

My Villainous Wife

Chapter 72 - Madly In Love

Yan Xiaoran stumbled backward and held on to the bedpost, her breathing quickened as if she was running for a few meters non-stop.

"If you're looking for Alina, she already left an hour ago." She suddenly heard someone speaking behind her and when she turned around, she saw that it was Madame Giselle.

"Do you know where she went? Why didn't you stop her? And what were all those papers?!" She fired the questions at him.

She couldn't believe that Alina really left her without even saying goodbye.

Madam Giselle walked towards her with crossed arms. His tall figure made it look like he was a beast. Shaking his head, he said, "I don't know where she went and I didn't stop her because even if I did, she will still leave and might even punch me in the face in the process."

Yan Xiaoran didn't want to agree but somehow, she could imagine Alina doing all that. Unlike her, Alina was a strong-willed woman and if she set her head and heart into something, she will do anything to achieve it.

"As for the papers that you're asking me about... Don't you already have an answer for that?" Madame Giselle bounced the question back to her.

Gulping loudly, Yan Xiaoran wanted to deny it and tell him 'no', but she already read the last letter from Alina and understood that Alina already intended to not own any of the titles and certificate as it didn't say in the papers that Alina transferred it to her.

But what she couldn't understand was why must it be her when Alina was the one who worked hard to build everything?

Sighing, Madame Giselle sat on the chair near the bed. He also couldn't understand what Alina was thinking about letting such a weak woman have all the things she worked for.

Alina used to describe the young woman before him now as strong and filled with determination but from what he could see, there was only a weak and timid woman before him.

Although, he understood that Yan Xiaoran suffered from a traumatic past and still needed some time to recover but how long will she stay like this? How long will she act like she didn't deserve anything at all?

Suddenly, as if he could see his torn self in front of him, Madam Giselle felt like he needed to do something.

As someone who was born from a strict family, Madam Giselle was forbidden to ever venture out of his boundaries and when his family found out that he had a different gender orientation from others, he was instantly banished from their family and even his name was erased from the family register.

He was scorned and everywhere he went and looked, people pointed their fingers at him and throwing hurtful words while they spit at him and kick him. No matter how he begged and ask them to stop, the beatings and pain he felt became more intense.

Closing his eyes, Madam Giselle banished the painful memories from his mind and thought that it was useless to think of a past that didn't have anything to do with him any longer.

Anyway, what he must focus on now was how can he pull Yan Xiaoran out of her cave and make her grow beautifully from her scars and her unsightly past.

Alexander looked down the glass wall that blocked him from the outside world. He could see the rainbow lights coming from the buildings, cars, and other things that looked like a miniature from where he was standing.

Was this their fate? To be separated once again? Alexander thought to himself.

The first time they were separated was when they were young and at that time, Yan Xiaoran disappeared without even saying goodbye to him. And when he found her again, she was already inside the prison for three years and if he hadn't used his power to release her, he would lose his sanity and kill the entire Zhao family.

Robert Qu was never the man who let Yan Xiaoran out of the prison, it was him all along. He only conveniently used Robert Qu who kept on bothering him to pretend so he could make her agree to their engagement but alas, who knew she would slip out from Robert Qu hands and end up in his arms.

But even after all that, she still parted with him and left him with only the feeling of missing her and wanting to hold her in his arms.

Long Jie told him that she must have found his love overbearing and left because of that, but what was wrong with showering the woman he loved with his attention and love?

Raising the glass of wine to his lips, Alexander drank the wine in one gulp. The sweetness that he should taste from the wine turned bitter and hard to swallow at the thought that this was the end of them.

'Crack.'

The sound of glass breaking sounded after Alexander broke the glass using his hand. Blood started to drop to the carpeted floor from the wound in his hand. The pain didn't even make him flinch nor did he think it was painful as it didn't even compare to the pain he was feeling right now.

He knew he was madly in love with her. He wouldn't deny that to anyone because there's no need for that. He fell for her since he was young and even until now, she still has a tight hold over his heart.

Suddenly, a malicious smile was on his face as he said to the air, "Xiaoran, after eating my tofu. Do you really think I will let you go and let this be the end of us?"

"No... I will wait for you even for a thousand years and make you mine again."
