

MY HIDDEN 1141

Chapter 1141: Child Care

Yuan Meng was not surprised by what Fu Hanzheng had done.

It was not strange that he was here, but it was strange when he was not here.

She had been thinking yesterday that he would come here because he was worried about her pregnancy, and now he was here in the middle of the night.

Considering that Weiwei was pregnant, Jolin only arranged the promotional event for less than one hour.

And Fu Hanzheng came from the capital early in the morning just to keep her company for this hour. After the event in the afternoon, he was going back to the capital for work.

“Can you make it in time?” Gu Weiwei asked.

Although in her opinion, there was no need for him to come with her.

But more than ten days ago, he had been very nervous about her coming out to promote the movie.

“I can make it,” Fu Hanzheng said calmly.

Although time was indeed tight, he was worried that she would attend such an event, so he spent some effort to buy half a day’s time.

Seeing him here, Gu Weiwei could not say anything more.

Jolin and Yuan Meng exchanged a look and said, “Eat your breakfast first, we will do your makeup when the event starts.”

Gu Weiwei saw them off from the temporary apartment, turned around to the tired man and said helplessly, “I told you that I would take good care of myself, and you still insisted on coming here.”

“Go wash up and get ready for breakfast.”

Fu Hanzheng took her to the bathroom, squeezed the toothpaste for her and gave her the toothbrush, almost prodding her lips to help her with the toothbrush.

Gu Weiwei took over the toothbrush helplessly and complained.

“I am not a three-year-old child, you don’t have to take care of me.”

“In my eyes, you are the child I need to take care of,” Fu Hanzheng said confidently.

He believed that without him, she could take good care of herself.

But he liked the feeling of taking care of her, especially when she was pregnant and needed someone to take care of her.

Gu Weiwei felt helpless as she brushed her teeth. She was not that much younger than him, yet he still regarded her as a child.

Fu Hanzheng did not join her for the meal until she brushed her teeth and washed her face.

After breakfast with him, Gu Weiwei drove him back to her room and asked him to rest for a few hours.

He had rushed all the way here overnight and now he was going back after attending the event with her in the afternoon. Did he really think that he was a superman?

Fu Hanzheng said as he took hold of her round waist, "The event is over in the afternoon, stay here for the time being. I will join you after I finish my work. Let's go to the next promotional site."

"I can go with Yuan Meng and the others," Gu Weiwei said seriously, not wanting him to keep on going.

"Not safe." Fu Hanzheng sounded serious.

It was the promotional period for their movie and fans and media were following her everywhere. When she came here, he saw the video of her receiving the plane and saw her being surrounded by a crowd, fearing that she would fall.

Gu Weiwei could not persuade him, so she sighed in compromise.

"Alright, alright, I will wait for you here."

If she went against his wishes now, he would be worried.

Luckily, there were only two promotions she was attending and she would not participate in any of the other promotions, so he did not have to work hard.

After the promotional event this week, she will be able to go to Dubai to nurse her pregnancy.

Chapter 1142: Fatty

The promotional event at this stop was a small-scaled interactive fan event in a large mall and the top floor of the mall was a large cinema.

The purpose of the event was to attract passers-by to support the box office of Life Reboot.

Since she was only going to attend the event as the director, the focus of the promotion was still on the lead actors, so Gu Weiwei did not dress herself up extravagantly.

She was wearing a high-waisted dress and a large windbreaker that perfectly covered her belly.

One hour before the event started, Yuan Meng and Jolin came to pick her and Fu Hanzheng up.

She looked simple and Fu Hanzheng started to disguise himself as his assistant.

When they were almost ready, Jolin urged them.

"Time to go."

They rushed to the lounge of the mall where the event was held and found that the male lead, Nie Feng, Qiu Ling and several important supporting roles were already there.

“Director, it is a pity that you are not with us for the promotional event.”

“Although the box office is very high now, if you are here for the promotional event, the box office will definitely be much higher.”

Everyone felt sorry that Gu Weiwei did not attend the promotional event with them, but they only said those words.

Many of the audience were here because of her reputation.

Therefore, if she did not attend the promotional event, the box office would be greatly affected.

Hearing the words, Jolin smiled and tried to smooth things over.

“If the director really attends the promotion, the fans and media will focus on her, not you. You are the ones in the limelight now, aren’t you satisfied?”

She was the Movie Queen who was worth tens of billions of yuan. As long as she showed up, she would be the center of attention, so his explanation was totally understandable.

Although the promotional event had been very difficult these days, the excellent production of the movie and the strict requirements of the director during the filming period presented a very high-level work.

Recently, all of them have become very popular.

The director’s failure to attend the promotional event would affect the box office, but what Jolin said was reasonable. If she participated, she would definitely exceed all of them.

Qiu Ling sized up Gu Weiwei who had gained some weight and said in astonishment, “Director Xiao Mu has been living a very peaceful life these days, you have gained so much weight.”

Female artists tended to be strict about their figures and appearances. She was not participating in the promotional event or paying attention to her image, so she wasn’t determined to become the following Movie Queen.

But with her looks and acting skills, she should have a bright future in this industry.

Gu Weiwei smiled. “Yes, I have been eating a lot these days.”

She used to eat three meals a day and now she eats five meals a day. She was definitely fat.

They talked for a few minutes in the lounge and Jolin came to inform them that it was time to go on stage.

The male and female supporting roles were the first ones to leave, followed by Nie Feng and Qiu Ling, and finally Gu Weiwei.

The two leading roles had already made the audience excited, but when she appeared, everyone screamed.

After a brief introduction, it was time to interact with the fans and media.

However, Gu Weiwei became the focus of attention in this round where the male and female lead were supposed to play.

“Weiwei, are you planning to quit being a director and quit acting in movies?”

Gu Weiwei smiled. “Not necessarily. If I am interested, I might star in a role.”

But judging from her current situation, she would not be able to star in or direct movies for the next three years.

Chapter 1143: Too Fat to Face the Camera

“Actually, we would have preferred that you play the lead role in this movie. Do you think that Qiu Ling creates the feeling you want?”

That was a question from a media journalist, and it sounded very provocative.

“This role is tailor-made for Qiu Ling. If I had to act it, it might not suit me. Her performance gave me a great surprise.” Gu Weiwei smiled brightly, defending Qiu Ling.

If she denied Qiu Ling’s role, she would be denying her own taste and efforts.

Qiu Ling looked at her in astonishment. She thought that if Weiwei was really acting alone, she would definitely be better than her and this is because she was the one who explained and analyzed the important scenes during the filming.

Most of the female artists in the industry would fight for the limelight, but she was so young and yet she had seen through everything. She could have taken the opportunity to step on her, but instead, she helped her.

After answering three questions in a row, she smiled helplessly at the fourth question.

“There are so many handsome men and beautiful women on stage, please let me go. I have gained so much weight recently that I don’t want to face the camera.”

Everyone burst into laughter.

However, she successfully turned the focus to the main cast.

She was still standing on the stage and would occasionally answer some questions.

After half an hour of interaction, it was time to take pictures with the fans or sign autographs for people.

It was just that the venue was not large and there were many people attending the event, so it became chaotic and crowded after the pictures were taken.

Luckily, Fu Hanzheng and Yuan Meng were by her side, so she was not affected.

It was time for the event, but they were still surrounded by passionate fans and could not leave.

Yuan Meng and Jolin spent a great deal of effort to help Fu Hanzheng leave the site.

But the elevator suddenly stopped between the third floor.

With one arm around her, Fu Hanzheng leaned against the elevator and looked very serious.

Jolin, on the other hand, was busy informing the elevator repairman and other staff members for help.

Why did the elevator break after they entered?

Seeing Boss's cold expression, he was sweating.

Gu Weiwei looked a bit nervous too. If she had not been pregnant with two children, she might not have been so nervous.

But because she was pregnant, she was very nervous about the danger that might arise.

Fu Hanzheng kissed the top of her head. "It is okay, don't worry."

"Okay," Gu Weiwei answered softly, yet she was still feeling very nervous.

Luckily, the fault was soon solved and the elevator was running smoothly.

They returned to the car and Fu Hanzheng gave her a water bottle.

"Feeling unwell?"

"I am a bit tired, I just need to go home."

Recently, she had been either sitting or lying down at home. Now that she had been standing outside for so long, and she had been so nervous about the elevator malfunction, she did feel a bit tired.

Fu Hanzheng took hold of her and leaned her against him. "Take a rest."

Gu Weiwei nodded and leaned herself against him.

After they returned to the apartment, Fu Hanzheng carried the sleeping girl back.

After placing her in the master bedroom, he came out and said to Jolin and Yuan Meng, "Stay here for the next two days and go to the next promotion after I finish my work."

The scene at the event and the elevator malfunction made him even more worried about her participating in the next promotion.

If she had to go, he had to go with her.

Chapter 1144: Marrying Again

After the promotional event, Fu Hanzheng drove her back to the apartment where she was staying for the time being and then hurried back to the capital.

After two busy days, he came back on the third day and accompanied Gu Weiwei to the next promotional site.

The itinerary had been arranged long ago, but when she saw Fu Hanzheng coming with dark circles under his eyes, she felt so sorry for him that she even wanted to give up on the itinerary.

But Jolin said that it had been arranged and announced to the public, so it was difficult for her not to go.

Helpless, she rushed over with Fu Hanzheng.

From the moment she boarded the plane to the moment she got off the plane, she was received by many passionate fans.

She spent more than half an hour signing autographs and taking pictures at the airport.

It was not until Fu Hanzheng reminded her to leave with a dark face that she had to stop and get into the car.

After more than two hours of flying and being delayed by fans at the airport, it was already dark when they arrived at the accommodation.

She and Fu Hanzheng ate a simple dinner and went to bed early.

Worried that what happened last time would cause Boss to be furious, Jolin did not have time to rest, but asked the security guards to maintain order and checked the safety of the elevator and other public facilities.

It was a good thing that the elevator malfunction was just a false alarm. If something really happened, he would not be able to compensate with ten lives.

After all, if she fell from the third floor, most people would be seriously injured, and the pregnant lady boss would be in danger.

The consequences would be unimaginable.

However, his efforts paid off. Due to his early arrangements, the event was going well.

After the event, Gu Weiwei was taken back to the capital by Fu Hanzheng.

Jolin had to follow the schedule and went to the next stop for the promotion.

After the promotional event, Gu Weiwei felt much more relaxed.

Before she went there, she was always worried about many things. Firstly, it was a safety issue and secondly, she was afraid that her pregnancy would be discovered.

But nothing happened. The two promotional events went smoothly and no one noticed that she was pregnant.

After resting for two days in the capital, she started to get ready for Dubai.

She did not want to attract any suspicion, so she decided to return to Paris first before flying to Dubai.

Fu Hanzheng was worried that she would need to fly for eight hours straight because of her pregnancy, so he flew her to Paris as an assistant and flew back to the capital overnight.

The following day, he finished sorting out the domestic company and rushed to Dubai.

Then he rushed to Paris from Dubai to pick her up.

They went back and forth for a long time before finally picking her up in Paris.

Yuan Meng drove them to the airport and said to Fu Hanzheng as Gu Weiwei washed her hands, "Now that you have a child, you should plan to remarry."

She knew very well that Weiwei must not have told Fu Hanzheng what she had said last time because she did not want her to make things difficult for him.

But if she did not make things difficult for Fu Hanzheng, she would be the one in trouble.

When they were alone, the remarriage could be postponed, but with a child, it could not be delayed any longer.

No matter how strong the Old Lady and Fu Shengying were, he had to give her and the two children an open identity.

"I know," Fu Hanzheng said calmly.

Chapter 1145: New Home in Dubai

Yuan Meng nodded suddenly. With him taking such great care of her, she believed that he would not be in a hurry.

But the two stubborn elders of the Fu Family did need a suitable time frame and strategy to change their mind, otherwise it would be very difficult to deal with them.

"Alright, I have nothing to tell you. I believe that you will take good care of her yourself."

Ever since she was pregnant, Fu Hanzheng had been taking better care of her than any of them.

She was not worried about that.

Gu Weiwei returned with Lei Ning and found that Yuan Meng was gone.

"Yuan Meng is gone?"

She had said that she would leave after Fu Hanzheng delivered her here.

She just went to the bathroom and she left without saying goodbye?

"Yes, we are leaving now," Fu Hanzheng answered as he took hold of her and said, "We should leave now."

Gu Weiwei followed him onto the plane and asked, as she saw the luxurious cabin, "Is this the Prince's private jet?"

"Because it is a long-distance flight, his private jet would be more comfortable for you. I borrowed it from him," Fu Hanzheng helped her into the seat and said.

This plane was custom-made and it was the most comfortable private jet in the world.

Gu Weiwei sized up the surroundings and sighed inwardly. The world of rich people was indeed scary.

Maybe it was because the plane was too cozy, she fell asleep within an hour after the plane took off.

Fu Hanzheng asked someone to get her a blanket, and covered her up. Then he continued to work on the computer, glancing at the girl who was sleeping next to him.

Gu Weiwei did not wake up until more than three hours later. She looked at the man who was focusing on work with drowsy eyes and got distracted.

Fu Hanzheng glanced at her and put down his work when he saw that she was awake.

“How long have you been awake?”

“A while,” Gu Weiwei said with a smile.

Fu Hanzheng asked the staff to deliver the food to them.

“Eat something, we won’t be there for another three hours.”

Seeing the food delivered to her, Gu Weiwei did not know what to say.

They ate together and Fu Hanzheng put down his work and took hold of her hands.

“Are you feeling unwell?”

Gu Weiwei shook her head. It would be terrible if she still felt unwell in such a luxurious private jet.

“Don’t worry about me, just focus on your work.”

Although it was to be by her for a long time and also so they could collaborate on this important project in Dubai... But since he could stay here openly, he must still have a lot of work to do.

Therefore, she could not really live here as if she were on a vacation.

“Not that busy,” Fu Hanzheng said with a smile.

“I need to read for a while.” Gu Weiwei found something to do for herself.

Fu Hanzheng nodded and gave her the book from in the hand luggage.

Then she sat by his side and read the book, and he continued to work.

It was the afternoon when they arrived in Dubai.

Fu Hanzheng brought her to the seaside villa that she had set her eyes upon before. There was a beach that she liked and beautiful tri-colored plums were planted around the villa.

Gu Weiwei was about to go upstairs to the bedroom when Fu Hanzheng stopped her.

“The master bedroom is downstairs.”

The master bedroom was upstairs, but considering that she was pregnant, it was not safe for her to go upstairs or downstairs, so he changed the room.

Chapter 1146: Pregnancy

He spoke as he opened the door for her.

Gu Weiwei followed her in. The furnishings of the room were similar to the master bedroom of Landscape Villa, and the wedding pictures they had taken were even hung up in the bedroom.

“Is this appropriate?”

“Why not?” Fu Hanzheng countered.

Apart from her, he would never have any wedding pictures with anyone else.

From the beginning to the end, Mrs. Fu would only be her.

Next to the master bedroom was the walk-in closet, which was already filled with all kinds of maternity clothes and comfortable flat shoes.

Gu Weiwei looked around the master bedroom and then turned to the room next to the master bedroom. The room was decorated in a lovely pink and blue color. There were two baby beds and a pile of baby products inside.

Basically, apart from baby milk powder and other food, everything else was available.

“Everything I can think of has been bought, anything else?”

“What am I supposed to do when you have everything?” Gu Weiwei asked.

“Just rest well and wait for the delivery,” Fu Hanzheng said.

Gu Weiwei glanced at the things in the nursery and thought of the master bedroom next to her.

“Are you saying that they can stay here when the child is born?”

“You need to learn how to be independent when you are older,” Fu Hanzheng said.

Gu Weiwei touched the cot and asked with a smile, “So, are you going to let the child learn to sleep alone after a month?”

Fu Hanzheng thought for a while. “Fu Shiyi and Fu Shiqin used to be like this when they were young. The books say that it is better for children to sleep in cribs.”

When a child slept with an adult, the air they breathed would be filled with the carbon dioxide that an adult breathed out, and it was easy for them to be affected.

Most importantly, if both of them were in bed, he would not be able to sleep in that bed.

Gu Weiwei chuckled and did not argue with him. There were still a few months before the child was born.

“What is the room for?” she pointed at the door leading to another room and asked.

“The nursery teacher will live there and they can take care of the children if something happens at night,” Fu Hanzheng said and took her to the window. He pointed at another house not far away and said, “The gynecologist and the nutritionist will live there, so you can go there.”

Gu Weiwei nodded. It was just a couple of kilometers away, and they would arrive there after a walk.

It would not disturb their lives but also make it easier for her to take care of the baby.

“The normal equipment is ready, if anything weird happens, we can check it in time,” Fu Hanzheng said.

Gu Weiwei found it increasingly incredible. She had thought that he was not ready to be a father, but he had already prepared so many things.

It seemed that apart from waiting for the child to be born, there was nothing else she could do.

“Did you prepare all these things?”

“I have made a list of the preparations. I have checked the material for every piece and they are all harmless to babies and pregnant women.” Fu Hanzheng stressed.

Gu Weiwei took hold of his waist and asked with a smile, “You have prepared so many things, are you ready to be a father?”

Fu Hanzheng chuckled. “Of course.”

Although the children were not in their original plan, since she was already pregnant, she had to give birth to the child.

Maybe he could not be a perfect father yet, but he would try his best to be a good father.

Chapter 1147: New Home in Dubai 2

Gu Weiwei had not expected that Fu Hanzheng, who was so busy at work, would have prepared everything needed for the child’s birth.

There were even many things that she, as the mother, had not thought of preparing.

“So far, you are a qualified father-to-be.”

Fu Hanzheng was a cold man who did not show much passion towards anyone, not even the Fu Family.

Fu Shiyi and Fu Shiqin understood this very well.

But for her and their child, he was indeed very considerate.

Fu Hanzheng lowered his head and kissed her forehead. “You are the one suffering the most.”

In just a few months, she had experienced all kinds of physical discomfort. He read that when she was giving birth, she would experience the pain of having ten ribs broken.

Just thinking of that scene made him shiver.

Especially when Fu Shiyi and Fu Shiqin were born, and his mother had a close call.

When he thought of these things, he was not happy about the children’s arrival, but worried.

He could not share the discomfort and pain she had to go through from the moment she was pregnant to the moment she gave birth.

Therefore, he had to do his best.

Gu Weiwei shook her head. "You think too highly of children."

She remembered that when he read the book about childbirth not too long ago, he had looked serious when it mentioned the possible danger.

What she was most worried about was not what would happen to her on the day of childbirth, but that he would be frightened.

"Isn't it scary?" Fu Hanzheng asked.

Gu Weiwei chuckled. "I have died before, why should I be afraid of children?"

Fu Hanzheng stayed silent. As she said, she had died once, what was there to be afraid of?

Although she had already gotten over this matter, she could mention it in such a relaxed tone.

However, he thought of how he knew nothing about what had happened to her. After she came to his side, she often had nightmares at night and he did not take good care of her.

Seeing his strange expression, Gu Weiwei thought of what she had said that had hit his sensitive nerves.

"I have forgotten everything about the past. Why can't you see it?"

The past was nothing to her, and she did not even want to waste any more time thinking about it.

What she cared about was the future with him.

And the two children they were about to give birth to.

"Let's go and check out the other rooms." Fu Hanzheng did not want to talk about this unpleasant topic with her any more.

He was very glad that she had let go of the past, but whenever he thought about it, he would always feel regretful that he had not met her earlier.

He loved her deeply, but he had never seen the real her.

After visiting the master bedroom and the nursery, Fu Hanzheng showed her the small study on the first floor.

"You can read books, listen to music or watch movies you like."

Gu Weiwei looked around and found that the study was decorated in a very cozy way, mostly because of her preferences.

"What about your work?"

In the capital, he usually had to finish some work in the study in order to spend time with her.

But this study was so small and full of things for her.

"There is a large study upstairs, so my work will not affect your rest. Also, it is not convenient for you to go upstairs and downstairs, so I have prepared a small study for you on the first floor," Fu Hanzheng said as he helped her upstairs.

Chapter 1148: Birth Here?

Apart from Fu Hanzheng's study, one of the servants' rooms was empty.

"The layout of the rooms on the first floor is indeed not as good as those upstairs, but you are progressing in your pregnancy, so the first floor is more convenient and safer."

After seeing the upstairs, Fu Hanzheng helped her downstairs.

"Good thinking," Gu Weiwei said happily.

She would be very tired after two more months.

Also, if she missed a step and fell, that would be terrible.

Therefore, it was most reasonable and considerate of him to be safe.

"Do you want to take a rest or go to the doctor?" Fu Hanzheng asked.

Before they came, they had already arranged for the gynecologist, nutritionist and nurse to see her.

"Let's go and take a look. I have been on the plane for hours and I want to do something." Gu Weiwei chuckled.

Fu Hanzheng took her to another house not far away and pressed the doorbell, when someone opened the door.

They were very familiar with the doctor, Doctor Liu from the gynecology department of He Chi's hospital.

"Mrs. Fu, how was your trip? Are you feeling unwell?"

"Nothing, I am fine now," Gu Weiwei replied.

She had been on the plane for more than seven hours and she was definitely not feeling well. But after resting for a while, she recovered.

Doctor Liu showed her to the consultation room. There were all kinds of equipment needed for the gynecology department.

Gu Weiwei whispered to Fu Hanzheng, "So... you want me to have children here?"

"This is a place for examination and preparation." Fu Hanzheng chuckled and said, "Three kilometers away is the Prince's private hospital. I have told him about it."

Although everything was prepared, the medical staff and some medical resources were not sufficient.

Therefore, she still went to the hospital for prenatal checkups and after the child was born, she and the child would do some physical examinations.

They took her to the medical room and then the yoga room. The teacher was a middle-aged woman who had taken great care of herself.

He showed her the classroom as he said, "We are mainly doing some postnatal exercises, to promote blood circulation and improve sleep. When the child is born, we can do some postnatal exercises."

Gu Weiwei nodded in satisfaction. The medical room and the yoga room were on the first floor, and the second floor was left for them to rest in.

Doctor Liu and the nutritionist knew about their relationship, so they were not surprised.

Ms. Yu Jia knew that she was hired to teach Mrs. Fu about yoga during pregnancy and postnatal health training, but she had not expected that Mu Weiwei, the Movie Queen, would be so popular in the film industry.

But she did not dare to gossip in front of them.

Their secret marriage was very secretive. They even had children coming and the media did not know about it.

However, when the two of them were walking together, one was handsome and cold whilst the other was pretty and lovely. They looked very cute together.

But Fu Hanzheng, who had always been cold and noble on economic news, was so gentle and attentive in front of his wife.

If she had not seen it with her own eyes, she would not have believed it.

Chapter 1149: The Joke Was True

Gu Weiwei asked the teacher who was staring at her and Fu Hanzheng, "When can I start to learn it?"

"We can do it tomorrow." The teacher came back to herself and agreed.

She would need a few days to digest such a huge piece of information in front of her.

Those gossip magazines had been gossiping about Mu Weiwei and Fu Shiyi, and she had thought that she was with Fu Shiyi.

Only now did she realize that she was with Fu Hanzheng and Fu Shiyi was just her brother-in-law.

Although this was a shocking piece of news in the entertainment industry and even in the entire Hua Land, she had to keep it a secret from her family.

This was the confidentiality agreement she signed with this job. If anything was revealed, not only herself but also her family would be affected.

But the job gave her a very high salary and the work was very relaxing.

"When is the right time?" Gu Weiwei asked.

"Around eight in the morning, before breakfast. It is not good to exercise after the meal," the teacher said.

"Okay, I will start tomorrow morning," Gu Weiwei said.

Although she wanted to take a walk by the sea with Fu Hanzheng and have breakfast together.

However, she also knew that he had just arrived and there were too many things he needed to make a decision on with the new project in Dubai.

So if she found what she needed to do as soon as possible, he could focus on his work.

She did not return to their villa with Fu Hanzheng until she had talked with the teacher.

Fu Hanzheng saw her off and said as he checked the time, "Take a rest at home, I need to go to the company at the Dubai branch."

According to the work plan, he should have devoted himself to work today, but he was delayed because she was in Paris.

"Go, I want to sleep too."

Fu Hanzheng got changed into a suit, took hold of her and kissed her on the face.

"I will try my best to come home early."

Of course he wanted to come here and stay with her all the time.

But although work was an excuse for him to stay here, he still had to do his best.

Gu Weiwei saw him off and checked around the house, only to find that she had nothing else to do.

The luggage had already been delivered and the servants had already unpacked it.

Feeling bored, she went into the nursery and curiously sized up the baby's clothes and hats. The more she looked at them, the more she loved them.

She spent the entire afternoon in the nursery, looking and touching the things. She could not wait to see how they would look after they were born.

Fu Hanzheng did not return until eight at night, when he found that the master bedroom was empty and the bed did not look like it had been slept in before.

Then he went to the nursery next door and saw her playing with the toys happily on the sofa.

"Didn't you say that you wanted to rest?"

"It is so fun in here, I forgot about it," Gu Weiwei said with a smile.

She had no idea that children's toys could be so interesting.

Fu Hanzheng sat down next to her and said with amusement, "Then when I buy toys for the children in the future, should I buy one for my wife too?"

Gu Weiwei pressed the button to silence the seahorse and said with a smile, "I think we can."

Of course, she was just joking.

However, Fu Hanzheng took it seriously.

From then on, he would buy her a portion of whatever he bought for the two children, including on their birthdays.

She had been laughed at for years.

Chapter 1150: You

Fu Hanzheng found it very funny when he saw his childish wife, who was already a mother.

“You have time to play in the future, have dinner first,” he said as he removed the toy from her hands.

Gu Weiwei followed him to the dining room. She was no longer suffering from morning sickness and her appetite was much better than before.

Her meals were all made according to the nutritionist’s recipes and were well-balanced.

Ever since she stopped vomiting, she had been eating twice as much as before.

Fu Hanzheng had put down the bowl and chopsticks when he saw her eating happily.

“You have such a good appetite these days?”

Gu Weiwei pursed her lips and asked, “Am I eating too much?”

Recently, she clearly felt that she could eat more.

After she got pregnant and stopped working, she gradually became able to eat and sleep more, almost living like a pig.

“You should eat more, it is not that I can’t support you,” Fu Hanzheng said as he helped her with the food.

Gu Weiwei continued to eat and did not put down the chopsticks until she was full.

Fu Hanzheng checked the time and gave her a coat.

“Going out for a walk?”

Gu Weiwei nodded. “Okay.”

She had eaten so much, so it was time for her to move around.

Fu Hanzheng took her hand and they went for a walk on the private beach. The sea breeze felt a bit cold.

“Cold?”

“No.” Gu Weiwei chuckled and teased the man next to her. “Do you think that after being with me, you are becoming more and more like an ordinary person?”

He had been a cold and arrogant tycoon in the business world, but now he was a man who took care of his wife and children. He was getting more and more normal.

It was way too demeaning to his cold and distant image.

“Of course not, every day with you around is not ordinary,” Fu Hanzheng said sweetly.

Gu Weiwei chuckled and stopped.

“Oh, how extraordinary.”

“It is just like... a lake that is covered in ice and has no sunlight. One day, the sun will shine into it and the ice will melt and the warmth will always be there.”

Fu Hanzheng smiled gently.

Hearing his words, Gu Weiwei took hold of him and corrected him.

“You are my sunshine and my salvation.”

If it had not been for Fu Hanzheng, she would have devoted herself to revenge and hated the world.

But this man had crushed the wall of her heart and warmed her entire world.

Fu Hanzheng brushed away her messy hair. “We don’t need to talk about this now.”

They knew very well that they were each other’s true love.

“True.” Gu Weiwei smiled.

With her in his arms, Fu Hanzheng continued to walk along the beach and started to talk about breakfast tomorrow.

“If you are going to class early in the morning, I may not be able to wait for you for breakfast.”

She couldn’t go to class after breakfast, but he would have to go to the company before she finished the class.

So there was no time for breakfast together.

Gu Weiwei thought for a while. “Should I quit?”

With how busy he was at work, the time they could spend together was probably the same as the time when they were in the capital.

“Go and learn, it is good for you,” Fu Hanzheng said.

Pregnancy was a very tiring thing, and proper exercise would be very beneficial for her.

They could not ignore such an important matter just for breakfast.
