

MY HIDDEN 1101

Chapter 1101: Father-to-be

The filming of the last week of Life Reboot was very difficult for Gu Weiwei.

Due to the cold caused by the low temperature, her body, which was already prone to fatigue and discomfort, became even more tired. But she wanted to finish the filming as soon as possible and return to the capital, so she gritted her teeth and persevered.

Although Fu Hanzheng and Yuan Meng had tried all kinds of methods to reduce her cold, they were useless.

Seeing her finishing up the work, Fu Hanzheng did not want to stay still anymore.

Also, her hoarse voice became even more hoarse after talking too much on set.

“Go and see the doctor. No western medicine is needed, Chinese medicine won’t hurt the child.”

Gu Weiwei still shook her head and turned him down. “Medicine is poisonous, it is not safe.”

Also, she was just coughing. Her nose was blocked with other cold symptoms, and she did not have a fever. She could tolerate it herself, so there was no need to drink the medicine.

Fu Hanzheng sighed. “But you feel terrible.”

“I am much better now, and I will be fine after a week.” Gu Weiwei insisted on not going to the hospital.

Fu Hanzheng could not persuade her, so he compromised.

“If it is not good after one week, I need you to see the doctor.”

Gu Weiwei nodded. She would think about it later, because she was not going there anyways.

“Should we rest or eat first?” Fu Hanzheng asked with a gentle voice.

“I need to sleep,” Gu Weiwei said with a hoarse voice.

She already had a weak appetite and with the cold, she had no appetite for food.

For the past few days, she had only been eating for the sake of the child.

Fu Hanzheng helped her back to the room and waited for her to rest for two hours before getting up for dinner.

Dinner was also made of ingredients to help her recover from the cold. Although she had not eaten anything properly for two days, she still tried her best.

Fu Hanzheng scooped up a bowl of chicken soup for her. “The nutritionist said that chicken soup can help to increase the immune system, so try drinking it.”

Seeing the chicken soup, Gu Weiwei took a deep breath, picked up the bowl and finished it in one go. Then she ate two pieces of plums to suppress the feeling of nausea.

Then after a long while, she dared to continue eating.

“Three more days before the filming finishes?” Fu Hanzheng asked.

“Yes, the day after tomorrow in the afternoon.” Gu Weiwei nodded.

“Xu Qian has bought an apartment near the company and there are no other residents living there. You can stay there for the time being.”

If she continued to stay at Yijing Pavilion, it would be too far away for him to visit her every day.

The apartment Xu Qian bought was close to Jinxiu Compound and close to the company, so he could take care of her.

Gu Weiwei nodded. She thought that she could stay at Yijing Pavilion since she had nothing to do after filming, so she could spend most of her time at home.

But it was obviously not convenient for her to stay there, where he could not watch over her 24/7.

“Oh yes, ask He Chi to arrange a proper time for a detailed pregnancy test.”

“I have told him, you can go home and rest for two days,” Fu Hanzheng said.

If she went to another hospital for a checkup, it would cause a huge sensation.

He Chi was working at a private hospital under Fu’s Enterprise, which was easier to arrange and more secretive.

Hearing that he had made the arrangements, Gu Weiwei said with a smile, “It seems that you are quite self-aware as a father-to-be.”

Chapter 1102: Life Reboot

Three days later, Life Reboot was completed.

Jolin and the others threw the flowers and the confetti flew everywhere.

The whole crew took a picture together and Jolin informed everyone to attend the banquet at the hotel.

As the director, Gu Weiwei congratulated the main cast and left the set with Fu Hanzheng and Yuan Meng.

The moment she returned to the apartment, she slept for three hours until Jolin called and informed her that the banquet was ready.

Seeing her getting changed and looking tired, Fu Hanzheng was about to stop her from attending the dinner at the hotel.

“Must you go?”

“Of course I have to go. The crew and I have been working together for two months and we don’t know if we will be able to work together in the future. So I have to go to the celebration dinner after the filming.”

Fearing that it would be too cold, Gu Weiwei put on the down jacket, a hat and a mask, covering herself up from head to toe.

Fu Hanzheng adjusted her hat and requested of her.

“No more than two hours.”

“I am just going to show myself. I can’t eat those big fish and meat heavy dishes anyways,” Gu Weiwei said.

It was not right for her, the director, to not show up at the banquet.

Fu Hanzheng got changed and drove her there.

When they arrived at the banquet hall of the hotel, all the staff and actors were already seated at the tables.

Gu Weiwei, the film crew and the main cast sat at the same table, and Jolin gave his seat to Fu Hanzheng.

Fu Hanzheng glanced at the dishes and drinks on the table and whispered to Jolin, “The juice needs to be heated.”

Jolin went downstairs and asked the waiter to prepare the hot juice for Gu Weiwei who was pregnant and had a cold. Soon, the juice was served to her.

“We were supposed to drink today, but our director has just taken her medicine, so we can only drink fruit juice instead. Please forgive us.”

Gu Weiwei had a cold for a week already and everyone knew about it, so they did not suspect Jolin’s plan.

“It is okay, Director Xiao Mu has been working hard these past few days.” Everyone stood up and raised their glasses.

Gu Weiwei said a few polite words and made a toast to everyone at the table.

Then she went to the other tables and toasted each of them, thanking everyone for supporting her in the past two months.

The moment she returned to her seat and sat down, she received a bowl of hot pear soup.

She threw a look at Fu Hanzheng who was sitting next to her. It was obvious that he had asked his men to prepare it in advance.

She sat down and talked with everyone about the promotional event. After one and a half hours, she said goodbye to everyone under Fu Hanzheng’s purposeful gaze.

The moment she got into the car, she became listless again.

“What time is the flight tomorrow?”

“No hurry, you can leave after you rest,” Fu Hanzheng said with a gentle voice.

She was pregnant and had a cold recently, so she had to force her body to finish the filming. It was not easy for her to take a rest, so she should not be in a hurry to go home in the next day or two.

Gu Weiwei thought for a while. "Then I need to sleep in. I will leave later."

Actually, with her current mood, she did not want to move for the entire day tomorrow.

However, he had been with her for so many days and there must be many important matters waiting for him to deal with at the company.

So he had better go home as soon as possible.

"Okay," Fu Hanzheng answered her as he drove.

Sitting in the passenger's seat, Gu Weiwei looked at the man who was focused on driving and said naughtily, "Assistant Fu, you have been working hard these days."

Fu Hanzheng chuckled and smiled brightly.

Chapter 1103: A New Husband

Because at the banquet, she only drank juice and a bowl of pear soup, Gu Weiwei did not fall asleep until she ate the dinner prepared by the servant.

Fu Hanzheng did not go back to bed until she finished washing up and took a rest.

Finally, because she did not need to get up early to work, Gu Weiwei boldly slept in bed. When she woke up from hunger, Fu Hanzheng and Yuan Meng had already packed their luggage.

Seeing her sitting up, Fu Hanzheng checked the time and said, "We can eat breakfast and leave."

Having said these words, he carried his drowsy wife to the bathroom and even squeezed out the toothpaste for her.

Gu Weiwei took the toothbrush, brushed her teeth and washed her face in a very good mood. Then she turned around and hugged the man standing behind her and smiled sweetly.

"Assistant Fu, I have washed my face and brushed my teeth, can I have a good morning kiss?"

"It would be my pleasure."

Fu Hanzheng chuckled, took hold of the girl's face and kissed her pink lips gently.

Yuan Meng was waiting outside for them to come out for breakfast, so she came to check on them impatiently. The moment she arrived at the bathroom, she saw them kissing happily.

"Are you two still eating?"

For the past few days, Fu Hanzheng had been taking care of her as if she were his own mother. He was showing off his love so much that she, as a married woman, could not stand it.

Embarrassed, they ended the sweet morning kiss, washed their hands and went out for breakfast.

They ate together and then leisurely headed towards the airport. In order to accompany her, Fu Hanzheng disguised himself as an assistant.

Yuan Meng had a very comprehensive set of disguising tools. Not only could she disguise him, but she also had a relevant identification card ready.

The moment Gu Weiwei got off the plane and returned to the capital, she was received by the fans and media at the airport, making it very difficult for her to move.

Fu Hanzheng and Yuan Meng were walking next to her, so she was not bumped into.

After getting out of the airport, Yuan Meng went back to Yijing Pavilion with her luggage and Yuan Shuo, who picked her up.

Gu Weiwei went into the car and followed Fu Hanzheng to the new apartment he had arranged. The servants had already packed up her belongings and helped to move them back to the apartment.

Fu Hanzheng took her into the house, helped her remove the thick down jacket and asked the servant to pour her a cup of water. Seeing her resting on the sofa, he went back to the room, removed the disguise Yuan Meng made for him and changed into the suit he normally wore for work.

With the pillow in her arms, Gu Weiwei looked at the man who had regained his original look and said with a smile.

“Honestly, I feel like I have a new husband.”

These days, she had been watching him dressed up in a disguise and she was not used to seeing him in his original appearance.

Fu Hanzheng adjusted his sleeves and squinted at her.

“You will never be able to have a new husband in this lifetime.”

Gu Weiwei chuckled. “Me neither.”

Fu Hanzheng adjusted his appearance, checked the time and said, “You can rest at home today and go to the pregnancy check up the day after tomorrow.”

Gu Weiwei saw him dressed in a suit. “Are you going to the company?”

“Yes, I need to go to a meeting, I will be back before dinner,” Fu Hanzheng said as he approached the sofa and kissed her forehead.

Gu Weiwei nodded. “Go, I need to sleep. I am tired.”

Fu Hanzheng saw her off to bed and hurried out of the room to go to the company.

Chapter 1104: Important Thing Tonight

At the headquarters of Fu’s Enterprise in the capital city.

After Fu Shiqin finished a pile of work, he saw a news notification on his phone [Movie Queen Mu Weiwei has completed the filming and returned to the capital. Assistant Fu is guarding the airport.]

His brother had been with her these days and now she was home. It seemed that his brother should be home too.

So he drank the coffee and clicked on the news, only to see his sister-in-law receiving the fans and media at the airport.

When he saw the male assistant next to her, he spat out a mouthful of coffee and wiped it clean with a napkin.

So his brother had disappeared from the capital for more than twenty days just to degrade himself and become her assistant?

Although he had disguised himself well, he could tell from the look in his eyes that it was his brother.

Especially when one of the suitcases was the one he had asked someone to deliver to his brother last month.

He was just transferring the news to the group and was about to ask Fu Shiyi and He Chi to watch it when Xu Qian knocked at his office door and said, "Second Master, President Fu asked you to go to his office."

Fu Shiqin put away the phone, packed up the report and rushed to his brother's office.

"Brother, I thought you were not at work until tomorrow."

Fu Hanzheng took over the files and leafed through them. "Let's get down to business, I don't have time for your nonsense."

Fu Shiqin pursed his lips and honestly reported the progress of the projects and the problems he had encountered during the days he was gone.

Fu Hanzheng leafed through the files as he was reporting to him.

"I know, no suspicion at home?"

"No, Fu Shiyi and I have tried our best to fool them," Fu Shiqin said and thought for a while before suggesting. "But you better go home and show your face, in case they think that you are not here."

"Let's talk about it in two days," Fu Hanzheng said coldly.

He had to deal with work these two days and he had to accompany her for the pregnancy test the day after tomorrow. He had to settle everything before he had time to return to the old mansion.

Fu Shiqin locked the office door and sat opposite his brother's desk, he started gossiping.

"Brother, is our sister-in-law pregnant with a boy or a girl?"

He Chi and Fu Shiyi had both bet that it was a girl, but he had bet that it was a boy because he had the strong genes of the Fu Family.

"I don't know," Fu Hanzheng said nonchalantly.

"You really don't know?" Fu Shiqin did not want to give up and asked, "Didn't you check?"

“We’ll know the day after tomorrow,” Fu Hanzheng said and looked up at him. “What do you want?”

“Nothing, nothing.” Fu Shiqin shook his head.

If his brother knew what the three of them were betting on, he would definitely mistreat them.

Xu Qian came to knock at the door but failed to open it, so he informed them outside.

“President Fu, the meeting starts in five minutes.”

Fu Hanzheng glared at Fu Shiqin and Fu Shiqin went to open the door.

Xu Qian came in and gave Fu Hanzheng a pile of reports.

“Also, President Xu of Dingsheng International has arranged a meeting with you. You were not here before, can you set the meeting for tonight?”

“No, tomorrow afternoon,” Fu Hanzheng said coldly.

“But we already cancelled once.” Xu Qian reminded him.

They should have met last week, but because he was taking care of the pregnant lady boss, the meeting was delayed.

However, this man was still unwilling to meet him.

“Something important is going on tonight,” Fu Hanzheng said.

He had promised to go home before dinner, so he could have dinner with her.

Chapter 1105: Prenatal Education

Xu Qian sighed helplessly, although he knew that what he was talking about was definitely not about work.

“I will talk with Dingsheng International.”

Now that the lady boss was home, nothing was more important than keeping his wife company.

Fu Hanzheng signed some documents and rushed to have an important meeting.

At five o’clock, he left the company without staying a minute longer.

When he returned to the new apartment, Gu Weiwei had already woken up. Dressed in baggy pajamas, she was talking with Jolin about the post-production work.

Seeing him coming back, she said a few words to Jolin and hung up.

“Why are you back so early?”

She had thought that he would come home late because he had a lot of work to do.

“No reason.” Fu Hanzheng lied.

Maybe it was because they had spent too much time together these days that he found it awkward to not see her for a few hours at the company.

Gu Weiwei frowned. "I thought that you would be late, so I did not ask the servant to prepare dinner on time."

Then she stood up and urged the servant to prepare the dinner.

Fu Hanzheng removed his suit and thought of the call she made.

"Still going to the studio these days?"

"Yes, I need to keep an eye on the post-production." Gu Weiwei nodded and said to him, "But let's wait until after the pregnancy test."

"Okay, remember to ask Jolin to pick you up."

Although Fu Hanzheng wanted her to have a good rest at home, he still allowed her to do what she wanted.

She had worked so hard to finish the filming. She must not leave the film alone because of the possible post-production problems.

Seeing that it was still early for dinner, they went to the study to check the time.

The study was not as large as the one at Landscape Villa, and Gu Weiwei preferred Chinese and foreign classics.

However, on Fu Hanzheng's desk was a pile of brightly-colored books.

She glanced at it curiously. "Pregnant nutritional recipes? Embryology encyclopedia? Prenatal care encyclopedia?"

There were at least a dozen books here. Did he buy all the books on pregnancy?

"I did not prepare for pregnancy, so I need extra lessons now," Fu Hanzheng said.

Gu Weiwei sighed helplessly at the sight of the pile.

"You bought so much, do you think I can read it?"

Fu Hanzheng said, "I did."

"..." Gu Weiwei did not know whether to laugh or cry. She could not help but feel sweet inside. "Didn't you hire a nursery teacher and a nutritionist?"

He was so busy with work, did he still need to learn these things?

"There is no harm in understanding it yourself," Fu Hanzheng said.

Although he could hire someone, he wanted to know what he was doing. He didn't want to be in a hurry and not be able to help.

Gu Weiwei took hold of his waist with a smile. "You don't have to do so much."

Although he did not show any obvious joy of being a father, he had been making preparations for her and the child ever since he heard the news.

"You can't be the only one suffering," Fu Hanzheng said as he kissed her forehead.

He could not share the discomfort of her body while she was pregnant.

At least, he could take good care of her in daily life.

He could ask someone to take care of her, but what others did was different from what he did.

Hearing his words, Gu Weiwei stood on tiptoe and kissed him right on the lips.

Chapter 1106: Wife and Child

She had been suffering from a cold for a week and on the second day of her return to the capital, she finally felt better.

However, although she had recovered, Gu Weiwei's morning sickness was getting worse.

She had puked the moment she woke up in the morning, and she had puked again after breakfast.

Fu Hanzheng should have left home long ago, but he was so worried that he postponed the working hours and helped her back to the sofa in the living room.

"Is the breakfast not to your liking?"

When she was on set, she did have morning sickness but it was not as bad as today.

Could it be that she could not eat the breakfast made by the servant?

"No, I will take a rest, you can go to work," Gu Weiwei took a deep breath and said in a casual tone.

Fu Hanzheng did not want to leave, but insisted on staying until she was better and could eat something so she would not feel nauseous. Only then did he dare to leave for the company.

Seeing his brother who was late, Fu Shiqin did not dare to ask anything.

"The meeting has been postponed for almost an hour."

Without changing his expression, Fu Hanzheng started the postponed morning meeting because of his comment, but he was still thinking about his pregnant wife at home.

After the morning meeting, Fu Shiqin started to complain again.

"I know you can't come if you say you can't but at least tell us in advance. Everyone is willing to wait for you, but it should not be like this."

"Starting tomorrow, the meeting will start late," Fu Hanzheng said straightforwardly.

She had been suffering from morning sickness for a few days, so she had to postpone her morning work.

"Huh?"

Fu Shiqin was dumbfounded. He had just complained a little and yet he had postponed it.

“Weiwei does not feel well early in the mornings, so I won’t be here too early,” Fu Hanzheng said.

“...” Fu Shiqin was speechless.

Alright, alright, Boss, you call the shots. Your wife and child are the most important.

Fu Hanzheng took care of his work and made a call at lunchtime. He was not assured until he knew that she was eating normally.

At noon, he called Fu Shiqin and Xu Qian to the office.

“I am not free tomorrow afternoon, so let’s change the schedule.”

Xu Qian checked the schedule. “There is a project report meeting at noon tomorrow, we’ll move it to the next day.”

Fu Hanzheng nodded in satisfaction, grabbed the car keys and was about to leave for home.

Seeing him leaving, Fu Shiqin sighed with his teeth clenched.

“See, when my sister-in-law comes home, he runs away faster than anyone else.”

“You must have forgotten about the trauma of working overtime.” Xu Qian snorted.

Although the lady boss was here and so now the boss often left early, at least they were not mistreated.

After the wedding was cancelled, they worked overtime every day.

“Well, I have something very important to do tomorrow at lunchtime, don’t ask me to do anything,” Fu Shiqin patted Xu Qian’s shoulders and said.

Xu Qian looked at him suspiciously. “You have something important too?”

“Yes, it is very important.” Fu Shiqin nodded.

The new apartment was only twenty minutes away from the headquarters of Fu’s Enterprise.

Fu Hanzheng got off work and entered the house within half an hour.

The moment he entered the house, she saw the servant preparing dinner.

“Where is Madam?”

“She said that she was feeling sleepy this afternoon, so she is sleeping in the room.” The servant replied.

Fu Hanzheng went into the master bedroom and saw Gu Weiwei sleeping soundly in bed, with the unfinished book of prenatal education next to her pillow.

And the sleeping wife seemed to be much more lovely and gentle because of her pregnancy.

Chapter 1107: Pregnancy Test

Gu Weiwei woke up and saw a man dressed in a business suit reading a prenatal education book on the sofa not far away.

She was fascinated by him.

A long time ago, she had naively thought that only a vast and changing relationship was true love.

But this man made her realize that every day was warm and sweet.

A relationship that was full of twists and turns was destined to be full of scars.

Fu Hanzheng looked up and found that she was already awake. He closed the book and walked over.

“Get up for dinner.”

Gu Weiwei got up slowly, put on the slippers and said happily, “Look, I am much better now.”

Fu Hanzheng touched her head and led her to the dining room.

“You need to go to the hospital tomorrow morning, maybe on an empty stomach.”

Gu Weiwei nodded. “Got it.”

Anyway, she did not really want to eat anything in the morning, because she wanted to eat something nutritious later and keep it down.

After dinner, Fu Hanzheng took her to bed early and went to sleep after finishing some unfinished work in the study.

Since she was in a hurry to know the result, Gu Weiwei did not stay in bed but got up early.

Since she was going on an empty stomach, she washed up, put on a coat, hat and mask and went out.

When they arrived at the hospital, He Chi came down to pick them up.

Together with He Chi were Fu Shiyi and Fu Shiqin.

The three of them were standing in a neat row, which startled her.

Fu Hanzheng helped her out of the car and glanced at his two brothers who had come for no reason.

“What are you two doing here?”

“To keep sister-in-law company,” Fu Shiyi said with a smile.

They made the bet three times and it was now the day of the award ceremony, it was time to find out whether the child was a boy or a girl.

Gu Weiwei glanced at the two brothers and sneered.

“You made a bet about my child?”

“Impossible!” Fu Shiqin denied instantly and said with a smile, “We are just concerned about our future nephew.”

“Yes, we want to experience what it is like to be an uncle.” Fu Shiyi echoed.

He Chi followed suit. “It is so cold out here, let’s not stand here. Let’s go upstairs for the appointment.”

Gu Weiwei squinted at Fu Shiyi and Fu Shiqin who were obviously up to something. “If you really made a bet, then share half of the winnings with me.”

“Sister-in-law, we didn’t.” Fu Shiqin declared.

He did not dare to say anything because his brother was here.

“What are you afraid of? I don’t mind.” Gu Weiwei smiled in a very friendly way.

Fu Shiyi relaxed and said with a smile, “We are just curious. Is it going to be a nephew or a niece?”

“So you still made the bet?” Gu Weiwei said and looked at Fu Hanzheng who was holding her hand. “You can do whatever you want.”

“Sister-in-law!” Fu Shiyi groaned. Was she selling him out so fast?

Fu Shiqin glared at him – this man had exposed himself and dragged him down with him.

He Chi looked indifferent.

However, Fu Shiyi and Fu Shiqin were not going to let him be unscathed by himself. They pointed at him and said, “He placed his bet too, and he placed the highest bet.”

Fu Hanzheng squinted at them, released Gu Weiwei and said with a gentle voice, “Let’s finish the examination first.”

Having said these words, he led her into the elevator.

Although he had known that she was pregnant, he still felt a bit nervous going to the appointment for the first time with her.

Chapter 1108: Pregnancy Test 2

When she was at the film studio, although she had gone to the hospital for a checkup, she had only had an ultrasound twice.

Therefore, she had to have a more detailed examination when she was back in the capital. Apart from measuring her height and weight, there were also blood tests, blood pressure checks, electrocardiogram and liver and kidney function tests.

Fu Hanzheng took her to do a checkup that required an empty stomach, and then he asked Fu Shiqin to go to the car and fetch her water and a salad, so that she could eat something in He Chi’s office before doing the checkup.

Gu Weiwei was the only one eating and the four of them were staring at her, making her feel very stressed.

Seeing her salad, Fu Shiqin protested to Fu Hanzheng.

“Brother, you are so mean. Sister-in-law is pregnant, but you are only letting her eat grass?”

Gu Weiwei glared at him. "You want me to eat something else this morning, but believe it or not I will throw it up in front of you."

He Chi glanced at him disdainfully. "It is very easy to have morning sickness in the early stages of pregnancy, so it is unlikely for her to feel nauseous if she eats a light salad, idiot."

"..." Fu Shiqin got so annoyed at being called an idiot.

Finally, Gu Weiwei finished the box of salad, drank a cup of fruit juice and a cup of water, put down the fork and said, "I am done."

Fu Hanzheng adjusted her woolly hat. "Want to take a rest first?"

"No thanks, let's continue with the examination."

"Let's go." He Chi led the way.

Fu Hanzheng led her behind He Chi, whilst Fu Shiyi and Fu Shiqin followed behind them like two tails.

He Chi led the way and said, "Let's do the ultrasound next and see how the baby is developing."

When they arrived at the ultrasound department, Fu Hanzheng helped her remove the thick coat and helped her to lie down in bed.

"Lift up your clothes and reveal your belly."

Fu Hanzheng turned around and glanced at Fu Shiqin and his men. "Turn around."

Fu Shiyi and Fu Shiqin exchanged a look and then glanced at He Chi. Then they turned around and looked at the wall.

"Stingy." Fu Shiyi complained with a small voice.

Hearing the words, Fu Shiqin instantly betrayed him.

"Brother, Third Brother says that you are stingy and don't want him to see sister-in-law's belly."

"Second Brother, you..." Fu Shiyi glared at him.

"Third Brother, you are too much! That is your sister-in-law! Only your brother can watch her!" He Chi added.

Gu Weiwei lifted her clothes with Fu Hanzheng's help, showing her belly and raised her voice at the three men's noise.

"Can you just shut up or leave?"

The three of them fell silent and stared at the wall.

Gu Weiwei said to Dr. Wang with a smile, "Doctor, let's begin."

The doctor started the examination carefully and asked as she checked her belly.

"Have the symptoms during your pregnancy been very strong?"

“Yes, I throw up too much in the morning to be able to eat anything.” Gu Weiwei told her the truth.

The female doctor nodded and asked, “Are you very tired and sleepy?”

“Yes, it’s as if I can’t get enough sleep,” Gu Weiwei said helplessly.

The day before, when Fu Hanzheng was at work, she slept in bed for a few extra hours.

Basically, apart from eating and going to the bathroom, she spent most of her time sleeping.

The female doctor stared at the screen and said with a sincere smile, “That is normal. There are two babies now and they will be twins in the future. This type of twin pregnancy will be more difficult for a mother.”

Chapter 1109: Pregnancy Test 3

“Twins?” Gu Weiwei asked in disbelief. “They didn’t say that there were two last time.”

“It was too early to tell.” Dr. Wang pointed out the placenta on the screen for her and Fu Hanzheng. “It is very small, but I can tell that there are two.”

Seeing the two tiny dots on the screen, Gu Weiwei felt very happy.

Then she turned to Fu Hanzheng.

“There are two!”

Fu Hanzheng looked at the two blurry spots on the screen and was startled. He still could not believe that those dots were their children.

However, when the three people standing by the wall heard that it was two babies, the twins turned around in excitement.

But one second later, they turned back around again.

“Dr. Wang, are you sure? Two?” He Chi asked.

Were the twin genes of the Fu Family so powerful?

“Ahahaha, the powerful genes of the Fu Family!” Fu Shiyi said excitedly.

Having said these words, he gave Fu Shiqin a high five.

After the examination, Fu Hanzheng pulled down the clothes he had lifted for Gu Weiwei, helped her sit up and helped her put on her shoes.

Then he asked the doctor.

“Will having twins make her more tired?”

“It will be more difficult than bearing only one child, so the symptoms during pregnancy will be stronger than that of normal pregnant women. As the fetus develops, the burden on the body will become greater,” the doctor answered sincerely.

Fu Hanzheng was very happy, but soon his expression turned dark.

It was a joyful thing that they would have two babies, but when he thought that having two babies would be even more difficult for her, he suddenly felt both happy and worried at the same time.

Gu Weiwei put on the coat and glanced at the worried man.

“What’s wrong, are you thinking too much?”

Hearing her putting on the clothes, Fu Shiqin and the others turned around and asked, “Are they boys or girls?”

Fu Shiqin got very excited and was the one who asked, “Are they boys?”

Fu Shiyi was the one who asked, “Is it two girls?”

He Chi thought for a while and made a compromise.

“Is it a boy and a girl?”

The middle-aged female doctor looked at the three of them as if they were idiots and said, “I don’t know.”

“Doctor Wang, let’s not hide our relationship.” He Chi did not believe her and asked with a smile, “Tell me.”

“That’s right, you’ve seen both of them, how can you not know?” Fu Shiqin stared at the doctor, waiting for the answer.

The female doctor got annoyed and said straightforwardly, “Who can tell if it is a boy or a girl at twelve weeks? I am not that sharp-eyed.”

“She can’t tell yet.” Fu Shiqin sighed.

He had thought that he would be able to receive the award today.

Ignoring the three fools, Gu Weiwei said to Fu Hanzheng, “I am going to the bathroom before heading to the other checkup.”

Fu Hanzheng nodded and led her to the bathroom.

Fu Shiyi, Fu Shiqin and He Chi kept asking the doctor if she could tell it was a boy or a girl.

“Honestly, the parents of the babies are not even this curious, what are you curious about?” The female doctor looked at the three of them curiously.

“Nothing, nothing.”

The three of them exchanged a look and left with a dry smile.

Then they went to the next department and waited for Gu Weiwei to come for the examination.

However, just as they passed by the elevator, the door opened.

A medical staff member came out and was about to close the elevator door when someone shouted, “Shiqin? Shiyi?”

Chapter 1110: The Fu Family at the Hospital

Fu Shiyi and Fu Shiqin stiffened when they heard the voice. They turned around and looked into the elevator.

The elevator door that was about to close was opened from the inside.

Mrs. Fu and Fu Shengying pushed the Old Lady out of the elevator.

“Dad, mom, grandma, what are you doing at the hospital?”

Could they have come to the hospital to catch them because they knew that his brother had brought his sister-in-law here for the pregnancy tests?

“Your grandma was not feeling well last night, so we brought her here for a checkup,” Mrs. Fu said.

Fu Shengying looked at them curiously. “What about you two? Didn’t you say that you have work to do today? What are you doing at the hospital?”

One son being here was fine but both had come at the same time.

“We... we are not feeling well these days, so we are here for a physical examination,” Fu Shiqin said with a dry smile.

Fu Shiyi, on the other hand, winked at He Chi, indicating that he should make sure they did not run into his brother or sister-in-law.

He Chi understood what he meant and made a call, fearing that Fu Hanzheng would not notice they were here.

He said instantly, “Doctor Qin, have you made the arrangements for Old Lady’s examination today?”

Fu Hanzheng understood what was going on when he heard his voice.

He Chi smiled and said, “Yes, they are here and they are getting ready.”

“Got it,” Fu Hanzheng answered coldly.

He had planned to accompany her for the pregnancy test today and then return to the old mansion the following day. Unexpectedly, they were at the hospital.

But what He Chi meant was that they did not know that he and Weiwei were here for a pregnancy test, but it was just a coincidence.

Luckily, she needed to use the bathroom and he had accompanied her there, otherwise they might have run into his family.

Gu Weiwei came out of the bathroom and said in amusement, when she saw Fu Hanzheng’s serious expression, “What is it? Still worried about the two babies?”

“I am just worried that the two children are too much for you,” Fu Hanzheng said.

She had been pregnant for just a short while and she had already suffered a great deal.

It would be months before the babies were born. He did not know how much burden she would have to bear with the development of these two little ones.

“It is a sweet burden too.” Gu Weiwei smiled brightly.

When she was confirmed to be pregnant, it was a huge surprise for her. Now that she knew that it was two babies, she was even more surprised.

Fu Hanzheng sighed helplessly. “It has only been twelve weeks and you are already suffering. You will suffer even more as you continue.”

Compared to the children, he felt more sorry for her.

Gu Weiwei’s expression sank.

“What, you want me to get an abortion?”

He had not been very happy when he initially found out that she was pregnant, and he was not very happy when he found out that it was now two babies.

Instead, he was frowning. What kind of father was he?

“No,” Fu Hanzheng said resolutely.

“Then we are in agreement. Instead of worrying about these useless things, shouldn’t you be encouraging me to be a good mother?” Gu Weiwei looked up at him and said seriously.

Fu Hanzheng chuckled and became very cheerful.

“Okay, I hope that you can be a good mother, Mrs. Fu.”

She was right. Even if he was worried about these things, they would not give up on these two children.

Therefore, instead of worrying about these trivial matters, he might as well take good care of her and welcome the birth of these two children with her.
