

MY HIDDEN 1191

Chapter 1191: Peace

They watched Gu Weiwei following the medical staff into the operation room and the moment the door was closed, Fu Hanzheng and the others were deeply worried.

Within ten minutes, Fu Hanzheng had checked the time three times.

Fu Shiyi and Fu Shiqin were pacing back and forth outside the room, whilst He Chi was playing with his phone calmly.

“She has only been in there for ten minutes and the anesthesia has just started. The operation itself has not even started and you are already in such a hurry?”

“She is not your sister-in-law, you are just standing there!” Fu Shiyi snapped.

He Chi glanced at them and said, “I am sitting and talking.”

Doctor Liu was one of the best gynecologists in the capital and the entire Hua Land, and she had done numerous operations.

But they were still worried about her medical skills.

Fu Shiyi and Fu Shiqin were still anxiously pacing back and forth in front of the operation room. Nothing must happen to the mother and the children.

They walked back and forth, making Fu Hanzheng annoyed. He threw a cold look at them.

“Sit down, you two!”

Startled, Fu Shiyi and Fu Shiqin sat down in the chair and placed their hands upon their knees obediently.

But after he sat down, Fu Shiqin glanced at the man next to him.

“What are you shaking for?”

Fu Shiyi threw a look at the man’s shaking feet. “You are shaking too.”

His brother looked very calm. He did not walk back and forth like them, nor did his hands and feet tremble. He just looked very serious.

The last time he saw him like this was when his sister-in-law was kidnapped by Gu Siting and disappeared at the film festival.

He Chi glanced at them speechlessly and lost the mood to play with his phone.

“She is not as nervous as you are, right?”

Compared to them, Gu Weiwei had the best mentality.

“Shut up, I don’t want to hear anything from you,” Fu Shiqin said impatiently.

He Chi stood up. "Can I leave?"

He had nothing to do with it anyway, so why did he have to wait here with them?

"No, you must stay here before my sister-in-law comes out." Fu Shiqin stopped He Chi from leaving.

Of course they hoped that sister-in-law and the two children would be safe, but if anything happened, they would need He Chi.

So he could not let him go yet.

He Chi sat down and threw a look at Fu Hanzheng who had been silent.

He would be heart-broken if his wife lost a strand of hair, but now he was getting children through a cesarean section.

But wasn't that how women were like? Those who had a natural childbirth were suffering more than his wife.

Half an hour later, Fu Shiqin could not sit still any more.

"It has been more than half an hour, why is there no news?"

He Chi checked the time and said, "According to the usual cesarean section, the children should be out now and doing the examination."

They were the only ones who had a cesarean section today and everyone in the hospital was serving Gu Weiwei and the two children who were about to be born. They were so impatient that they could not wait any longer.

Another ten minutes passed and Fu Shiyi complained.

"It has been forty minutes, why is she still inside?"

He Chi could not stand them any more. He took out the earplugs he had prepared and sat down with his arms crossed.

Fifty minutes after Gu Weiwei entered the operation room, two nurses came out with a baby each.

"President Fu, the mother and children are safe."

Chapter 1192: Peace 2

Fu Shiyi and Fu Shiqin both felt relieved.

Then they approached the two babies who were just born and were fast asleep.

The children had small faces and small hands, the size of a kitten.

Fu Shiqin and Fu Shiyi were so excited that they wanted to carry the children, but seeing that the children were so small, they were worried that they would hurt them.

"Is it a boy or a girl?"

The nurse gestured at the two children and said, "This is a boy."

Another nurse said, "This is a girl."

Fu Shiyi and Fu Shiqin were very excited. "Both a boy and a girl! Great, we have a nephew and a niece!"

Fu Hanzheng glanced at the two children and asked the two nurses, "Where is my wife?"

"We need to observe for half an hour before coming out. Doctor Liu says that you can go in and keep her company," the nurse said.

Having heard these words, Fu Hanzheng walked into the operation room, changed into a protective suit and went into the operating room where Gu Weiwei was.

Seeing him coming in, Doctor Liu stood up and said, "Everything is going well. For safety's sake, she needs to stay here and be observed for half an hour before returning to the ward."

Fu Hanzheng looked at the pale woman on the operation table and felt his heart breaking.

He took hold of her hand and found that the hand was cold.

"Why is her body temperature so low?"

"The temperature of the operation room is low, in case of infection during the surgery, she will recover soon when we return to the ward." Doctor Liu answered his question as she looked at the monitoring data of the instruments.

Gu Weiwei smiled when she saw the man.

"Did you see the babies?"

Fu Hanzheng nodded. "Yes."

"Very cute, right?" Gu Weiwei asked with a smile.

"Yes, very cute."

Fu Hanzheng held her cold hands tightly and felt his eyes turning bitter.

In the past, she had always thought that he was invulnerable to everything in the world.

But her appearance always touched the softest part of his heart.

Seeing his concern, Gu Weiwei said with a smile, "They are very capable and healthy."

However, she had only glanced at the children briefly before they were carried away for a checkup.

Fu Hanzheng nodded with a smile and touched her pale face.

"Thank you, brave Mrs. Fu."

He was too easy a father and she was too difficult a mother.

Gu Weiwei smiled proudly. She had been worried about the two babies since she was pregnant and she had experienced all kinds of physical discomfort during the pregnancy. But the moment she saw the two babies, everything was worth it.

But when she saw the man who was worried about her, she felt both sweet and concern for him.

“I am fine, don’t worry.”

Fu Hanzheng nodded and held her hands tightly.

“Want to sleep for a while?”

Gu Weiwei shook her head. “I missed you for a very long time and then you came.”

It seemed that she had been here for less than an hour, but every minute felt very long.

She thought that it was the same for him who was waiting outside.

Fu Hanzheng smiled and kissed the back of her hand, looking very gentle.

“I miss you too.”

As he waited for the operation to finish, he could not help but think of what had happened since they met.

Gu Weiwei smiled brightly. “Fu Hanzheng, have I not told you that I love you for such a long time?”

“No need to say anything, I know,” Fu Hanzheng said.

Without words, he knew from her eyes, her smile and everything in front of him that she loved him.

Chapter 1193: I Love You

The operation room, which had been cold, suddenly felt warm and sweet.

Maybe there were many feelings in this world and many things that made love so profound.

But it was far from the case between them. From the day they decided on each other, no one wanted to give up on each other or hurt each other’s hearts because of anything.

Therefore, even though the wedding was stopped and they were divorced, they still loved each other deeply and did not feel worried about each other.

Because they knew that the person they loved loved them, and they did not need to suspect anything.

Gu Weiwei looked deeply at the man next to her and said sincerely, “You know, but I still want to say that I love you.”

Fu Hanzheng smiled brightly. “You are my heart.”

Sitting next to him, Doctor Liu was forced to watch their love show.

Finally, when the observation time was over, she reminded the two of them who were in love as if no one else was around.

“President Fu, Madam’s observation time is over, you can push her back to the ward.”

The operation was successful and the mother and children were safe, so her mission was completed.

Doctor Liu and several nurses came over to help. They tidied up the equipment and carried the patient to the ward. Then they pushed her into the elevator and went upstairs to the ward.

When she was finally settled in the ward, she said to Fu Hanzheng and the nurses, "You can drink water in six hours. You can then go into semi-food tomorrow and you must take care of the wound."

"As for what you can and can't eat, the nutritionist will make good arrangements."

Fu Hanzheng took note of everything and allowed Doctor Liu to take a rest.

Gu Weiwei returned to the ward and asked as the medical staff settled everything down, "Where are the babies?"

"They went to clean them and get them dressed. They will be here soon," Fu Hanzheng said with a gentle voice.

Hearing the words, Gu Weiwei waited patiently, feeling very glad that she had become a mother for the first time.

A long while later, Fu Shiyi, Fu Shiqin and two nurses came back with the children and the nurse placed the children in the bed with Gu Weiwei.

Seeing the crowded sickbed, Fu Hanzheng asked worriedly, "Can you put them in the cot?"

"Well, it is best for the new babies to stay by their mother's side, so that they can have a sense of security and enhance their mother and child relationship." The nurse reminded him.

Fu Shiqin protested too.

"Brother, they were born less than two hours ago, and you are not letting them stay by their mom's side. That is too cruel."

Seeing her looking at the two children with gentle eyes, Fu Hanzheng could not object anymore.

Fu Shiyi and Fu Shiqin mumbled as they stared at the two sleeping babies, "Why are they sleeping?"

"The first month of babies is spent mostly sleeping." He Chi squinted at them and snorted. "What do you think? You want them to open their eyes and play with you?"

However, Fu Shiyi and Fu Shiqin totally ignored He Chi and looked at the two boys excitedly.

"How can they be so amazing? They are so small and yet they have a nose and eyes, and their hands and feet are so perfect?"

"You two don't want them to be perfect?" He Chi asked curiously.

If it was not perfect, then something would happen to them.

Fu Shiyi stared at the two children for a long while, then looked at Gu Weiwei and then at his brother.

"Brother, sister-in-law, should we name the children?"

Chapter 1194: Brother and Sister

Gu Weiwei and Fu Hanzheng exchanged a look and she said with a smile, "I suggest naming them Youyou and Tiantian."

"Youyou, Tiantian, not bad." Fu Shiyi nodded and asked, "Where are your name suggestions?"

"None yet," Fu Hanzheng said.

"..." Fu Shiyi's lips twitched. Brother, you are such a terrible father!

"It is okay now, just use the nickname," Gu Weiwei said as she sized up the two babies – she just could not get enough of them.

The nurse stood by the side for a long while and reminded Fu Shiqin, when she saw that they were not going out.

"Madam, if you are well rested, you can breastfeed the child."

"Breastfeed?" Fu Shiqin asked in astonishment.

He Chi yawned and urged.

"Let's go, are you going to watch your sister-in-law breastfeeding the child?"

Fu Shiyi and Fu Shiqin exchanged a look and left.

This was not something they could watch. If they stayed here, they would be flayed alive and sent to hell.

Fu Shiyi and Fu Shiqin went out, leaving only Fu Hanzheng and two other female nurses in the ward.

Fu Hanzheng carefully lifted the blanket for her, unbuttoned her clothes and carried the child into her arms with the nurse.

"Watch out for the wound."

"Okay," Gu Weiwei answered and looked at the child in her arms.

With the help of two nurses, she finally completed the first breastfeeding of the two children.

"Mom can touch the baby more. Newborns need to stay by their mother's side when they are born, so they can feel their mother's heartbeat and breath. Only then will they feel safe."

Gu Weiwei smiled and touched the babies' tender faces.

"They are so soft, touch them."

Fu Hanzheng reached out for his son's head and felt the incredibly soft touch, making his heart soften.

The younger daughter Tiantian moved in the blanket and Gu Weiwei could not help but smile.

"Look at her..."

Fu Hanzheng touched his daughter's soft face. "Too small and soft."

They were so soft that he was afraid that he would crush them.

"It will change when the moon is full," Gu Weiwei whispered.

Fu Hanzheng looked at her. "How do you know that?"

"I heard about it when I was studying with the nurses," Gu Weiwei said.

The two of them were talking when the youngest daughter snorted.

The nurse lifted the blanket and said with a smile, "She needs her nappy changing."

Having said these words, she carried the child to the bed and was about to change the diaper.

"I am going over there for a while," Fu Hanzheng said to Gu Weiwei, got up and followed her.

Then he carefully watched every step of the nurse and memorized them.

The nurse changed the baby and carried her to Gu Weiwei's bed. The little girl felt better after having her diaper changed and went back to sleep.

Gu Weiwei looked at Fu Hanzheng mockingly. "What, you want to learn how to change diapers?"

"Just in case," Fu Hanzheng said.

He had said that he hoped that the children could be taken care of more by him. If he learned these things well, she would not be able to help him in the future because he wouldn't need it.

Gu Weiwei chuckled. Although it was a bit weird for him to change diapers with his expensive hands, she did not object.

They could spend money to let others take care of their children and they could relax, but she felt that they would lose out on a lot of fun being with their children.

Therefore, when she recovered, she hoped that they could take care of the two children together.

Chapter 1195: Dad

After Fu Shiyi and Fu Shiqin were driven out, they could go in again.

They were crouching outside the ward, when Fu Shiyi mumbled anxiously, "Oh, I want to see the babies."

"Me too..." Fu Shiqin leaned against the door and heard the noise inside. He wanted to go in but he was afraid of offending his brother.

"If you want children so badly, get married and have one yourself." He Chi suggested to them.

Their brother was not as excited as they were as uncles, it was as if they were their children.

Fu Shiyi squinted at him. "It's not as fun as being with my brother's children!"

"Exactly."

Fu Shiqin expressed his approval as he watched the video he had just made.

Sister-in-law had two babies, and he could already imagine his brother's future marriage.

The two children took turns pestering their mother and it was impossible for his brother to interfere.

Hearing the voices, Fu Shiyi leaned forward.

“Ah, you filmed it! I missed it!”

Then the uncle, who could not go in to watch the two children, leaned forward and watched the video on his phone.

He Chi knew that nothing would happen to them, so he went back to sleep.

In the ward, Fu Hanzheng stayed with Gu Weiwei and the two children.

The two nurses also stayed in the ward and took care of the two children.

Seeing her staring at the two children, Fu Hanzheng tried to persuade her to rest.

“The nurses and I will take care of them, take a rest.”

“I am a bit too excited about being a mother, so I can’t sleep.” Gu Weiwei looked at the two children and said with a smile, “I can’t believe that I have become a mother if I stop looking at them.”

Fu Hanzheng did not know whether to laugh or cry, so he let her be.

“They are both here, they won’t run away.”

Actually, she was not the only one who was in such a mood. He was also in a similar mood.

If he had not seen these two little children, he would not have believed that he was already a father.

Although he had known that she was pregnant and he was waiting for her to give birth, the children were still in her belly and he could not see or touch them. He did not have such a deep feeling about being a father.

Half an hour later, the servants of the villa delivered the food according to Fu Hanzheng’s orders.

Fu Shiyi and Fu Shiqin, who had been waiting outside, took the things and entered the room when they saw the servant.

“Brother, sister-in-law, dinner is here.”

Fu Hanzheng checked the time. According to Doctor Liu’s order, it was already past the fasting time.

Also, the rice paste was delivered by the servant.

He scooped some rice paste, blew on it and fed it to Gu Weiwei.

Fu Shiyi and Fu Shiqin put the food on the table and their expressions sank when they saw that there was only one serving of rice and one set of cutlery.

“Brother, why is there only one serving? What are we eating?”

“There is a restaurant in the hospital,” Fu Hanzheng said coldly.

He could not even take care of his wife and children, so he had no time to care about them.

Gu Weiwei ate half a bowl and shook her head because she had no appetite.

“I don’t want to eat anymore, go and eat.”

Fu Hanzheng remembered that the doctor told her not to eat too much in one go, so he did not force her to continue.

“Then take a rest. If you don’t rest well, the wound will not recover.”

“Got it.” Gu Weiwei agreed.

She also hoped that she could recover as soon as possible so that she could carry the two babies herself.

Chapter 1196: Shared Deal

Fu Shiyi and Fu Shiqin had no food to eat, so when their brother was eating, they went over to the bedside to visit their nephew and niece.

They kept taking pictures and videos.

Fu Shiyi accidentally turned on the flash and was lectured by Fu Shiqin.

“Get out of my sight, you are hurting my eyes!”

Fu Shiyi switched off the flash. “Are they sleeping?”

“What if you hurt sister-in-law’s eyes?” Fu Shiqin said.

Fu Shiyi could not argue back, so he focused on the video.

Gu Weiwei saw Fu Shiyi taking pictures with the phone, and Fu Shiqin was taking pictures with the phone in one hand and the video in the other.

“Are you done?”

“Sister-in-law, I have to go home tomorrow, so I must take more pictures to look at later,” Fu Shiqin said.

If his brother stayed here to keep his wife and children company, the company would send him numerous things.

Therefore, he could not stay here for long.

If he filmed more memories now, he would be able to watch them when he returned home.

Otherwise, who knew when he would visit his nephew and niece again.

“I am smart enough to not have any work this week, so I am not leaving tomorrow,” Fu Shiyi said proudly.

Hearing their words, Gu Weiwei did not stop the two uncles.

After all, he and Fu Shiqin had done a great deal for them.

Without Fu Shiqin’s support at the company, Fu Hanzheng would not have been so relaxed.

Fu Hanzheng ate a simple dinner in the ward and said to the two people, who had been taking pictures for more than half an hour, "You can leave now."

"No, I want to see my nephew and niece," Fu Shiqin said willfully.

He was leaving tomorrow and he was not allowed to look at them any more. That was so inhumane.

The nurse said, "Sorry, the babies need breastfeeding."

Fu Shiyi and Fu Shiqin exchanged a look, packed up their brother's tableware and left.

They two failed to eat anything and decided to drive back to the villa for dinner.

The moment they returned, they showed off the pictures and videos they had taken.

"Look, no matter how long his nose and mouth are, he will definitely resemble our brother."

"Look, he clapped his hands and feet."

"Damn, I didn't even get any pictures. Send me."

"No, hehe."

...

He Chi, who came home before them, could not even eat well when he saw the two idiots.

During dinner, they showed off their achievements.

In order to get the pictures and videos taken by Fu Shiqin, Fu Shiyi shared what he had taken with Fu Shiqin.

"Are you going to the hospital later?"

"It is none of your business!" He Chi glared at them and asked, "Will your brother let you disturb sister-in-law's rest and stay in the room to watch the child?"

The nutritionists were at the hospital and Doctor Liu and the caregivers were waiting for them. What did they have to do with each other?

Fu Shiyi and Fu Shiqin exchanged a look and thought that it made sense, so they gave up the idea of going to the hospital with him.

However, in order to visit his nephew and niece before flying home in the afternoon, Fu Shiqin asked Fu Shiyi and He Chi to go to the hospital together on his behalf.

"Third Brother, remember to share with me the pictures and videos you take, when I am home."

"Got it," Fu Shiyi replied impatiently.

"More than 30 a day." Fu Shiqin made a request.

"Are you trying to get me killed by our brother?" Fu Shiyi complained.

If he kept taking pictures of the two children with his phone, his brother would kill him.

Chapter 1197: A Man Who Loves His Wife

When He Chi arrived at the hospital with the twins he ran into Doctor Liu who was checking on Gu Weiwei and the two children.

After seeing the two children, she asked Gu Weiwei some questions.

“Let’s get out of bed.”

Gu Weiwei was startled. Although she was using the painkillers, she still found it difficult to get out of bed.

“She is injured,” Fu Hanzheng said coldly.

Frightened, Doctor Liu shrank her shoulders and turned to He Chi for help.

He Chi sighed helplessly and explained to Fu Hanzheng.

“It is because of the wound that she has to get out of bed. If she does not move after the surgery, her intestines will get stuck and cause obstruction.”

Hearing the words, Fu Hanzheng threw a look at his feeble wife and wondered if he should get her off the bed.

“Can’t we wait two more days?”

“Of course.” He Chi smiled and said, “But if there are adhesion obstructions, we can just cut a few more holes in your wife’s belly and let her experience the laparoscopic surgery.”

Gu Weiwei said resolutely, “Help me down.”

She had already fed the child, so she could get out of bed now.

The nurse carried the two children and stood aside. Fu Hanzheng helped her off the bed and tried not to touch the wound on her belly.

Fu Shiyi helped his brother to get her off the bed.

But Gu Weiwei was already sweating when she got off the bed.

With one hand holding her in his arms, Fu Hanzheng took over the napkin from Fu Shiqin and wiped off the sweat on her forehead.

“Hang on, she should leave the bed when she feels she can.”

Fu Shiyi glared at He Chi. “The operation only took place yesterday, it is so cruel of you to get her out of bed today.”

“Don’t glare at me if you don’t know anything,” He Chi said.

There were many patients who were even more seriously injured than her. As long as she could move after the surgery, she had to get out of bed the following day.

They were not doing this to torment the patient, but to help the patient recover quickly.

She was injured in the stomach and now she was using the pain pump, which was already very relaxing for her.

But Fu Hanzheng, who loved his wife dearly, regarded this small matter as a huge problem.

Gu Weiwei got off the bed and leaned herself against Fu Hanzheng for a while, took a deep breath and said, "Let's go."

Fu Hanzheng supported her and walked step by step with her, whilst Fu Shiyi walked on the other side with the infusion bottle.

"If you can't do it, stop and rest. Don't worry."

"It is okay."

Gu Weiwei smiled and let him walk her back and forth in the long corridor of the hospital.

The scenery outside the window at the end of the corridor was not bad. Every time they walked over, they would stand by the window and admire the scenery.

"I need to stay at the hospital for one more week. You need to deal with work too, you don't have to stay here all the time."

No matter how thorough his arrangements were, it would not allow him to not show up at the company for more than ten days.

"I will go there when you recover," Fu Hanzheng said.

She could not even get out of bed herself and she still had two children to take care of. How could he leave at this moment?

Gu Weiwei nodded. "Alright."

Actually, with so many people taking care of her at the hospital, it was totally fine if he did not stay here.

But she also knew that with his worries about her, he would not be able to deal with work.

Chapter 1198: A Man Who Loves His Wife 2

Fu Hanzheng was doing postoperative exercises with Gu Weiwei in the corridor whilst Fu Shiyi was holding the infusion bottle and standing next to them in silence.

Since Fu Shiqin was leaving, he stayed in the ward and looked at the two babies unwillingly.

He took pictures of them and squatted down to take a picture with the baby when the baby was in the arms of the nurse. He looked so funny that He Chi could not bear to look at him.

"Can I hold them?"

The nurse thought for a while and said, "Sure, but you must watch out for their heads and spine. Children are very soft when they are just born, and if you don't hold them well, you may hurt their bones or suffocate them."

Fu Shiqin cursed. "Then... I better not hold them."

Although he really wanted to hold her, the child was too young for him to do that.

“Look at you.” He Chi snorted.

Fu Shiqin gave up the idea of holding the children and touched the two babies’ soft hands excitedly.

“Little Youyou, Little Tiantian, Second Uncle is going back to work. I will visit you when I have time.”

“They can’t hear or understand.” He Chi reminded him rationally.

Fu Shiqin’s good mood was ruined and he glared at him.

“Shut up.”

“I won the bet, don’t forget to cash it in.” He Chi reminded him with a smile.

At the beginning, they had bet on whether Gu Weiwei was pregnant with a boy or a girl. But when they found out that it was the twins, they made a new bet and only the possibility of it being both a boy and a girl was elected by him.

“If you win, you win.”

Fu Shiqin was in a good mood after being promoted to Second Uncle, so he did not argue with He Chi.

Fu Hanzheng helped Gu Weiwei move about in the corridor for one hour, then helped her back to the ward and helped her into the bed.

“Does the wound hurt?”

“No,” Gu Weiwei said with a smile.

She had just laid down in bed when Doctor Liu came over with the nurse.

“It’s time to get the wound bandages changed.”

Fu Shiqin and Fu Shiyi went out to avoid suspicion from Fu Hanzheng and dragged He Chi away.

Doctor Liu lifted her clothes by the bedside, revealing the wound on her belly. Then she carefully removed the gauze and the tape.

Since Fu Hanzheng was watching her, she was very careful with every move.

Normally, the nurse would be the one doing the dressing, but she could not push the responsibility to the nurse. She had to do it herself.

Fu Hanzheng’s heart skipped a beat when he saw the hideous wound on her belly.

Although he knew that she had a cesarean section, he did not see the wound when she came out yesterday. She had just looked a bit weak and pale.

Now that he saw the wound, he felt even more heart-broken.

It was such a long wound but she kept saying that it did not hurt. How could it not hurt?

Doctor Liu was quick and soon got the dressing changed.

“Take care of yourself, take good care of your health and eat well. You will recover soon.”

This was almost a very simple cesarean section surgery since she was a doctor, but it was also the first surgery that had put her under the biggest mental pressure since she had become a doctor.

Fu Hanzheng was so intimidating that one look or word from him could make her frightened.

“Thanks, Doctor Liu.” Gu Weiwei thanked her sincerely.

Fu Hanzheng’s anxiety had made Doctor Liu very stressed.

Luckily, when she was discharged and recovered next week, she could finally leave and go home.

Chapter 1199: Second Uncle

“It is what I should do.” After changing the medicine, Doctor Liu measured her blood pressure. “You are young now. After the wound recovers, use some ointment to heal the scar and the scar will soon be gone.”

Fu Hanzheng had arranged so many people to take care of her, so everything would go smoothly after she was discharged.

“Okay, I will be careful,” Gu Weiwei answered with a smile.

Although the scar was on her belly and no one would see it normally, she still had to think of a way to remove the scar, in case a certain someone would be traumatized.

“Also, try your best to breastfeed the babies, so they can recover,” Doctor Liu said gently.

Gu Weiwei nodded. She knew that breast milk was good for the babies.

So that was what she had planned.

Doctor Liu stressed a series of things before bowing to Fu Hanzheng and leaving with the nurse.

The moment they went out, the nurse said as she patted her heart, “President Fu is so gentle to Mrs. Fu, but he seems to have changed his expression when he talks to us.”

When he was taking care of his wife in the corridor, he looked as gentle as the spring breeze in March.

But when facing them, and even his two children, his tone and temperament were as cold as winter.

“That is his wife, how can it be the same?” Doctor Liu glanced at her and warned. “Don’t mention a word about what happened here when you return home.”

She had been in the gynecology department for so many years and had seen many family members.

But no man had ever tried so hard to raise children with his wife.

With the Fu Family’s wealth, they did not need him to do these things, but Fu Hanzheng insisted on taking care of her.

This Mrs. Fu must have saved the galaxy in her previous life to be so lucky in this life.

After Doctor Liu left, Fu Shiyi checked the time and reminded Fu Shiqin.

“Second Brother, shouldn’t you leave now?”

“It is still early, let me play with them for a while more.” Fu Shiqin was still staring at the two babies by the bedside, unwilling to blink. “How did they manage to grow to this size in a human belly? That is amazing.”

Fu Shiyi glanced at He Chi. “We need to teach him about biology.”

Hearing the noise, He Chi yawned and said, “I better not bother.”

It was not that Second Brother did not know anything about biological knowledge, but he was temporarily mentally disabled and had become a Second Uncle.

Half an hour later, Fu Shiyi urged him again.

“Second Brother, you are late for the plane.”

“Oh my, no need to go there so early.” Fu Shiqin waved his hands and continued to stare at the two children.

When he returned home today, he would be so busy with work that he might not have the chance to visit them again.

And he did not know when his brother and sister-in-law would bring his nephew and niece home.

Only two hours were left before his flight, before Fu Shiqin left the hospital unwillingly.

Fu Hanzheng only said one sentence, “If any news of what happened here reaches the old mansion, then... I will deal with you two.”

“Us two?” Fu Shiyi pointed at himself and said, “What does it have to do with me?”

Fu Shiqin instantly promised. “Don’t worry, I won’t say a word.”

Although he also wanted to share this good news with someone, it was not the time to tell his family. They had agreed that there was a strategy for this matter.

Chapter 1200: Caution

Due to the heavy workload at the headquarters of Fu’s Enterprise in the capital city, Fu Shiqin stayed for two days and went home.

But Fu Shiyi and He Chi were still here.

Gu Weiwei was going to stay at the hospital for a week and Fu Hanzheng was keeping an eye on her and the two children.

Although the phone rang several times a day, he was only answering the calls when she was resting or asking Fu Shiyi to get the files that required his signature.

On the fifth day, Gu Weiwei had recovered and was able to get out of bed.

Fu Shiyi had just brought the files from the company to his brother and said to Gu Weiwei, while his brother was reading the files in the room next door, "Sister-in-law, please ask my brother to go to the company. The foundation here is not stable, and if my brother doesn't go, it will be very chaotic."

He also knew that it was not right for his brother to go to the company to deal with work, when she was still in the hospital.

But if he only cared about her staying at the hospital, something would definitely happen at the company.

The collaborators of Dubai had noticed him missing these past few days and they were already very displeased.

"So serious?" Gu Weiwei frowned.

She had urged Fu Hanzheng several times, but he was worried about her and the children and refused to leave the hospital.

"This is not the headquarters of the capital city, after all. Everyone in the company obeys my brother. This is a newly-established company and the main participant of this project is Fu's Enterprise, but there are also other collaborators. Our brother has not shown up, so they are a bit shaken." Fu Shiyi confessed what he knew.

Gu Weiwei stayed silent for a while and said, "Got it."

They had just finished their conversation, when Fu Hanzheng returned with all the files and gave them to Fu Shiyi.

"Send them to the company later."

"Yes." Fu Shiyi nodded.

If it had not been for Youyou and Tiantian, he would have left with Fu Shiqin and no one else would have been able to do anything.

The nurse changed the diaper for Tiantian and said, "Time to bathe the babies today."

"Okay, let's go together," Gu Weiwei said as she reached out for Fu Hanzheng to help her off the bed.

"I can go," Fu Hanzheng said.

"I want to take a look," Gu Weiwei said, got off the bed and was about to go with him.

The nursery teacher was holding the two children and Fu Hanzheng was holding her. Fu Shiyi and He Chi followed them and they went to the bathing place.

Gu Weiwei had wanted to wash the two children herself, but Fu Hanzheng stopped her.

"Your wound is not good, you can't bend down, let me do it."

"You?" Gu Weiwei was surprised.

"I learnt it from the nurse when they were bathing them last time."

Having said these words, Fu Hanzheng removed his coat, rolled up his sleeves and even put on a waterproof apron.

Fu Shiyi and He Chi were startled by the series of movements.

Fu Hanzheng carefully tested the water temperature and untied the blanket for Youyou. Then he carefully placed the blanket into the baby's bathtub and washed him gently.

"Is he still your brother?" He Chi poked Fu Shiyi who was dumbfounded.

Was this still the weirdly clean Fu Hanzheng?

These days, he was changing diapers for the two children.

And today, he even went so far as to bathe the two children. He even washed them so skillfully as if he had done it numerous times.

Gu Weiwei could not believe that Fu Hanzheng could be so skilled.

He was the one who said that he did not want children at the beginning, he was the one who said that he regretted having children before giving birth, and now he was the one who took care of the two children the most.
