

MY HIDDEN 1201

Chapter 1201: Love Again

A long while later, Fu Shiyi came back to himself.

“He doesn’t look like my brother.”

He had thought that his brother had changed a lot when he was in a relationship, but now he was even scarier when he was a father.

This would never have happened to his brother before.

His brother was wearing a waterproof apron with his sleeves rolled up, bathing his son professionally.

Standing next to him, Gu Weiwei saw him holding Youyou and wrapped him up with a towel.

Fu Hanzheng wrapped the child with a towel and placed him on the platform. He wiped off the water stains for him and put on some lotion, before wrapping Youyou in the blanket again.

From the beginning to the end, he did not allow the nurse to interfere.

Also, after washing and dressing his son, he started to wash Tiantian.

Fu Shiyi and He Chi both took pictures of this memorable scene and shared it with the group.

Fu Shiqin, who was far away in the capital, laughed as he saw the group chat.

Then he quickly replied: [Oh, Youyou is so chubby now, so cute!]

Fu Shiyi rolled his eyes.

[This is Tiantian!]

Fu Shiqin: [...]

The two of them looked so much alike. He had only seen them on the day they were born, so how could he tell them apart?

Also, they only took a picture of the head, how could he tell that it was a boy or a girl?

On the other side, Fu Shiyi had already finished watching his brother bathing the two children.

Fu Hanzheng helped his youngest daughter, Tiantian, to put on the small clothes and wrapped her up with the blanket. Then he removed the waterproof apron that did not match his temperament, rolled down the sleeves and put on the coat.

Then he helped Gu Weiwei back to the ward.

Gu Weiwei smiled and sized up the man next to her.

“You are such an excellent father, I am so stressed under pressure as a mother.”

Since she was injured, he did not ask her to help with anything apart from breastfeeding.

But in just a few days, he had learnt how to change diapers for the children, get them dressed, bathe them and so on.

She had never done anything like this in person.

“You are already a brave and excellent mother,” Fu Hanzheng said and kissed her forehead.

Fu Shiyi and He Chi, who were walking behind them, watched them showing off their love and pursed their lips speechlessly.

He Chi complained when the two of them walked away.

“Aren’t you tired of me after being together for so long?”

“I will never get tired of you, never in my entire life,” Fu Shiyi said.

For so many years, he had been a playboy in love. He thought that the so-called love in the world was just a way for men to lust for women’s beauty and women’s money and status.

But his brother and sister-in-law had made him believe in love.

They returned to the ward and it was time for the child to breastfeed. He Chi and Fu Shiyi went out discreetly.

Gu Weiwei said to Fu Hanzheng seriously after feeding the child, “I am much better now, you better go to work, I am fine here.”

He did not need to stay here to do these trivial matters, as long as the nursery teachers and nurses were around.

“No hurry,” Fu Hanzheng said.

“If you are not going, I will be anxious,” Gu Weiwei said.

He was a very busy man and he had been keeping her company at the hospital these past few days. It was obvious that something big would happen at the company if he didn’t go.

Chapter 1202: Two Children

However, Fu Hanzheng stayed silent for a few seconds and still did not agree.

“I will take some time to deal with it, you are not discharged yet.”

“If something big happens, won’t your family be curious about what happened?” Gu Weiwei reminded him.

Fu Hanzheng thought for a while and said, “I will deal with it tomorrow.”

Indeed, if this matter blew up, the old mansion would suspect something. After all, with his ability, such a mess should not have happened.

Then if they were curious about what happened here, they might discover her and the children.

He could only reveal the secret of her and the children to them at the right time, rather than letting them know about it first.

Hearing his agreement, Gu Weiwei said with a smile, "Don't worry, I will rest well. I will be discharged after this week."

Fu Hanzheng had promised her well. Although he would go to the company the following day, he would usually watch her take a rest and rush back to the hospital within a few hours.

Gu Weiwei felt sorry for him, but she could not stop him.

But Fu Hanzheng would not leave her and the two children at the hospital just for work.

Gu Weiwei did not listen to him but tried her best to cooperate with the doctor so that she could get well and be discharged as soon as possible, so that he could work in peace.

During the afternoon nap, Fu Hanzheng rushed to the company to deal with work and attend an important meeting, after seeing her and the children asleep.

When he left, Gu Weiwei opened her eyes and looked at the two sleeping babies, feeling very satisfied.

This man, who had been deeply in love with her, had two lovely babies with her and she had obtained the happiness that many people had pursued throughout their lives.

She was just in a daze when she suddenly thought of the phone she had not used for many days.

She asked the nurse to fetch it and Yuan Meng's voice arose.

"You should have given birth these days."

"Almost a week." Gu Weiwei confessed.

"I was wondering what happened. I called you several times but you did not answer or reply to me," Yuan Meng said and snorted. "I thought that something had happened to you, so I was going to be on my way to Dubai to see what happened."

"I was too busy to check my phone," Gu Weiwei said.

Actually, most of the time, apart from breastfeeding, she had nothing else to do but spend time with Fu Hanzheng and the children.

"Fu Hanzheng can afford a nanny, why are you so busy?" Yuan Meng snorted.

"I just think that we should take care of the children ourselves," Gu Weiwei said.

Yuan Meng chuckled and said, "If you think so now, you won't still be so naive in a month's time. Children are the cutest and most tormenting demons in this world."

Especially when they were very young, it was very normal for them to cry and make a fuss. Also, they did not seem to be able to be reasoned with when they were older.

She and Yuan Shuo had been very tired from raising a single child, let alone two of them.

"Really?" Gu Weiwei did not take it seriously.

“Oh yes, two boys or two girls?” Yuan Meng asked.

Although she knew that she was pregnant with twins, she did not know if she was pregnant with a boy or a girl.

“A boy and a girl.” Gu Weiwei confessed.

Fu Hanzheng might not want a second child.

However, she had two babies now, so she had no regrets.

Chapter 1203: Yuan Meng's Proposal

“Damn, so cool?!” Yuan Meng exclaimed.

Gu Weiwei looked at the two sleeping babies and smiled proudly.

“The elder brother is called Youyou, and the younger sister is Tiantian.”

Yuan Meng chuckled.

“Just nice, marry your daughter to my Yuan Bao, so he won't have to worry about not getting a wife when he grows up.”

“...” Gu Weiwei's lips twitched and she said, “My daughter is not even ten days old.”

Her daughter had been born for less than ten days and she was already thinking about her daughter. What was the hurry?

“It is just a verbal engagement, what about me giving you some of the betrothal presents?” Yuan Meng said anxiously.

With her and Fu Hanzheng's good looks, the child they gave birth to would not be that bad.

Therefore, Tiantian was definitely going to be a great beauty in the future. Since she had the opportunity to get close to her, she had to strike first.

Although it was a bit too early to do that.

“I am sorry, but we are not engaging them. They can only fall in love with each other,” Gu Weiwei said.

Her daughter had just been born for less than a week and she was already here talking about her daughter's marriage. That was enough.

“Don't, are we not in a relationship? You watched Yuan Bao grow up. In the future, it is better to give your daughter to Yuan Bao than to give her to other wild boys.” Hearing her rejection, Yuan Meng played the friends card.

“Anything else?” Gu Weiwei asked and said, “If not, I am hanging up.”

“Yes, yes, yes.” Yuan Meng instantly agreed.

Gu Weiwei gave up the urge to hang up. “Speak.”

“Gu Siting... cooperated with Anderson and Will Dorrans in secret and is preparing to kill Cayman,” Yuan Meng said.

Gu Weiwei stayed silent for a while and asked, “What is he going to do?”

Of course she meant Cayman Dorrans.

“He said that he is prepared. I wonder what he has prepared,” Yuan Meng said.

But that old fox had been alive and kicking for so many years.

“Where are you now?” Gu Weiwei asked.

“In Italy,” Yuan Meng said.

Actually, she was not there.

They went to find Cayman Dorrans not because they wanted to stay in Italy, but because they wanted to find out if the mysterious Chinese man who gave Gu Siting the Nine-Eyed Pearl had a direct relationship with her.

Now that Gu Siting was working with Will in secret, no one would stop him from having any ideas about Weiwei.

He knew very well that if Cayman Dorrans did not die, he would not let her approach Weiwei again.

If the Gu Family clashed with him, Fu Hanzheng and the Dorrans Family might join forces. Then the Gu Family would not be able to survive, let alone find her.

That was why he had agreed to cooperate with Will Dorrans and Anderson.

But they were not sure if he was directly related to her rebirth, so they did not dare to do anything to him.

“Then keep an eye out for his safety.”

“Got it.” Yuan Meng agreed.

That was something she should not worry about with Matthew and Watson by his side.

Now, what was most important for her and Yuan Shuo was to find out what the mysterious Chinese man had to do with her rebirth.

Otherwise, when she and Fu Hanzheng finally had a peaceful life, they would be separated because of Gu Siting.

Chapter 1204: Yuan Meng's Proposal 2

Hearing the words, Gu Weiwei stayed silent for a while and said, “How is he these days?”

She remembered that Yuan Shuo had said that Cayman Dorrans was not feeling well.

But when she came to Dubai to have her children, she barely thought of contacting them.

It had been months and she wondered if Cayman Dorrans was feeling better.

“Much better, why don’t you send some pictures of you and the children? I think he will be happier.” Yuan Meng suggested.

Because of her relationship with Fu Hanzheng and the reaction of the elders of the Fu Family, she had better not have any direct contact with Cayman Dorrans.

However, Cayman Dorrans kept thinking about her pregnancy and kept calling her and Yuan Shuo to ask if she was still pregnant.

“Okay, I will send it to you later,” Gu Weiwei said.

Yuan Meng brought it up again.

“My son Yuan Bao, are you really not thinking about letting him become your future son-in-law?”

“Goodbye.”

Gu Weiwei rang off, not wanting to talk any more.

Her son was only four years old and her own daughter had just been born a few days ago. Was it appropriate for her to discuss the future of the two children?

After a long while, she sent some pictures to Yuan Shuo instead of Yuan Meng’s phone.

Yuan Meng said excitedly when she saw the picture, “Oh, this girl will be a great beauty in the future.”

It was a pity that Yuan Bao was staying at Dorrans’ home and not with them, otherwise she would have educated her son and made her his wife.

Didn’t he always ask Weiwei to be his wife, so that he could court her daughter? Didn’t that make up for his regret of not marrying her?

Yuan Shuo smiled and said, “Is it not about whose children they are?”

Fu Hanzheng was a very beautiful man and Weiwei was the famous Goddess of Movie Queen of Hua Land. Their child was definitely good-looking.

“So we must help Yuan Bao get engaged to their daughter as soon as possible,” Yuan Meng said confidently.

“...” Yuan Shuo’s lips twitched and reminded her. “Your son is only four years old.”

Also, her daughter was just a few days old.

“He is not young anymore, they could be childhood friends.” Yuan Meng thought for a while and said, “When this is done, I will take Yuan Bao back to Hua Land and keep an eye on my future daughter-in-law. Let’s see who dares to steal her away from me.”

“She is not your daughter-in-law now.” Yuan Shuo reminded her.

“She will be in the future, I am confident,” Yuan Meng said.

Yuan Shuo sighed and said, “I don’t want to be killed by Fu Hanzheng.”

Their daughter was so young, and if she brought her son to hit on someone, Fu Hanzheng would not let them go.

“Not at all. His daughter’s heart will be stolen away by other boys when she grows up. Then why not let our Yuan Bao steal her heart? At least the good things should not be shared with outsiders.” Yuan Meng had a wonderful dream.

Yuan Shuo refused to listen to her and gave up.

Even if she told Yuan Bao these things, Yuan Bao would not understand.

Even when they were together, they only had each other as playmates.

But hopefully, what they could find this time was the result they expected, so that Weiwei and Fu Hanzheng’s family could live a peaceful life.

Otherwise, who knew what kind of trouble they would face in the future.

But the mysterious Chinese man with the surname Gu seemed to have disappeared after meeting Gu Siting, and they could not find him anywhere.

Chapter 1205: Grandfather

Soon after Yuan Shuo had received the pictures sent by Gu Weiwei, he sent them to Cayman Dorrans in Italy.

Cayman Dorrans had been talking seriously with his men when Watson came up behind him with his phone and whispered, “Yuan Shuo’s email.”

He and Matthew knew what Yuan Shuo was doing, so they always informed Cayman at the first opportunity.

Cayman Dorrans took the phone and opened the email from Yuan Shuo. It took him a long time before he realized that there were many pictures.

When he clicked open the first picture, he saw two small children.

The children were very young and seemed to have just been born.

He leafed through the pictures one after another and the more he looked, the happier he felt. The smile on his face became more and more obvious.

Before he finished reading, Yuan Shuo sent another email.

“Weiwei and Fu Hanzheng’s children are born, a boy and a girl and are safe.”

Seeing the serious-looking man smiling so brightly on the phone, Watson and Matthew exchanged a look and leaned forward.

Then they saw that Cayman Dorrans was looking at pictures of children.

Both of them knew whose children he was missing these days, so they knew that it was his daughter and Fu Hanzheng's children.

"Look at these two..."

Cayman Dorrans proudly pointed at the two cute children on the phone screen and his eyes turned bitter.

Among all the pictures, only one showed Gu Weiwei holding the child, and only her side profile was shown.

But she was full of warmth and joy.

He looked at this picture for a long time. She had suffered so much and finally found the happiness she wanted.

The people at the bottom of the long table looked at the three people who were looking at the phone in confusion. They could not help but wonder what made Cayman, who had always been serious, laugh.

Cayman Dorrans looked at the picture sent by Yuan Shuo several times and spoke with an unprecedented gentleness.

After the meeting, Matthew could not help but ask when he returned to his residence, "Are you not going to acknowledge them as their grandfather?"

"The Dorrans Family and I have given her too much misfortune, so don't disturb her life." Cayman Dorrans sighed.

She did not need him by her side to be happy.

He was satisfied that he knew about her recent situation and that she was doing well.

"What are you going to do with Will and the Anderson Family?" Matthew asked.

Not only Will and Anderson, but even Gu Siting was involved.

"Let's wait and see." Cayman Dorrans smiled calmly, not worried about his situation.

Matthew sighed speechlessly. "If we keep watching, the gun will be pointed at your head."

Those three people had their own purpose and they were gathered together to get rid of Cayman Dorrans, but he was doing nothing and not letting them make any preparations.

"I have no intention of giving my life to them. Wait a while longer," Cayman Dorrans said confidently.

"What are you waiting for?" Matthew was confused.

Cayman Dorrans smiled and looked at his long-time friend.

"Don't worry, old friend, I want to live a few more years and see Weiwei's children grow up."

Chapter 1206: Prevention

Within one week, Gu Weiwei recovered from the cesarean operation.

Doctor Liu checked her wound and did some tests before allowing her to be discharged.

But after the examination, she and Fu Hanzheng were asked to do the discharge procedures together.

“Although the wound has healed over, it will take some time before you fully recover, so don’t bend over or use too much force on your belly.”

“Take care of the wound, don’t let it get infected.”

“Okay.”

Gu Weiwei nodded happily.

Doctor Liu thought that with the nutritionist and caregiver Fu Hanzheng hired, she should be fine.

So she stressed to them. “Since the wound in the uterus has not fully recovered, you must not have s*x for four months. Also, be careful about contraception for the next two or three years. The uterus needs a long time to recover after the cesarean section, and getting pregnant and miscarrying will cause great harm to the body. You must be careful.”

“...” Gu Weiwei stayed silent in embarrassment.

Fu Hanzheng answered calmly, “Got it.”

Doctor Liu thought for a while and stressed to him. “Mrs. Fu is still young, you don’t need a third child.”

“...” Fu Hanzheng stayed silent. He had no intention of having another child.

She had suffered so much this time when she was pregnant, and he was so worried that he almost lost his soul.

He had been worried that she would feel regretful if she only had a son or a daughter.

Now that she had two babies, she had no regrets.

Seeing the two remaining silent, Doctor Liu tried to sound them out.

“Mrs. Fu has been discharged from the hospital and what I can do here is done. Then, can I return home tomorrow?”

Fu Hanzheng thought for a while and said, “Sure, thanks for your hard work.”

The children were already born and her wound had almost recovered. It would be fine if Doctor Liu didn’t stay here. However, he needed to find another doctor to stay here in case the two babies had health problems.

“President Fu is being too serious. In fact, you have been taking good care of yourselves, and our work has been very relaxing,” Doctor Liu said sincerely.

Both the mother and the baby were doing well, which made her less worried during the operation.

After the children were born, the mother and the children were carefully taken care of. Apart from changing the medicine and asking about her recovery, she had nothing else to do.

Leaving aside the mental pressure, it was a very relaxing job.

After meeting Doctor Liu, Gu Weiwei and Fu Hanzheng went back to the ward and left the hospital with the two babies.

She wanted to carry the children herself, but Fu Hanzheng stopped her.

“We can do that at home, let them do that on the way home.”

Gu Weiwei did not force him but followed him downstairs with empty hands. The nursery teacher was sitting behind with the two children, when Fu Hanzheng opened the door and asked her to sit in the passenger’s seat and fastened the seat belt for her.

He drove the car in person and was very observant and steady.

The hospital was only a ten-minute drive away from the villa but it took him twenty minutes to reach home.

In order to make it easier for her to take care of the children, the master bedroom had been changed. It looked more cozy and lovely than before.

Also, in order for the children to be closer to her, he had made a new baby bed with the bed.

One side was the railing and the other was connected to the bed. She could see the two babies in bed, safely and conveniently.

Chapter 1207: Let’s Talk

The two children had just been fed when they left the hospital, so they had been sleeping on the way home.

The nursery teacher placed them in the cot and stood guard, in case they woke up.

“Let them sleep, you should eat lunch.” Fu Hanzheng urged as he had his arms around her back.

Seeing the two children sleeping soundly, Gu Weiwei went out for dinner.

Her meals were made for her according to the requirements of the nutritionist. They were light and nutritious.

He Chi and Fu Shiyi started to eat before Fu Hanzheng arrived.

“Sister-in-law, now that you are discharged, we are going home tomorrow.”

They had been here for a month and if they did not go home now, something would happen.

“Okay, have a safe trip.” Gu Weiwei did not ask them to stay. After all, they had been here for a long time.

He Chi had work at the hospital and Fu Shiyi had endless work to do, so staying here was not a good idea.

“When are you going home, sister-in-law?” Fu Shiyi asked.

His nephew Youyou and his niece Tiantian were getting cuter by the day. He really wanted to bring them home, but that was impossible.

Therefore, he could only hope that they could go home as soon as possible so that he and Fu Shiqin could meet the two babies again.

"I'm not sure now," Gu Weiwei said.

Fu Hanzheng had planned to stay here for one year, but it had only been half a year, so she would not be able to go home for another six months.

Also, when she brought the two children home, many things had to be arranged ahead of time. It would take more than half a year.

"Can I video call Youyou and Tiantian every day for one hour?" Fu Shiyi asked pitifully.

"I am not that free." Gu Weiwei turned him down.

She had to take care of the two children, so she did not have time to video-chat with him with the children for an hour a day.

"Half an hour." Fu Shiyi cut the time.

Gu Weiwei was too lazy to answer, so she pushed the question to Fu Hanzheng.

"What do you think?"

Without saying a word, Fu Hanzheng threw a cold look at him and Fu Shiyi instantly became silent.

After a long while, he mumbled pitifully, "Ten minutes is enough, otherwise they will not recognize me."

"The babies did not know anyone apart from their mother five or six months ago," He Chi said.

Fu Shiyi glared at him. "Can't you just eat?"

So what if they did not know him before? It was good that he could see Youyou and Tiantian, but they kept ruining his plans.

"I will send you pictures and videos when I have time," Gu Weiwei said.

It was rare that the two uncles liked their nephew and niece so much.

The reason why the family of four could live such a peaceful life here was because they helped to stabilize the elders of the Fu Family.

Fu Shiyi expressed that he had gained some benefits for himself.

"Long live sister-in-law!"

Gu Weiwei had just finished the food when she heard a child crying. She put down the bowl and chopsticks and returned to the room.

Sure enough, she saw the nurse changing the diaper for the child.

When she was done, she took him from her and put him back into the cot so he could sleep.

However, the moment she bent down to release the child, she frowned in pain at the newly healed wound in her belly.

Fu Hanzheng followed her in and frowned when he saw her putting down the child and holding the wound.

“Weiwei, come here, we need to talk.”

“Talk?” Gu Weiwei was confused by his suddenly serious tone.

Chapter 1208: The First Couple Contradiction

Before she could figure out what he was talking about, Fu Hanzheng pulled her into the nursery next door.

Fu Hanzheng sized her up. “Let me check your belly.”

Gu Weiwei pursed her lips, thinking that he had noticed the wound when she bent down to release the child.

She lifted her clothes to reveal the wound on her belly.

“It’s okay, I will be careful in the future.”

For a moment, she forgot that she had a wound on her belly and only remembered when she bent down.

After making sure that her wound was not open, Fu Hanzheng let out a sigh of relief but still looked serious.

“That is not the only thing we need to talk about.”

“Anything else?” Gu Weiwei grabbed the rabbit doll from the sofa and asked nonchalantly.

“Leave the child to the nursery teacher at night, you can take care of them during the day.” Fu Hanzheng told her his plan.

That was what he had planned to do at the beginning, but she had always objected to letting the child be taken care of by the parenting master, so he compromised and asked the child to be looked after by them at night.

But when he saw her holding the child, he found it so difficult.

If she had to take care of them at night, they would not be able to sleep for the entire night.

He did not care, but she was in the recovery period and she could not have a bad rest or overwork herself.

“Didn’t we agree?” Gu Weiwei said unhappily.

He had promised to let her take care of the children herself, but why did he suddenly become a cheat?

“Get well first, then we can talk about taking care of them,” Fu Hanzheng said.

The two children woke up every one or two hours, either to change the diaper or to breastfeed.

Also, they usually woke up together. One had just fallen asleep when the other woke up. This one had just fallen asleep when the other woke up again.

Gu Weiwei felt her forehead. After all, he had seen through her when she was releasing the child.

“The doctor said that babies need to have more contact with their mother.”

“You can spend as much time with them as you want during the day,” Fu Hanzheng said resolutely.

“But what if they get hungry at night?” Gu Weiwei asked.

During the past few days at the hospital, they had been breastfeeding. Even if the baby was taken care of at night, what would they eat when they were hungry?

“The formula powder,” Fu Hanzheng said.

It would not be a big deal if the children were taken care of by the nursery teacher, but if she had to take care of the children herself, her health would be ruined.

His son and daughter were important, but not as important as his wife. Fu Hanzheng had always been clear about that.

“No.” Gu Weiwei objected.

They had not left her side for more than two hours, from the time they were in her belly to after their birth.

Now that she was back, she was going to leave the two children to the care of the nursery master. That was too unreasonable.

“Just leave them to take care of them at night, and you can keep them company during the day,” Fu Hanzheng said with a gentle voice.

He just hoped that she could recover as soon as possible, so that she would not tire herself out because of the children.

If it was just one child, he could take care of the child at night.

But the key was that there were two of them. Even if he helped, he might not be able to take care of them.

However, as a mother, Gu Weiwei just could not let go of her children.

Even if it was just ten hours at night.

“If you find them noisy, you can sleep upstairs, I can take care of them myself.”

Chapter 1209: The First Couple Contradiction 2

Suddenly, the atmosphere turned tense.

Fu Hanzheng insisted that the children were given to the caregiver. Gu Weiwei could not bear to leave the children and insisted that the children stay by her side.

She even said that she was going to drive him out of the room.

Fu Hanzheng just could not believe that she would say such a thing just to keep the children next to her.

But he could understand how she felt as a mother.

After all, the children had never left her.

“Leave them to the nurse, you can take a good rest. If you don’t take a good rest during the month, you will fall sick,” Fu Hanzheng said seriously.

Gu Weiwei stayed silent, knowing that he was doing this for her own good.

But when she thought of how the two children were not by her side at night, she felt very displeased.

Fu Hanzheng thought for a while and said, “One night a week is the biggest compromise.”

“Three nights?” Gu Weiwei asked.

One night was too little.

“No.” Fu Hanzheng insisted.

“Two nights, alright?” Gu Weiwei continued to bargain.

Fu Hanzheng shook his head. “One night, the nursery teacher will take care of you tonight. In five days time, I will bring them to you for one night.”

In a few more days, her wound should recover quite a bit. By that time, she would not be as uncomfortable as she was now, when she was with the children.

“Tonight... tonight, I will let them take care of...” Gu Weiwei’s expression sank and she looked displeased. “Can’t we start tomorrow night?”

She had thought that she could spend more time with the child.

But they were being taken away.

If she had known, she would not have let them discharge her.

“No.” Fu Hanzheng did not accept the bargain.

He had promised her before because he was soft-hearted and did not consider everything thoroughly.

“Hmph!”

Gu Weiwei snorted and went back to the room to keep the children company.

Fu Hanzheng sighed helplessly, answered a call and hurried out of the office.

He did not return until the evening, but when he came home, Gu Weiwei had not yet given the children to the nursery teachers.

He checked the time and said to the two nursery teachers, "It is getting late, take the children to rest."

However, Gu Weiwei, who was holding her younger daughter, refused to hand the child over.

"What about me bringing one every night in exchange?"

She could take care of her daughter tonight and her son tomorrow. It would be easier if she only took care of one baby throughout the entire night.

"No."

He said as he carried her over to the nursery master.

Gu Weiwei watched the parenting master carry the two children away and glared at Fu Hanzheng angrily. She snorted and fell asleep with her head covered.

Fu Hanzheng knew that she could not accept it, so he went to take a shower. When he returned to bed, he saw her sleeping with her back against him, as if she was determined to ignore him.

He lay in bed for a long while before reaching out for her.

"Still angry?"

"Of course not!" Gu Weiwei snorted.

Fu Hanzheng lowered his head and kissed her hair. "Be good, you can take care of them after you rest."

Gu Weiwei stayed silent for a while and thought of her hurtful tone in the afternoon.

"This afternoon... I am sorry, I shouldn't have said that."

She could not bear to leave the children, but he was thinking for her sake and she even said such hurtful words.

"It is okay, just sleep," Fu Hanzheng said with a gentle voice.

Chapter 1210: The First Couple Contradiction 3

Without the children by her side, the room was quiet and peaceful.

However, Gu Weiwei just could not fall asleep at the sight of the empty cot.

One moment, she was thinking if they had gone to the toilet, the next moment, she was thinking about how they were not used to eating the milk powder, and the next moment, she was thinking if they would sleep better if they kept sleeping next to her...

The more she thought about it, the more worried she became.

So in the middle of the night, she heard the man's steady breathing, so she gently removed his hands from her waist.

Then she carefully got up and was about to check on the two children.

But the moment she sat up and was about to get off the bed, Fu Hanzheng woke up.

“Where are you going?”

“I... I can't sleep because I am worried, so I want to take a look.” Gu Weiwei confessed.

Fu Hanzheng sighed helplessly, turned on the light and accompanied her.

The nursery teacher had just settled the two babies and was resting with her eyes closed when she heard the knock at the door.

“President Fu, Mrs. Fu.”

“How are they? Are they crying? Can they finish the milk powder?” Gu Weiwei asked a series of questions the moment she entered the room.

“They are not crying. The two children are very obedient. They have just been fed with milk powder and they are eating well,” The nurse said with a smile.

Some children refused to eat milk powder after they had breast milk, but these two children were good. They ate it after it was made and they were not picky at all.

Hearing the words, Gu Weiwei felt a bit relieved. Seeing the two sleeping babies, she could not bear to leave.

“Now that you have checked and asked all your questions, can you go back to sleep now?”

“I will watch them for ten more minutes,” Gu Weiwei said as she stared at the two babies.

Helpless, Fu Hanzheng compromised for ten minutes and accurately counted the time.

The moment ten minutes passed, he started to urge her to leave.

Gu Weiwei had no choice but to tell the nursery teacher, “Take care of them, if anything happens, just knock on the door.”

“Yes, Madam.” The nurse agreed and saw her and Fu Hanzheng out.

Fu Hanzheng took hold of her shoulders. “See, even if you don't take care of them, they can still eat and sleep well.”

Gu Weiwei sighed in disappointment. She had thought that without them by her side, they would cry and refuse to eat or sleep.

However, the two of them fell asleep easily.

“Is it because I am a bad mother that they can bear to part with me?”

“They are too young to realize it,” Fu Hanzheng said.

They were just two children who had been born for seven or eight days, so they would not think about such things.

Gu Weiwei did not ask anything more and went back to the room to rest.

But she got up at dawn.

Then she left Fu Hanzheng who was still in bed and went to visit the children.

With one hand on the bed, Fu Hanzheng felt helpless and depressed when he saw the woman who had just got changed and couldn't wait to visit the two children.

Sure enough, the moment the children were born, his position was seriously threatened.

Especially when she had not one but two children.

But he could do nothing about them.

He got up leisurely, washed himself up and asked Gu Weiwei to join him for breakfast.

Gu Weiwei had just changed the clothes for the two children, gave them to the nursery teacher, wiped her hands and ate breakfast with him.

However, Fu Shiyi was still taking pictures with the babies in all kinds of weird poses.

"Youyou, Tiantian, you must not forget about your Third Uncle."
