

MY HIDDEN 1071

Chapter 1071: Suspected Pregnancy

After Fu Hanzheng's rumor was cleared, Yuan Meng gave her son to Yuan Shuo and went to the film studio in the South to continue being Weiwei's assistant.

The filming of Life Reboot was not going well and the supporting actors were not in the right mindset.

A scene normally required several takes before it was completed. Gu Weiwei, as the director, had to do the shooting and she had to give guidance to every role, in hopes that the movie could achieve the effect she had hoped for.

Therefore, she was so busy that she had to wake up early in the morning and sleep late at night. She had finally gained some weight, but after one month, she had lost it all.

Luckily, the supporting roles and the lead actors were on set too.

At dawn, Gu Weiwei got up in a hurry, changed into casual clothes and went to the dining room to have breakfast while carrying the script.

"Jolin, inform the lead actor and the supporting actor to find me on the set later. This scene is very important, we need to explain it to them first."

"Okay, I will go there soon," Jolin answered.

Yuan Meng brought two portions of breakfast and one extra for Gu Weiwei.

"Eat it all, in case the man at home blames us for not taking good care of you."

Gu Weiwei put down the script, looked at the plate of fried bacon and chicken soup and said, "Are you trying to fatten me up like a pig?"

"Lei Ning bought the black chicken yesterday and asked the chef to make the soup," Yuan Meng said.

Gu Weiwei took two bites of the soup and her stomach started to churn.

She frowned and went to the bathroom with her hands over her mouth, spitting out the two mouthfuls of soup.

Yuan Meng and Jolin followed her and turned pale when they saw her vomiting.

"Are you pregnant?"

"What?" Gu Weiwei rinsed her mouth and glared at them.

"Doesn't your reaction look like morning sickness?" Yuan Meng reminded her.

Gu Weiwei thought for a while, wiped her hands and said, "I have been too tired these past two days and my stomach is not well. What are you thinking about?"

Although she did have s*x with Fu Hanzheng in Dubai last time, she took precautions.

She had not gotten pregnant even when they had just gotten their marriage certificate, so how could she get pregnant so easily?

“What about going to the hospital?” Jolin said worriedly.

“Wait until the two important scenes are done.”

Gu Weiwei went out and did not eat the breakfast Yuan Meng had prepared for her. Instead, she went to the buffet area to get some light and tasty food.

Yuan Meng and Jolin exchanged a look and sat down at the table.

After breakfast, Gu Weiwei hurried to the set and told the two leading roles and the supporting roles what to do.

However, Yuan Meng’s words had annoyed her and the lead actress was not in a good state either. She failed eight takes before she was satisfied.

She was not satisfied with the scene in the afternoon, and her bad performance had affected the actors.

After several failed takes, she called Jolin.

“Let’s finish the work. You are not in a good state, let’s rest and start work early tomorrow.”

“Okay, I will tell them, you can go home and rest.” Seeing her pale face, Jolin urged her to go home.

She had not eaten much breakfast or lunch. She had lost so much weight and when she met Boss, he would blame them for not taking care of her.

Gu Weiwei had just returned to the hotel when Yuan Meng knocked at the door.

Then she gave her a bag of things.

“Here.”

Gu Weiwei took it. “What is it?”

Yuan Meng entered and said as she closed the door, “Pregnancy tests.”

Chapter 1072: Pregnant?

Gu Weiwei looked at Yuan Meng in astonishment and then at the bag.

“What are you waiting for? Go and check.” Yuan Meng entered the room and sat down on the sofa.

“I don’t think I am.”

Gu Weiwei consoled herself as she walked into the bathroom with the tests.

She must not get pregnant at this time, otherwise how was the filming and promotion going to go on?

Also, how was she going to hide it from the Fu Family?

They had not fully accepted her, so they could not accept their child either.

After a few minutes, Yuan Meng raised her eyebrows in surprise.

“Finished so quickly?”

“Not yet, I am looking for water.”

Gu Weiwei went to the table and poured herself a cup of water.

Then she went into the bathroom anxiously and waited for Yuan Meng’s tests to work.

She stayed inside for half an hour and Yuan Meng knocked at the door of the bathroom.

“Are you done or not?”

“Not... not yet.” Gu Weiwei stuttered.

Standing at the door with her arms crossed, Yuan Meng said to the person inside.

“In my experience, you are definitely pregnant. If I am wrong, I will twist off my head and give it to you.”

She had been feeling sleepy these days and it had been more than a month since she met Fu Hanzheng in Dubai.

If she was pregnant, it would be time for her to have symptoms. And this morning, she vomited in disgust at the food, just like when she was pregnant with Yuan Bao.

Also, she and Lei Ning took care of her daily life and they knew very well that her period was definitely not here yet.

However, the person inside was silent and ignored her.

Yuan Meng knocked at the door and urged.

“Hey, what is wrong with you? Open the door.”

A long while later, Gu Weiwei opened the door with a complicated expression.

“Yuan Meng, are those things... accurate?”

She had used the tests to check before, but none of them had shown she was pregnant.

Yuan Meng sized her up and asked, “Are you pregnant or not?”

Gu Weiwei pursed her lips and looked hesitant.

“I am not sure.”

Yuan Meng was too lazy to ask her anything more. She pushed open the door and entered the bathroom. She saw dozens of testers on the sink, showing two lines.

“If this is not you being pregnant, then what is?”

Standing next to her, Gu Weiwei was still a bit confused.

“Does this mean that I am pregnant?”

Yuan Meng swept everything into the bag and took everything away with her.

After all, she was an artist and if someone else discovered these things, it would easily be exposed by the media, so she had to deal with it carefully.

“I am going to get something, wait here.”

Gu Weiwei nodded in astonishment and sat down on the sofa in a daze. She felt her flat belly and found it incredible.

Ten minutes later, Yuan Meng came with Jolin and a wig.

“Get changed and put on the wig, I will disguise you.”

“What?” Gu Weiwei asked in astonishment.

“Of course we are going to the hospital for a formal examination. You have been so busy these days, what if something happens to the baby?” Yuan Meng said and pushed her into the room to get changed.

Although the pregnancy test could tell that she was pregnant, the pregnancy still needed to be checked in detail by the hospital.

With her famous face, she would attract too much attention if she went to the gynecology department.

So she decided to disguise her first.

Chapter 1073: Fu Hanzheng

Feeling dizzy, Gu Weiwei was directed into the room by Yuan Meng, where she got changed and put on a wig.

Then she sat her down on the sofa and put on some makeup to conceal her original features. There were now some freckles on her face and some dark foundation on her skin.

She was dressed in a mature knitted cardigan paired with a cotton dress and a pair of flat shoes, making her look very ordinary.

Seeing Yuan Meng preparing her, Jolin made a call to the hospital.

“The hospital is ready. The doctor is one of my relatives and I have told her to wait at the hospital.”

“Oh.”

Startled, Gu Weiwei was brought into the car by Yuan Meng and Jolin.

Then she found herself in a private hospital. Since it was already night time, there were not many patients in the hospital.

“I can't go in with you, I will wait in the car.”

Everyone knew that he was her agent, and if he showed up at the hospital, she would be easily noticed.

Therefore, it was safer for him to wait for them in the car.

“I will go with her.”

Yuan Meng took Gu Weiwei out of the car and went into the elevator to the gynecology department on the eighth floor as Jolin had suggested.

Since Jolin had previously informed them, the doctor received them at the elevator and brought them into the ultrasound department for an ultrasound.

Gu Weiwei looked at the middle-aged doctor who was doing the examination for her nervously.

“Doctor, am I pregnant?”

The female doctor smiled and said, “You are indeed pregnant, and you have been pregnant for six weeks.”

Hearing so much unknown things being told to her, Gu Weiwei was finally sure that she was pregnant.

After a long while, she thought of how she had been busy with work and asked nervously, “Doctor, how is the child? I have been too busy these days to notice anything.”

At the beginning, she had never thought about getting pregnant at this time, so she had been devoted to work and had even drunk coffee, which was not good for babies.

Her heart tightened at the thought of it.

“It seems that the fetus is fine, but we need to do some tests for you,” The female doctor said gently.

After the examination, Yuan Meng helped her off the bed.

The doctor asked Gu Weiwei to do a full-body checkup and spent over an hour before getting the report.

“She is slightly malnourished and her weight is a bit low.”

“You did not notice it before, but now that you know, you have to be careful. These three months are very critical and dangerous.”

Gu Weiwei pursed her lips. She had been too busy to eat or rest well.

“Will it affect the child?”

“It is only six weeks, we are not sure yet, but from now on, you must pay attention to nutrition and take a good rest, so that the baby can grow healthily.” The female doctor tried to persuade her.

Gu Weiwei got very worried, fearing that her carelessness would affect the child.

Yuan Meng patted her shoulders and asked the doctor, “Is there anything else?”

“We will do a detailed examination in two weeks’ time. You must pay attention to nutritional intake and rest. Don’t eat food that is bad for the fetus’ development. Also, you must stop having s*x.” The female doctor stressed.

“Thanks.” Gu Weiwei thanked the doctor.

Yuan Meng helped her downstairs, took Gu Weiwei's phone and typed in Fu Hanzheng's number.

"Make the call."

"To whom?"

Yuan Meng gave her the phone. "You are pregnant, of course you should inform the child's father."

Chapter 1074: Mrs. Fu Visits

Gu Weiwei looked at Fu Hanzheng's number and did not dial.

She truly could not wait to tell him the news, but from what the doctor had said, she had not noticed that her body and the baby were not doing well.

She did not know if it was appropriate to tell him now. What if this child...

"What are you waiting for? Call him!" Seeing that she was not making the call, Yuan Meng urged her anxiously.

Gu Weiwei threw a look at Yuan Meng and said, "What about... telling him after the results are out?"

"Why?" Yuan Meng raised her eyebrows. Shouldn't Fu Hanzheng know about this?

"I never thought that I would get pregnant this time. I have been too busy with work to notice it. I am afraid that... the results will not be good in two weeks." Gu Weiwei was both happy and worried.

Now, she could only find out that she was pregnant, but it would take two weeks before she could find out if the fetus was healthy. Only then could she be sure... that the child would be safe.

Fu Hanzheng had been busy with the project in Dubai, so that they could stay there together for a long time.

If he knew about this now, he would definitely come back to take care of her.

"This is not your problem alone. Whether it is good or bad, he has to know about it," Yuan Meng said.

She knew that she was worried that the baby would not grow well because she was not paying attention.

If the examination two weeks later was negative, the child might be lost.

Gu Weiwei felt her flat belly and said, "Just two more weeks, I will take good care of myself."

Yuan Meng stared at her for a few seconds and sighed helplessly.

"Okay, just two weeks."

Jolin threw a look at the two people in the back seat and calmly made the arrangements instead of driving.

"If you are pregnant, we will not stay at the hotel. Firstly, it is not convenient, and secondly, it is not easy to arrange the right food. I will find a suitable house near the film studio tomorrow and then you can move in."

“Yes, we should move to a more comfortable place and find a better chef. Eating is now a problem.” Yuan Meng agreed with Jolin’s suggestion.

Gu Weiwei chuckled at the sight of their heated discussion.

“Alright, I will do as you say.”

Jolin drove away from the hospital and brought them back to the hotel. He drove very slowly, fearing that something bad would happen to her.

The three of them were still on the way when Gu Weiwei’s phone rang.

She picked it up and found that it was Mrs. Fu’s number, so she anxiously answered it.

“What is it, Mrs. Fu?”

“I am here in the South because of personal business, not too far from you, so I came to visit you,” Mrs. Fu said through the phone.

Startled for a few seconds, Gu Weiwei had not expected that Mrs. Fu would show up.

“Where are you now? I will get someone to pick you up.”

“No thanks, I am already near your hotel. Which room are you in?” Mrs. Fu asked.

Gu Weiwei felt her forehead and said, “I am outside with my colleague and Lei Ning is at the hotel. I will ask her to pick you up and bring you to my room. I will be back soon.”

“Okay,” Mrs. Fu said.

Gu Weiwei rang off and said to Yuan Meng gloomily, “Mrs. Fu is here, she is near the hotel.”

Yuan Meng thought for a while and said, “Should we tell her that you are pregnant?”

Chapter 1075: Mrs. Fu Visits 2

Gu Weiwei shook her head without hesitation. “Now is not the time to tell the elders of the Fu Family.”

Yuan Meng nodded thoughtfully and mumbled, “True, if we tell them now, what if those two old people insist on forcing you to get an abortion?”

Gu Weiwei called Lei Ning and asked her to pick up Mrs. Fu and bring her to her room.

Then she returned to the hotel and went to Yuan Meng’s room. She removed the makeup she had put on for the hospital and returned to her own room after making sure that nothing was wrong.

Seeing her coming inside, Mrs. Fu asked in surprise, “Child, why have you lost so much weight?”

She had not seen her since the day of the wedding and it had been months.

“I have been very busy these days.” Gu Weiwei sat down with a smile and asked politely, “What is it, Mrs. Fu?”

She was very understanding. With her current relationship with the Fu Family, she would not come to her for no reason.

As for why she was here, she could guess that it was because she had agreed to their request and tried to persuade Fu Hanzheng.

But that did not mean that they were going to allow her to continue being with Fu Hanzheng.

“Well...” Mrs. Fu sighed and said, “You are a smart child. You must have guessed what I was going to say. Thank you very much for helping last time, but the Old Lady does not approve of your continued relationship.”

Gu Weiwei nodded. “I know.”

“Of course, that is what they want, but it is a good thing that they are willing to let go of their pride and ask you, so be patient.”

Mrs. Fu looked at the girl who had obviously lost a lot of weight and thought of how she had been killed in the Gu Family; she could not help but feel sorry for her.

Gu Weiwei looked at Mrs. Fu who was obviously biased towards her and Fu Hanzheng in astonishment. “Mrs. Fu, are you really not against us?”

“It is difficult for the Old Lady and Fu Shengying to accept you, but I know my own son very well. He is not someone who is willing to give up.” Mrs. Fu sounded gentle and said to the girl in front of her, “Hanzheng has been mature and steady since he was young, but he has always been indifferent towards relationships. It is rare that he has met someone he truly likes, so as a mother, I naturally want him to get what he wants.”

Gu Weiwei smiled. She had not expected that Mrs. Fu, who had disliked her the most in the beginning at the Fu Family, was now supporting her and Fu Hanzheng.

“The Old Lady has lost a son and a daughter because of the Gu Family, so she can’t think straight for the time being. You and Hanzheng have to be patient.” Mrs. Fu tried to persuade her helplessly.

“Yes.” Gu Weiwei nodded.

Mrs. Fu asked the servant who came with her and brought the thermos over.

“You are outside and it is not convenient for you to eat. I made some soup at home, so I brought some here.”

Then she opened the lunch box and gave her a bowl of chicken soup.

“It is still hot, drink it while it is hot.”

Gu Weiwei felt her stomach churn when she smelled the soup.

“I just ate dinner, I will drink it later.”

Seeing her frowning, Mrs. Fu asked, “You don’t like chicken soup?”

She used to make chicken soup at the old mansion and she liked it.

“No, I am full,” Gu Weiwei answered with a dry smile.

“Drink up, I brought it all the way here for you,” Mrs. Fu said.

With the bowl in her hands, Gu Weiwei forced herself to drink the soup. But the moment she put down the bowl, she could not help but feel disgusted.

She covered her mouth, ran to the bathroom and threw up again.

Mrs. Fu looked at the soup bowl and then at the bathroom where the sound of vomiting arose.

Then she knocked on the door.

“Weiwei?”

Chapter 1076: Mrs. Fu Visits 3

After a long while, Gu Weiwei rinsed her mouth and said after some consideration, “Sorry, my stomach has not been well these past two days, it’s not your soup.”

“Your stomach is not well, so you haven’t visited the hospital?” Mrs. Fu asked in astonishment.

It did not look like a stomach ache, but more like...

“I did, but my stomach is not feeling well.” Gu Weiwei explained.

Yuan Meng came over cooperatively and said with the medicine, “Here is your medicine.”

Seeing Yuan Meng delivering the medicine, Mrs. Fu finally believed what she said.

“Then if there is nothing else, I will go home now. You can put the chicken soup in the fridge and heat it up tomorrow.”

“Okay, thanks.” Gu Weiwei did not return back inside the room until she saw her go inside the elevator.

Mrs. Fu got into the car and was about to return to the capital when she thought for a while and called Fu Hanzheng.

“I just met Weiwei.”

“Okay,” Fu Hanzheng answered calmly.

“She seems to be sick these days and has lost a lot of weight. Can’t you find someone more attentive to take care of her? Lei Ning and Yuan Meng are used to fighting and killing, they can’t take care of her well.” Mrs. Fu reminded him.

It was either the food from the hotel or the crew, so it was no wonder that she had stomach problems.

“Sick?” Fu Hanzheng was surprised.

Why had she not mentioned it during the phone calls these past few days? She had not mentioned it and Lei Ning had not reported it to him either.

“She said that her stomach was not feeling well, so she vomited the soup I brought her,” Mrs. Fu confessed.

“Got it.”

Having said these words, Fu Hanzheng rang off.

Gu Weiwei had just entered the room when Yuan Meng said with her phone in her hand, "Fu Hanzheng is calling."

Gu Weiwei took over the phone and answered the call in the bedroom.

"You are off work?"

"Are you sick?" Fu Hanzheng countered.

Gu Weiwei stayed silent for two seconds. Mrs. Fu must have talked with him over the phone.

"Oh, my stomach has not been feeling well these past two days. I went to check it in the afternoon and got some medicine."

"Just a stomachache?" Fu Hanzheng felt that she sounded a bit guilty.

"The weather has turned cold and we are not used to the food here. Jolin is already looking for a house and he has found someone who cooks for us. We will move in tomorrow," Gu Weiwei said quickly.

Fu Hanzheng was still worried.

"I will be there this weekend."

"What about... coming next weekend?" Gu Weiwei suggested.

By that time, the examination would be completed.

"Why?" Fu Hanzheng asked.

She had been gone for almost a month and she was still not letting him come early?

His instincts told him that she was hiding something from him again, but he could not figure out what she was hiding.

"I have some important scenes to shoot these days, so I don't have time to keep you company," Gu Weiwei explained with a smile.

Fu Hanzheng thought for a while and said, "Okay, I will be there next week."

Work was very tight these days, so he could stay a few more days next week after he finished the work.

"Then get off work early, I am going to sleep now too," Gu Weiwei said.

"Good night."

Fu Hanzheng rang off and called Lei Ning, asking her to take care of her food.

Gu Weiwei had just ended the call when Jolin returned with a pile of food.

"I was at the hospital and missed dinner. I went to find a chef from a restaurant and had them make some appetizing dishes. You should be able to eat them," he said as he placed them on the table.

"Sweet and sour fish, sliced potatoes with vinegar and spicy soup, as well as honey water with lemons."

Chapter 1077: Half Glad and Half Worried

When Gu Weiwei smelled the sour scent, she no longer felt nauseous and started to feel hungry.

She had barely eaten lunch and she did not stop eating the moment she sat down.

“If only the soup was a bit more spicy.”

Jolin put the bag of vinegar and chilli on the table and watched her add them in.

Yuan Meng took a bite of her food and put down the chopsticks. She decided to go out and find food later.

“They say that children are sweet, but you are so jealous[1], adding extra vinegar. What are you pregnant with?” she said as she sized up her belly curiously.

Although the doctor said to be careful, the obvious pregnancy symptoms meant that the baby was growing normally.

If there was really a problem, there would not have been such a strong reaction.

Gu Weiwei did not have a full meal until now, and before this she had started to have morning sickness.

She ate a large portion of rice and drank up the entire bowl of sour and spicy soup.

Then she drank a cup of Lemon Water.

“Oh yes, make some adjustments to the filming plan starting tomorrow. Work starts at eight in the morning and finishes at seven in the evening.”

Filming was important, but the child in her belly was more important.

The doctor had stressed repeatedly that she must not work too hard these days, so she had to cut down her working hours and not wake up early like before.

“Okay, I will inform them later.” Jolin nodded and said, “We will follow your arrangements for the time being. If you feel any discomfort, call off the filming. Your health is the most important thing now.”

“I know, I just need your help,” Gu Weiwei said helplessly.

“Also, from now on, you are not allowed to stand or walk around excessively,” Yuan Meng said and then said to Jolin, “Get someone to buy a more comfortable chair tomorrow, we can’t use the folding chair at the site.”

“Okay, I will ask someone to buy it tomorrow morning.” Jolin agreed.

Gu Weiwei checked the time and told them, “It is getting late, I need to rest now, you can go home too.”

Gu Weiwei washed her face and saw Yuan Meng still lying on her sofa.

“Anything else?”

“From today onwards, I will share the same room with you.” Yuan Meng yawned and said with her eyes closed, “The one in your belly is too expensive. If you don’t take good care of it, Fu Hanzheng will come and find me later. I can’t afford it.”

Gu Weiwei understood that she was just worried that she would be alone, because if something happened or she fell, no one would be around her.

“You don’t need to sleep on the sofa, do you?”

“The sofa is good, I can’t sleep on your bed. If I accidentally bump into your stomach, I will feel guilty.” Yuan Meng folded the blanket and waved at her. “If you need anything, just say it. I am going to sleep now.”

Gu Weiwei switched off the light, went back to bed and got so excited that she could not fall asleep.

She touched her belly and prayed that the child would be healthy, so that she could share the surprise with Fu Hanzheng next week.

At the beginning, he had been so against having a child, but she truly could not imagine how he would feel after knowing that they had conceived a child.

But when she thought of how much she had not been paying attention to her health these days, she felt both glad and worried.

When she was ready to get pregnant, she did not get pregnant, but when she had not thought about getting pregnant, she got pregnant.

Yuan Meng was right. The baby came when it wanted to.

[1] Vinegar is a reference for jealousy. So if someone is eating vinegar or looking like vinegar, they are jealous.

Chapter 1078: Half Glad and Half Worried 2

Ever since it was confirmed that she was pregnant, Jolin and Yuan Meng had been taking great care of her.

Since morning sickness was the most common symptom, they had asked someone to prepare several kinds of breakfast for her to eat.

She ate breakfast and when she arrived at the site, her chair had been replaced by an armchair with a mug of hot water and honey with lemon.

After Jolin arranged the work on the site, he went with Lei Ning to find a suitable house and asked someone to help him move everything in that afternoon.

The crew was also surprised that the tight schedule suddenly relaxed.

Gu Weiwei could only tell them that they needed to be well rested, so that they did not suspect anything.

Yuan Meng followed her around the set and watched her eat lunch. Two hours later, she asked someone to buy some fresh fruits for her.

Gu Weiwei got up to go to the bathroom and she followed her.

The moment she came out of the bathroom, Gu Weiwei felt helpless.

"I need to use the bathroom, you don't have to follow me everywhere."

"Sure, tell that to Fu Hanzheng and then I won't interfere if he takes over," Yuan Meng said.

What if she slipped and fell in the bathroom? There were so many hazards there.

Honestly speaking, she wished that she could buy a wheelchair, so that she could push her around wherever they went. That would make her less worried.

"When the examination is confirmed next week, I will tell him even without your urging me," Gu Weiwei said.

Yuan Meng whispered as she walked behind her, "You are eating and sleeping properly now, what problems can there be? But with work you are under too much pressure and it will affect the child."

She had been too busy with work these days, so she had lost some weight but nothing else was wrong.

"Fu Hanzheng won't be here until next week, so it is better to tell him in person," Gu Weiwei said happily.

Yuan Meng glanced at her and snorted.

"I think that when he finds out about it, he will be really p*ssed off."

Fu Hanzheng would be very annoyed that she hid the pregnancy from him.

But even if he was angry, he could not do anything to her, so he had to be angry by himself.

"It is not that serious, is it?" Gu Weiwei felt a bit guilty.

God knew how many times she had wanted to tell him since last night.

But it was better not to tell him until next week.

After next week, the filming of the movie would almost be completed and Fu Hanzheng would almost be done with his work. The detailed examination result of the child was going to be out too.

Most importantly, she could fatten herself up these next two weeks, so that she would not be scolded.

"You are pregnant with his child and yet you are not letting him know about it. Isn't that serious enough?" Yuan Meng snorted.

She was worried that she would not be able to keep the child, and Fu Hanzheng would be sad if he knew about it. That was why she wanted to only tell him the good news.

If the situation was good, she would tell Fu Hanzheng, but if it was not, she would not tell him.

But whether it was good or bad, she should not be the only one suffering from it.

“Alright, when he comes next week, I will tell him in person, alright?” Gu Weiwei said confidently.

Yuan Meng sighed helplessly. She just hoped that she could spend the next two weeks in peace, so that she could gain at least another two kilograms.

That way, when Fu Hanzheng was here, they would be able to answer him.

Chapter 1079: Pregnant

She moved from the hotel to Jolin’s rented apartment and spent most of her life there.

In order not to overwork herself, Gu Weiwei greatly reduced her workload.

Also, the chef Jolin hired was quite skilled. Although she often vomited during breakfast, she had a great appetite for lunch and dinner.

Within two weeks, she had gained more than half a kilogram.

But she was not satisfied, so she sighed.

“Why am I so small?”

“What about braised pig feet tonight?” Yuan Meng suggested.

Gu Weiwei shook her head. “Forget it, I can’t afford it right now.”

She had made pig’s feet soup the day before, saying that she could gain some more meat after eating it, but when she saw her puking, she failed to finish the meal.

Jolin filled up the thermos and gave it to Yuan Meng.

“This is from an old Chinese doctor who said that it is the best medicine for blood and oxygenation, so she can drink it on set.”

Gu Weiwei put on the shoes and said to Jolin, “Remember to tell the doctor that we will be going for the checkup after work.”

Fu Hanzheng would be here tomorrow, and if she got the results today, she could tell him the good news tomorrow.

“I will talk with her at lunchtime and then we will go after work in the afternoon.”

Jolin nodded. This was a very important matter, and he would never be neglectful.

Gu Weiwei went to the site with Yuan Meng, whilst Lei Ning went to buy the fresh fruits and vegetables as per the requirements of the nutritionist who were brought in by the Chef and Jolin.

Yuan Meng sent her to the set, opened her bag and put the water, soup, plums and nuts aside.

“Sigh, I never took such good care with my son.”

“Well, you asked Yuan Shuo to take care of your son,” Gu Weiwei mumbled as she leafed through the script.

Yuan Meng glared at her. Since Fu Hanzheng was coming to take over tomorrow, she could relax for a few days.

Sitting comfortably on the sofa, Gu Weiwei urged everyone to get ready with the loudspeaker.

During the past few days, she had reduced her working hours and her life was very relaxed, but the filming of the movie was still not going well.

This scene had not been filmed since yesterday afternoon.

After three failed takes in a row, she paused the filming, got up and went to call Qiu Ling and the lead actor Nie Feng. After telling them the details, she played the two roles for them.

“This scene is the biggest conflict that happens between you two. The focus is not just on the body language, but also the expression and the tone of the lines.”

Qiu Ling suggested.

“Then let’s try it once and you can have a look.”

Gu Weiwei nodded and watched them performing in front of her.

“Much better than before, please look away when you say the third line...”

She was just talking when the building shook and the set started to collapse.

“Get out! Now!”

Yuan Meng was on the phone, but when she heard the sound, she rushed over and blocked the falling object.

Hearing the voice, Gu Weiwei turned around and was bumped by the worker who was running past. She staggered and almost fell, but Yuan Meng speedily took hold of her.

In the end, she only kneeled down on one knee and did not fall over completely.

Yuan Meng helped her up and walked with her to a safe place, where Jolin rushed over and said, “It is just a small earthquake, the scene today was made by the props team, it is not very sturdy...”

“Check if anyone is injured and pause the filming,” Gu Weiwei said a few words and was dragged away by Yuan Meng.

Yuan Meng stuffed her into the car and saw her holding her stomach.

“Feeling unwell?”

Gu Weiwei nodded with a frown. “A little.”

Yuan Meng tossed the hat and mask to her and made a call with one hand on the steering wheel and the other on the phone.

“Fu Hanzheng, your ex-wife is pregnant, are you going to do something about it or not?”

Chapter 1080: Pregnant 2

“Yuan Meng!”

Hearing that she was calling Fu Hanzheng, Gu Weiwei called out to her but it was too late to stop her.

Startled for two seconds on the other side of the phone, Fu Hanzheng asked without thinking, “Did something happen to Weiwei?”

She was calling Yuan Meng, as if she did not want Yuan Meng to tell him.

“She is not injured, but I don’t know how the one in her belly is doing. I am driving her to the hospital, come and take over,” Yuan Meng said and hung up.

Gu Weiwei sighed helplessly and looked at Yuan Meng who looked serious.

“You were hit, are you alright?”

“Ancestor, worry about yourself first,” Yuan Meng gritted her teeth and said.

She had received a call when she saw her instructing the actors.

But when she turned around and saw her in the “old house”, she was so frightened that she almost lost her soul.

Gu Weiwei pursed her lips. “Thank you so much.”

If she had not come in time and shielded her, she would not have been so relaxed right now.

“I am too angry to talk with you.” Yuan Meng drove her to the hospital.

Since Jolin had talked with the doctor, they went straight in to check on her as soon as she arrived. Yuan Meng reminded her to not worry.

After a careful examination, the doctor asked what happened and said to them, “The baby is a little affected, but it is not a big deal. Also...” The female doctor looked at the monitor and said with a smile, “Look, we can already detect the heartbeat.”

Gu Weiwei let out a sigh of relief but still asked worriedly, “My stomach is just not feeling well, is it really not affecting the child?”

“Judging from the heartbeat, it is nothing, but the baby might still be affected later on.” The doctor made a checkup and said with a gentle voice, “Go to the ward and rest in bed. If the abdominal pain worsens or you see redness, inform me. If the abdominal pain is gone and there are no other special symptoms, you can go home and rest.”

Yuan Meng went out to finish the paperwork procedures and came to help her to the ward. She was so annoyed that her hands were on her waist as she lectured Weiwei.

“Didn’t I tell you that you are not allowed to leave my side unless I am within three steps of you?”

“Yes, yes, yes, Yuan Meng, I should have listened to you, you were right.” Gu Weiwei nodded and admitted her mistake.

At that time, she had just stood up and said a few words to the lead actress to demonstrate the scene. Unexpectedly, a small quake had caused the “old house” of the prop team to collapse.

But if she had not shielded her and stopped her from falling to the ground...

Maybe she would not even know if the child was still alive.

“No way, you are my aunt and you are my ancestor.” Yuan Meng snorted.

Her pregnancy made her even more nervous than when she was pregnant with Yuan Bao.

After settling down the crew, Jolin came to the hospital with Lei Ning and let out a sigh of relief when he found that she was fine.

Gu Weiwei felt a bit hungry after lying down for a while.

“Jolin, do you have anything to eat?”

“There are some fruits in the car, do you want some?” Jolin suddenly remembered that it was lunchtime.

She needed to eat at this hour.

“Fruit works too.” Gu Weiwei nodded.

Jolin went to fetch some fruits from the car, washed them, cut them and delivered them to the ward.
