

Meet My Brothers by Red Thirteen

chapter 1001 -Jasmine didn't believe her. "Nonsense! I'll tear your mouth apart!"

"My mother only found out that she was pregnant after they broke up. She kept me in the dark for years, and she only told me who my biological father was on her deathbed. If she really intended to use me to threaten him, she would've revealed this secret a long time ago."

Luna had resented her mother back then for not telling her that she was Raymond's biological daughter. She wouldn't have had to struggle for so long had she returned to Raymond's side sooner. Jasmine retorted, "You're just making things up. Your mother must've been rejected by my dad back then, so she had no choice but to give birth to you. She wanted to threaten my dad with you, but she failed. So, she slunk away and raised you elsewhere. Your mother only made up this story to deceive you-she's a shrewd woman, indeed."

Jasmine refused to believe that Luna's mother didn't want anything in return after giving birth to Raymond's child.

"Shut up! I won't let you speak about my mom like that. Your mom was clearly shameless enough to wreck their relationship at first, imposing on my mom to make her leave," Luna spat.

Luna loathed Jasmine's mother. If it wasn't for her prominent family background, Luna would've been the mayor's daughter now.

"Oh, you can't stand it when I insult your mom? She deserves it after acting so shamelessly! Your mom wasn't worthy of my dad to begin with. Their separation was inevitable. My mom and my dad, however, are a perfect match. Given your mom's status, she was never worthy of my dad's family. Even if he hadn't married my mother back then, she wouldn't have been able to marry into our family." Hearing that, Luna burst into a fit of rage, and she lunged forward and got into a fight with Jasmine.

Mia was flabbergasted. She certainly didn't expect them to start a fight out of nowhere. Given Jasmine's temperament, she'd be relentless and she wouldn't spare Luna easily.

Meanwhile, Luna would've swallowed her anger if she were her old self, but her newfound pride quickly escalated things. With her previous docility vanishing, she simply wouldn't give in to Jasmine. She'd been eager to overpower Jasmine.

As the two fought, Mia stepped forward to intervene and separated them. Evidently on the losing end, Luna glowered at Mia and Jasmine. "How dare you! Just wait until I tell Dad about this! You won't get away with this."

Both Luna and Jasmine looked disheveled. Their hair was a mess, and several scratches marred their faces.

Jasmine snapped defiantly, "Go ahead! Tell Dad about it and I'll see whose side he takes."

"Why are you so smug about it? I'm different. Mr. Shelbert already felt great remorse for my mother after mistreating her for so many years, and now I've brought back my son," Luna jeered. "That's your son. What does he have to do with the Shelbert family?"

Luna replied haughtily, "I've already told Dad that my son will take the Shelbert surname, and he'll remain a descendant of the Shelbert family in the years to come. Dad was overjoyed because he finally has an heir."

Luna's remark caught Mia off guard. Little did she expect Luna to go to such lengths, and she absolutely didn't envision Raymond making such a deal for an heir.

Meet My Brothers by Red Thirteen chapter 1002-No wonder Raymond was so protective of Luna—she had a son, an heir.

Jasmine grew even more infuriated. "You're shameless! He's just an illegitimate child. He has nothing to do with our family!"

"I gave birth to him, and that makes him a Shelbert after he changes his surname. Dad has yearned for a son over the years, and now he's finally had a grandson. Isn't that much better than not having a son?" In fact, Luna also didn't expect Raymond to agree to bail her out of prison just to adopt her child. She got lucky, indeed.

She continued, "Moreover, the child's father isn't someone insignificant. He's capable of assisting the Shelberts. Don't you think Dad will value me more?"

“What a joke. If the child’s father is as affluent as you claim to be, you wouldn’t have struggled for so many years. He’s merely a child of a poor man.”

Luna raised her brows and asked Mia, “Why don’t you ask Ms. Lane over here who the father of my son is? Is he really some poor, unknown man?” Jasmine was momentarily stunned. A glint of suspicion flickered in her eyes as she glanced at Mia. Why was she involved?

Tentatively, Jasmine began, “Is the child related to the Barretts in Bern City?”

She’d heard that Raymond had been close with the Barretts lately. He seemingly wasn’t planning to work with the Lanes in Nord City any longer, as he intended to work with a new partner.

Raymond wasn’t well acquainted with Bern City in the past, but it all makes sense now if the child was related to the Barretts.

Luna smirked. “Clever, aren’t you? Congratulations, you’re right. My son is related to the Barretts in Bern City.”

Mia sneered. “He’s just an illegitimate child. There’s nothing to be proud of.”

Luna’s expression changed drastically. “What are you talking about? My husband is the second son of the Barrett family. He’s a legitimate descendant of the family.”

Mia immediately rebuked, “Legitimate descendant? Why don’t you go ask Sharon whether she acknowledges him? He’s just a child born out of Mr. Barrett Senior’s wedlock with some woman outside. His existence was never made known, and neither does the Barrett family acknowledge his status. What is there to boast about?”

Jasmine snickered. “Oh, so he’s an illegitimate son as well. It appears that illegitimate children always tend to hook up with each other, no? And now you’ve even given birth to an illegitimate son! Birds of a feather really do flock together.”

Luna was seething. She bellowed, “Shut up! Who are you calling an illegitimate child? My mother was the legitimate wife back then. Your mother was merely a mistress!” Regaining her composure, Jasmine quipped, “Stop trying to make yourself look good. With your mom’s poor background, it’s impossible for her to marry a wealthy man.”

Luna's blood boiled. Noticing the limited edition bag on the table, she yelled, "Wrap this bag up for me!"

The manager, who had been lingering nearby for some time, hurried forward. "Alright, no problem."

Luke had to immediately tend to a confrontation that broke out in the VIP lounge, after all.

Fortunately, it was a private matter between his customers and it wasn't related to the store at all. How he wished he could escort them away as soon as possible to avoid trouble.

However, Jasmine grabbed the bag and glared at Luke. "I saw this bag first. If anyone is buying it, it's me. She doesn't have the right to do so."

Meet My Brothers by Red Thirteen chapter 1003-In truth, Jasmine wasn't even that interested in bags. Luxurious bags like these were within her reach since she was young.

However, she didn't feel like letting the bag go to Luna. That bitch came back to take her father away from her, and she even had the audacity to wrest their family's property away. She simply wouldn't allow it.

Luna smirked and produced a card. "Sorry, but I have a VIP membership card. I have the priority to purchase anything in the store first. As for you, I heard that Mr. Shelbert didn't give his children too many privileges to set a good impression on the public and to teach you some morals. That means you don't have a VIP card, right?"

Luna had won this time.

Jasmine's face flushed with anger. Indeed, she didn't have a VIP membership card. Still, she could've just used her mother's card if she wanted to buy anything.

However, she hadn't expected Raymond to get a VIP membership card for Luna. She felt humiliated.

Looking at Luke, Luna stated, "I should be prioritized since I'm the VIP. Wrap this up for me."

Avril chimed in, "Yeah, Luna's a distinguished VIP. I'm sure you can tell who Mr. Shelbert favors now, don't you?"

Jasmine nearly combusted with anger. "What's so proud about owning a VIP card? I could get one anytime if I wanted to."

"Really? Then go get one right now. If you don't have one, stop acting pretentious. I'm sorry, Jazzy, but this bag is mine today," Luna gloated.

"Don't call me that! I'm not related to you by any means, and neither are you related to the Shelberts."

Just then, Mia took the bag. Glancing at Luke, she said, "We saw this bag first. According to the rules, we should be prioritized."

Avril snapped at her, "Didn't you hear me earlier? Luna is a distinguished VIP-she's different from the regular VIPs."

Mia took out a VIP membership card nonchalantly. "Well, it appears that I'm a VIP as well. What are the chances?"

Luna's expression changed drastically. Scowling at her, she hissed, "Why are you intervening when you're not even buying the bag?"

She knew Mia was a premium VIP as well. Memories of how Mia infuriated Sharon back at the Vior store in Bern City remained vivid in her mind. It was also then that she yearned for a VIP membership card.

To her, owning a VIP membership card meant she could completely rid herself of her poverty and transform into a wealthy lady.

Avril was equally stunned. She didn't expect Mia to own a VIP membership card as well. What should she do now?

Chancing a glance at Luna, Mia et continued, "Sorry, but I'm taking this bag. Even if you have the right to buy it, you don't deserve it." Sv Luna was furious. Having toiled her way to become a VIP member to spite Jasmine, she certainly didn't expect Mia to help Jasmine.

Defiantly, she turned toward Luke and said, "I'm also a premium VIP, and I fancy this bag as well. Also, I called your store in advance and told them that I was coming to see this bag today. It should be mine according to a first-come, n first-served basis.”

Meet My Brothers by Red Thirteen chapter 1004-Mia smirked. “Luna, you might’ve become a premium VIP, but you still don’t understand what it takes to become one. You can’t just call and demand for these limited edition bags, even as a premium VIP. Do you know why?”

Luna was clueless. But she didn’t want to appear weak in her response.

Jasmine seized the chance to chime in, “Premium VIPs are ranked according to their spending. If both VIPS desire the same bag, the higher-ranked VIP is prioritized to purchase the bag. It hasn’t been long since you owned this card, has it? Have you spent anywhere close to one million dollars yet?”

Jasmine’s taunts rendered Luna speechless. Based on her recent spending, she probably spent only around a few hundred thousand dollars. She didn’t have much allowance, after all.

Seeing Luna’s change in expression, Jasmine continued to add insult to the injury. “Mia is different though. She’s one of the highest ranking VIPS on their list, as she spends nearly a few million dollars each time. Having spent only a few hundred thousand dollars, you guys are nowhere near her level.”

Luna ground her jaw in rage. Meanwhile, Avril blurted out, “Why can’t Luna buy it when she’s also a premium VIP? So what if Mia spends a lot? Luna couldn’t spend that much because she has just acquired the card lately. She won’t have an issue splurging on these goods in the future though.”

In an instant, Luna’s features softened. “Exactly. Whether Mia will remain as a high-ranking VIP in the future remains unknown.”

Jasmine sneered. “Oh, such ignorance! Stop embarrassing yourself by pretending you’re loaded if you don’t even know this. A child of a mistress is truly just as disgraceful as the mistress herself.”

Infuriated, Luna snapped, “You’re still being kept in the dark, aren’t you? Dad plans to groom my son into the heir of the Shelbert family. Everything in this household will eventually belong to my son one day. What is there to brag about a VIP membership card? All of this will be mine anyway.”

She pivoted and took her leave angrily. She was determined to get back at Jasmine for being humiliated today.

Mia was also taken aback when Luna claimed that Raymond was going to groom Asher into his successor. Apparently, she had underestimated Raymond's obsession with having a son. It would take years for such a young child to grow up, though.

It was all thanks to the family of Raymond's wife, Alison, that allowed him to come this far. Yet, it only took a boy for him to change his mind.

Collapsing onto the couch in despair, Jasmine cried out, "What do I do, Mia? My mom hasn't been in good health for the past few years. She'd be devastated if she finds out about this. After all, she loves my dad and she's never doubted him."

No one could ever expect the unpredictability of the human heart.

Mia also felt at a loss, unsure of how to comfort her. She paused and said, "Actually, I knew about this already. In fact, I arranged for you and Luna to bump into each other here." She told Jasmine the truth. Gaping at her, Jasmine questioned, "Why did you do that?"
