Lexi's pov

Chapter 4

"Look brother little Alexandria is that nerd, Lexi," Nathan snarled.

My heart was racing and my throat became dry again.

"Leave my room. You both shouldn't be in here," I protested as they eyed me with insensitivity. Turning toward the door I was going to leave but Nolan swung me around and pinned me against it instead. Running his finger down my neck, his lip curled.

"Tell me Lexi, why didn't you tell your mom and my father that you were acquainted with us both and asked us to meet for a hook-up?"

Looking up at his light brown eyes I shook my head. "I didn't want to hook up with either of you. It was for Rose. It's not my fault you both are shoulder into the molding of my doors. It hurt but I was seething from their accusations. "What if I told your father how his sons are just a couple of insensitive boy sluts that fuck and dump girls just for the fun of it," I added with a hiss of venom

"My brother and I are future Alpha's and our dad will choose one of us when we find our mate to take over the pack. When that happens we will be able to do anything we like to you," Nathan growled, flashing me his wolf eyes for intimidation.

Standing my ground I refused to back down and he chuckled as his eyes trailed down my heaving cleavage. Covering my pajama-clad chest I called him a pervert making him shake his head at me. Nolan punched his arm and gestured for him to let me go. Nathan backed off and I ran further into my room as they opened the door. Peeking his head back inside Nolan said, "Be downstairs in the foyer at seven for school."

"What in the hell was that?"

Nova was pacing in my subconscious making low growling sounds until she finally spoke.

"Get to bed dear, I will remain on alert and wake you if they return."

Flicking the lamp off I laid back down in my bed and stared up at the dark ceiling. "So much for a fresh start with those two buttheads," I muttered as I exhaled deeply.

"They are both attractive and Alpha's in the making," my wolf responded. Rolling my eyes I sighed, "I'm just an omega and not worth their time."

Early in the morning Lilly entered my room and woke me up.

I was dead tired and just wanted to roll over and continue to sleep.

Alpha!" "What time is it," I asked her with a yawn.

After dressing in jeans and a simple light sweater I exited the closet to see Lilly had left.

Tossing the blankets off me I muttered that I was up and patted my feet to my closet for an slipped on my pair of shoes and made my way down the stairs to go to the kitchen.

Nodding I took a seat as she placed an omelet with hollandaise sauce before me. Thanking her as I dug in, I swallowed uncomfortably.

Her brow creased as she looked at me oddly.

"Of course, it's your birth name," she proclaimed and I understood the confusion.

"Did you tell Johnathan and his sons that I was Alexandria instead of Lexi?"

"Was that the wrong thing for me to do, sweetheart? I can correct it and be sure to let everyone know that you prefer Lexi," she said softly.

"Eat some breakfast Lexi and I'm sure it will perk you up!"

"I didn't realize that it hurt you. I will rectify it today," she commented and I gave her a nod.

"Is Johnathan your mate," I inquired. My mother's eyes lowered and her cheeks reddened.

"Thanks, Mom, please do as I haven't been called Alexandria since Dad died," I explained

As I continued eating I watched several emotions cross my mother's eyes and grew curious

"I believe that he is. The pull we felt was very strong and my wolf told me that he was," she said softly.

"It's nice to know that our wolves have better sense than we do when it comes to the

"When you turn eighteen you will know for certain who your mate is and Nova will be certain as well," she clarified then added, "Finish up, it's almost seven!"

"Your school records are already here so you will be placed in the same classes," she added. Nodding, I wiped my mouth and thanked her for breakfast as I made my way to the foyer.

Both Nathan and Nolan were standing there with their arms crossed looking intimidating.

I followed her eyes to the clock on the wall and felt my gut drop.

"Go in there and tell the office lady who you are and she will get you your schedule and a classmate to help you navigate. Go to the SUV after classes if you want a ride home," he

"You must be Lexi Mitchell, the Alpha called to let us know that you would be starting

"Nolan is the nicer one of the pair," Nova commented in my mind as I went into the office.

Standing at the counter an older woman with glasses glanced over at me and smiled.

'Want to be friends? If yes you get to call me Mini, all my friends call me that," she asserted as she handed me her phone.

Doing as she requested I was grinning when we entered class and I tripped over someone's Looking up at the bluest eyes I'd ever seen I heard Mini apologize for my clumsiness.

"You are the Beta's son," I blurted and his lip curled as he nodded.

Glaring at Nathan I thanked Nolan as his brother sped down the gravel road. building like an actual school and it was full of students mingling about. "This pack must be huge," I muttered in surprise and heard them chuckling from the front seat. Pulling into the parking lot all the student's eyes were focused on the vehicle. "Don't mind the gawking Lexi, it is a daily occurrence since we are the Alpha's sons and he owns the school," Nathan bragged. Rolling my eyes at the added attention I grabbed my notebook and pen as I exited the vehicle. I could hear those close to us start questioning who I was. Waiting for Nolan I avoided eye contact with the gathering crowd of students. "Come with me sis," Nolan said with a smirk and Wrapped his arm around my shoulder as he headed to the entrance. His announcement started another round of chatter amongst the students and I covered my face in embarrassment with the notebook. As we entered the building I shrugged his arm off me and glared at him. He raised his hands in surrender and then pointed to the office down the hall.

"We should leave then instead of standing here bitching about it," I asserted and started for Realizing I didn't know what they drove I stopped on the front steps and waited as the pair "Thanks," I said softly and got into the back seat of one of the black SUVS I had seen when The pack house school was up behind the two large pack houses. "Let's sit here since you know both of us now," Mini suggested as she offered the desk next to Sloan.

"She is new, Sloan so be nice," she proclaimed and my eyes widened at the handsome guy.
