

Multiverse of Marvel

Chapter 16: Movie released

Soon Disney started working on the project that John had given a timeline for. The VFX artists of this world were much better than the previous world. John guessed it probably was because of the influence of Tony Stark and Quentin Beck as they were way ahead of their time when it comes to virtual projection. It might even have the hands of Phastos, one of the eternals behind the advancement of VFX artists and virtual projection.

John decided to follow the normal process of releasing trailers on various social media and YouTube. Yes John had already incorporated YouTube with google and even made sure there were proper administrators so that the future YouTube creators would have a solid platform.

The trailer started with a high school boy going with his dad to buy a car and then the shopkeeper mentions that it's not the man who choose the car but it's the car who choose the drivers. The boy then sat on a yellow Camaro and saw a weird sign in the middle of the steering wheel. Later the boy realized that the car could transform and then the trailer showed a glimpse of the story and various fighting scenes.

Yes the movie John chose was Transformers for his debut in real film making. Even though the later parts of the movie didn't fare good but the first movie was a brilliant one. John banked on the fact that man have love for machines and robots so this movie would appeal to all.

As soon as the trailer was out, it went viral and people loved it. Disney announced their step in film making apart from animation with a bang. The trailer went so viral that even Tony Stark commented on the comments section on YouTube that he would love to watch the movie and he was looking forward to it. This comment alone garnered more likes than the actual movie.

John was surprised by this but he gave a grin to it. He just got free publicity, so how could he complain. He just hoped that this wouldn't create any butterfly effect. That's all he cared about as he didn't want to influence his destiny too much before he transforms into Iron Man. freewebno(v)el

By January 2007, the movie was ready and it received a red carpet movie premiere on 2nd of February.

John arrived with his family. It was a star studded red carpet as many known stars of Hollywood attended. Soon reporters asked for an interview which he happily obliged.

"Mr. John is this movie your creative debut in the circle of movie making? Are there more movies that Disney has decided to release?" one reporter asked.

"Yes, this could be said as the debut of Disney in movie making and yes there are other projects that we have lined up but it will take time to come to life" John replied.

"Mr. John will Disney stop making animated movies now?" Another reporter asked.

"Of course not. Disney's love for animated movies and series will continue and we also have corresponding projects" John replied with a smile.

Then another reporter suddenly asked "Mr. John we have seen massive turnover with the series of Naruto but why did you choose a foreign studio for it's development. Do you feel that the animation level of USA can't reach the level of Japan?"

This question suddenly brought a wave of silence among the reporters as this touched a very sensitive topic. John's eye brows raised with the question but he replied with a smile.

"Of course the animation of USA is of very high level. Didn't we always make animated movie based on our country. I chose Japan for the development of Naruto because their studio was more suitable for these kind of projects and Disney had too much of work with all the animation movies. Plus the story of Naruto is not actually mine. It was a Japanese friend of mine who told me once about it and I just brought the story to life". After this answer the reporter couldn't refute his claims as the life of John was pretty private and they knew almost nothing of his social life.

Suddenly a sports Audi car arrived near the carpet end and a handsome man with goatee beard came out. It was Tony Stark. The appearance of Tony surprised John because according to rumors he never comes early in any event. John thought it was probably due to his love for machines and engineering.

Soon the reporters who were flocking John went straight to Tony as the life of Tony was more interesting than the bland and boring life of John. John in these few years didn't have any relationship with anyone even though he had received many advances from almost everywhere. From school to charity events. Every young girl teenager would show goodwill to John.

John was a handsome and rich guy which appealed to many but he politely refused and so the reporters couldn't dig out any spicy story from him. In addition he had too much influence on social media so nobody dared to say anything bad on his life.

Chapter 17: The spy in the house

The movie was pretty much a copy of the actual Transformers movie by Micheal Bay. But with more realistic graphics and lesser explosions. Sometimes John wondered if in any universe Micheal Bay was an incarnation of Deidara from Naruto, because only Micheal and Deidara had so much love for explosions. "Art is an explosion" was the only slogan that both of them had.

Of course he didn't make the movie too realistic as that would be counter productive. John just asked the VFX artists to make their faces more prominent and make lesser explosions. All the other things he kept the same as the previous movie.

The audience loved the movie as it had everything. The story of a failed alien civilization and their struggle to survive in the universe while still infighting being prominent appealed to all. The alien stories are still very intriguing to the audience as it always had been since a long time ago. It's just that this alien civilization was different.

After thanking the audience for their support and attending the party at night John returned with his family.

It have been almost 6 years that John had come to this world and for the first time he got excited as he was going to bring a living character to life tonight. Even though it would be taking a risk in front of the Sorcerer Supreme but he still had to try.

[Ding

fan value to bring "The Cube" - 100 million fan value to bring Bumblebee to life/ to be Bumblebee - 40 million / 20 million fan value to bring Optimus Prime to life/ to be Optimus Prime - 60 million / 30 million fan value to bring Megatron to life/ to be megatron - 65 million / 32.5 million

"Wait! System I can bring even the cube to life? wouldn't the life created by the cube would revolt like in the movie?" John asked the system.

[Ding, yes since the world can be brought to life from movies and series, some specific objects can also be brought to life such as this Cube. The host can rest assured that the creatures will also follow the orders of the host]

The system replied.

John was overjoyed and he decided to bring the Cube to life. "I choose to buy the Cube" John said and immediately a cube of of 1 meter³ appeared in his hands. He was so excited that he almost jumped up. He opened his new android mobile phone which Google has recently released and brought the mobile to touch the cube.

Immediately a spark covered the whole mobile phone and slowly transformed to a small robot with blue eyes and four legs and two arms. It was almost the same as the mobile that transformed in the movie but it looked more exquisite and refined.

"Master what your orders?" the Mobile asked to John. John was looking at the Mobile closely for a minute and then said

"Well you the first of your kind so I should name you. How about I call you Fixit after the Mini-Cons. Do you like the name?" John asked.

"Thank you Master for naming me. I would be happy to serve you" Fixit said with enthusiasm. John felt that the creatures brought to life should always have an identity and should never be nameless.

"Well you can call me John instead of Master. I am not your lord. You are free to do whatever you want but this world isn't the world of Cybertron so there are restrictions. I hope you understand, you can even check all the information from Internet" John said.

Immediately Fixit shook for a few seconds and its eyes shone bright. Fixit went through tons of information and got a general overview of the world he was in. In fact John could share his memories to all the characters that is brought to life but John forgot about it because of his excitement after seeing a character.

"Thanks John. I understand this world now. But I will choose to follow you as that would be better for me" Fixit said. John was happy after listening to this as he hoped all characters have their own autonomy instead of following his orders always.

John then suddenly remembered something and asked Fixit " Are there any spy cameras or microphones in the house? Can you scan the whole house and check it?"

Fixit's eyes suddenly became extremely bright and turned a total 360 degree and the then said "There is one small microphone at the living room at the corner of the top right shelf. It can probably listen to most of the surroundings but its range can't reach to the room we are in right now. John do you want me to disassemble it?" Fixit asked with eagerness in his eyes and transformed its hands to sharp blades.

"No Fixit I would deal with this. You can change back to mobile and only transform when you are alone with me. If you have any information to pass you can generate a text in your screen or call me like it's normal function" John said hurriedly.

Chapter 18: Sorcerer Supreme

After coming out of his room, John went straight to the family room and according to the directions, he went near the shelf and found a small microphone pinned to the wall. He took it out instantly and crushed it under his leg. Even though he figured out that it might be SHIELD, he didn't like being spied upon 24x7. I mean who would even!

After going back to his room he went to sleep as he was tired after all the work. Since their wealth had been accumulating fast and steady, Jameson finally decided to spend on luxurious goods and services. The next day, John asked his father that he would like to buy a Yellow Camaro like the one in the movie.

Jameson was confused by this weird request as John could buy more luxurious cars with his money. But he didn't refuse as John asked for something on rare occasions from him. So they drove directly to a Chevrolet showroom and picked up a yellow Camaro. Because of all the advertisements from the trailers, Chevrolet's sales of Yellow Camaro had gone up and even Chevrolet had a deal with Disney in this regard.

After going through all the necessary credentials, John himself drove the car out of the showroom. He was going to bring Bumblebee to life and he needed an alias for this. This yellow Camaro was going to be perfect.

After coming back home, Val and Jameson went back to their respective works. Even though Val didn't have to take care of John anymore but Jameson let her work for them as she was an integral part of their family. f reeweb novel.com

After coming back to the garage, John immediately spent 40 million fan values to bring Bee to life. As soon as he commanded Bee to appear in front of him there was yellow colored humanoid robot of almost 5 meters. It was so tall that it had to crouch down so that it didn't hit the roof. Before bringing Bumblebee to life, John made sure there were no cameras or microphones nearby. If any information of Bee leaks out, it would cause a storm and even his empire wouldn't be able to help him stop this.

John sighed after looking at Bee and immediately shared his memories and thoughts to Bee.

"Hello John it's nice to meet you! Thanks for bringing me to this universe" Bee said. John didn't want to tell him about the system as that was his core secret and he wouldn't tell anyone even if it were his summons.

"Hello Bumblebee. Is it fine if I call you Bee.. ?" John asked

"Sure all my friends call me that. Now what do you want me to do? I can't just crouch down in this garage always? right" Bee asked.

"No Bee there is a yellow Camaro here which you can scan and transform to. Be sure to copy even the license plate number" John said. Bee scanned the Camaro and immediately changed into a yellow Camaro car. Now John had a new headache to deal with.

He now has two Camaro cars and it would be impossible to explain the reason behind same license plates. He was thinking if he should tell him some of his secrets. Because in the future it would become more apparent.

"Well, till he asks me about the situation of my cars I would keep my mouth shut" John thought to himself.

After seeing the transformed Bee he entered inside the car and tied his seat belt as had a place to be.

"Bee take me to 177A Bleecker Street, Greenwich Village" John said. "Sure" bee replied without any thought and soon the car self drove out of the garage.

After driving for almost half an hour he finally arrived to the address. He looked at the huge building in front of him. The famous New York Sanctum.

Even though he lost some fan values due to his extraction of Cube and Bumblebee his fan values was soon going to reach the desired value of 1.7 billion to extract the world of Naruto. It was fine for Bee and Fixit but he wasn't sure if the Sorcerer Supreme would allow him to continue doing as he wished. Even though he had full trust on Naruto and Sasuke to fight against the ancient one but he didn't want any conflict.

The generations of ancient one guard Earth against the other dimensional invaders and he didn't want to disrupt this cycle.

After arriving at the door of the Sanctum and calming himself a bit he knocked. Soon the door opened by itself and black bald man was standing a little far in front of the stairs.

"Hello Master Drumm, it's my honor to meet you" John said with politeness but he was ready to spend fan values and take over a character if he was attacked. He wasn't sure how Master Drumm would react.

Chapter 19: Sorcerer Supreme (2)

"Do I know you? And how do you know me? I don't remember ever seeing you. Who are you?" Master Drumm asked John with some doubt.

"Of course I know you Master Drumm, protector of New York Sanctum. I am John Jameson. I am here to ask an audience from the ancient one. " John replied.

"John Jameson? Now I remember. Aren't you the famous movie creator and a business tycoon. How come you are here? How do you know of us? I have never seen anyone from your family practicing magic" Drumm said with astonishment and little on guard as he felt this John wasn't simple and he might be an otherworldly being in the guise of human. He was ready to conjure Rings of Raggadorr in order to fight. fr(e)webnovel

"Well my circumstances are little special and I have always known the existence of Kamar-Taj and it's importance. Don't worry Master Drumm I haven't come with any malice and I just want to ask the ancient one about something." John said calmly even though he was sweating in his heart. He didn't want to fight Master Drumm specially in their own home turf. Who knows what kind of spells are attached to the Sanctum.

Before Drumm could reply to it suddenly a voice came from behind which said "It's fine Master Drumm. He really didn't come with malice and can actually be considered an ally. You can go back. I will take him to Kamar-Taj."

A bald woman came from behind the stairs and walked towards them. John was excited and nervous to see her. He always felt nervous when he sees these characters which looked exactly the same as in the movies. He was always in awe when he met these characters be it Tony Stark or The ancient one standing right in front of him. He couldn't even open his mouth to speak to her and he stood rooted in his spot.

"What happened kid? Didn't you want to see me? Why are you silent now?" the ancient one asked John with a faint smile.

"Ah! Sorry I was just a little lost in my thoughts" John said shyly. "Alright! Come with me. We have lots to discuss" the ancient one said

After that the ancient one lead John to upstairs and to the doors which let to Kamar Taj. As soon as they passed the door he saw the famous eye of Agamotto or in other sense, the time gem upon a raised stone block. He looked at it for few seconds but turned his eyes. He knew that infinity stones were really powerful but he believed that if he was given enough time he could ignore the power of infinity stones.

The ancient one saw that his eyes were on the eye of Agamoto but turned away soon. John's eyes reflected confidence which raised a smile in the mouth of the ancient one.

After coming in the courtyard while following the ancient one he saw many people practicing magic even though it was night due to time difference, it was chilly outside and the Himalayas being close by. He was envious of them but didn't say anything and just followed the ancient one.

After entering the hall, the ancient one started to brew tea and John sat down in front of her to finish making her tea. After few minutes two pots of tea was ready and gave one cup to John. John took a sip and felt refreshed instantly.

"So you are finally here. I thought you would never come" The ancient one said.

"Well I was scared that you would banish me away from this world" John replied shyly as he couldn't say that he was scared of her but he has a degree of defense in his body. The ancient one could probably guess it but she didn't expose him.

"So have you seen my future?" John asked. The ancient one smiled and said

"Yes and no. I can never see your future. It seems like there is some powerful entity preventing me to see your future but I can see your influence on various people so I know you have no malice to earth. So I don't really care about what you do as long as the defenses against the other dimensions are intact"

"Of course! I won't let anything bad happen to earth as it's my home too. But if someone provokes me or my family I won't mind sending them to eternal damnation" John said while taking a sip. The ancient one just smiled and didn't say anything to this point.

"I have a doubt. Can you help me clarify?" John asked with curiosity.

"Sure! Ask away"

"Did you know of Tiamat?" John asked

The ancient one raised her eye brows when she heard the question. Actually she guessed wrong from beginning. She thought that John's knowledge of future came from the powerful entity behind him who brought him to this world. When John got transmigrated here the ancient one felt a change in defenses of earth.

Chapter 20: Sorcerer Supreme (3)

She checked multiple times to see if there was anybody who invaded but didn't find anyone. So she had to use the eye of Agomotto to look into the future only to see that the future has changed by a huge mile. She checked all the possible timelines and realized that the main person behind this change was John. Even though on possible timelines John never turned against earth she still had to check on John herself as to judge his character.

So the ancient one started spying on him from the mirror dimension and after few days of spying she realized that John was a decent guy from heart, loved his family and had very interesting ideas. So after that she stopped paying attention to him.

She didn't know that all the knowledge of future came from movies in his previous life and the powerful entity behind him was not even a living thing. It was just an overpowered system.

"Yes I do know of Tiamat. But that is the headache of Strange. Not mine" the ancient one said with a mocking smile as if she was having a laugh on the future problems of Doctor Strange. John was dumbfounded by seeing this side of the ancient one. He wondered if all the sorcerer supreme has such weird character.

Well after leaving his thoughts in the back of his head he sat straight and came to the topic for which he really came all the way from home.

"In a few months many other worldly powerful beings will enter earth. They are friends of mine. I hope you won't stop me. " John was serious. He was scared that she would reject but she gave a reply he never expected. fr eewebn ovel.com

"You can bring anyone you want from other universes. It won't really matter to me as long as they don't hurt the defenses of earth and the Sanctums" the ancient one said with a smile.

"That is of course. I can even ask my friends to help you guard the sanctum if you allow us." John added instantly

"Well then I will thank you in advance for your help" She said with a smile.

"Well I can see you brought two beings with you. One is on the parking spot of New York and the other in your pocket. Right?" She added. As soon as she said that the mobile in his pocket vibrated continuously. It was probably asking for permission to transform and attack her because Fixit felt that the woman was dangerous by her words.

John probably guessed what Fixit wanted to do so he brought the mobile out of his pocket and said "Fixit you can transform and show yourself". As soon as he said that Fixit transformed and immediately started shooting from his transformed and even launched a small RPG from it's back towards the ancient one.

John didn't even get the time to stop Fixit but he was relieved to see that she already put up the rings of raggadorr in front of her. Even though the bullets and the missile won't really hurt too much to a human being but it still might cause burns and pain. And if used in vulnerable places these bullets and missiles could even prove to be fatal.

"Wow these beings looks so cute. It's name is Fixit? That's a nice name. Are they from the planet Cybertron?" She asked with curiosity. John was dumbfounded.

"How come you know of Cybertron? The movie hasn't even released globally? You even watch movies made by me?" John asked with huge eyes.

"Of course I went to LA and watched the movie from mirror dimension. I have to say that I loved the idea of the movie. That car outside is the famous Bumblebee. Right? Looks powerful. I could feel the power from outside. All these years I watched some of your movies and works. I have to say that having a knowledge of so many universes is amazing" She said

John felt guilt and shy for deceiving her as there were no such universes. He was just a guy with a small trick or at least that is what he thought. He wasn't sure if Naruto universe existed or not. He didn't give much thought to it anymore.

"Yes this is Fixit and the car outside is indeed Bee. Fixit say sorry to her. She is a friend of mine and our ally." John said to Fixit. Fixit looked back and forth to the ancient one and John and he couldn't understand why he pointed this mage as an ally but Fixit didn't argue on this.

"I am sorry for firing upon you, mage. Hope you won't take this to heart"

"It's fine. I can see that you want to protect John. You can continue to do so."
she said.

it.