

MY HIDDEN 411

Chapter 411: The Movie Queen was Embarrassed

Li Xing'er looked at Martin Green, who had approached Mu Weiwei of his own accord. What was wrong with this man?

He failed to remember the name of the legendary Movie Queen but he could easily say the name of the minor actress, Mu Weiwei!

Movie Queen Ling, whose name was misspelled a minute ago, felt so embarrassed right now.

Startled, Gu Weiwei looked at Martin who had blonde hair and green, profound eyes.

"Hello, I am Mu Weiwei."

They were good friends before.

But she had a different look and identity now, so how did he recognize her before they were formally introduced?

"You looked great in Merlin's work and he talked about you yesterday." Martin Green spoke highly of her.

Works by Merlin were famously critical when it came to the wearers. It was a very incredible thing that someone could present such a brilliant look in the dress designed by him.

"Thanks." Gu Weiwei smiled.

Martin Green was talented in designing but he was a very straightforward man.

He always spoke highly of what he thought was the best and always straightforwardly expressed his dissatisfaction, if he did not like anything.

Martin Green looked at her eyes and said, "Have we met before?"

He had not met this girl before but when she smiled, she looked so familiar to him.

Gu Weiwei smiled briefly. "It is the first time we are meeting each other, Mr. Green."

Instead of asking anything more, Martin Green said with a smile, "There are many new works of MG that might suit you well."

"I look forward to that." Gu Weiwei said.

Assistant checked the time and reminded him with a small voice.

"Mr. Green, the shooting should start now."

Martin Green nodded and was about to leave with the assistant, when he turned around and asked, as if he had thought of something, "Can I call you Weiwei?"

Gu Weiwei laughed. "Of course."

"Weiwei, you have an aura of wonderful beauty."

Having said those words, Martin Green left after being urged repeatedly by the assistant.

Sitting next to them, Ling Yan was getting supplementary makeup from the stylist and was very annoyed, when she heard their conversation.

Gu Weiwei was gone now but now Mu Weiwei was here, standing in her way.

If she was an ordinary actress, she would not think of her as a competitor.

But Fu Hanzheng, the most powerful and wealthy man of Hua Land was behind her.

"Sister Ling Yan, Mr. Green seems to be quite satisfied with Mu Weiwei, do you think that she will be the one?" Li Xing'er asked Ling Yan as she stood next to her.

"The results are yet to come, nothing is certain." Ling Yan said with a smile.

She lost her face in the welfare program last time because of her.

She would be totally embarrassed if that girl got the job this time, again.

This was the first fashion job she would have after she returned to the stage and she was absolutely not going to allow her to steal the role, even if she had Fu Hanzheng backing her.

Hearing her words, Li Xing'er coldly glanced at Gu Weiwei, and sneered.

Even if she was excellent and was noticed by Martin Green, getting a position in the fashion industry needed a strong background.

She was not as popular or famous as Movie Queen Ling and she was going to be Mrs. Gu too. Mu Weiwei, on the other hand, had nothing.

Ling Yan was slapped across the face by Mu Weiwei last time, so if she lost to Mu Weiwei this time again, she would be terribly ruined.

Ling Yan would definitely do whatever she could to get this iconic position .

Although she had no chance of getting the job, as long as Mu Weiwei did not get it, she would have nothing to complain about.

Chapter 412: Longing

The first round of interviews for the spokesperson was based on dressing up in an outfit by MG and making a short VCR.

Each interviewee only got one chance.

Some were not in the right state of mind and failed to meet even one-minute of shooting time.

Due to the strict requirements, the interviews passed by rapidly.

Within two hours, the filming of dozens of interviewees was completed.

Half an hour later, the staff responsible for the MG interview informed several people that they were able to enter the second round of the interviews.

Gu Weiwei and Ling Yan both made the second round and Li Xing'er, without surprise, was eliminated in the first round.

Li Xing'er coldly threw a look at Gu Weiwei – even she made the second round.

But after a while, she realized that even if she made it to the second round, Ling Yan would definitely be the spokesperson of the Asian area anyway.

She waved goodbye to Ling Yan unwillingly and said, "Sister Ling Yan, I wish you good luck!"

"Thanks." Ling Yan thanked her gratefully and watched Li Xing'er, her assistant and agent leave the site.

The content of the second round was a three-minute commercial shooting of a perfume, yet to be produced by MG for the coming season.

Every participant in the second round received the perfume.

Ling Yan sniffed the perfume and found that it had a very fresh scent. It was a custom-made perfume Gu Weiwei had used before.

Even Gu Siting said that he liked this scent.

Then when she came to the Gu Family to look for the perfume, it was never seen again.

Without Gu Weiwei's consent letter, Martin Green would not have publicly launched this custom-made perfume. It seemed that Gu Weiwei had even asked him to bring away some of the products that he had made for her, when she ended the contract with him.

She remembered that the perfume was called Longing.

Martin must have made the scent and called it Longing because Gu Weiwei longed for Gu Siting.

Martin Green explained the perfume to everyone, after the perfume was distributed by the assistant.

"It is going to be one of the major products to be launched next year. The name is Longing, so good luck everybody."

Hearing the words, Jolin said in astonishment.

"Longing? But the scent is lingering, fresh and elegant, it doesn't smell like the scent fit for romance!"

Gu Weiwei smiled. "It has its own meanings."

The dominating scent of this perfume was extracted from a wood from a very special tree, close to Rosary pea trees.

It was not about romantic longing.

But most of the interviewees made the mistake and thought that it was about romantic relationships.

Ling Yan in her film segment, expressed the perfume as if she was chasing a beautiful butterfly, so that the scent was eventually found.

Gu Weiwei entered the film room last according to the drawn lots.

With arms opened and eyes closed, she was feeling the wind that came towards her.

Suddenly, she opened her eyes in surprise and went searching for the direction from which the wind came from, with her dress in hands.

She leaped over the brooks, went through the woods and finally came to a mysterious and scented tree.

She touched the tree, took a deep breath with her eyes closed and smiled brightly.

....

Martin Green had been very displeased by the wrongful understanding and expression of all the interviewees.

But when he saw the way Gu Weiwei expressed herself, he smiled.

That was what Longing was talking about.

It was not about a romantic or floral scent. It was the most mysterious scent of fragrant wood, hidden in the forest and distributed across the wind.

That was the origin of Longing.

Chapter 413: Spokesperson of MG Asia

The interview of the second round finished and the final result would be soon coming out.

Although many people entered the second round, most of them had already given up.

Martin Green was very satisfied with Mu Weiwei but considering the reputation and the consumption potential, Ling Yan the Movie Queen Ling was undoubtedly going to be the perfect choice.

After all, she had the highest reputation and a powerful, wealthy fiancé called Gu Siting.

Also, they saw Ling Yan receiving a call from Gu Siting after the filming.

So they were basically out of the game.

After Gu Weiwei got changed, Jolin whispered to Gu Weiwei, "I saw Martin Green's expression. He seems very satisfied with your performance, maybe we have a chance."

Gu Weiwei smiled and said nothing. Most of the designs launched this time were completed at the Gu Family.

So she understood his style and ideology.

"But Xu said that Ling Yan made a call to Gu Siting. They are planning to give stress to MG so Ling Yan could get the job."

Arms crossed, Gu Weiwei looked at her agent who was thinking about something else.

“So?”

Jolin gave her the phone with two hands. “So, make a call to Boss.”

“Wait until the result comes out.” Gu Weiwei took the phone but did not call Fu Hanzheng.

“That would be too late.” Jolin said anxiously.

....

In the meantime in the office headquarters at MG, a fierce debate was going on about the final candidate of the spokesperson.

Martin Green was most satisfied by Mu Weiwei, the new actress of Hua Land and expected that she could be the spokesperson of the Asian district.

But the marketing director, as well as several top managers, thought that Ling Yan was the most suitable candidate.

“Suitable for what?” Martin Green was angry and argued back. “She confused the wood scent and floral scent! Her expression gave me no sense of beauty at all and she is just ruining my design!”

“Martin, we can’t deny that Miss. Mu Weiwei is very pretty but we need to consider the market!”

“Also, Mr. Gu made a call just now and said that after the new product is launched, Gu’s Enterprise will spare no efforts to help with the market in A Land.”

“Martin, you have not launched any designed works for years and it is the first product release since your return. You can’t just waste away this chance by choosing a newbie as the spokesperson, who can’t even contribute to the market.”

...

“But only her air fits my design.” Martin Green insisted.

MG was his own brand but he focused only on the design and left the marketing and promotion of the products to the other staff.

“Martin, Ling Yan has to be the spokesperson of the Asian area.” The marketing director said and gave him a pile of forms. “We need a spokesperson with influence.”

Martin Green read the form, closed his eyes and sighed deeply.

....

In the lounge, Gu Weiwei and other interviewees were waiting for the final result and everyone was talking with Ling Yan.

After all, she was the Movie Queen about to marry into the Gu Family and they had to suck up to her.

Gu Weiwei was checking her phone and reading the messages from the Bringing Fu Hanzheng Down Team.

The marketing director of MG came in with the assistant and said, as they entered the room, "Thank you all for participating in our interview and here are presents for all of you."

When everyone had received the small present, the marketing director of MG stretched her hands out to Ling Yan.

"Miss. Ling Yan, wishing us a great cooperation."

Apparently, Ling Yan was chosen as the spokesperson.

Chapter 414: Spokesperson of MG Asia 2

Immersed in jealous and congratulatory sounds, Ling Yan shook hands with the marketing director of MG with a smile.

"Happy cooperation!"

She knew that she was going to become the spokesperson no matter what.

"Then let's go to the office and talk about the contract and commercial filming." The marketing director guided her away and said.

"Hold on please, I need some time to deal with some private matters." Ling Yan smiled apologetically and asked, "Can I buy one of the new products to be launched by MG?"

The marketing director thought for a while and said, "Sure, which piece do you need?"

"The main bag, I need it now." Ling Yan said and offered her card.

The marketing director asked his assistant to accept the card and said, "I will get it for you now."

Gu Weiwei packed up her things and was about to leave, when Ling Yan stopped her.

"Miss. Mu, Brother Siting did something that hurt you in the program last time, I have always wanted to apologize to you about it."

Seeing the bag coming her way, Ling Yan took it and said to her, "This is a gift to compensate you, I hope you won't mind what happened."

"I never did, no need for an apology, Movie Queen Ling." Gu Weiwei smiled and said.

She was not the victim anyways.

She was just trying to tell her right here that Gu Siting did it to protect her reputation, by buying out the second voice and that she knew nothing about it.

She was totally left out of the matter and that her fiancé did that because he loved her so much.

"No, no, it was our fault. I'm really sorry. Please accept the present."

Ling Yan looked very sincere with two hands holding the well-wrapped present.

"Miss. Mu, it is from Miss. Ling, please accept it." The marketing director added.

They had heard about what happened too.

Ling Yan was totally affected by that incident but Mu Weiwei gained fame because of it.

And now the deeply-hurt Ling Yan had apologized to her. She had all the more reason to accept it.

“Sorry, Ms. Ling, our boss forbids me to have contact with anyone from the Gu Family. You are putting me in a very awkward position.”

Gu Weiwei used Fu Shiyi as her shield, otherwise she would be considered as a very impolite person because it appeared that a deeply-hurt person was apologizing to her.

But in reality she was offering the very item that she was going to represent, to the person who failed to get the position.

She was simply not compensating her, she was purposefully annoying her.

“Well...”

Ling Yan pursed her lips. She was in an awkward position too.

The marketing director understood what was going on and smiled peacefully.

“Well, as long as your intentions are understood.”

It was the Third Master of the Fu Family that revealed the truth about the incident.

If that Master made a fuss because she accepted this present, MG would be affected too.

“Thank you, Miss. Ling.” Gu Weiwei smiled coldly and said, “We need to go now.”

Having said the words, she left the lounge, passing by Ling Yan.

Jolin followed her out of the room and asked gloomily, “Are we leaving now? She has got the job!”

Gu Weiwei sent a text on her phone and smiled coldly.

“We can get it back, easily and simply.”

Chapter 415: Strike Back

Hearing the words, Jolin got so excited.

“Do it! If we get it back as soon as she gets the job, she will be totally furious!”

Compared to getting the job first, getting it back from Movie Queen Ling sounded even better.

It was just the job of a spokesperson. As long as his girl wanted it, Boss would buy the whole of MG without a second thought.

He had been used to how his Boss normally spoiled his girlfriend.

After leaving the MG headquarters building, Gu Weiwei walked over to the car and said, “Let’s go back to the hotel now, I am starving.”

“What about that spokesperson thing...”

Jolin pointed at the building. Why have food now, when the job was still out there in someone else's hands.

"I told you that I will get it back, don't worry!" Gu Weiwei yawned. She was feeling very sleepy.

She had not adjusted herself to the time difference and the interview had caused her to feel anxious for hours. Now she is feeling very tired and sleepy.

Jolin drove her and Xu away from the headquarters.

He had been pricking up his ears for any sounds from her phone.

Normally, Boss was very quick at dealing with matters. What took him so long this time?

Could it be because Boss was too busy to notice the text she sent to him?

The assistant was still in the car, so he could not ask her how the conversation was going with Boss.

So he held in the words all the way to the hotel and asked her, as he accompanied her to the room, "What about calling the boss? What if he hasn't seen your message?"

"Who told you I was asking him for help?" Gu Weiwei countered.

"Ling Yan must have signed the contract with MG by now. Only the boss is able to steal the job away from her right now."

Jolin looked at her curiously and asked, "Who else did you turn to for help, if not him?"

"Someone else." Gu Weiwei poured a cup of water to drive away her thirst.

"Someone else?" Jolin frowned and asked, "A man or a woman?"

"A man." Gu Weiwei said.

"Are you trying to flatter another man? Have you ever thought about how Boss would feel?" Jolin asked curiously.

Was she so stupid as to give up on flattering the Boss?

Gu Weiwei squinted at him. "Do I look so stupid that I have to ask him to help me get such a simple job?"

Ling Yan was revelling in her glory but she had given her help... and she was going to ruin that glory little by little, with her own hands.

"But if Boss helps, everything would be so easy." Jolin said.

Boss would only need to say one sentence just to solve the whole matter.

"I still think that if I can get it back myself, I would feel satisfied in my achievements." Gu Weiwei replied with a smile.

Fu's Enterprise was in the middle of talking about a military technology cooperation with allied lands of Hua Land and he was currently very occupied.

She did not want to give him trouble with such a tiny affair.

“How confident are you about it?”

Jolin felt a bit worried that she was not planning to ask Boss for help.

“I will change my family name to yours if I fail, okay?” Gu Weiwei said straightforwardly.

Judging from her knowledge of Martin, he must have chosen her to be the spokesperson.

But Ling Yan was selected, either because of the company’s economic situation or because of Gu Siting’s pressure.

Or both.

But she was not sparing anything for Ling Yan, not a single thing.

And even if she might get what she wanted, she was going to deprive her of it.

Hearing her words, Jolin decided that he was going to call Third Master if the mission failed tomorrow, so he could tell Boss.

“Are you taking Ling Yan as the enemy?”

Gu Weiwei raised her eyebrows and asked, “What do you mean?”

“The voice incident last time was caused by you on purpose and now you are trying to strike back against her this time again.” Jolin asked.

Even to Li Xing’er, she was not doing something like this.

So why Ling Yan?

Chapter 416: Strike Back 2

Gu Weiwei thought for a while and nodded.

“I do really want to strike back at her, whenever I meet her.”

“Why?” Jolin asked curiously.

It seemed that apart from the dubbing incident, they did not have any problems with each other in any other areas.

Also, when the dubbing incident was revealed, they were the party that received the benefits.

“Nothing really, I just have the itch to do so.” Gu Weiwei said as she shrugged.

“Anyway.” Jolin looked at her and asked curiously. “If you don’t ask Boss for help, how do you plan to get the job back from Ling Yan?”

“You will know tomorrow morning.” Gu Weiwei smiled mysteriously and drove him away, so she could go back to the room and sleep.

Jolin could not fall asleep when he was back in the room.

Soon he read the news that Ling Yan had signed the contract with MG.

What was more, Li Xing'er had also posted a picture with her and Ling Yan on her Weibo account.

[Congratulations, my Goddess. You are now the official spokesperson of MG Asia]

His girl was included inside the picture too.

So many sharp-eyed fans and netizens had already figured out that they were all there at the interview for the position.

But it was Movie Queen Ling Yan who got the job after all.

Thanks to the dubbing incident last time, Ling Yan was slapped right across the face for the news she herself had revealed.

And after Li Xing'er reposted the news in support of Ling Yan, she was sneered and mocked by the netizens too.

However, this time, she had received a chance to make everyone mock Mu Weiwei instead.

[Can't you understand what position you have as an actress?]

[A low-class newbie even has the intentions of getting the MG spokesperson position? You are so brave, aren't you?]

[Even if you are able to imitate the dubbing of Dream of a Long Life, she is still the Movie Queen after all. Aren't you aware of what position you have in this industry?]

....

The more posts there were, the angrier Jolin got. He knew that they had done a bit too much in embarrassing the Movie Queen last time.

So when the news that Ling Yan successfully became the spokesperson, her fans would definitely try to do something in return.

But when Li Xing'er put up the picture, Ling Yan's fans would assume that Mu Weiwei had lost to Ling Yan in the competition.

So they again felt that they were better people, as the Movie Queen's fans.

"Anyway, just let them do whatever they want for a while."

When they managed to get the job back, they would have no reason to mock so much!

Movie Queen Ling was nothing. She was not as pretty as his girl and even less capable.

Plus, she was even worse at picking a future husband, compared to his girl.

Although he was sure that they were going to get the job back, because his girl did not choose to suck up to Boss, he was still worried for the whole night and went to find her early the next morning.

But the moment he entered the elevator, he ran into Martin Green who he had just met at the MG headquarters the day before.

“What are you doing here, Mr. Green?”

Martin Green did not recognize Jolin but asked after looking at him for a while.

“You are....”

“I am Jolin, Mu Weiwei’s agent who accompanied her to the company for the interview yesterday.”

Jolin smiled and replied. This man truly did not remember a single thing about anyone he had little contact with.

“Oh hi, I am here to meet Weiwei.” Martin Green shook his hand courteously, after hearing that he was the agent.

Jolin raised his eyebrows in astonishment. His girl said that she was definitely going to get the job back today and it turned out that Martin Green had come to them of his own accord, early in the morning.

“She is... upstairs. Let me take you there.”

But how charming was his girl anyways?

So much so, that such an icon of the fashion industry would come to their door personally, just to meet her.

Chapter 417: Martin Green’s Invitation

Curious and excited, Jolin led Martin Green upstairs and knocked at the girl’s door.

Gu Weiwei opened the door and saw the two men standing outside.

“What is it?”

“I would like to invite you to visit my studio.” Martin Green expressed his intention.

After a moment of consideration, Gu Weiwei said with a light smile, “Hang on, let me get changed.”

Having said those words, she closed the door, got changed and went to wash herself.

She was ready after a few minutes, opened the door and said, “Let’s go.”

“I will ask Xu to come along.” Jolin said instantly, hearing that they were going out.

“No need, let her rest at the hotel, nothing serious today.” Gu Weiwei said and walked into the elevator with them.

Instead of bringing them to the headquarters, Martin Green took them to a quiet and tranquil private studio.

“Weiwei, I would like you to try out the new products to be promoted this year, can you do that?”

Jolin stepped forward and said, “Mr. Green, I think that it should be your spokesperson Ling Yan’s affair.”

Honestly, he was a bit confused now.

When he ran into Martin Green in the elevator, he thought that he was here to talk about the spokesperson matter.

But they never mentioned anything about that on the way here, and now he was asking his girl to try his designs.

Hearing the words, Martin Green said with a regretful tone, "I really, really hoped that you could be the spokesperson of MG, but... there are other factors to be considered so the company had to choose Ms. Li Yan."

His assistant corrected him helplessly, after hearing the words.

"Mr. Green, it is Ling Yan!"

"Mr. Green, we are grateful that you have invited us here to visit your studio, but we have other work to do and we probably don't have much time for all of this." Jolin reminded him with a careful tone.

If he was not here to talk about the job, then they did not have to waste their time on it.

Gu Weiwei glanced at Jolin and then turned to Martin Green.

"I look forward to seeing your designs. It would be my honor to try them on before they are launched."

Martin Green asked his assistant to get him several gowns and other accessories, and then he picked one of the main gowns from the pile.

"Please try it on."

Gu Weiwei took it and tried it on in the fitting room.

In order to see the best effect, Martin Green asked his assistant to adjust the lighting of the fitting room and waited quietly until Gu Weiwei pulled open the drapery and walked out.

His eyes brightened. This was the starry-night evening gown that was to be launched next month. The dress flowed and sparkled as she walked out, as if the whole galaxy was covering her.

The girl had a very exquisite pair of eyes, profound and deep.

The azure starry-night evening gown made her look totally elegant and noble, just like a mystic elf fallen from the sky.

She was the perfect spokesperson, who could express the best sense of beauty in his works.

"Weiwei, you dazzle me." Martin Green praised her without hiding any of his emotions.

Gu Weiwei looked at herself in the mirror. "Your designs are extremely beautiful."

"I think..."

Martin Green was about to say something when the two top managers of MG came to the studio with Ling Yan, they spotted Gu Weiwei in the gown she was supposed to try on.

“Miss. Mu, what are you doing here?”

MG had already signed her as the spokesperson of Asia, so what was she doing here in Martin Green’s studio trying on her dress!

Chapter 418: How Many Tycoons?

Martin Green said, “I invited her here.”

Ling Yan felt displeased inwardly but she had to wear a smile on her face.

She was the signed spokesperson that was signed by MG, but she, an outsider, came to try the dress on. What was she thinking?

Her agent stepped forward and asked angrily, “Mr. Green, Miss. Ling is the MG spokesperson, are you confused?”

The two top managers of MG came over to Martin Green and asked with a small voice.

“Martin, we have already signed Ling Yan, you mustn’t do anything more about it.”

Martin Green pointed at Gu Weiwei who was in the galaxy dress and said, “She is the perfect spokesperson for MG!”

Ling Yan’s smile stiffened. So he was telling her right to her face that Mu Weiwei was the perfect spokesperson?

One of the top managers of MG reminded him. “Martin, we have already signed Miss. Ling as the spokesperson, we must obey the contract.”

This newbie from Hua Land was definitely presenting MG’s products in a most brilliant way but what they needed the most of all right now was the reputation.

Among all the interviewees, Ling Yan had the biggest fame and also, Gu Siting had promised to establish the best market for the company in A Land.

Therefore, signing Ling Yan was the most suitable choice.

“So what Mr. Green means is that you want a new spokesperson?” Ling Yan smiled gently and asked.

No wonder Martin Green had never shown up after the signing. He was not satisfied with her as the spokesperson!

Standing next to them, Jolin chuckled with his lips closed.

He could not help but feel sympathy towards Movie Queen Ling for three seconds, since she was disdained by the main designer.

Although Martin Green truly wanted his girl to become the spokesperson, they had already signed Ling Yan.

If they did want a new spokesperson, it would not work well if only Martin insisted.

He threw a look at his girl who looked totally calm, not knowing what she was planning at all.

“Sorry for the misunderstanding, Miss. Ling, Mr. Green is just asking me to try on his designs and I have a meeting to go to, so we are leaving now.”

Having said the words, Gu Weiwei turned around and walked into the fitting room, where she removed the evening gown.

Surprised, Jolin threw a look at her, wondering what she was doing when no one had changed their mind yet!

Unconvinced, Martin was still discussing and arguing with the two top managers, about changing the spokesperson.

He was totally determined to stick to the idea after seeing her in the dress.

But changing a spokesperson meant breaching the contract, and the two top managers of MG objected to the idea totally, when the replacement was an unknown person.

Sitting next to them, Ling Yan waited without saying a word. No matter how much they argued with each other, she had to be the spokesperson of MG Asia!

Gu Weiwei got changed in the fitting room, checked the text that came in and walked out as she lifted the curtain.

“Mr. Green, thanks very much for letting me try it on. Bye.”

“Weiwei...”

“Miss. Mu, if you need any fashion resources, I can set you up with Layin. They need a spokesperson too.”

Smiling, Ling Yan tried to behave exactly like a movie queen.

“No thanks.”

Gu Weiwei turned her down. Layin was just a third-level fashion brand and she was just purposefully trying to play nice.

“Layin is not as good as MG, but it is developing very quickly these days.”

Ling Yan was just saying this, when the door of the studio was pushed open and a tall and thin Frenchman entered.

“Mu Weiwei, I have been waiting for you there for one week and yet you are here interviewing for the spokesperson of MG Asia?!”

Jolin gasped at the sight of the man who had just entered. He was totally surprised.

How many tycoons had his girl befriended behind his back?

Chapter 419: How Many Tycoons? 2

The two top managers of MG looked at the man that rushed in, totally surprised. They were even more shocked than Jolin.

That was... Merlin?

The chief designer of Muse, Merlin Kanil?

MG was a very famous brand in the luxurious goods area of the fashion industry but Muse was the king of the best luxurious goods.

Their chief designer Merlin was an extremely, weird perfectionist. He had not launched many works but each piece was simply amazing.

His works were so beautiful that few people were able to make them shine.

Since Merlin was extremely particular, no spokesperson Muse had tried to hire had pleased him.

Because of that, Merlin might have created top-notch works in the industry but it was not that famous or well-sold.

But did he say that he had been waiting for Mu Weiwei?

The two top managers of MG turned to Mu Weiwei who had just walked out of the fitting room. Was she going to be the spokesperson for Merlin's new works?

Merlin did not mind that he was in someone else's territory but turned to Gu Weiwei directly.

"Are my works worse than his, so you are here competing for the spokesperson position for MG Asia instead of signing on with me."

Startled, Jolin just could not believe what happened.

Who on earth was Merlin?

He was the most famous designer in the luxurious goods industry and many famous stars and models failed to represent his works but today, he rushed to Italy all the way from France, just because he wanted to sign his girl?

It seemed that Third Master did get an evening gown from Muse at that film festival, so his girl had sufficiently dazzled everyone, including the designer.

Merlin had then praised her on Weibo.

But when did they get to know each other personally, so that he even wanted to sign her?

"I never said I am not going to sign with you." Gu Weiwei smiled.

Great, he was just right on time.

"Did you sign with them?" Merlin removed his sunglasses and interrogated.

Gu Weiwei shrugged regretfully. "Nope, they have already signed Miss. Ling as the spokesperson."

"Then come with me, now." Merlin said anxiously.

"Merlin! I am not done with Weiwei yet!" Martin Green opened his arms and stopped Merlin.

Merlin was slightly taller, he looked down at Martin Green who was a head shorter than himself.

“You have already signed a spokesperson, what are you doing with my girl?”

Ling Yan gritted her teeth. She was so displeased to see two famous designers trying to steal a newbie actress of Hua Land, so that she could become their spokesperson whilst ignoring her, a legendary movie queen who had gained numerous prizes.

She signed the contract with MG yesterday and her fans and the media all passed on their congratulatory words to her.

More importantly, Mu Weiwei had failed in the competition against her.

That was a small victory, compared to the dubbing incident.

But one night had passed and the situation had changed!

Merlin Kanil, the chief designer of Muse which was much better than MG, flew all the way to Milan from Paris just to invite Mu Weiwei to become their spokesperson.

If she managed to sign to Muse, it would be a huge humiliation for her.

A famous person like her only managed to become the spokesperson of MG Asia whilst Mu Weiwei managed to sign Muse which was much more excellent and famous.

Ling Yan turned pale because of anger when she thought about this.

Jolin patted his shocked heart, as he saw two fashion tycoons fighting over his own girl.

Then he threw a look at Ling Yan’s face and felt extremely happy.

His girl was always good at striking back and he had never been disappointed.

Chapter 420: The Global Spokesperson

Merlin Kanil was in a hurry to bring away Mu Weiwei but Martin Green did not want to retreat. The two fashion masters started an argument in front of everyone.

Smiling, Ling Yan stood up and tried to stop them.

“Mr. Green, Mr. Kanil, let’s just sit down and talk peacefully, alright?”

Merlin squinted at her. “Go away, you are not in a position to talk.”

Ling Yan looked embarrassed. What was wrong with these people?

Didn’t any of them recognize her?

Even if they did not, they should know of her identity since she kept showing up with Gu Siting.

Her agent stepped forward. “Please, Sir, Miss. Ling Yan is being nice and hopes that you two would not argue.”

The agent was trying to stop the argument whilst revealing to Merlin who Ling Yan really was.

However, Kanil did not respond after hearing what the agent said, but instead continued to argue with Martin Green.

This was a response that made Ling Yan totally embarrassed.

French men were quite arrogant, especially a top master in design, like Merlin Kanil. He never wasted any time on anyone who did not interest him.

Therefore, even if Ling Yan intended to express her identity as the lead actress of Dream of a Long Life and the future Mrs. Gu, Merlin would not show any good attitude towards her and Gu Siting's presence would not work either.

Feeling a headache coming on, Gu Weiwei asked, "Can't you two just stop and talk peacefully?!"

Martin Green and Merlin Kanil looked at her and exchanged a look, then they stopped arguing.

"Martin, she has been to your interview and you have got your spokesperson, it is so rude of you to have stopped me from bringing her over to my side!" Merlin Kanil said with a dark face.

The two top managers of MG became rather nervous, when they heard Merlin Kanil wanted to take Mu Weiwei as the spokesperson of Muse.

Works by Merlin were at the top level of this industry. Since they never had a spokesperson, the fame and the market had not been better than those of MG.

But if he found a spokesperson who could so vividly express his works, then whenever his new works were promoted, they would occupy the market that should belong to MG.

The products launched every year for all luxurious good brands were the same, except for the styles.

Mu Weiwei was pretty and elegant enough to be the pet of the fashion industry.

But they chose Ling Yan only because she was more famous.

If she did not represent MG, then it would be totally okay. But if she became the spokesperson of Merlin's works, then it would be a total threat to MG.

However, Ling Yan was even more nervous than them.

If Merlin Kanil invited Mu Weiwei to become the spokesperson of Muse and the commercials were played in public next year.

Then the world would know that she, a Movie Queen, was not even a match against a newbie from Hua Land, at least not in the fashion industry.

Martin Green sighed deeply and said,

"We only signed the spokesperson of the Asian district but we have not selected a global spokesperson!"

"As far as I remember, you only had an interview for a spokesperson for the Asian district." Merlin said.

"Who told you that I would not choose a global spokesperson among those interviewees?"

Having said those words, Martin Green turned to Gu Weiwei and said sincerely,

“Weiwei, I sincerely invite you to become the global spokesperson of MG!”