

Madam Winters's Fight For Her Children

Madam Winters's Fight For Her Children Chapter 1191

Chapter 1191 Everett raised his eyebrows and softly asked, "What's wrong?"

"Um..." Ninian glanced outside and said, "This place is too eye-catching."

She stopped talking for a while before she resumed, "You're too attractive!"

She initially thought they could easily come to a lively place to have a meal and take a walk like a normal couple.

But she was already so jealous before even having the meal.

"I smell jealousy." Everett quirked his eyebrows and said,

"Babe, do you smell it?" "I'm not..." Ninian was a little embarrassed.

She blushed, but she still sat up boldly and confidently. Her flushed face looked slightly overbearing. “I don’t care. My boyfriend can’t be seen by other people. Let’s go to a private room.”

Everett took off his gloves. After he used a wet tissue to wipe off his long, slender fingers, he smiled and tousled her hair. “Let’s do what you say.”

He took out his phone. Just as he was about to call and make an arrangement , those teenagers who passed by outside suddenly walked inside and surrounded them.

When Ninian saw their slightly excited and enthusiastic expressions, her expression changed slightly. “Oh gosh, did they recognize you?”

If Everett was recognized here, it would cause a stir.

Ninian was slightly nervous, but Everett held her hand and looked calm. “Relax, we’ll be fine.”

The teenagers walked forward only after they tried and failed to convince someone to be the first to approach them.

Two

teenagers at the front looked nervous, and they tentatively asked, “Are you... Ms. Ninian Winters?”

Ninian answered, “Yeah?”

How strange! Were they not coming for Everett? Why would they call her name?

Ninian looked at Everett in confusion, but he smiled faintly at her without speaking.

Ninian was slightly puzzled. She snapped out of her daze and nodded.

The girls looked at each other and screamed in a low voice.

They were so excited that they jumped on the spot.

This made Ninian slightly puzzled.

They asked again, “Are you currently playing the role of Elliot White in ‘In Full Bloom’ now?”

Ninian was slightly surprised. “How did you know?” “Ah! It’s really you!” The girls looked very happy. They took out a poster from their bags and said, “Ninian! We’re your fans! Your photo was taken from the set, and we became your fans after we saw it. We even established a fan base for you!”

“If you’re free, you can search on Twitter. There are the resources and information that we’ve tried so hard to look for!”

“You’re an extremely talented actress, and you have great looks. You’re so excellent, yet you’re still hardworking. The more we know about you, the more we like you!”

“Please keep up the good work! Fans like us will definitely stay with you until the end!”

Their enthusiasm and passion moved Ninian.

As per their request, Ninian gave them her autograph, took a photo with them, and watched them leave.

It was only after the group of people disappeared, Ninian realized what was going on, though she was still at a loss.

“They were actually my fans...”

“Yeah, they like you.” Everett tussled her hair and said.

“Why would they be my fans?” Ninian still found it slightly hard to believe. “I just came back recently. Why would I have fans? And they are fans of my movie!”