

My Mates 339

Chapter 339

“That’ll be enough for now,” I panicked at his pulsating veins and the visible change in his body. While the others remained silently watching him, I took a step forward and grabbed his arm to pull him away for some time. The moment our skins came into contact, he broke the stare from Christina and turned his head to me.

My body shuddered as I watched his eyes scan my face.

“Let’s go,” I commanded, pulling him after me. He reluctantly followed me like a spoilt brat, and soon we were on the rooftop.

“Take a deep breath and try to calm down,” I told him, standing face-to-face with him. He tilted his head a little, a smirk appearing on his lips.

“Can you take off your lenses?” I asked, nervously smiling to not alarm him.

“That is an odd thing to ask me to take off. Why don’t you try with my umm- shirt or—,” he looked down and his smirk grew wider. “Or my pants?” he finished.

“Thiago! Take off your lenses.” I don’t know what I was thinking when I drew my hand closer to his eyes, but he grabbed it instantly and pulled me over his chest.

“Fierce!” he whispered. “No wonder he likes you so much.” The instant he spoke to me, my heart skipped a beat.

the revelation. It wasn’t Thiago, but am his Lycan? Enya! If I were him, you

288 Vouchers It is true that he comes out once in a while, but he hasn’t taken full control over me,” he noticed how tightly he was holding my hand. So the Lycan has started read about your condition and found out that you are close to losing your body to your Lycan. Soon he will take care and then you will —” I couldn’t say it so he full moon, and that night, when I come out of the wilderness, I will be bloodthirsty,” he whispered as he nodded to

there is a way to save you,” I said, and he tilted

Read this.” I gave him the pages that I tore off the book and made him read it. He read through them quickly before he parted his lips and from me.

way to save you,” I smiled, reaching for the

His eyebrows twitched, his lips pressing into a tight line. I get it he didn't want anybody to die for him, but we were not talking about someone innocent here. That witch cursed him and ruined his life. She should not

288 Vouchers

I saw the look on his face, and it tickled my stomach to find

I get it. I'm no longer the stereotypical do-gooder. If anybody tries harming my mates or me, I will fight back." My lips quivered, but I didn't cry. The suffered from abuse since you were little and your parents passed away. I understand why you changed. But the point is that I don't want this. Everybody is allowed to decide for themselves, and I am making this decision today because I don't want you or anybody to fight for me. I have lived a beautiful life, and spent a little time with a perfect