

Chapter 32

Donald was stunned.

He had been so defensive that he had forgotten that law!

In Country Z, there was indeed such a law to protect the senior officials of the Ministry of Defence.

Thus, there was nothing wrong with Dorothy's words.

In the next second, the way he looked at Dorothy changed. He only felt that she was so vicious and scheming!

Dorothy ignored him and turned to look at Walter. She said lazily, "Field Marshal, Howard tried to kill a 6-year-old child, and Thomas tried to murder the senior commander of the Ministry of Defence. You decide what to do!"

Donald's heart skipped a beat. At that moment, he was afraid that Walter would make a decision then and there. He immediately begged for mercy, "Field Marshal, although Howard and Thomas made mistakes, they don't deserve death. No one has died because of them. Field Marshal, please forgive him."

Dorothy's expression changed again and again, and her tone became almost sharp as she refuted, "Senior Colonel Sherratt, if all the family members of the senior leaders of the Ministry of Defence were like you, they could do whatever they wanted with their support and would not have to take responsibility. Then, Country Z would be destroyed by their own Ministry of Defence without other countries having to fight!"

Dorothy not only sounded arrogant, but her words were righteous as well.

Donald almost wanted to tear her apart.

He had lived for so many years, but he had never felt so wronged, especially when faced with a young girl!

He was still not convinced!

"Field Marshal." Donald wanted to say something, but Walter raised his hand to interrupt him. Walter said, "The Sherratt family has indeed acted unreasonably in today's matter. If you ask me for a favor, and I let you go, won't the other senior leaders of the Ministry of Defence do the same?"

As soon as he finished speaking, he told the members of the Ministry of Defence behind him, "Take Howard, Thomas, and Lydia to Northon Prison. How they will be dealt with will be decided by the law!"

Donald's heart fell to the bottom of his stomach in an instant.

Howard and Thomas' faces also turned pale in an instant, while Lydia looked frightened.

As long as they were found guilty of attempting to kill a senior commander of the Ministry of Defence by the court, they would be charged with a serious crime!

She didn't want to die!

In a moment of desperation, Lydia shouted at Walter, "Field Marshal, my uncle, Edmund Crawford, is a Senior General of the Ministry of Defence. It's all Dorothy's fault. She wanted to kill me! She also broke both my hands!"

Walter's expression did not change at all. He glanced at her indifferently and stated, "Edmund is Edmund, and you are you."

"Field Marshal!" Donald continued to plead.

Walter's expression suddenly became serious. "Senior Colonel Sherratt, if you are still not satisfied, I can only leave the matter up to General Dorothy to decide."

Donald's expression changed. If the matter was handed over to Dorothy, they would definitely die!

He immediately corrected himself, "I accept the arrangement."

However, his eyes were filled with hatred and dissatisfaction as he looked at Dorothy.

"Field Marshal, don't tell me General Dorothy is not in trouble at all?"

"She called you by your name and even arrogantly said she wouldn't show you respect. What's more, she also said that you were peeping at her. Field Marshal, that is all blatant contempt and disrespect for her superior!"

"Her arrogance will cause a disaster sooner or later!"

Upon hearing that, Walter's frown deepened, and his tone was full of dissatisfaction. "What are you getting at?"

Donald said righteously, "I admit that General Dorothy has made a lot of contributions to the country, but she is still too young and inexperienced."

"Two years ago, when those senior commanders heard that a young girl in her teens had become a Senior General, how did they feel about it?"

"They had devoted their lives to the country and fought for the country, but in the end, they got worse treatment than a little girl. That was enough to disappoint and discourage the veterans in the Ministry of Defence!"

"I think we should not promote her to such a high level as to not hurt the hearts of those veterans and to allow General Dorothy to develop at a more stable pace. It should take at least 30 years for her to reach such a position. Only in this way can everyone be satisfied. Otherwise, the Ministry of Defence will be in chaos!"

Dorothy sneered when she heard his words.

What a righteous accusation and suggestion!

Then, she turned to look at Walter and said in a light tone, "Field Marshal, since so many people in the Ministry of Defence are dissatisfied and think that I am not suitable for this position, I'll leave!"

Her original intention of protecting Country Z was just to fulfil a promise to a friend. Since there were many people in the Ministry of Defence of Country Z who were dissatisfied with her, why should she protect the country at all costs?

In that case, there was no need to unlock the star token!

As soon as Dorothy finished speaking, there was dead silence all around.

Everyone looked at her as if she was a madman!

Even Donald found it unbelievable!

Leaving the Ministry of Defence? Was she crazy? Others couldn't even enter even if they wanted to! A high-level commander aside, even the position of a middle-level commander was something that many would never be able to reach in their lifetime. How could she say she would leave the Ministry of Defence so easily?

Moreover, was she willing to resign just like that?

She had already reached such a high position. How could she really be willing to leave it so easily?

Was she threatening the Field Marshal with her resignation from the Ministry of Defence?

If that was the case, it meant that she looked down on Country Z's Ministry of Defence. She thought too highly of herself.

Thinking of that, Donald looked at Dorothy with disdain. Did she think that Country Z would fall if she left?

Just as he was thinking about it, he felt a strong gaze fall on him.

It was from Walter.

When Donald looked back, he felt that there was a strong killing intent hidden in Walter's eyes!

"Shut up! If you say one more word, believe it or not, I'll kick you out of the Ministry of Defence!"

Right then, Walter even wanted to kill Donald!

The Ministry of Defence and Country Z could not give Dorothy any help at all. Instead, they were restraining her a lot!

However, Country Z's Ministry of Defence still needed her to accomplish a lot of things!

If she left the Ministry of Defence, she would be the Master of The Guardian without any restrictions!

Country Z couldn't be without her! Once she left, she would become a member of the Wolf Warriors, and Country Z would fall into chaos.

Country Z would also be in danger of being besieged by various countries!

That was also the reason why Walter had invited Dorothy to be the Field Marshal again and again!

Despite that, Dorothy always felt that there were too many restrictions if she was to be the Field Marshal. She had rejected him twice because of that. That was the third time!

If he could support Dorothy that time, he might be able to convince her to become the 4th Field Marshal!

However, Donald, with his dumb brain, kept screwing things up!

How could Walter not be angry?!

Donald was totally stunned by Walter's words. He did not understand why Walter was so angry, as if it wanted to swallow Donald alive!

What he didn't understand was that although Dorothy had threatened to leave the Ministry of Defence so arrogantly, not only was Walter not angry, but he even asked Donald to shut up.

What was the Field Marshal thinking?

Just when Donald was perplexed, Walter regained his composure and looked at Dorothy with a smile. There was even a hint of apology in his words.

What he said made everyone present feel like they were being struck by lightning!

Their minds went blank!
