

My Eye 40

Chapter 40 Paula's Blunder in Charles' Office

After all these years of open rivalry and veiled strife, Paula was deeply pleased with herself. She was relieved that she had finally elbowed Autumn out. She drove her car to the Shining Company and called David to make an appointment with Charles.

David was surprised on receiving Paula's call. He learnt that she was here to discuss their cooperation, but he still couldn't resist his urge and asked, "Miss Ye used to be our contact person, no? Won't she be coming here?"

Paula's good mood sank down with the words of David.

Miss Ye, Miss Ye, Miss Ye!

Why did she deserve the spotlight of every one? Paula had been trying for a long time, yet she was still overshadowed by Autumn.

Paula clenched her teeth, but she dared not speak bluntly to David. So she tried her best to control her anger and said, "She has resigned. So I'll handle the future cooperation matters with the Shining Company. Please be assured. I will handle everything with due care."

"Resigned?" David frowned slightly. 'Mr. Lu chose Cloud Advertising Company only because of her. Now that she has resigned, would Mr. Lu continue this cooperation?'

"Miss Pan, can you do me a favour and tell me why did she resign?" David was afraid that Charles would ask him these questions, so he made detailed inquiries to be able to answer Charles.

Standing across the building of Shining Company, with the vast French window reflecting her distorted face, she still spoke with gentle voice void of any dissatisfaction, "I don't know the exact reason. She solely needed consent from Mr Zhou. But I've heard... It was probably because of some financial issues..."

Paula gave vague remarks, leaving David perplexed.

on the phone, so she asked, "David, is Mr. Lu available right now? I want to make an appointment orders in the morning that in case Cloud Advertising Company sent someone over, David should ask them to wait for a while in

had no choice but to waited in person for Paula outside the elevator and directed her to Charles's office, "Miss Pan, Mr. Lu is in a meeting. You can sit for a you." Paula smiled and said, "Don't office, David

Paula sat down on sofa but as time passed, she could had the honor of visiting his office, she naturally wanted to look around to learn no other color except for black, white where he could play indoor him to lie on his back. The several green plants by the French window were the only colourful ornaments in the office, making it look less dull.

rest and equipped it with a single bed, a television, a loudspeaker and a few daily necessities. It working here. She thought Charles might be resting here during noon break or whenever he was working late her attention. It was probably clicked on the day of his wedding. But over to pick up the photo frame.

the frame but before she could look at the picture, she was taken aback by Charles's voice. She got scared and couldn't hold onto the frame which was Lu." It didn't occur to Paula that Charles could catch her off guard. She was gloomy because of the broken frame. David who was standing at his