

Chapter 33

Walter coughed a few times. "Dorothy, Senior Colonel Sherratt is old and he's confused. I apologize to you on his behalf. Moreover, your position will be promoted one level higher. From today onwards, you will become the 4th Field Marshal of Country Z!"

Boom!

As soon as Walter finished speaking, everyone present felt as if their brains were split in half by lightning!

They all wondered if there was something wrong with their hearing!

The 4th Field Marshal?!

It should be noted that the three Field Marshals of Country Z's Ministry of Defence had made great contributions to the country. Moreover, according to the history of Country Z, those who could become a Field Marshal were at least over 50 years old!

However, Walter actually wanted a young girl in her twenties to become a Field Marshal?

Was the fate of Country Z a joke in his eyes?

Colin, who was standing beside Dorothy, was completely dumbfounded at that moment.

He looked at Dorothy in a daze. He had been sent by the Rogers family in Imperial City to help her!

What a joke.

Did she really need his help?

She was the leader of The Guardian and a Field Marshal of Country Z! In the future, he and the whole Rogers family would have to show her respect.

He couldn't believe that his family had actually asked him to help her.

What could he help with? What else had he done except tell Dorothy to run away?

In the past, he was the best among his peers, but he was nothing in front of Dorothy!

At that moment, he felt so humble. He was simply a good-for-nothing.

If he had known such a thing would happen, he wouldn't have come to avoid such humiliation.

At the same time, Lydia, who was still thinking about how to contact her uncle, was stunned when she heard that.

She had originally thought that Dorothy could only be a Senior Major General at most. She hadn't thought that Dorothy was actually a Senior General. At the moment, Dorothy had even gotten promoted to Field Marshal!

Dorothy was then the 4th Field Marshal. Even if Edmund came, he had to greet Dorothy and show her respect!

How could she have been so blind in the past and thought that Dorothy was just a piece of trash in the Clark family?

Lydia smiled bitterly. In the end, she was the loser!

However, Donald was the biggest loser of them all.

Walter's words were simply a slap in his face!

Not only did Dorothy's position not decline, but she was even promoted to be among the four Field Marshals of the country. Wasn't that a slap in his face?

Donald's eyes were full of dissatisfaction!

As a young girl, how could she be qualified to be a Field Marshal?

That was simply immoral!

He couldn't let her become a Field Marshal!

Once she got the position, it would be difficult for her to fall unless she was accused of colluding with the enemy and betraying the country.

At that point, the Sherratt family would probably be finished!

Thinking of that, Donald did not have time to care about the repeated warnings of Walter. He again sincerely advised, "Field Marshal, shouldn't you think more about this matter? The Field Marshal of the country represents the will of the country. If the people outside the country know that we have pushed a 19-year-old girl into the position of Field Marshal, they will think that our country is a pushover, and we will be in chaos!"

As if he was afraid of being interrupted, Donald said it all in one breath.

Upon hearing that, Walter stared at Donald with a sharp gaze. Right then, he no longer wanted to kill Donald, but he wished that he could tear Donald's mouth to pieces so that Donald could no longer say anything.

If Donald kept quiet, he had a fifty percent chance of getting Dorothy to agree to be the 4th Field Marshal. It was a good opportunity with the right time and place.

However, Donald was such an idiot!

He had ruined a perfectly good opportunity!

Walter knew Dorothy's personality. Once she refused him, there was no possibility of changing her mind. That was already his third invitation.

As the saying went, third time was the charm. If he failed again, it would be even more difficult to get her to agree in the future.

Walter took a deep breath and tried hard to suppress his impulse to tear Donald apart.

Then, he looked at a warrior behind him and said coldly, "From now on, Senior Colonel Sherratt will be demoted to a mid-level commander and will not be promoted in the next ten years!"

In an instant, Donald's blood surged, and he clenched his fists tightly!

He was unwilling to give up. "Field Marshal, I know that I am nothing in your eyes, but for so many years, I have been working hard without taking credit. You are coddling Dorothy! I need you to give me a reason!"

Walter looked at Donald with a gaze that was like a poisonous knife. He wished he could cut Donald into pieces!

He had actually asked Walter to give him a reason?

"Coddle? Donald, it seems that you've been living too well these few years. You've already forgotten the rules of the Ministry of Defence!

"With your attitude towards General Dorothy and I, I can punish you severely now!"

At that moment, Walter's hostility reached its peak!

As Donald felt that aura, his heart could not help but squeeze painfully.

However, the anger and unwillingness in his heart made him unable to maintain a rational mind. He gritted his teeth and looked at Walter, saying, "I accept all the punishment from the Ministry of Defence, but I want to know how can a girl less than 20 years old become a Field Marshal!"

Chapter 34

Walter gave him a cold and hard look. "What right do you have to know?"

Donald clenched his fists, and the resentment in his heart intensified as he listened to Walter's cold reply. He took a few deep breaths and seemed ready to go all out. "Field Marshal, if you don't give me an explanation today, I won't stay in the rotten Ministry of Defence!"

Looking at Donald, who had completely lost his composure, Walter snorted, "Well, since you are willing to risk your position that you have worked so hard for most of your life to get a reason, I will fulfill your wish today!"

After that, Walter turned his head and motioned to a warrior behind him. "Show him all of General Dorothy's achievements in the Ministry of Defence!"

The warrior immediately took out a phone-sized monitor, and after some operation, he revealed all of Dorothy's achievements.

"Give it to him!" Walter motioned for the warrior to show the monitor to Donald.

Donald took the monitor, trembling. When he saw the first record, his pupils began to contract.

How was that possible?

That was an impossible task. Not only had Dorothy completed it, but she had also done it brilliantly!

The more he read, the more shocked he was. He felt that those achievements were fake! That was because she completed the many challenging tasks perfectly.

He found it hard to believe that a 19-year-old girl could do all that.

That was a miracle!

Right then, he fully understood Walter's intention.

"Do you have any objections now?" Looking at Donald, Walter questioned coldly.

Donald shook his head like a rattle.

Right then, he regretted what he had said. He did not care about morality, her age, whether it would upset the veterans, or whether the Ministry of Defence would be in chaos. Those things were not worth mentioning in the face of Dorothy's achievements. They were nothing!

He finally realized how wrong he was.

He also knew why Walter was so angry.

The reason why Dorothy was still in the Ministry of Defence was because of her loyalty and attachments of the past.

As long as she wanted to, she could leave at any time.

Moreover, once she left, it would bring irreparable losses to the Ministry of Defence of Country Z!

Moreover, Country Z's Ministry of Defence did not have the ability to force her to stay!

He was just a Senior Colonel, but he was so unwilling to lose to Dorothy because of her age. What he had done was worse than an animal! He couldn't wait to slap himself to death!

Walter no longer paid attention to Donald. Instead, he looked at Dorothy cautiously and said, "Dorothy, I will keep the position of Field Marshal for you all the time. As long as you are willing, you can come at any time."

Dorothy just smiled faintly, but there was still some warmth in her smile. "I got some news about my lover. We can discuss the position of Field Marshal another time."

Her lover was a man who asked her to stay away when they met for the first time, who said that he would never like her in his life, and who finally slapped her in the face.

That handsome man was always worried that someone else would snatch her away.

The man died trying to save her. Dorothy couldn't help smiling at the thought of him.

Her warm eyes were filled with urgency.

Upon hearing Dorothy's words, Walter couldn't help but be stunned. Then, a look of ecstasy appeared on his face.

Although he had never thought such a powerful woman would have a lover, did Dorothy mean she would become a Field Marshal of the Ministry of Defence as long as she could find her lover?

With Dorothy's ability, as long as he was still alive, how could she not find him?

In other words, Dorothy's position as Field Marshal of Country Z was just around the corner!

Walter was suddenly delighted. That surprise came so suddenly!

He tried hard to suppress his joy and asked calmly, "Where is he now? Is there any news?"

Thinking of that man, Dorothy felt happy. Right then, she didn't hide anything. "He might be in Imperial College."
