

MY HIDDEN 431

Chapter 431: No Showering

That whisper crushed the last of his remaining rationality.

As the passionate kiss landed on her lips, the man's familiar air of domination occupied her breath.

His warm and wet lips went over her neck, touching the girl's smooth and tender skin little by little.

With her lips bitten, Gu Weiwei felt drowsy and dizzy. She started to flush in a very charming way as the kisses covered her relaxed body.

Fu Hanzheng was behaving very patiently too. He kept teasing her until she could not stand it and then he entered her.

The intercourse that encapsulated the feelings, which came from deep within their hearts, made them extremely devoted and obsessed with one another.

The passion was almost unbearable as she moaned.

After a long time, the man who had his arms around her waist, was satisfied.

Gu Weiwei was sweating and she did not want to move anymore.

She had fun throughout the entire afternoon outside on the street and her remaining strength was taken away, when she saw him a moment ago and now, she was totally exhausted.

It was only now that she remembered the important matter.

"I... haven't taken a shower yet."

Fu Hanzheng lowered his head and kissed her on the face. Then he got up, put on the bathrobe and went to turn on the tap in the bathroom.

When the water was ready, he came and wrapped her up, carrying her into the bathroom.

With one hand over the collar of the bathrobe, Gu Weiwei glared at the man who carried her in.

"Leave!"

Fu Hanzheng smiled in amusement. "Haven't we taken a bath together before?"

"Just leave!" Gu Weiwei continued driving him out with a flushed face.

Last time they had a bath together because she was too tired to notice it but now, she was completely awake and she would not ask him to have one with her.

Fu Hanzheng walked out and closed the door.

The moment he walked out, the bathroom door was locked.

He turned on his phone that had been off for hours and Fu Shiyi and Fu Shiqin's messages flooded in.

Before he finished reading the messages, a call came in.

“Brother, where are you? Our dad is asking for you!”

They ate dinner together the night before but he was gone in the morning.

Fu Hanzheng said, “Venice.”

“Okay, have fun.” Fu Shiqin rang off directly.

He had just hung up, when Fu Shiyi’s call came in.

“Brother, say happy new year to sister-in-law.”

“What do you want.” Fu Hanzheng said.

Fu Shiyi said, “Brother, lend me your private jet?”

He also wanted to have a taste of travelling on a private jet.

Fu Hanzheng said, “No.”

Then he swiftly ended the call.

After a long time, he went to knock on the door, fearing that the girl inside might have fallen asleep.

Dressed in a robe, Gu Weiwei opened the door with still wet hair.

“I am sleepy.”

She had been working for days in a row and spent half a day in Venice, before having fun with him in bed.

Fu Hanzheng carried her over to the sofa and sat down. “Dry your hair first and then sleep.”

Having said those words, he went to fetch a dry towel and a hair dryer. He then helped her to dry her hair.

By the time her hair was done, Gu Weiwei had already fallen asleep with her head against the cushions.

He carried her back to bed and looked at the sleeping girl, with one hand supporting his head, feeling totally awake.

Early in the morning, Gu Weiwei was still sleeping when the doorbell rang.

She heard a voice, gave out an intelligible response and went further into the blanket, instead of showing any willingness to open the door.

Fu Hanzheng got up, opened the door and saw the blonde man standing outside. He asked after a moment of silence, “What is it?”

“....”

Seeing the man coming out of her room, Martin was so shocked that couldn’t come back to himself.

Chapter 432: Fu Hanzheng and Kiss

He had suspected that she already had a boyfriend but he could have never possibly guessed that her boyfriend was such an important figure!

“Mr. Fu... I am here to say goodbye to Weiwei.”

Dressed in his sleeping robe, the man looked a bit lazy. Clearly, the couple had had an exhausting, yet sexy night together.

“Please tell her that I am leaving for Milan and that she will be invited to attend the release of the new products, next month in Milan.”

“Okay.” Fu Hanzheng nodded.

Martin Green turned around and left, as he heard the door close.

He had been curious as to why Merlin would run all the way here from Paris, just to steal her from him on purpose.

It seemed that he already knew that Mu Weiwei was Fu Hanzheng’s girlfriend and he was there on purpose to help her.

After Martin Green left, Gu Weiwei slept for two more hours before getting up, full of energy.

Then she saw Fu Hanzheng receiving a call by the window. As the sunshine shone upon him, he simply looked like a god surrounded by a golden halo.

With a pillow in her arms, she watched him and fell into deep thought.

Fu Hanzheng turned around and looked at her, after he finished the call, he approached her.

“Still going out today?”

Gu Weiwei thought for a while. “Do you have time? I hope you can come to a place with me.”

Fu Hanzheng answered her, “Alright.”

Gu Weiwei reached out for the phone, explained the situation to Jolin and got dressed after washing herself.

She went out with Fu Hanzheng and they found a place to eat.

The carnival in Venice lasted for several days, so the crowds were still immersed in the festivities out on the street.

They did not need to sneak around on their dates when they were abroad. They walked across the streets and alleyways in Venice just like two tourists. Then they arrived at the mask market.

She bought a mask made for men and put it on Fu Hanzheng.

“Wear this well, in case women look at you!”

On the way here, his super-amazing looks had attracted the gazes of many women.

Fu Hanzheng picked up another mask and hid her face too.

“That seems fair.”

Gu Weiwei smiled brightly behind the mask.

They spent the entire afternoon in the city and took the Gondolier to many other places in the city too.

When they were at home, they could not date and travel like ordinary couples, and both of them were quite busy.

So Gu Weiwei was extremely excited, when they finally got an opportunity to travel around together, without caring about the curious gazes of passers-by.

It was not until the sun was setting in the west that Gu Weiwei urged the boatman to go to the Bridge of Sighs in the city.

As they came to the Bridge of Sighs, she removed the mask and said, “This is the place I wanted to take you to.”

Fu Hanzheng glanced about and saw the barocco stone bridge over the canal, not quite realizing why this bridge was so special.

Then he turned to the smiling girl next to him.

“Why are we here?”

Against the sunset, the girl smiled brightly and warmly. As the boats passed by the Bridge of Sighs, she removed his mask.

Then she took hold of his face and kissed him gently on his lips.

Surprised, Fu Hanzheng followed her lead and deepened the kiss.

The canal below the setting sun sparkled, and the moon-shaped boat passed by the Bridge of Sighs, carrying the couple in love.

A long time later, Gu Weiwei released the man’s lips and looked at the Bridge of Sighs which was far behind them.

“I heard the locals say that if a couple kisses under the Bridge of Sighs below the setting sun, they would never part.”

When she heard the story, the thought struck her to bring him here.

Unexpectedly however, he actually arrived in Venice, all the way from the capital.

Chapter 433: Single Men

Having heard those words, Fu Hanzheng looked very happy.

“What about turning around and doing it again?”

If he had known about her intentions, he should have done it with a more sincere heart.

“Once will be enough, too many times would not work at all.” Gu Weiwei chuckled.

“I didn’t do it well, not sincerely enough.” Fu Hanzheng replied.

Gu Weiwei looked aside and brushed her hair behind her ears and said, “Uncle Fu, if we do it once, it is romantic, twice would be indecent.”

Instead of insisting on it, Fu Hanzheng put her head on his shoulder.

Gu Weiwei leaned herself against him and smiled, as she hummed an Italian love song.

The gentle hum carried them past the canals in the Gondolier.

The man next to her took her hands tightly.

“It is so great that we can have a date like this.”

In Hua Land, their dates either took place at home or in the hotel room.

They never went to other places like ordinary couples.

“When you finish the movie promotion, we can go somewhere to take some time off.” Fu Hanzheng suggested.

He also found this kind of date to be very interesting.

“Sure.” Gu Weiwei replied.

After the Eyes of the Eagle was released, the next plan was to prepare for her own movies.

But that was not something that was going to be completed within a short time, so they still had time for vacation.

They spent a long time in the city and as the night fell, she received Jolin’s message.

He was wondering if they were going home together or if she was going with Fu Hanzheng.

She read the message and said to Fu Hanzheng, “Jolin is urging me to go to the airport.”

But he travelled all the way to Venice just to see her, she would feel quite guilty if she left him behind.

“Go home with me.” Fu Hanzheng said.

Hearing the words, Gu Weiwei texted Jolin back, telling him to go home first with Xu and to meet her back in the capital instead.

They spent another hour on the bankside, bought some souvenirs for Luo Qianqian and Ji Cheng and then bought a pair of twin-masks for Fu Shiyi and Fu Shiqin.

Then they made their own way to the airport.

Since they were boarding Fu Hanzheng’s private jet, they quickly finished the check-in, ate dinner in the jet and waited for the plane to take off.

After dinner, Fu Hanzheng started dealing with some work on the plane.

Seated next to him, Gu Weiwei was reading Weibo with a cup of juice in her hand, feeling relaxed..

After reading Weibo, she turned on WeChat and found that there were many messages popping up in the Team Group Chat.

Fu Shiyi: [He refused to lend me the private jet! Go away brother!]

Fu Shiqin: [He bought the jet to date, not for someone like you who is a peasant.]

He Chi: [That jet has expensive and comfortable seats and all kinds of wine, even the meals served on board are just like those in the Michelin starred restaurants...]

He Chi proudly expressed his experience, as the only person who had been on the jet.

Before he finished boasting, Fu Shiqin removed him from the group chat.

A couple of minutes later, he was brought back in again.

Fu Shiqin: [Damn you, I heard that you are flirting with the new nurse in the hospital?]

Fu Shiyi: [We promised to be single men forever!]

He Chi: [Damn you, I don't want to be a single man like you guys. A person like your brother can have a girlfriend, why can't I?]

Fu Shiyi: [Hey, what is the nurse's name? I can visit the hospital tomorrow]

Fu Shiqin: [He used your phone and albums to lure the girl into his trap!]

He Chi: [Go to hell! I will stab you with a scalpel if you dare come!]

Gu Weiwei's lips corner twitched... These dumb-headed people were not only dumb... but also rather immoral!

Chapter 434: Single Men 2

Since Fu Hanzheng had a very important business meeting, they went to Brussels in Belgium, halfway through their trip.

When they arrived, Gu Weiwei was still sleeping, so Fu Hanzheng left the plane with his assistant to meet the cooperators.

It took them nearly three hours before they returned and Gu Weiwei said, after waiting for him, "I have the premiere ceremony today for the Eyes of Eagle, don't make me late."

Fu Hanzheng checked the time. "I have told the crew to get ready for take-off."

On the way home, they ate the in-flight meal and did not arrive in the capital until the afternoon.

The moment they reached the villa, they saw Fu Shiyi wearing a mask and Fu Shiqin holding a bowl of Wasabi and cold water, whilst He Chi was tied to the chair.

Gu Weiwei sized up the three of them and stayed still in the living room for a few seconds.

“What are you doing?”

Fu Shiyi removed the mask on his face, displaying his overly swollen face due to an allergic reaction.

“This guy spilt something on me so that I ended up having an allergic reaction! What did he mean by doing so, when I need my face for my job?!”

He Chi, who was tightly tied down, countered. “It’s your fault! You went to the hospital to flirt with the nurses!”

He was the idol of those young nurses but when he went to the nurse station and looked around, he realised he had fallen off his own pedestal.

Fu Shiyi only gained popularity because he was good-looking!

So he had made his face swell up, so that he would not be able to flirt around in his territory!

Gu Weiwei remembered what she had read in the group chat and more or less understood what had happened.

Fu Shiyi must have gone to the hospital and flirted with the nurse He Chi had fallen for. Feeling angry, He Chi then made Fu Shiyi’s face swell up like a pig, with the medical knowledge he had learned.

“That girl does not have He Chi printed on her forehead, so she is open to both you and me!” Fu Shiyi countered reasonably.

He Chi angrily said, “She is your friend’s crush, can’t you be like a real brother?!”

“Damn you, He Chi, you are not in a position to say this!” Fu Shiqin went to strangle his neck and said, “When I was in university, a junior girl confessed her feelings to me and you told her about my past, so she ran away. Why do you think he can’t do a similar thing now?”

He Chi coughed with a reddened neck and said, “Fu Shiyi treated me to dinner so I would do that for him! That girl was secretly with your brother for three months!”

Hearing the words, Fu Shiqin turned to Fu Shiyi.

“Third Brother!”

“Sister-in-law, help me!” Fu Shiyi screamed and hid himself behind Gu Weiwei’s back.

Gu Weiwei turned around and left.

“You guys have fun!”

“Sister-in-law!” Fu Shiyi screamed terribly from down below.

Gu Weiwei went upstairs, got changed and walked out of the bedroom, only to find that He Chi, who had been tied to the chair, was now replaced by Fu Shiyi.

Fu Shiyi, whose face was swelling up like a pig’s head, was now being bullied by the others and he looked extremely pitiful.

“That’s enough, he needs his face for his job!”

“No way, he never withdraws when he tries to set us up!”

He Chi said and lifted Fu Shiyi’s bloated face.

“Alright, forget my words.”

Gu Weiwei raised her arms as a way of surrendering and walked into the study to find Fu Hanzheng.

Fu Hanzheng was just signing the contract Fu Shiqin gave to him and saw the girl coming over to him as he looked up.

“Rested well?”

“There’s another hour before I need to be there, I can keep you company.”

Gu Weiwei stood behind his chair and rubbed herself against his neck.

When the premiere ceremony started tonight, she would be flying around for promotional work and staying away from home for half a month. Then she would need to fly to Milan for MG’s release. They almost had no foreseeable time to spend with each other.

Fu Hanzheng put down the work, reached out for her and pulled her into his arms so she could sit down.

“Should we do it in the bedroom or here?”

Gu Weiwei frowned. “What are you thinking?”

So he wanted to do that one more time within this remaining hour?

There were three single men down on the first floor and he was thinking about doing that?

Chapter 435: Emptied

However, Fu Hanzheng had nothing against such an idea.

“Even if we do it once a day, you still have a long future ahead of you!”

She always stayed at home for a couple of days but was away from home for months.

Gu Weiwei gritted her teeth and said with a meaningful tone, “You are so young, you don’t have to empty yourself, okay? It is not healthy to indulge yourself too much.”

Fu Hanzheng said in a very serious tone, “I want to be emptied in you.”

Gu Weiwei. “...”

She should have left without dropping by!

Instead of returning to the bedroom, they kissed, hugged and chatted in the study.

It was not until Jolin called to hurry her that Fu Hanzheng accompanied her downstairs. The man tied to the chair was now Fu Shiqin.

“Brother, help me, help!”

“Sister-in-law, help me!!”

Seeing the two of them coming downstairs, Fu Shiqin screamed loudly for help.

Fu Hanzheng did not even bother to take a look at him and Gu Weiwei did not ask anything as she threw a brief glance at the trio.

As the members of Bringing Fu Hanzheng Down Team, they kept on causing trouble amongst themselves.

She was aware of how often they caused trouble, so she had no sympathy for them.

Prompted by Jolin, Gu Weiwei went over to do her makeup.

The gown was brought back from Milan, and it was a new dress that was yet to be released.

Jolin spoke to her as she was doing her makeup.

“Since Ling Yan cancelled the contract, some journalists might ask you questions about MG but today is the premier of the Eyes of the Eagle, so don’t answer any of those questions but talk about the movie instead!”

“Got it.” Gu Weiwei answered.

If she answered questions about MG, the media would focus on the gossip instead of the Eyes of the Eagle.

“Anyways, no matter what you answer, just stick to the movie.” Jolin stressed.

When it came to the Long Wind, it was the lead actress and actor who were interviewed, so she did not have much time to deal with the journalists.

She was the lead actress of the Eyes of the Eagle this time and she was mixed up in rumors with Ling Yan.

The incident of the second voice, earlier on in the year, had not been responded to by her either, since she went back to the crew for the filming.

So there would definitely be some journalists who would ask unrelated questions today at the ceremony.

He was worried that she would be trapped by those sharp-tongued journalists on the stage or accidentally say something that was improper.

However, it was not until the ceremony started did he realize that he had worried way too much.

No matter how the journalists asked her and how sharp the questions were, his girl was able to deal with the problems properly and moved them onto the promotion of the Eyes of the Eagle.

Plus the director and the lead actor, Song Yu, were helping her out too, so the interview part finished smoothly.

As the interview finished, the journalists requested that the main cast should have a full picture together.

Song Yu was standing next to Gu Weiwei's left side and Chu Chen was standing next to her right side. When the full picture was taken, Chu Chen placed his arm over her shoulders.

Gu Weiwei frowned and gave a warning look at Chu Chen, suggesting with her eyes that he should move his hand away.

But Chu Chen pretended not to catch her warning look and gave her a loving smile.

With gritted teeth, Gu Weiwei truly wanted to body flip him and break his nasty hands but she had to think of the media.

Jolin, who was waiting for her down below, crushed the bottle in his hand.

Damn, this boy must have gotten tired of living!

Chapter 436: How to Kill Him, Brother?

In the living room of Landscape Villa.

Due to the allergic reaction, Fu Shiyi did not go to work. Fu Shiqin and He Chi were not very occupied due to the New Year's holiday.

They were all in the living room, watching the live-stream of the Eyes of the Eagle premiere ceremony.

When they saw Chu Chen placing his hand over Mu Weiwei's shoulders, as they were taking the full picture, they all turned to Fu Hanzheng who was sitting next to them.

Fu Shiyi said, "Tell us, Brother, how do you plan to kill him?"

When Chu Chen went to knock at their sister-in-law's door, his brother had been tolerant about it since he did not want to kill the whole project.

But now, this man had put his paws on their sister-in-law's shoulders!

Fu Shiqin said, "If we don't do away with him, he would probably put hands over her waist after today!"

His brother was a very jealous man, and he would not tolerate this kind of behavior.

He Chi said, "There is a kind of animal that contains a toxic element that can damage the nerves, so that his hand would never be able to function again. How about I get some for you?"

Well, it was so unfortunate that he found a girlfriend who had to work with men, all the way in the entertainment industry.

But Fu Hanzheng looked very calm compared to the three men.

It seemed as if he had never seen the scene at all.

However, the following day a piece of news arrived. The supporting actor of the Eyes of the Eagle had a car crash, one of his arms was broken and his legs were badly injured, so he was unable to attend any of the upcoming promotional events.

At the breakfast table, Fu Shiyi and Fu Shiqin threw a careful look at their brother.

Surely enough, their brother was a very cruel man.

He broke his arm because that hand touched their sister-in-law's shoulders and his legs were injured too because he did not want him to attend the promotional event anymore with her.

"But isn't that a bit too cruel?" Fu Shiqin mumbled.

It was a very normal thing for actors to put their hands over other people's shoulders or around their waist, just look at Fu Shiyi for example.

"Well, it was his own fault anyways." Fu Shiyi snorted.

He understood perfectly what those small time actors were up to, as one of the active members in the industry.

His sister-in-law was the lead actress of the Eyes of the Eagle and sister-in-law and Song Yu were the ones who became popular.

Chu Chen was trying to establish a flirtatious atmosphere at the promotional event and had hired some journalists to exaggerate the issue.

However, he was aiming at the totally wrong person. He was just setting himself up to be killed, when he tried to put his hands over his sister-in-law's shoulders and create gossip with her.

When he had accidentally created some gossip with her before, he had been terribly punished, let alone this man's purposeful intentions.

But if not for the sake of the newly-aired movie and the fact that his brother did not want to negatively influence sister-in-law's career, it would be more than an arm and a leg that were injured.

Fu Shiqin threw a look at Fu Shiyi opposite him and said with a complicated look, "Can you move away and eat? I am losing my appetite facing you, pig-face!"

"What do you mean pig-face?!" Fu Shiyi struck the table and asked angrily.

Although He Chi had given him the medicine, the recovery speed was way too slow!

"Of course it's you, Pig-head." Fu Shiqin laughed provocatively.

"Do you know where the donuts you asked Lucas to make are?" Fu Shiyi sneered.

Fu Shiqin pointed at him and said, "If you dare to eat my donuts, I will reveal your pig-head pictures!"

Fu Hanzheng put down the chopsticks and snapped.

"Can you shut up?!"

The two of them sat down obediently and continued to eat, not uttering a sound.

They were here to keep him company, seeing that he was alone without sister-in-law.

But why did he detest them so much?

Chapter 437: Not that Easy

After the premiere ceremony of the Eyes of the Eagle, Gu Weiwei started the other promotional events with the main cast.

With Mo Jiao as the director and Song Yu, a three-time Movie King as the main cast, people would definitely want to watch the movie already.

However, after the movie was released for the first day, it was Mu Weiwei who was most vividly discussed.

[I wanted to watch my idol, but got conquered by the excellent performance of Mu Weiwei!]

[I finished the Eyes of the Eagle and felt total admiration for the actress who played two different roles, Huo Jing the cruel and lethal one, Huo Xiaoshi the intelligent and smart one!]

[Director Mo really liked using close-up scenes and that would require the actors to perform very well. Mu Weiwei was excellent in the movie, she performed so well in every single scene]

[She was not at all put into the shadows by working with Song Yu, three time award winner!]

....

Because the two lead actors put on an excellent performance and the director put devotion into his movie, the box office was breaking new records every day.

And within a couple of days, the results exceeded several large blockbusters that were shown on the first day of the New Year.

The Eyes of the Eagle, Mu Weiwei and Song Yu, at least one of these words became the tag that topped the hot search list online, almost every single day and the box office of the movie rose tremendously.

Chu Chen, who was badly injured, could not do the promotional events and all he could do was show his presence by posting something on Weibo, as he watched everyone else gaining popularity.

When they were doing the promotional events, Gu Weiwei and other cast members gave him some fruits as a way of consolation.

The following day, Chu Chen posted a Weibo post to express his thankfulness but he created a special post that displayed the fruits given by Mu Weiwei, just to thank her.

Since the role of Huo Jing, played by Mu Weiwei, and Wei Jing, played by Chu Chen, were both chiefs of the military bureau, an interactive performance with each other was created.

So Mu Weiwei was stuck with that man as a rumored couple again, after being one with Fu Shiyi.

But Mu Weiwei's fans did not think the rumored couple was an actual thing. However, Chu Chen's fans all thought that it was a good idea.

Jolin was so furious when he received the news.

"Damn you, you don't even deserve her!"

So with an arm and a leg broken, he still kept on buying out the top search position to create rumors with his girl!

Those baskets of fruits were arranged by the company and delivered to him with everyone else's gifts and yet, he was even able to make some rumors out of that?!

Gu Weiwei checked the time and massaged her eyebrows.

"It's good that he is injured so he can't do the promotion with her, otherwise... something would happen."

Although Fu Hanzheng did not say anything to her, he must have been related to Chu Chen's car accident, just to stop him from being with her at the promotional events.

But he was healing in the hospital and still trying to create rumors!

Jolin gritted his teeth and said, "Okay, you see how I give you trouble!"

The movie had been on for almost half a month and the promotional period had finally come to the end.

Chu Chen had only spread the rumor on Weibo for just one day, when some media companies revealed a piece of big news.

[A popular young star surnamed Chu, is being paid to sleep with a rich lady who invested in his first movie]

A young popular star that was surnamed Chu... of course it was Chu Chen.

Chapter 438: Out of Entertainment Zone

Gossip was always the thing that could make the netizens excited.

Within a day's time, two of the five top searches on Weibo were about Chu Chen.

Chu Chen and his agent stepped forward and made a proclamation.

They claimed that all the rumors were false and that they had ruined the artist's reputation and they would also seek legal rights retribution.

Chu Chen's fans all showed up and claimed that the media that revealed the news was totally irresponsible.

However, an hour after the proclamation was publicized, the media revealed new information and there was an attachment showing Chu Chen behaving intimately, with a middle aged woman in a car.

Chu Chen and his agency had never expected that a past incident like that would be revealed at this hour.

They had just denied the rumors when the media company then proved the authenticity.

No matter what proclamations they made right now, they would be considered as trying to cover and twist the truth.

Chu Chen had just reached the peak of his career because of the Eyes of the Eagle and the company was just making a new plan to bring him to a higher level.

But at this moment, when he received the greatest popularity of his career, such a rumor was revealed.

Chu Chen's agent went to visit Chu Chen who was still recovering and sighed.

"The company will contact the journalist and try to gag him, so the news can be concealed."

"It was something that happened in the past. It is being publicized now because someone is framing me!" Chu Chen snapped.

Chu Chen's agent did not want to hear his explanation but said, "Just keep a low-profile these days and do not cause any more trouble! Or no one would be able to save you!"

One piece of scandal could be pressed down but anything more serious than this would become out of control.

Stars became popular because of fans' support and if his image was ruined, it would be impossible for him to find a position in the industry.

Luckily, that was something that happened years ago and as long as the news passed after this period, his career would not really be affected.

On the other hand, Jolin was drinking his coffee in satisfaction as he was reading the news online.

Sure enough, when the scandal of Chu Chen was revealed, no one was creating rumors of him and Weiwei being a couple.

Then he answered a call.

"What is their price?"

"Okay, just as we have promised, we spill it."

"Next... will be how his assistant got an abortion."

....

Seeing him ending the call, Gu Weiwei more or less understood what was going on from judging his tone.

"I never expected that you could be so fierce with your tricks!"

It was him who bought the news that Chu Chen was paid to sleep with the rich lady and it was also him who hired the media to reveal it.

Now, Chu Chen and his agency were trying hard to think of a way to deal with the public relations, by paying the media or letting him make clarifications.

Jolin and the media company shared the money offered by Chu Chen's agency but still revealed other rumors about Chu Chen.

When Chu Chen's reputation was ruined, the money he spent on buying the couple rumors was compensated for too.

"No problem." Jolin chuckled.

Any professional working in the industry had to be tricky to some degree.

"I won't say anymore about it, you can deal with everything alone." Gu Weiwei said.

Chu Chen was not a very moral person but she was not the kind type either.

"Don't worry, I will get him out of the entertainment industry, so that he will never be able to return." Jolin said with gritted teeth.

At first, all he had planned to do was ruin his reputation, by paying for some bad press about him but the investigators had dug out many other horrible matters done by him.

This kind of man should not be allowed to stay in the entertainment industry. He was staining the environment.

Chapter 439: Kiss

As the rumor that Chu Chen was paid to sleep with a rich lady subsided, the rumor that he had knocked up his assistant before and got her to abort the child, was revealed too.

Girls were the majority of fans that supported male stars and those rumors had made him lose a large number of fans and even caused him to be labelled as a scumbag.

As the news was exposed, someone took a picture of the badly injured Chu Chen who was taken hostage by the mafia.

Someone claimed that it was not an ordinary car crash that Chu Chen experienced but that he owed usury from gambling, when he was at the casino earlier, and that the debt chasers had crushed him.

He was taken away because he could not pay back the debt.

Chu Chen reached the highest top search list online but his reputation and popularity had fallen to the bottom of the valley. He would never be able to erase the stain.

Seeing Chu Chen being taken away by the debt chasers, Jolin took a look at Gu Weiwei.

"Is this something done by Boss?"

Gu Weiwei threw a look at the image. "Well, he does owe a lot of money."

Fu Shiyi had told her about it before, and all Fu Hanzheng had done was tell the debt chasers that they could make the whole thing look more dramatic.

Jolin took back the phone and showed no sympathy.

"It serves him right, he has done way too many terrible things."

His past was awful. He had gotten his assistant pregnant but forced her to have an abortion and he had even hit someone as a drunk driver.

He had done many terrible things and Jolin had planned to remove him little by little.

However, with one order from Boss, the men from the casino found him and finished him off totally.

As the box office of the Eyes of the Eagle reached 700 million yuan, Gu Weiwei also finished the promotional events. It was already early in the morning, when she came back to the capital.

The moment she got off the plane, Fu Hanzheng called her and told her that he was waiting for her at the airport.

Jolin saw the look she gave him and left with the assistant, so that she could meet Fu Hanzheng alone.

Gu Weiwei found Fu Hanzheng's car and held his hand after she got into the car.

"You don't have to pick me up, it is so late."

Fu Hanzheng kissed her forehead. "I long for you."

Gu Weiwei looked up and said with a small smile, "I want to kiss you."

Before she did, she stopped because she saw Fu Shiqin who was driving the car.

The sound was very low but Fu Shiqin still heard it. He jerked the steering wheel and almost hit a pillar.

Fu Hanzheng looked at him and said, "Get out of the car and return in three minutes."

Fu Shiqin turned around, opened the door and got out of the car feeling rather annoyed.

Gu Weiwei showed almost no sympathy to Fu Shiqin who was driving them, looked up at Fu Hanzheng and gave him a long kiss, expressing how much she missed him during the past period.

Standing outside the car, Fu Shiqin shivered in the cold and answered an incoming call.

"Is our sister-in-law home now?"

"She's kissing our brother in the car now!"

Fu Shiqin said annoyedly as he glanced back at the car behind him.

"Wow!" Fu Shiyi heard and said instantly, "You, can you be a little bit wiser? Leave that place right now!"

"Why?" Fu Shiqin could not understand what he was saying.

"They haven't met for almost a month and they might want to do it in the car, you are just ruining their moment." Fu Shiyi explained.

Fu Shiqin looked at the steady car and did not notice anything strange about it.

"Damn you, no one is as dirty-minded as you!"

Fu Shiyi replied, "Well, if our brother is not dirty-minded, why do you think he happily received the sexy pajamas last time?"

Fu Shiqin turned around and was just wondering if he should leave or stay, when the car window rolled down and showed his brother with a calm face.

“Drive.”

Chapter 440: Sleeping or Not?

“...”

Startled, Fu Shiqin ended Fu Shiyi’s call and went into the car, looking at the couple through the rear view mirror.

“If you are in a hurry... I can drive you to a nearby hotel.”

Fu Hanzheng said, “Shut up and drive.”

Fu Shiqin obediently shut up and took them back to the Landscape Villa which was close by.

Fu Hanzheng accompanied Gu Weiwei back into the master room. “Take a shower and rest, I have other work to be finished. I will join you later.”

“Can’t you do that tomorrow instead?” Gu Weiwei did not want to release his hands.

“If I finish doing the work today, I can spend half a day with you tomorrow.” Fu Hanzheng caressed her hair gently.

“Alright.”

Gu Weiwei released his hands unwillingly, grabbed her pajamas and went to have a shower.

Fu Hanzheng returned to the study and continued to do work with Fu Shiqin, and then he asked him, after handing over the files, “Any further news on Lei Meng’s investigation?”

Fu Shiqin put the files away into the briefcase, as he shook his head.

“Not yet, that Mr. Meng whose gender is uncertain, has never shown up again. Mu Weiwei doesn’t seem to meet anyone these days either. So no clues so far.”

“Then let’s just wait and see. They will pop up someday.” Fu Hanzheng said.

Fu Shiqin thought for a while with pursed lips and asked, “If she’s chosen not to tell you and we still continue with the investigation, won’t she get mad when she finds it out?”

Fu Hanzheng passed over the signed files to him. “I don’t want to be totally ignorant if she is in trouble.”

She was smart enough to notice that he was still investigating but she still did not want to clearly confess to him.

“She is not having an affair with anyone, so what is she hiding from us anyway?” Fu Shiqin mumbled.

Actually, as long as she wasn’t having an affair with a man, everything else wouldn’t bother his brother.

“That means that she is meeting someone with a curious identity.” Fu Hanzheng said.

A person who used a false identity could not possibly have an ordinary origin and she must have a real identity she wanted to conceal.

“What if we find her and Mu Weiwei defends her?” Fu Shiqin asked his brother.

Fu Hanzheng’s eyes deepened as he was thinking about something.

“I just want to figure out something, not to deal with that person.”

He felt that the reason why she kept denying his proposal was because of that person.

If he did not properly figure it out, he would feel that something unseen was happening between them.

“But Third Brother once said that being a bit confused, might not necessarily be a bad thing. Maybe you shouldn’t figure out what you haven’t been told.” Fu Shiqin repeated what Fu Shiyi had said.

His brother was worried that Mu Weiwei would fall into trouble and it was all totally hidden from him, so he could not help her with it... But what if what Mu Weiwei was hiding would ruin their love?

His brother had fallen for her deeply.

Fu Hanzheng glanced at him without saying a thing.

Before Fu Shiqin left, he turned around and said, “Oh by the way, due to Mu Weiwei’s good image and performance in the movies, among the media reports, our mother has changed her opinion of her.”

When he and grandma were watching the entertainment news about Mu Weiwei on the TV, their mother joined them and watched the news too, saying that Mu Weiwei was quite mature.

Fu Shiqin left and Fu Hanzheng was alone in the study, thinking over what he had just said.

Should he stay confused about what she was concealing, or continue on with the investigation?

All of a sudden, he felt a bit hesitant.

When Gu Weiwei finished the shower and came out, she did not see him in the bedroom, so she went to the study in her pajamas, looking drowsy.

“Are you going to sleep or not?”
