Chapter 95: You're So Childish

The Whirlwind racing club was the same as how it was described by the gossipers. Upon stepping in, a strong sense of luxury hit the person entering head-on.

The one who welcomed Zi Yi was a young lady.

"Welcome, Miss Zi. I'm the receptionist of the racing club. My boss has mentioned that you can directly head to the racing track when you arrive."

The receptionist did not forget to sneak a few peeks after that and thought to herself, "Such a beautiful young lady! But the boss hadn't mentioned what she came here for, nor did he personally come out in person. Could she be a cheerleading member he had found somewhere?"

However, it was pretty good to have such a beautiful young lady as a cheerleader. When the time comes, the racers would definitely be more proactive in practicing.

The receptionist led Zi Yi inside and asked, "Miss Zi, have you been a cheerleader before?"

Even though Zi Yi was baffled by her question, she replied, "No."

The woman asked again in curiosity, "Then what did you do in the past?"

Zi Yi looked at her with a cold gaze and replied with a question, "Could it be that I have to explain what I did before coming here?"

"Oh, it's not like that." The receptionist did not expect such a response. She felt embarrassed and stopped asking.

The racing club was very big. They had walked quite a distance before they arrived at a gate.

The receptionist stopped and told her, "Miss Zi, the racers are currently training. The boss and club manager are all at the stands. You'll see them when you go out."

Having said that, she pushed the door open for Zi Yi.

The place had a large racing track, while the stands the receptionist mentioned were on the right side.

At the moment, there were several women wearing miniskirts with their navels exposed standing at the stands.

They had encircled Ouyang Ming and the manager. From her angle, Zi Yi could only see the heads of the two men.

When she walked over, she just happened to hear a woman coyly begging Ouyang Ming, "Young Master Ouyang, do help me out later~ Let Gerry have a meal with me tonight~"

Ouyang Ming teased her and said, "If I agree to help you persuade Gerry to have a meal with you, you'll drain him dry tonight. What should I do if he doesn't have any spare energy for training tomorrow?"

"Aiya~ Young Master Ouyang you're so mean. How would I possibly do such a thing?"

“Who doesn’t know what you’re like...”

When she saw that their conversation was about to intensify, Zi Yi could not help but call out, “Ouyang Ming.”

There was a group of people around him and they were also jesting around. Zi Yi’s voice was not loud, but everyone heard her.

All of them subconsciously looked over.

“Who is she?”

“She’s beautiful!”

“Young Master Ouyang, could you have found another member for the cheerleading team?”

Ouyang Ming felt uncomfortable the moment he saw Zi Yi. He was not in a hurry to explain who she was and allowed the thoughts of the women by his side to wander.

He thought that it would be best for them to give her a show of strength.

When the group of women saw a prettier girl appearing all of a sudden, they would definitely compare.

Upon comparison, they all became jealous.

The group of women walked over, encircled Zi Yi, and asked, “You should be a newcomer, right?”

Zi Yi looked at the woman who spoke coldly. “Do you need me for something?”

Mu Qing had not expected the newcomer to be so arrogant. As the leader of the team, she felt the need to teach her a lesson.

“Do you think looks are sufficient enough to join our team? Let me ask you, can you dance? Do you know how to cheer?”

Zi Yi looked at her with a baffled gaze before turning to look at Ouyang Ming.

“You’re so childish.”
