

Chapter 26

Thomas held his breath.

Lydia continued, "You and I are already at the age of marriage. I fancied Colin, but his actions today have disappointed me."

"As for you, your temperament and appearance are more suitable for my taste in all aspects."

"You should be clear about the influence of the Crawford family in Imperial City. As long as you get engaged with me, you will gain the support of a Senior General. Then, you can save yourself 20 or even 30 years of hard work!"

Thomas didn't expect that Lydia could talk about her marriage so casually.

Colin also didn't expect that Lydia would go against him and use their marriage as a weapon!

He looked at Thomas and said anxiously, "Master Sherratt, these are all her own decisions, not her family's."

"You can't meet the requirements of the Crawford family's son-in-law. Please think twice! If you fail, you may lose your life."

However, Colin's words did not affect Thomas at all.

Thomas looked at Lydia, whose skin was fair and facial features were delicate. She was a beauty.

Therefore, he nodded and said, "Okay. I'll think about it after I deal with this."

Thomas' words were tantamount to agreeing to her proposal.

Lydia's face lit up with joy, and she looked at Colin provocatively.

No matter who he was, there was no man she couldn't get!

Did Colin really think that Lydia desperately needed him? Did he think he was that great?

She could say that she no longer wanted Colin. As for Thomas, she would play with him first and throw him away when she was tired of him.

Moreover, she still had to ask him for help at the moment. She would wait until she took down Dorothy and punished her.

Thinking of that, Lydia looked at Thomas tenderly. "Master Sherratt, don't kill that b*tch, Dorothy!"

Thomas didn't want to kill Dorothy directly either. He wanted to get back what he had suffered at her hands slowly!

"Okay!"

Thomas agreed.

After that, he waved his hand and immediately said to the people behind him, "Catch her alive!"

"Yes!" Everyone responded in unison, their voices shaking the heavens and earth.

Colin was so shocked by their aura that his breathing became a little rapid.

He urged Dorothy anxiously, "Dorothy, go!"

He looked at Dorothy, who was standing there motionlessly, and became even more anxious. "Dorothy, hurry up and leave! You're no match for them. Hurry and leave!"

However, as if she hadn't heard anything, Dorothy remained as steady as a pine tree.

She quietly watched as the strong men got closer and closer, and started smiling.

When the three middle-level warriors at the very front saw that Dorothy was fearless and even somewhat arrogant, their hearts burned with anger.

They charged towards Dorothy almost at the same time. One of them launched a ferocious attack on Dorothy's chest!

He wanted to defeat her with one move!

Just as he was about to hit Dorothy's chest...

Bang!

The man's body seemed to have been hit by a strong force. He instantly bounced back and crashed into a big tree eight meters away.

Then, he was bounced back to the ground by the tree trunk.

Puff!

He spat out a mouthful of blood rapidly and violently.

At the same time, the other experts who attacked Dorothy together were all sent flying!

The experts who attacked Celestine and Colin were also sent flying a few meters away.

In the next second, countless respectful voices rang out from all directions, echoing in the empty mountain.

"Forgive me for being late, Master!"
