

My Rebirth 141

Chapter 141

The three-day deadline agreed by the debt collector and the Yates family had expired. After learning that the Yates family was in the hospital, the debt collector went to the hospital.

It was not that he was cruel, but he had to do it because of the order from his boss.

The Yates family could only blame themselves for offending the wrong people.

The debt collector was following the order. His boss had told him to collect as much money as he could.

In the hospital, the man said, "Mrs. Yates, the three-day deadline has passed. Will you be paying the money or giving up the house?"

His tone was still arrogant as usual. The debt collector followed the legal process. Even if Miranda called the police, she had to pay the money according to the contract.

Miranda suddenly trembled. She didn't know anything.

The house and the money were hers. Miranda believed she didn't do anything.

"I don't owe you money. Don't come to me!" Miranda refused to admit it. She had nothing left except for the Yates residence and her private money.

As long as Miranda didn't hand them over, she could live a rich life if she was economical for the rest of her life.

"It's written clearly in the contract. If you want to deny it, I'm afraid you can't. If you don't choose, then I will submit this mortgage contract to the bank for repossession," the man cautioned.

The Yates family was shocked.

“No, you can’t do that!” Frederick shouted.

Frederick didn’t expect that what Leo said was true. Miranda had really mortgaged the house. Did Yulissa trick Miranda into doing so?

Frederick thought, ‘Is it true? Did Lisa really do that? Why did she do that? Did the Yates family treat her unfairly?’

Miranda was a little scared and nestled beside Frederick, trembling. Leonardo didn’t have the heart to see her like this. After all, Miranda was his mother.

“Just talk to me. I can make the decision!” Leonardo said.

Benjamin was in a coma now, and Miranda was too scared to say anything. Leonardo was the only one who could support the family now.

“Can you make the decision?” The man looked at Leonardo up and down. It seemed that Leonardo was a member of the Yates family, but he doubted if Leonardo could keep his word.

The man handed the contract to Leonardo and said. “Read it yourself it’s all written in the contract. Its evidence. We have given Mrs. Vates time to make a choice, but she seems to be dazed now”

The Yates family had no chance to get away with it.

Leonardo read the contract carefully and looked a little embarrassed. He thought s true that the Yates family has owed so much money. They have to pay either the house or the money.

Leonardo sighed and said. ‘Grve us a few more hours to discuss it.’

An hour later, they reached an agreement. They would pay the money.

However, for the time being, they wouldn't use Miranda's private money which should be kept for saving Benjamin.

They would collect 200 million dollars.

Leonardo was the eldest. He offered $0 million dollars, and Frederick, Jasper, and Matthew 30 million dollars each. Yohannes and Raymond were unwilling to go home. so they couldn't contribute any money.

Although Matthew returned home, he had to solve all his problems first before he could go to the hospital. But he didn't have any objection to the money.

Therefore, the money was soon enough

After the man got the money and registered it, this matter was settled.

Seeing that man leave, Miranda finally felt relieved. Her face was not so pale and she no longer looked afraid.

She felt lucky to have her sons who helped her settle the debt and keep the house.

Before Cassandra got home, she received a call from Connor. "Cassandra, have you checked your SAT score?" Connor asked.

Cassandra had been occupied recently. Suddenly she realized that she was still a student now. "Not yet. Can we check the scores now?" Cassandra replied.

"They'll come out tomorrow, but Mr. Huddleston said his phone had been busy all day."

Cassandra was a little confused, but she should have got good grades. “Well, I’ll check my scores tomorrow,” she said.

As soon as Cassandra hung up the phone, she received a call from Hugo.

“Ms. Yates, have you gone home?” Hugo asked.

“I just arrived at the door!” Cassandra replied.

“Okay, wait for me at home.”

The phone was hung up. Cassandra wondered what it was and why Hugo didn’t tell her on the phone.

Before long, Hugo came back, but not alone. There were several people behind him.

Most of them were middle-aged and old men, and several of the people looked nearly thirty years old.

“Ms. Yates, they are the principals from the universities in Drieso. They came to see you... Hugo said.

Since Cassandra left the Yates residence, her school information had been changed directly. Fortunately, she filled in the admission contact number late, so she crossed out all the information about the Yates family and changed it to Hugo’s.

But the scores would come out tomorrow.

One of the men said, “This is Cassandra, right? I’m the principal of Juset University. Next to me are the deans of the School of Physics and the School of Mathematics. We came here to invite you to study at Juset University!”

The principal of Juset University was an elderly man. He introduced the deans to Cassandra excitedly as he pointed at them.

Another man stated, "Cassandra, I am the principal of Braxton University. I cordially invite you to join our university. You will have the freedom to choose your major and will be awarded a full scholarship. What do you think?"

However, the man guessed that Cassandra must not lack money since she could afford to live in a villa. Anyway, he had to show his sincerity.

At this time, another man said, "Cassandra, I'm the principal of Elysian Hills University. Why don't you choose our school where you can select whatever major you want? We will provide you with a full scholarship and an independent dormitory. Most importantly, the canteen environment and staff are nice, and the food in our canteen is delicious."

Elysian Hills University was famous for its meals.

Cassandra heard them talking quietly. There were about eight universities, some of which were in Sloummont. Although Cassandra had expected her high scores, the scene still shocked her.

"Dear sirs, if I remember correctly, the SAT score will be released tomorrow. Am I right?" Cassandra said.

How could they get the news so fast?

It was not surprising for the universities to get the news ahead of time. However, getting the news one day in advance was still a bit outrageous.

One man said, "The results have been released a long time ago, but they will be announced tomorrow. We've already got the list of top 20 students in the country."

What he meant was that Cassandra was their prey and she'd better make a choice quickly.

Cassandra said, "Let me think about it. I haven't decided on a university yet."

At this time, the dean of Juset University added, “Cassandra, think about it carefully. Let me tell you this; Juset University is definitely your best choice. You will not only have a full scholarship but also an independent apartment, which is free for outstanding students. Although our canteen is not that famous, its taste will be no worse than that of high–end restaurants outside. So, Cassandra, you must think about it carefully!”

How could Cassandra not have decided which university to go to? In her past life, Yulissa accepted her placement and went to Juset University. Although Cassandra no longer needed to attend school, she did not have a degree in the country. Perhaps she should settle for it.

Besides, there was an old man at Juset University.

Chapter 142

The SAT results were available the next morning.

The students were very nervous about how many scores they could get or whether they could enter their favorite universities.

At ten o’clock, the gateway officially became available. However, due to an overwhelming influx of traffic, the system experienced a temporary crash.

After a long time, the students still didn’t get their results.

Since Edward received countless calls yesterday, Connor was concerned about Cassandra’s scores. Later, Edward also came to Connor’s office and wanted to know the result.

Connor called Cassandra when the scores were available.

However, Cassandra was studying the two medicines that Kenneth wanted last night. At four or five o’clock in the morning, Cassandra went to bed. So she was still dreaming at ten o’clock when she was woken up by the ringtone.

The phone rang several times, which annoyed Cassandra. She wanted to curse when she answered the phone, but the other end spoke first.

“Cassandra, did you get the result?” Connor asked.

Cassandra was stunned for a moment and said irritably, “No.”

Then she hung up the phone directly.

Cassandra was such a person. If she didn't want to sleep, she could stay up for about three days. However, when she fell asleep, she didn't want anyone to disturb her. No matter what happened, she would only handle it when she woke up.

After Cassandra hung up the phone, Connor was a little confused. He thought, ‘What is she doing? Doesn't she care about her scores at all?’

Edward was also very anxious and asked, “How is it? Did she check it out?”

Ever since the school violence case, Cassandra had blocked Edward without giving him a chance to defend himself. Therefore, Edward couldn't get in touch with Cassandra anymore.

Edward had no way but to find Connor.

Connor said in a trembling voice, “She didn't check it. She hung up the phone.”

Connor felt that Cassandra was not happy.

Edward was rendered speechless.

Then he asked, "How was her tone? Was it cold or a little irritable?"

That was important for Edward.

"She was a little irritable and even a little impatient..." Connor replied, wondering if he had accidentally offended Cassandra. No, he didn't think so.

Edward breathed a sigh of relief and said, "Let's wait. You can ask her later this afternoon."

Edward thought, I guess this little girl is doing some kind of experiment. She must have worked all night and haven't woken up."

Edward had been fortunate enough to be spoken to in such a manner on two occasions.

Hugo didn't dare to disturb Cassandra. He took the principals to wait on the first floor, asking them to keep their voices down as much as possible in case Cassandra got angry.

The principals were good-tempered. They just sat there and waited quietly without complaining.

They were afraid that if they raised their volume, Cassandra would be disturbed. What if she didn't apply to their universities because of this?

When Cassandra woke up, she found that the hall was full of people. They were the principals who had come to her yesterday.

"Cassandra, good morning. How are you?" The principal of Juset University, Henry, was the first to greet Cassandra warmly.

In this respect, his reaction was surprisingly quick.

“Cassandra, did you check your scores? How many did you get?” another principal asked.

The principals kept asking. They just had a rough estimation of the scores. Cassandra held a position within the top ten in the country, but the specifics remained unclear.

“I haven’t checked yet. Please wait a moment,” Cassandra replied.

Only then did Cassandra remember that someone seemed to have called her this morning to ask about her scores, but she hung up the phone.

Hugo took over Cassandra’s laptop and she quickly logged into the account to check the result.

Cassandra got a total score of 1598!

The principals were shocked by this result.

This time, there were only three students with a score of more than 1560. They thought that Cassandra’s score was at most about 1580, which was already remarkable.

Unexpectedly, Cassandra got 1598.

Only two points were deducted for literature.

The principals were excited. Every one of them was determined to get Cassandra.

The principal of Juset University was the first to react. He said, "Cassandra, as long as you apply for Juset University, you can choose your major as you like and the tuition is free. In addition to a full scholarship, we will provide you with outstanding student funds, start-up funds, and a free public student apartment. We will definitely give our best to you. Come to Juset University. There are many excellent students here..."

However, he was interrupted before he could finish his words.

The principal of Braxton University thought that if he didn't fight for it, Cassandra would go to Justet University, so he said, "Cassandra, come to Braxton University. You don't have to pay the tuition, and you will have a full scholarship. In addition, you can directly complete the combined undergraduate-master-doctor program, and work at Braxton University after graduation..."

All the principals offered the best conditions to Cassandra,

They all hoped that Cassandra could choose their universities.

"I already have a choice. Thank you for your kindness, Sirs. I choose Juset University," Cassandra said.

Except for the principal of Juset University, Henry Wilson, who smiled brightly, other principals were extremely disappointed.

Alas!

Juset University won this year's top student again.

Well, there were two more students who got more than 1560 scores.

The principal of Braxton University reacted quickly and immediately called the admission office to ask them to contact those two students.

However, Henry seemed to be calm. The most outstanding student had promised to come to Juset University, which was the biggest gain he got this year.

After the other principals left, Henry couldn't stop smiling. He said with a smile, "Cassandra, an old man asked me to tell you that he has prepared the thing you want!"

This was Henry's last trump card.

The old man told Henry if Cassandra had the idea of going to another university, Henry should say this sentence, and Cassandra would definitely go to Juset University. when she heard it..

However, before Henry said it, Cassandra agreed to come to Juset University directly.

Hearing Henry's words, Cassandra was stunned for a moment and then chuckled, saying, "Okay."

After the SAT scores came out, Cassandra's score was on the trending list.

The news was posted everywhere in Xemrich High School, and the news was played on all the LED screens in the school.

Cassandra got 1598 points!

It was the highest score in the school's history.

Even in the whole country, it was also the highest achievement in recent years.

Cassandra was such an excellent student, so everyone should know how extraordinary she was.

She deserved to be known by everyone.

Those students who had bullied Cassandra should know how good she was.

Even Kenneth knew about it. He prepared flowers and congratulatory gifts before he went to Springmount Townhouse to find Cassandra.

The Yates family also got the news.

Frederick was facing the risk of contract termination. During this period, he hadn't gotten any work, so he was basically banned from the industry.

When he checked Twitter, he found that Cassandra got the highest SAT score in the Country.

How was that possible?

How could Cassandra get such a high score?

Miranda had been discharged from the hospital. As soon as she was discharged, she went to see Yulissa in detention.

Seeing Yulissa's haggard appearance, Miranda felt distressed and said, "Lisa, you must have suffered a lot!"

When Yulissa saw Miranda, she was like seeing her life-savior. "Mom, help me! I don't want to go to jail or be sentenced!" Yulissa said.

"Okay. I'll save you. But how can I save you?" Miranda asked.

Chapter 143

Yulissa was very anxious and nervous. She didn't want to stay here. She couldn't figure out why she had been arrested again.

“Go find Cassandra and tell her to let me go!” Yulissa said.

This place was so terrible that Yulissa couldn't stand it anymore.

Miranda was very sad and cried, “She won't listen to me at all. She is an ungrateful girl.”

The thought of Cassandra made Miranda grit her teeth. Miranda cursed in her heart, ‘Damn girl! You little bitch! How dare you trap Lisa! I won't let you go, Cassandra Yates!’

“No, you are her mother. She won't disobey you. Mom, please help me. I don't want to stay here. It's too scary!” Yulissa was desperate.

Yulissa knew that Cassandra hated her.

However, Miranda was on Yulissa's side, so Yulissa would always be the winner.

Yulissa had six brothers. Even if two of them were missing, it didn't matter.

Miranda was about to break down. She spent so much money on saving Yulissa, but the money all went into Cassandra's pocket. Now, Miranda still needed Cassandra to save Yulissa.

Could Cassandra help them?

Miranda thought, ‘No, I'll let Cassandra let Lisa go whether she wants to or not! At the worst, I will... At the worst, I won't be mean to Cassandra anymore. As long as she can let Lisa go, I can do anything.’

Miranda said, “Lisa, don't worry. I won't let anything happen to you. Trust me. No matter what you do, you will always be my baby!”

Miranda's words touched Yulissa, but not much.

Yulissa only wanted to leave this place now and didn't have time to show her love to Miranda. She might as well talk about it later.

Miranda comforted Yulissa for a long time. Suddenly, Yulissa remembered her SAT

Score.

"Mom, go back and help me check my SAT score. I should be able to enter Juset University," said Yulissa.

Yulissa might have forgotten that she didn't finish her literature paper.

She was even too flustered that day and didn't do well in math in the afternoon.

However, Yulissa thought that since she had always been in the top five students in school, she could enter Juset University.

Yulissa's words were undoubtedly good news for Miranda.

As long as Yulissa could enter Juset University, Benjamin would definitely forgive Yulissa and Miranda.

Miranda thought, "That's right. As long as Yulissa can go to Juset University, then everything else will be fine!

Miranda said, "Okay, I'll check it for you when I get back!"

Cassandra saw Henry off and called Jeremiah to come over.

“Congratulations, the top SAT scholar!” Jeremiah teased.

Jeremiah smiled and handed the gift to Cassandra.

Cassandra took it naturally, with no expression on her face. It seemed that she was used to such things and didn't think it deserved to be congratulated.

“Find someone to get the hair of Miranda and Benjamin. I'll do another DNA test with them, Cassandra said.

The reason why Cassandra believed the DNA test report provided by Benjamin was that she found them in advance, and she did a test with Benjamin to confirm their father- daughter relationship.

However, Cassandra had never doubted Miranda's identity. Now she began to suspect whether Miranda was her biological mother.

Ever since Cassandra saw Miranda in the hospital, she had been suspicious.

Jeremiah felt that something was wrong. Why did Cassandra want to take the DNA test. again? So he asked, “Elaine, are you suspecting anything?”

Cassandra smiled slightly and said in a cold tone, “Don't you think Miranda has treated Yulissa too nicely?”

Although Benjamin loved Yulissa, when he knew that Miranda had spent all his money to save Yulissa, he beat Miranda hard.

That was the reaction of a normal person when in such a situation.

However, Miranda gave the money without thinking twice. She even felt that it was not a big deal.

Miranda and Benjamin were unwilling to spend a penny on treating Raymond's hand. If they were, Raymond's hand would have been cured long ago, but Miranda just agreed to what Benjamin did.

How could a mother who treated her own son like that be so good to her adopted daughter?

There must be a reason.

Cassandra said, "Send someone to the detention center and take Yulissa's hair out for a DNA test with Miranda and Benjamin."

Her guess must be confirmed.

Jeremiah said, "OK, no problem. But what are you going to do if it is confirmed that you have nothing to do with the Yates family or only one of them?"

Jeremiah's worry was reasonable. If Cassandra had nothing to do with the Yates family, they were free to treat a stranger no matter what they wanted. Since Cassandra also hated them, she could take action quickly without mercy.

However, if Cassandra was only related to Benjamin or Miranda, Cassandra must be an illegitimate child. How could Cassandra face it?

Cassandra answered, "No matter what the result is, they will only end up in one place." The ending would be the same. Cassandra just wanted to confirm her guess.

Cassandra had already died once, and she would not let the tragedy of her previous life happen again.

Even if there were many things in her previous life that she hadn't experienced in this life, it didn't matter. Cassandra would let them happen one by one.

Cassandra wouldn't take the first attack. When they attacked, she would shatter their pride, which would be revenge.

In Cassandra's previous life, she was overwhelmed by public opinion. In this life, the public opinion had to stand beside her.

Jeremiah said, "Okay, I see. Leave it to me. We'll get the result in three days!"

"Okay," Cassandra said.

Jeremiah took Cassandra's hair and did what she told him to do.

Suddenly, Cassandra's phone rang. It was Kenneth.

She picked up the phone and heard Kenneth's pleasant voice. "Cass, do you have time now?"

Cassandra said, "Yes, I do. What's the matter?"

"I need your technical help. Is it okay with you?" Kenneth asked.

"Sure. Send me the address." Cassandra agreed directly.

"Just wait for me at home. I'll come and pick you up!" Kenneth said.

In fact, Kenneth was already on his way back to Springmount Townhouse.

This matter was a little tricky, and Kenneth didn't want to bother Cassandra unless he had to.

Cassandra replied, "OK."

Kenneth needed technical help, so Cassandra guessed it was something that Emery had to solve.

Cassandra didn't think Kenneth knew more about her identities.

Elaine and Samantha were not in the business of Kenneth's company, so maybe there was something wrong with her Falcon Special Operations Force base.

Cassandra prepared her laptop which she often used and walked directly to the gate of Springmount Townhouse, waiting for Kenneth to pick her up.

Not far away, Kenneth saw Cassandra and hastened to her side.

However, Miranda arrived at the same time.

"Cassandra, stop! You bitch! How dare you harm Lisa? You must get her out!" Miranda shouted.

At the same time, Miranda rushed towards Cassandra.

Even the security guards couldn't stand it anymore. The Yates family was looking for trouble with Cassandra every day. They were really persistent.

Kenneth's face darkened when he saw Miranda. It seemed that the previous lesson was not enough. Kenneth said, "Cass, do you need me to help you deal with her?"

Cassandra said, "Do not worry. She cannot cause trouble for long. Let us address your business matters first."

Chapter 144

Kenneth nodded and ignored—Miranda’s words.

Cassandra didn’t want to waste time with Miranda. She just warned, “If you want your daughter to get a heavier sentence, come and have a try.”

Then Cassandra got into Kenneth’s car.

Miranda stood there in the car exhaust.

Miranda cursed behind the car, but no one paid any attention to her anymore.

On the way, Cassandra asked, “What happened? Why did you ask for my help?”

She wondered how tough the problem would be.

Kenneth said, “The defense system of the Falcon Special Operations Force Base was attacked, and my men couldn’t stand it. It would take too long to get approval from the information security department at all levels, so I came directly to you.”

The defense system of the Falcon Special Operations Force was built independently and was not operated or maintained by any department or agency.

This time, the Falcon Special Operations Force suffered an unprecedented attack. Kenneth’s men couldn’t solve it at all. Although they could hold on, they wouldn’t last long. Kenneth had no choice but to come to Cassandra.

He could get an approval later.

However, it was the same whether to report it or not. Cassandra was a free individual and she had the right to do anything except for being responsible for the information security department.

Cassandra said, "Then go and have a look first."

Cassandra looked a little solemn. It seemed that the problem was not simple.

Upon arrival at the base, Cassandra was astonished by the secret location of the place. She was unsure whether it was marked on the map.

There was such a large base in Drieso where each parcel of land was exceedingly costly.

Kenneth took Cassandra to the information security department. Everyone there was busy.

They were all men who sometimes cursed when encountering things that could not be solved easily. It seemed that they were all very anxious.

"What should we do? I can't guard here!"

"Oh, when will Commander Zelinski call for help?"

"He's too powerful. I can't defeat him!"

"I can't hold it! I can't! Somebody help me! Help me!"

Cassandra felt surprised.

On such a serious occasion, they were obviously nervous and scared to death. But for no reason, their words sounded amusing.

Cassandra didn't say anything. She sat down directly, turned on her laptop, and began to study the area being attacked.

In just a minute, Cassandra found the problem.

The system was attacked by an unknown organization, and a new computer virus was released. These people had never known or seen it before, so they couldn't fight against it at all.

They must have struggled for a long time. Their eyes were full of bloodshot, and they looked tired.

Cassandra didn't say anything and silently joined the battle. She checked the current defense. If Kenneth came to her two hours later, the system of Falcon Special Operations Force would be completely breached. At that time, all the information and strategies of Falcon Special Operations Force would be released. By then, everyone in Falcon Special Operations Force might be in danger.

Cassandra began to fight back and drove the virus away. At the same time, the damaged area was being repaired.

Everyone else was stunned. They seemed to have seen a chance of life.

Did they succeed in defending the system?

However, someone saw a girl sitting next to Kenneth. She sat expressionless in front of the laptop and was typing on the keyboard quickly.

They were all stunned.

For a moment, they forgot their work.

Suddenly, Cassandra's face darkened as if she was going to lose her temper. Then she shouted, "What are you looking at? Keep your hands moving!"

Cassandra directed them and she attacked. They were responsible for clearing the last obstacles and repairing the system.

Only a counterattack could eliminate the virus, and defense was useless.

After all, the firewall of Falcon Special Operations Force was not very strong.

Cassandra's face was serious, and Kenneth could not help but be nervous. Her fingertips were typing on the keyboard quickly.

Countless codes flooded in, and Cassandra's eyes scanned quickly, screening, filtering, and searching for the virus.

Although Kenneth didn't know anything about hacking, he had led the team for so long. Even if he couldn't do it, he could understand clearly what was going on.

The system was now slowly recovering, and even the virus should be destroyed by Cassandra soon.

Cassandra had solved the problem that couldn't be handled by so many people for so many days.

Kenneth was again amazed by Cassandra's strength.

At this time, Cassandra was sitting in front of the computer, and her beautiful eyes were full of indifference.

She seemed to be more indifferent than before. At this moment, she was no longer Cassandra but Emery.

In the early hours of the morning, the virus disappeared and the system was repaired.

Cassandra even upgraded the Falcon Special Operations Force's firewall at the last minute. She said, "With the firewall, if the Falcon Special Operations Force system is breached, you must be fired."

Everyone was shocked.

Although they were very excited now, Cassandra's words seemed to be too cruel.

She made them feel embarrassed, or even useless.

However, they had worked hard for a week and were about to die here..

The technicians thought they should be comforted and felt aggrieved.

Cassandra ignored them and closed her computer. "It's done," she said.

[That's awesome!]

[I feel like I almost died!]

[Me too. I was driven mad! Who are these people?"]

Kenneth secretly breathed a sigh of relief. He looked at Cassandra and said gratefully, "Thank you, Cassandra."

"By the way, I found the person responsible for infiltrating your system with the virus. Could you dispatch someone to catch him?" The recollection dawned on Cassandra as she informed Kenneth. The technicians' distressed cries and grievances had sparked Cassandra's memory of capturing the perpetrator of the virus.

"Okay, send me the address and person. I'll send someone to catch him now." Kenneth looked at Cassandra distressedly. He thought she must be exhausted after such an intensive task.

However, Cassandra tried to catch the hacker.

Kenneth was deeply moved. If given the chance, he would love to reunite with Cassandra at this moment.

Cassandra sent the information and IP address to Kenneth, who turned around and handed it to Yannick. "Bring this person back now," Kenneth ordered.

Since the hacker had failed, it meant that he might escape at any time.

If he ran away, what Cassandra had done would be in vain.

Cassandra remained in her seat, unwilling to rise, as she was acutely aware of her intense hunger and the effects of low blood sugar, which left her feeling slightly nauseous.

Kenneth said softly, "I've prepared food for you. Would you like to have some?"

Cassandra nodded and then shook her head. "I would like to go as well, but I'm feeling a bit hypoglycemic. I dare not get up," she said.

It would be so embarrassing if Cassandra fainted in front of so many people.

Kenneth was stunned and felt a little distressed. Then he said, "Then I'll hold you to dinner.

Cassandra had met the principals in the morning and was harassed by Miranda. Then she had been working for so long.

She was too tired.

Kenneth secretly blamed himself for his carelessness. He had thought that Cassandra could rest in the middle and continue after a break.

However, Cassandra didn't have a rest until she kept working for eight hours.

At this time, Cassandra's lips were already pale. "Okay," she replied.

Cassandra felt a little embarrassed. She was in such good health, but she had hypoglycemia and would faint if she didn't eat on time.

Cassandra thought that this was her most significant drawback.

In Kenneth's office, Kenneth filled a bowl of soup first and said, "Have some soup first."

Chapter 145

As it was too late, after Cassandra finished her meal, Kenneth took her to the room he had arranged.

Cassandra would rest on the base today and go home tomorrow.

Cassandra and Kenneth didn't know that Miranda had waited for eight hours in Springmount Townhouse before she left.

When Miranda left, she kept cursing Cassandra.

Miranda was helpless. It seemed that she could only ask one person for help.

If Yulissa couldn't be released soon, Miranda might lose her.

Early the next morning, Miranda excused herself to go out to see her friends and to Fallvale Mansion.

went

It had been 18 years since Miranda last came to Fallvale Mansion. Everything was still the same as before, but Miranda wondered whether the people inside were still those she knew.

"Ding!" Miranda rang the doorbell..

A woman in a maid's uniform came to open the door and said respectfully, "Madam, who are you looking for?"

Miranda glanced at the maid and said, "I'm looking for Ewan Perry. Is he home?"

The maid was stunned and asked, "May I ask what your name is? I'll go inform Mr. Perry."

"Miranda. He knows me," Miranda replied.

Over the past 18 years, Ewan has remained unmarried and single. Nonetheless, he chose to adopt a son to provide companionship and care during his elderly years.

Ewan had a daughter. How could he need someone to take care of him in his old age and occupy his family property?

After a while, the maid came back and opened the door respectfully. "Ma'am, please come in.”

Miranda stayed in the house for three hours. She was happy when she left.

But she stopped smiling when she got home.

“Leo, Fred, Jace. Mat. Why are you all at home? Miranda asked. Since they were all home, who was with Benjamin in the hospital!

Leonardo stood up and asked. “Mom, where have you been this morning””

Although Miranda’s face was still full of sadness, Leonardo could tell whether she was happy or not.

Leonardo couldn’t help but wonder who on earth could be so charming

Miranda was a little embarrassed. She didn’t expect that her wins would find it out. She had thought she hid her emotions well. So she admitted it directly. “Yulissa will be saved and won’t go to jail”

“Really?” Frederick, Jasper, and Matthew all asked in union

Only Leonardo frowned and said with disapproval, “She did something wrong. Didn’t she deserve to be punished! What kind of connection have you used to help her?”

The Yates family couldn’t take any blow again

Miranda glared at Leonardo and felt that he was getting less and less considerate. Then she said, “Don’t worry. I didn’t use any connection or spend a penny”

Miranda thought she just asked for help to save Yulista

Leonardo said, "Mom, do you think Yulissa won't do it again if she is released! She has made many mistakes and should be punished?"

Suddenly, Miranda slapped Leonardo in the face.

Although Miranda was a little stunned by what she had done, she didn't regret the slap. "Leonardo, how could you say so? Lisa is your favorite sister. How could you say such cruel words?" Miranda said in anger.

Cruel?

Leonardo didn't think so.

Miranda's slap didn't make Leonardo change his mind but made him more sober.

Leonardo shouted, "I am cruel. Mom, since you only love Yulissa, go with her from now on!"

Leonardo pointed to the door and told Miranda to get out.

Miranda asked, "Do you want me to get out?"

How could Miranda follow Leonardo's idea? L sat directly on the sofa and said, "Let me tell you something. This is my home!"

Leonardo said, "Fine. If you don't want to go with her, then I won't care about Dad anymore. He's your duty now."

Leonardo had been disappointed with Miranda. This time, he disappointed.

was even more

However, just as Leonardo was about to leave, Frederick and Jasper stopped him and said, "Leo, where are you going?"

If Leonardo didn't care about the family, the younger brothers would be the ones to take care of everything.

They couldn't take care of themselves. How could they handle everything in the family?

Leonardo said, "Wherever I go, it's my freedom. It has nothing to do with you!" Leonardo's attitude was so strong that no one could stop him.

Miranda said, "Leonardo, don't go too far. Benjamin is your father. Of course, you have to take care of him!"

Miranda would never take care of Benjamin by herself.

"He is your husband. Don't you care about him?" Leonardo asked.

Then he shook off Frederick's hand and left the Yates residence directly.

It was noon when Cassandra returned, and Kenneth had driven her back.

Kenneth said, "Thanks for your help this time. Without you, we don't know what consequences our system would face."

The consequences were immeasurable. Kenneth had been ready to destroy the basic information of all his members for fear that it would fall into the hands of the enemy. However, Kenneth didn't expect that Cassandra would be his savior.

She destroyed the virus, restored the system to normal operation, and upgraded it.

Kenneth felt a twinge of shame. The once stubborn girl had transformed into a superwoman who seemed to know everything. He wondered the extent of her sacrifices.

"You'll have to pay for it next time," Cassandra joked.

This time, Cassandra almost fainted because of low blood sugar, which was a bit embarrassing.

Kenneth smiled slightly and said, "Okay. I'll make up for it next time."

Cassandra remained silent. She was incredibly fatigued after staying up so late these past two days, feeling almost as though she were experiencing jet lag.

Kenneth said, "Go back and have a good rest. I'll come back in a few days, and take you to dinner then."

There were still things to be solved at the base, and Kenneth was also on guard against the Zelinski family, so he barely showed up these days.

"Okay, be careful!" Cassandra reminded.

Jeremiah had been waiting for Cassandra at Springmount Townhouse.

He carried out the task after he received Cassandra's order yesterday.

It was easy to get Benjamin's hair. No one was there to take care of Benjamin in the ward, so Jeremiah could come and go freely. Then Jeremiah asked someone to steal Miranda's hair.

As for Yulissa, she was still in a separate room in the detention center. There was her hair on her comb, so Jeremiah just needed to get the comb.

Cassandra thought it would take three days, but Jeremiah handled it in just one day.

Seeing Jeremiah, Cassandra raised her eyebrow and asked calmly, "Has the test report.

come out?"

"It's out. I'm really surprised! You are Benjamin's child, but you have nothing to do with Miranda, Yulissa is Miranda's child, but she has nothing to do with Benjamin," Jeremiah said mysteriously.

What a family!

It turned out that Cassandra and Yulissa weren't sisters.

It was all Benjamin's fault!

The result seemed to be what Cassandra had expected.

After all, Cassandra knew best that Benjamin was her father because she had done the DNA test with him. However, Cassandra ignored Miranda and naturally thought that Miranda was her biological mother.

Well, what an irony!

Cassandra and Yulissa were both illegitimate children.

However, Yulissa knew that her mother was Miranda. What about Cassandra? Was her mother dead or disabled?

Cassandra cursed in her heart, "The Yateses, you all deserve to die!"

Chapter 146

Cassandra was happy when she learned that Miranda was not her biological mother, and meanwhile, she thought it would be great if Benjamin weren't her biological father.

However, she done the DNA test herself. Besides, Jeremiah asked someone to do it for her once. The results were the same.

Cassandra had to accept the truth.

Upset, Cassandra began to rub her forehead.

"Find out who Yulissa's biological father is."

Cassandra didn't want anything unexpected to happen. If Yulissa's biological father was an ordinary person, no matter how hard he tried, he wouldn't make any change.

If Yulissa's biological father was powerful, he would soon help Yulissa out even if Yulissa was sentenced.

If that happened, what Cassandra had done would be to no avail!

Jeremiah glanced at Cassandra and said, "I have thought about that and have already asked someone to investigate it. We will have a result in two days."

“Elaine, I always felt that Benjamin is not your biological father. He is mean, sharp-tongued, and shameless. How could he give birth to a lovely daughter like you? Is there any mistake in the DNA test?” Jeremiah still couldn’t accept the result.

Elaine was eager for family affection. If it weren’t for her yearning for family affection, she would not have left Lucas and Sylvia and returned to the Yates family.

The members of the Yates family didn’t take Elaine seriously at all and even hurt her. It took Elaine a long time to decide to cut ties with the Yates family, Jeremiah was overjoyed when he heard that Elaine wanted to do the DNA test again.

Jeremiah thought Elaine would feel relieved if she was unrelated to the Yates family. Unfortunately, the DNA test showed that Benjamin was Elaine’s biological father.

“The results won’t be fake. We tested twice. Let’s talk about it later. Please help me find out who Benjamin had an affair with before.”

Elaine couldn’t change the fact that she was Benjamin’s daughter. But at least, Miranda was not her biological mother, so she had to avenge herself on Miranda for what she had suffered in her previous life.

Elaine thought, You wanted to save Yulissa. Let’s see if you can make it.”

After Lucas and Sylvia learned about Elaine’s SAT scores, they finished everything yesterday and flew back from Brightberg in a hurry.

Lucas and Sylvia went to Springmount Townhouse directly.

Sylvia took Cassandra’s hand excitedly and said, “Oh, my dear. You are excellent. You did a good job on the SAT.”

Cassandra was startled by Sylvia and Cassandra's sudden visit.

Cassandra thought, 'Aren't they in Brightberg? Why are they back?'

Lucas was also excited. He beamed at Cassandra and said, "Cassie, I'm proud of you!"

Cassandra was happy to see Sylvia and Cassandra. After all, it had been a long time since she last saw them.

"It's just a normal performance."

Sylvia and Lucas both knew that Cassandra was a straight-A student, so it was indeed easy for Cassandra to get such scores on the SAT.

Even so, Sylvia and Lucas were still very excited.

Lucas thought it was a piece of good news for the whole Hathaway family.

He took it as an honor.

"Cassie, tell me what you want. I'll buy it for you!"

Sylvia finally found a place to spend the money she earned.

Sylvia even thought that her son didn't deserve her money and only a docile and talented girl like Cassandra could spend her money.

"Sylvia, I don't need anything. Don't waste your money."

Sylvia frowned and said disapprovingly, “How can it be a waste of money? I’m glad to spend money on you. Since you don’t tell me, then I will buy something I want to give you!

“By the way, Lucas and I discussed on our way here and decided to hold a graduation party for you!”

In the Yates residence, after Leonardo left, there seemed to be a note of depression hanging over the family.

Leonardo had moved to a new house. Yohannes and Raymond had run away from home. Now Frederick, Jasper, and Matthew were the only three who were still living in this family, and their father Benjamin was still in a coma.

Miranda thought, “What on earth happened? How could a good family become like this all of a sudden?”

Miranda suddenly remembered something. She patted her thigh and said, “Fred, Jace, and Matthew, check Lisa’s SAT score. She said she could be admitted by Juset University.

This was undoubtedly good news. Jasper couldn’t wait to go to Yulissa’s room on the second floor, take out Yulissa’s exam admission ticket, and log in to the inquiry system.

Yulissa:

Reading: 243.

Writing and Language: 203.

Math: 565.

Total Score: 1,008.

Frederick, Jasper, and Matthew were speechless.

Frederick thought, 'Can Lisa really be admitted by Juset University with those scores? What was Lisa doing on the exam? Her total scores just passed 1,000! We can get better scores even if we attend the test now.

Miranda was in a good mood and even proud. "She must get at least 1,500 points, right?"

Jasper was a little speechless because of his mother's smug look. He didn't know whether he had been influenced by Leonardo or not, and he grew impatient and dissatisfied with Yulissa now. "Mom, Lisa still needs about 500 scores if she wants to be admitted by Juset University. There is no chance for her to be admitted by Juset University unless you are the principal."

Miranda's face changed. Her tone was a little unfriendly. "How can you say that? Lisa. has always been doing well at school. Don't you know that?"

Jasper rolled his eyes and said, "Yeah. So how did she get only 1,000 points?"

Frederick didn't believe it. "This must be a mistake. Lisa can get 1,500 points. How could she only get 1,008 points? The scores must be input wrongly."

"Ha-ha."

Jasper couldn't help but sneer. "This is the SAT. Registration Numbers of each test taker are unique. They may input the information about the students wrongly at first, but they won't wrongly input the scores."

Jasper was a straight-A student. Actually, his brothers and sisters all had good academic performance. Another reason why Jasper looked down on Cassandra at the beginning was that Cassandra came from the countryside and had poor academic performance.

Therefore, Jasper thought Cassandra was not qualified to be his sister.

But now, Jasper felt so embarrassed when he found that his favorite sister only got 1,008 points on the SAT.

Jasper then asked out of curiosity. "How many points did Cassandra get?"

Frederick's expression changed, not knowing if he should speak out Cassandra's score. He said in the end, "She got 1,582 points in total."

Everyone present was shocked.

"It is close to full marks, isn't it?"

Jasper thought in shock, 'How could this be possible? That girl from the countryside got such a high score. It should be the highest score in the whole country!

Frederick's face darkened. "Yes, it was said the highest score on the Internet."

Jasper opened Twitter and searched for posts about the top scores on the SAT.

Jasper then saw a picture of several famous universities competing for Cassandra. Jasper used to look down on Cassandra. He didn't expect Cassandra to be a girl with excellent academic performance. Jasper only got 1,500 points back then.

Miranda didn't believe it. She said, "Call the College Board and check Lisa's scores again. I don't believe this is Lisa's score. How is that possible?"

Jasper ignored Miranda and thought, 'If you want to check Yulissa's scores again, go contact the College Board yourself.

Jasper thought it would only disgrace himself.

Frederick, however, was very supportive of Miranda and he didn't think Yulissa would only get 1,000 points.

Matthew didn't speak. He did not know what had happened at home yet, but he also didn't think the team of the College Board would wrongly input Yulissa's SAT score though Yulissa's score was far lower than usual.

Therefore, Matthew didn't say much. He just ignored his mother and Frederick.

Chapter 147

"What?" cried Sylvia in shock.

Lucas and Sylvia were shocked, wondering what had happened.

Sylvia asked uncertainly, "You... You mean you are not Miranda's daughter, but you are Benjamin's child?"

Cassandra nodded slightly and admitted it.

Sylvia was furious at once.

Sylvia held Lucas' arm tightly as if she was trying to control her temper.

"Damn it! How dare Miranda treat you like that before! She must know that you are not her biological daughter. Otherwise, a mother wouldn't treat her child like this! She is simply a beast!"

It was June, so Sylvia was wearing a long-sleeved red dress. She rolled up her sleeves to her elbows in anger and wanted to get even with Miranda right away!

Cassandra stopped Sylvia.

“Sylvia, calm down. It’s not a big deal. I feel relieved that she is not my mother.

“If you want to hold a graduation party for me, let’s do it!” Cassandra agreed to it in the end.

As expected, Sylvia immediately calmed down.

“Really?”

Cassandra pursed her lips and said, “Yes.”

Sylvia thought, “Then I’ll let Miranda go for now. The Yates family shouldn’t exist. After Cassie’s graduation party is finished, Lucas will deal with the Yates family!”

However, Lucas caught the other point of Cassandra’s words. “You just said that Miranda’s biological daughter is in detention, and Yulissa is Miranda’s biological daughter, right?”

“Yes.

Lucas was even more puzzled. He asked, “Since you were not born by Miranda, why did Miranda lose you in the first place? Did she do it on purpose?”

There were many mysteries about the whole thing!

Lucas thought, 'Since Cassie is not Miranda's daughter, so she shouldn't have known where Cassie was born. Since Benjamin cheated on her in marriage, he should protect Cassie's biological mother!

'But why did Cassie get lost and Miranda's daughter returned to the Yates family?

'Then who is Yulissa's biological father?

"Why was she raised in the Yates family?

Lucas' words made Cassandra silent for a moment.

Cassandra thought, 'Why didn't I and Jeremiah think of these things?

Since I have nothing to do with Miranda. Why did Miranda lose me?

'She can just say that the child in her belly was Benjamin's. Why did she get me first. lose me, and then adopt Yulissa? Why did she make Yulissa the adopted daughter of the Yates family? She could directly lie that Yulissa was Benjamin's biological daughter back then, couldn't she?"

"I'll have someone investigate it again."

Cassandra has to figure out the mystery about herself!

Now Cassandra didn't want any family affection from Benjamin and other members of the Yates family, but Miranda had to pay for what she had done!

Miranda and Frederick entered the door of the office of the College Board after constant complaining. Finally, they were received!

The person who received them personally brought out Yulissa's exam paper!

Miranda and Frederick examined Yulissa's exam paper.

When Frederick opened the writing section, his face turned pale.

It was blank!

This alone was enough to turn Yulissa away from Juset University!

Miranda and Frederick then checked other test papers and were shocked by Yulissa's performance.

Frederick couldn't stand it anymore!

Frederick could recognize Yulissa's handwriting, so he was sure those papers were Yulissa's.

Seeing Frederick's gloomy face, the person who received them knew that they had humiliated themselves, but he didn't intend to let them go easily!

He thought, 'This woman makes trouble every day, and even claimed that his daughter could go to Juset University!

"Even if her daughter could get another 300 points, she would not be admitted by Juset University!"

He said, "Is there any problem with the scores? Nowadays, all the test papers are checked by high-tech equipment, and we can't make mistakes. These are the real scores. Although the total score of your daughter is only more than 1,000 points, it should be no problem for her to study in an ordinary college. As parents, don't pressure on your child!"

put too much

Miranda's face was occupied by embarrassment!

Initially, Miranda thought that the College Board had wrongly input Yulissa's scores. But when Yulissa's test papers were put in front of Miranda and when Miranda looked at blank sections, she knew that Yulissa had no chance to enter Juset University.

Frederick looked at the man coldly and said, "What are you talking about? My sister just didn't do her best. You don't have to be so mean."

The man was annoyed. He thought, 'I have been polite to you! But it is you who shamed yourselves.

"Mr. Yates, I'm just telling the truth. I just kindly suggested that you'd better not put much pressure on your sister. Am I wrong? You called to report and complain because you think that your sister could be admitted to Juset University. Am I right? But I think you should at least have a better understanding of your sister's academic performance before you have any expectations.

"If she usually got good points but failed on the SAT, then you should ask if she had cheated usually!"

Miranda felt embarrassed, but no one could say that her daughter was not excellent. "Who do you think you are? Even though my daughter did badly in the exam, I have a way to let her be admitted to Juset University. Your child will never have such a chance!"

Miranda choked and felt that she had a lot of power. Hearing that, the man was amused. "Okay, I'll wait for your daughter to be admitted to Juset University!"

The man wanted to see how this kind of underachiever could be admitted to Juset University!

Chapter 148

Frederick and Miranda made a sensation at the office of the College Board!

The man didn't care about what Frederick and Miranda had said at all, whether it was a report or a complaint!

After all, those things were quite common in the College Board.

However, someone posted the whole conversation between Frederick and Miranda and the man in the College Board and the surveillance video of the whole thing on Twitter!

"Who do you think

you are? Even though my daughter did badly in the exam, I have a way to let her be admitted to Juset University. Your child will never have such a chance!" Miranda's voice sounded in the video.

Miranda's words, thoroughly angered those diligent test takers who just wanted to get a good score on the SAT, and their parents who had been worried about them for three years!

[Damn it! What does she mean by that? Does she mean that her daughter can still be admitted to Juset University even though she got a low score on the SAT?"]

[How ridiculous! Is the threshold of Juset University so low now? Does it mean that even underachievers can be admitted to it?]

[What an arrogant woman! Does she think Juset University is hers?"]

[I'm studying at Juset University now. If this kind of person is admitted to Juset University, I will drop out. I don't want to be an alumnus with such a person!]

[Who is this arrogant woman? Is the principal of Juset University her husband? How dare she say that her daughter could be admitted to Juset University as long as she wanted. She can simply say that her daughter can choose any university in Drieso.]

“I’m a test taker this year. I got 1,495 points. Even so, I’m not sure if I can be admitted to Juset University. If her daughter could get into any university with 1,008 points. Then what’s the point of my effort?”]

[@Juset University, please explain it clearly!]

[This woman looks so familiar. Was she ever the trending topic on Twitter before?]

[Why don’t you just say that she is your mother who has been separated from you for many years? After all, she can let you be admitted to Juset University!]

[Can you talk nicely or think with reason? I checked previous trending topics on Twitter. Look carefully, Yulissa’s mother, was the mother of the murderer charged with wilful murder!]

[What? She is Yulissa’s mother. No wonder she is so mean!].

[@Juset University!!]

The head of the Publicity Department of Juset University was about to issue a summer vacation notice and admission instructions. However, when he opened Twitter, he found that the university’s official Twitter account was mentioned many times.

What’s going on?”

He then began to view the posts online.

He was both shocked and angry.

He then went to the principal's office.

The principal flew into a rage when he saw this trending topic.

“Damn it! How dare she slander Juset University! Make a statement at once, and I will sue this woman for spreading lies!”

The netizens were still mentioning Juset University on Twitter. Initially, they thought it would take a long time before the official account of Juset University responded to this matter.

Unexpectedly, the official Twitter account of Juset University made a statement in just a few minutes!

“About the trending topic #My daughter goes to Juset University University, our school solemnly declares again;

Juset University adheres to Fairness and impartiality and welcomes public scrutiny. We shall give no privilege to those from powerful and rich families. All students are treated equally. If you want to become a member of Juset University, then compete with all the test takers and pass the SAT or be admitted as a special technical talent. There are only two ways for you to be admitted to Juset University!

There was no shortcut in life. Juset University will not give anyone a shortcut. All the people who are admitted to our university have no privileges!

In addition, according to the principal's order, we will prosecute the rumormongers and never give anyone a chance to slander Juset University!”

As soon as this news came out, it threw an uproar on Twitter. [Ha–ha, that’s really funny]

[Juset University is an institution of higher learning that students all over the country yearn for. If there are really people who can be admitted to it through the back door, it will really disgrace the university!]

I just want to know what kind of sentence would the one who spread the rumor receive!]

This is the first time for me to support the school. They should sue the one who spread the rumor!]

[I just want to know whether the Yates family feels embarrassed. Didn’t she say her daughter could be admitted to Juset University? Then make it and let us see.]

Frederick didn’t miss the trending topics on the Internet, but when he saw that it was caused by his mother’s words, his face darkened!

Frederick thought, Why did these words appear online? How can we save Lisa now?”

Cassandra also saw the trending topic. She snorted sarcastically!

Cassandra thought, “Yulissa ruined her future herself. Now, her mother made the situation worse. That’s really funny.

Ding. Cassandra’s phone rang.

It was a call from Kenneth.

“Kenneth, what’s the matter?”

“Are you at home now? My task is completed. I’ll take you to dinner.”

Kenneth had promised to treat Cassandra to a meal before. After his task was finished, he couldn’t wait to come back to see Cassandra!

“Yes. What do you want to eat?”

Speaking of food, Cassandra seemed to be a little hungry.

“You will know when we arrive at the restaurant.”

Soon, Kenneth picked up Cassandra. They set off to the restaurant directly. Looking at the scenery outside, Cassandra could tell they were heading to the suburbs.

On arrival at a building, Cassandra was sure that they were in the suburbs!

There was only one building in front of them. It was a three-story building and was mixed with styles of architecture in Ouflanca!

It looked good and was surrounded by lush woods, like a building hidden in nature or a restaurant in the park.

Cassandra was attracted by the scenery in front of her. It had to be said that it was very beautiful there, and even the buildings in front of her complemented the surrounding trees and flowers.

Cassandra thought it would look even better if there were no car parking there.

“Are we going to have dinner here?” There was a hint of delight in Cassandra’s tone!

“Yes, go in and have a look. You’ll like it!”

Kenneth smiled and showed Cassandra the way.

After it was time for dinner, there were quite a lot of people. But there were still unoccupied tables. Cassandra could see that the people who came to eat there were either rich or powerful.

“Kenneth, you’re here. Do you still want your usual table?”

When the receptionist saw Kenneth, he immediately greeted Kenneth respectfully!

He was the one who received Kenneth every time, but this time it was different. In the past, Kenneth came alone or came with his brother, but this time Kenneth came with a little girl who didn’t seem to be 18 years old!

“Yes.

Cassandra thought to herself, ‘It seems that Kenneth often eats here. Everyone knows him! But it makes sense. After all, he would only eat good food.

After arriving at the private room, the manager took out the menu and said, “Kenneth. please order!”

This time, he didn’t ask Kenneth directly whether he would like the dishes as before.

After all, Kenneth brought a different guest this time.

The manager thought it might be Kenneth's treat!

So he took out the menu.

Cassandra opened the menu and was surprised when she saw the price.

Cassandra found that the food there was so expensive!

Cassandra felt relieved that it was Kenneth's treat.

Cassandra closed the menu and said, "Just serve your special food.

Kenneth didn't object but said, "And steak."

After the manager left, Cassandra asked curiously, "Kenneth, do you often eat here?"

Cassandra didn't understand why Kenneth asked her to cook for him instead of coming here for dinner last time since Kenneth knew such a good restaurant.

"Well, as long as I'm in Drieso, I come here every few days."

Chapter 149

Soon, all the dishes were served.

Cassandra had to admit that the food there was delicious.

The restaurant could be seen as one of the few restaurants where Cassandra could be in a good mood because of the food there.

Kenneth also felt Cassandra's good mood.

"It seems that the food here meets your tastes."

Kenneth thought, 'It's worth it to come here for dinner now that the food here meets Cass's taste.

"Yes, it tastes good." Cassandra praised without hesitation.

Kenneth smiled and thought, 'I have to take more chances to invite Cass here to dinner with me in the future. Since Cass likes the food here, I can consider giving more tips later.

Cassandra was a little curious. People like Kenneth didn't take the initiative to discover a good restaurant, so she asked, "Kenneth, how did you find this place?"

Kenneth put down the fork in his hand, picked up a napkin beside him, and wiped his mouth. "This restaurant is owned by Kayden. I was forced to have food here. I came twice and found the food here is delicious. No restaurant on the market is better than this one, so I got used to eating here over time."

In addition to becoming a member of the Falcon Special Operations Force, 22-year-old Kayden also liked delicious food and insisted on opening a restaurant.

Kayden borrowed money from Kenneth to open this restaurant. Thanks to the good taste of the food there and Kayden's reputation, all rich and powerful people came there for dinner.

Over time, this restaurant gained a firm foothold in Drieso. Once upon a time, there was always a long queue waiting for a chance to have dinner there. Kayden didn't want guests to wait so long every time they came there.

So Kayden made a change. Every day, there were 20 tables available for service at noon and 30 tables available for service at night. Each table could allow two to eight people to have a meal together. That was all.

Since then, the restaurant had been managed like this steadily.

Cassandra thought, That explains everything. I know a man like Kenneth wouldn't take the initiative to find delicious food. It turns out that this restaurant is owned by Kayden.

"I see," said Cassandra.

Kenneth found that as long as Cassandra got the answers she wanted to know, she would say very little then.

Kenneth didn't know what else he could talk with Cassandra

Kenneth had never been alone with girls in a place, so when he stayed with Cassandra, there would always be an embarrassing silence.

"I heard from Mr. Hathaway that he is going to hold a graduation party for you?"

Kenneth found a topic to chat with Cassandra.

Kenneth didn't want that embarrassing silence.

Cassandra raised her eyebrows and asked in surprise. "How do you know that?"

Kenneth turned on his phone and handed it to Cassandra. Cassandra then saw an email on Kenneth's phone. It was an invitation from Lucas, asking Kenneth to attend Cassandra's graduation party. "Kenneth, thank you for taking care of Cassie in Drieso. I specially invite you to Cassandra's graduation party three days later

After that, there was a short description of Cassandra's performance on the SAT. Cassandra seemed to be able to see the pride in Lucas's eyes.

Cassandra was a little embarrassed. She returned the phone to Kenneth and said, "Sorry, I didn't expect Lucas to be so exaggerated.

Kenneth

put his phone on the table, smiled gently, and said in a slightly relaxed tone. "It's not exaggerating. If it were me, I would probably tell the whole world. Lucas is already low-key."

Kenneth was just a friend of Cassandra now. If possible, Kenneth really wanted to tell the world that his beloved little girl Cassandra was the best in the world.

Cassandra's ears suddenly turned red. She blushed with shyness. She thought. Forget it. He is always more eloquent.

Cassandra then began to change the topic. "The graduation party will be held in three days. It is my party, but why don't I know about it?"

Cassandra really didn't know about that. Lucas and Sylvia only told her that they were going to hold a graduation party for her. They didn't mention the specific time of the party.

Cassandra thought, I just came out for dinner, but they have already set the time for the party?'

Kenneth was amused by Cassandra's puzzled look. He had seen many traits of Cassandra's character, including the cold-blooded side, the decisive side when dealing with the Yates family, the serious side as Emery, and the usually indifferent side..

It was the first time Kenneth had seen such a confused and puzzled look on Cassandra's face.

Kenneth was a little surprised. His heart softened. "I guess Mr. Hathaway wants to do it as soon as possible. Your admission letter will arrive soon so that he can show off better at that time."

Cassandra was speechless.

Cassandra thought, They are exaggerated. They don't have to do so.

"Don't make fun of me.

Cassandra couldn't understand Lucas's exaggerated behavior.

Kenneth, however, was very understanding and supportive of Lucas.

Lucas wanted to show the Yates family how excellent the daughter they abandoned was. He wanted to show that the child the Yates family abandoned was the most dazzling one in Drieso and even the whole country.

Lucas wanted the Yates family to regret what they had done.

In Yates residence, Miranda's back from the detention center.

Miranda had told Yulissa the scores Yulissa got, but Yulissa couldn't accept the scores at all.

Yulissa didn't believe that she only got 1,008 points.

Yulissa had a good academic performance before. Therefore, she didn't believe that she only got such a low score and thought that the College Board must have made a mistake when inputting her scores.

Yulissa broke down and cried when Miranda told her about the papers she had examined at the office of the College Board.

Miranda couldn't remember what Yulissa said. All she knew was that Yulissa said. "Mom, please help me out of here. I want to go to Juset University. My life can't be ruined like this."

Miranda went home with a sad face and didn't know what had happened on the Internet. When she saw Frederick, she took Frederick's hand and pleaded. "Fred, find a way to help your sister. You have been in showbiz for so many years. There must be a way, right? Find a way to let your sister be admitted to Juset University!"

Frederick felt that his mother had lost her reason, He said in an impatient tone, "Mom, even if Lisa can get out of the detention center, she won't be able to be admitted to Juset University. Her scores have been exposed, and what you said at the office of the College Board has all been exposed online. Juset University has issued a statement that it will hold you accountable for spreading rumors and will not allow Lisa to go to Juset University.

Miranda's face turned pale as if she had been struck by lightning. She thought in shock, 'How could this happen?'"

"It is impossible. It will ruin Lisa, isn't it?"

Recently, the company that had been supporting Frederick all these years was talking about the termination of the contract with Frederick, which had become a big problem for Frederick. He had no time to care about what happened at home at all. He said. "Mom, tell me honestly whether Lisa hired someone to hit Cassandra."

Frederick used to believe that it had nothing to do with Yulissa because of his understanding of Yulissa's character, but he began to doubt it now.

Since the court said that it would give a sentence another day. Frederick thought the court must have gotten conclusive evidence. Yulissa, however, always said that she was innocent, even her mother thought so. Frederick thought, 'So who should he believe?'"

Miranda's expression looked a little unnatural. She avoided eye contact with Frederick. "Fred, don't you believe in Yulissa?"

"It's because I trusted her too much that things ended up like this. I defended her many times, damaged my image, and brought losses to the company. Now the company wants to terminate the contract with me, and I have to pay liquidated damages!"

As long as Frederick thought of the decision he made out of impulse, he would regret it!

Frederick didn't expect things to go on like this.

"Fred, it wasn't Yulissa's fault. That whole mess, it was Cassandra who stirred it up, she's not letting it go. She wants to ruin Yulissa!"

The more Miranda thought about it, the more convinced she became.

. and

Frederick was shocked by Miranda's words. "Mom, listen to what you said. Even though I don't like Cassandra, I don't want her to die. She was lucky and saved this time. If she were not that lucky, she might not even have been able to take part in the SAT and even died, wouldn't she?"

Chapter 150

Miranda was heartbroken. She felt that Frederick should unite with her and think about a way to help Yulissa out instead of questioning her. She scolded Frederick harshly. "What are you talking about? Lisa is your sister. Cassandra deserves it even if she is unlucky and dies!"

Frederick shook his head in disbelief. He had never expected that his mother would say such vicious words. "Mom, Cassandra is your biological daughter no matter what. Why do you want her to die so badly?"

Miranda's expression remained unchanged, but the viciousness in her eyes became more obvious.

At that moment, Frederick felt that his mother was strange and terrifying.

Frederick didn't like his sister whom he hadn't seen for more than ten years, but he never wanted her to die.

At first, Frederick just didn't want Yulissa to be sad as Cassandra would take away part of their parents' attention and love.

Frederick didn't understand why Yulissa, who was so kind-hearted before, had changed like that in the end. She hired a murderer to kill someone and incited bullying on the campus with her students. To incite Leonardo to deal with Cassandra back then, Yulissa even played tricks in front of Leonardo and acted as the one who suffered a grievance.

Frederick thought, 'What's wrong with this family?'

Miranda suddenly shouted, "She's not my daughter! My daughter is Yulissa. Cassandra doesn't deserve to be my daughter at all!"

Frederick ignored Miranda's madness and left directly.

The quarrel downstairs made it impossible for Jasper to focus on his paper. He had to revise the paper and strive to get Faye's approval as soon as possible. He knew only in this way could he return to his work.

Therefore, the quarrel between his mother and Frederick greatly affected his thoughts. He said to Miranda at the railing on the second floor, "Mom, can you stop quarreling? No one can change Yulissa's scores. Why don't you just ask Yulissa to study as hard as Cassandra?"

Miranda finally realized that it was useless to quarrel there.

Jasper's words reminded Miranda that it didn't matter if Yulissa was not admitted to Juset University.

Since Cassandra could be admitted to Juset University, Miranda thought she could ask Cassandra to take Yulissa to Juset University with her!

Cassandra got an excellent score on the SAT. Miranda thought that Juset University would want Cassandra. This would give Cassandra the chance to bargain with Juset University.

Miranda thought, 'Yes, I can ask Cassandra to take Lisa to go to Juset University. Anyway, Lisa has to study at Juset University!'

After Miranda made up her mind, she prepared to go to Springmount Townhouse to wait for Cassandra. She thought, 'Cassandra has to agree!'

After Kenneth and Cassandra finished dinner, Kenneth planned to send Cassandra home.

Kenneth thought, 'Cass had gone through a lot these two days. She needs to have a good rest.'

"Let me send you back to rest first. The dark circles under your eyes are a little obvious. Haven't you had a good rest recently?"

There was obvious love and gentleness in Kenneth's eyes.

Cassandra was a little confused.

“I indeed have something to do recently. I’m staying up late every day, but it will be finished soon.”

Cassandra didn’t think much about it, but just followed Kenneth’s words and said that she had indeed been a little busy recently.

Cassandra wanted to make the two medicines Kenneth needed by herself. The medicine she developed could play its function to the maximum extent, so as to save Kenneth’s comrades from danger at a critical moment.

Cassandra had been thinking about how to repay Kenneth’s kindness in her previous life, but she didn’t expect that there would be a good chance soon.

Cassandra wanted to develop the medicines as soon as possible so that they could be used as soon as possible.

Kenneth was a little distressed, but he didn’t show it on his face. “Then I will send you back to rest first.”

When they returned to Springmount Townhouse, they found that Miranda was waiting at the gate.

Even the security guard was speechless. He thought, ‘Why does this woman come to bother the house owner every day? Cassandra is also quite poor. Why does she have such a mother? Alas!

The bodyguard signed.

The moment Cassandra saw Miranda, her face changed. Her good mood was gone in an instant.

Miranda walked up to Cassandra and blocked her way. “Cassie, you’re back.”

Miranda had something to ask Cassandra for help, so the faltering smile on her face was obvious.

Cassandra's face turned cold. She said coldly, "What are you doing here again? You always come to block the way. Don't you feel you are annoying?"

Miranda had been suppressing her anger. Cassandra's words, however, almost ignited Miranda's anger.

Miranda thought, 'Damn you! How dare you talk to me like that? You would have died back then if it were for the mercy I showed to you.'

"You... Cassie, I need to talk to you. Can we sit down and have a chat?"

Instead of being bossy, Miranda patiently communicated with Cassandra this time. Miranda knew she couldn't be reckless this time and it would be a great loss if she ruined the only chance to save Yulissa's future.

Cassandra, however, refused without thinking. "There is nothing to say between you and me.

Cassandra knew what Miranda wanted to say.

Cassandra knew that Miranda just wanted her to let go of Yulissa. How could Cassandra agree?

If Yulissa could be forgiven, who would pay for what Cassandra had suffered?

Miranda was so angry that she gritted her teeth and even wanted to slap Cassandra in the face, but she managed to suppress her anger in the end. She said, "I really have something to talk about with you. It's very important!"

Yulissa's matter was the most important thing in Miranda's heart.

Kenneth's face darkened and became gloomy. "Mrs. Yates, Cass doesn't want to talk with you. Shouldn't you be sensible and get out of here right now?"

Miranda trembled with fear when she heard Kenneth's unfriendly words.

Miranda cursed Kenneth in his heart. But even so, she still smiled apologetically. "Kenneth, long time no see! You're here too!"

Miranda thought, 'When did Cassandra get so close to Kenneth? By the way, it seemed that she got out of Kenneth's car just now. With Cassandra's relationship with Kenneth, it will be easier to solve Lisa's trouble.'

Kenneth glanced at Miranda sharply and said, "Save those flattering words."

Cassandra said calmly, "What do you want to say? Just say it here. I did nothing evil. I'm not afraid to be heard by others."

Miranda secretly gritted her teeth, but she couldn't talk about what she wanted to say outside. If it was exposed again like what she said in the office of the College Board, then she would lose the last chance.

"It's very important and private. Let's find a place to talk."

"If you don't say it here, then never say it. I'm not that nice and even willing to sit at a table to talk about things with you patiently!"

Cassandra thought, 'She is not my biological mother. I don't need to be patient and nice with such a woman, do I?'

Miranda had no choice but to lower her voice and say, "Didn't you get 1,582 points in the exam? You will definitely be admitted to Juset University. Then take Lisa with you. Based on your score, you can make demands on Juset University."

Although Miranda lowered her voice, Cassandra and Kenneth heard it clearly. They were shocked.

Cassandra thought, 'What a shameless woman!'

Cassandra snorted coldly, "Miranda, do you think I don't know the real relationship between us? Do you think that you can keep it a secret all the time that Yulissa is your biological daughter? If you want to step on me and pave the way for Yulissa, I tell you it is impossible.

"We are not bonded by blood at all. How dare you come to ask me to bring your daughter to Juset University? You've forgotten that your daughter is in jail waiting to be sentenced! Don't be dreaming anymore."

Miranda paled. She thought, 'How does Cassandra know that? When did she find out the truth? Who else is aware of this?'

Even Kenneth was shocked. He thought, 'So Cass is not a child of the Yates family. Is that so?'
