

Chapter 29

Donald grabbed the badge subconsciously.

When he saw the pattern on the badge clearly, his pupils widened in shock!

Three stars?

The badge she had casually thrown at him turned out to be the special badge of a General.

That girl was actually a General?

In other words, Dorothy's position was two ranks higher than his!

Those two extra stars were a height that he found insurmountable!

Donald gripped the badge tightly. His fingers were slightly pale, his bones were protruding, and his blue veins bulged.

He thought of that legend circulating around the Ministry of Defence.

There was a legend that someone had become a high-level commander at the age of 17!

Could that legend be Dorothy?

If it was...

Donald's face turned pale!

When the Sherratt family saw Donald's expression change again and again, they felt more and more uneasy.

All kinds of thoughts began to grow in their minds.

Could it be that that girl was from the Ministry of Defence and her position was higher than Donald's?

Otherwise, how could Donald react like that?

However, on second thought, they felt that that idea was too absurd!

The Guardian was an organization outside the domain. Although it was tough to become the Master, it was possible if one had enough luck!

However, no one could not rely on luck alone if they wanted to become a high-level commander of Country Z's Ministry of Defence!

They had to make great efforts for Country Z!

Dorothy looked to be in her teens or early 20s. How could she become a senior commander?

After a moment of silence, Donald raised his head again and looked at Dorothy. He asked seriously, "Where did you get this badge?"

He thought she couldn't have such a badge even if she had sheer luck.

Dorothy looked at him and couldn't help but sneer. "Senior Colonel Sherratt, have you lived too comfortably these years?"

"Who would dare to forge something like that?"

Whoosh!

The last glimmer of hope in Donald's heart was mercilessly destroyed!

At that moment, all he could think of was that the Sherratt family was doomed!

According to the law of Country Z, the minimum punishment for Howard and Thomas' attempt to murder a Senior General was long-term imprisonment.

As their brother and father, it was hard for Donald to be free of any implications!

Donald was so scared that he immediately knelt on the ground and begged for mercy, his eyes full of horror.

Donald's actions stunned everyone present, especially those from the Sherratt family.

The powerful Senior Colonel of Country Z's Ministry of Defence had actually knelt down to a young girl!

What on earth had happened?

Could it be that Dorothy's title was really higher than that of Donald?

However, she was only a young girl who wasn't even twenty years old. No matter how powerful her family background was, it was impossible for her to have the title of a Senior Major General!

Similarly, Thomas looked at Donald, who was kneeling on the ground, and held his breath.

How was that possible?

His brother was the backbone of the Sherratt family. How could he kneel to a little girl? Where did the dignity of the Sherratt family lie?

Could it be that Dorothy's level was really higher than Donald's?

Otherwise, how could the stubborn Donald kneel to someone?

When he had brought Donald up a day ago, Dorothy had taken the initiative to let go of Howard. At first, he had thought that Dorothy was afraid of Donald!

Just then, he thought she would kneel and beg for mercy when she saw Donald.

However, he didn't expect that it would be his elder brother who knelt first!

At that moment, Thomas finally understood that the reason why Dorothy could make Donald kneel in an instant was not because he underestimated his opponent, nor was it because of Dorothy's ambush, but because she had the absolute power of a high-level expert!

After he figured it out, he felt that all of it was too ridiculous.

He had acted like a fool in front of Dorothy!

The truth had been obvious from the start, but he turned a blind eye to them. He chose to ignore them and look down on Dorothy because of her age.

In Dorothy's eyes, all of that should be even more laughable.

As the master of the Sherratt family, Thomas failed to make a correct judgment of Dorothy's strength. His contempt had led to the current situation of the Sherratt family!

The source of everything was his stupidity!

He was truly daft!

Lydia, who had grown arrogant of Donald's sudden appearance and was glad that she had made the right decision, was dumbfounded at that moment.

She stood stiffly on the spot.
