person.

Qin Ze placed a piece of pork belly on the grill and looked at the pieces of meat that were already sizzling. He then took a piece without the slightest hesitation and ate it before giving Zi Yi a thumbs up. “I didn’t expect you to be good at barbecuing.”

Zi Yi proudly raised her chin slightly and said without the slightest sense of modesty. “Of course.”

Qin Ze grabbed another piece and when he grabbed the third piece, Zi Yi finally could not take it anymore and rolled her eyes at him. “You’re not allowed to eat the ones I have barbecued.”

Qin Ze’s chopsticks paused and he scoffed at her. “Cheapskate.”

However, he did not continue reaching for the meat she had cooked.

Subsequently, he changed the topic back to the explosion. “You haven’t answered me. Exactly what did you do to them?”

“Is there even a need to ask? I just taught them a good lesson and following that, they have all become obedient.”

“...” Qin Ze then asked “How did you teach them a lesson?”

He was extremely curious about it.

Zi Yi simply refused to say and she started to barbecue her meat with a serious level of concentration. While grilling, she said, “Hurry up and eat. We’ll go prepare items we need before we leave.”

“Where are we going?”

Zi Yi shot him a glare and could not be bothered to answer him.

Qin Ze also felt that his question was a little idiotic. He touched his nose embarrassedly and said, “That place is located in the north and the environment is very harsh. Where will we be staying when we are there?”

“We’ll be staying at the nearest village to that place.”

“How far away is it from there?”

“More than two hundred kilometers away.”

Qin Ze nodded his head and did not continue asking questions as he started to grill the meat seriously.

When both of them were eating halfway, Qin Ze told Zi Yi about how he escaped from those who were chasing him.

“I went into a bar and just so happened to meet someone from China. She helped me.”

“Mhmm.”

In fact, Zi Yi was not that curious about it. She only asked, “Are you sure you managed to shake them off?”

Qin Ze subconsciously glanced outside after Zi Yi asked him that question.

He did not notice anything unusual and he said, “To be honest, I’m not one hundred percent sure either. Those people following me weren’t concealing themselves at all and I believe their purpose wasn’t to detain me either. I guess that their main goal was you.”

The corner of Zi Yi’s lips curved up.

Qin Ze knew that his guess was right from her reaction. He felt a little vexed. If he knew about it, he would have stayed inside the hotel. He could still be lying on the bed and enjoying the air conditioning in the room.

Just then, his phone rang.

When he took it out to take a look, Qin Ze got a surprise. “My Dad is actually calling me?”

Zi Yi was amused by his shocked expression and she continued eating the meat she had grilled.

It took Qin Ze a few seconds before he swiped and answered the call. The other party said something and he angrily said, “Dad, just how much do you wish for me to get caught? I’m with the brat right now.”

Zi Yi shot him a cold glare and Qin Ze pretended not to see anything as he continued to speak, “I know, don’t worry. I didn’t provoke her and I had long shaken off my chasers. Besides, they weren’t aiming to capture me in the first place either... I know, I know... I’m really doubting if I’m your biological son or if she is actually your biological daughter instead... Haha... alright, I got it. Bye.”

After Qin Ze hung up the call, he teased Zi Yi. “You must have fed my father with some soul-bewitching soup. He actually asked me to take good care of you and to pay for everything if you wanted to eat something.”

“Shouldn’t that be the case? I helped you earn so much money and so what if you have to foot my bills?”

Qin Ze touched his nose and realized that he had nothing to say.

Zi Yi and Qin Ze had yet to finish their barbecue when all of a sudden, two Chinese people suddenly came in. These two people just so happened to sit next to them and one of them said in a surprised tone of voice, “I wonder what happened today. There are guards all around the street and everyone has to have their identity checked.”

The other person guessed. It's possible that they are checking for illegal immigrants. After all, many people here do not have any identification cards."

"I don't think so. If they were really searching for illegal immigrants, the people here would have been informed of the news in advance. Moreover, they would not have dispatched so many guards."

"Could it be that some terrorists are lurking among us?"

"I highly doubt so. If that's really the case, we should go back as soon as possible. Otherwise, we might lose our lives in the event that we encounter such an incident."

"You're right. In that case, let's order some food and get the boss to package it so that we can eat it at home..."

"That works too."

The both of them stood up and headed to the front.

Qin Ze leaned forward and lowered his voice to ask Zi Yi, "Don't tell me those guards are looking for you?"

Zi Yi did not care about it at all and continued eating as she said, "So what if they are looking for me?"

Qin Ze sat up straight and scoffed. "It seems like you really did something to the robot research lab."

Just as Zi Yi was about to answer, Shadow's reminder sounded in her ears. "Master, those people are here."

Chapter 897: Zi Yi Get's Chased

Zi Yi nodded her head and then placed her chopsticks to one side before she said to Qin Ze, "I'll be going. You can slowly finish eating."

Having said that, she stood up and left in the direction of the back door.

As soon as Zi Yi left, several guards made their way inside.

The guards stood outside the main entrance and took a look around before they made their way straight to Qin Ze.

One of the guards asked, "Where's the woman who was with you?"

Qin Ze smiled at them and pointed at the back door. "She left through the back door."

He continued eating his barbecue after answering.

The guards made eye contact with each other and the guard who had questioned Qin Ze used the communication device to inform the rest about the situation.

Subsequently, he said to the two other guards, "You'll stay here and watch him, we'll go and chase after her."

Having said that, he headed for the back door.

With the two guards looking at him, Qin Ze did not feel burdened or uncomfortable at all as he continued grilling the meal. He even waved to one of the staff members to ask for a bottled soft drink. After he had his drink, he looked at the two guards who were standing in front of him like pillars and he asked with a grin, "Do you want to sit down and have something to eat while keeping guard?"

None of the guards made eye contact with him.

The smile on Qin Ze's lips widened.

Even if he did not feel uncomfortable, it did not mean the same for the other customers. In a short period of time, all the customers in the barbecue shop were more or less gone. Even the staff members had hid themselves. Only the boss who was standing behind the window stared in their direction with an expression as if saying: "When the hell are they going to leave?"

After Qin Ze had his fill, he finally had some conscience and shouted, "Boss, round up the bill please."

The boss was a middle-aged man in his forties. He immediately dashed over with the bill in his hand after hearing Qin Ze's shout. However, he maintained a distance of about two meters from the table.

The boss held the bill and said, "Sir, your... your bill comes up to 185 dollars. You can pay me 180 dollars and that will do."

Qin Ze took out a nice looking leather wallet and took out 200 dollars worth of bills before he said generously, "No need for you to give me the change."

The boss pointed at Qin Ze's table. "Mister, you can just put the money on the table."

Qin Ze nodded his head, put the money on the table, put away his wallet, and headed outside.

The two guards immediately followed him.

When Qin Ze arrived at the entrance, he suddenly turned around and smiled at the two guards before he immediately started running away at full speed.

"Hold it!"

The boss who was standing there was stunned. Sometime later, he murmured to himself, "Don't tell me that man earlier was a terrorist?"

At the thought of this, his heart skipped a beat and he calmed himself down. "It's ok, it's ok!"

Qin Ze managed to shake off the two guards very soon and at the same time, his phone rang. After he answered the call, Zi Yi said, "Come to XX Street."

When Qin Ze arrived at the street, a car drove over and stopped in front of him.

He walked over and got in the car. Zi Yi threw him a box that contained a mask. "Change that face of yours."

Qin Ze immediately took out the mask and asked, "Are we heading there directly?"

“We’ll go and buy some things first.”

Qin Ze thought that what she meant by buying things was to buy equipment that would be useful. He never expected that what she meant by buying things was instead going to the supermarket and not to mention, everything she picked up was food-related.

Qin Ze, who was responsible for pushing the trolley, could not hold back anymore. After the trolley was filled up at a fast speed, he asked, “You’re only buying these things?”

“Mmh.” Zi Yi motioned to him. “Push this over to the cashier and foot the bill first. Get one of the supermarket staff members to carry the bags to our car, while you push another trolley.”

“...You’re still buying?!”

“Of course. I’ve already prepared a van to load all these things into.”

“...”

In the end, Zi Yi had at least bought four trolleys worth of things before she left the supermarket.

This time, both of them headed to the building Zi Yi stayed in last night.

After walking into the kitchen, Zi Yi said, “Your room is downstairs. Choose whichever room you like.”

Having said that, she was about to go up when Qin Ze called out to her, “Hey, Zi Yi. When are we leaving?”

“Tomorrow.”

When Zi Yi returned to the bedroom, Lu Jingye sent her a video call.

She turned on the virtual screen and while she was taking off her mask, she called out, “Ah Jing.”

Lu Jingye looked at her and said, “I received a phone call from Runge.”

“Hmm?” Zi Yi stopped what she was doing and furrowed her eyebrows. “Don’t tell me he’s trying to start with you after he failed in trying to find my whereabouts?”

Having said that, she finished taking off the mask and said, “What terms did he offer, thinking that it could keep me?”

“The position of the Vice Director of Country D’s robot research lab.”

Zi Yi did not take her time when she took off the mask. Instead, she tore it off and said in slight surprise, “He’s planning to give me such an important position?”

Lu Jingye looked at her slightly reddened skin and said out of concern for her, “Don’t be so rough when you take off your mask. Your skin is all red.”

Zi Yi smiled at him. “It doesn’t hurt.”

Lu Jingye was still unhappy with it.

Zi Yi could only promise him. “I will remove the mask with more care in the future.”

Only then did Lu Jingye nod his head and change back to the previous topic. "He also promised to give me a green light in Country D."

Zi Yi furrowed her brows. "Can he make decisions on behalf of the authorities in Country D?"

"Don't look down on him. Not only is he the Major General, but he's also the Third Prince."

Zi Yi did not do an investigation on Runge and she was slightly surprised to know of his other identity.

However, she was merely slightly surprised. "What use is there in giving us so many benefits? I refuse to stay here. Don't tell me he's going to force me to stay?"

Lu Jingye did not agree with her train of thought. "He can't force you, but he can use other methods."

"What other methods? Don't tell me he's going to detain you here to threaten me?" Speaking of this, Zi Yi suddenly laughed. "In that case, you can stay here and play with him. Wait for me to come back and we'll go home together."

Lu Jingye nodded in response.

However, when the time comes, it would depend on his ability to tell if it was the real Lu Jingye or the robot Lu Jingye that played around with Runge.

After they finished discussing this matter, they changed the topic to Professor Dou.

"The embassy will be sending my Third Uncle and the engineers back within these two days."

"It's better like this. We won't have anything to worry about if they are no longer over here."

"Mhmm."

...

Early the next morning, when Zi Yi walked down the stairs, she saw that Qin Ze had already prepared breakfast.

Qin Ze hastily called out to her, "Quick, come over and have breakfast. We'll leave after we eat."

Zi Yi looked at Qin Ze's eager expression and asked, "Why are you in such a rush? It's no hurry even if we were to leave at a later time."

Qin Ze would obviously be in a hurry. "I want to see what Country D's aviation research base looks like."

Even though he was unwilling to admit this, China was really far behind compared to Country D in terms of aviation technology. There were many advanced aviation technologies that were unavailable in China and there was no way for him to study, even if he wanted to.

How could Zi Yi not know of his thoughts? She did not say much and headed downstairs. After they finished breakfast, both of them set off in a particularly low-key van.

Not long after they set off, Runge received a message from the King himself.

"Immediately set off to the aviation research base at once. Hank's men have already infiltrated inside. You must dig those people out."

Chapter 898: Why Do We Have To Disguise As a Couple? Can't We Pretend To Be Siblings?

The terrain in Country D was mostly made up of plains, mountains, and rivers.

The further they went in the North, the more deserted it was. They would not see a single village even after driving for a few hours.

By the time Zi Yi and Qin Ze finally arrived at the village they were going to stay at, it was already evening.

Even if it was a village, every house was spaced far apart. It could be said that every family had a farm of their own.

The car was parked outside a small farmhouse. As the moonlight was slightly dimmer tonight than usual, and because there were no street lights, they had no visibility after they alighted from the car.

"Zi Yi, who found this place?" After Qin Ze alighted from the car, he used the flashlight from his phone to light up the surroundings. Following that, he turned around and saw Zi Yi sending a message. "You didn't send someone over in advance?"

"No."

Zi Yi motioned to him. "You can go and turn on the lights in the living room first. Someone has already cleaned the rooms in advance. Our identities will be that of a couple who came here to travel and if anyone were to ask you, tell them we are here for our honeymoon."

"Ugh... cough, cough..." Qin Ze was taken aback by this disguise. His strong sense of self-protection and awareness made him object. "Why do we have to pretend to be a couple? Can't we disguise ourselves as siblings?"

Speaking of this, to prevent Zi Yi from knowing he was a little fearful of Lu Jingye, he even added an explanation. "What if I encounter my true love here, wouldn't I miss her?"

Zi Yi looked at him for two seconds and said, "Siblings won't work. It's easy for other people to be suspicious."

"Then... father and daughter?"

Even though he would be somewhat taking advantage of Zi Yi, Qin Ze felt that it was better than being newlyweds.

Unexpectedly, Zi Yi agreed. "Ok then. Put on a middle-aged man's mask tomorrow and from then on, we will be father and daughter. If anyone asks anything, tell them that something happened at home and we're out here to relax."

Qin Ze: "..."

He very much wanted to ask what change happened at home. Could it be that his wife had passed away from illness and he couldn't take the setback, so they came out to have a change in pace?

Zi Yi was unaware of Qin Ze's imaginative thoughts. She took out a flashlight and headed to the door.

After she found the key and opened the door, she noticed Qin Ze was standing in his original spot without moving. She crossed her arms and reminded him. "We haven't had dinner. Are you planning to stand there and wait for breakfast time to come around?"

Only then did Qin Ze work hard while grumbling as he opened the back door of the van and moved the booty Zi Yi had purchased from the supermarket into the living room.

By the time they finally got to eat some instant noodles, Qin Ze sighed. "Sure enough, one cannot make a conclusion too early. To think that there would be a day where we end up eating instant noodles."

Having said that, he sucked in a mouthful of noodles and then asked, "Why didn't you buy more bread?"

"I bought flour. You can make anything you like."

"..."

After dinner, Zi Yi was not in a rush to go to sleep. Instead, she turned on the virtual screen and quickly connected to Little Loli's eyes.

A room filled with numerous mechanical parts was seen on the screen.

Qin Ze asked in surprise, "Little Loli, you're in the parts room?"

Little Loli's voice sounded. "Hehe, that's right. No one can find me here. I can pretend to be one of the spare parts here."

Qin Ze imagined the scene where Little Loli pretended she was a spare part lying around. However, she had a large physique, and so wouldn't those people detect her?

Zi Yi glanced at the confused Qin Ze and turned to ask Little Loli, "Have you discovered those worms?"

"I've already identified five. I'll send you a list of their names."

As soon as she said that, a list of five individuals along with their positions appeared on the virtual screen.

Looking at the positions of those individuals, Zi Yi and Qin Ze furrowed their eyebrows at the same time.

"They are all people with high positions in there. Wouldn't it be somewhat difficult if we wish to get rid of them?" Qin Ze asked.

"If violent measures have to be taken, we can kill them off during an explosion."

"Will that work? Country D's aerospace research lab is a place that the whole world is concerned about. If we cause such a huge commotion, it would surely result in serious consequences."

After all, they were still affiliated with a country and if Country D were to discover the slightest of traces, the relationship between both countries would worsen. Things would be bad when that happens.

"Therefore, we have to make plans."

Personally, Zi Yi was not concerned about this matter at all. However, as a citizen of China, she obviously had to think twice.

“What are your plans? Can you simply replace those people?”

“I can’t. I didn’t bring so many robots along with me.”

What’s more, she did not wish to replace those people with her own robots.

“However, we can find a way to have these people commit mistakes and let the higher-ups in Country D replace them.”

“Wouldn’t that be a slow process?”

“Why would it be a slow process?”

At the same time, Zi Yi’s fingers quickly tapped on the keyboard. Sometime later, the crimes of those people that were unknown to the masses were dug out by Zi Yi.

Qin Ze was simply stunned.

“Aren’t you a little too fast? However... if we were to show these to the higher-ups of Country D, perhaps there might be those worms among them. In the event someone tips off the five worms and they enter another body, what should we do?”

“Therefore, we need to plan it slowly.”

Even though Zi Yi was talking about making plans, her fingers had already moved as she sent out the information.

“Who did you send the information to?”

“The King.”

Qin Ze kept quiet. He looked at Zi Yi intensely as she continued typing on the keyboard.

It was only until sometime later that Zi Yi put away the keyboard and said to him, “I want to have porridge and spring rolls tomorrow morning.”

Having said that, she left in the direction of her bedroom.

Qin Ze: “...Don’t tell me this little brat allowed me to tag along only to treat me as a cook?”

Even though he felt a little stifled by that thought, he still tirelessly organized the things Zi Yi purchased from the supermarket and kneaded the dough before he went upstairs to take a rest.

Zi Yi who went into her bedroom was currently having a video call with Lu Jingye. Both of them were looking at the babies in the nursery at the same time.

“Ah Jing, look. Our babies have grown up a bit more.”

Zi Yi looked at the two babies with a pleasant sense of surprise.

Lu Jingye was also looking at them as he responded affirmatively. "They will grow very fast after they pass the three month mark."

Having said that, he asked, "Are you accustomed to staying there?"

"Not at all." Zi Yi shifted her gaze away from the babies and said with an aggrieved expression, "I have to do everything myself here, and that includes preparing the food."

Lu Jingye immediately felt concerned. "I'll send you someone who can cook."

Zi Yi smiled brightly and said, "Why don't you send yourself here? In that case, you can also warm my bed. The temperature here at night is very low."

Lu Jingye's lips also curved up. "Ok."

"Forget it. You still have to stall Hank and Runge on your end... Even though you can get the robot to take your place, I feel that Runge's eyes are a little sharp and he can tell the difference."

Lu Jingye nodded his head and both of them changed the topic.

After turning off the video call, Lu Jingye suddenly received a secret message and learned that Runge had left for the north.

Early the next morning, General Hank's residence sent him another invitation letter.

Chapter 899: Zi Yi Bringing Little Bell To Steal Fruits

The next morning.

By the time Zi Yi came out of the room, she just so happened to see Qin Ze walking to the kitchen with a handful of vegetables that looked like grass.

She asked out of curiosity. "What are you doing with that grass?"

Qin Ze looked at her as if he could not take her anymore. "This is a type of vegetable. You little brat who isn't used to eating the food of common people, you can't even distinguish between vegetables and grass."

"You're saying it as if you can distinguish the difference."

Zi Yi refused to argue and be on the same level as him. She turned around and headed outside.

Qin Ze reminded her. "Don't go too far. We can have breakfast in around ten minutes at max."

"Got it."

The mornings of the northern suburbs of Country D were chilly. The nearby farms had been harvested not long ago and the smell of the soil was everywhere. However, there were all kinds of flowers and plants on the sides of the road.

Walking down a small road was also a pretty good experience.

After walking for some time, Zi Yi finally saw a middle-aged woman who was currently picking vegetables in her field.

There was also a little boy standing next to her. He looked to be around five or six years old and he had blond hair and blue eyes. He was blinking his blue eyes and looking around in all directions; he looked especially adorable.

Both of them soon made eye contact.

Zi Yi smiled at the little boy.

The little boy hastily pulled on the middle-aged woman's clothes. "Mommy, mommy. There's a sister over there."

The middle-aged woman looked up and unexpectedly, she smiled at Zi Yi.

"You must be the daughter of the middle-aged man from before."

Zi Yi knew that she was referring to Qin Ze.

"Yes."

The middle-aged woman added and said, "Earlier, your father came and asked for some vegetables. I heard that he's going to make spring rolls. Is that food from China?"

"Yes. We have lived in China for a long period of time in the past. Therefore, we fell in love with the food there."

The middle-aged woman nodded her head and bent down to continue picking the vegetables.

Zi Yi walked over and watched her work.

The little boy looked at her with a pair of curious eyes.

Zi Yi rummaged around in her pockets, took out a piece of candy, and gave it to the little boy.

However, he did not dare to take it.

Zi Yi said with a smile, "This is considered as a small thank you for the vegetables your Mommy gave us earlier. We will be staying here for a few days and we might have to come over again to borrow some vegetables."

The middle-aged woman enthusiastically nodded her head. "No problem. You can come over directly to pick the vegetables. Bell, quickly thank the sister."

Only then did the little boy named Bell take the candy and sweetly call out, "Thank you, sister."

The middle-aged woman became even more enthusiastic. "I see that you're still young. There's nothing that time can't heal."

Zi Yi was momentarily stunned at her words. She somewhat had a feeling that Qin Ze said something bad about her.

However, she did not show it and nodded her head.

Just then, the middle-aged woman took out a handful of vegetables from her basket and handed them to her. "Your father felt bad for taking too much. Take some more back home, these should be enough to make another bowl of salad."

"Ok, thank you auntie."

Zi Yi took the vegetables from her and squatted down to chat with the little boy. "How old are you? Are you going to school?"

"I'm five."

The little boy was not fearful of Zi Yi anymore and started chatting with her.

Even though Zi Yi had changed her face, she was still beautiful. In addition, her voice sounded sweet and both of them became familiar with each other very soon.

Only then did she learn that the middle-aged woman's name was Sonny. She had an 18-year-old eldest son and he was currently studying. There was still some time before her youngest son started attending school.

She also got to know that there were eight families living nearby. There were two families who had moved to the town from the village recently.

The house they were staying at belonged to one of the families that moved. There was also another house not far away that was empty. However, the middle-aged woman saw a car parked there when she was walking past and someone might have started living there too.

In the end, it was Qin Ze who came out and asked Zi Yi to come back home.

Both of them walked in tandem on the small path and Zi Yi asked, "Did you badmouth about me to the auntie?"

"I didn't." Qin Ze denied it very quickly. Obviously, he was feeling guilty.

Zi Yi coldly snorted and said, "Do you think I wouldn't know? You said I failed my exams and got depressed. Do you think I'm someone like that?"

Qin Ze defended himself. "Of course not. Isn't it precisely because you're not that I dared to cook up such a story?"

"Then why didn't you say you went bankrupt and got depressed?"

"I only have that measly sum of money. Do you think I need to use such a grand adjective like bankruptcy to describe myself?"

Zi Yi did not hold back and laughed. "What you said makes sense."

After both of them finished breakfast, Zi Yi got Qin Ze to go out for a walk.

"Where should I go for a walk?"

"Anywhere you like. Just go in the north direction."

Qin Ze immediately understood her intentions. He then drove the car and went out for a stroll.

Zi Yi sat on a stool in front of the house and looked at the beautiful scenery as she played with her tablet.

The tablet was showing a game interface. However, she was the only one who knew that it was the R&D Center of Country D's aerospace research lab.

Sometime later, there were sounds of movements nearby.

Zi Yi looked up and when she saw Little Bell standing there, she waved to him with a smile. "Bell, what are you doing here? Come to sister."

Bell walked up to her and pulled her hand. "Sister, I'll take you around to play."

"Where shall we go?"

Bell turned around and pointed in a direction. "Uncle Rupe's fruits are ripe. Let's go and pick some fruits."

Zi Yi did not know where Uncle Rupe's house, which Bell had mentioned, was. When Bell brought her to the house, she discovered that Bell had brought her to the other empty house his mother previously mentioned.

However, there seemed to be someone inside the empty house right now.

Zi Yi subconsciously crouched behind a clump of trees with Bell and asked, "Little Bell, where are the fruits?"

Bell pointed in a direction.

Zi Yi stretched out her head to take a look and finally saw a cherry tree on the other side of the house. There were currently plenty of fruits hanging on the tree.

She smacked her lips and said to Bell, "Little Bell, wait here. I'll go and pluck us down some fruits."

Having said that, she stood up and went behind the back of the house.

The people inside did not seem to notice her. However, it might be that they noticed her, but decided to ignore her.

By the time Zi Yi came to the tree, she reached out her hand and picked a cherry.

Just then, Little Bell who was hiding behind the trees stretched out his head and looked at her hands with a greedy look.

Zi Yi looked at the closed door and beckoned for him to come over.

After Little Bell made his way over, Zi Yi plucked two cherries. One for him and one for herself.

"So sweet."

Both of them stood under the tree and started eating the cherries.

Just then, the sound of the door opening was heard.

Zi Yi, who had a guilty conscience, subconsciously lifted up Little Bell and ran.

When the man opened the door and saw the two figures running away, he narrowed his eyes before turning to the cherries that had fallen from the tree.

He then coldly said to the other person next to him, "Cut down the tree."

Having said that, he went back inside.

Zi Yi held Bell and only ran for a short distance before stopping and putting him down.

Unexpectedly, Bell started giggling.

Zi Yi tapped his nose and said, "Little Bell, you still have the cheek to laugh. Now that we've been caught, perhaps we can't go pick cherries in the future."

Bell stopped giggling and looked at her with a slightly distressed look.

Just then, there was a sudden wave of noise from behind. Both of them subconsciously turned over to take a look. When they saw the cherry tree was chopped in half, both of them were dumbfounded.

Chapter 900: That Man Needs To Be Taught a Lesson

Zi Yi brought Little Bell to the courtyard of the house she was staying in and gave him a piece of candy as she stroked his head. "Little Bell, don't be sad."

At the sight of the tree getting cut down, Little Bell had immediately burst into tears and Zi Yi was at a loss. She had no choice but to take him back home.

"The family who just moved in must be big bad guys!"

"Big bad guys!"

Little Bell finally stopped crying after he received the candy.

Zi Yi decided to teach those people a lesson shortly afterwards. The people here were so simple-minded and down to earth and yet, those who had just moved in were so heartless. Therefore, she had to teach them a lesson and let them know what the meaning of 'do what the Romans do' was.

After Little Bell played at Zi Yi's place for a short while, Zi Yi sent him back home.

Sonny enthusiastically gave her some vegetables and fruits once again.

Zi Yi took out a circular ball after she returned. The ball transformed into a small mini drone and headed in the direction of the house near the cherry tree.

The two who had moved in were both men and clearly, one of them was the subordinate of another.

Right now, one of them was sitting down while the other was standing and they were currently in the middle of a discussion.

“There are a total of eight families nearby and another family just moved in yesterday. I heard that it was a father who brought along his daughter that has depression. They came here to relax.”

In fact, it was normal for people to come to the countryside to wind down. The man who was sitting down nodded slightly and said, “Keep watch so that no one comes close here, and that will do.”

Evidently, he was not exactly fond of people disturbing him.

As soon as he finished speaking, his gaze turned cold and he suddenly looked in the direction of the window. A gun appeared in his hand. After the sound of a gunshot was heard, both of them went outside together.

The subordinate quickly did a search around the surroundings and said to the man, “Young Lord, there’s nothing here.”

The man’s expression turned cold and he turned around to head back inside the house.

However, as soon as he took a step forward, he sensed danger approaching.

His feet swiftly moved and he was supposed to have dodged the attack. However, when his feet landed on the ground, the back of his head was hit by something.

The man quickly moved and caught what had hit him.

Looking at the stone in his hand, the man’s face was as thunderous as storm clouds.

“Young Lord. I’ll immediately find out who did this.”

The subordinate looked at the Young Lord standing there while panicking deep down inside.

The man narrowed his eyes and sometime later, he said, “Go and investigate the family who just moved in.”

“Yes.”

The man threw away the stone and returned to the house.

However, as soon as he reached the door, another whistling sound was heard.

This time, he reacted even faster than before. He turned around and grabbed the stone. At the same time, he jumped and kicked the other two stones away.

His subordinate who was standing there did not even have the time to react.

The man immediately ran out in a certain direction and his subordinate hastily followed him.

When they arrived at the side of the house, they saw a drone flying into the skies at fast speeds.

The man and his subordinates took out their guns at the same time and shot at the drone.

The drone seemed to have eyes as it suddenly turned around in the air. There should be a piece of reflective board on it because as soon as the drone spun, the strong sunlight converged off of the reflective board into dazzling light and shone straight into their eyes.

BANG!

BANG!

The bullets were shot without aiming.

By the time they opened their eyes again, there was nothing in the sky.

The man hastily chased after the drone while his subordinate quickly followed him.

...

Zi Yi sat next to the door and swiped on the tablet.

Just then, a cold voice sounded. "What are you doing?"

Zi Yi raised her head and saw two unfamiliar men.

She seemed to have gotten a fright as she stood up and ran inside the house with a panicked expression. She did not even have time to care about the tablet.

After the door was slammed shut, the man walked over in large strides and picked up the tablet dropped on the ground. He then looked at the screen with a cold expression.

As it turns out, the tablet showed a drawing software, and a half-completed rural scenery was painted.

The subordinate standing next to him did not know what the Young Lord saw and so, he called out tentatively, "Young Lord?"

The man did not answer him. He put the tablet on the stool and turned around to walk back to his house.

Zi Yi who was standing behind the door looked at their departing back profiles and the corners of her lips curved up. It seemed like her scheme was successful.

She waited until both of them had walked far away before she came out and took a seat while she continued to play around with the tablet.

Qin Ze did not return at noon. Zi Yi originally planned to make something simple for lunch. However, after Sonny learned that she was alone at home, she got Little Bell to call her over.

Bell's father also ate at home in the afternoon. Only then did Zi Yi learn that there was a ranch somewhere further away and Bell's father, Bede, was working there.

"Uncle Bede, where does the ranch you're working at supply to?" Zi Yi casually asked.

"To a base up in the north." In fact, Bede was not very clear either.

Zi Yi did not continue asking either, but she had already made her guess.

The husband and wife treated Zi Yi very warmly during lunch and they were also rather fond of her.

Sonny said, "You look to be around fourteen and if my second daughter was still around, she would also be around your age."

Zi Yi originally wanted to say she was about to turn nineteen soon, but at the sight of Sonny's sad look, she knew that Sonny's second daughter was not around anymore. "Auntie Sonny, don't be sad. Little Bell must be the angel your second daughter sent to protect you. Look at how adorable and obedient he is. Your second daughter is looking after you up in the heavens."

To be honest, Sonny had already accepted the passing of her daughter and she said with a smile, "You're right. Little Bell is indeed an angel. He's as obedient as his sister."

Having said that, she kissed Bell on the cheeks.

Bell also kissed Sonny on her cheeks and hugged her neck as he said, "Mommy, don't be sad. Bell will be obedient."

His words led to a smile on Sonny's face.

After lunch, Bede returned to work. Zi Yi remained in Sonny's house for a short while before she went back to her house.

Qin Ze only returned at around four in the afternoon.

At the sight of Zi Yi, he said, "The area 50 kilometers away from the base has been blocked and there is at least an army division stationed there. I feel that they were only recently stationed there."

Zi Yi was not too surprised by his finding. "It shows that the Worm Race has made its way into the higher-ups of Country D."

Zi Yi gave Qin Ze a thorough explanation of the Worm Race on the flight here. Previously, Qin Ze did not quite believe that there was such a terrible existence in this world. However, after exploring during this period of time, he felt that there was a possibility they really existed.

"What should we do? We won't be able to get into the base at all."

"Find a way to tag along with someone else inside."

"Who?"

Zi Yi's lips curved up. "Little Bell's father works in a ranch somewhere near here. The meat in their ranch is supplied to the base. You can follow them inside."

"What about you?"

"It's not difficult for me to get inside."

Qin Ze knew that she was speaking the truth. He also knew Zi Yi stayed here because they had to find a way to get him inside.
