

Chapter Six

Hope

I woke up alone. Zayn wasn't here so I got up quickly took another quick shower got dressed and went downstairs. It was past noon time. I picked up Zayn's scent coming from his oce, as I got closer I heard him talking to someone. I walked over smiling until I heard what he was saying

"I'm going to meet her at Nick's Bar today"

"Does Hope know?" It was Matt voice. He was with him.

"I haven't told her. I don't want to get her involved" They were quiet suddenly and I heard one of them walk over to the door I pretended to be coming down the hallway looking through my phone. It was Matt

"Oh hey Hope" Matt said

"Hi" I walked into the oce, Zayn smiled leaning back in his seat and like always he tapped his leg for me to sit on his lap. I walked over but didn't sit down he took my hands and pulled me closer to him, I stood between his legs he stayed sitting down and wrapped his arms around my waist. I couldn't help but run my hand through his hair

"My parents want to take us out to dinner tonight, I told them I'd ask you." I lied wanting to see what he would say. He looked at me blankly then at Matt

"Baby I have something to do later but send me the location of the restaurant and I'll meet you there." I felt my heart drop but I kept my composure.

"Okay" I moved his hands away and walked towards the door

"Where are you going?" He asked me.

"Nowhere" I couldn't look at him "Do you guys know where Kyle is?" I asked looking over my shoulder

"He's not here " Zayn said as he walked over to me "Are you still upset?" he spoke quietly. I looked up at his eyes, he was worried.

"No, I'm not upset because you promised to see her here and I trust you" I told him, looking him right in the eyes. He looked right back at me then cracked a smile.

"I love you" He said, guilt in his eyes. That's when it dawned on me. Zayn isn't going to tell me. He's going to go meet her alone even though I asked him not to and he's going to hide it from me.

"I love you too" We stood in silence. I had a feeling my life was about to change. "Bye" I said and turned around "Hope" He called after me his voice panicked. I stopped and turned around to face him. "I'll see you tonight" he was asking as if to make sure I would still be around tonight. I nodded then made my way out the pack house towards my parent's house. As soon as was out I blocked Zayn's mind link and the tears poured I couldn't pretend to be strong any longer.

On my walk down I saw Kyle driving up he stopped by me and opened the window smiling "Hey there pretty lady" His smile faded when he saw the state I was in.

"Hope what's wrong?" He got out of the car and put his hands on my shoulders. I didn't answer.

"Come on Hope you know you can talk to me" I love Kyle so much but I had to do this on my own. I couldn't risk Zayn nding out that I knew until I caught him with her.

"Is this about Eva?" He asked me but I didn't answer

"Hope my brother adores the ground you walk on don't let this come between you."

"I'm ne Kyle please don't tell anyone not even him that you saw me like this"

"No I won't I'll come nd you later" he said and got back in the car

I was relieved to nd my parents both at home. My mother already knew about Eva and of course she told my father.

"Is it possible to have two mates?" I asked my father.

"No, not unless one dies or is rejected then one might nd a second mate"

"Zayn knows this" Trust him dad said

Talking with my parents about this made me feel a little better. But that still didn't change the fact that he's made plans to go see her without telling me. How would he feel if it were the other way around? I stayed at my parent's house all day and I waited to see if Zayn would tell me. He didn't so around ve pm I went up home. But he was already gone. He left without telling me.

I changed into a black body suit, showing a bit of skin with a pair of black jeans torn at the knees with black ankle boots. At ve forty ve sharp Zayn mind linked me

Hey Baby don't forget to send me the location of the restaurant and I'll meet you there soon.

I ignored him and went down to my car. I had a good forty minute drive to get there. My mind was all over the place. My phone chimed over and over again after I ignored his mind links

Why aren't you answering me? He mind linked me again. I still ignored him.

By the time I got to the bar where he's meeting the bh, he had tried mind linking me four times. Then he started texting. I never answered him.

Hope answer me please! I ignored his text messages. Jenna was on full alert when I spotted Zayn's car. I remained outside and tried to get a good look through the windows but couldn't spot him or the bh.

Jenna can you hide my scent?

Yes of course I'm a Stark wolf. I rolled my eyes at her.

Okay tell me when I'm good

You're all set. If he's in there with her I'll kill her Jenna growled out.

I walked in looking around at the tables they weren't there. Then I see him. He's at the bar with the bh and they are smiling and talking. My heart almost stops she puts her hand on top of his. I stood there unable to move.

Every few minutes he would look down at his phone. And I would get a text message from him. As I stand there watching them the feeling of betrayal takes over me. I feel myself get hot, I take my rst step towards them and smirk to myself I'm going to kill the bh. They both don't see me until Zayn looks my way doing a double take.

"Hope" His voice was surprised and angry

"Get up bh" I didn't even touch her, all I did was raise my hand towards her and she went ying across the room. It was like I had full control of some magnetic force eld of energy. Zayn tried to grab me but I pushed him back without touching him either. I kept my hand out in Zayn's direction so he couldn't come near me. I felt the energy rolling off me in waves of power and I was going to abuse this power tonight. I heard him yell out my name so I looked his way

"I'm done with you" I shouted out at him.

He was shocked "No! Please Hope I'm sorry"

I lifted my hand as if pushing something invisible back and shoved Zayn across the bar then went back to the bh. She screamed and tried to crawl away but I grabbed her by the neck squeezing the life out of her until she almost fainted. I threw her down then used my new profound power and banged her head on the ground again and again without even touching her. Everyone at the bar had either ran away scared or were cheering me on and they were mostly men. I looked across and someone caught my eye. It was the other Stark wolf, Marcus. When his eyes met mine he smiled.

I stretch my hand out one more time towards Eva bh and lifted up causing her body to be suspended up in the air as she screamed. I pushed my hand to the other side so she went ying and landed next to Zayn.

"You two deserve each other" I said looking Zayn right in the eyes. He was fuming, screaming my name but I was already done with him. I nally put my hand down, breaking the magnetic force eld I had created and walked out. Every time Zayn came near me I used that force to push him back.

"Hi" Marcus said "Are you okay" he tried taking my hand but Zayn pushed him away

"Get your hands off my wife!" Zayn's voice powerful and erce, Marcus quickly backed off. Zayn quickly turned towards me and reached to grab ahold of me but I shoved him back.

"How could you? I hate you!" I screamed at him tears now running down my face before he could say anything I was determined to reject him.

"I Hope Ward Luna of the Golden Moon Pack reject you Z..

But before I could nish the words, I was dying to hurt him with, Zayn screams and growls out so loud that Jenna backs down for a split second and he puts his hands over my mouth.

"Don't even think about it! I'm sorry" He pleaded

I bit down hard on his hand and kick him as hard as I could in his midsection

"Hope stop I love you please stop" He yells out in pain

"You don't get to tell me what to do anymore, go be with your we, I'm done with you!" I kept hitting him and he never once tried to ght back. But I don't care. The bh ran towards me I laughed at how stupid she looked.

"You know what? you can have him you old hag" She screamed and lunged at me again and again but my hands were up I laughed at her with tears running down my face then nally looked at Zayn

"You did this" I said before pushing them both so far back I couldn't see them anymore. I ran to my car the crowd of guys clapping and cheering behind me. I got in and drove off. Tomorrow I had someone to see and he better have answers for me.
