

My Rebirth 121

Chapter 121

Miranda was startled by Benjamin's words.

She turned her head in panic and didn't answer Benjamin's question.

However, Benjamin asked with concern, "I'm asking you! Is Lisa back? Why didn't she come home since she's back? Why did she participate in the show with Frederick? Has her trouble been settled?"

Miranda didn't know how to answer Benjamin's questions.

"Yes... Lisa is back. I wanted her to relax, so I asked Frederick to take her to the show," Miranda finally said.

Benjamin nodded, completely unaware of the awkwardness in Miranda's tone.

Then how did you get her out? Who helped you?" Benjamin asked and didn't realize the problem.

During this period, Benjamin was occupied with selecting the company's location and discussing potential collaborations with previous partners. He eagerly awaited the finalization of these arrangements in order to register the company and initiate new business ventures.

Therefore, he didn't pay much attention to Yulissa's matter these days. But he was happy that Yulissa was released.

Benjamin pondered the type of connection Miranda had utilized to withstand the pressure from Lucas. He contemplated the possibility of getting closer to that person.

Miranda said, "Well... It was a director of the Public Security Bureau. I gave him some money, and when Lisa was released, I gave him some thank-you gifts..."

Miranda was a little nervous. After all, Benjamin didn't want to spend 2 billion dollars to treat Ray's hand back then. If he knew that she spent 7 billion dollars to save Yulissa, he would be furious.

However, Benjamin was rich. Miranda thought even if he had some losses, he should still have more than 14 billion dollars. As for the shares, though he integrated them before, Miranda didn't think there would be a big difference if she used the 5%.

However, Miranda hadn't intervened in the company affairs recently. She didn't even know that Benjamin had sold his shares.

The money she took was all the money of the family.

Benjamin nodded. He thought Miranda should have given the money and thank- gifts to the person who helped Yulissa. After all, Yulissa had been released.

"How much did you pay?" Benjamin asked and thought, 'At most, she might have paid hundreds of millions of dollars, which is not a big deal.

*7 billion dollars... Miranda replied.

Benjamin was still nodding, but he suddenly froze..

“How much?” Benjamin asked again.

He jumped to his feet.

He pointed at Yulissa on the screen and roared, “How much did you spend?”

Miranda was confused. She thought, ‘What’s wrong with him?’

Miranda said. “7 billion dollars. Honey, it was not just to save Lisa this time. The director said that the next time...”

Before Miranda could finish her words, she was slapped in the face.

“You bi tch! How dare you use so much money to save Yulissa? You’re crazy, aren’t you? How could I marry such a fool like you?” Benjamin cursed.

Benjamin used great force to slap Miranda, and suddenly there was a red palm print on her cheek.

“How dare you hit me!” Miranda looked at Benjamin in disbelief. She never expected. that he would beat her for money. “Isn’t it just 7 billion dollars? We still have so much money. And it’s only 5% of the shares. We have both money and shares. What’s wrong. with spending a little on Lisa?” Miranda shouted.

Miranda didn’t regret it. Instead, she felt that Benjamin was too mean.

“Did you also give our shares to that man?” Benjamin asked, unable to believe his ears.

He even suspected that he had misheard.

“Yeah...”

Miranda nodded cautiously, feeling that Benjamin was a little angry, but she didn’t see why he was so angry.

s

Miranda thought, ‘It’s worth it no matter how much we have to pay as long as we can save our daughter!’

“Benjamin also loves Yulissa the most.

Benjamin was stunned for a long time, feeling his blood pressure up.

“I’ll kill you, bi tch!” Benjamin finally cursed.

Then he began to punch and kick Miranda.

“Ouch!

“Stop it!

“Benjamin, you ba st ard! Stop it!

"It hurts... Miranda shouted.

67%

Benjamin said, "Miranda, how dare you give my money and shares to someone else without my permission? How precious do you think Yulissa is? Do you need to save her with everything of the Yates family?"

The more Benjamin thought about it, the angrier he became.

It was all his money that could help him rise again.

They were his last shares in Yates Group!

"You bit ch, go and get my money and shares back! If you can get them back, you don't have to come back again!" Benjamin said.

The money and shares were all he had.

He couldn't give them all to someone else.

Miranda said, "Benjamin, I really thought too good of you. We have so much money. What's wrong with taking some to save Yulissa? Why would the Yates family be destroyed? It's not as serious as what you said!"

Miranda had forgotten the pain in her body.

Benjamin asked her to get the money back.

How could Miranda get what she gave back?

If Miranda did get the money and shares back, Yulissa would definitely be sentenced.

How could Benjamin be so cruel?

"So much money? You've been living a wealthy life for too long. Do you think we still have much money? Don't you know that the Yates Group has been losing money?"

There were only 6 billion left, and the remaining 1.6 billion was from selling shares. Who the hell are you? How dare you use my money!" Benjamin said in fury.

Benjamin was so outraged that he wanted to kill Miranda and kick Yulissa out.

Benjamin could do anything as long as he could get his money back.

"How is that possible? You're lying to me!" Miranda said in disbelief.

"Why should I lie to you? During this period, Leo and I have been making up for the company's losses. We had so few assets left. How dare you use all of them to save Yulissa? You bi tch! I wish I could kill you!" Benjamin replied.

The more Benjamin talked about it, the more furious he became. He kicked Miranda again to vent his anger.

Miranda shouted, "How is that possible? I always thought we still had more than 14 billion dollars... What about the shares? Where are my shares? Where are the children's shares?"

Benjamin replied, "How dare you mention it? If you hadn't asked me to swindle those shareholders, they wouldn't have caught the chance to attack me now. The shareholders want me to compensate. How can I compensate them now?"

Benjamin couldn't afford to pay for the money.

He sold his shares to compensate for the loss and got several billion dollars. However, now he had lost everything.

It had all been ruined by Miranda.

Miranda couldn't believe it. She kept shaking her head and could not accept the fact.

Had she used all the money to save Yulissa?

How was that possible?

"Then how about Cassandra's shares you mentioned before..." Miranda was still unwilling to believe the fact.

Benjamin got even angrier when he heard Miranda's words. "How could you be such a mother? You didn't treat your own daughter well. Now she won't recognize us, but she has changed her identity! You're such a... I wish I could kill you now!" Benjamin said with hatred.

Then he continued, "Cassandra has gotten the money to acquire 45% of the company's shares. How do you think she got them? It was Yohannes and Ray who sold their shares. to Cassandra!

*Look at your wonderful sons and daughter! You are a jinx, only bringing bad luck to the Yates family!"

Benjamin's blood pressure went up and he suddenly felt dizzy.

Miranda couldn't accept the truth.

The money

in the card had remained the same before. However, Miranda thought that the rest of the money was in other cards because they wouldn't deposit all the money in one card.

How could this happen?

What should Miranda do now?

How could she get the money back from the director?

Chapter 122

Miranda didn't believe that she had given all the money of her family to someone else.

The money Miranda gave out was all the money in the family. What about the rest of the money?

“Benjamin, where’s the rest of the money? Did you use it to keep a mistress?” Miranda asked, trying to blame Benjamin.

However, Benjamin slapped Miranda again.

“How dare you question me? Who the hell are you? I’m telling you, go find that man now and get my money back!” Benjamin warned.

However, Benjamin didn’t feel it enough.

“Take out all your bank cards!” Benjamin said.

He thought, “This bitch dares to use my card. Then she must have some money on her private card!

‘Don’t think I don’t know that this stupid woman has hidden a lot of private money!

“Now, she must give all her money to me!”

Miranda broke down and cried.

“Who can I ask for it? Can I get it back?” Miranda said in despair.

It was all gone!

To save Yulissa, Miranda had lost everything.

Benjamin exclaimed, “I don’t care! Whether you send Yulissa to the police or let her engage in prostitution, you must give my money back!” Benjamin has lost his mind.

All he wanted now was his money.

Miranda’s eyes widened. She couldn’t believe that Benjamin had said those words.

“Benjamin, how could you say that? Lisa is also your daughter. You...

“How could you let her do that?

“You’re too cruel!” Miranda screamed.

Benjamin said, “I have no such daughter! How precious she is? How could she let me spend so much money on her? I don’t care. You must get my money back!”

“Benjamin, don’t go too far. I won’t let Lisa be detained again. Besides, half of the money is mine. Don’t think about taking it all away!” Miranda said.

Benjamin laughed angrily.

You haven’t done anything. You’ve been living a wealthy life for more than 20 years. and never worked. Why should you share half of my property with me? Even if you have your half, then you have to get back the money! Benjamin shouted.

Now that everything was ready. Benjamin could make a comeback as long as he had his money.

At this crucial moment. Miranda had given all his money to someone else.

“Honey, that’s the director of the city government. We gave him so much money. We must have established a good relationship with him. He will definitely give us more chances in the future!

Miranda tried to persuade Benjamin, but he couldn’t listen to anything.

Benjamin retorted. “I couldn’t care less about the director! I will never spend 7 billion dollars and over a billion dollars in shares to acquire that absurd connection. Are you out of your mind, or am I?”

Benjamin was too stubborn to listen to anything Miranda said now.

He was only thinking about his money now,

Seeing that she couldn’t persuade Benjamin. Miranda gave up.

Miranda said. “Well, how could you do this to me and Yulissa for money? I’ve contributed so much to our family for so many years. I just spent a little money. So what?

Miranda would never go get back the money.

It was humiliating. Moreover, Yulissa would lose her freedom if Miranda did so.

Therefore, Miranda would never go.

“You! You... You bitc h! I’ll kill you!” With that, Benjamin began to beat Miranda again..

He kept punching and kicking Miranda.

It took Cassandra more than an hour to finish making the dishes.

The Chicken Marsala needed a little more time before it was ready, but the other dishes were done. There were meat, vegetables, and soup.

“Wow! It smells so good! Samantha, they look delicious!” Amelia exclaimed.

The cameraman, who was filming, focused his camera on the food prepared by Cassandra.

It was true that the dishes smelled good and looked appealing. Everyone was looking forward to its taste.

But it shouldn’t be bad.

Cassandra chuckled and said, “Enjoy it.”

Thomas quickly helped the ladies get their tableware.

Amelia was waiting for Cassandra to sit down.

“Have a try,” Cassandra said enthusiastically.

Cassandra felt that she got along well with Thomas and Amelia. At least, they were not so sophisticated and scheming.

Most of those who engaged in the entertainment industry were hypocritical.

However, Thomas and Amelia were still sincere and innocent.

Amelia picked up a piece of beef and closed her eyes with satisfaction.

“It’s incredibly delicious! The saltiness is just perfect, and there’s a special fragrance. The meat is so tender! Samantha, you are truly amazing!” praised Amelia.

Amelia continued to enjoy the dishes.

Thomas kept eating, too. The food was so delicious, which surprised them.

They couldn’t believe Cassandra was so good at cooking.

The screen was constantly filled with bullet comments.

[Have Thomas and Amelia been starved for three days?]

[You’re not the only one who thinks so.]

[Is it really so delicious? They’re eating so quickly!]

[Is it a performance? How could it be so delicious? They are stars. They must have had something better!]

[I don’t think they’re acting. If it is not very delicious, how can they eat so much? Don’t they have to control their food intake?]

[That’s right. If it doesn’t taste good, how can they eat so much?]

[Calm down. I am already ordering afternoon tea for myself!]

Frederick’s team also started their lunch..

However, they were having vegetables. The omelet soup was the only meat dish.

However, the omelet soup looked a little dark.

There were mashed potatoes, Celery and Blue Cheese Salad, and carrot salad.

Neither Frederick nor Jenny had any appetite when they saw the dishes.

However, Yulissa said enthusiastically, “Fred, Jenny, have a try!”

When Cassandra just came back, she used to cook for the family. Yulissa secretly watched Cassandra cook. Therefore, Yulissa remembered all the procedures.

Frederick didn’t want to disappoint Yulissa, so he tried the mashed potatoes in anticipation.

He wanted to vomit after taking a bite.

It was too salty and sour.

Frederick frowned unconsciously and then swallowed it hard.

“It’s delicious. You are great!” Frederick said.

Jenny didn’t believe it.

She complained in her heart, ‘If it is delicious, you should relax your frown.’”

Being praised by Frederick, Yulissa thought the food she cooked was delicious, so she picked up some mashed potatoes and carrot salad for Jenny with serving cutlery.

“Jenny, have a try,” said Yulissa.

Jenny picked the mashed potatoes into her bowl.

The moment she tasted them. Jenny spat them out without hesitation.

“It’s sour and salty!” Jenny exclaimed.

aware the

After making that statement, Jenny immediately regretted it. She became they were on a live stream and understood that her words would invite criticism.

[How could she say that? She didn’t help with cooking and is so picky about the food!]

[What if it’s really awful? Do you want Jenny to tell lies like Frederick?]

[Please take a look at Frederick’s frown! It shows that the food made by Yulissa is terrible!]

[Why does Yulissa think her cooking is nice?]

[I’m a little sympathetic to Jenny. It’s so hard!]

[Yulissa is a talented girl. How could you say that?]

[Hey, I didn’t expect Yulissa to have a fan like you. It’s pathetic!]

Chapter 123

After lunch, Frederick and Jenny were not full at all.

They ate up the rice.

Yulissa didn’t look happy because she felt that what Jenny said indicated that she didn’t respect Yulissa at all.

Therefore, when the three people finished eating and gathered together, they didn’t look good.

They all ate nothing but rice.

However, Cassandra’s team was full and looked as if they were on vacation.

Amelia said, “Samantha, the Chicken Marsala is so delicious. Can I still have it in the future?”

Amelia thought it was the best Chicken Marsala she had ever tasted..

Cassandra replied, "If there are enough ingredients in the future, I will make it for you."

Listening to Amelia's show-off, Frederick was furious.

Frederick thought, This da mn girl! She didn't cook for me, but she actually cooked for the outsiders.

"Samantha, the beef stew is also great. I want to eat it again," Thomas said.

After spending several hours together, Thomas felt that Cassandra was very approachable. Therefore, he became more brave.

Thomas didn't want to participate in the variety show at first, but his agent said that Samantha would also join it. Samantha was Thomas' idol. So he agreed.

Thomas didn't expect that Samantha was not only good at writing songs but also. excellent at cooking.

Therefore, Thomas admired Samantha more.

"I can cook a lot of dishes. Let's work harder to earn more ingredients!" Cassandra felt happy with them.

Although Cassandra was the one who cooked, Thomas and Amelia helped with washing vegetables and dishes and cleaning up the kitchen.

Cooperation was the key to team development.

If there was only one person in the team who worked hard and the rest all waited for success, the team would collapse sooner or later.

For example, when Frederick wanted Cassandra to join his team at the beginning, he just wanted her to cook for him and Yulissa.

In the past, Cassandra would probably agree to Frederick's request.

But now, she would rather feed her cooking to dogs than give Frederick another bite.

Cassandra suddenly thought of something.

Frederick still used the recipe she gave him.

Since they had nothing to do with each other, Cassandra thought it was a waste to leave the recipe to Frederick.

However, Cassandra was present at the filming site, unable to take action herself.

She thought, 'Forget it. I should wait for the evening. Before they began shooting, they had handed in their phones, so Cassandra could only send a message to Jeremiah when she got her phone during night break to let him handle it..

At this time, Alan said, "Next, the production team will no longer provide any ingredients. Of course, the seasoning is enough for you. However, for everything else, you will need to exert effort to acquire them."

Alan said that in the next few days, they would work to get food or help farmers work in exchange for their food. Every job they did must be qualified, and they should not make trouble for farmers.

Yulissa walked forward and said with a smile, "That's not difficult for Samantha. After all, she has lived in the countryside for 18 years."

Yulissa just said it on purpose. In this industry, family background was important.

Cassandra was just a girl who grew up in the countryside. Even if she was Samantha now, she couldn't change the fact.

Due to Cassandra's humble background, Yulissa believed she would never rise to a position of importance or superiority.

Amelia replied sharply before Cassandra could speak, "Is it humiliating to live in the countryside? Everyone's ancestors used to be farmers. What's wrong with the countryside? The food you eat is grown by the people in the countryside. The flour you have is cultivated in the, countryside. The vegetables and meat you eat all come from the countryside. You rely on the work of farmers. I don't know where you get your sense of superiority, Ms. Yates!"

Amelia thought, 'Who the hell is this bitch? How dare she insult Samantha?

'I'll never tolerate it!

'She's nothing!'

Yulissa was shocked.

Her expression suddenly turned embarrassed. She didn't expect that Amelia would not show respect to her and directly rebuked her, which made her embarrassed.

[Wonderful speech, Amelia! I'm from the countryside. What's wrong? Is there a problem?]

[I'm also from the countryside. My family grows rice. I am proud of it!]

[Honey, you should be proud!]

[Who invited Yulissa to this show? She is weird. Doesn't she know why Samantha has lived in the countryside for 18 years?]

[Yulissa's a fake lady. She doesn't even know who her parents are. How dare she insult Samantha?]

[Don't go too far. Yulissa is from the Yates family who has admitted the fact. Her status is higher than that of Samantha!]

[Come on! You're so ridiculous! How could Yulissa's status be higher than Samantha's? Are you daydreaming?]

[Surely she is!]

"Amelia..." Yulissa wanted to say something.

Yulissa directly interrupted, “Besides, why did Samantha live in the countryside for 18 years? Shouldn’t the Yates family reflect on it? Given the considerable influence of the Yates family, they should have diligently pursued locating their missing daughter instead of adopting another girl after Samantha’s disappearance. Can such actions truly be regarded as acts of solace? Now that the genuine Ms. Yates has returned, what measures have the family taken? The conduct of the Yates family is certainly intriguing.”

Amelia didn’t give Yulissa a chance to speak at all.

Amelia had wanted to say those words for a long time.

Now she finally had a chance.

“Amelia, don’t get me involved...” Thomas protested in a low voice.

Thomas was from the Yates family in Dricso, while Frederick’s family could be considered an offshoot or collateral branch of the Yates family.

“A slip of the tongue. Your Yates family is different from theirs. Don’t misunderstand me, Thomas,” Amelia explained.

Amelia was well-known for her straightforwardness in the entertainment industry.

Thomas used to dislike Amelia’s character, but now he felt her cool.

Thomas thought he might be out of his mind.

“Amelia, don’t go too far!” Frederick scolded.

If Amelia kept talking, Frederick would lose his temper.

Amelia replied, “Okay, then I’ll stop. But please discipline your sister, Frederick. We’re in the countryside now, so don’t bring the old tricks from the city here. Don’t show off in front of the farmers!”

[Did Yulissa ever offend Amelia? Why did Amelia scold Yulissa for such a long time?]

[I don’t know, but I feel a little excited!]

[Fake b itch. She should have been kicked out!]

[I support Amelia! Love her!]

[Great, you love Amelia, and I am with Samantha. She’s so adorable!]

[Look how cute she is while standing there!]

Cassandra said, “Amelia, don’t waste time with them. Let’s see what we can do first. We can exchange ingredients when we come back in the evening.”

Cassandra didn’t want to waste time with these people.

It was only the first day and the game hadn’t started yet.

“Mr. Smith, if we want to exchange ingredients with you, do we need to harvest certain crops?” Cassandra asked Alan.

“Yeah,” Alan replied.

“What do you have?” Cassandra asked.

Alan suggested, “I think you can help the farmers to collect their mature crops first.

Chapter 124

Cassandra said to Thomas and Amelia, “It is busy farming season now. The early-season rice has been ripe, and many villagers should have be to harvest rice. Let’s go and see if there is any need for help. We will just ask them for some ingredients then.” At this time, early rice and wheat were ripe. If they were not harvested in time, the ears of rice and wheat might fall off naturally, which would cause great losses to farmers.

“Okay!” Amelia replied happily. She believed whatever Cassandra said.

Amelia’s parents were once farmers, but they previously held the position of landlords. Their family owned abundant land in their hometown.

When Amelia was a child, she often followed her parents in the fields.

Therefore, harvesting crops was not difficult for Amelia.

She even missed the feeling a little.

However, Thomas scratched his head awkwardly and said embarrassedly, “But I don’t know how to do it. Will I make trouble for them?”

Thomas really wanted to help, but he didn’t know how to.

He didn’t know anything about harvesting crops.

Thomas couldn’t help but think he was the most useless one on the team.

As a man, he was ashamed to let girls do all the work.

Amelia said, “There should be other work for you to help. Don’t worry, I won’t let your idle!” Amelia looked so adorable as she said so.

The three of them walked along the village road and watched the scenery here.

Along the way, Amelia exclaimed that the countryside was wonderful with fresh air and no pollution. She wondered if they could see stars at night,

Thomas echoed Amelia’s words, expressing that while he had seen a lot of scenery, he had seldom encountered such natural splendor and vibrant living scenes.

It was like a paradise.

After a while, they saw two families harvesting early-season rice.

Cassandra and Amelia stepped forward and asked, "Sir, do you need any help? We can help you without payment. Just give us some vegetables when we finish the work."

Amelia explained to them gently that they were shooting a show. It was their task to help farmers, but they really wanted to help. When the work was done, if they had any vegetables at home, they could just give Amelia some.

The farmers understood because the village head had informed them early in the morning that there was a well-known TV station recording a variety show here. It should be these people.

However, the farmer was still a little hesitant. The rice was the food of his family. It would be sold to make money for his family.

If these people were unable to complete the work properly, it would impact their earnings.

Cassandra continued, "Sir, I grew up in the countryside. I'm familiar with crops. You can see how I do it first."

In order to dispel the doubts in the heart of the farmer, Cassandra took off her shoes and socks with a sickle, rolled up her trouser legs, and went down to the field.

She picked up an ear of rice and skillfully used a sickle to harvest it. Her movement was smooth and precise.

"I can do it, too, Amelia said.

Amelia, knowing she had to work in the afternoon, opted for capri pants. This way, she could easily roll up her trouser legs and head out to the field.

Then Amelia harvested the rice skillfully.

Seeing this, the farmer was relieved and said kindly, "You're great. I'll appreciate your help."

Thomas was still standing alone on the edge of the field, feeling embarrassed. He didn't know what to do.

He wanted to help, but it was rice. He couldn't waste food.

However, Thomas felt sorry for standing there and doing nothing.

"Sir, please give him a job. He doesn't know how to harvest rice and is afraid of ruining the crops. See if there is any manual work suitable for him." Amelia saw Thomas' embarrassment, so she immediately asked the farmer.

"My wife is picking peppers in another field. If you don't mind, go there to help," said the farmer.

The farmer had a very good impression of the three of them. They were approachable and eager to assist the farmer. The task of picking peppers did not demand specific skills, making it accessible to anyone.

[Wow, Thomas is so sensible!]

[Yeah! He really doesn't want to make trouble for the farmers!]

[This team is so harmonious. They are so polite to the farmer. I love watching them!]

[Stop it! I came in from another channel. It's disgusting!]

[I didn't anticipate Frederick to display such a lack of common sense. Despite Thomas holding a higher status, he knows more about life.]

[Can't you stop praising Thomas while disparaging Freddy? Freddy didn't do anything to hurt others, but he just stepped on a few seedlings. Is that a big deal?]

[I went to watch another channel out of curiosity. I couldn't stand it!]

At the same time, Frederick and his teammates were helping pick cucumbers in the field.

They insisted on doing it. The hostess saw that they didn't seem to be good at working, so she didn't want them to help at first.

However, they began to pick cucumbers by themselves.

They were even eating while picking, and the majority of the cucumbers they had gathered were not fully picked, leaving a stem on them.

Such cucumbers couldn't be sold out or stored long.

However, the village head said the villagers had to cooperate with the production team to film the show.

The hostess was helpless.

Frederick and Yulissa even crushed the roots of several cucumbers, on which there were cucumber flowers and newly grown cucumbers.

In the end, the hostess couldn't stand it a

it anymore.

"Distinguished guests, you don't have to pick them anymore. It's enough for today. I'll go back and get some vegetables for you!" the hostess said.

If they continued to pick cucumbers, the cucumbers would rot in the field.

In the evening, Cassandra's team finished their work. Thomas also came back from picking peppers.

The farmer and his family were overjoyed.

Then the farmer caught two fish and took some fresh vegetables and fruits, as well as homemade pickles for Cassandra's team.

Cassandra, Amelia, and Thomas returned to their residence happily.

When they got back, Frederick and his team had already started having dinner.

The dishes were quite rich.

There were washed cucumbers and steamed sweet potatoes.

The dishes were indeed light.

Seeing the fish in Thomas' hand, Frederick was instantly unhappy.

"Why do you have fish? I thought we weren't allowed to buy anything!" Frederick shouted.

He subconsciously thought that they bought the fish with money. How could there be such good fish in this countryside?

"Mr. Yates, don't talk nonsense if you don't know the truth. Why do you think we bought the fish? We got it by working," Cassandra said. She felt quite happy when she saw Frederick's angry face.

Cassandra didn't mind making him angrier.

She continued, "Our work has been recognized by the farmer. So he gave us a lot of vegetables and two fish. We really didn't know how to refuse him." Cassandra then said to her teammates, "Let's cook both fish tonight. One for Boiled Fish with Cocoyam and the other for Fish in Sour Soup."

Hearing this, Jenny swallowed unconsciously.

She wanted to eat fish, too. Fish was her favorite.

However, Jenny couldn't have fish now.

She could only have cucumbers and sweet potatoes.

This was terrible!

Jenny complained in her heart, "What a shitty show! What stupid teammates!"

Frederick said, "Cassandra, we are all one. You don't have to treat us like this. You have so many ingredients..."

Frederick also wanted to have a better dinner.

He barely ate anything at lunch, and the meager dinner left him feeling as though his gastritis was about to relapse.

Chapter 125

"We don't need your help, Frederick. We can finish these two fish. It's not a big deal. And we can just prepare fewer dishes tonight," said Cassandra.

She thought, “You want free meals? No chance!

It will be great if our meal makes his mouth water!

‘The recipe is gone. And the archive he sent to others is also gone!

“Therefore, even after the show, his gastrosis would only get worse and worse!

I’m really looking forward to it!”

Frederick was furious. He threw away his fork and said in a sharp voice, “Cassandra, what do you mean?”

Alan Smith, the director, stood by and watched them with great joy. He hoped that Cassandra and Frederick would fight. The more conflicts they had, the higher the ratings of the show would be!

If they fought, there would be more people watching the show!

Cassandra shrugged and said innocently, ‘I meant nothing, Frederick. Excuse us. We’d better not disturb your dinner. After all, we haven’t cooked our dinner yet!”

[Well, that’s so aggressive!]

[They always fight when they meet. Why? I’m a new fan, and I don’t know anything!]

[I suggest you check the tweets of Frederick and Yulissa. Then you’ll know the reason!]

[Samantha loves to show off! After all, Frederick is her brother. It’s nothing to treat her brother with two fish!]

[You are so kind. I hope you have such a family!]

[I think I’m sick. I love watching them fight. What should I do? Please continue fighting! I love watching that!]

[Are you crazy? It’s just a show of daily life. There’s no use fighting!]

Cassandra and the other two worked together as usual.

In less than an hour, they prepared the fish!

Because there were already two dishes of fish tonight, Cassandra didn’t prepare too many vegetables for fear of wasting them!

The aromas of Boiled Fish with Cocoyam and Fish in Sour Soup are mixed together to spread far and wide.

The three in the other group had already been starving!

They had just eaten, but now they couldn’t help being hungry.

The fish smelled so good!

They thought, Why do I have to suffer like this on the first day of the show?”

“Wow, it’s so delicious!” Amelia’s voice was clear and cheerful!

It showed how happy she was when she ate!

Frederick clenched his fists in anger, and Yulissa’s face was a little gloomy. Even though she was good at maintaining her disguise, she felt that she was about to expose herself!

“Frederick, is Cassandra still mad at me? She knows that you have gastrosis and need a special recipe every day. Clearly, she... But she didn’t care about you. I don’t mind the way she treats me, but you are innocent!” Yulissa sobbed gently as if she were wronged. She continued, “Frederick, I’m sorry. It’s all my fault!”

Frederick stopped clenching his fists in an instant and comforted her softly, “It has nothing to do with you. Cassandra is such an ignorant person. Don’t blame yourself!

Yulissa pretended to be embarrassed and said, “But you have gastrosis, and the two meals today weren’t good for you. It’s all because of me. I made Cassandra didn’t learn how to cook, which caused you to starve with me.”

angry, and 1

The more she spoke, the sadder she became, as if she were venting her grievances for Frederick!

Frederick agreed with what Yulissa said, and he now felt that Cassandra showed him no respect and didn’t consider him important!

He rushed to the dining table angrily!

As they were in the countryside, the dining table was a simple wooden table with four legs. Frederick walked up to the group of Cassandra’s and gave her a fierce look.

Suddenly, he flipped the table!

And there was nothing left on the table.

Cassandra’s expression instantly turned cold!

She stood up and kicked Frederick to the door, while Yulissa exclaimed, “Frederick, are you okay?”

Cassandra said in a cold voice, “If you’re insane, go outside. Why come here to court death? Did any of us provoke you?”

She thought. The dinner is completely ruined by him!”

Frederick exclaimed. “Hiss!”

Yulissa helped Frederick up and asked worriedly, “Frederick, are you okay? Do you need to go to the hospital?”

Frederick shouted, “Cassandra, you da mn girl! How dare you kick me!” Cassandra’s kick landed on his stomach, causing him extreme pain, as if his internal organs were tangled.

Cassandra said. "You dared to flip my dining table. Why can't I kick you? One should not cause trouble at mealtime. Did I offend you today? Why did you come and ruin our dinner?"

"As you are the best actor, you are really good at putting on airs!" Cassandra's tone was so indifferent that Yulissa was afraid that Cassandra would kick Frederick again!

Amelia shouted, "Frederick, are you out of your mind? We were having dinner here! What are you doing here? You're not tired after a day's work, are you? What's wrong with you?"

Amelia had lost all sense of decency!

She thought, 'What a nice meal! I haven't enjoyed those vegetables yet!

'It was a loss for me!

'He's such a bas ta rd!

"What's wrong with him!"

Frederick said, "Because you resent Lisa, you isolate us with Amelia and Thomas. Can you deny it?"

He thought, 'It would be shameless to just say that she didn't let us have dinner together!

'So I have to point out that she deliberately let Thomas and Amelia isolate us.

Cassandra said, "Frederick, if you have men tal problems, go get treatment at the hospital. Don't show off your stu pidity here! You were late yourselves. Who can your blame? I naturally formed a group with Amelia and Thomas, which only shows that I'm lucky. If I had been unlucky and ended up in a group with you, then that would have been my misfortune.

"However, luck was on my side, and I wasn't grouped with you. I have nothing to say to you. Throughout the day, you are the one who always causes trouble with us! And now. you even flipped our table! Well, are you trying to embarrass us using the power of the Yates family or your status in the entertainment industry. Frederick?"

"When we see you in the future. do we have to grovel at your stinky feet for you to be happy and satisfied. Frederick:"

Cassandra was very unhappy at this moment. She didn't care about the show anymore.

She continued. This time, you just flipped our table. Will you directly stab me with a knife next time, Frederick? Since we are in the same show, will I be in danger?"

Frederick's expression changed when he heard her words. He regretted being so impulsive!

He thought. How could I forget it just now?

"Now it's being livestreamed, and all of our actions are going out live!"

[Yulissa is such a bi tch. I can't stand her words anymore!]

[Go to hell. Frederick! How dare he lift the table of Samantha and Amelia!]

[That's absolutely despicable! Samantha's right. One should not cause trouble at mealtime! What Frederick did is simply outrageous!]

[What's wrong with him? Isn't it Frederick who has been causing trouble for Samantha. all day long?]

[Is it just Freddy's fault? Cassandra is also wrong. It took two to tango!]

[Show me your face, and I can let you know whether you're right.]

[I'm really speechless. What kind of show is this? I just started watching it, and I saw the part of someone flipping the table and someone kicking another! They must have scripts!]

“Who would write such a script? It seems to be a personal grudge!”

[That's ridiculous! But it was also wonderful! I admire Samantha's kick! I hate to see Frederick and Yulissa being hypocritical!]

Chapter 126

At this moment. Alan hurriedly walked to them and acted as a peacemaker!

“Calm down, everyone. Everything can be discussed calmly!” Alan tried to calm them down. He then turned to Frederick and said with concern. Frederick, are you okay? We have doctors on standby. I can call them to see if you're okay.”

Alan thought, “I can't afford to make Frederick hurt. Otherwise, his fans would kill me!

‘Well, I can't afford to let any of them get hurt!’

“Mr. Smith, Cassandra kicked me for no reason. How do we address this matter?” said Frederick. He exploited the shameless spirit to the fullest.

Alan felt speechless.

He thought, “Wasn't it you who flipped their dinner table first?

“What the hell? The best actor is so shameless!”

Cassandra was once again shocked and said. “Frederick, if it weren't for so many cameras on, I would have a hard time defending myself. You flipped my dinner table. If I don't retaliate, do you expect me to bow and thank you? You're such a shameless guy!”

“You...” Frederick wished he could tear Cassandra's mouth apart!

He thought, “The words she said are so harsh!”

Cassandra continued, “Mr. Smith, I believe you saw what happened. You have your own judgment, and I need a reasonable explanation!”

Amelia agreed and said, “That's right. I also need a reasonable explanation. We were enjoying our dinner, but he suddenly came and flipped our table. As the best actor, Frederick is really good at putting on airs!” Her anger didn't fade away at all.

Thomas, who had been silent for a whole day, unexpectedly began a lengthy discourse at this moment. He said, "Mr. Smith, I think we do need an explanation. We worked hard all afternoon in exchange for the praise of the farmers, and we were given two fish. We could have enjoyed our meal. Why? Isn't it the rule that we can eat whatever we get? If they want to break the rules of the game, they can just inform us in advance. Don't be so unprofessional. Besides, they are so arrogant and shameless."

Yulissa said, "Cassandra, let me apologize to you on behalf of Frederick. Please don't be angry. He is just not used to the food, and his gastrosis makes him painful tonight. So...

L... please forgive him. If you have any anger, just vent it to me. After all,

Yulissa deliberately stepped forward to speak, aiming to gain sympathy.

However, she didn't expect that Amelia and Thomas wouldn't buy it at all. Even Alan furrowed after hearing her words!

As Alan had been in this industry for so many years, he could read a subtle movement on an actor's face and understand what they were thinking!

Not to mention the self-righteous Yulissa!

agreed

Alan wondered why he with Frederick to bring Yulissa here. He couldn't understand why they acted like that!

"Yulissa, do you think you are innocent? Frederick has been holding back for a whole day. He cared about his image and didn't lash out at me. But why can't he stand it when we have dinner? That's not typical of him. It must be something you said that pushed him over the edge!" Cassandra changed her target and said to Yulissa, "Let me guess what you said. Is it still the same old routine? Everything is your fault, right? I got mad at you, which affected him. Therefore, even though he has gastrosis, I don't care about him. That's the reason why he didn't hesitate to come and flip our table!"

Cassandra already knew Yulissa's tricks!

"Yulissa, do you really think he is innocent? Because of you, our best actor, Frederick, punched and kicked me a lot. He is just a hypocrite, pretending to be a gentleman in front of everyone. But behind the scenes, he's a ruthless person who almost killed his own sister just to support his adopted sister! Every one of your family members is quite surprising!"

Since they were on the same production team and they couldn't coexist peacefully, it was better to talk about it publicly!

Yulissa said, "Cassandra, how can you say that? When did Frederick hit you? I really feel unworthy for him!"

Yulissa was very flustered. Her reputation had already been ruined, but as Frederick's current agent said, "Whether for good or bad reasons, being famous is being famous!" Therefore, it didn't matter if she had a bad reputation, as long as her goal was achieved!

“Well, if you want to know, I can explain it to you.” Cassandra paused. Just when Yulissa and Frederick breathed a sigh of relief, Cassandra continued, “He just pushed me down the stairs from the second floor, trying to defend you for feeling wronged. After that, he blamed me for not watching where I was going, saying I just missed my step. He also threw me into the dark room after kicking me twice because of your crying. If you say he didn’t hit me, how can you describe his behavior?”

[Da mn it! I can’t take it anymore! Is that Samantha’s life in the Yates family? Let me kill them!]

[I’m about to cry out of anger! Da mn it! None of the Yates family members is a good. person! They are so mean!]

[How dare they mistreat Samantha! Go to hell!]

[Da mn it! I can’t stand it anymore!]

[Go to hell! Frederick. Yulissa, and the Yates family!]

Π

[I feel so sorry for Samantha. What kind of life did she have? Even if my grandparents preferred boys to girls, I have never experienced that kind of life!]

[This is all Cassandra’s one-sided story. Can you draw a conclusion after knowing the truth? Anyway, I believe in my Freddy!]

[That’s right! Freddy hasn’t said anything yet!]

[What else can he say? Is there anyone who will admit such things?]

Frederick’s face turned pale, and he almost lost his balance.

He thought. ‘Da mn it! How could she bring this kind of thing out into the open?’

“Cassandra, if it weren’t for you being so excessive at home, would we treat you like this? Let’s be frank, it’s all because of you!” Frederick couldn’t hold back and retorted!

“Me being excessive?” Cassandra laughed as if she had heard the funniest joke in the world. “What did I do? Frederick and Yulissa, tell me what I did. Yulissa, how did I bully you at home?”

Cassandra spread out her hands and continued, “There are so many people here who can stand up for you. Explain it in front of everyone!”

Yulissa was scared by Cassandra’s momentum and kept retreating.

“Cassandra, please don’t do this. You... You didn’t bully me. It’s all my fault,” said Yulissa.

As she spoke, tears streamed down her face.

“Yulissa, I think you’d better say it out loud. Otherwise, everyone will think you’re being bullied by my idol!” said Amelia.

Amelia played her role as a devoted fan to the fullest!

She unconditionally believed in Cassandra!

“I... Cassandra didn’t bully me. It’s true.”

Yulissa looked very embarrassed as if she were being threatened!

Cassandra said, “Frederick, Yulissa has already posted what she did on Twitter. You just refuse to believe it. But it’s okay. I didn’t expect you to believe it anyway. After all, that’s how public opinions work. Few netizens believe it, but...”

“At a time like this, she should have kept a low profile, but instead, you brought her out to the show. Think about it. Isn’t it your fault to bring a murderer to record the show?”

Everyone was shocked!

Her words startled everyone!

Alan panicked and shouted, “Turn off the live stream! Turn it off! Turn it off!”

Cassandra snorted. She knew that the Yates family tried to pretend that nothing had happened.

She wouldn’t let them succeed. She wanted them to know the feeling of wasting 7 billion dollars!

Chapter 127

Panicked, Alan told the photographers to cut the livestream and then looked at Cassandra.

He thought, “What is she talking about? What murderer?”

‘I’ll lose my job if this gets exposed!

“No one invites a murderer on a show!!

Hearing Cassandra’s words, Yulissa’s face also turned pale in an instant.

She couldn’t believe that Cassandra called her a murderer in public!

Frederick was pissed too. He didn’t expect Cassandra to bring it up in front of so many people.

“You should be in jail instead of making a show. I feel so disgusted to be on the same production team with you!” Amelia trusted Cassandra the most, so she believed that Yulissa was a murderer.

She believed that Cassandra did it for a certain reason.

“You must be crazy. How could Lisa possibly be a murderer? You’re all good and no one did anything to you!”

Hearing Frederick’s words, everyone present was convinced that Samantha was telling the truth.

Alan was so regretful that he hoped that he could kick Frederick and Yulissa out of the team.

He didn't expect that they would invite a murderer on this show.

"I told you that it was just a joke, Cassandra. You didn't get hurt in any way, did you?" Yulissa refused to admit it.

She tried so hard to be released so she didn't want to go back to jail.

She was still the daughter of the Yates family and no one could change that.

"Just a joke? Why don't you try getting run over back and forth by a motorcycle? Cassandra sneered.

As she had expected, the Yates family had no shame!

"How could you say that, Cassandra? You're so..."

Yulissa thought Cassandra was so evil.

"That's your real purpose, isn't it, Cassandra? You want to kill Lisa!" Frederick kept criticizing Cassandra as if he had found something against her.

"It's not fair, Frederick. Didn't Yulissa just say that it was a joke? What's With me making a joke? She had someone run me over with a car on the first day of SAT. Do you think it was also a joke?"

Cassandra thought that it was time to let everyone know about this.

Alan thought the live streaming was cut off, but he was wrong.

When Cassandra came back in the evening, she got her phone back and asked Jeremiah to do something.

She was gonna watch it live until she went to bed tonight.

"You misunderstood me, Cassandra. The police checked everything out before they let me out!" Yulissa tried so hard to be cool. She was not gonna admit it no matter what.

Since Miranda bailed her out, she could insist that she was innocent.

"Do I need to tell you how Mrs. Miranda Yates got you out of prison with money? What do you think your dad would react if he found out that your mom spent all the money. to save you?"

It would be very interesting. Cassandra was excited to see Benjamin explode when he learned the truth.

Frederick widened his eyes in shock. "All the money? That's impossible!"

The number of comments on the video had soared.

[Holy cr ap! It seems that Yulissa really asked someone to hit Cassandra!]

[Didn't you hear Yulissa say it was just a joke? Don't be ridiculous!]

[Come on, how could it be a joke?]

[It's a wilful murder, and even if it's just an attempted murder, she already broke the law!]

[Yulissa will be back in the jail.]

[Samantha just said that the Yates family spent all their money to get Yulissa out, right?]

[Yeah. The Yates family take her as their beloved daughter so they'll do whatever it takes.

Amelia was so angry that she almost burst into tears.

She thought. None of the Yates family is a good person! I won't allow them to hurt

"What about Samantha? Isn't she a young girl? She took the SAT with Yulissa. Just Stop playing favorites!"

Amelia burst into tears.

She was already twenty years old and had gone through a lot in the entertainment industry, but she just felt so sorry for Cassandra.

"Call the police. Thomas!" Amelia shouted, unable to get rid of Frederick.

"Are you gonna see them put Lisa into prison, Cassandra?" Frederick roared at Cassandra.

Cassandra laughed out loud and said, "Yep!"

Jeremiah, who had been watching the livestream, knew that it was time, so he called the police to take Yulissa away.

Yulissa burst into tears and said, "I didn't expect you to hate me so much, Cassandra"

"I'm not the only one who hates you. Why don't you come home and hear what your dad will say to you?"

For a person who needed money to save his life, he must not accept that all the money. had been used to save Yulissa.

Things were getting interesting.

"The camera is still on, Mr. Smith. You'd better explain to Frederick why you invited a murderer on this show. Otherwise, this show would be done."

Chapter 128

Alan never expected anything like this to happen. He was so shocked that he didn't know what to do...

He thought the livestream had been cut off so he left several cameras on to shoot behind-the-scenes shots. He just didn't expect that the livestream was still on!

As a result, there was an increasing number of comments below the video, just as Alan wanted.

[Amelia is right. We have Samantha's back! We're not gonna let anyone hurt her!]

[I'll stay here all day today. No one's gonna talk sh it about Samantha!]

[That's so disgusting. Go to hell, you bunch of monsters!]

[They're so shameless. Yulissa and Samantha are both eighteen years old. Why do treat them differently? It's not fair!]

[Yulissa must be punished for what she did!]

you

[Don't think too highly of Samantha. No one would hurt her if she didn't do anything wrong!]

[What? Samantha is the victim here. What did she do wrong? You should talk to the murderer instead of her!]

Seeing those comments, Alan cut off the power and removed the batteries from the cameras.

"How did you know the camera is still on, Samantha? Did you..."

'Did you do something about it?' he wondered.

"Ask the staff, Mr. Smith. I know nothing about it. I accidentally saw that the camera was on.

Since the livestream was over, the fans couldn't send comments online. They recorded the video and posted it on Twitter.

They were going to bring justice to Samantha!

Soon, they posted countless posts with hashtags, "The best actor Frederick's younger sister", "Murderer Yulissa", "Samantha almost got killed by the Yates family's fake daughter", and "The two daughters of the Yates family".

These posts gained a lot of attention and became a trending topic.

[What is the production team doing? Didn't they check the celebrities before they invited them? They could have casily found that Yulissa had been in jail.]

[Ex-prisoners have a right to a new life, but the production team should avoid inviting them to be on a show.]

[Yeah, I agree. I'm so mad that she hurt Samantha!]

[Samantha has gone through a lot since she reunited with her family.]

know, right? I want to tear up Yulissa's face every time I hear her talk like a b itch! She made me sick!]

[You know nothing. Don't you think you're being too harsh on Yulissa?]

[What? Why does Yulissa still have fans here?]

[Frederick's not as good as you think. He covered-up for the murderer. He must have done it on purpose!]

[Exactly. He's not gonna get away with this!]

[They're both shameless!]

Leonardo, who was watching the video at home, was so furious.

He was there to support Cassandra and Frederick. He also wanted to know whether Frederick did something that annoyed Cassandra so he could remind him to be careful.

Unexpectedly, he saw Yulissa on the show. What shocked him even more was that Miranda spent all their money to save Yulissa.

He was not sure whether it was true, so he called Benjamin immediately.

"Did Mom take all the money to save Yulissa, Dad?" Leonardo still couldn't believe it. After all, they had about 7 billion dollars and it was ridiculous to save someone with so much money.

Hearing this, Benjamin became furious again.

"She pissed me off. She gave all the money and the stock to some kind of director without telling me. We have no money now!"

They were so close to their goal but now they lost everything.

When Frederick heard that the stock was given away, he almost lost control.

They not only lost the capital to make a comeback but also lost the money to live on.

"What should we do now, Dad?"

He thought, 'How are we supposed to live without money? It's hard to get a job at my age, let alone a marvelous comeback!

'Mom bankrupted the Yates family to save Yulissa! What an ironic story!'

"Your mother still has tens of millions of dollars in savings, but it's not enough."

Benjamin has asked Miranda to get back the money from the director. He didn't care whether Yulissa was going back to prison. Anyway, he wouldn't spend so much money on her.

"Fine, but what about the company? Tens of millions of dollars is not enough for it to keep running."

"I've asked your mother to get the money back. If Yulissa still takes me as her father, she should go back to prison herself. She has caused too much trouble for us!"

Benjamin felt sick at the thought of Yulissa. He no longer treated her as his daughter.

The comments section of the show's official Twitter account was flooded with angry fans who demanded an explanation of the matter from Alan.

Alan was also anxious and he urged Frederick to give him an explanation.

"It was you who got Yulissa on this show, Frederick. Now the show is screwed up. Don't you think you should say something?"

Alan was not as polite as he used to be. After all, no matter how humble he was, he couldn't get respect from Frederick, who brought a murderer to this show.

Alan couldn't accept it.

"Why do I have to explain to you? I've already told you that Yulissa is innocent but you don't believe me!" Frederick lost his temper.

He thought, 'F uck you, Cassandra. I can't believe that you made this public by bringing it up on the livestream!"

"I heard what you said and I don't think she's innocent, Frederick. You've already proved that she did it by admitting that she's just eighteen years old and that she didn't mean it. You know what? An 18-year-old adult can take responsibility for what she's done!"

Alan was angry now so he sounded quite rude, and all he wanted now was to take Frederick down.

He couldn't accept that the show he made was screwed up!

They why you keep asking if you don't believe me?" Frederick still looked arrogant.

Alan was so pissed that he almost resorted to violence. "I'm terminating our cooperation with you, Frederick, and you're going to compensate the production team. the original price!"

He would never allow such a tainted entertainer to be on his show!

The list of invited guests for the show was decided by the director, but Alan had to take the blame because the director just called and scolded him.

He felt he had been wronged.

"You're the one who wants to cancel the contract. Shouldn't you pay me liquidated damages?" Frederick snorted disdainfully.

"Don't be ridiculous. I'm supposed to pay you liquidated damages if I cancel the contract for no reason, but that's not the case now. You've seriously damaged the reputation and ratings of our show by bringing someone with a bad reputation here. You have to pay us not only the liquidated damages but also the additional damages!

The two of them argued in the backyard.

However, before Frederick could say something, someone knocked on the door and then several people came in.

“Excuse me, is Yulissa here?”

Chapter 129

Yulissa trembled when she heard the voice she never wanted to hear again.

They were the police!

Alan became so excited when the police were there because he wanted them to take Yulissa away.

“She’s Yulissa, Sir!” Alan pointed to someone hiding behind Frederick immediately.

Amelia nodded and said, “Sir, the woman behind that gentleman is Yulissa! She committed attempted murder. You have to look into her!”

Two policemen stepped forward and walked behind Yulissa.

Frederick stopped them and said, trying to keep cool, “It’s just a misunderstanding, Sir. They’re sisters and they won’t hurt each other. Just look at Cassandra. She’s fine!”

He wouldn’t let the police take Yulissa away because Miranda told him to protect her. She couldn’t go back to prison.

“We’ll have a further investigation, but we have to take her to the police station first!”

The police were also speechless.

They had to work late and come to such a remote place.

What was more, they had to take Yulissa to Drieso early tomorrow morning.

However, no matter how annoyed they were, they had to get the job done.

Frederick was a little anxious. He couldn’t find anyone to help him in this remote place.

Therefore, he stared at Cassandra and roared, “Are you gonna let him take Lisa away, Cassandra? Why are you so cruel to her? Do you want her in prison?”

Cassandra couldn’t believe what she just heard.

“I’m not as kind as you, Frederick. The police already have evidence that she hired someone to kill me, and if it wasn’t for all the money your mother spent trying to save her, she wouldn’t be here. I have the right to sue her and you know what, I’ll stand up for my legal rights!”

Cassandra wouldn’t let Yulissa get away with it this time. She had been through too much.

“I’m with you. Yulissa and her family are all monsters!” Amelia stood with Cassandra and said.

“You’re just Cassandra’s pet dog, Amelia. Shut up!” Frederick was so mad that he yelled.

“So what? It’s better than being a murderer’s pet dog anyway!”

If it weren’t for Amelia’s desire to remain polite, she’d be screaming.

“You...

“Stop, everyone! You can come with us if you’re worried, Mr. Yates. We have to do our job since someone called the police. Don’t make things hard for us!” the police said in a deep voice.

Besides, it was late and they didn’t want to waste too much time there.

The police were determined and Frederick couldn’t stop them no matter how hard he tried.

In the end, he had no choice but to come with them. At least, Yulissa wouldn’t be alone.

Kenneth had just come back from the military. He rubbed his forehead, feeling exhausted. He could go home tomorrow after he finished his job.

He hadn’t seen Cassandra for a long time nor texted her so he was curious whether she was fine.

Yannick stepped forward as soon as he saw Kenneth. “Ms. Yates seems to be in trouble, Mr. Zelinski!”

“What?”

Kenneth was so worried that he forgot how tired he was.

Tell me what happened!” Kenneth said with a stern face.

Yannick told Kenneth everything he had heard earlier.

Before they went to sleep, they planned to watch TV to relax, so they switched the channel to Hello, Life.

Many of them met Cassandra before, so they recognized her and talked about her while watching it.

Yannick didn’t know Cassandra was on the show until the livestream was over.

After learning about what happened, Yannick searched for a lot of evidence on Twitter and now he showed everything to Kenneth.

The

more Kenneth looked at it, the more he felt for Cassandra.

He thought, I see. She almost died before the SAT, and right after that, she followed Falcon Special Operations Force to come here on a mission.

‘She’s risking her life’

“I want the Yates family dead in one day, Yannick.”

Kenneth thought that they should pay for it since they hired someone to kill Cassandra and that she was so merciful to bring them to the police.

“Got it.”

“We’re going back to Drieso tomorrow,” Kenneth added.

“Tomorrow? I thought you haven’t finished your business here, Mr. Zelinski.” Yannick was a little confused.

“I’ll get it done tonight and we’re going back to Drieso tomorrow!”

If it weren’t for his task, he would fly back to Drieso now.

“But Ms. Yates isn’t in Drieso.”

Yannick knew that Kenneth was coming back to Drieso for Cassandra, but the problem was that he wouldn’t see her there.

“Where is she?”

“Strasson.”

“Fine, I see,” said Kenneth.

Yannick breathed a sigh of relief. He thought that Kenneth had given up this idea, but the next second, he was surprised by Kenneth’s words. “We’ll fly to Strasson tomorrow.”

Before Yannick could say something, Kenneth glared at him and shut him up.

Yannick thought, ‘He always does what he wants to do at once. Fine, just do as he told me”

Sometimes Yannick thought Kenneth was a conflicted man. He was both the commander of the army and leader of the Underground League. He killed while saving. people.

The production team of Hello, Life put out an announcement overnight.

[We apologize for the terrible livestream to our audience. The suspect appeared on the show because the production team hadn’t carefully checked the information of invited guests. In order to correct our mistake, we have canceled the contract with Frederick and Yulissa and asked them to pay liquidated damages to us.

[We obey and uphold the law. Now we’ve been informed by the authorities that Hello, Life will be taken off the air and censored. The airtime will be announced later.]

were okay with this show being taken off the air, but one of them demanded. the production team to compensate her. After all, she attended this show to get more attention so that she could start her career in the entertainment industry. She couldn't accept the result.

"I want to spend more time with you, Cassandra. It's all Frederick and Yulissa's fault!" Amelia was still mad the next morning.

She could have spent with Cassandra for a long time, but since the show was screwed she had only stayed with her for one day.

up,

"We didn't cancel the contract with the production team. We'll meet again when the show is on air, Cassandra comforted Amelia.

Cassandra was moved by Amelia's loyalty because she stood with her all day yesterday, and she never believed anything Frederick said.

"Don't be so sad. I'll cook you breakfast. We'll leave after that!"

"That's great!"

The production team had bought a lot of food earlier, but since they wouldn't need it for now, they generously gave Cassandra whatever she wanted.

They could give the rest of the food to the villagers.

Chapter 130

Cassandra was busy in the kitchen, preparing for making snacks.

Soon, there was a knock on the door.

Amelia volunteered to open it.

As a result, she saw a handsome stranger outside, who had a chilling temperament.

Thomas also stepped forward and took a look. He was stunned for a moment.

He didn't seem to expect that. He said, "Mr. Zelinski, why are you here?"

Amelia was a little confused. She thought, 'Who is Mr. Zelinski?

'Could he be Kenneth Zelinski in Drieso?'

Amelia withdrew her hand from the door with a little terror.

"Thomas? You're also recording here?"

Kenneth narrowed his eyes slightly. He didn't expect that he could meet Thomas there. If Yannick was there, he would probably complain about it.

Yannick would complain about how could Kenneth not find Thomas after watching so many videos yesterday.

“Yes.” Thomas showed great respect for Kenneth.

That was because Kenneth was Kayden’s good friend and boss.

“Mr. Zelinski, why did you come here?” Thomas was curious about why Kenneth came to this place.

“Is Cassandra here?”

Kenneth didn’t answer Thomas’ question but asked him back.

Kenneth thought, ‘Why didn’t I see Cassandra? Did she leave?’

“Are you looking for her? She’s in the kitchen.”

Amelia interrupted, telling Kenneth where Cassandra was and pointing in the direction. of the kitchen.

Kenneth nodded and walked towards there.

Amelia came close to Thomas curiously and patted him on the shoulder. “Is he Kenneth Zelinski from Drieso?”

Thomas answered, “Yeah.”

Amelia was shocked. She thought, ‘Mr. Zelinski is here for Cassandra. Does he know her?’

“Why does he look for her?”

‘Does he want to stand up for those idiots of the Yates family?’

Amelia asked, “Does Mr. Zelinski know Samantha?”

Amelia had to admit that Cassandra was quite well-connected, but Amelia didn’t know whether Kenneth came to care about Cassandra or trouble her.

Amelia thought, ‘But he doesn’t seem to be angry.’

Thomas said, “I don’t know.”

He thought, “To ask about Mr. Zelinski’s private affairs, you’d better come to Kayden. I don’t know anything.”

In the kitchen, Cassandra was busy making pastries in different cute shapes: piggy, lamb, panda, and so on.

Her ingenuity could be seen.

When she sensed someone coming in, Cassandra looked up and found it was Kenneth.

“Mr. Zelinski, why are you here?”

Kenneth smiled calmly and quickly returned to his coldness. "I watched the live video. yesterday. I was a little worried about you, so I came to have a look."

Cassandra was stunned. She wondered, 'He come there for me!

'Doesn't he have something to complete at the base? Hasn't he finished?'"

She said, "I'm fine. But have you finished your matter?"

"Yes." Kenneth washed his hands and was ready to help her. "I saw your show is off the air. When are you going back to Drieso?"

Cassandra stopped him and said, "I've almost done it."

Then she answered his question, "We'll go back after breakfast. What about you, Mr.

Zelinski?

"I'm here to see you. Since you are going to leave, of course, I will, too."

Kenneth smiled gently and started to joke with Cassandra.

Cassandra was dumbfounded for a moment. Kenneth's smile was beautiful, at least more beautiful than that of all the men she had seen.

Cassandra said, "You didn't have breakfast, did you? I cooked a lot. Let's eat and go back to Drieso together."

They were busy cooking in the kitchen. It was not good to eat too greasy food in the morning, so Cassandra made some cold dishes for breakfast, which were refreshing and appetizing.

Plus Jenny and Kenneth, Cassandra prepared the meal for five people, and she prepared more for Kenneth.

After all, soldiers burned calories fast and ate a lot. After being hungry for a day, Jenny finally had a satisfying meal.

As for the rest of the meal, Cassandra gave it to the staff of the production team.

After they finished the meal, it was nearly 11 a.m., and they reluctantly went to the airport.

At 3:30 p.m. Cassandra returned to her Springmount Townhouse, where Jeremiah was already waiting for her.

Jeremiah said, "You're back."

Cassandra replied, "Yeah."

Jeremiah joked, "You've only been there for a day, but you have shattered all Frederick's. pride. You're cruel."

Cassandra said, "You should know what happened since you saw the livestreaming. Mr. Smith didn't turn off his livestreaming. You operated it, didn't you?"

There was no need to ask. It must be Jeremiah who operated it. He watched Cassandra's show and got her message to help her delete the recipe. Then he would operate online. The police call was very likely to be made by him.

"You know me so well." Jeremiah graciously admitted.

He had nothing to hide from Elaine.

Cassandra didn't say anything more, as if she had acquiesced to what Jeremiah said.

Jeremiah said, "Hugo said that Raymond's hands have been cured."

"Well, then let him get out of here and not step into Whitecrane Hall again. Our deal is done." Cassandra said in a deep voice.

Jeremiah asked, "You can cure him in one go. Why did you choose this chronic treatment?"

This was what Jeremiah didn't figure out. According to Elaine's disgust for the Yates family, she should not want Raymond in Whitecrane Hall.

If it weren't for the 10 percent stake, she wouldn't have looked at them.

However, there was a quicker way to cure him, but it took her so long to do so. Jeremiah didn't know why.

"Cure him? Do you think I'm satisfied with that?" asked Cassandra.

The Yates family owed Cassandra that. So what if she took it back? As for Raymond's hands, they could be regarded as being cured.

As long as he didn't box, there would be no problem with his hands.

However, as long as he did so, his hand would never recover.

However, boxing was Raymond's dream. How could he not do it when his hands were cured? When his other hand recovered, he would definitely continue to box.

Jeremiah said, "So you let Hugo..."

Jeremiah felt that he might have understood it.

He thought, "No wonder it took so long. This little girl is cunning!"

Cassandra smiled. She looked like a villain in the TV series.

However, Jeremiah was satisfied with Elaine's growth.

Jeremiah thought, "The bastards of the Yates family don't know to cherish her, then I'll do it"

“Elaine is my, Jeremiah’s, sister for the rest of my life. Anyone who wants to bully her will have to go through me first.

“Ding!”

Cassandra’s phone rang. It was a strange number from Drieso.

Cassandra said, “Hello. Who is that?”

“Cassandra! You bi tch! You are so vicious. Lisa was finally released. Why did you let her be imprisoned again? You even sued her? Do you take me and your father seriously?”

Miranda was so angry. She didn’t know she was almost ruined until she rescued Yulissa.

But now, Yulissa was imprisoned again after she was out only for three days.

What could Miranda do to save Yulissa now?

Miranda hated Cassandra so much. Miranda wondered why Cassandra treated Yulissa like this.

“Mrs. Yates, instead of yelling at me, why don’t you spend another 7 billion dollars to save your daughter? There must be someone willing to help you.”
