

MY HIDDEN 251

Chapter 251: Li Xing'er Lost Face

Li Xing'er's boyfriend and fans bought out the cinemas for the movie whilst she continued to show off her loving relationship online, which gained her a lot of popularity.

Then Fu Shiyi's girlfriend fans did the same for him across the entire country.

However, no one had expected that one single Boyfriend Fan of Mu Weiwei, had contributed to the box office of the movie, within one single day, by buying out all of the cinemas across the country.

Apart from her own fans, some of the audience and fans of the original novel all started to make comments online.

[After watching the Long Wind, only Tang Shaoqi moved my heart. She acted so vividly that only a look from hers and a scene of her back, could make the whole show so dynamic]

[As a fan of the original book, Mu Weiwei is exactly what the Master of the Tang Family should be like]

[For the Master, I decide to watch the movie again, one more time tomorrow... or even the day after tomorrow, all the way until the movie is no longer in the cinemas]

[I had intended to watch Third Master, but I somehow became Master Tang's fan instead]

[I am truly impressed by her, a 19-year-old girl, who has portrayed such a vivid Tang Shaoqi]

Two days in a row, there were multiple posts on Weibo that spoke highly of Mu Weiwei's performance.

[Tang Shaoqi and Mu Weiwei] was the tag that had topped the fifth place of the hot search list without any behind the scenes operations from the agency.

After the first buyout day, there were an increasing number of fans who started to support Mu Weiwei in the following promotional events, which caused Li Xing'er to become extremely annoyed.

When the words of praise kept appearing online, Li Xing'er could not stand it anymore.

Therefore, some voices started to appear, which started to suspect the real identity of the Boyfriend Fan who supported Mu Weiwei.

[I think that the man who has bought out the cinemas must have bought her too.]

[Anyone can get popular, if some sugar daddy is supporting her behind the scenes.]

[No university student at the age of 19 is able to play a role in such a high-budget film!]

[No wonder the role that used to be Shen Qiu's could be stolen away – this girl has a sugar daddy!]

....

Not only ordinary Weibo accounts but even some important figures in the film industry started to take the opportunity to cook up stories, at the suggestion of Li Xing'er's team.

Some people not only demeaned Mu Weiwei but also praised Li Xing'er, the leading actress of the Long Wind.

[Some people spent money on fans trying to cook up a story of her own acting, so shameless!]

[Those who have no idea about movies, are of course going to suck up to the person who treats them to a free film. Do they truly have any idea of what acting skills are?]

[Cheng Yibai and Sun Xiaobei are obviously speaking highly of Lin Qingxue who was played by Li Xing'er, so are you blind to have still spoken highly of Tang Shaoqi instead?]

When those people were criticizing Mu Weiwei, they still reposted posts by Cheng Yibai and Sun Xiaobei.

They kept saying that Mu Weiwei's supporters were just sucking up to the movie because they received a free show from the mysterious sugar daddy and that Li Xing'er was the actress whose skills were approved of by the film critics.

Then Cheng Yibai's post that spoke highly of the young, skilled actress in the Long Wind, was again pushed up to the hot search.

After learning the situation in the afternoon, Jolin contacted the company and tried to press down the rumours online.

It was not until in the evening that he talked with Gu Weiwei about countermeasures.

"Everyone online says that the Boyfriend Fan is your sugar daddy and they even said that he bought the fans and the role for you. They not only demean us but also speak highly of Li Xing'er. Apparently, it is her team's job."

She had obtained popularity and a good reputation, when the situation had now suddenly turned around.

That was how the internet worked. No one cared to learn the truth.

The wider spread the gossip was, the more people would believe it to be the truth.

Gu Weiwei sighed in pain. "It will just keep getting worse."

"I have talked with Director Yi so that we can publicize the audition video." Jolin checked the record on his note and said.

"Also, we may have to find out who that Boyfriend Fan is, so we can do some clarifying."

She and Jolin were just in the middle of discussing how to deal with the situation when Xu screamed joyfully.

"Check your phone, check your phone now!"

Jolin's face sank in displeasure. "Xu, we are talking about important business."

Xing'er gave him the phone excitedly. "Cheng Yibai is fighting Li Xing'er right now!"

Chapter 252: Truth

On Weibo, Li Xing'er's fans and some popular figures on Weibo were still talking vividly about Mu Weiwei and her mysterious sugar daddy.

They had thought that they were moral people by demeaning Mu Weiwei.

They claimed that she stole Shen Qiu's role with the help of her sugar daddy.

They also said that with the help of her sugar daddy, she kept putting Li Xing'er into terrible situations when making the film.

Some even said that the reason why she was away from school during high school, was because she went to stay and sleep around with the sugar daddy and that the only reason she was accepted by the Film Academy, was because of him too.

However, some people were just bragging about Lin Qingxue being played by Li Xing'er.

They not only reposted the posts by Cheng Yibai and Sun Xiaobei but also kept saying that their own idol had been deeply approved of by the professional film critics.

They even suggested that some girl bought the box office contribution and popularity with the help of her sugar daddy and that whether an actress was skilled or not, could not depend on money.

Zhou Linna (Linna Zhou) who had just hit the stage also expressed her thoughts on Weibo by posting, [Xing'er has always been devoted to her performing career and puts in more effort than anyone could imagine. She is worthy of all the praise]

The tag of [Cheng Yibai and Li Xing'er] was on the hot search list and its popularity kept rising.

Suddenly, Cheng Yibai replied to a Weibo repost that said that Li Xing'er was a young, talented actress.

[How come I have no idea about her being a skilled actress?]

After the reply, he wrote a long post.

The title was: Learn Well

[Some days ago, Director Yi, my old friend, invited me to attend the premiere of the Long Wind. I became deeply moved after the movie because the role played by one young actress, unexpectedly, made me want to watch the Long Wind again... and I did.

Shiyi who plays Gu Changfeng also showcases his unprecedentedly excellent skills and presents a very vivid and heroic character of Gu Changfeng. I must say that none of the supporting roles disappoints us at all and I am most impressed by the youngest actress of the Long Wind cast.

She has managed to portray a vivid Tang Shaoqi and showcase the soul as the Master of the Tang Family. I just can not believe that she is only 19 years old!

The Master of the Tang Family is a genius in martial arts and she is also very arrogant and proud. After her clan is slaughtered, she becomes the killer that dominates the entire land. She is just like a killing robot, without humanity or emotion.

However, she has a different look when she is with Gu Changfeng and when she isn't with him; every time she meets Gu Changfeng, she has a different look in her eyes.

Most of the time, Tang Shaoqi appears with a veil over her face, only showing her eyes but she has presented a very vivid Master of the Tang Family through that pair of eyes.

You can never buy out any acting skills or say any boastful words about it.

Only one of the two actresses of the Long Wind has showcased what an actress is like and I really am not sure what the other one is doing there.

I have always been about one actress of the Long Wind when I write 'young and talented'... But that is not the one that has brought me up to the top search list]

....

The moment Cheng Yibai posted the long article, someone quickly commented.

[Mr. Cheng, is it really a nice thing to do by slapping that person on the face, when she has brought you popularity?]

[I really want to say that Lin Qingxue, who I looked most forward to, disappointed me deeply, whilst Tang Shaoqi, who I hated the most before, amazed me.]

[Come and look at the most heated scene where someone is slapped across the face.]

[Haha, I do feel sorry for that person who has been slapped]

[Just look at how much popularity Cheng's post has gained, I can't predict how many people may feel a slap on their face tonight?]

[I am a potion master, and I can brew all kinds of medicine for wounds caused by face slapping, anyone need it?]

Chapter 253: The Rapid Slap on Face

At the beginning, it was only some bystanders as well as Mu Weiwei's fans who reposted Cheng Yibai's post and in the process, they tagged Li Xing'er as well as Li Xing'er's fans association.

Therefore, the distribution speed of the Weibo post wasn't very fast in the beginning but when Shiyi, the most popular star in Hua Land, reposted Cheng Yibai's Weibo post, it exploded like a bomb.

[Although the stars in our company are the most famous for our looks, I still thank you so much for your praise, Mr. Cheng]

Fu Shiyi's fans had originally obtained a great impression of Mu Weiwei, because they were in the same company.

They didn't like those brainless and mean comments online, so the moment Fu Shiyi reposted Cheng Yibai's post, his fans started to spread it around.

Also, every repost would have Li Xing'er and Li Xing'er's fans association tagged in them.

The comments that were advantageous for Li Xing'er were soon buried.

After all, when she suspected that Mu Weiwei had a sugar daddy, she did not put forward any evidence but Cheng Yibai did put forward an argument against Li Xing'er in person.

[Ms. Li must be thinking about taking revenge on her when she was put into the shadows last time at the film festival, right?]

[She was demeaned in the fashion industry at the film festival last time and now she is slapped right across the face by Mr. Cheng when the movie has been released, what a pathetic actress!]

[The slap across the face was so fast, just like a spinning tornado]

[Have you all noticed that whenever Li Xing'er is on the top search list, she will always receive a slap on the face]

....

Li Xing'er had just finished the promotional event and went back to the hotel room, where she asked her assistant to do her skin care, thinking that it had been a fine day with all the positive comments.

She was just in the middle of relaxing when her agent rushed in.

"Xing'er, something is wrong!"

"What is it?" Li Xing'er asked lazily.

The agent sighed anxiously and said, "Cheng Yibai has just written a post, saying that the actress he talked about is not you!"

Li Xing'er herself, her fans association, as well as numerous fans, had reposted Cheng Yibai's post and said that the skilled young actress referred to her but now when Cheng Yibai wrote the post and claimed that she was not the one, he was simply slapping them right across their faces!

"What?" Li Xing'er sat up in astonishment.

"He not only pointed out that he was not referring to you, but also wrote that..."

"Give it to me!" Li Xing'er reached out for the phone.

The agent hesitated. "You'd better not read it, I will talk with Mr. Cheng."

"Give it to me!" Li Xing'er grabbed her phone and turned on Weibo.

After reading Cheng Yibai's post, she furiously tossed the phone.

Her agent was so startled that she shrank a little as she said, "I have already deleted the post and asked the association to delete their post too. Fans are deleting their posts as well, we will soon press down this incident."

If it had only been Cheng Yibai who posted the Weibo, the incident would not have exploded but Fu Shiyi got involved and fully expanded the matter.

So now, it was almost impossible to press it down.

Actually, her agent had asked her to repost the post by Sun Xiaobei but Li Xing'er herself thought that Cheng Yibai's words spoke louder, so she reposted it of her own accord.

Now when her name and Cheng Yibai were at the top of the hot search list, she was slapped right across the face by him.

"What about Mu Weiwei? So no one cares about her anymore?" Li Xing'er asked furiously.

The agent picked up the phone with a broken screen and said, "It seems that... your incident speaks louder than hers."

"We can't let her get away with it. I am not going to be her shield!" Li Xing'er said with gritted teeth.

The agent sighed helplessly and reminded her, "What you have said about her is just hearsay. We do not have any evidence about that mysterious sugar daddy. Unless we know who that man is or we have a picture of them being together."

However, apart from Jolin who was gay and Fu Shiyi, no man had been seen around Mu Weiwei at all.

Chapter 254: Fu Hanzheng's Pictures (Extra)

After Jolin and Gu Weiwei finished reading Cheng Yibai's post, as well as some comments online, they both let out a sigh of relief.

They had thought that they would become so busy that they would not be able to fall asleep tonight.

But it seemed that it would be Li Xing'er and her agent who would not fall asleep tonight.

"Alright, alright, we are fine now."

With Mr. Cheng's post and Third Master's help, Li Xing'er and her team will be so preoccupied these two days.

Gu Weiwei said, "What about the sugar daddy? We don't need to do any clarification anymore?"

Jolin closed the notebook. "Everyone is focusing on the face-slapping show, no one cares about your gossip any more."

Li Xing'er had tried to demean his girl but ended up getting face slapped by Cheng Yibai instead.

As for the incident of sugar daddy, everyone understood that it was just a faint rumour.

His girl was born to be lucky. He had a feeling that he was going to bring up a super star.

Hearing that the crisis was solved without much effort, Gu Weiwei stood up and said, "Then I need to sleep now."

She had just come to her room and was about to open the door, when Fu Shiyi's door was opened next to her.

"Hey, my brother asked someone to get you dinner."

Gu Weiwei took it and glanced at Fu Shiyi.

"Thanks for the post."

Fu Shiyi leaned against the door and said, "Well, I am just giving a hand to my sister-in-law to be."

Gu Weiwei entered her room, feeling too lazy to explain anything to him.

Fu Shiyi said, "Oh, I will send you some pictures. You can post them whenever someone asks you about a sugar daddy again. No one would dare to utter a word."

"Can I reject them?"

Gu Weiwei said and fully entered the room.

She opened the food box and saw a bowl of rice, a bowl of soup, a meat dish and a salad, very nutritious.

She had just sat down and took out her phone when Fu Shiyi sent her a picture.

She clicked it open and found that it was a picture where she and Fu Hanzheng were kissing. It was taken on the sly when they were standing underneath the Chinese wisteria.

She had wanted to delete it, but suddenly, she realized that she had never saved a picture of Fu Hanzheng on her phone.

She was just thinking if she should delete it or not, when Fu Hanzheng called, startling her so that she almost dropped the phone into the soup.

"Eaten dinner yet?"

"Just eating."

Fu Hanzheng stayed silent for a moment. "Did I bring you trouble?"

Gu Weiwei ate as she talked with him.

"Not really. With your help, some sponsors don't dare to pester me."

Since she was not very famous and didn't have any background, some presidents or managers of sponsors would always come and pester her every now and then.

But recently, her world was getting quieter.

After all, only a powerful man with much wealth was able to buy out the cinemas for the movie.

Fu Hanzheng replied calmly. "Okay."

After all, those who tried to do something to her always ended up being in trouble.

Gu Weiwei thought for a while and asked, "Fu Hanzheng, do you have a picture? Please send one to me."

Fu Hanzheng asked. "Whose picture?"

"Yours."

Fu Hanzheng said after a moment of silence. "I will send some to you later."

He hung up and called Fu Shiqin, who had just come home and in the middle of adjusting to the time difference.

"Take a picture for me."

Fu Shiqin put the pillow over his head. "Go and take a selfie yourself."

Fu Hanzheng said, "Still want to go to South Africa?"

Fu Shiqin gritted his teeth and spent the next two hours, with both the phone and the camera, taking dozens of pictures of his brother.

He had thought that they were for some finance newspaper but it turned out that his brother picked only one of the pictures and sent it to his girlfriend.

Fu Shiqin felt like he was about to pass out in shock.

Chapter 255: Present? A Wife

Early in the morning when Gu Weiwei woke up, she saw the pictures that Fu Hanzheng had sent at midnight.

He was dressed in casual clothes and was sitting elegantly on the sofa with his legs crossed.

His eyes, which were normally cold and distant, showed a rare gentleness, whilst his beautiful lips displayed a light smile.

She looked at the pictures for a while and did not get up to get ready until her agent called.

The moment she got into the car, Fu Shiyi squinted at her. He had very heavy black rings under his eyes.

"You... you could have asked me for my brother's pictures and I would have given you however many you desired. Why did you have to ask him for the pictures?"

Gu Weiwei. "..."

Why did he know everything about her and Fu Hanzheng?

Fu Shiyi closed his eyes and tried to rest some more. "Second Brother told me about it."

Since she had asked for pictures of his eldest brother, his Second Brother was forced out of his bed just to take the pictures for him.

Then his Second Brother had called him and complained to him, so that he wasn't able to sleep well too.

They were supposed to have a media interview in the morning and as soon as they arrived, some fans gave her a bouquet of roses that symbolized “you are my one and only”, a total of 101 roses.

After the interview, Gu Weiwei got into the car with the roses in her arms and kicked Fu Shiyi who was dozing off.

“Hey, I would like to give something to your brother, what should I get him?”

Every time he went out for business, he would bring home expensive gifts for her.

When the promotional event finished, she was not planning on going home empty-handed.

Fu Shiyi snorted lazily. “He wouldn’t even mind a piece of rubbish you pick up from the roadside, if it was the gift you gave him.”

As far as he could see, his brother was an irrational man when it came to love and would even cherish a leaf that she picked up from off the street.

“Forget it.”

Gu Weiwei gave up inquiring.

After the interview at lunchtime, she was again going to attend another promotional event in the afternoon, so she stopped thinking about the matter.

Due to Cheng Yibai’s post about Li Xing’er’s acting skills, Li Xing’er kept a low-profile at today’s events.

Yet after Tang Shaoqi played by Gu Weiwei was publicly approved of by Cheng Yibai, many people who had watched the movie started to become her fans and she was becoming increasingly popular.

Li Xing’er hated all of this but she had failed at each step and in order not to cause dislike among the fans and bystanders, she had to keep a low profile until this incident passed by.

When the promotional event finished, they rushed to another city and as they came to the hotel, it was already early in the morning.

Before she rested, Fu Hanzheng called.

“It’s getting colder, how are you feeling?”

“I am good, I’m at the hotel now.” Gu Weiwei replied.

She was having a very cozy time when people delivered her clothes as the day turned cold and gave her the umbrella as the rain poured down. She was even offered food boxes when she got hungry.

“It is very late now, go and rest.”

Fu Hanzheng checked the time and decided to hang up so she could sleep.

“Hang on!”

Gu Weiwei stopped him from hanging up when she thought of the presents.

Fu Hanzheng said, “Go on.”

Gu Weiwei hesitated for a moment and forced herself to ask him.

“I would like to get you something, but I can’t think of anything suitable. Do you have anything in particular you want, something that I can afford?”

Fu Hanzheng said, “I would like to have a wife.”

Gu Weiwei felt her forehead. “I am asking you what presents you want?”

Could he just focus on the key topic please?!

“I want you.”

Gu Weiwei. “...”

This conversation just couldn’t go on.

After a short while, Fu Hanzheng said, “I don’t lack anything except for a wife. Aren’t you willing to give that to me?”

Gu Weiwei gritted her teeth. “No, I am not.”

Fu Hanzheng chuckled. “Just come home, that would be the best present for me. I don’t need anything else.”

Gu Weiwei mumbled and replied, “I’m going to sleep now, you should rest too. Good night!”

Having said the words, she hung up quickly and let out a long sigh.

He was flirting with her again!

Again!

Chapter 256: Stone on Her Own Feet

In the late promotional period of the Long Wind, Mu Weiwei and Fu Shiyi were becoming increasingly popular among the audience.

However, now the supporting actress had become so popular that the leading actress Li Xing’er, was put into the shadows.

Li Xing’er consequently felt really embarrassed.

Li Xing’er’s agent had arranged for someone to talk with Cheng Yibai in Beijing, hoping that Cheng Yibai would agree to delete his Weibo post or say something good about Li Xing’er.

However, Cheng Yibai turned down their request and elevated his post to the top of the hot search list.

Li Xing’er got so anxious that she failed to sleep throughout the entire night. She had such dark black rings under her eyes that no amount of concealer could hide them and she was also quite distracted at the promotional event the following day too.

Finally, it was time for them to go back to the hotel and take a rest.

Li Xing'er's agent also tried different contacts and finally found someone who knew Cheng Yibai personally, so that Cheng Yibai agreed to talk with them over the phone.

They pondered over what to say in the room and called Cheng Yibai.

"Mr. Cheng, this is Li Xing'er."

She made the call in person, trying to show her sincerity.

Cheng Yibai replied coldly, "What do you want?"

"Mr. Cheng, you have always been a senior professional that I admire and I am actually your fan too, I have also read your books."

Li Xing'er knew exactly how to appeal to a person's mind, so she called him and told him how much she admired his works, trying to establish a good impression with him.

"I reposted your post on Weibo because I thought that you were talking about me and I had wanted so much to gain your approval too... but I can't control my fans' comments and that was why it exploded."

Cheng Yibai sounded much milder after hearing what she said, "No matter how much you want my approval, you still need to stay humble."

"Yes, Mr. Cheng you are totally right, I am so, so sorry to have caused you trouble, I am still a young girl." Li Xing'er stayed patient and admitted her mistakes.

If Cheng Yibai did not delete the post, she would be mocked by Mu Weiwei's and Fu Shiyi's fans and she would lose her popularity.

Cheng Yibai snorted. "A young girl? Mu Weiwei is younger than you, right, but she is not behaving like you are."

On the day of the premiere, he talked with the girl and found her to be humble and modest, she was clever too.

Li Xing'er felt extremely annoyed but she still did not start an argument with him.

She memorized her lines until midnight and she still practised her martial arts after the filming was finished. Why was she not as good as Mu Weiwei when she had already worked so hard?

Director Yi liked her better and this Cheng person took her side too.

"Mr. Cheng, could you please... delete the post you put online? It has had a bad influence on my career."

"I have been a film critic for so many years and whatever I have published can not be recalled. I think that you had better work hard on your acting if you want me to change my criticism"

Cheng Yibai did not want to talk about it anymore, so he hung up.

He always criticized popular stars without talent but none of them had dared to approach him and ask him to delete anything.

What was more, if she wanted to be part of the entertainment industry, she would have to accept the truth that her work would need to face all kinds of comments from the public.

It was never going to be easy for anyone in this industry – it would not work out well if she just wanted the good comments and deleted the bad ones.

The moment she hung up the phone, Li Xing'er burst out into cursing.

“This old dude, what on earth does he want?!”

He did not accept her presents and he refused to delete the post, even though she had basically knelt down on her knees.

Li Xing'er's agent stood next to her in silence. She had tried to persuade her not to repost Cheng Yibai's post before but she had turned down her suggestions.

Now Li Xing'er had smashed her own feet with her own stone and no one else but her should take the blame.

Chapter 257: To Brother's Bed

Li Xing'er had failed to persuade Cheng Yibai to delete the post and she was just in the middle of thinking of how to suppress the matter, when a married superstar was exposed as having an affair and the news climbed to the top of the hot search list.

Therefore, the incident about her and Cheng Yibai fell out of focus.

Her agent and the company stressed that she should keep a low profile these next coming days and wait until this matter passed by.

Then she could try doing some charity events or attending reality shows that attracted fans, so that what had happened these last few days, could be forgotten.

The promotional event of the Long Wind finally came to an end, half a month after the movie hit the big screen.

The box office rose tremendously, reaching a figure of two billion yuan.

Gu Weiwei and the crew members took a three-hour flight all the way back to the capital and due to the busy schedule, they arranged a gathering dinner for after they got off the plane.

For one thing, they were celebrating for the box office numbers... and also because it was the last dinner the entire crew would have together.

Instead of putting away her luggage, Gu Weiwei headed straight for the hotel arranged by the crew.

As they arrived at the hotel, she made a call to Fu Hanzheng in a quiet corner.

“Dinner is being arranged here, I am not going home for dinner.”

Fu Hanzheng asked, “When does the dinner finish? I can come and pick you up.”

“No thanks, I can go home with Third Master.”

Gu Weiwei whispered as she looked about.

Fu Hanzheng thought for a while. “Don’t drink any alcohol.”

“I know! I am going in now.”

Gu Weiwei hung up when she heard the sound of footsteps.

She was on her way back to the room when she ran into Wei Ziting, who was on his way to meet Li Xing’er.

When Wei Ziting saw her, he spoke to her fiercely, “Mu Weiwei, Xing’er is your sister! Why are you trying to demean her, just so you can take her position with the help of your sugar daddy?”

Gu Weiwei sneered. So it seemed that Li Xing’er had told him that she had found a sugar daddy who had used some contacts to pull her down online.

So this girl was truly trying to demean her, but instead she ended up demeaning herself! That was why she had to put on a façade of weakness and tried to counter her by saying that she had a sugar daddy.

“If I had any intentions of demeaning her, she would have already left the entertainment industry by now!”

“Mu Weiwei, since when did you turn so unreasonable? Aunt Zhou used to treat you so nicely and just because she remarried your father, you regard everyone in the family as the enemy?”

Wei Ziting thought of how Mu Weiwei had claimed that she was going to one day make everyone feel regret, the moment she left home a long time ago.

It seemed that she was now trying to take revenge on them.

“Wei Ziting, we are no longer engaged, so who do you think you are that you can tell me what to do?”

Having said those words, Gu Weiwei walked into the room.

Since Wei Ziting was present, Li Xing’er stayed at the table for just half an hour and then left with him.

Gu Weiwei had obediently been drinking the fruit juice, yet after she had returned from visiting the bathroom, everyone started to make a toast to her.

Since everyone had been nice to her, she did not have any excuse to turn them down. So she took a sip with each of them but just after one round, she started to get dizzy.

When the dinner gathering finished, Jolin wanted to drive her back himself but Fu Shiyi suggested that he should do it.

Jolin looked at Fu Shiyi in disbelief. “Third Master, are you... trying to take advantage of her?”

“Damn you, when have I ever done anything to my employees?” Fu Shiyi cursed.

Jolin thought for a while and realized that this boss might be a womanizer but he had never done anything to the employees of his company.

“I don’t think that you would dare to either. Don’t forget that I have something over you.”

Fu Shiyi helped her into his car and drove straight to Jinxiu Compound. As he reached the parking lot, he made a call to his brother.

“Brother, I have a huge present for you, come down and get it!”

In order to get her drunk, so that she could end up in his brother’s bed, he had to exert a lot of effort.

Chapter 258: Fu Hanzheng in the Dream

Fu Hanzheng received the call, put down whatever he was doing and went downstairs.

Fu Shiyi opened the door and said proudly,

“Look at what I have for you, you can bring her up and have some fun.”

Fu Hanzheng’s face sank. “I told you that she should not touch alcohol!”

“With alcohol inside her, you can do whatever you want and have fun with her!” Fu Shiyi urged as he leaned against the car.

“This kind of moment is rare, hurry up!”

Fu Hanzheng glanced at him coldly and carried the red-faced girl, out of the car.

With her eyes partially closed, Gu Weiwei gazed at his face, which was so close to her and frowned, mumbling, “Fu Hanzheng, what are you doing... in my dream again?”

Fu Hanzheng looked at her in astonishment. So she had dreamt about him before?

Fu Shiyi grabbed a paper bag from the car, as well as Gu Weiwei’s luggage and followed them upstairs.

Fu Hanzheng carried the girl back into their room and was about to place her onto the bed, when the girl reached out and held onto his neck.

“Don’t leave, please let me hold you for a while, just a little while.”

Her voice sounded so soft that he felt his heart throbbing hard in his chest.

Fu Shiyi entered with a paper bag and took out everything, one after the other, and placed them on the bed as he said,

“Look at this, 001mm super-thin condom, ten should be enough right?”

“Here is the lubricant and...”

He was so obsessed in recounting his purchases that he barely noticed that his brother’s face had turned dark like thunder.

Fu Shiyi clapped his hands proudly after he presented everything he had ordered and said, “Alright then, that is all I can do for you, I will leave the rest to you.”

He smiled and then said words of encouragement to his brother with clenched fists, “Fighting!”

Having spoken, he closed the door as he left the room.

As he was leaving the room, he pulled away Fu Shiqin, who was in the middle of doing work in the study.

Fu Shiqin said, "Get lost, I am working on the plan for the morning session!"

Fu Shiyi patted his shoulders and tried to persuade him as he was moving his brother's things.

"Then go downstairs to do work, alright? With you here, our brother can't release himself!"

Ah, what a perfect brother he was!

Closing his laptop, Fu Shiqin had to go downstairs with his files in his arms.

"Why are you so obsessed about our brother and his love life? It's official, you are mental!"

"I am being a nice brother!" Fu Shiyi argued.

Of course, he only intervened because he expected to get something out of his brother.

Fu Shiqin said, "You never do anything unless it benefits you!"

With his laptop in his arms, he led Fu Shiyi downstairs to their private cinema.

"Don't dwell on those tiny matters. The sexual happiness of our brother matters more."

Fu Shiqin sorted out his things and got back to work.

"If our brother wanted to do something with her, he would have done it ages ago! He doesn't need your help!"

Fu Shiyi leaned against the sofa and as he crossed the legs, he said confidently, "Do you want to bet that our brother will sleep with her tonight? If that truly happens, then give me the latest sports car."

Fu Shiqin squinted at him. "What if you lose?"

Fu Shiyi said, "If I lose, I will dress as a woman at my next concert!"

Fu Shiqin smiled brightly and waved the phone in his hand.

"Your words have been recorded, don't ever try to deny whatever you have promised. Or I will tell Mu Weiwei that you have done to her!"

The two had been seated for half an hour when Fu Shiyi mumbled, with his eyes on the ceiling, "Has this house really been so well sound-proofed?"

There was no sound coming through at all and they were just right below his brother's bedroom.

Fu Shiqin snorted as he worked.

"Do you really think that our brother is as monstrous as you are?"

Fu Shiyi said, "I have given him the best piece of meat to taste in his mouth! If he doesn't take it, he's worse than a monster!"

Chapter 259: Looking Tasty

The light in the bedroom looked gentle and warm and it was very quiet inside.

Fu Hanzheng put the girl into bed and he lay down next to her, letting her arms wrap around his neck.

When she got drunk last time, she wanted to break up with him, so he kept on telling her to not get drunk again.

But what she had said today pleased him a great deal.

Gu Weiwei's face rubbed against the man's neck and she said bitterly, "Fu Hanzheng, what should I do..."

She sniffed and tightened her grip around his neck.

"I am scared that you even though you like me now, you will lose interest in me in future..."

Slightly startled, Fu Hanzheng leaned sideways and kissed the girl's reddened ears, mumbling in a small voice, "How could I lose interest in you?"

Gu Weiwei giggled dumbly and bit his neck.

"Fu Hanzheng, you are just like my... my..."

She loosened her grip and gazed at him, looking as if she were thinking about what he was like in her mind.

Fu Hanzheng's voice sounded hoarse and low. "I am like your what?"

She must be telling the truth this time, considering that she was so drunk.

Gu Weiwei seemed to have thought of something and suddenly kissed him on the face, mumbling, "You are like my candy, and if I take a bite of you, I won't be sad any longer..."

Fu Hanzheng took a deep breath. As the girl's soft body wrapped herself deeper in his arms, her sweet scent made him feel possessed.

Normally, she would never throw herself into his arms.

He stretched out his hand and brushed the wayward strands of hair behind her ears, as he spoke in a very alluring tone, "Do you still want to eat this piece of candy?"

Gu Weiwei looked up with a pair of drunken eyes and the lips that gave off the scent of alcohol planted a kiss upon the man's thin lips, before she nodded sweetly.

Fu Hanzheng smiled. Then his lips took hold of the girl's moist lips and his tongue reached out for hers.

Gu Weiwei's tongue turned numb from the kisses and her brain, which had been so dizzy, became even dizzier.

It took a long time before the man released her reddened lips.

She then reached out for Fu Hanzheng's tie and intended to untie it yet ended up tightening it instead.

Fu Hanzheng took hold of her hands and untied it himself.

He was about to unbutton his shirt when a soft hand took his hand and removed it from the buttons.

"Don't, let me... let me do that."

Having said those words, she pressed her hands against his chest and tried her best to unbutton his shirt, even though she was so drunk.

It took her five minutes before a button was undone.

She laughed at her victory when she succeeded and took a bite of his clavicle to show how happy she was.

Then she started to work on the second button.

The girl's soft fingertips pressed against his shirt and rubbed against the skin of his chest through his clothes. Her breath was getting warmer and he felt it straight through the cloth of his shirt, as it rippled over his skin.

It was just all one big, gigantic torment for Fu Hanzheng.

He gripped her hand and mumbled with a low voice, "Let me help you."

She was never going to fully strip him at such a speed.

"I must do that myself!" Gu Weiwei brushed away his hand and tried to continue on with her hard work.

Feeling helpless, Fu Hanzheng brushed away her hanging hair and looked at her with a pair of smiling eyes.

Due to the dizziness, she could not finish the work quickly or properly and the buttons slipped out of her fingers.

She repeated her work as she mumbled, "Stay, stay still, let me do the work!"

After a long time, she finally managed to undo another button and gave a victorious kiss on his chest.

It was just as if she was raising a flag of victory when land had been conquered.

When she had finally undone all of his buttons, she threw herself onto his chest and sighed as she gazed up at the sexy-looking man.

"You look very... tasty."

Chapter 260: Sweeter than Candy

Having said those words, Gu Weiwei took another bite, this time on his chin.

Fu Hanzheng's Adam's Apple twitched, then he flipped her so he could watch her flushing face.

“Are you sure you want to eat the candy?”

Gu Weiwei smiled brightly and felt his face, hiccuped and said, “Hang on, I will... go and switch off the light.”

Having said those words, she flipped herself over and was about to switch off the light by the bedside... but before she was able to find the switch, Fu Hanzheng had already unzipped her dress open from behind.

Compared to his shirt, it was so much easier to remove her dress.

Once he had unzipped it open, her jade-like spine and beautiful shoulder blades were exposed.

Fu Hanzheng lowered his head and licked over the skin on her back.

Gu Weiwei shivered, shrank away, and then moaned.

“Oh...!”

The man soon released her bra clasp too.

The strapless dress could no longer cling on to her body because the zipper in the back was opened. Together with the underwear, the dress lay loosely in her arms.

Then the man pulled away her arms and Gu Weiwei was kissed so thoroughly! She felt so hot all over her body that she mumbled, “...I am not candy, don't bite me...”

Fu Hanzheng chuckled and rested his forehead against her head and breathed heavily.

“You are sweeter than candy.”

Having said so, he caressed her soft lips and they started to kiss passionately again.

His hands lingered over the girl's soft skin and then they cupped her breasts. The soft feeling made him breathe even faster.

Gu Weiwei moaned softly and her drunk eyes looked even more lustful. She had no idea if she was dreaming or experiencing something real.

Fu Hanzheng's lips fell over the girl's lips and moved down her long neck, then his gaze fell onto those lustful breasts and his eyes widened.

As his lips closed over her n*pples, the drunk girl shivered and moaned.

“Oh...”

Fu Hanzheng after a while, once again looked up and kissed her lips. As the tip of his nose touched hers, he asked, “Weiwei, are you sure... you want to eat this candy?”

Gu Weiwei blinked and then kissed his lips as she gave him a very sinister smile.

Fu Hanzheng kissed her lips and then felt down her long legs, removing the dress that had pooled around her waist.

Suddenly, he noticed that there was a patch of blood on the sheets and there was also a sanitary pad in her panties

It was like a bucket of cold water poured down on him, extinguishing all of the desire within him.

For a moment, he truly wanted to chop her into pieces.

Gu Weiwei looked at this man who was no longer continuing, sat up halfway and frowned as she felt her stomach cramping.

Seeing this sight, he wrapped her up in his clothes and carried her to the bathroom. He did not go back to the room until she had finished vomiting.

He had just put her into bed and was about to pour her some water, when the girl took hold of his waist.

“Don’t leave...”

“I will get you water.” He said with a gentle voice.

She had wanted to stay far away from him when she was sober but when she was drunk, she wanted to cling onto him so tightly.

“I don’t want water, I want you...” Gu Weiwei demanded unreasonably.

Fu Hanzheng tried his best to get her fully into the blanket and went to pour her a cup of water to rinse out her mouth.

Gu Weiwei felt that her stomach was aching badly after vomiting but even if that was the case, she didn’t calmly rest in his arms and instead tried to throw herself at him continuously, hoping to entice him into continuing.

It was not until dawn that she finally started to fall asleep.

At this hour, he had finally freed himself from her grasp. He went to take a shower and his eyes turned cold as he saw the things that Fu Shiyi had left behind for him.
