

MY HIDDEN 29

Chapter 29: Can You Take off Your Own Clothes?

It was already nine o'clock at night when she came back to Jinxiu Compound.

Although she had spat out the wine she had drunk, there was still some lingering in her stomach. She currently felt as if a flame was rushing across her body.

Even if she had the air-conditioner on to the lowest degree, she still found it very difficult to fall asleep in bed.

What was worse, as time went by, she became increasingly thirsty and anxious.

Gu Weiwei got up from the bed and had the bathtub filled with cold water. Then she poured some ice cubes from the fridge into the bathtub as well.

She threw herself into the freezing cold water, so that the unbearable heat slowly went down.

Previously, she had thought that no matter what trouble she was in and what danger she had to face, Gu Siting would find her and keep her safe.

But right now, he would not come or seek for her.

He was protecting Ling Yan, who had killed her and survived by taking out her heart.

Without the identity of being the daughter of the Gu Family, she was no longer cared about and no one would be concerned whether or not she was alive or dead, happy or wronged.

Sitting in the freezingly cold bathtub with her arms wrapped around her knees, she was totally unaware of the cell-phone that had been vibrating multiple times out in the living room.

At Fu's Enterprise.

Fu Hanzheng suddenly remembered that he had left one file behind at Jinxiu Compound before he left the company.

Since he needed the file early next morning, he called Mu Weiwei and wanted her to find the file first, so that Xu Qian could go and get the file the next morning before heading towards the company.

However, the cell-phone kept ringing and no one answered it.

Since the calls did not go through, Fu Hanzheng drove to Jinxiu Compound himself.

The moment he opened the door of the apartment, he frowned at the freezing air that greeted his face. The entire apartment was as cold as an ice house.

He switched off the air-conditioner and went to the study to look for the file.

Before he left, he found the door to Gu Weiwei's room opened. So he took a step forward to look inside it.

Only to find that the room was empty.

"Mu Weiwei?"

The light was on, so was the air-conditioning. But where was the girl?

He looked around the apartment and eventually came to the bathroom and knocked on the door.

"Mu Weiwei?"

He knocked a few times but no one inside spoke... but the door was locked from inside.

He put down the file and went straight into the study to find the back-up key, which he opened the door with.

The moment he pushed the door open, he found the girl completely soaked in the bathtub full of scattered ice, curled up.

She looked completely pale and her lips had turned purple.

"What are you doing?"

Gu Weiwei looked at the man who broke in with surprise, turned her head away and trembled breathlessly.

"None of your business. Get out of here."

Fu Hanzheng grabbed the hanging towel. Then he came over to her and pulled her up from the ice water and wrapped her in it.

As the air of a man approached her again, she felt that the heat inside her arose once again, turning into a large flame from cracking sparks.

Mu Weiwei even thought of the first time she slept with him at night, and the scene kept entering her head.

The heat she had just cooled down burst out inside her body.

"Get off me. I am drugged, do you want me to rape you?"

Having said those words, she couldn't wait to leave the space she shared with him.

In case she lost her rationality and would do something unreasonable with him.

However, her legs had frozen and become numb.

One step made her collapse.

Fu Hanzheng took hold of the girl who was on the verge of falling down and took her into his arms with a sunken face.

He carried her all the way into the bedroom and put her onto the bed.

“Can you take off your own clothes?”
