

MY HIDDEN 1261

Chapter 1261: Angry?

Normally, she would ask him if he had eaten dinner or would leave him some soup.

Apart from telling him about bathing the children, she left him alone.

Could it have been because she had struggled to bathe the children this time and had to do it?

But why was she angry when he made sure not to let Tiantian eat her water covered hands?

He went out and saw her and Yuan Meng having fun with the three children. He went upstairs to the study and came downstairs after finishing some work.

It was already quiet downstairs. He returned to the master bedroom and saw Gu Weiwei who had just come out of the shower.

"The children are all asleep?"

"Okay," Gu Weiwei answered briefly.

Fu Hanzheng approached her and took hold of her from behind.

"Unhappy?"

"No." Gu Weiwei denied it but sounded obviously displeased.

Fu Hanzheng lowered his head and kissed the side of her face. "Is it because the children were not obedient this afternoon?"

"No," Gu Weiwei said as she removed his arms from around her waist.

Fu Hanzheng released her hands and turned her shoulders, so that they were standing face to face.

"What is it?"

Gu Weiwei looked up at him. "I am tired, I am going to sleep now."

Having said these words, she lifted the blanket and lay down.

Fu Hanzheng stood by the bedside and watched for a while. Then he went to the bathroom to take a shower, got changed into his pajamas and lay down on the bed. Out of habit, he took the sleeping girl into his arms and kissed the girl in his arms.

Gu Weiwei shrank her neck impatiently and removed her arms.

"I am sleepy, I don't want it."

Fu Hanzheng tightened his arms around her. "What's wrong?"

"You don't let me sleep at night and I still have to take care of the two children during the day. What do you think is wrong with me?"

Gu Weiwei was not feeling well, and she sounded very annoyed.

Fu Hanzheng frowned and sighed guiltily when he saw the tired look on her face.

He had been craving her embrace for more than a year and he had indeed become more indulgent these days.

She had not had a good night's rest and she had been taking care of the two children during the day, so she was indeed feeling very tired.

He brushed her hair away and said, "I will drive you to Italy the day after tomorrow, you can take a transfer and Fu Shiqin will pick you up."

Hearing his words, Gu Weiwei turned to him.

"What about you?"

"We are going home at different times, you can go home first. There are still some things to finish here, I will go home in a few days," Fu Hanzheng said.

He could not let his family find out that they had been in Dubai together, so she could not fly straight home and had to return to the capital without him for a few days.

But if he went home first, he would be even more worried about her and the children, so he asked her to bring the children home first. With Yuan Meng and Lei Ning by her side and Shiqin and the rest taking care of her, he felt more at ease.

Gu Weiwei turned around and faced him.

"In a few days?"

"Five days or so," Fu Hanzheng said.

Gu Weiwei thought for a moment and sighed.

"When does the plan with your family start?"

They were going home to do the plan of remarrying, so it was very important to reveal the news of the two children to the Fu Family at the right time.

"We can start after you settle down. Acting is not a problem for you." Fu Hanzheng chuckled.

His father and mother were very eager to have grandchildren, so they would definitely urge him to take the two children away from her.

Even if they could not agree to letting them remarry, they would not stop them meeting up.

That way, they could have a proper relationship after they returned home..

Chapter 1262: Preparations

"It will be different from filming, alright?" Gu Weiwei said.

She was just pretending when she was filming, but this time she was going to be lying to the elders of the Fu Family.

Although it was for their remarriage, she still felt a bit guilty.

“As long as they don’t mention remarrying and you don’t agree to give the children to the Fu Family, we will deal with the rest,” Fu Hanzheng whispered.

Gu Weiwei smiled helplessly. What he meant was that he and his two brothers would work together to trick the elders.

Fu Hanzheng kissed her forehead and whispered, “Sleep now, you are allowed to ask for leave tonight.”

Gu Weiwei chuckled and fell asleep.

The following day, Fu Hanzheng went to the company as usual. She left the children to the care of the nursery teacher and packed her luggage with Yuan Meng.

She had only brought one suitcase with her when she came here, and now that she was going back home, she had five suitcases full of things, and she wasn’t even finished yet!

Also, most of the luggage belonged to the two babies.

“Are you sure you want to bring so many things?” Yuan Meng looked at the rows of boxes and suitcases and felt her head hurting.

“Most of them are the children’s things, we must bring them with us,” Gu Weiwei said.

The two children were a pair, so they did have a lot to deal with.

“You can just carry the two children home yourself. There are many of these things in the capital that you can buy.” Yuan Meng snorted.

They were not so short of money that they couldn’t buy these things, so why did they have to go home with them?

Gu Weiwei said as she checked for anything missing, “The two children will miss their usual things. I changed the milk bottle for them once but they refused to drink from it. I had to use the old milk bottle again.”

Children were used to clothes and toys, so they felt safer with the same ones around.

She mainly brought the children’s luggage, and she only had one suitcase for her own luggage. Fu Hanzheng had his private jet, so he could bring the rest of her things back for her.

“Alright, as long as you are happy.” Yuan Meng spread out her hands.

Fu Hanzheng came home at night and was startled when he saw the rows of luggage.

“No need to bring so much, I will bring it back for you.”

“They are things for the two children to use, so it is not convenient for you to bring them home,” Gu Weiwei said helplessly.

Fu Hanzheng glanced around and did not object, when he thought of the fact that she did not need to care about the luggage with Yuan Meng and Lei Ning.

"I have told the Prince and he will drive you to Paris tomorrow afternoon in his private jet and arrange for a private jet to take you home."

When Gu Weiwei and the children boarded the plane in Paris, he would return to Dubai and settle down before returning home.

"No need to use the private jet, right?" Gu Weiwei asked. They could just fly first class.

Fu Hanzheng insisted. "Things are not going well these days. This way we can make sure that everyone is on the plane, so it is safer."

Hearing his words, Gu Weiwei did not object.

After all, with her two children, safety was the most important thing.

Gu Weiwei packed up everything she needed to bring home, washed her hands and was about to go out to visit the two children.

Fu Hanzheng held her tightly and sighed.

"They are going home with you tomorrow, but I will have to stay here alone for a week."

They had been living together for more than a year and he found it hard to accept that they were going to be separated for a few days..

Chapter 1263: Youyou is III

Gu Weiwei looked at this childish man in amusement. "It is just for a few days, we can meet again soon."

This brief separation was so that they could spend a long time together after they returned home.

"But if you leave, it will be too quiet," Fu Hanzheng said.

When she moved out of Landscape Villa, he was alone at home and he did not want to go through that again.

When they left tomorrow, this place was destined to be deserted. He was going to stay here alone for a few days and he was probably not going to be in a good mood either.

Gu Weiwei allowed him to hold her for more than half an hour, before Yuan Meng urged them to go out for dinner.

After dinner, the two children went to bed early and Gu Weiwei went to bed after washing up.

However, they were leaving soon and Fu Hanzheng did not want to waste his time on sleeping, so he tried his best to squeeze out her passion.

When he was satisfied, it was already late at night.

Luckily, the flight back was arranged in the afternoon and so she had time to sleep until noon.

Since he was going with them to Paris, Fu Hanzheng did not go to the company. He got up early in the morning and kissed his sleeping wife, got changed and went out to take care of the two children who had woken up.

He made them milk powder, gave each of them a bottle and stood by the bedside.

Tiantian, the little foodie, had always been focused on food, so she finished the milk in no time.

Fu Hanzheng had just picked up the empty milk bottle when he saw her reaching out for his brother's bottle.

He picked up his daughter helplessly. This girl was as greedy as Fu Shiqin.

He took care of the two children until lunchtime when Gu Weiwei got up leisurely, washed herself, got changed and came out for lunch.

In the afternoon, Fu Hanzheng drove them to the airport and was about to fly with them to France.

Together with them were the nursery teachers, gynecologist, nutritionist and teacher for Gu Weiwei and the two children.

Luckily, it was a private jet from the Prince. Although there were many people, it was not that troublesome.

Gu Weiwei sat holding the younger daughter, Fu Hanzheng held his son Youyou and Yuan Meng sat behind them with Yuan Bao, followed by the nursery teacher and the others.

At the beginning, Gu Weiwei was worried that the two babies would not be used to the flight for the first time.

However, the two children had been very obedient from the moment they took off to the moment they were cruising in the air. They did not cry at all.

But after three hours, Youyou started to groan in Fu Hanzheng's arms.

Fu Hanzheng asked the nurse to make some milk powder but the boy could not drink it after a few sips.

Gu Weiwei frowned and said to Fu Hanzheng, "Swap with me, I will carry him."

Youyou had always been a steady brother and he rarely cried or clung to anyone. He only expressed his absolute needs with his crying.

She and Fu Hanzheng exchanged the two children and she tried to breastfeed the crying Youyou, who stayed silent for a while.

But soon afterwards he started to groan in her arms and her body started to heat up.

She leaned her head against the child's forehead and said seriously "I think he has a fever."

Hearing the words, Fu Hanzheng asked the nurse to take care of Tiantian and asked the doctor to come with him.

The doctor measured the child's temperature and found that it had reached 38.6 degrees.

This made Gu Weiwei and Fu Hanzheng, who had never seen a child sick, panic..

Chapter 1264: Youyou is Ill 2

Gu Weiwei felt the child's burning forehead, feeling very anxious.

"Why did you suddenly get a fever? Is it because of the plane?"

The doctor gave the fever patch to the child and explained to them patiently.

"After a child is half a year old, the immunity brought to them by breast milk will gradually disappear. Most babies will fall sick because of the reduced immunity after they are half a year old. Their fever is also a way to increase their immune system."

Gu Weiwei looked down at her son who was moving about in her arms due to the discomfort and asked anxiously, "What should we do now? He feels terrible."

"The child is too young and it is not a critical situation. It is not recommended to use medicine, so we can use physical measures to lower the fever." The doctor gave his opinion.

Hearing his words, Gu Weiwei removed the coat so that his fever could go down.

However, when the plane landed in Paris, Youyou's fever had not improved.

Gu Weiwei had her face upon the child's face from time to time and her eyes turned red when she felt that the fever had not subsided.

"Still not subsided? What should we do?"

Fu Hanzheng threw a serious look at the doctor. "Should we go to the hospital?"

"It is not convenient to go to the hospital, so let's find a place to wipe the child down first. It would be best if the fever can be reduced by physical means, but the child is too young to use the antipyretic medicine." The doctor sincerely suggested.

Fu Jinzheng threw a look at the distressed child and then at his wife who was about to cry, he decided to stay in Paris for the time being.

So he contacted the hotel close to the hospital and told the private jet's responsible contact to postpone his return.

Then he brought them back to the hotel and wiped the child with alcohol according to the doctor's suggestion and fed him water from time to time.

It was not until the latter half of the night when Youyou's fever subsided.

Fu Hanzheng took hold of Gu Weiwei's shoulders and whispered, "I will take care of the child, take a rest."

Ever since she found Youyou having a fever on the plane, she had been very nervous and kept wiping the child's body to lower his temperature.

Gu Weiwei looked at her son who had finally fallen asleep and relaxed. She was indeed tired.

"I am going to visit Tiantian first."

Although she was very tired, she had been taking care of her son's fever throughout the entire journey and she had not given any care to her youngest daughter.

The two children had been healthy since they were born and she, as the new mother, was truly frightened when Youyou suddenly fell sick.

"Go." Fu Hanzheng did not stop her. He knew that with her personality, she would not rest until she saw her younger daughter.

Gu Weiwei went to the opposite room and found that her youngest daughter Tiantian had already fallen asleep. She was relieved when the nursery teacher told her about the food.

"Try your best today, she may have a fever too. Call me if anything happens."

But according to the doctor, after the child was half a year old, the immunity of breast milk would drop and most of them would fall ill.

Youyou was the only one who was sick today, but something might happen to Tiantian too, so they had to be extra careful.

After making sure that her daughter was doing well, she returned to the room to rest.

But she did not dare to sleep too deeply and woke up after a few hours.

The moment she woke up, she went to visit Youyou. Fu Hanzheng had just taken the child's temperature and found that it was rising again..

Chapter 1265: Youyou is ill 3

"Wasn't the fever gone?" Gu Weiwei touched Youyou's forehead and found that the temperature was rising again. "Why is it rising again?"

Seeing Fu Hanzheng and Gu Weiwei looking anxious, the doctor suggested.

"Mr. Fu, Mrs. Fu, if you are worried, take the child to the hospital and make sure that it is not a rash."

Hearing the words, Gu Weiwei helped the child to get dressed and picked him up.

"Let's go."

Fu Hanzheng put on the hat for her and accompanied her to the hospital opposite the hotel.

The doctor did a blood test for the child and said as soon as the results were out.

"It must be a rash."

"Then what should we do?" Fu Hanzheng looked serious.

“This kind of disease is not very effective even with drugs, and it is not good for children either,” the doctor said.

Fu Hanzheng’s tone sank.

“Then nothing?”

The child was not feeling well, and he and Weiwei were worried about him, but they could not help the child.

The doctor shivered at Fu Hanzheng’s glare and forced himself to make the suggestion.

“The child will have a fever for two to three days and then he will have a rash. The fever will go away when the rash comes out. If the fever is not very serious, the medicine will not be good for the child.”

Fu Hanzheng was displeased, but the doctor would not lie to them.

“Can we only wait for his fever to subside?”

“Feed the child more water, be careful not to let him get winded. If the fever reaches 39 degrees, we will need to use medicine,” the doctor said carefully.

Initially, during the past few months, she had only done some physical examinations for the two children. She had been having a very relaxing time at work and the treatment was good too.

Now that the child was having a fever, she realized that money was not that easy to earn... because President Fu was way too intimidating.

Gu Weiwei and Fu Hanzheng stayed at the hospital and kept trying to lower Youyou’s temperature.

However, after the temperature went down, he would start to have a fever again within a few hours.

They stayed at the hospital and Yuan Meng and the nursery teacher took care of their youngest daughter Tiantian.

Tiantian was a very peaceful person, but when her father suddenly disappeared, the little girl was not at ease in the hotel and kept making a fuss.

Yuan Meng called Fu Hanzheng and asked him if he wanted her to bring the child to the hospital.

Fu Hanzheng threw a look at Gu Weiwei next to the bed and hung up.

“Tiantian is crying so hard at the hotel, why don’t you go home and take a look?”

This little girl was normally very spoiled and clingy, so when they were taking care of Youyou, she would definitely cry.

Gu Weiwei pursed her lips and threw a look at her son who was still having a fever.

“Go home and visit her, I will take care of Youyou.”

Fu Hanzheng did not object. “Then I will go there for a while and will be back soon.”

He hurried back to the hotel and took the crying girl from the nurse.

The girl stopped crying after a while.

She must have been tired from crying, so she drank the milk powder obediently and soon fell asleep.

Fu Hanzheng put down his sleeping daughter and brought the food prepared by the hotel to the hospital.

“I asked someone to make something for you to eat.”

Due to Youyou’s fever, she had been taking care of the child and she had not eaten anything since she got off the plane yesterday.

Gu Weiwei shook her head. “I don’t have an appetite.”

The child was so sick, she was not in the mood to eat anything.

Fu Hanzheng took out the food and placed them on the table one by one, forcing her to join him.

“Eat something, how can you support yourself without food?”

Helpless, Gu Weiwei picked up the bowl and tried the porridge.

“Where is Tiantian, is she being obedient now?”

“She drank the milk and fell asleep.” Fu Hanzheng confessed..

Chapter 1266: Youyou is Ill 4

Under Fu Hanzheng’s persuasion, Gu Weiwei left the child’s bed and went to eat something.

Fu Hanzheng stayed by Youyou’s side instead of her, trying to lower his body temperature.

Gu Weiwei had just eaten something when Youyou started to cry, as he woke up. She put down the chopsticks and went over to him, checked his diaper and fed him milk.

Probably because he was not feeling well, he ate less than usual.

Fu Hanzheng poured some warm water and fed the child some water. The boy kept groaning even with the antipyretic paste.

Gu Weiwei did not want to put him down, so she kept consoling him in her arms.

Ever since he was born, Youyou had been an obedient brother. Apart from needing someone to change his diaper or crying when he was hungry, he would not make a fuss as long as they fulfilled his needs.

Therefore, compared to him, she spent more time with her daughter. This was probably the first time she was so devoted to her son.

Seeing his son falling asleep in her arms, Fu Hanzheng said with a gentle voice, “I will carry him, take a rest.”

Although he had tried his best to take care of the two children for her, as a father, he was not as devoted as her.

Gu Weiwei shook her head and leaned her face against Youyou's forehead. She still felt a bit of fever remaining and looked even more serious.

"No need, I can hold him."

The child was having a fever and when he woke up, he was not as energetic as before, which made Gu Weiwei's heart ache.

Fu Hanzheng could not persuade her, so he stayed by her side.

The doctor did not recommend the medicine to such a young child. Apart from helping the child to cool down, they could only pray that Youyou would recover quickly.

They stayed at the hospital for one day and one night and Youyou's fever finally subsided. But just as the doctor said, he had a rash on his head and body.

The doctor was called over, she measured the child's temperature and checked the rash.

"The rash will go away in two or three days."

Fu Hanzheng and Gu Weiwei let out a sigh of relief. "Are you sure he won't have a fever again?"

"At least not these next few days, but if the two children have any more small illnesses in the future, Mr. Fu and Mrs. Fu don't have to be too nervous." The doctor tried to persuade them with a smile.

Every child would have some small problems. It was very common for children to have a rash. Normally, they would ask their parents to take care of the child, so that the fever would go away and they would just feed the child water. No parents were as nervous as them.

Gu Weiwei fed the child some water and felt much better with her son in her arms.

Although when she thought of it now, she felt that she had been too nervous these past two days, yet when she saw her son suffering from a fever, she felt her heart tighten.

"Take the child back to the hotel and take a rest. Bring the child here for a checkup tomorrow morning. If there are no major problems, you can return home," the doctor said gently.

"Let me carry the child," Fu Hanzheng stretched out his hands and said.

Since yesterday, she had refused to let anyone carry the child because the child had not recovered.

Her hands should be aching by now.

But the moment she gave the child to Fu Hanzheng, she started to feel dizzy. Luckily, she had the baby's bed next to her, so she did not fall to the ground.

Fu Hanzheng gave the child to the nurse who had been waiting for him and helped her to sit down.

"What is it? Feeling unwell?"

Chapter 1267: Youyou is ill 5

"I feel a bit dizzy," Gu Weiwei said in discomfort.

She had not thought that the moment Youyou was safe and sound she would feel an overwhelming sense of exhaustion.

The moment she stood up, she felt dizzy.

The doctor came over and checked her.

“Mrs. Fu is too tired and has a bit of hypoglycemia. Just replenish the sugar and rest well.”

Fu Hanzheng frowned in self-blame. She had not slept for two nights ever since she realized that the child was having a fever.

She was worried that the child would not eat much of the food he asked his men to deliver.

She had not been feeling well since the two children were born, and she had not had a good rest these past two days because of Youyou’s illness. No wonder she was so weak now.

He took hold of Gu Weiwei’s pale face and said to the nurse, “Take the child back to the hotel, we will go back later.”

The two nurses left the hospital with Youyou in their arms.

Fu Hanzheng accompanied Gu Weiwei to the hospital for the infusion and rested for half an hour before returning to the hotel.

The moment he entered the room, he made a call and asked someone to deliver the food.

“You haven’t eaten anything for almost two days. Eat something and sleep well.”

Gu Weiwei sat down obediently and glanced at the worried man.

“You are not much better, let’s eat together.”

Due to the fact that it was her first time facing a sick child, she was a bit too nervous.

He not only had to take good care of the two children but also had to worry about her. He had not been doing well these past two days either.

Fu Hanzheng sat down and warned her with a gentle voice.

“You must take care of yourself before you take care of the children.”

Luckily, he was with them on the way.

If something like this happened after they returned home and he could not make it back from Dubai, she would be too tired to take care of the two children alone.

Gu Weiwei took two bites and looked up suddenly.

“You have been delayed here for two days, will you be fine?”

According to the plan, he would send them to Paris for a transfer and when they boarded the plane, he would return to Dubai.

But because of Youyou’s fever, they had been delayed in Paris for two days.

“No it’s nothing serious.” Fu Hanzheng looked calm.

There was indeed important work waiting for him to deal with in Dubai, but no matter how important it was, it could not be more important than her and the children.

“Youyou and I can take a rest and we can leave tomorrow,” Gu Weiwei said.

Since Youyou was fine now they should go because he would not return to Dubai if they stayed here.

Although he said that it was not a big deal, he must have been very busy these past two days.

“We can check Youyou tomorrow, no hurry,” Fu Hanzheng said with a gentle voice.

They ate together and Fu Hanzheng urged her to go to bed and rest. After making sure that she was asleep, he closed the door and went into the living room of the suite to make a call to deal with work in Dubai.

He had just finished his work and was about to return to the bedroom when Fu Shiqin called.

“Brother, didn’t you say that sister-in-law is coming home? Why haven’t you answered your calls for two days?” Fu Shiqin asked anxiously. He had thought that something had happened between them, so he had been so worried about them for two days and had planned to fly here himself if he failed to reach him today.

“Youyou had a fever and so we rested in Paris for two days,” Fu Hanzheng said calmly.

“Fever? How did he get the fever? How is he now? Should I bring He Chi there?” Fu Shiqin got very nervous when he heard that his nephew Youyou was sick.

“He’s better now, I will do a checkup tomorrow and if there are no problems, I will go home,” Fu Hanzheng said.

Fu Shiqin let out a sigh of relief. “Call me when they get on the plane tomorrow.”

He was already very excited when he thought of the nephew and niece he had been separated from for half a year..

Chapter 1268: Encounter with Gu Siting in Paris

Gu Weiwei slept for more than ten hours and woke up the following morning.

Early in the morning, her youngest daughter Tiantian started to cry and Fu Hanzheng went to pamper the child.

Gu Weiwei got up, got changed and was about to visit the two children when she heard Tiantian crying again.

Fu Hanzheng was coaxing her as he fed her milk with the milk bottle. He asked her when he saw her approaching, “Have you eaten breakfast?”

Due to Tiantian's crying, he did not wait for her to eat breakfast, so he asked someone to deliver the breakfast to the room.

"Yes," Gu Weiwei said as she looked at her daughter in his arms.

Probably because she had milk to drink, her chubby hands were holding the bottle as she drank the milk, neither crying nor making a fuss.

"We can send Youyou to the hospital after she finishes the food," Fu Hanzheng said.

Gu Weiwei nodded and picked Youyou up from the nursery.

The little boy had just finished the milk and was now very energetic. He was crying out in her arms.

Finally, when Tiantian finished the milk, Fu Hanzheng was going to give her to the nurse so he could go to the hospital with her and Gu Weiwei.

But the moment he gave her to her, she burst into tears.

Fu Hanzheng had no choice but to carry her again.

"Maybe she wants to sleep. Just keep her company for a while, I will ask Yuan Meng to come with me. It should not take long," Gu Weiwei said helplessly.

The happiness of the two babies was double, but so was the trouble. However, they often didn't cause trouble together when they decided to.

Fu Hanzheng tried twice but the girl refused to let go of him.

He sighed helplessly and said, "Then let Lei Ning and Yuan Meng go with you."

She was just doing a simple examination at the hospital opposite the hotel, so she should be back soon.

"Got it."

Gu Weiwei threw a look at her clingy daughter and left with Youyou in her arms, accompanied by Yuan Meng and Lei Ning.

The rash on Youyou had not subsided, but he was much more active than before.

They brought the child to the hospital and did a few simple examinations. After making sure that nothing was wrong, Gu Weiwei carried him back to the hotel and made arrangements for her return home.

Because the child was sick, they had been delayed for two days and it was time to go home.

"A normal child rash has made you so anxious. If he ever falls sick or has a bump, you will be worried to death," Yuan Meng mumbled all the way into the elevator.

"Of course I will." Gu Weiwei snorted.

Her own child was sick and sad, and as his mother, she could not help but worry.

"Why though?" Yuan Meng snorted.

After the series of examinations, they took the elevator downstairs and were about to return to the hotel opposite the hospital.

However, the moment she came out of the VIP elevator of the hotel, she ran into a group of people coming in.

They were dressed in exquisite clothes and the leader was Gu Siting, whom they had not met for more than a year.

She had not expected that she would run into Gu Siting at the hospital in Paris.

Apparently, Gu Siting had not expected to run into her here either, as he stared at the woman coming out of the elevator.

“Weiwei...”

With Youyou in her arms, Gu Weiwei approached Gu Siting calmly after being startled for a moment.

This man was so strange that she could not even remember his name.

“Weiwei!” Gu Siting said again..

Chapter 1269: Encounter with Gu Siting in Paris 2

With Youyou in her arms, Gu Weiwei brushed past him calmly.

She had not expected that she would run into Gu Siting again, but they were no longer on friendly terms.

Everything in the Gu Family seemed to have passed away.

However, Gu Siting was obviously not willing to miss this one year apart opportunity.

He turned around and stopped her.

“Weiwei, must we be so distant?”

For more than a year, he had been longing for her, trying all kinds of methods to find out about her.

But Cayman Dorrans had threatened him and stopped him. It was like an air-tight wall that isolated all news about her.

It was as if they were from two different worlds.

Gu Weiwei smiled coldly. “Mr. Gu, are we close?”

Because of his appearance, he ruined her wedding with Fu Hanzheng and forced her to divorce Fu Hanzheng.

But now, he still had the cheek to tell her that she should not be distant from him.

If she had not been holding the child, she would have hit him.

Gu Siting looked at her and then at the child in her arms.

“Fu Hanzheng’s child?”

“What does it have to do with you?” Yuan Meng stood next to her and snapped.

Gu Siting stared at the child for a long time and said to Gu Weiwei, “Weiwei, the Gu Family is your home forever. You can come home anytime you want, even if... you bring this child home.”

He knew that she and Fu Hanzheng were divorced, otherwise she would not have appeared in Paris with her child.

Then the biggest possibility was that after she divorced Fu Hanzheng, she gave birth to this child abroad behind Fu Hanzheng’s back.

“Go home?” Gu Weiwei sneered with the child in her arms. “Gu Siting, I find the air disgusting wherever you are.”

Yuan Meng stood in front of her and the child, blocking Gu Siting’s impudent look.

“Don’t you understand such simple logic?”

He had sent many men to deal with her and Yuan Shuo, but now she was marrying Fu Hanzheng and having children for the Fu Family. She could almost imagine how he felt.

“Yuan Meng, watch your words!” Kuroda Shio shouted.

Yuan Meng sneered with her arms crossed. “So what if I am not watching my words? Do something then!”

Gu Siting frowned at Yuan Meng who was standing in front of Gu Weiwei and said to the woman behind her.

“Weiwei, can we talk calmly?”

“We have nothing to talk about,” Gu Weiwei said coldly.

Yuan Meng sneered again.

“If I killed you and ruined your marriage, can I still talk with you calmly?”

Cayman Dorrans’ men were in A Land, so even if she ran into them today, Gu Siting would not dare to bring her back to A Land.

But after everything that had happened, what if he talked with Weiwei and she brought the child back to the Gu Family?

Was he stupid or did he think that they were three-year-olds?

“Yuan Meng, am I not talking?” Gu Siting said coldly.

“I don’t want to talk with you either, but...” Yuan Meng sneered when she saw the man walking towards her from behind Gu Siting. “You can talk with the person behind you. He will definitely be happy to talk with you about life. “

Instead of Gu Siting turning around, Kuroda Shio turned around and looked serious.

What was Fu Hanzheng doing here?

Chapter 1270: Mrs. Fu

Seeing Kuroda Shio's face changing, Gu Siting glanced sideways and saw the man coming towards him.

After Fu Hanzheng had appeased his daughter, he was worried that she would struggle to handle the child at the examination, so he came from the hotel opposite the hospital.

He saw a few people standing in the lobby of the hospital and when he recognized Gu Siting and Kuroda Shio, his expression turned cold.

So he quickened his pace.

When he saw Gu Weiwei holding the child behind Yuan Meng, he felt a bit relieved.

"Take the child home first."

Gu Siting looked at Fu Hanzheng coldly. He did not want her to leave his sight again.

However, because of Cayman Dorrans and Fu Hanzheng, he could not make her stay.

Without looking at Gu Siting, Gu Weiwei left with the child after hearing what Fu Hanzheng said.

Gu Siting was not convinced, but he could not stop her from leaving.

This was just a chance encounter without any preparations. Cayman Dorrans had threatened him with his killers still in A Land.

Therefore, no matter how much he wanted to bring her home, he could not do anything now.

Also, Fu Hanzheng was here.

He wanted to stop her from leaving, he wanted to say many things to her, but none of these could be done because of Cayman Dorrans and Fu Hanzheng.

Gu Weiwei left with the child in her arms without looking back. Seeing her leaving, Fu Hanzheng looked extremely cold.

"Why did President Gu stop my wife?"

His extremely cold expression and intimidating voice made Yuan Meng shiver.

Sure enough, Yuan Meng, who had been used to seeing Fu Hanzheng being friendly in front of Weiwei, felt her heart skipping a beat when she saw his intimidating look.

Gu Siting was harassing his wife and child in front of everyone, did he really think that Fu Hanzheng was dead?

"It seems that she is no longer Mrs. Fu."

He had thought that she had left Fu Hanzheng to take care of the child abroad.

Unexpectedly, Fu Hanzheng came to Paris with her.

But even so, the elders of the Fu Family should not know that they were still in contact with each other, otherwise they would not have brought such a young child to the hospital in Paris.

After all, the Fu Family's home in Hua Land was the best in terms of medical conditions and convenience.

"She is the mother of my child, what is she, if not Mrs. Fu?" Fu Hanzheng said coldly.

Gu Siting still sounded determined.

However, due to the threat from Cayman Dorrans, he had restrained himself.

Now, he was probably thinking about joining forces with Will Dorrans and the others to deal with Cayman Dorrans. Without anyone stopping him, he would come to her.

"Mrs. Fu?" Gu Siting sneered and asked, "Did the Fu Family admit it?"

Although Cayman Dorrans had cut off all avenues to find out about her, he knew that the elders of the Fu Family would not accept her relationship with Fu Hanzheng.

Therefore, the Mrs. Fu that Fu Hanzheng was talking about was not the real Mrs. Fu that the Fu Family recognized.

"Does our family matter have anything to do with President Gu?" Fu Hanzheng asked coldly.

He did that at the wedding because he was sure that his father and the Old Lady would not accept her past.

But many things could change.

If he could not change his family's mindset, then he had to change himself.

Anyway, he would not let go of her hands no matter what.
