

Multiverse 81

Chapter 81: Meeting Steve

As Banner and other were talking another quinjet landed after few minutes. Out came Coulson and another person who John was very much looking forward to meet. Steve Rogers, a.k.a. Captain America. John's eye light up when he saw Steve and happily went to greet him.

"Hello Captain. It's my honor to meet you." John said to Steve.

"Hello John. It's nice to meet you. They updated me on you. Thanks for using the money only for good of the people and helping the people of the other world. I still can't understand the theory of parallel universe but nonetheless your work is commendable." Steve said.

John felt shy about it but was happy that Steve had a good impression of him unlike Tony. John could already feel from his words that he wasn't a fan of Tony for his past.

"Hello Steve I am Diana." Diana approached and introduced herself to Steve. Steve too had seen the movies before coming. Steve felt his story and the Steve in Diana's story had so many similarities. He felt it was the destiny of both of them to die in a plane crash even in other universes.

"Hello Diana, I am sorry for your loss." Steve said while making a handshake with Diana. Diana had approached Steve because she too felt Steve's story in this world and the Steve's story in her world had similarities.

"It's fine, it's been over a century almost." Diana replied with a smile.

"Oh yes, I am sorry I forgot you are the daughter of Zeus." Steve smiled stiffly as he realized that she was close to an immortal and comes from legends. Banner too approached and exchanged pleasantries. Natasha who just came from inside said

"Coulson, they need you on the bridge. Did you get both of them?"

"Yes. I have contacted both. They will join soon." Coulson left after saying that.

"Did Coulson ask for signing the trading cards yet?"

"Trading cards?" Steve said little surprised.

"It's vintage. He is proud of it. He is a big fan of you Captain." Natasha said.

"Gentlemen and lady, you might want to step inside. It's going to get hard to breathe" Natasha said.

"Breathe? It's a submarine?" Steve said.

"No Steve this whole ship is going to fly." John said. Natasha looked at John as he said that but didn't say anything. They all went to see the rotators revolving fast.

"We should go inside. Not everybody can survive the high altitude like Diana" John said as the ship was gaining altitude slowly.

They all went inside. John went and sat in a chair while looking at all the agents working and handling things. Banner, Diana and Steve were moving around trying to take all the things in. The whole facility was of high technology so all of them were awestruck by it.

After the helicarrier went high up in the air and vanished Fury came as all sat at the round table. Fury asked John

"Is Hal Jordan going to come? We might need him."

"I am not sure. I am not even sure if the Guardians have been sent here too along with Hal. He hasn't contacted me. Maybe he has already arrived and is in the universe somewhere. It's not like only Earth has gateways from other worldly beings to enter." John said. Fury now almost has total belief of whatever story John weaved in movies and even for Naruto world as he has seen Bruce, Diana and the Naruto and he had read various reports from agents who have gone to their world.

"Doctor Banner thanks for coming. We will need your help in locating the Tesseract. Natasha take him to his lab." Fury turned and said to Banner

"Thanks for asking nicely, I would need all the available spectrometers in the world calibrated to find weak gamma rays" Banner said

"Come with me Doc, we have all the toys." Natasha said as he led Banner to his laboratory.

After an hour of searching from all face recognition software SHIELD finally got a hit on Loki.

"Sir he is in Stuttgart, Germany and he isn't exactly hiding." an agent said.

"Captain and Diana you are up." Diana too was sent as she was powerful enough to catch Loki

Stuttgart, Germany

The story for Loki progressed as it should have. Loki went to Germany with Clint to steal iridium to stabilize the portal. As Loki himself wanted to get caught to destabilize the super powered people he made a grand scene as he ordered a bunch of civilians in the square to kneel. As Loki was going to kill an old man in order to show his dominance, the laser beam was reflected back by the shield of Captain America to Loki again.

"You know the last time I was in Germany and saw a man standing above everybody else, we ended up disagreeing." Steve said.

"The soldier. The man out of time." Loki.

"I am not the only one out of time." Captain replied.

As he said that Loki saw a shining rope fell onto him from above and tightening him immediately. Loki who just got up was bounded again by the lasso of truth.

"What is this?" Loki was surprised but then remembered.

"The lasso of truth. We meet again Loki." Diana said.

Chapter 82: Thor joining

"Hello Diana, we meet again. Must have been exhausting, watching humanity tear each other apart for so many years. Join me. We can rule them together. These humans don't deserve their freedom." Loki said with a smile. Diana instantly tightened the rope on Loki

"You speak too much Loki. We are not Gods. I have said before." Diana said.

The people who were watching nearby were surprised after seeing her. Many people might not have recognized Captain America as him being alive isn't still out in the open. But the iconic lasso of truth and that get up was easily recognized by many as they have watched Wonder Woman in movies. Most of them know that Batman is real and many speculated that Wonder Woman might be real as there was a connection between Batman and Wonder Woman shown in the movie. Many people whispered.

"Isn't wonder woman just a mythological character. How the hell is she real?"

"I have no idea. If Batman and Wonder Woman are real. Then does it mean Green Lantern is also real? Oh God that means aliens are also real?" Many whispered as such in the background. Steve could hear their whispers but couldn't say anything.

As Loki was being held up, there was a loud music of AC/DC being played from the quinjet of Natasha which was hovering above while directing the machine gun towards Loki. Natasha knew instantly who has hacked into their communications.

Iron Man came flying by and landed in front of Loki while pointing his hand thruster towards Loki and silently a slim and sleek black colored jet came flying by pointing it's guns and missiles at Loki. Batman too has come with his Batwing.

"Make your move, Reindeer games."

Loki knew he would have to surrender now. He lifted his hands to surrender. Diana pulled him by the lasso to the quinjet. After that they left. Diana went with Bruce in his Batwing while Tony, Loki and Steve were in the quinjet.

As the two planes were flying there was sudden thunder all around. Diana who was in Batwing saw this and said "Thor is here!"

And before anybody could do anything Thor landed on quinjet and took Loki away immediately. "We need to stop Thor in doing anything wrong." Batman said.

The Batwing flew down where Thor took away Loki only to see Loki standing there with a smile while Iron Man and Thor were facing each other few metres down the small hill. Diana took her lasso out and bounded Loki again.

"C'mon did you see me escaping? I didn't even run away." Loki said.

"Diana keep him here I will stop them from doing anything stupid." Bruce said and went down gliding.

As he went down both have already started fighting. Batman roared.

"Hey! That's enough. Have you both had your fill?"

"I am here to take away Loki to Asgard and face justice." Thor said.

"Really? How will you take him back to Asgard? I heard John say that your Rainbow Bridge was destroyed. How will you get back?" Batman said.

Thor who heard this suddenly stiffened. He indeed have no way to take back Loki. Odin used dark magic to send him to earth as the bridge was destroyed.

"I don't know, but I intend to take him back." Thor insisted.

"We never said that you can't take him back to Asgard. Until then we can keep Loki in our custody and find out what he really wants to do. Is that acceptable?" Batman said.

"Fine.." Thor who didn't know how to refute him agreed.

"Damn Bruce, you really are a manipulator." Tony murmured.

As they were talking Steve parachuted down and saw everything was in order. He was relieved.

"Hello Mr. Wayne."

"Captain." They both greeted each other. "Let's go back everyone. We have places to be and people to catch." Bruce continued.

They all went back to their plane and this time Thor too joined as he entered the quinjet. Thor was happy to see Diana, an old comrade again. They soon traveled back to the helicarrier.

Loki was brought down the quinjet by many agents as guards so that Loki didn't try any funny moves. Even Diana was following him. John who got to know all this from bridge got up and went near the laboratory of Banner to see Loki up close.

John in his previous life was a a great fan of Loki. Mostly because he was portrayed by a great actor and even at the end he redeemed himself by his sacrifice. During the confrontation against Kang, he took the right decision. Even though he failed at the end to stop the emergence of Kang in multiple timelines but at least he took the right decision.

John always believed at the end Asgardians had a hard life specially for Thor and Loki. He wanted to change their destiny even though he wasn't sure how, but he would try at least.

Chapter 83: Asking Loki

After a couple of minutes John saw Loki passing by the laboratory and smiling at Banner. John got up and stopped in front of Loki after getting in the corridor. the agents instantly pointed their guns at John as they weren't sure why John stopped them. Fury who saw this was also surprised by this sudden behavior by John.

"Motherfr! What is he doing?" Fury almost ran to the corridor to stop any bad thing from happening.

"The last time I said I don't like guns being pointed at me, it didn't turn out well for many people." John smirked and that almost brought chills down the spines of the agents.

Fury who almost came running shouted "Agents lower your weapons. What the hell are you doing John?"

"It's fine Fury I want to talk with Loki Laufeyson here" John replied.

Loki who was watching everything with a smile suddenly stiffened when he heard his full name. The next second he again put up a smile in his face.

"Oh the prophet is here. The person who is said to direct the people from other worlds to this world. Clint told me about you. The creator of motion pictures."

Fury who listened to this finally couldn't stop himself and said

"John let me take him to the prison then we can let Diana use the lasso of truth to find what he wants to do. Then you can ask all what you want to." John looked at Loki for a few seconds and finally said

"Fine. Take him to the cage."

After Loki was thrown to the cage. John came with Fury to see Loki up close and ask.

"Hello Loki, I guess you know my name from Clint. I am flattered that I am mentioned." John said

"So what are you here for? To tell me there are more people hidden behind you? Don't tell me that you don't know what Fury and others are most afraid of. They don't dare to put hands on you as they feel you might have more people behind you?" Loki said. Fury who heard all this didn't say anything as this was true and SHIELD truly did fear if John had been hiding many people from them.

That was one of the main reason why John was brought here, on the fact that he might be hiding and if anything turns south John might bring help from his other worldly friends.

"I know all of this Loki. You don't need to instigate me against them. I have one question for you. Hope you answer it." John said.

The others who were listening to this conversation. They wanted to know what question John was going to ask Loki.

"Did you meet him?" John said with a serious face.

"Him? Who do you mean? Clint? Clint never said he had any friendship with you?..." Loki said.

"The Mad Titan." John said interrupting him. Loki instantly stiffened when he heard it. He was shocked by the fact that John knew of the Him.

"From your body's response it seems you did meet him. Good. We have a long way to go Loki. A very long way to go." John said and left. Fury who heard their conversation was curious but didn't ask John in front of Loki.

Other who were listening to this conversation turned towards Thor.

"What are you all looking at me for? I don't know who this "Mad Titan" is. I only know that he has an army called the Chitauri. He wants to lead them to Earth. They will win him the Earth and in return, I believe, for the Tesseract."

John came up to the meeting room in a minute followed by Fury and even Tony and Bruce entered the room. Tony who was listening to the conversation to Loki too also couldn't hold himself back and asked

"John who is this Mad Titan?" Others too were watching him with eager expression.

"A very powerful person. You just need to know this. Even if I tell you about him it's useless and it doesn't really matter. I just wanted to know if Loki met him along the way" John said.

"Are you sure about this? From the response of Loki it seems he was scared of this 'mad titan' a little." Fury asked with contemplation.

"Trust me Fury. He doesn't really matter now. I just wanted to ask Loki to confirm some of my guesses. You should focus on finding the Tesseract. Oh yes. Stay as far away from Loki's scepter as you can. It might warp your minds" John said.

"Huh! Loki's scepter? Are you sure?" Steve asked.

"Yes. Just stay away from it for now." John insisted.

"Did your dreams show you about the future? Is that why you said that?" Fury asked now.

"The future which I see belongs to other universes similar to us and it's never constant. So don't put your million dollars on my 'future'. It changes every second." John said as he blurted out a bunch of lies.

Chapter 84: The same plot

As everybody sat down Fury said "Diana can you use the lasso of truth on Loki to figure his plan out?"

"Sure."

Diana went to the cage and everybody sat in their places to see what plans did Loki have with the Cube and how does he plan to bring the army to Earth. As soon as Diana went inside the cage Loki knew what Diana was here for.

"You must be really desperate to even use the Lasso on me." Loki said. Diana didn't utter a word and wrapped Loki in lasso as he didn't resist at all.

"What are your plans with the Tesseract?"

Loki tried stopping himself from uttering but no matter how he tried he couldn't stop himself from saying

"I just plan to bring the Chitauri to Earth. The other processes are handled by Erik as I don't understand Earth's science as it is too backward."

"How do you plan to bring the army?" Diana continued.

"I have no idea. I didn't ask. I knew that I might be caught and be used the lasso so I deliberately avoided the whole plan" Loki said and this time with a huge smile.

"Why did you let yourself get caught so easily?"

"So that I can manipulate all of you and break you all from inside. Well that was the plan but it seems it's out of the window now." Loki said. Diana just looked at him for few seconds and even tightened the rope around Loki but it result to anything. With a sigh Diana came back to the bridge.

"I tried, he knew I would use the lasso on him so he took measures against it."

"It seems like we need to depend on ourselves to find the Cube as fast as possible." Fury said with an exhaustion. Tony and Bruce both did their homework on the notes of Erik Selvig so they were ready to assist Banner in search of it. John decided to follow them to the laboratory and see even with the absence of influence of scepter if Banner transforms.

Banner and everybody started working on finding while Tony was being a little jumpy. John knew that Tony had already started hacking into the files of SHIELD about the Tesseract as he felt that Nick's theory of using clean energy from Tesseract to fuel the world was a lie.

As Tony was having fun with Banner by giving him a mild electric shock, Steve barged in. "Hey. Are you nuts? Is everything a joke to you?"

"Funny things are!" Tony replied.

"Threatening the lives of everybody on the ship isn't funny. Just focus on finding the Tesseract" Steve said

"You think I am not? We are already sweeping the entire planet to find the Tesseract. But Captain have you never doubted Fury? Why call us now? Not before? Jarvis is already running through the files of SHIELD. Don't believe me? Ask Wayne and Banner. Even John can say that something is wrong with Fury approaching us now."

Steve turned towards Bruce who was listening and working in his place beside. "Bruce what do you think?"

"A spy who doesn't have secrets isn't a good spy. There must always be a Plan B for organizations like this. I am just guessing if we are Plan A or Plan B?" Bruce said with a flat tone.

"Doctor what do you think?" Steve asked.

"Umm... Tony has been the forefront of clean energy for a time now. If they really wanted clean energy why not bring Tony before? What is he hiding?" Steve looked at John who was eating snacks provided by Tony. He just shrugged his shoulders stating that he accepts whatever they said.

"Just find the Tesseract" Steve left saying that but talking with the other three made him doubt and he went to find out if SHIELD was hiding something.

After half an hour SHIELD got to know that a virus had infiltrated the files of it and Fury knew instantly who was behind it. He went directly to the laboratory to confront Tony.

"What are you doing Mr. Stark?"

"Kind of wondering same thing about yourself" Tony replied.

"You are supposed on finding the Tesseract?"

"We are already searching the whole planet for it. When we get a hit we will have the location within half a mile."

"Yeah it will be soon. But tell me Fury. What is "phase 2'?" Tony asked looking at the screen.

"Phase 2 is using the Tesseract to make weapons." Steve said as he entered the laboratory and placed a weapon in front of them.

"SHIELD has made missiles and other kinds of weapons with the help of the Tesseract" It was Wayne who spoke this time.

"I would like to know why SHIELD is using the Tesseract for making weapons of mass destruction." Banner pointed out the screen. By this time Diana, Thor and even Natasha joined in.

"Because of him." Fury said as he pointed towards Thor.

Chapter 85: The truth

Fury pointed at Thor and said "Last year we had a visitor on earth. Their small match leveled a town..."

"Tell them the truth Fury." John said intercepting Fury.

John who had been silent all this time finally spoke out. Fury almost stumbled when John said that. Fury looked at John for a moment and said

"What truth?"

"The truth why you really wanted to make weapons from the Tesseract. The actual history of Pegasus Project." John said.

"You knew about this? You can look at past too?" Fury said now with apprehensiveness.

"I can look into many things Fury." John said.

"What truth are you speaking about?" Steve asked. John looked at Fury. Fury knew he couldn't hide it so he finally said

"In 1995, Earth was almost invaded by an hostile alien force. This was stopped by the help of someone. At that day I realized that we were hilariously out manned and out gunned." Fury said.

"Why didn't we ever know that it happened? There was no news about that." Tony asked.

"Because the person who helped us is way too powerful. The avengers initiative was born because of her. In addition now with the new world being merged the top people must be really scared. " John replied this time. Fury now was sure that John knew everything. John didn't mention about Skrulls because the agenda of secret invasion is on. He didn't want to expose too much to make the Skrulls more attentive to him. At this point Steve too knew about the new world. He was surprised at the beginning with this new world being merged but like aliens' presence Steve thought of them as aliens.

"Her? So this 'she' is really powerful enough to stop an invasion almost single handedly. But where is she now?" Bruce asked.

"Relocating and helping other planets in need. I can only contact her in case of emergency. This hasn't been the condition yet. That's why 'phase 2' was created along with the idea of 'Avengers'. I wanted a group of heroes powerful enough to stop any kind of invasion. But I can also understand one person can only be so much powerful so Phase 2 was the plan." Fury said.

"So now you know the whole story."

Everybody were silent as they heard it. As they were contemplating there was a huge explosion and the laboratory blew a hole in the middle. John and everybody were thrown away by the blast. Natasha and Banner fell down through the hole while others got disoriented.

After few seconds they finally got their bearings. Wayne saw all this and said while bringing out his mobile

"One engine is down. Tony and I will go check if we can repair the engine, if we lose another engine we won't be in air anymore. Steve and John you can stop any infiltration during this mayhem. I am sure the enemy will sneak into us. Thor and Diana go and stop Banner if he goes out of control. I have a feeling he might."

John followed what Wayne said and with Steve went out searching for any sneak attacks. John went to his room to wear the equipment he brought. The while hand gloves. Same as the Flame Alchemist Roy Mustang. Even though he could do flame alchemy without the gloves he needed a spark for that and only the gloves could provide that spark.

John after wearing the gloves went out searching. Banner did lose his control over Hulk after falling down. Thor and Diana had to fight it out with Hulk to keep him under control.

"Thor, we need to make him fall down and then you can keep Mjolnir over his chest. He won't be able to move if we did that. We don't want casualties here." Diana said.

"Good plan, you hold him down with the Lasso and I will make him fall down" Thor said.

Diana was able to wrap her Lasso around Hulk after exchanging some blows. Thor took his hammer and gave a huge blow to Hulk's legs. Hulk fell down spontaneously and Thor took his hammer and kept over the chest of Hulk.

"Banner we are not your enemies. Wake up. We need you" Thor said

On the other side Wayne and Stark were busy repairing the rotator of the engine. The only difference from the original plot was that Tony used iron alchemy to remove the big iron chunk that got stuck in the rotator. Wayne was attacked when he was going to restart the engine which led the Iron Man's damage to his armor while driving the rotator manually.

Steve went to the bridge to stop any suspicious person entering the control room. John who was nearby finally saw Clint with blue eyes pointing his bow and arrow from a concealed ramp. John knew he had to stop Clint before he does more damage to the helicarrier. John had let all the heroes follow their destined path but now it was time for change as the upcoming war would be dangerous.

John had planned for this war for a long time and it was time to execute this plan. The next moment John used his left hand to touch the floor. Everybody's eyes turned around by the shining blue sparky lightning. The lightning flowed towards the ramp where Clint was hiding. Then huge metal circular cones came out of the walls and floors.

Chapter 86: The incoming war

The circular cones that came out from all sides binded Clint from all sides without giving him an inch to move, he couldn't even twitch his fingers no could he step forward from the only side that was open.

The others in the room were dumbstruck including Steve as he had never seen such kind of thing ever before. Fury too had a weird look in his face. He suspected that John knew alchemy but he still wasn't sure what kind of alchemy John knew.

"What? Didn't you see Tony doing alchemy before? I thought SHIELD knew everything. You can't expect me to come empty handed. Can you?"

Natasha came a couple of minutes later to see Clint was being tied down. " You need to wake him up. Do whatever possible." John said. Steve who was looking at Clint said

"Can he get away from this control?"

"Yes! Just hit him in the face" John said with a chilly smile. The others looked at him weirdly but at the end chose to believe John. Clint was take into a secluded space so that he could be brought back to normal and Natasha followed him.

Hulk changed back to Banner soon. It was easier this time as he was not affected by Loki's scepter. It took sometime but Banner was back instead of being thrown down to a random place in the original plot. It affected Thor too as he wasn't stuck in the cage.

But Loki in the meantime managed to escape by the quinjet Clint had hit them. The agents who went to secure the cage died and even Coulson was almost in death bed. Fury went directly to Coulson. John too followed him.

"How do you want to save Coulson?" John said as he knew Coulson won't die due to this.

"I will call in a medical ninja. We have one here on hire. I hope you won't tell the others about the medical ninja. This was a secret between me and Darui. I asked for situations like this." Fury said.

"Sure, don't worry about that. But why did you chose to disclose this with me?"

"Because it's related to ninjas. They are your friends. I have lied way too much to get this team together. I think some truth should come out."

John really didn't know of the presence of ninja as he didn't check the presence of his summons in the helicarrier. Now that he checked he noticed a ninja, who was coming towards their position. She belonged to Kumogakure.

John left after seeing everything was in place. Everybody came back to the bridge, shaken by this small adventure. Many agents died and the fate of Coulson was unknown. Many people here had crossed paths with him before so everybody was sad. Fury didn't mention of having advanced medical help in the helicarrier as he wanted to bring the team together.

"There was this idea of Avengers Initiative. Bruce and Diana had been a part of their own team before they got moved here. I have wanted to make such a team for a long time. Coulson too believed in this idea of a team. A team of superheroes so they could fight the battles we never could."

"At one point I even thought of discussing this with the 5 kages. But I don't think they will trust me. Yes we had the option of Phase 2. But I still chose to bring you all in instead of going through with Phase 2"

Everybody was silent. "We need to find Loki again. The last time he got caught by his choice. We need to bring him on our terms." Bruce said.

"Where shall we search for him?" Tony said. The next moment Tony's cell vibrated. He took it out and put it onto his ears. Tony trembled a bit after hearing the voice from other side.

"No. Don't do anything. I am coming right now." And kept it away immediately after.

"I know where Loki is. Let's go. Fury get your communications online." Tony said. This time everybody got ready. Even Clint was awake after being hit in his head by Natasha.

Diana and Bruce went into the Batwing. While others took on the quinjet. Tony flew away by himself as he would be faster than others with his suit. John too joined as he couldn't miss this war. Of course John wore a suit and even had a mask. The mask of the Anbu corps used by the ninjas.

As John went inside the plane he took out his mobile and called

"Darui, Can you send 100 chunin ninjas to New York. Keep them hidden in the city and help people in evacuation. No need to show your face to public. Send a small team of medical ninjas too to save those who might be injured."

Everybody were confused by this. "Is the army already coming? Can't it be stopped before?" Steve said.

"No. This war is required to back some people off Earth and to make a statement." John said. Everybody had a sullen face when they heard it. John can't let this war go away from his hands. This would be his best chance to expose the superheroes and gain more fan values. The reason he called the ninjas because he didn't want innocents to die and save them as much as possible.

This was the best he could do slowly turn the people's favor and increase fan values. People will believe in real heroes more than virtual ones.

Chapter 87: The war (1)

Tony received a call from Drift saying Eric Selvig was in the roof of Stark Tower. Drift wanted to come up and stop Erik from doing anything but Tony told him to stop as he was sure if Drift took any step in broad daylight it might cause more panic as the people would definitely see such a huge humanoid robot. More problems would pop up afterwards.

It can be said that Drift helped him in this regard instead of figuring out the location of the Cube itself by deep thinking. The plot followed exactly like it was supposed to as Tony was thrown down by Loki and Mark VII flew down to catch him.

The portal had already opened when Batwing and the quinjet reached New York. Tony was flying and fighting. Wayne and Diana went to the Stark Tower directly as Diana saw Loki in the Stark Tower while the quinjet landed in a big square.

"We need a plan. Wayne how is it looking up there?" Steve said over communications.

"Diana used the lasso of truth on Loki. It seems like he doesn't know how to close the portal. We need to find another way out. And stop these aliens from spreading around the whole city."

As Batman was talking they were suddenly shot by a laser gun from one of the flying alien aircrafts. Diana who saw it incoming covered herself and Bruce but were still flung away by few meters.

"Are you both alright?" Steve asked as he too heard the blast over the call. After few seconds Diana's voice came

"We are alright. We all need to work together to combat the situation." Steve said.

John noticed that the Chitauri came with greater force than the original one. He saw that there were already two leviathans from the beginning of the attack with higher number of aliens. It was much different from the movie.

"The butterfly effect does impact in a larger scale than I expected. I suppose Loki asked for more help as he had seen Diana before." John murmured. Batman and Wonder Woman came flying (gliding) down the next minute from the Stark Tower.

"Where's Loki?" Thor asked.

"He sneaked away in that blast." Diana said

As they were thinking of an action plan, Tony said over the call.

"Guys! everybody is here? Good. I am bringing the party to you." He said as he led a leviathan towards their direction.

"I don't see how that's a party?" Natasha said.

"Banner I think it's time to get angry." Wayne said.

"That's my secret Bats. I am always angry." Banner turned to Hulk the next second and stopped the leviathan with one punch. But the inertia of the leviathan was too huge to stop it's read end. John knew he had to take action here.

He stretched his arm towards the huge moving body and snapped his fingers. A huge spark was sent to the body of the Leviathan and it created a huge explosion of fire on it. The fire blast was so huge that all had to take cover to get away from the heat of it.

"Remind me never to be an enemy of you." Clint said.

"Batman we need a plan. Till we can close the portal we need to limit the destruction." Steve said.

"We need to set a perimeter of 6 to 10 blocks. Nothing should cross that. Me and you can fight the aliens here as this is almost the center. Clint go up and scan everything and relay back to us and on the way blow them up as much as you can. Natasha you are good at spy. Try to find ways to close the portal. Go to the roof of Stark Tower. John go around the perimeter and blow them up. Tony if you can't kill them lead the strays to us. And Hulk smash!!"

"Good. Diana and Thor you both can almost fly. Thor kill them as much as you when they come out. Use your lightning. Diana help Tony in controlling everything around. Let's work for a living, people" Steve said.

Everybody went into work. John ran around the perimeter. In order not to be in danger he called Sasuke to secretly follow him and help him if he is in danger. Sasuke and other jonins had always been secretly protecting John. After the confrontation with Sitwell, John had to take certain measures against Hydra.

The shielding technology wasn't mature yet. It would take a few more months to be used as Bruce said so. John had ordered Sasuke to be with him till then. He went around using flame alchemy on any moving alien and those who came close to him he used the alchemy of decomposition and reconstruction to kill them.

Truth to be said John was having fun killing the aliens. Sasuke killed a few who tried to snipe John from far with the laser guns. John even saw some ninjas moving very fast and taking away the stranded strangers.

There were screams around as the people didn't realize who were taking them away but they calmed down as they saw that all of them were much further away from the invasion. Even though they didn't see the face of their saviors, all of them were grateful.

Chapter 88: The war (2)

"This is too slow." John murmured to himself. "Time to use the system. Change myself to Minato Namikaze."

[Ding

Command accepted]

John changed to Minato. He then using chakra changed himself to John's shape and face again as John didn't want any suspicion of his absence from battle. He was wearing a mask anyways, changing his body shape won't consume much chakra. John even copied the alchemic tattoos.

"Fixit, scan the area and plan out the most efficient way to kill the aliens."

John then proceeded in the plan laid out by Fixit. He used his Kunais to shuttle from place to place killing aliens. As he was killing them he saw two leviathans wreaking havoc on the streets. John threw the kunai to one of them.

It got struck in the body and John appeared near the kunai the next moment. He used the decomposition alchemy over the body of the leviathan. It instantly spilled out alien blood from many of its orifices. The leviathan screamed in pain as it went down.

The leviathan beside saw this and turned towards John with its mouth wide open.

"Didn't your mother teach you not to eat weird things?" John said and he snapped his finger towards the direction of the leviathan's huge mouth.

A fire broke out inside the mouth as it drilled inside of its body. It charred the leviathan and this too followed the same fate as the other one. The only difference was it was charred black as opposed to dying in a pool of blood like the previous one.

The Chitauri army nearby saw all this and roared at John. They instantly shot at John but he had already vanished from his spot and he was high up in a high rise building nearby.

"Sigh! Too many leviathans have come up. With so many corpses it will be easier for the Vulture to steal the technology from the Chitauri." John said as he looked around all the destruction. Though the ninjas were constantly rescuing people some of the people still suffered.

He could see Diana and Thor in the air dealing with the flying aircrafts. He could even see vague shadows of Wayne and Steve fighting in the streets. Batman used alkahestry whenever possible and launched sneak attacks while Captain Rogers took a frontal approach of attack.

Hulk was more brutal as he didn't distinguish between anybody and took all out approach for everything. He smashed and gorged every single alien his eyes could find. Hulk even smacked at a leviathan along the way.

The people all over the world could see the situation of New York and they were in for a ride. The people knew that Batman was real but they had no idea that even Diana Prince was real. And from the live telecast and videos, the powers shown by Wonder Woman was exactly as same as the movie.

This changed the perspective of the world as for the first time evidence of the presence of Gods was proven.

"So wonder woman is real, that means Zeus was real and maybe still be alive as his life was never shown."

"John Jameson might know of their existence from before and that is why he made movies of them. Wait! there was a recent movie called Green Lantern. Since aliens are real aren't there guardians protecting the galaxies? Where are they?"

The people all over the world discussed on the presence of super heroes. Diana and Thor's powers surprised many but people also saw Iron Man, Batman and Captain Rogers fighting. Some people finally recognized Captain America and this information too shook the people as he was supposed to be dead.

As John was killing people he started receiving calls. First was his father, asking him of his whereabouts. John assured him that he was safe and he was just helping in rescue operations. John didn't dare to say that he was fighting in the front line.

John was avoiding public cameras wherever possible as he didn't want too much of exposure. People wouldn't be able to recognize him from his body structure alone neither he wanted to be in the spotlight. After convincing his father and Val, he finally sighed in relief but little did he know that another person was worried about him.

"You are in the front line fighting along with the superheroes." Emma called and it was her first words.

"Huh no. I am just volunteering in rescue operation." John denied.

"Don't lie to me. I saw one person in a video snapping his fingers and blazing that huge hovering monster with fire. You have that flame alchemy tattoo in your hands. Do you think I am a fool?" Emma almost screamed.

"Huh! How do you know that it isn't Roy Mustang? He also has flame alchemy." John said

"John we have slept together. Do you think I won't recognize that body structure?"

"Fk! Fine I am in the battle. Don't worry I am safe. People are there with me."

"What will you do if you are shot by these laser guns. You don't have any superpowers. Those alchemic powers are nothing in front of bullets"

Chapter 89: The war (3)

"It's fine. I am safe. Trust me Emma. I am being protected always. You don't have to worry about me."
John said.

"This is the last time you are allowed to do what you are doing Mr. John Jameson."

"Sure, Sure. Now let me go. Got some aliens to give a taste what earth's hell looks like." John said as he ended the call and continued killing aliens.

The war raged meanwhile. All of the superheroes were able to constrict the outflow of the aliens which were still entering earth from the wormhole. But there was an equal amount of destruction in the blocks where they constricted them. Governments from all over the earth were watching it with concern as they felt insecure.

Loki on the other hand who was flying around on an alien aircraft was blasted away by an arrow of Clint. And Hulk who was cruising by smashed Loki and said the famous words

"Puny God"

John in future when he came to know regretted a lot as he couldn't record that famous scene live and in this way the scepter was thrown away from Loki.

After half an hour of continuous fight, the world council had finally decided to nuke NY to stop the continuous onslaught. Natasha on the other hand was able to reach the roof of Stark Tower and found Erik Selvig who was sober now. From him Natasha came to know that she could close the wormhole using the scepter.

"Tony we have a nuke coming your way, I couldn't stop it. It was the decision of world council."

"Tony you need to send the nuke inside the wormhole. Natasha just said she knows how to close the portal. We can close the portal after sending the nuke." Batman said. His armor looked broken at many parts now. Even though he had upgraded his armor and looked almost like the armor in Batman: Arkham Knight, it still was damaged to many places after continuous fight.

"Guys pray for me! I am off" Tony said and he went to direction of the nuclear missile to direct it towards the portal. But everybody became desperate when a new information emerged. The White House too sent another nuclear missile as they feared one missile might not be powerful enough to destroy all the aliens and the leviathans.

"What the actual sht! Are they so much desperate? I am not going to vote in any more elections if I survive this." Clint screamed when he heard this.

John who was listening to all this smiled. Didn't he want to introduce another superhero? This was the perfect time for it. He said over the communications

"Guys, we have a new friend coming our way."

"New friend?" Steve asked.

"Just look into the sky. You will see him soon" John said. Everybody started looking at the sky but they didn't see anything. After a few seconds Natasha who was on the roof saw a green light flying towards the second nuclear missile. She knew instantly who this new friend was.

"The Lantern corp is here. Took this policeman long enough!" Natasha said.

"Hal Jordan! I thought he would never come." Steve said as he too was briefed on him before. He suspected a little bit before about the Green Lantern but now it seemed the Lantern Corps really existed. Batman on the other hand was little bit happy to see an old comrade again.

"Sorry Bats I am late. Got lost in this new universe. Had to figure my way here." Hal Jordan lied as was instructed by John.

"It's fine. Direct that missile towards the portal. And bring back Tony. His suit wouldn't support in vacuum" Batman said.

The people all over the world saw the man in green suit and knew that even Green Lantern was real.

"Why is this guy so late? Isn't he supposed to be the protector of the galaxies. I need an audience with the Guardians and revoke his license of being a Green Lantern." said a man who was watching all this on television.

"Audience with the Guardians? Do you think you can ever see the Guardians in your lifetime?" said another man who was watching all this with him. Almost all people believed in the movie of John by now after seeing Batman and Wonder Woman. Little did they know that there was no Lantern Corps in this universe unless John decides to bring the Guardians and the incorporate the corps.

Hal flew towards the incoming missile and wrapped it around a green halo with his ring. He took the missile and flew towards the portal. SHIELD who saw this sighed in relief as they too were responsible for this debacle.

Tony and Hal reached one end of the wormhole at almost the same time.

"After you Tin Man." Hal said to Tony as he was approaching.

"Don't make me die in hypoxia Greenlit guy." Tony said as he entered the portal with the missile. Hal too followed him with the missile.

"Close the portal when I say it." Hal said as he crossed to the other side.

Chapter 90: Aftermath

After few seconds Hal's voice again sounded in the communications.

"Close the portal, their ship is toast."

The Green Lantern returned with Iron Man who was covered in a green ball. He slowly flew down as the portal was closed by Natasha. The Chitauri aliens died after the nuke bombed their spaceship.

"Hello Bruce. Never thought I would be relieved to see you again. You must be the new guys John told me about. Hello to all, I guess you know my identity so I won't bother introducing myself."

"Guys there is a place where they are selling shawarma. We should try it." Tony said as he came out of the green ball.

"Yes but before that we will have to deal with the last person." John who just joined said.

They all went to the Stark Tower to see Loki finally managing to sit straight.

"If it's all the same to you guys, I will take that drink." Loki said referring to the previous conversation he had with Tony. John who was looking at Loki took out his mask and said

"Loki, I am looking forward to see you again. Be well till then."

Then the SHIELD personnels came and took away the scepter. John saw Rumlow and Sitwell coming to take it. John could feel Sitwell trying to be away from John specially after what he saw in videos of John fighting. John just smiled at Sitwell.

Sitwell had always felt a kind of fear in front of John which no other superheroes gave him. "I will have to ask Pierce again to remove him. He is more dangerous than we thought."

Hal who was new to this world was talking with all others while Loki was taken away. Diana who was curious about Hal asked him several questions about their Lantern Corps.

"It's a pity that there are no Lantern Corps here in this world. It would have been easier." Natasha said. As she felt having a single corp would be useless in the vast universe. She didn't know how vast the universe but the presence of Chitauri and Thor gave all of them a glimpse how vast the universe might be.

As they went down the Stark Tower, John kept a keen eye to see if there is any future Tony Stark here but didn't see anyone.

"Did our past change the future? Well there are multiple timelines. It's fine as long as the timeline remains intact."

John thought but since he didn't see the future Tony Stark but then he threw away the thoughts to the back of his mind. They went down only to be confronted by Pierce. There was a huge debate between Thor and them and finally Nick came to resolve the problem.

The Tesseract and Loki would be taken to Asgard for safekeeping and proper trial. Pierce had huge objections but finally succumbed to Fury's persistence. He couldn't make proper arguments as there were many superheroes present here who saved New York and they too took the side of Thor.

If Pierce insisted it might backfire on him. John who was looking at the argument didn't insert himself but invisibly he too showed that he was on the side of Thor. Both Tony and John had huge influence so Pierce had more reasons not to go against their wishes.

Later everybody went to eat shawarma as all were tired and needed a time off. Even Hal and Banner joined turning themselves back to a normal persons. Hal looked very young and handsome like in the movie. While eating Hal finally asked John.

"Will the Lantern Corps come? I would have to recharge my ring from the green element lantern."

John stiffened when he heard this. He had forgotten about the recharge of the ring when he bought Green Lantern. Now it has come back to bite him. He hesitated a bit and said

"I am not sure, they might arrive along with Guardians." John said.

"It would be better if the Lantern Corps is here too." Diana said. John didn't add anything to it as he had to go home and see how much fan values were required to extract the Guardians and the Green element.

"I have a question for you John. Why don't you have the same anger against Loki as we have? I can understand Thor as Loki is his brother. But what's the matter with you? I have seen the way you look at him." Banner asked curiously.

"He is just lost in his way, he isn't essentially a evil guy. In almost all versions of Loki in multiverse that I have dreamed before he isn't that bad. You can say he is mischievous and have a huge hunger to prove himself. In fact in some world he is a good person and I believe this version of Loki too isn't bad." John smiled and said.

"Odin's beard! How many different universe do you dream about? It must be annoying to watch worlds in every sleep I presume." Thor said as he was happy that John didn't consider Loki as evil like the other guys present.

"It's alright. I am used to it by now."

After eating, Thor went with Bruce and Diana as Bruce assured Thor of making a device for him to travel using the Tesseract to his home with Loki who was imprisoned in SHIELD for the time being.