

My Mates 459

Chapter 459-Lips-To-Lips

“And that’s when I was injected with that liquid. I remember him saying something similar about triggering me.” I sat them down to explain the whole story to them. Where Kellice looked like she was contemplating and calculating everything, Theo, on the other hand, was grunting nonstop and cracking his knuckles.

“I am going to kill that a*shole,” Theo muttered, getting up from the grass to walk away when I rushed after him and held his arm. He stopped and lowered his gaze at my hand on his arm. “Enya! He cannot f*cking touch you, hurt you, and then walk around freely,” he yelled. I felt his muscles pop out even more with my fingers tangled around them.

“That’s what he wants. He wants us to attack him so that he can look like a victim and execute us all out of his way,” I argued with Theo, who groaned and rolled his perfectly beautiful eyes at me.

“Stop rolling your eyes at me!” I snapped at him. He shook his body and then breathed heavily.

“I am not — I am not rolling my eyes at you. I am angry at him,” he calmed himself down and sweetly said to me, “but I am sorry if I have offended you,” he said very sweetly. The change in his tone and mannerisms when interacting with me was noticeable.

“If you two are done romancing, I will need something to be done.” Kellice’s interruption turned my cheeks red.

“We are not— romancing,” I only said it under my breath because I was too embarrassed to say it out loud. The thing is that I have been very physically active with Thiago in the past. But now it was Theo, someone who was new to me. So even the thought of being naked with him was turning my cheeks crimson.
