

MY HIDDEN 1091

Chapter 1091: Uncle is Better than Father

At Landscape Villa in the capital city.

After Fu Shiyi and Fu Shiqin found out that Gu Weiwei was pregnant and that they were going to be uncles, they excitedly asked He Chi to join them in celebration.

Fu Shiyi asked the servant to make supper and Fu Shiqin generously offered the red wine he had kept for years.

He Chi had just finished two operations and was so tired that he rushed to the villa. Seeing that there was food, he sat down and started to eat.

“Hurry up, I need to check the experimental data of the second stage.”

He was a doctor at the hospital and he also had to take care of the development of the new drugs at the pharmaceutical company. He was so busy that he was not in the mood to drink red wine.

Fu Shiqin poured some wine into He Chi’s goblet and said, “You must find a reliable and skilled gynecologist.”

Startled, He Chi turned to Fu Shiyi.

“You got Ding Dongdong pregnant?”

Fu Shiqin rolled his eyes at him. “I haven’t even held her hand!”

He Chi threw a sympathetic look at him and then turned to Fu Shiqin.

“Could it have been you? That shouldn’t have happened. How could someone like you have a woman?”

“Why not me? Ah, what is it about me, huh?” Fu Shiqin got so annoyed that he struck the table, totally forgetting why he asked He Chi to come here.

Fu Shiyi looked at them speechlessly and changed the topic.

“It is not me or Second Brother. My sister-in-law is pregnant and my brother asked you to find a gynecologist. You can think whatever you want.”

“Your sister-in-law is pregnant?” He Chi looked at the two of them in disbelief. “Really?”

“Of course! I am going to be a Second Uncle!” Fu Shiqin said proudly.

Fu Shiyi said proudly with the red wine in his hands, “I am going to be the Third Uncle.”

He Chi believed what they said for the time being. “Your brother and sister-in-law are having a child, and yet you two are even more arrogant than your brother. Is that appropriate?”

And they even had a banquet to celebrate. Fu Hanzheng was not like them.

“So what if I am? It is useless to be jealous.” Fu Shiqin snorted.

He Chi looked at the two dumb-headed uncles who were even more arrogant than the father. "How many months has it been?"

He wanted him to find the gynecologist, so how long had it been?

"Almost two months," Fu Shiqin said.

"It's only been two months, why are you looking for doctors?"

He Chi was totally confused by this ignorant family. There was still half a year before the baby was born, and they were already so eager to find a good gynecologist?

"It is always better to be prepared. It is not a bad thing to find someone as soon as possible," Fu Shiqin said.

After all, no matter if it was because of his family or because of her own reputation, she would not be able to stay at home in the capital and the media would easily notice her.

That was why they had to find good professionals in advance, so that they could be arranged to wait for the delivery in Dubai.

"Apart from the gynecologist, we also need a nutritionist and a nurse," Fu Shiyi patted his shoulders and said seriously.

Hearing their plan, He Chi asked, "So you are not going to tell the people at the old mansion?"

"Of course not, we can talk about it after the child is born." Fu Shiqin snorted and said, "If a cute little girl is placed in front of them, they will beg my brother to remarry and bring the child home."

When it came to his brother's plan to remarry, none of them would be able to do anything about it. His father and his family were so eager to have grandchildren that only children were their weakness.

Chapter 1092: Uncle is Better than Father 2

Hearing Fu Shiqin's words, He Chi asked, "So you are going to let your brother go ahead and set up your parents?"

In the past, they had hoped that Fu Hanzheng and Gu Weiwei could have a child as soon as possible, so that they could ruin their son and drive Fu Hanzheng mad.

It seemed that the plan had been totally twisted. Instead of dealing with Fu Hanzheng, they were dealing with the elders at the old mansion.

"If my brother doesn't remarry, our Second and Third Uncle titles won't be proper titles either." Fu Shiyi expressed.

Fu Shiqin warned He Chi seriously. "My father must not know about this, so you can only find the people I've asked you to find discreetly and then arrange for them to go to Dubai."

Although grandma and his father had relented about what happened last time, they could not let them know that sister-in-law was pregnant.

But their whereabouts would easily raise his father's suspicion.

Therefore, He Chi had to make the arrangements. His family would not keep an eye on him.

“Got it.” He Chi agreed impatiently.

She was not going to give birth soon. There was still half a year left, so what was the hurry?

“Also, all of them must be female, do you understand?” Fu Shiqin stressed.

Whether it was a gynecologist or a nutritionist, they would have to deal with his sister-in-law in the future. If they were male, his brother would definitely not approve.

“Hehe, you are afraid that the man will have designs on your sister-in-law, but aren’t you afraid that the woman will have designs on your brother?” He Chi snorted.

Fu Shiqin thought for a while and added another line.

“And all of them must be married.”

His brother would be displeased if it was a man, and his sister-in-law would be displeased if a young woman had designs on his brother.

He Chi sighed and repeated their request.

“So you are looking for a female gynecologist, a female nutritionist and a female nurse in their 40s, right?”

Fu Shiqin nodded. “Yes, that is it.”

A middle-aged woman in her 40s would not have any intentions towards his brother.

Also, it was not a man, which met his brother’s requirements.

Fu Shiyi took a sip of red wine and mumbled to Fu Shiqin “So... our brother is not coming home these days?”

“He said that he will not return until sister-in-law’s movie is finished,” Fu Shiqin said helplessly.

If it had been something else, he would not have left for so long.

But his sister-in-law was pregnant, so his brother must stay by her side until she was brought home.

Otherwise, he would not have been able to rest easy, no matter who took care of his darling.

He Chi nodded thoughtfully and asked them, “Oh yes, Gu Siting from the Gu Family has not been pestering your sister-in-law these days?”

After what happened on the wedding day, he had thought that there would be the scene of two men fighting over a girl, but after Gu Siting ruined their wedding, there was no more movement from him after they returned to A Land.

Hearing his words, Fu Shiqin tossed rib bones at him.

“What do you mean? You don’t like my brother?”

He Chi dodged the ribs.

"I am just curious, and I am just reminding you to be careful."

He was trying to set Fu Hanzheng up, but he was not gloating over this matter.

But when he thought of what Gu Siting had done at the wedding, he found it strange that he did not do anything further.

"We are being very alert," Fu Shiqin said.

Although his brother's wedding had been ruined by Gu Siting, the Fu Family had always been paying attention to the Gu Family and A Land.

But it was strange that Gu Siting had been so quiet these days.

Chapter 1093: Kiss

Due to Fu Hanzheng's arrival, Gu Weiwei stayed at home and rested for the entire day.

In the afternoon, someone delivered Fu Hanzheng's luggage.

Gu Weiwei was about to help with the unpacking when she was carried to bed.

"This is where you belong."

Helpless, Gu Weiwei could only watch him tidy up. Apart from her own things, his things were added to the small temporary apartment.

"Are you really staying here?"

"I won't leave even if you don't welcome me," Fu Hanzheng said as he sorted out his things.

Gu Weiwei sat on the bed with a pillow in her arms. "But if I am working, what are you going to be doing here?"

There were so many things waiting for him to deal with at the company, but he insisted on staying here with her. If the employees of Fu's Enterprise knew about it, they would think that she was a femme fatale.

She was going to work tomorrow, and he could not follow her to the site, so he could only wait for her at the apartment until she finished the work.

Hearing her urging him to return to the capital, Fu Hanzheng put down what he was doing and walked to the bedside, looking down at his lovely wife who was sitting in bed with a pillow in her arms.

"Are you so unwilling to see me?"

He wanted to stay here with her, yet she was turning him down.

Gu Weiwei shrank her neck. "I am just worried that I will ruin your company."

When she was busy, she could not care about him. If he stayed here, he would delay the company's matters. She just felt that it was not worth it.

"Compared to the company, you are what worries me the most," Fu Hanzheng said seriously.

Fu Shiqin was still in charge of the company, so even if there were some losses, they could still be saved.

But if he left her behind and returned to the capital for work, if something happened to her and the child, then it would be irreversible and he would regret it for the rest of his life.

Gu Weiwei looked up at him and said weakly, "Then stay here, I won't say anything more."

He had always placed her first and it was useless for her to persuade him now.

Therefore, they had to finish the filming as soon as possible before they could return to the capital.

Satisfied, Fu Hanzheng asked, "Want some water?"

Gu Weiwei nodded. "Yes."

Fu Hanzheng went into the dining room and poured her a cup of water, cut a plate of oranges and carried it in.

"Anything else you want to eat?"

Due to the vomiting, she had only eaten one plate of salad. For a pregnant woman, it was obvious that she was not eating enough.

"No thanks, I don't usually puke much in the afternoon, so I can eat normally," Gu Weiwei said.

Fu Hanzheng felt her head when he thought of how she almost burst into tears this morning.

"Weiwei, thanks."

The thought of how much more she might suffer until the child was born made his heart ache even more than being a father.

Gu Weiwei knew that he was concerned about her, so she looked up and said naughtily, "Give me a kiss and it will be easier."

Fu Hanzheng chuckled, lowered his head and kissed her lips, and the sweet taste of orange touched his lips.

Gu Weiwei succeeded and smiled in satisfaction.

"Do you want this to be a son or a daughter?"

"Either is fine," Fu Hanzheng said.

As long as she gave birth to his child, they could have a son or a daughter.

Of course, it would be best if it was a daughter. If it was a son, he would have created a love rival for himself.

Also, for the Fu Family, a daughter was even more rare.

Chapter 1094: Biological

Gu Weiwei snorted and said, "You just want a daughter, what are you talking about?"

Firstly, if it was his son, he would be worried that he would be jealous forever. Secondly, there were only three brothers in the Fu Family and no girls.

Therefore, from his perspective, he would prefer a daughter.

"It is best if it is a daughter, but it doesn't matter if it is not a daughter. They are our biological children anyway," Fu Hanzheng said.

If it was really a son, what could he do? He would not throw away his own son.

"If the child is not a daughter, I can have one in two years," Gu Weiwei said happily as she ate the sliced orange.

"Another child?" Fu Hanzheng frowned.

Seeing his confused look, Gu Weiwei said gloomily, "Sure enough, you still don't like children."

"No, being pregnant is too difficult, one is enough."

Fu Hanzheng expressed his worries. Seeing her vomiting so badly today, he already regretted getting her pregnant.

But now she was pregnant, so she had to give birth.

But if she gave birth to another child, he would not want it at all, and probably not in the future either.

"It's not that hard. I feel very happy when I think of how the baby is growing day by day," Gu Weiwei felt her belly and said with a smile.

This man, who was always nervous when he saw her sneeze, did seem to be frightened by her morning sickness.

She had just vomited and he was already so frightened. Would he be able to hold it together when she gave birth?

After packing his luggage, Fu Hanzheng took out his files and put down the laptop.

Although he could leave the capital, he still had to ask do some important work.

Especially when he had several video conferences with Dubai this month.

Seeing that he was working hard, Gu Weiwei gave him a piece of the orange with a fork.

"Want some?"

Fu Hanzheng approached and ate the orange she gave him.

"Want to get some sun on the balcony?"

Gu Weiwei nodded, put down the plate and said with a smile, "Carry me there."

Fu Hanzheng approached her and carried her to the balcony of the living room. He asked the servant to prepare a cup of coffee and a cup of fruit juice, and then took out two books to keep her company on the balcony.

Gu Weiwei flipped through a few pages and looked at the man next to her.

“What is it? This book is not good?” Fu Hanzheng looked up at her.

“You look better than the books,” Gu Weiwei said with a smile.

The warm sunlight shone upon him, making him look very attractive.

As the director, she rested for the entire day and so did the crew.

But she could not rest all the time and woke up early the following day.

However, she found that the man who had been sleeping in her bed the night before was nowhere to be seen.

She washed herself and went out for breakfast when Jolin arrived.

“Did you see Fu Hanzheng?”

“I ran into him when I was here. Boss said that he has something to do, so you don’t have to wait for him to have breakfast,” Jolin said.

Gu Weiwei nodded, sat down for breakfast and confirmed the plan with Jolin.

Jolin ate breakfast with her and packed away the water, plums and pillow she was going to bring with her.

“It is getting late, we can leave now.”

Gu Weiwei went out and got into the car. She made a call to Fu Hanzheng and told him that she was going to the set.

But Fu Hanzheng said, “Hang on.”

Gu Weiwei rang off and within five minutes, the door was opened from the outside and a wheat-skinned man with glasses stood outside the door.

Chapter 1095: Work Hard

Startled, Jolin said with a sunken expression, “Sir, this is not your car.”

However, the moment he finished speaking, his girl moved away and said to the man outside, “Get in the car.”

“...”

Jolin looked at the strange man in the car and reminded her carefully, “It is not very appropriate.”

Gu Weiwei found the man in the car funny. “You woke up so early in the morning just to let Yuan Meng ruin your face?”

Although she did not recognize him at first, she was very familiar with his eyes.

So even if his appearance had changed and he did not speak, she could recognize him.

Yuan Meng opened the door of the passenger's seat and said as she sat down, "His face is too difficult to change."

His face was too eye-catching, but he wanted to take care of her on set, so he texted her last night and asked her to help him put on a disguise this morning.

But it was a bit difficult to make his face look unattractive.

Hearing their conversation, Jolin looked at the changed boss in astonishment.

He had such a perfect and handsome face, yet he had to make it look like this. How stupid was he?

He was trying so hard to keep his wife company.

Gu Weiwei said to Jolin, "When the crew asks about it, tell them about the new assistant."

"Got it." Jolin agreed as he drove them to the set.

It was a bit too ostentatious for her to take one agent and three assistants.

The moment they arrived at the set, Fu Hanzheng reminded her to be careful. He could not hold her hand in front of everyone.

Gu Weiwei felt helpless. She did not calm down, until she sat down.

Jolin brought over a folding chair and placed it behind Gu Weiwei's sofa.

Standing next to her, Yuan Meng picked up a cigarette and put it in her mouth out of boredom. She was about to light the cigarette when Fu Hanzheng glanced at her coldly.

"No smoking within 30 meters."

Yuan Meng had to walk far away with the cigarette in her mouth before she was finally able to light it.

Since she had to take care of her these past few days, she could only rely on candies and snacks to relieve her addiction. She had to hold it in until the evening when she returned to her own room.

With Fu Hanzheng taking care of her, she could do whatever she wanted.

At the beginning, because Fu Hanzheng was sitting behind her, Gu Weiwei was not used to working in front of him.

Gradually, she returned to her usual self and asked the departments to get ready, instructing the actors to be more controlled.

It was the first time Fu Hanzheng was able to watch her work at such a close distance. She looked amazingly beautiful when she was fully immersed.

She was not as childish as a 20-year-old girl and she looked very calm.

Luckily, the first scene failed once and passed the second time.

All the departments were busy packing and getting water for her.

Gu Weiwei took a sip of water and asked curiously when she saw him smiling, "What are you laughing at?"

There was a huge conflict in the play just now and it could even be said that it was a bit tragic, yet he could still smile?

"I just realized that you look very pretty when you are working."

Gu Weiwei smiled. "Really?"

Fu Hanzheng nodded. He could tell that she loved this job.

So when he thought of how she would not be able to do what she wanted for a long time after the child was born, he felt even more guilty.

Chapter 1096: The New Assistant

Although the work was stopped for a day, the entire morning's filming went very smoothly.

After two scenes, it was lunchtime.

After Gu Weiwei got pregnant, she stopped eating with the crew members. Instead, she ate the food that Jolin asked the servants to deliver. It was a healthy and nutritious meal.

"Lunch is in the car, you can eat in the car."

Gu Weiwei and Fu Hanzheng exchanged a look, left the film site one after another and went into the car for dinner.

Jolin and Yuan Meng were eating with the crew members, so Qiu Ling started gossiping to Jolin.

"Brother Jolin, where did Director Xiao Mu's new assistant come from?"

"He must have been invited," Jolin said without changing his expression.

Qiu Ling whispered, "What is his relationship with Director Xiao Mu?"

Although he was not very good-looking, he had a good figure and a very unique temperament.

"What is the relationship between a director and assistant except just that?" Jolin said with a serious face.

"I don't think it's only that." The assistant director interrupted and said, "Look, you are eating with us, but the new assistant is eating with Director Mu. Also, didn't you see that when we were filming, his eyes never left Director Mu..."

"Yes." Qiu Ling echoed and said, "Also, that gaze is not like an assistant looking at an artist or a director."

"Your imagination is too wild. The director has been suffering from nutritional deficiency and the assistant she hired is there to supervise her food." Jolin made up an excuse calmly, concealing their guesses.

It did seem suspicious that they should eat together.

But he could not stop Boss from eating with her.

“I bet that the new assistant has a crush on Director Mu,” The assistant director said with certainty.

Jolin almost choked. She already had a child with him, why did she need him to have a crush on her?

But he still scolded them seriously.

“Are you done with your work and spreading false rumors?”

“No, what I mean is that the way the male assistant looks at the director is too suspicious. If they are going to be together in private, I am afraid that he will have designs on the director. After all, Director Xiao Mu is so pretty...” The assistant director explained.

Hearing his words, the staff started to worry.

“Jolin, why don’t you go and take a look? It is too dangerous to leave them alone.”

Yuan Meng laughed so hard that her shoulders shook. She could disguise Fu Hanzheng’s face, but she could not disguise his expressions.

A male assistant looked at her with such a doting and gentle look. Everyone was not blind, so of course they would find it strange and even suspect something.

If he had known, he would have worn sunglasses instead of a pair of normal glasses, in case someone found out that he was watching the director.

Jolin glared at them and continued to eat.

Boss stayed here because he wanted to be with her. He did not have the guts to stop them from being together.

“Jolin, you better be careful. That new assistant seems to be up to no good.” The assistant director reminded him again.

Jolin put down the chopsticks speechlessly and lost his appetite.

It had only been half a day and these people were already so worried.

If this continued, she and the new assistant would be rumored to be in a relationship.

Chapter 1097: The New Assistant 2

Since most of the crew members thought that the new assistant was up to no good, Jolin got so anxious that he could not finish his food.

Him and Yuan Meng knew that that man was their boss and they knew about their relationship... but these people had no idea.

Therefore, when they saw the new assistant looking at the director so lovingly, they assumed that he was not a good person.

So when dinner time was almost over, he went to the nanny van and gave Fu Hanzheng a pair of sunglasses.

“What are you doing here?” Gu Weiwei asked in amusement as she held the sunglasses.

“Well...” Jolin sighed helplessly and said, “The crew said that the new assistant has been staring at you, Director, and he seems to be up to no good.”

Gu Weiwei burst into laughter and did not stop until a long while later.

Then she put on the sunglasses for Fu Hanzheng.

“It has only been a few hours and you are already being suspected. Stop staring at me.”

“Then what should I watch?” Fu Hanzheng asked.

There was no one or anything worth seeing here apart from her.

“Then... do whatever you want,” Gu Weiwei said helplessly.

He came to the set because he wanted to watch her and take care of her.

Jolin tried to persuade him with a smile.

“Boss, you better... control yourself. Don’t only stare at her all the time. Even if you do look at her, control yourself. Otherwise, there will be rumors that a male assistant has started to fall for her.”

His real face was concealed perfectly by Yuan Meng’s special makeup, so he did not recognize him when he was in the car.

But she could not conceal the expression in his eyes. So many people suspected that they were in a secretive relationship within just a few hours.

Although... they did have an unspeakable relationship.

“Forget it, so be it,” Gu Weiwei said indifferently.

Anyway, there were already rumors about her pretending to be a man and meeting him, so what was the big deal?

“Gossip is nothing, but I am afraid that I can’t hide your pregnancy from the paparazzi.” Jolin revealed his real worries.

“We can talk about it later, just don’t let anyone else know about it.” Gu Weiwei did not make any more requests to Fu Hanzheng.

If he was not allowed to watch her, was he supposed to drop his work and stay here just to watch the scenery?

Standing outside the car, Yuan Meng heard their conversation and said as she had one hand against the door, “Actually, I can help him to disguise himself as a woman, so everything will be fine...”

“No thanks.” Gu Weiwei turned her down strictly before she finished speaking.

She already felt bad that he had disguised himself and stayed here with her.

“Don’t be in a hurry to turn it down. I am very good at disguising and I guarantee that no one will be able to tell that he is a man. Also, in this way, you won’t be in a scandal,” Yuan Meng said confidently.

For some reason, she really wanted to see Fu Hanzheng disguised as a woman.

“It is just a rumor, so be it.” Gu Weiwei snorted.

Even if the rumor was spread, she could still think of a way to clarify it. But she was not willing to sacrifice Fu Hanzheng in order to not bring herself trouble.

He was her man, and others might not feel sorry for him, but she did.

Seeing that she could not get through to her, Yuan Meng turned to Fu Hanzheng.

“You really don’t want to try?”

Fu Hanzheng squinted at her which made Yuan Meng obediently shut up.

Chapter 1098: The New Assistant 3

The filming went on as usual in the afternoon, but everyone looked at the director and the new assistant with meaningful gazes.

Although Fu Hanzheng had put on a pair of sunglasses in the afternoon to cover his eyes, it did not make the crew any less hostile towards him.

Assistant Xu, who had been helping Jolin with the work, ran over to Yuan Meng who was resting next to Fu Hanzheng, whilst Gu Weiwei was lecturing the actors.

“Sister Yuan Meng, don’t sleep.”

Yuan Meng yawned. “It is none of my business, why not sleep?”

Xu glanced at the new assistant who was staring at the director and whispered, “Did you fail to take good care of the director, so she found this new assistant? Look at how he keeps staring at the director. If he really has ill intentions, the director will be in danger.”

...

Yuan Meng felt her forehead and threw a look at Fu Hanzheng.

“You are thinking too much. I think it is quite normal.”

She could not stop him from staring at his wife.

“What is normal? Is that the look of an assistant?” Xu glanced at the new assistant and snorted.

“Something will happen if this goes on. Sister Yuan Meng, watch out for him.”

Yuan Meng smiled and patted the assistant’s shoulders.

“Alright, you are thinking too much. Our director is young and pretty, so it is normal for men to take a few more glances at her.”

“He doesn’t look normal,” Xu pointed at Fu Hanzheng and said.

“Got it, I will lecture him later.” Yuan Meng drove her away.

However, she turned around and saw Fu Hanzheng still looking at Gu Weiwei.

If they had not been on set, he would have wanted to hold her hand.

“President Fu, can you control your expression?”

Fu Hanzheng looked at her sideways. “It’s very difficult.”

“Then just watch, don’t smile so gently, because others don’t know that you are a couple.” Yuan Meng tried to persuade him.

She had thought that she would be free after he took over, but now that he was here, she was even less free.

It was okay if they were lovey-dovey at home, but why could they not behave themselves on set?

Gu Weiwei talked with the actors and asked the crew to get ready and the actors to touch up their makeup. The moment she returned, she saw Yuan Meng and Fu Hanzheng talking.

“What is it now?”

“Xu asked me to keep an eye on this new assistant, in case he is up to something,” Yuan Meng said helplessly.

“...” Gu Weiwei was startled.

Yuan Meng glanced around and whispered, “Didn’t you see that everyone is staring at him like he’s a thief?”

Gu Weiwei was young, pretty and talented, and she was very easygoing with the crew. So when everyone found this new assistant staring at their director, they could not accept it.

“It is not that serious, is it?” Gu Weiwei looked around and found many pairs of eyes staring at them.

Apart from a few words at lunch in the car, she had been busy with work and did not even speak a word to him. Why were they suspecting him?

“What do you think?” Yuan Meng pursed her lips.

Gu Weiwei threw a look at Fu Hanzheng. “Forget it, it is just twenty days.”

After the filming, Fu Hanzheng would no longer show up in his disguise, so it did not matter if there were rumors.

She could not ask Fu Hanzheng to dress up as a female assistant, just because others were concerned.

Chapter 1099: Pregnancy

Although there was tons of work at the headquarters in the capital city, and everyone in the crew was being hostile to Fu Hanzheng, who kept staring at their director, Fu Hanzheng still insisted on staying with the crew to keep Gu Weiwei company.

Gu Weiwei usually smiled when the crew tried to persuade her to dismiss this male assistant.

Dismiss?

How could she fire him?

That was the father of her child, how could he possibly be fired?

Fu Hanzheng followed her to the set most of the time and occasionally had some work to deal with. He took the opportunity when she was filming to go to her nanny van with his laptop.

After the work was done, he would return to his assistant position.

But Gu Weiwei's pregnancy was getting worse.

At first, it was just morning sickness, but gradually, she started to feel disgusted by the slightest of greasy food, so she ate less and less.

She tried her best to finish the work at the film site every day, but she was so tired that she did not want to move when she was in the car.

Seeing her falling asleep in the car, Fu Hanzheng asked with a gentle voice, "What about taking you to the hospital?"

Yuan Meng sighed helplessly. "These are normal symptoms of pregnancy. It is useless for you to go to the hospital. Can you still give her medicine and injections?"

This kind of father was always the worst.

Especially Fu Hanzheng, who was so worried about her.

"No thanks, I can just lie down," Gu Weiwei said weakly with eyes closed.

She had been very tired and sleepy at the early stage of pregnancy, and she had to stay very focused every day, so she was very tired after work.

Luckily, the filming was going smoothly and they would be back in the capital in ten days.

With one arm around her, Fu Hanzheng leaned himself against her and kissed her forehead.

"Sleep."

At this time, she was supposed to be at home taking care of herself for the baby, but she insisted on finishing the work here.

Leaning against him lazily, Gu Weiwei fell asleep within a few minutes.

When they returned to the apartment, Fu Hanzheng did not wake her up but carried her out of the car and let her sleep for another two hours.

When Gu Weiwei woke up, it was already dark.

Fu Hanzheng had been reading the important files sent by the company on the computer when he heard some movement from the bed. He glanced sideways.

“You are awake?”

Gu Weiwei was startled for a moment in bed. “Why didn’t you wake me?”

Fu Hanzheng gave her a cup of water. “I didn’t have the heart to wake you up, seeing that you were sleeping so soundly; let’s eat dinner now that you’ve woken up.”

Gu Weiwei drank the water, got up, put on the slippers and followed him into the living room.

The servant had already made the dinner and left.

Fu Hanzheng heated the food in the oven and carried it to the table.

“You have been so tired these past two days, what about stopping work for one more day?”

She was always listless when she went out every day and she was always drowsy when she came home from work, but she always worked very hard on the set.

Gu Weiwei shook her head. “We will be free after the shooting.”

The filming would be finished in about ten days, and she would have to postpone the trip if she took another day off.

Also, if the filming time was extended, the post-production and release time would be delayed.

She was just afraid that when she was pregnant, she would not be able to show her face in front of the media.

“You must tell me if you feel any discomfort,” Fu Hanzheng said worriedly.

“Yes.” Gu Weiwei nodded.

Chapter 1100: Humanity

Although she was drowsy because of her pregnancy, the filming of Life Reboot continued smoothly with Gu Weiwei’s insistence.

Fu Hanzheng followed her to the set almost every day and took care of her needs.

However, when the filming came to the end of the last week, Gu Weiwei, who had been feeling unwell due to the sudden drop in temperature, caught a cold.

She coughed so hard that her throat became hoarse. Fu Hanzheng was so worried that he could not fall asleep in the middle of the night, so he fed her a cup of hot water.

Then he snuck into the living room and made a call to He Chi who was far away in the capital.

He Chi had just finished the experiment on the two new drugs and had switched off his phone without even checking it.

But within one hour, Lei Meng and his men opened the door.

Lei Meng dragged He Chi out of bed with the phone in his hand.

“Boss needs you urgently.”

He Chi answered the call with his teeth clenched, “You better have something urgent to tell me!”

He had not slept for the past two nights while completing the experiment and he had only been in bed for a few hours.

He had asked someone to break into the house and wake him up. If it was not a serious matter, he would curse him.

“Weiwei has a cold,” Fu Hanzheng said with a heavy tone.

“A cold?” He Chi gritted his teeth and asked, “A cold? Just because of a cold? You asked someone to wake me up in the middle of the night?”

Why did he have to wake him up in such a violent way just because of a cold? Where was his humanity?

“I don’t want to hear your nonsense, I just want to know what to do now,” Fu Hanzheng said coldly.

Suppressing his anger, He Chi said, “She is pregnant and it is impossible for her to take medicine or have an infusion, so let her drink more water.”

However, Fu Hanzheng soon said, “Do you want to die?”

Startled by the threat, He Chi said seriously.

“Well make sure she doesn’t have a fever. If she does, cook some scallions, ginger and turnips to get rid of the cold, and make sure she takes a rest.”

Fu Hanzheng took note of what he said and asked again, “Anything else?”

“And drink more water.” He Chi added weakly.

“I will call you if there is a problem,” Fu Hanzheng said and hung up.

He Chi waved the phone around, trying to vent his anger, but he stopped himself when he realized that he was the one who had got himself into this situation.[1]

After the call with He Chi, Fu Hanzheng called Lei Ning and asked her to buy a thermometer.

He checked Gu Weiwei’s temperature and made sure that she was not having a fever, before he felt slightly relieved.

Gu Weiwei opened her eyes drowsily and mumbled with a hoarse voice, “Why are you still awake?”

Fu Hanzheng pulled the blanket over her. “Want some water?”

Gu Weiwei shook her head and whispered as she tugged at his pajamas, “It is a bit cold, hold me until I fall sleep.”

Only then did Fu Hanzheng lie down on the bed, take the cold girl into his arms and kiss her face.

He did not dare to sleep too deeply throughout the entire night and woke up every two hours to check if she had a fever.

Luckily, Gu Weiwei did not have a fever, although her throat was hoarse.

She ate some light breakfast and told Jolin to start work on time.

Fu Hanzheng escorted her to the set and whenever she coughed, he would deliver hot ginger soup to her.

Those who had been hostile to him gradually let go of their prejudices, when they saw him taking care of their director so diligently.

[1] He's at Fu Hanzheng's beck and call because Fu Hanzheng funds his research.