

Chapter 38

How was that possible?!

She was obviously an unremarkable woman. Whether in temperament or dress, she could not be more than an ordinary woman. How could she have such a powerful daughter?

Otherwise, how could they dare to covet her one billion dollars?

How could such an ordinary woman give birth to such a vicious daughter!

Were they really mother and daughter?

When Dorothy heard the commotion, she turned to look at them. Her gaze was so cold that it contained no trace of emotion.

The two people's bodies shrank uncontrollably.

The receptionist looked at Mark, who was trampled on by Dorothy, and said in a trembling voice, "This is the Inspectorate Unit. You are acting recklessly. You are committing a crime!"

The bank staff member chimed in, "Yes, you're the one who launched the attack, but... as long as you let us go, we can say that you have nothing to do with what happened here!"

Dorothy snorted coldly.

Before she could speak, Celestine walked quickly into the guard room.

"Boss!"

At the same time, behind Celestine came Michael, Chief Barnett, whom Dorothy had just met at Sherratt Hospital the day before.

"Chief Barnett!"

When the two bank staff members saw Chief Barnett, their gazes instantly changed as if they had seen a savior. They couldn't wait to shout at Michael, "Chief Barnett, arrest this woman quickly. She attacked the inspector and guards!"

Arrest Dorothy?

Michael's face turned pale, and he almost stopped breathing!

Did he want to die? How dare he catch Dorothy?

Before Michael could speak, Dorothy looked at Celestine and said coldly, "My mom's hand was injured by them. Destroy their hands first!"

"Yes!"

Celestine accepted the order.

The two bank staff members were so shocked that their eyes almost popped out.

They had never expected that Dorothy would be so arrogant even when Michael was there. Was she courting death?

After all, Michael was the chief director of the Inspectorate Unit. He was much more influential than Mark!

If Dorothy offended Chief Barnett, it would be difficult for her to leave the Inspectorate Unit!

Looking at Celestine getting closer and closer to her, the receptionist became more and more panicked. She shouted, "This is the Inspectorate Unit. You..."

Before she could finish her words, she felt a sharp pain in her hands.

Crack!

The sound of bones breaking could be heard.

With another two cracking sounds, the wrist of the bank staff member next to the receptionist was broken mercilessly.

As for Michael, he didn't even look at them throughout the whole process.

He nervously walked up to Elizabeth and respectfully unlocked the handcuffs on her wrists at the fastest speed possible.

"I apologise for startling you. This is my negligence in managing my subordinates. Are you alright?"

Elizabeth shook her head. "I'm fine."

As long as her daughter was fine, she didn't care about anything else.

Mark, who had been lying on the ground, came to his senses. When he saw that Michael was there, he shouted crazily, "Chief Barnett! You must uphold justice for me. You must not let that woman go so easily!"

As soon as Mark finished speaking, there were two cracking sounds of broken bones.

Before he could scream, he fainted from the pain.

Dorothy looked at Elizabeth and asked softly, "Mom, how do you want to deal with them?"

Only then did Elizabeth come to her senses. She looked at Dorothy and asked, "Dorothy, they said that there was one billion in that card. Is it true?"

Dorothy nodded. "Yes, you can use it first. I'll give you a new card after you finish it."

Hearing that, Elizabeth did not show any joy. Instead, she became more worried. "Dorothy, where did you get so much money?"

"Mom, don't worry. This money is from legitimate sources. You can use it as you like."

Elizabeth was still a little worried. "How did you earn so much money?"

Will what you do be dangerous?"

Hearing that, Dorothy was quite surprised. She had thought that Elizabeth would be worried about the unknown origin of the money, but she had not expected Elizabeth to be worried about her safety.

She could not help but feel warm in her heart.

"Mom, don't worry. No one in the whole Country Z can hurt me."

Hearing Dorothy's arrogant words, Michael was shocked.

He knew that Dorothy would be very strong after she came out of that place, but he didn't expect her to say such words.

However, with his understanding of Dorothy when he was in Northon Prison, he believed that what she said was true.

Immediately, he looked at Dorothy with even more respect.

At that moment, Dorothy turned to look at him.

"The three of them wanted to kill me just now. I'll leave the rest to you. I hope you won't let me down!"

Hearing that, Michael quickly nodded.

"Okay, certainly. Mark knew what he was doing, yet he committed a crime. I will deal with him severely. The other two are accomplices who wanted to gain huge assets by committing murder. The lightest punishment for them is lifetime imprisonment."

Dorothy nodded. Without looking at them, she took Elizabeth out of the interrogation room.

Then, Dorothy sent Elizabeth back to Sherratt Hospital and told Celestine to take good care of her.

Just as she was about to go to the Wilkins family home again, she received the news that the Wilkins family was holding a banquet at Global Palace Hotel.

After a long while, her figure appeared at the entrance of Global Palace Hotel.

As soon as Dorothy arrived at the entrance, a pretty girl who was about to enter the hotel suddenly stopped.

"Dorothy Rogers?!"

Dorothy raised her eyebrows. "Suzanna Barnett?"

Speaking of which, because the original owner was weak and self-abased, she had not been very popular in junior high school.

Suzanna Barnett had been saved by the original owner unintentionally, so she regarded the original owner as her savior. Suzanna could also be regarded as the only friend of the original owner.

Hearing Dorothy's words, Suzanna quickly walked up to her and said with a worried expression.

"Dorothy, I waited at the entrance of the Northon Prison for a whole day yesterday, but I didn't see you. After that, I went to the Clark family home, but I couldn't enter the gate. Are you alright?"

Dorothy saw that Suzanna's worry was genuine, and her expression softened. "I'm fine."

Hearing Dorothy's answer, Suzanna couldn't help but let out a sigh of relief.

Then, she glanced at Global Palace Hotel in front of her and asked.

"I heard that the Wilkins family booked the entire Global Palace Hotel today. Are you also here to attend their banquet?"

"Yes. You too?"

Suzanna nodded slightly. "For people like us, the only way out is college, but the college I got into is not very good."

"At today's banquet, Reuben Wilkins will choose a person and recommend them to enter a middle-level college in Imperial City."

"My father used all his connections to get me an invitation to the Wilkins family's banquet. He wants me to go and try my luck."

After that, Suzanna carefully took out a red invitation card from her pocket.

"Look, our family spent 100,000 dollars to get this lowest-level invitation."

"Dorothy, what's the level of your invitation card? Can you show me?"

Dorothy was speechless.

Uriel had already added her name to the list of invited people. She could enter without an invitation card.

Now that Suzanna suddenly asked her for an invitation, she really couldn't show it.

Suzanna couldn't help but be stunned. "Dorothy, don't tell me you don't have an invitation?"

"No, but I can go in."

Hearing that, Suzanna immediately said anxiously, "How is that possible? Someone is checking at the entrance of the hotel. If you don't have an invitation card, you will be kicked out by the Wilkins family."

"Whether it's for you or for me, the quota for the middle-level college in Imperial City can change our lives."

"I'll call my dad now and ask him if he can get another invitation..."

However, just as Suzanna took out her mobile phone and was about to contact her father, a mature female voice suddenly came over.

"I happen to have an extra invitation for the Wilkins family's banquet. Miss Rogers, if you don't mind, please accept it!"

Suzanna paused and immediately looked up.

When she saw the woman slowly walking over, she couldn't help but be stunned.

Dorothy looked at the exquisitely made-up woman in a professional suit and raised her eyebrows.

Although she had never seen that woman before, she could tell from her aura that she was not an ordinary person.

The woman walked straight over to Dorothy and said nervously.

"Hello, Miss Rogers. I'm Sue Crawford, the President of the Northon City Branch of Bolt Bank."

Suzanna immediately took a deep breath.

At the same time, her eyes were full of respect for Sue.

Bolt Bank was the undisputed number one bank in the world.

Sue became the president of the Bolt Bank's Northon City Branch at 28 years old. She was the youngest one among all the directors of Bolt Bank and had a very high status in Northon City.

However, Suzanna had never dreamed that a big shot like Sue to speak humbly to Dorothy.

"Miss Rogers, I'm sorry. I didn't manage my employees well, so I caused you and your mother so much trouble."

"I just heard that you need an invitation from the Wilkins family. I happen to have an extra one. I hope it will be useful to you."

With that, Sue quickly took out a high-quality gold invitation card from her handbag, held it out with both hands, and handed it to Dorothy.

If one looked closely, one could see that her hands were obviously trembling.

Before coming over, Sue had already gone to see Chief Barnett and listened to his advice.

At that moment, she only hoped that Dorothy would not pursue her responsibility for the sake of her sincere apology.

Otherwise, what happened to Howard and Thomas would be her lesson...

Looking at Sue, who was extremely humble at the moment, Suzanna was stunned.

How could someone like Sue apologize to Dorothy so respectfully?

Moreover, the reason for her apology was that the employees of Bolt Bank had brought some trouble to Dorothy.

Why didn't she know that the service of Bolt Bank was so good?

In front of Sue, Dorothy raised her hand and took the invitation card from her.

At the same time, she said lightly, "What happened today has nothing much to do with you, but I can accept this invitation. If you need my help in the future, you can look for me."

Sue quickly nodded and replied to her.

"Yes, yes, then I'll thank you in advance, Miss Rogers!"

Suzanna looked blankly at Sue, who was obviously relieved. At that moment, she suddenly felt that it was surreal.

The day before, Dorothy had just come out of Northon Prison. It was impossible for her to become a big shot in just one day, right?

However, if that wasn't the case, what was going on?

Before Suzanna could figure it out, Dorothy looked at her and urged, "Let's go!"

After that, Dorothy took the lead in walking towards the hotel entrance...

At the same time, someone was in the luxuriously decorated banquet hall.

A girl in her 20s, dressed in a black Ministry of Defence suit that didn't fit her well, attracted the attention of many girls around her.

"Wow!"

"Connie, your clothes are so special!"

Hearing that, Connie Crawford tried hard to hide her pride and smiled modestly.

"What's special about these clothes? However, it's true that they have some special origins."

Upon hearing that, everyone's face was full of curiosity.
