

MY HIDDEN 511

Chapter 511: Yuan Meng's Real Name

"Yuan Shuo?"

Cayman Dorrans objected.

"Impossible. Yuan Shuo is a man who keeps his promise. He promised to protect my daughter at all costs."

In fact, he had been fulfilling that promise for all these years.

"The problem lies with the woman he married, Yuan Meng." Gu Siting said.

"Yuan Meng?" Cayman Dorrans asked.

Yuan Shuo had mentioned to him that he was married and had had a child, so he wanted to quit the mission he had given him.

But at that time, he did not promise him anything. He would not hurt his daughter just because he had turned him down.

"Her name is not Yuan Meng."

Gu Siting took the file from Kuroda Shio and gave it to Cayman Dorrans.

"Her real name is Heather and she is from the Anderson Family."

The Anderson Family had always been at loggerheads with the Dorrans Family, and this woman had approached Yuan Shuo, who was protecting Weiwei.

They had to suspect that she had approached Yuan Shuo on purpose, so that she could find out who Weiwei was.

Cayman Dorrans flipped through the files he had handed over. "So you are saying that Yuan Shuo revealed Weiwei's real identity to her, so that the Anderson Family then arranged the assassination?"

If that woman was really from the Anderson Family, then it was reasonable to suspect her but Yuan Shuo was one of his most trusted men.

He just could not believe that he was the one who had harmed Weiwei.

"After Weiwei was brought home, Yuan Shuo and that woman disappeared from A Land. Now... they have started to work for Fu Hanzheng." Gu Siting said.

Cayman Dorrans did not fully believe what he had said.

"I will get someone to verify what you said."

Since he was in a high position, he would not easily believe what others told him. He would only believe what his own men found out.

All these years, he had been worried that her identity would be revealed. Therefore, he did not meet her face to face and also did not pay that much attention to any news about her.

But he did not even know that she had passed away, until after so much time had gone by.

Gu Siting did not explain any further. He had said what he needed to say, so it was up to Cayman now to decide the relationship between the Dorrans Family and the Gu Family.

Cayman Dorrans told his men to investigate Yuan Meng.

If that woman was really from the Anderson Family, then she was definitely involved in Weiwei's assassination and Yuan Shuo...

After Weiwei's accident, he hid himself in Hua Land and never came back.

Sure enough, because of a woman, did he really not even care about fulfilling what he had promised?

After the order was given, Cayman Dorrans looked at Gu Siting again.

"Whether it is Yuan Shuo or the Gu Family, I will find out."

Hearing the words, Mrs. Gu still suspected that Weiwei's death was related to the Gu Family so she tried to explain further.

"Mr. Dorrans, Weiwei is the key to the collaboration between the Gu Family and the Dorrans Family. If we hurt her, we will only suffer."

Cayman Dorrans did not bother to hear Mrs. Gu's explanation but said, "Where is Weiwei? I am taking her away."

When she was alive, he had kept her outside, so now she was gone, he did not want her to be in someone else's home.

Mrs. Gu became nervous. She had not expected that Cayman would want to take away Gu Weiwei, who had passed away.

But if he found out that Weiwei's heart was given to Ling Yan, would Cayman Dorrans accept it?

Chapter 512: Weiwei

After a moment of silence, Gu Siting turned him down.

"Sorry, Mr. Dorrans, we can't satisfy your request."

He had already lost her when she was alive and he could not lose her again after she was now dead.

This was the only version of her he had ever caught.

Cayman Dorrans looked cold and lethal as he looked at Gu Siting, who had turned him down.

"Even if she grew up in the Gu Family, she is still my daughter, not a member of the Gu Family."

When she was alive, he had failed to take care of her.

Now that she was dead, he did not want to leave her alone.

“She would not have died if you were not Cayman Dorrans.” Gu Siting looked at him and said with a low voice.

If her father had not been Cayman Dorrans, the assassination would not have happened and she might still be alive.

That was undoubtedly a fatal point for Cayman Dorrans.

Cayman Dorrans moved his cane. Because he was a Dorrans, he had lost the woman he loved and his only daughter.

But he could not get rid of everything that this family name had given him.

From the moment he was born into this family, he had no right to choose his own life.

“Gu Siting, no matter what your reason is, I must take her away.”

They could not meet each other when they were alive but now that she had died, he had to bring her back to her mother.

Gu Siting looked determined. “I can’t give her to you.”

“Your reason.”

Seeing the tense atmosphere, Mrs. Gu stepped forward and spoke up.

“Mr. Dorrans, Siting doesn’t mean any harm. It is just that... he can’t let go of Weiwei, so he wants to keep her by his side.”

He wanted to grasp everything related to her, that was why he did not want to give Weiwei to Cayman.

“Can’t let go?” Cayman Dorrans smiled coldly and said, “I remember warning you not to have any ideas about my daughter.”

Gu Siting was a stubborn and selfish man who did not love anyone wholeheartedly.

Although Weiwei did not grow up by his side, he would not give her life to such a person.

Gu Siting stayed silent and he did not defend himself.

Cayman Dorrans looked at him coldly. “I am not discussing this with you, I just want you to return her to me.”

That was his daughter and if he wanted to take her away, no one in the Gu Family would object.

“I can’t give her to you.” Gu Siting still refused.

Cayman Dorrans threw a look at his confidant and the man in the black suit pulled out his gun and removed the safety, aiming it at Gu Siting’s head.

“You are not qualified to reject my request.”

Mrs. Gu was so startled that she explained in Gu Siting’s stead.

“Mr. Dorrans, we have our reasons for not letting you take Weiwei away.”

It was a reasonable request for Cayman to take her away.

Cayman Dorrans threw a look at Mrs. Gu, not looking as fierce as he did with Gu Siting.

“Mrs. Gu, please understand how I feel as a father.”

Weiwei lost her mother when she was only a year old and Mrs. Gu had always treated her like her own.

He understood that extremely well, so he was very grateful to Mrs. Gu for making up for Weiwei’s lack of motherly love.

But as a father, he could not let her keep her in the Gu Family forever.

Chapter 513: Weiwei 2

Mrs. Gu looked at Cayman Dorrans and then at Gu Siting behind her.

“Mr. Dorrans, if you are willing, you can visit the Gu Family and come and see her and the things she left behind...”

Rejecting Cayman Dorrans’s request in any other way, would only make them enemies.

Cayman Dorrans thought for a long time.

“I accept your invitation.”

Although he was the one who sent her to the Gu Family and he knew that she had been living there, he had no idea how she lived or what she was doing.

That was because he did not dare to pay too much attention to her, lest people suspected that she was his daughter and was therefore put in danger.

Mrs. Gu let out a sigh of relief. “When do you want to visit?”

Cayman Dorrans stayed silent for a while and said, “I will visit you tomorrow night.”

He thought that he needed some time to accept the news that Weiwei had passed away, before he could face her.

Mrs. Gu asked, “Then... can we leave now?”

The atmosphere here was too depressing, she also had many things to prepare, before Cayman saw Weiwei.

Cayman Dorrans turned to Gu Siting and said coldly, “I will find out whether it was Yuan Shuo who betrayed the Dorrans Family and caused her death or the Gu Family who leaked the news.”

“Someone must pay for her death.”

Gu Siting nodded, left the villa and got into the car.

“See you tomorrow, Mr. Dorrans.” Mrs. Gu said and left the villa too.

The moment she walked out of the door, she relaxed a little.

Gu Siting asked, as she got into the car, “Why did you invite him?”

If he went to the Gu Family and tried to take Weiwei away...

“Can we fight him head-on?” Mrs. Gu countered.

Unlike the Gu Family, the Dorrans Family lived in the underworld and human lives were not deemed as precious to them.

Cayman insisted on taking Weiwei away, so if Siting continued to stop him, Cayman really might let someone shoot him.

Gu Siting asked Kuroda Shio to drive the car and said, “We can’t let him take her away.”

“Get Ling Yan to come over tomorrow.” Mrs. Gu said.

Gu Siting frowned. “Why?”

“She is carrying Weiwei’s heart, shouldn’t she be present, so as to give Cayman Dorrans an explanation?” Mrs. Gu asked coldly.

If he wanted Cayman Dorrans to meet Weiwei, then he had to explain the heart transplant.

But whether he was willing to accept this explanation was up to God.

Gu Siting looked out of the window and said nothing more.

Mrs. Gu glanced sideways at the silent man. “Are you getting engaged to Ling Yan or... to the heart beating inside of her?”

Before Weiwei passed away, he had been in contact with Ling Yan but they had never talked about marriage.

But when Weiwei passed away and Ling Yan became the carrier of her heart, he suddenly took great care of her.

She had started to suspect that it was because Ling Yan had Weiwei’s transplanted heart inside of her.

Gu Siting did not reply but he looked a little sad.

He wanted to give her those things, marriage, a home and children but now not even someone else could.

Only the beating heart residing in someone else’s body, made him feel that she was still alive.

Chapter 514: Fu Hanzheng

The villa where Cayman Dorrans was staying sank into a frozen silence, after Gu Siting and his mother left.

Cayman Dorrans was sitting there with his cane in his hand and he looked very sad.

After a long time, he sighed deeply, when he opened his eyes again, they were clear and cold.

“Watson!”

“Boss, what can I do for you?” A muscular, brown-haired man approached him and asked.

Cayman Dorrans rose with the aid of his cane, looking lethal.

“Send someone to Hua Land and find Yuan Shuo and that woman. For Weiwei’s death... he must come back and give me an explanation.”

“I will have someone go and do it right now.” Having said those words, Watson said, “Yuan Shuo entered the Dorrans Family with you before any of us did. He wouldn’t have done that.”

If he did not trust him, Cayman would not have made him responsible for his daughter’s safety.

However, something had happened to Miss Weiwei and Yuan Shuo did not report it to Dorrans but had instead escaped to Hua Land with that woman.

This is what made them suspect that he had sided with the Anderson Family because of that woman.

“Find out if that woman is really from the Anderson clan.” Cayman Dorrans instructed.

If that woman was really an Anderson and Yuan Shuo had fled to Hua Land after Weiwei died because of her, he would have to suspect him.

“Yes, I will arrange for it to be done now.” Watson said.

“Also...” Cayman Dorrans stopped him and said, “Check the Gu Family too, don’t trust anyone’s words.”

Yuan Shuo left after Weiwei had died and the Gu Family kept the news of her passing under wraps, which would easily make people suspicious.

After a moment of silence, Watson said, “Understood.”

All of a sudden, he felt that this man, who had been driving the Dorrans Family forwards for so many years, had aged tremendously overnight.

He had lost both his lover and his daughter and now he only had the Dorrans Family left, a family that gave him great power and wealth but also brought him insurmountable danger and misfortune.

After Cayman Dorrans told Watson to find Yuan Shuo and search the Gu Family, he stayed in the villa alone.

It seemed that he was quietly recalling the past.

He suddenly remembered how cute his daughter Weiwei was when she was born. She had learnt to call him daddy when she was just a year old.

But in the blink of an eye, more than twenty years had passed by and he was no longer able to see her.

If he had known that this would happen, he would not have sent her to the Gu Family.

He had not seen her for more than twenty years and even when he knew that she was looking for him, he did not go and meet her.

If her mother had been alive to know that he had acted like this, she would have blamed him for being an irresponsible father.

He had failed to protect her well and even failed to protect their daughter.

As he was reminiscing about the past, a Caucasian assistant, who was around the same age as him, returned.

“Cayman, I am sorry for Weiwei’s departure.”

Cayman Dorrans turned his head slightly and glanced at his trusted subordinate, Matthew.

“It’s been confirmed already, so who released the news?”

“Fu Hanzheng from the Fu Family of Hua Land.” Matthew replied.

Cayman Dorrans seemed to be deep in thought. Due to the Dorrans Family’s support for the Gu Family, they had very few dealings with the Fu Family.

Cayman Dorrans had never met Fu Hanzheng before but he did seem to be a very smart and discerning man.

“I heard that Yuan Shuo is working for him now. Yuan Shuo must have told him about it.”

Matthew nodded. “It was because Gu Siting took away Fu Hanzheng’s girlfriend and they spread the news because they wanted to use us to cause trouble for the Gu Family.”

Chapter 515: Fu Hanzheng’s Girlfriend

Cayman Dorrans frowned and turned around.

“Are we... falling into his trap?”

Because now, they were fighting with the Gu Family, just as he had wished.

“Do you mean to say that Yuan Shuo, the Gu Family, the Anderson’s and the Fu Family might be involved too?”

“Now, everyone who has anything to do with it is suspicious.” Cayman Dorrans said with a cold expression.

“All these years, we have supported the Gu Family and the Fu Family has been trying to get rid of the Gu Family but failed. Maybe they are trying to use Weiwei’s death to create this situation.”

“But as far as I know, despite Yuan Shuo hiding in Hua Land, he is not staying with the Fu Family.” Matthew said, feeling a bit confused. “Instead of saying that he is seeking refuge with Fu Hanzheng, he is seeking refuge with Fu Hanzheng’s girlfriend.”

“What do you mean?” Cayman Dorrans asked in confusion.

Matthew poured a glass of brandy and gave it to the man.

“Yuan Shuo doesn’t seem to know Fu Hanzheng very well but he seems to know Fu Hanzheng’s girlfriend really well. He was the one who brought the girl home.”

And the reason why the Gu Family knew that Yuan Shuo was with the Fu Family was because of this incident.

If Yuan Shuo had joined Fu Hanzheng long ago, the Fu Family would have made use of Weiwei’s death to make the Dorrans Family and the Gu Family enemies, so that they could take advantage of the situation.

“Who is Fu Hanzheng’s girlfriend?” Cayman Dorrans asked.

Yuan Shuo was willing to risk his life and return to A Land to save her. He was not a kind-hearted person.

Matthew thought for a moment and said, “Her name is Mu Weiwei and she is an actress in Hua Land. I heard that Gu Siting thinks that Mu Weiwei resembles Miss Weiwei, so he brought her to the Gu Family.”

Cayman Dorrans mumbled.

“A bit like Weiwei?”

“Well... we don’t know much about Weiwei, so we don’t know what she looks like.” Matthew said.

Cayman Dorrans sighed. She was his own daughter but he did not know her well.

He had thought that when she returned to the Dorrans Family, he would be able to give her a safe and superior home, so that she could live a happy life.

Unexpectedly, everything did not go according to his wishes.

...

That night, Cayman Dorrans did not sleep at all and a few more strands of white hair appeared on his head.

The following evening, he drove to the Gu Family’s mansion.

Gu Siting and Mrs. Gu were waiting for them at the gate, together with Ling Yan.

Cayman Dorrans and Matthew were both dressed in black suits and instead of saying that they were guests of the Gu Family, it was more like they were there to pay their respects.

Mrs. Gu showed him Gu Weiwei’s old room, the pictures of her when she was little, the trophies she received from school and the videos she filmed on her birthday.

Cayman Dorrans looked at each picture very carefully and he made sure to touch her face in every photo.

It had been more than twenty years and she had grown up, yet he could only touch her in the photos.

After thinking about it, he said to Mrs. Gu,

“I will take these things back with me.”

He was going to take everything back with him.

Gu Siting wanted to object but was stopped by Mrs. Gu.

After Cayman Dorrans finished an album, Ling Yan handed him another album and diary.

“Uncle Dorrans, this is... Weiwei’s diary.”

Cayman Dorrans approached and glanced at the tearful Ling Yan.

“You are...”

“I am Weiwei’s friend, Ling Yan.” Ling Yan said as she opened the album for him and pointed at herself in the picture. “This is the picture we took together in the past and also the picture we took together in Dream of a Long Life...”

Chapter 516: Where Did Her Heart Go?

Cayman Dorrans flipped through the album and found that there were indeed many pictures of the two of them together.

Ling Yan said between sobs, “We are best friends. If it were not for her, I might not have lived to see this day.”

She had not expected that Gu Weiwei would have such a powerful father and after she had died, he came to the Gu Family for her.

But now, it seemed that because of Gu Weiwei’s death, they were investigating the Gu Family and the Yuan Family.

Cayman Dorrans flipped through the album page by page, not paying attention to what Ling Yan had said.

He had looked at every picture of his daughter and found that she looked so much like him and her smile looked so much like her mother’s.

During the long hours, he saw many things about her but now he also wanted to see her alive and standing in front of him.

But it was too late.

“Where is she? I want to meet her.”

He wanted to see her even though he knew that seeing her would be painful.

Mrs. Gu stood up and led the way. “Please follow me.”

They passed through the dark and cold underground passage.

Then she stepped into the brightly lit room.

Seeing the crystal coffin in the room from a distance, the pain that was suppressed in his heart could not help but fill his eyes.

“Cayman.”

Matthew turned his head worriedly and looked at his friend, who was trembling slightly, with his cane tightly gripped in his hand.

He had lost the woman he loved and now he had lost their daughter. One could only imagine how distraught he was.

Cayman Dorrans approached the crystal coffin step by step with his cane, each step so heavy that it was almost unbearable.

It was a short distance of no more than ten steps but he was walking very slowly, as if she was a great distance away.

He wanted to see her but he was afraid to.

Finally, he stood by the crystal coffin. The face of the person in the crystal coffin was unchanged. She did not look like she had died but more like a person who had fallen into a deep sleep.

“Weiwei...”

Cayman Dorrans called out her name with a trembling voice, as if gently trying to wake her up.

Mrs. Gu approached him and said with a sorrowful voice, “Because of the special treatment, she was able to keep her appearance, just like when she was alive.”

She had no idea about all of this at first, until she realized that Siting had done it.

Also, she had been here many times and realised that Weiwei remained unchanged.

Standing next to the crystal coffin, Cayman Dorrans mourned for a long time and said to Matthew, “Let them in.”

Matthew went out for a while and soon there were people in protective suits and masks, who were ready to move away the person in the crystal coffin.

“Mr. Dorrans, I told you that I was not going to give her to you.”

Gu Siting stepped forward and stopped the men from approaching the crystal coffin.

If he took her away, he would never see her again.

Cayman Dorrans said, “I told you that you have no right to stop me from taking her away.”

Knowing his friend’s insistence, Matthew did not care about Gu Siting’s objection and ordered his men to move the person in the crystal coffin carefully.

“Mr. Dorrans, please listen to our explanation.”

Seeing that they were about to take Weiwei away, Mrs. Gu quickly spoke up.

"I don't want any explanations, I just want to take my daughter away." Cayman Dorrans said.

As soon as he finished speaking, Matthew, who was instructing the staff, saw the wound and the sutures that had been revealed.

So he asked someone to check it.

A man checked the wound and reported the situation to Matthew.

Matthew approached her angrily and said, "Then Mr. Gu, Mrs. Gu, please explain where her heart has gone."

Chapter 517: Why Should I... Give You My Daughter's Heart

Hearing the words, Cayman Dorrans looked at Matthew and asked, "What did you say?"

Matthew took a look at the woman in the crystal coffin and anxiously said to him, "I helped lift her up and saw the sutures over where her heart should be... so I asked one of our men to cut the thread and found that her heart is missing."

Cayman Dorrans did not believe it and took a look himself.

He swayed and would have almost lost his balance if not for the cane.

"Gu Siting, where is her heart?"

No wonder the Gu Family kept on stopping him from taking her away. They must have been worried that they would find out that her heart had been removed.

Without waiting for Gu Siting and Mrs. Gu to speak, Ling Yan knelt down in front of Cayman Dorrans and said, whilst sobbing, "Uncle, Weiwei's heart has been transplanted into me."

"Transplanted into you?" Cayman Dorrans looked down at Ling Yan, who was kneeling on the ground and crying pitifully.

"Why should I give you my daughter's heart?"

Ling Yan sobbed and said, "I have a heart disease and Weiwei has saved me time and time again. If not for the heart she gave me, I..."

Cayman Dorrans lifted Ling Yan's chin with his cane, forcing her to look into his eyes.

"She gave it to you?"

Ling Yan said, with tears in her eyes, "Weiwei was looking for a heart that could be transplanted into me but she never found it, until after something happened to Weiwei..."

Cayman Dorrans's eyes were as cold as ice and his voice was threatening, "So you removed her heart and put it inside yourself?"

Ling Yan shivered at the murderous look in Cayman Dorrans's eyes and she could not utter a single word.

Mrs. Gu was also nervous and explained this to her. "Weiwei and Ling Yan have always been good friends and Weiwei has always hoped to cure Ling Yan, so..."

She did not want to speak up for Ling Yan but the Gu Family would not be able to get away with this matter if she didn't.

"There is a saying in Hua Land, that the body, hair and skin belong to the parents[1]."

Cayman Dorrans threw a look at Mrs. Gu and Gu Siting, then turned to Ling Yan who was kneeling on the ground and crying. "Even if she is dead, none of you are qualified to take away anything from her."

"Ling Yan was seriously ill at the time. If she had not received a heart transplant, she would have died too..." Mrs. Gu explained.

"My daughter is dead, why...?" Cayman Dorrans slammed his cane against the ground and asked furiously, "Why did she survive with Weiwei's heart? Who does she think she is?"

His only daughter was dead and her heart was removed.

He had not even heard the news of her death for months.

Ling Yan, who was kneeling on the ground, shivered at the cold voice. She lowered her head and cried even harder.

Gu Siting was about to speak when Mrs. Gu stopped him.

Mrs. Gu explained in a gentle tone, "Mr. Dorrans, Weiwei has been trying to save her. Something happened to her and Ling Yan is dying too, so Weiwei's heart was transplanted..."

"No matter how desperate I am, I just can't accept my daughter being treated like this."

Cayman Dorrans was both angry and sad, and he did not want to hear any explanations.

"Uncle, I am sorry, I..."

"I don't need your apology." Cayman Dorrans looked at Ling Yan, who was crying, and was not moved by her tears at all.

"I just need you to return what you have taken!"

[1] This saying means that a child who looks like their parents and is born of their parents, belongs to them. The hair is the same as theirs, the body is the same as theirs and so is the skin. Two parts (parents) combined into one (child).

Chapter 518: I'm Only Here to Take Back My Daughter's Heart

Ling Yan shivered in fear.

"Give it back?"

Her heart had already been transferred to her, how was she supposed to return it?

Startled, Mrs. Gu tried to persuade him.

“Mr. Dorrans, we understand what you are feeling right now, but...”

Ling Yan had already transplanted Weiwei’s heart. If she returned it to her, she would die.

“No, you don’t understand.” Cayman Dorrans interrupted Mrs. Gu coldly.

His daughter, whom he had not seen for more than twenty years, was already dead in front of him.

And to add salt to his wounds, her heart was removed and given to someone else.

No one could understand what he was feeling right now.

Mrs. Gu stayed silent. Maybe she really could not understand what he was feeling... but Weiwei was raised by her and she was brought up by the Gu Family from when she was only a year old. She was raised like a real daughter.

Her death had made her heart ache too but she was no longer alive, so she had to live on.

“Uncle, I know how much pain you’re feeling because you have lost Weiwei. This is her heart and it is very sad to see you so upset...” Ling Yan held her chest and said between sobs.

Cayman Dorrans looked at her with a complicated look in his cold eyes.

“Because Weiwei is gone, I will take care of you and keep you company. I will be everything a daughter can be...”

She had finally gotten this heart and survived, she did not want to die.

Mrs. Gu looked at Ling Yan and felt a little moved.

Could this heart that had been transplanted into her, really feel what Weiwei was feeling?

“For her?” Cayman Dorrans smiled coldly and said resolutely, “If you can’t replace her, no one can...”

“I know, I know.” Ling Yan nodded with tears in her eyes and said, “Weiwei has been looking for you all this time and she had no chance to meet you. I just wanted to do something for her, even if it is just a small show of filial piety...”

Cayman Dorrans turned around and walked towards the crystal coffin as he shouted, “Matthew!”

Matthew understood what he meant and threw a look at the men in protective suits.

Two men came over and helped Ling Yan up.

Another man opened the box and took out a scalpel, as if he was preparing to do something.

Ling Yan almost passed out.

Cayman Dorrans would actually... dig out her heart?

“Mr. Dorrans, are you trying to kill someone?” Mrs. Gu asked in astonishment.

Cayman Dorrans stood next to the crystal coffin with his cane and looked at the woman inside.

"I am just taking back what belongs to my daughter."

"If you take Weiwei's heart back, she will die too!" Mrs. Gu said.

"My daughter is dead, why should I care about anyone else?" Cayman Dorrans said coldly.

He had killed many people, and he would continue to kill many people.

Mrs. Gu grabbed a file from her bag and gave it to Cayman Dorrans.

"What is this?"

Cayman Dorrans glanced at it and was startled when he saw the letter of intent.

"Weiwei signed it years ago. Even if her heart was not transplanted to Ling Yan after she died, her organs would be transplanted to someone else."

"If we had donated her other organs, how many people would you want to kill?"

...

Chapter 519: Weiwei

Ling Yan looked up and sobbed.

"She signed the letter of intent with me years ago."

She had planned to donate her organs if she died from illness and coincidentally, Gu Weiwei visited her that day and saw her filling in the form.

So she signed one too, saying that she was also willing to donate her organs after she died.

It was also from that time onwards that Ling Yan started to hope that something would happen to her because then her heart would be donated and given to her.

But Gu Weiwei was very much alive and living well, while her own condition was worsening.

Then Gu Weiwei was seriously injured and sent to the hospital. She had remained in a coma for months and she had thought that she would die.

But once again she survived and her vitality was improved, so in order to obtain her heart, she had to make her brain dead...

Cayman Dorrans looked at the signature on the letter and stayed silent for a long time.

Was he really... wrong?

"Matthew, check it, did she sign this herself?"

Matthew made a call and walked out, asking someone to check the authenticity of the form.

"If Weiwei was here, she would not want to see you doing this." Mrs. Gu said.

It was a good thing that she had something to persuade him with.

Otherwise, she really would not know how to deal with him.

Ling Yan begged Gu Siting with tears in her eyes.

However, Gu Siting kept on looking at the girl in the crystal coffin and did not turn around at all because of her pitiful sounds.

Half an hour later, Matthew returned.

“Cayman, that letter of intent... is real.”

This meant that when Weiwei was alive, she had promised to donate her organs to save people if she died, so if Cayman wanted her heart back, he was killing her against her will.

But if he did not take it back, he would not be able to face his broken daughter.

Cayman Dorrans stood by the crystal coffin for a long time and raised his hand.

“Let her go.”

The two men who were holding Ling Yan released her and she fell to her knees.

Matthew asked, “Then... should we bring Weiwei back?”

“She can’t leave here.” Gu Siting said.

Cayman Dorrans looked at him coldly. “I must take her away.”

“Some people say that after a person dies, they will have a soul. If it is in a special place then with this Nine-Eyed Pearl, the soul of a dead person can stay in this world.” Gu Siting stood opposite Cayman Dorrans on the other side of the crystal coffin.

“You want to keep her for such a ridiculous reason?” Cayman Dorrans sneered.

Standing next to the crystal coffin, Gu Siting said to himself, “I can really feel that she is here, someplace I don’t know about.”

Mrs. Gu looked at his back and sighed.

Just for the sake of this rumor that was difficult to verify as true or false, he went to find the Nine-Eyed Heavenly Jewel and built this cold cellar for her.

The man who gave him the Nine-Eyed Pearl said that if he used it, he and his children would lose their lives.

But up until now, no one knew if the Heavenly Jewel was useful or not, just like how it was impossible to know if a dead person truly had a soul.

Startled, Gu Siting looked at Cayman Dorrans and said, “Let her stay here. Soon, the owner of the Heavenly Jewel will tell me where she is.”

“Don’t you want to find her again?”

Chapter 520: Six Months of Cayman Dorrans

Cayman Dorrans looked at the woman in the crystal coffin and the strange beads that were clasped in her hands.

Weiwei's mother was Chinese and she believed that a person had a soul after they died.

So when Gu Siting spoke of this ridiculous plan, he realised that he was actually looking forward to it.

He had wanted to meet her so badly and he had also not seen her for more than twenty years.

So he asked him, even though he knew it was ridiculous, "Where is the owner of the Heavenly Jewel?"

"I don't know but he said that he will tell me when the time comes." Gu Siting said.

Cayman Dorrans looked at the woman in the crystal coffin and asked, "How much longer before the appointed time?"

Gu Siting said, "Half a year."

Cayman Dorrans thought for a long time, although he was rational enough to say that the whole situation was not trustworthy, deep down, he was hoping that such a miracle would actually happen.

"Okay, half a year... I will come and take her away in half a year."

Gu Siting stayed silent.

He himself did not know if the person who gave him the Heavenly Jewel was telling the truth but he could not control himself and wanted to find out anything and everything he could about her.

Matthew looked at Cayman Dorrans curiously and asked, "Are you really not taking Weiwei home?"

He actually believed such ridiculous reasoning?

"I will be back in six months." Cayman Dorrans said.

What if... such a miracle truly happened and he could see Weiwei again?

Mrs. Gu looked at Gu Siting and replied, "Okay, in six months time."

Cayman Dorrans threw a look at Gu Siting and Mrs. Gu, still looking unapproachable.

"If I find out that Weiwei passed away because of the Gu Family, I will bring her heart home too... and the Gu Family will be buried with her."

...

"Then please do a thorough investigation." Mrs. Gu said.

She was confident that Weiwei did not die because of the Gu Family.

Cayman Dorrans took one last look at the woman in the crystal coffin, turned around and left the cellar.

Weiwei, I hope that I can hear news of you in six months, so that I can meet you, even if... it's only once.

The moment Cayman Dorrans left the cellar, Matthew and his men also went with him, leaving behind the Gu Family.

Seeing them leaving, Mrs. Gu relaxed and swayed a little because she had been on edge for so long.

After a long time, she turned to Gu Siting and said, "Six months later, if he wants to take Weiwei away, you can't stop him."

Gu Siting was arranging the things in the crystal coffin and did not answer her.

Mrs. Gu sighed and glanced at Ling Yan who was still sitting on the floor with a pale face.

"Still not leaving?"

"My legs are too weak for me to walk."

Ling Yan looked at Gu Siting pitifully, but he did not care about her.

Mrs. Gu asked the servant to help her up. She had almost been killed by Cayman Dorrans, so it was natural that she was so frightened that she couldn't walk.

Ling Yan was helped out by the servant and sent back to a room to rest. She was still frightened by what had just happened.

Cayman Dorrans was still investigating the cause of Gu Weiwei's death and the assassination, so he should not be able to find out anything about her.

No one but herself and her mother knew about it, so there was no way that he would be able to find out.

He could not find out...

Otherwise, he would have her heart dug out.
