

Meet My Brothers by Red Thirteen

chapter 1186-Sage stood beside Timothy in silence.

Soon, news that Timothy was hospitalized spread, and Barrett Group's stock plunged.

The relatives of the Barrett family requested to hold a board meeting to elect another CEO. On the day of the board meeting, Mia brought her two children to Barrett Group.

They managed to keep everyone on a leash as Sage bore a striking resemblance to Timothy.

Mia marched into the meeting room, sat in Timothy's chair, and glanced at everyone present. "Let's begin. Didn't you all want to have a meeting?" One of the middle-aged men said, "Ms. Lane, this is the Barrett Group board meeting. It's not appropriate for you to be here." "That's right. Though the kids are Mr. Barrett's children, they're still young and do not have any shares. You all shouldn't be here." Mia flung a document onto the table. "This is an agreement signed by Grandma Laura to authorize to manage Timothy's shares." "Anyway, we still need to elect a CEO to handle our company affairs." "This is simple. I'll hire professionals to manage the company. There's no need to elect another CEO because Timothy will regain consciousness soon," Mia asserted.

The board of directors was not satisfied with her suggestion.

She knew their hidden motive, but she would not let them have their way.

"Ms. Lane, it's not that we're unwilling to accept your suggestion, but professionals are not as reliable as family. The project that my son developed at the technical department is viral now. He's also one of the Barretts, so he can surely manage the company well on behalf of Mr. Barrett." Right then, Sage stood up and said, "Is he that idiot who amended the program without permission and caused the bug that delayed the project for six months while we tried to fix the problem?" The middle-aged man's expression hardened. "Mr. Sage, you don't know anything, so mind your words." Mia turned to look at the man. "Is that But my son was the one who fixed the bug, or else the project would have been delayed forever and not been put on the market." Her words astonished everyone in the meeting room. "Can a child be that capable?" Mia glanced at the man. "Not long ago, the Barrett Group website was hacked, and my son was the one who did it. If you don't believe me, you can ask your son to have a showdown with Sage." Right after she said that, a young man said defiantly, "Sure!" But the middle-aged man stopped him. Competing with a child would not be honorable even if he won, but it would be embarrassing if he lost.

The middle-aged man spoke again, "Ms. Lane, I'm afraid an average person is not capable enough to be the CEO of Barrett Group." "Then I'll supervise the team. How about that?" "I don't think this will work." "Why can't my mommy do that? She's so competent. If you don't agree with that, I'll ask Uncle Dominic, Uncle Nathan and Uncle Connor to cover and discuss it with you!" Ginger said angrily.

The middle-aged man's expression turned grim. "Ms. Lane, I have no comment if you're going to threaten with your influence." "Shut your mouth then if you have no comment," Mia said.

Mia attended the board meeting assertively, and those who wanted to stir things up dared not say anything.

The major shareholders sat on the fence, but they supported Mia in the end.

The major shareholders were sharp-witted. If anything in Barrett Group went wrong, the Lanes had her back.

Meet My Brothers by Red Thirteen chapter 1187-None of the major shareholders was a fool.

After that, Mia was busy handling Barrett Group affairs and barely had time to rest.

With an exhausted look, she returned to the hospital.

Mia looked at Timothy and said, "I'll run away if you don't wake up soon." "No... Please don't go..." Timothy grabbed her hand. His gaze was deep.

Mia's eyes reddened as she gazed at the man who had just regained consciousness. Timothy finally came out of his coma.

After that, everything was back to normal. Those who caused trouble quieted down.

Sharon visited Timothy and told him that she was going to settle down overseas and would not come back anymore.

Timothy bought her a property and gave her a huge sum of money before sending her away from Bern City.

As for Maya, it was discovered that she was not the granddaughter of the Prime Minister of Yellow Island but merely his caregiver. Yet, she had been deceiving people outside.

After Maya was exposed, she ran away dejectedly. Nobody knew where she was hiding.

The day Timothy was discharged from the hospital, Mia looked at him and said, "Now that you've recovered and Grandma Laura's condition has stabilized, I should go home." Timothy stood in front of her. "Thanks for helping this time." "You're welcome." "I'd like to repay your kindness by marrying you." Mia raised a brow while gazing at him. "Mr. Barrett, you'll have to queue up for that." "It's okay. I have a lot of patience for you." Looking at the man before her, she said to her two children. "Stop hiding. We have to go now." Ginger came out of hiding and whispered to Timothy, "Daddy, we'll be back very soon." Timothy stroked her head. "I'll wait for you guys." Sage remained aloof. "Don't think that we'll forgive you so easily." "I can spend a lifetime proving myself," Timothy said gently.

Sage did not say anything. After talking much with him, she realized that Timothy was not as terrible as he thought. When Mia returned to Nord City, all her family was present, as she had been away for a long time.

Dominic sighed. "I thought you're not coming back." Mia sat beside Eva, who was pregnant. "Of course I have to come back. I can't wait to meet your baby." The family ate together joyfully.

Dominic asked her to go to his study alone. "What are you going to do with Timothy?" "He's just one of my suitors, so I can do whatever I want with him." Dominic shook his head. "I knew it. You're a grown-up now, and I can no longer hold you back." When Timothy was unconscious, Mia stayed at Barrett Group. This showed that she was still into him.

Besides, Dominic had learned about Timothy's background and that Luna was the real culprit behind everything. Finally, Dominic gave her the green light. "This time, you have to give him a hard time before remarrying him." "Don't worry, Dominic." After Eva gave birth to a baby girl, Mia was going to depart to Bern City because Aide Castle was there. When she got off the plane and saw Timothy standing beside his car, she couldn't help but smile.

There and no one could predict what would happen in the future, so she would many years to come, had to leave everything.
