

MY HIDDEN 1321

Chapter 1321: Brother and Sister-in-law?

“Don’t you want to get her back?” Old Lady asked straightforwardly, seeing that he did not get the point,

Fu Shiyi and Fu Shiqin exchanged a look. Was his brother and sister-in-law going to finally remarry? Sure enough, Yuan Meng was very powerful.

They had asked her to get a divorce back then, but now they were slapping themselves in the face.

“She already has a fiancé,” Fu Hanzheng said.

“You were once married to her, but now you are divorced. You are not doing well, and you are not able to see the children often either. Before she and that person get married, think of a way to become the official father of the children,” Old Lady said seriously.

Hanzheng was smart enough to understand that she and his father had allowed him to court Gu Weiwei again.

But his relationship with Gu Weiwei had not improved much. However, that man had announced that he was marrying her, so she had to make her attitude clear.

“Mom, you...” Fu Shengying’s expression changed when he heard what the Old Lady said.

He still hoped that the children would come home...

“Alright, can you bear to see these two children without both their parents by their side?” Mrs. Fu asked.

When she first found out about Weiwei’s relationship with the Gu Family, she did want her to stay away from the Fu Family.

But after they forced them to get a divorce and Hanzheng ended up not doing well, she felt bad.

Now, she could not bear to miss out on seeing the two children again.

Compared to the misery she felt when she found out about Weiwei’s relationship with the Gu Family, everything else made her feel even worse.

As long as he and Gu Weiwei could get back together, they would be able to live a peaceful life and the two children would be able to return to the Fu Family. That was a very happy thing.

Although she had relaxed her stance a few days ago, she could not bring herself to say they should remarry when she remembered that the divorce was because of them. a

How could she ask them to get married again?

However, after seeing the two children today, she no longer felt embarrassed.

Face was not more important than the happiness of children and grandchildren.

“So grandma, you want our brother and sister-in-law to remarry?” Fu Shiqin asked in astonishment.

“Can’t I want that?” Old Lady countered.

“Sure, of course.” Fu Shiqin chuckled. They had been waiting for this moment for so long.

Fu Shiyi went over to the Old Lady and massaged her back and shoulders. “Grandma, you are so smart.”

Fu Shengying did not quite agree, so he looked cold.

“Must you go to this extent?”

“The minority obeys the majority,” Old Lady said straightforwardly.

“Mom, you were the one who brought up the divorce, and now you want them to remarry?” Fu Shengying asked.

Old Lady squinted at him and said, “What else can I do? I can think of a way to get the children back, but either they don’t have a mother or end up with a new stepmother.”

If he could not accept Gu Weiwei finding a stepfather for the children, why should he accept them finding a stepmother for the children?

Also, with Hanzheng’s temper, he might not want to find a stepmother for them at all. Those children would then not have a mother. If he did not feel sorry for them, she would.

Fu Shengying was speechless. He understood it clearly.

But he had to think of Gu Weiwei’s relationship with the Gu Family and Cayman Dorrans.

Old Lady looked at Fu Hanzheng and made the decision.

“I don’t care if you are trying to poach her or doing something else, just get her back.”

Fu Shiyi and Fu Shiqin were overjoyed, but they had to suppress their emotions.

They had thought about making long-term preparations, but after meeting Youyou and Tiantian a few times, they could not sit still..

Chapter 1322: Brother and Sister-in-law? 2

Seeing him leaving, Fu Shiyi and Fu Shiqin got up to leave too.

The three of them walked out of the house and after they got into the car, Fu Shiyi and Fu Shiqin clapped happily.

“Sure enough, Youyou and Tiantian are the most effective method.”

No matter how much they talked, they were no match for the two little cute buns.

“Even if the Old Lady agrees, you should keep your mouth shut.” Fu Hanzheng warned.

“Don’t worry, I will not reveal anything,” Fu Shiyi said confidently.

Although the Old Lady had given in, his father was still objecting, so the show had to go on.

Otherwise, even if the Old Lady had given in and his brother went to stay with sister-in-law, everything would be exposed.

“Since the show is done, we better finish the ending song according to the script. We need to find an excuse for Yuan Meng and sister-in-law to break up, so that you can remarry.” Fu Shiqin analyzed as he drove.

Fu Hanzheng said nothing. The Old Lady did not object to him being with her now, but just as Fu Shiqin and Fu Shiyi had said, the show had to be finished well.

Otherwise, if their family found out what they had done, they would be very angry.

“But I think that you should remarry as soon as possible, so we can at least get the certificate first.” Fu Shiyi thought for a while and suggested seriously. “Let’s take this opportunity when Gu Siting can’t do anything.”

Although Gu Siting had not done anything for more than a year, as far as they knew, he had not given up on sister-in-law.

“We met him in Paris,” Fu Hanzheng said.

“What did he do?” Fu Shiqin asked nervously.

“It was just a coincidence. He did not dare to do anything.” Fu Hanzheng said, “Get Lei Meng to send some men to Zhujiang to keep Weiwei and the children safe.”

Now Gu Siting thought that Cayman Dorrans had been stabbed, so the next step he would take would be to kill him or Weiwei’s children.

Previously, he could not send anyone from the Fu Family, but now that the Old Lady had agreed, he could send someone to protect her openly.

Although Yuan Meng and Lei Ning had been arranged to be there, there were too few people and it was not safe.

“Of course, those two little ones are the apple of our father and grandma’s eyes,” Fu Shiqin replied.

Especially now because they were their only grandchildren.

“Be careful about the company’s overseas projects, the Gu Family may do something to them.” Fu Hanzheng stressed to Fu Shiqin.

“I can’t stop him, brother, you better deal with it yourself.” Fu Shiqin’s voice changed when he heard his words.

With his brother around, he was not afraid of Gu Siting.

But without his brother around, he was afraid that he would not be able to beat Gu Siting.

“Give me one more week.” Fu Hanzheng said.

During this time, he wanted to spend more time with Weiwei and the two children.

“Alright,” Fu Shiqin said helplessly.

Fu Shiyi leaned himself against the seat and sighed.

“The Old Lady has given in, but our father is so stubborn...”

“As long as he still wants to be a grandfather, he will compromise sooner or later.” Fu Shiqin snorted.

His father had thought that as long as the children were back, his brother would not need to remarry.

If he did not agree now, he would have to sooner or later, unless he did not want to be a grandfather anymore?

But he liked Youyou and Tiantian too much to give up on being their grandfather.

Chapter 1323: Relationship

When Fu Hanzheng and his brothers returned to villa seven, Gu Weiwei was taking care of the two children, finishing feeding them the milk powder and playing with the toys with them on the floor.

Tiantian kept making sounds with the toys, making the two Uncles look at her in adoration.

The two men in their 20s joined them and started to play with the babies.

Gu Weiwei got up and sat down with Fu Hanzheng on the sofa.

“What is it? You look so happy. What happened?”

“It is not that we have run into something good, but you and our brother have run into something good.” Fu Shiqin was playing with the children as he turned around and said, “The Old Lady is urging our brother to bring you home.”

Gu Weiwei looked at Fu Hanzheng in disbelief. “Really?”

Fu Hanzheng nodded. “Yes.”

“It is just that my father is too stubborn to agree. But he has already solved one of them so quickly, it is already very fast,” Fu Shiqin said happily.

They had returned to the country for less than a month and they had already conquered the Old Lady. Now, only his father was left.

Fu Hanzheng took hold of her hands and whispered, “It is a bit strange to register our marriage now. We need to continue with the show and then we can propose to register our marriage later.”

If going to register their marriage, even after the Old Lady had agreed, would not expose their intentions, he would have dragged her to the Civil Affairs Office already.

“No hurry, we are always together, right?” Gu Weiwei chuckled.

For her and Fu Hanzheng, the marriage certificate was just a piece of paper that proved their relationship.

Whether they did get married or not, would not affect their feelings for each other.

"Of course," Fu Hanzheng said seriously.

Although their relationship would not be affected by a marriage certificate, he had to make her the official Mrs. Fu.

"Okay, of course." Gu Weiwei nodded and glanced at Yuan Meng who was smoking outside. "Then what should I do with my boyfriend?"

Fu Hanzheng threw a look at Yuan Meng who was dressed as a man, thought for a while and then said, "She can't disappear just like that. Let her play the role for a few more days and then arrange a convincing reason to cause your break up."

With the Old Lady and his father's intelligence, it would be too suspicious if his "love rival" disappeared after they agreed to let them be together.

Everything they did was to remarry, but they could not let the Old Lady and father know about it.

"Sister-in-law can have an affair or her boyfriend has an affair, otherwise everything else would be too fake." Hearing their discussion, Fu Shiyi interrupted and made a suggestion. "Sister-in-law, you can cheat on your boyfriend with our brother and then break up with him, so you and our brother can be together righteously."

"No." Fu Hanzheng objected.

"Why not? You can make the family believe that you two are back together that way." Fu Shiyi did not think that his proposal was wrong.

"No means no," Fu Hanzheng said resolutely.

It was a good suggestion, but the Old Lady had agreed to their relationship mostly because of the two children.

If such a thing happened, she would not have a good impression of her and think that she was a fickle person.

Then she would not be nice to her at home. He did not want her to suffer because of such a small matter..

Chapter 1324 - Cheating

Fu Shiyi and Fu Shiqin exchanged a look and then looked at Yuan Meng who was smoking outside.

"Then let her cheat."

Anyway, as long as there was a reason why this fake boyfriend disappeared, his brother and sister-in-law could be together righteously.

Gu Weiwei thought for a moment and nodded.

"If it is convenient for you then arrange for someone else to come here, then let Yuan Meng go to Italy. It is not peaceful there, and only Yuan Shuo is there, so I'm worried."

Even if she wanted to go there, with the two children around and the Fu Family's prejudice against the Dorrans Family, she could not go home at this time.

"Okay," Fu Hanzheng said.

Even if the Old Lady did not agree to letting them remarry today, the family would not object to him arranging for someone to keep them safe just for the sake of the two children.

Because even if they were not worried about her, they would be worried about the two children, fearing that something would happen to them.

"I will discuss it with Yuan Meng later. Yuan Bao can stay here and we can take care of him. She will then go to Italy." Gu Weiwei thought of the serious situation of the Dorrans Family and could not help but feel worried.

Fu Hanzheng took hold of her shoulders and said with a gentle voice, "Although there is no definite news yet, Will Dorrans has suffered heavy losses and he is also injured. I think that it will only take a week for him to die."

Of course, those who hunted Will Dorrans would also pay a great price.

However, from Cayman Dorrans' perspective, he had gotten rid of the person he wanted to get rid of without spending any effort on himself. He had also weakened the internal family and made his position safer.

Over the years, as the situation continued to develop, the various forces within the Dorrans Family also developed.

But Cayman Dorrans had never had the right time to weaken their forces, and now was the best time he could use.

He was using the noble position of the family as bait to make these people bleed for him.

By the time they realized what was going on, Will Dorrans would have been removed and their own forces would be seriously injured in this battle. They would no longer be Cayman Dorrans' matches.

This old fox had always been excellent at scheming.

If Cayman Dorrans was not a scheming and ruthless man, he would not have survived until now.

"Okay," Gu Weiwei answered distractedly.

Fu Hanzheng took hold of her shoulders and whispered, "If you want to meet Cayman Dorrans, we can arrange it when the situation is stable."

Gu Weiwei turned around in astonishment. "Meet him?"

"You want to meet him, but you haven't because of the Fu Family and me, right?" Fu Hanzheng countered.

Of course, Cayman Dorrans was also worried that his identity would bring her danger again.

But he was her real father, whom she had looked for so many times. She used to live in the Gu Family and her adoptive father died when she was at the Gu Family. After she became Mu Weiwei, Li Jiacheng was such an unsavoury person and Cayman Dorrans was her only relative.

"...Forget it." Gu Weiwei turned him down.

She occasionally had the intention of meeting Cayman Dorrans, but when she thought of the risks of meeting him, she dismissed the idea.

If it had been before, she would not have cared about these things.

But with two children, she was afraid that she would bring them danger.

Chapter 1325 - Apart From Cheating And Divorce

After staying silent for a moment, Fu Hanzheng said, "Weiwei, you don't have to sacrifice anything for me and the Fu Family. You can do whatever you want, and I won't object to it, okay?"

Gu Weiwei chuckled.

"Anything?"

"Apart from cheating and getting a divorce." Fu Hanzheng added.

Gu Weiwei chuckled. "Only two conditions."

Fu Hanzheng thought for a while and nodded.

"Only these two."

Apart from these two things, she could do anything she wanted.

"What if I want to take all of your properties?" Gu Weiwei asked with a sinister smile.

"They are all yours," Fu Hanzheng said without hesitation.

Gu Weiwei smiled brightly and asked, "What if I take on more roles in the future?"

Fu Hanzheng's face sank. "No additional conditions."

"If I don't do kissing, hugging or bed scenes, how am I going to survive in this industry?" Gu Weiwei asked with a smile.

Maybe she could only become a director.

"You can be the director," Fu Hanzheng said.

Gu Weiwei blinked naughtily.

"Then I can be the director and film someone else's bed scenes, right?"

Fu Hanzheng frowned even deeper. "You can't reveal too much of the man's body."

Gu Weiwei laughed even more happily. "I can't take on such a role and if I can't direct someone else's nude scene, what can I do?"

Fu Shiyi, who was walking around the house with Tiantian in his arms, interrupted them when he heard their conversation.

"Brother, don't be so harsh. Sister-in-law can't kiss and fake sleep with someone else, and she can't be the director either. How is she going to survive in the film industry?"

As long as the men are not completely naked, she can do the filming. It is not like you will lose a piece of flesh. Are you afraid that you are not as good as other male stars?"

Having said these words, he was silenced by his brother's cold glare.

Fu Shiyi shrank back and left the danger zone with Tiantian in his arms.

Actually, he found it strange too. His brother was so busy with work but his figure was better than his, he who often worked out a lot. It was simply not scientific.

Fu Hanzheng thought for a while with a serious face. "You can film, but not male stars."

"Got it, I am not going to be a director then." Gu Weiwei snorted.

Fu Hanzheng looked at her. "Am I being too strict?"

"No, no." Gu Weiwei shook her head. This man was good at everything, except that he was very jealous.

Fu Hanzheng thought that he was all she needed. Apart from certain things he would let her do whatever she wanted.

Gu Weiwei saw Fu Shiqin who was putting Youyou to sleep not far away. However, he had fallen asleep before the child even fell asleep.

Seeing this, Fu Hanzheng picked the child up from his arms.

Gu Weiwei threw a look at Fu Shiqin who was so tired that he had fallen asleep. "Are you going to go to work? You can't keep mistreating your brother."

Ever since Fu Hanzheng and her went to Dubai, Fu Shiqin had been the only one handling everything at the headquarters of Fu's Enterprise. Now that they were back, Fu Hanzheng was staying here with her and the children, and he was the only one holding the fort at the company.

He was so busy during the day but he still wanted to play with the two children after work.

"I have been in charge of the company for so many years and I have never ended up like him," Fu Hanzheng said coldly.

He had been managing the company for so many years and he was never tired like this.. He had only taken over for a year and yet he kept complaining. Was he not tired of doing so when he was working?

Chapter 1326 - A Man Who Works Hard

"It's because you are smarter and more capable than him." Gu Weiwei flattered him with a smile and consoled him with a gentle voice.

"You just need to come home from work early every day to keep us company. You don't have to stay at home with us all day every day. I think that a man who works hard is the most charming."

Fu Hanzheng nodded thoughtfully and decided to start being a serious and charming man tomorrow.

So at dinner, he announced his decision.

Hearing his words, Fu Shiqin almost kowtowed to his brother three times out of gratitude.

Recently, the headquarters had to deal with domestic business and overseas development, so he was too busy to do anything else.

Unexpectedly, his brother was so conscientious and decided to come back to work so soon.

Sure enough, his brother still regarded him as his own brother.

However, Fu Shiyi reminded him.

"Don't just thank our brother, thank our sister-in-law!"

"Thank you, sister-in-law." Fu Shiqin scooped up a bowl of soup and offered it to Gu Weiwei sincerely.

"Sister-in-law, please have some soup."

Gu Weiwei took it helplessly. "Don't think that you can be lazy just because your brother is at the company. He needs to come home to keep the children company."

"You and the children." Fu Hanzheng corrected her.

Fu Shiqin smiled bitterly. So what if he had a wife and children?

"So our brother is not concerned about you, he is trying to be a charming man who works hard for sister-in-law," Fu Shiyi said.

With his chopsticks in his hand, Fu Shiqin could not eat any more.

He had begged him for so long and told him how much the company needed him, but he refused to return to the company.

But when his sister-in-law said that a man who was serious about work was charming, he immediately went to work at the company.

Yuan Meng threw a look at Fu Shiqin who was greatly affected. "This is not the first time, you know what your brother is like, why can't you stand such a blow?"

In Fu Hanzheng's eyes, his brother was not important, and neither was his son or daughter as important as his wife.

Gu Weiwei did not utter a word, but she could not help smiling sweetly.

After dinner, she waited for the two children to fall asleep, while Fu Hanzheng went to the study to make preparations for tomorrow's work.

Then she went to Yuan Meng's room and told her that she hoped she would go to Italy.

Yuan Meng raised her eyebrows.

"So the Fu Family has agreed to let you remarry Fu Hanzheng?"

"The Old Lady did not object, but Uncle Fu did not approve of it." Gu Weiwei confessed.

"That is good progress too. In this case, how should I disappear?" Yuan Meng asked.

"Well... you will cheat on me," Gu Weiwei said.

She had thought that Yuan Meng would counter her and ask her to cheat instead.

But the woman said excitedly, "Great, I have never cheated before, let me experience the thrill of cheating."

"..." Gu Weiwei felt her forehead. What kind of wife had Yuan Shuo found for himself?

"Then how should I do it? Who should I ask? Any requests?" Yuan Meng asked excitedly.

Gu Weiwei did not know whether to laugh or cry. "Well... we can discuss the details later. We can't do it too fast or it will be too intentional."

It would be too much of a coincidence if they agreed to break up tomorrow.

Even if Old Lady did not say anything, Fu Shengying would suspect something and object even more to their remarriage.

Therefore, everything had to be done naturally, so that no one could see through it.

Chapter 1327 - Hurting Each Other

Because of Gu Weiwei's persuasion, Fu Hanzheng finally agreed to return to the headquarters of Fu's Enterprise.

That night, Fu Shiqin opened a bottle of good wine to celebrate his brother's return to work and his carefree life.

Although Fu Hanzheng had promised to take over the work at the company, he ate breakfast with his wife and helped to feed the two children. It was already past nine o'clock in the morning.

Then he got off work at five o'clock in the evening and went back to his wife and children. Fu Shiqin's work was not reduced.

In this way, his father and grandma even called him and blamed him for asking his brother to go back to work because he would not have time to keep his children company.

Fu Shiqin felt wronged but did not dare to object.

When he finished the work at night and returned home, his brother had just helped Gu Weiwei bathe the two children. The little bun, Tiantian, sat in his arms with a pink towel wrapped around her.

"Oh, Baby Tiantian, let Second Uncle hug you."

He had been very displeased with his brother, but when he saw the cute little bun, he forgot everything.

"Did you wash your hands?" Fu Hanzheng glared at him.

Fu Shiqin withdrew his hands and went to wash his hands in the bathroom. When he came back, Fu Hanzheng had already put on the cute pajamas for his daughter.

The girl looked very soft and cute. She had just taken a shower and the faint scent of the baby soap had healed Fu Shiqin's extremely wounded heart.

His brother was not a cute person, so how did he give birth to such a cute girl?

Fu Hanzheng was leafing through the report Fu Shiqin brought back. "It is not detailed enough, give me a more detailed report tomorrow morning."

Hearing these words, Fu Shiqin's face sank as he held Tiantian in his arms.

"Can't you just do it?"

He was not satisfied with how long he had spent arranging the report.

But if he was not satisfied, he could do it himself.

"Just?" Fu Hanzheng's voice sank.

Hearing the weird tone of his brother's voice, Fu Shiqin became frightened.

"I will do it today and give it to you tomorrow morning."

Fu Shiyi smiled deeply when he saw the scene.

"Second Brother, a man who said that if our brother is not satisfied, he can do it himself. You've already said it before... So why are you scared right now?"

Fu Hanzheng had complained to him about the reports and plans that had been redone by him recently. If his brother dared to ask him to redo the work again, he would definitely want to tell him to do it himself.

But it seemed that Second Brother would never have the guts to say that in front of his brother.

Fu Shiqin glared at Fu Shiyi who had betrayed him. "When did I say that?"

"Yesterday," Fu Shiyi said sinisterly.

Fu Hanzheng threw a look at Fu Shiqin with a vague smile. "What are your plans in the afternoon?"

"Brother, please spare my life." Fu Shiqin almost kneeled down and begged for mercy.

Fu Shiyi took hold of Tiantian and gloated.

"Baby Tiantian, you must not be as irresponsible as your Second Uncle, understand?"

"Third Brother, the female artist from your company is just a spokesperson for a brand under Fu's Enterprise and she is asking for our brother's phone number. You gave her his contact details, do you dare to tell sister-in-law?" Fu Shiqin turned around and betrayed what Fu Shiyi had done and asked, "What do you think you are doing?"

Fu Shiyi smiled proudly. "I did not give our brother's details, I gave her yours."

He would never dare to reveal his brother's contact information to anyone other than sister-in-law.

But he had given Fu Shiqin's number to her because he had to give her something.

Chapter 1328: Hurting Each Other 2

Fu Shiqin got so annoyed that if he had not seen him holding the child, he would have rushed over to strangle him to death.

Because of him, that woman treated him as his brother and kept pestering him with phone calls and texts.

"Did you forget how you used our brother as a cover to fight for fashion resources with the artists under the company?"

Hearing these words, Fu Shiyi turned around and said, "After our brother got a divorce, you still wanted to introduce a new girlfriend to our brother. Have you forgotten about that?"

Come on, let's hurt each other!

Gu Weiwei came out with Youyou, who had just taken a bath. Seeing the two uncles hurting each other with their words again, she interrupted them speechlessly.

"How many lifetimes did you have together before you were born from the same mother?"

Brotherhood did not exist between them. They only hurt each other.

Fu Shiyi and Fu Shiqin stopped betraying each other. Fu Shiqin teased Youyou who was wrapped in the towel and could not wait to carry him when he was dressed.

"Oh yes, Yuan Meng is going to stop pretending to be my boyfriend, what should we do these next two days?" Gu Weiwei looked at Fu Hanzheng, then at Fu Shiqin and Fu Shiyi, asking for their opinions.

Yuan Meng had just put Yuan Bao to sleep and heard them talking downstairs, so she said with interest, "Have you found out who I am cheating with?"

"Done," Fu Hanzheng said.

With one hand over her chin, Yuan Meng asked, "Then what should I do? Should the Fu Family see me cheating?"

"Of course, otherwise how would they believe that you cheated and broke up with sister-in-law?" Fu Shiqin said.

Yuan Meng nodded. "Then how far am I going to cheat? Should I get a room with her?"

Gu Weiwei, who was drinking water, choked. "You can do whatever you want."

Yuan Meng expressed confidently.

“Then look forward to my performance.”

Gu Weiwei nodded, feeling a bit uneasy —this woman shouldn’t so obsessed with being a scumbag.

Ever since Old Lady told Fu Hanzheng that she was permitting him to get Gu Weiwei back, Mrs. Fu had also expressed her agreement.

As Fu Shengying built the children’s amusement park near the old mansion, the two of them were also actively buying things for the two children.

After breakfast, Mrs. Fu sent the Old Lady back to her room to get changed. They agreed to go to the mall together and buy Gu Weiwei a present as a small compensation as well as some things the children needed.

Fu Shengying was reading when he saw them getting changed and getting ready to leave.

“Where are you going?”

“We’re buying Weiwei a present. She has been working very hard to raise the two children,” Mrs. Fu said straightforwardly.

Fu Shengying said with a cold face, “She wanted to have the children by herself, why do you need to buy presents to thank her?”

The Old Lady’s tone sank.

“She gave birth to the children by herself, but if she had not, you would not have been able to see your grandchildren. If she wanted to abort the children, we would not be able to see our grandchildren, and yet you still say such things?”

...

Fu Shengying shut his mouth. “Forget it, you can go wherever you want.”

He still held a grudge against the Old Lady for agreeing to Fu Hanzheng and that woman being together again.

“We need to buy something for the two children later, do you need anything?” Mrs. Fu asked gently.

Hearing that they were going to buy something for his grandchildren, Fu Shengying put down the book and said without thinking, “Hang on, let me go and get changed.”

Chapter 1329: Yuan Meng’s Cheating

Seeing him entering the room, Mrs. Fu and the Old Lady exchanged a look.

He did not care about Weiwei, but about her two children.

The moment he heard that they were going to buy something for his grandchildren, he could not sit still anymore and became even more proactive than them.

Within five minutes, Fu Shengying had already changed and urged the driver to drive off.

When the three of them arrived at the mall, Mrs. Fu and the Old Lady went to pick out presents for Gu Weiwei, whilst Fu Shengying was leisurely shopping on the floor for children's products, looking for new presents for his grandchildren.

But even after going round this floor twice, he still did not see the two women.

So he went upstairs to meet them.

But the moment he went upstairs, he saw a familiar figure, who looked very much like Gu Weiwei's new boyfriend.

But it was not Gu Weiwei who was with this man, but another young and pretty girl.

Also, they were very close.

With his arms around the girl's waist, he went to all the stores that the girl liked and bought everything for her.

He was just staring when Mrs. Fu and the Old Lady saw him and came over to him.

"What are you looking at? I already called you a few times."

With a cold face, Fu Shengying pointed at Yuan Meng who was dressed in a casual male outfit and the pretty girl next to him.

"Look who it is!"

"Isn't this man with Gu Weiwei?" Mrs. Fu asked in astonishment.

But who was this girl next to him?

Also, he was so generous in buying things for her. None of the brands were cheap, but he bought everything for that girl.

Old Lady put on her glasses and saw them clearly.

"Why is this man shopping with another woman?"

"Oh yes, didn't he say that he and Gu Weiwei are getting married? Now this is..." Mrs. Fu became increasingly confused. Although she knew that her son was trying to get married on purpose, this man...

Fu Shengying took a picture and video with his phone. "I told you that such a person is not a good person and can't be the stepfather of the two children."

"Also, I saw that he never went out for work and now he is spending so much... Could he be using Gu Weiwei's money to support someone else?" Mrs. Fu said.

"Why not? He put up with her children so nicely because of Gu Weiwei's money." Fu Shengying snorted.

He just could not understand why Gu Weiwei, who was good-looking and talented, had found this man. Mrs. Fu threw a look at Fu Shengying and the Old Lady, wondering if she should tell Gu Weiwei what she was seeing.

After all, they had forced her to get a divorce, and now they were forcing her to break up with this man?

“Then... what should we do now?”

“Let’s see where they are going first,” Old Lady suggested.

The three of them exchanged a look and decided to follow each other in the dark. They would decide if they should tell Gu Weiwei what they were up to.

So they gave up shopping and followed behind Yuan Meng who was dressed as a man.

They followed them out of the mall and saw them sneaking into a hotel.

“Look at this! Look at this... what is this?! She still plans to make such a person the stepfather of her children..” Fu Shengying was furious when he saw the two of them entering the hotel.

Chapter 1330: Yuan Meng’s Cheating 2

On the other hand, Yuan Meng became even more arrogant when she knew that the three elders of the Fu Family were staring at her.

Not only did she buy and buy everything with that woman, but she also brought her to the hotel to get a room, so that she could prove her infidelity and create the image of a scumbag.

Mrs. Fu and the others sat down in the cafe opposite the hotel, but they were all staring at the entrance of the hotel.

He even went to get a room in broad daylight. It was obvious what he was doing.

“What should we do about this?”

“Of course, tell Gu Weiwei what this pretty boy is like,” Fu Shengying said furiously.

He did not want to see the two children being affected by such a stepfather.

Mrs. Fu was a bit hesitant. “But this is their private matter after all, it won’t look good if we cause trouble.”

“Why not? That person will only leave when this matter is revealed,” Old Lady said.

Hanzheng and Gu Weiwei had been cold and distant with each other because of this man.

If this person left, they would be together sooner or later.

Then they could see the children returning to the Fu Family as soon as possible.

“Also, the two children are getting older and they can understand words. We really can’t let such a person stay by their side and ruin their education,” Mrs. Fu said.

She had known that the remarriage was arranged, so she naturally knew that this scene must also have been arranged when she saw him cheating.

The main reason is probably because the Old Lady agreed to let them remarry a few days ago, so the person who is going to play Gu Weiwei's boyfriend now must have a suitable reason to break up with her.

The three of them had agreed with one another, so they did not finish buying everything, but drove after Yuan Meng.

Then they followed him all the way back to villa seven.

The moment Yuan Meng entered the house, she glanced at Gu Weiwei and checked the time on her watch.

"Within ten minutes, they will definitely knock on the door."

Sure enough, five minutes later, Fu Shengying, Old Lady and Mrs. Fu all got out of the car, looking very serious and knocked on the door.

Gu Weiwei asked someone to deliver the tea and asked despite knowing the answer, "What is it? What happened?"

"What happened?" Yuan Meng pretended to be dumb.

"What was going on between you and that woman at the mall? Why did you have to get a room in broad daylight? You know clearly what happened." Fu Shengying's face sank as he spoke furiously.

Gu Weiwei's lips twitched, looking a bit disturbed. "A mall? A room?"

"When we were at the mall, we saw him buying a bunch of branded clothes and shoes with a woman. In the end, he even checked into a room near the mall and stayed there for a few hours before coming out." Fu Shengying furiously revealed everything they had seen.

"Weiwei, don't believe them, I really did not do that." Yuan Meng pretended to be nervous and explained herself.

"You didn't do that?" Fu Shengying glared at Yuan Meng and showed them the pictures and videos he had taken. "See for yourself what they have done."

Gu Weiwei cooperatively took the phone and her face turned increasingly pale as she watched the video.

Yuan Meng saw the contents of the video and still tried to deny it, so she said pleadingly, "This... this is not true, Weiwei, listen to me!"
