

My Rebirth 151

Chapter 151

Miranda's voice was mixed with some trembling sounds. Obviously, she was frightened. "How... how do you know that? Since when and why? Why don't you die?"

Miranda wondered, 'Why was this secret discovered by Cassandra? How did she find it out? Who else knows about this? I'll kill Cassandra. In this way, the secret can be buried forever. No one will know it.'

Do you think it's flawless? I've always been curious about why you didn't directly raise Yulissa as the legitimate eldest daughter of the Yates family but went through all the trouble to find me and treat me as your child, and then you abandoned me and adopted your own daughter." Cassandra's tone was cold as if she were telling a story. "I didn't completely understand why until I re-read Yulissa's information."

She added, "Benjamin has type A blood, and you have type O, so your child can't have type B blood. When you knew Yulissa's blood type, you must have been planning it. You didn't want to abandon her, so you found me. Your trick works well."

It could not only deal with Cassandra who had a relationship with Benjamin, but Miranda could also raise her own daughter by her side.

Cassandra had to admit that Miranda's trick was wonderful.

Miranda's face turned pale.

She wondered why Cassandra knew it so well.

She also wanted to know what Cassandra had investigated.

"What else do you know? How did you know it?" Miranda shouted to hide her fear.

Cassandra smiled sarcastically, "It's all thanks to you. Your attitude aroused my suspicion."

Miranda's attitude towards Cassandra was so bad as if she was Cassandra's stepmother. How could Cassandra's biological mother treat her like that? It was because Cassandra had doubts that she made up her mind to do the DNA test.

Cassandra didn't expect that there would be a surprise.

Miranda almost collapsed.

She said, "What the hell do you want? The Yates family has been ruined by you. Are you not satisfied with it? Tell me what else you want."

Miranda began to pester and couldn't admit it.

Miranda shouted, "You hurt your brothers badly enough, and Lisa is still in detention. What on earth do you want to do to let go of the Yates family and me?"

Cassandra laughed sarcastically, "Is it my fault? I left the Yates family and severed relations with all of you. It was you shameless people who came to pester me. Since we have severed our relations, couldn't you be as quiet as if you were dead? Why did you show up in front of me? What on earth did I do? Didn't you deserve it?"

Cassandra continued, "Hasn't it become like this because your sons cared about their half-sister? How could it be my fault?"

Miranda was not Cassandra's biological mother, so talking back came pretty easy to her. Cassandra even thought it might be kinda cool to make Miranda so mad she'd drop dead! She had never actually seen anyone get that mad.

"You... you... you are out of all reason." Miranda pointed at Cassandra and could only say it.

Cassandra said, "Miranda, I advise you to disappear in front of me. Otherwise, I will tell your good sons about your scandal."

If Miranda's sons knew that the sister they had loved for 18 years was actually the product of her mother's cheating, how would they feel?

Miranda suddenly hauled down her colors and didn't dare to say anything else.

She could only glare at Cassandra fiercely. If Miranda's eyes could kill people, Cassandra might have been dead.

Miranda's eyes were too cold and murderous.

Kenneth let Cassandra stand behind him and said, "Mrs. Yates, if you come to trouble Cass again, I will make you regret all your decisions."

Miranda was bluffed and didn't dare to speak.

Even if she could ignore Cassandra's words, she dared not to disobey Kenneth.

No one could escape unscathed from Kenneth's threat, and Miranda was no exception. She left in disgrace.

Miranda thought, 'I have to discuss it with him. I must protect Yulissa. Cassandra can't live when necessary. It's her weal to have lived for over ten years more. It's time to pay back.

In the villa, Kenneth didn't leave immediately. Instead, he sat on the sofa and looked at Cassandra.

She was uncomfortable by his stare and said, "Just ask me what you want to know."

Kenneth said indifferently, "Will you answer me if I ask?"

Cassandra said, "It depends."

Cassandra thought for a while. She wouldn't answer all the questions. It depended on her mood.

Kenneth asked, "You said Miranda is not your mother. What is the matter?"

Cassandra secretly breathed a sigh of relief.

She told Kenneth the whole story, including some things about the Yates family and what happened in the hospital.

She told Kenneth everything, including her suspicions.

Kenneth listened silently without saying anything, but he felt distressed for no reason. He knew how much Cassandra yearned for family affection. When Blossom was sick, Cassandra did anything to raise money just to cure her.

However, things went awry.

Why did it end up like this?

"Cass, you deserve better parents. The Yates family didn't deserve it."

Kenneth didn't know how to comfort Cassandra. He had a lot of things to say, but it seemed that he couldn't.

Cassandra just smiled, and there was no light in her eyes. "I don't need family affection anymore."

She had been hurt by family affection, so she didn't want to be hurt again.

Kenneth didn't answer.

He always felt that there was something wrong with this matter.

Yet, he hadn't known what it was.

He asked, "Do you need me to help you investigate?"

Kenneth wanted to ask her permission, in the hope that she would give him a chance to be part of her life.

Kenneth was now madly jealous of Jeremiah, who had always followed Cassandra.

Kenneth admitted that he was just envious and even jealous of Jeremiah.

His eyes were so sincere that Cassandra didn't know how to refuse. She said, "Don't forget who I am. It's not a problem. It just takes some time."

She looked at Kenneth again and said, "If... it's convenient for you, you can help me check where Miranda gave birth to Yulissa."

This was also a clue. With Kenneth's help, she should be able to get the result with half the effort.

Kenneth's mood suddenly changed from anxiety to happiness.

He said, "Leave it to me."

He thought, 'I will finish the task Cass gave me.

'I will merit her trust.

Cassandra nodded, "Kenne, go back early. I want to rest."

She also yawned cooperatively to prove that she was really sleepy.

Chapter 152

After Kenneth left, Cassandra—didn't go to rest immediately.

Instead, she went into the lab and finished the last step of the experiment before sleeping.

After all, this time Kenneth had given her too much.

She had no reason to refuse.

She had to do the best she could.

After more than an hour, two kinds of medicine were finally made. She called Hugo and asked him to come to the villa to pick up them for the clinical trial.

To be honest, Hugo came pretty fast.

He took the medicine in surprise and said, "Ms. Yates, you are so fast."

Hugo wondered, 'It's only been a few days, and it's done. The products of Dr. Quirke will be no failure. They must be the best of all.

Cassandra said, "You can take the medicine for the clinical trial, and ask Kenneth to observe it. He has to see the process."

Only by seeing the process of the clinical trial could Kenneth feel that his investment was worth it.

However, Cassandra felt that she was a little guilty at the moment.

She didn't show her identity as Faye to Kenneth, so he had to communicate with Hugo in a cooperative way.

Cassandra thought, 'Um... Forget it. Whatever.

Hugo said, "Okay, I'll do it."

Hugo left with the treasured medicine.

Cassandra was the only one in this big villa now.

Fortunately, she was used to this kind of loneliness.

She suddenly remembered that Cyrus seemed to have been in the country, and she hadn't seen him after SAT.

She wondered what he had been up to these days.

Then she called Cyrus.

Cyrus, who had lost a lot of weight for being busy in the company, lost his gloom immediately when he saw the remark of Cassandra on his phone screen.

“Elaine, why did you call me?”

Cassandra felt speechless.

She said, “I haven’t seen you report your work for so many days.”

The voice sounded pleasing to the ear, but the words were annoying.

Cyrus smiled faintly, “It’s my negligence. I have been too busy recently with the matter of the Blossom Group and Modern Beacon Synergy. Recently, I found that someone seems to be deliberately attacking the Blossom Group.”

Cassandra’s face darkened. “Why didn’t you tell me?”

Cyrus said, “Jeremiah said you had something to do before, so I didn’t bother you.”

Cassandra said, “Wait for me. I’m going there now.”

Cyrus said, “No, it’s very late. You can come tomorrow. I’m not in a hurry at this moment.”

As soon as Cyrus finished speaking, he heard the beep of the phone being hung up.

Cyrus smiled helplessly. He thought, ‘Why does this girl insist on being strong and want to help with everything?’

'Let's see. Elaine will appear in front of me in less than half an hour!

As expected, Cassandra showed up in over 20 minutes or so.

But she didn't look well.

"What happened? Why didn't you tell me in advance?" Her tone was a little cold, but everyone knowing her well could tell that she was caring about her friend.

"When I noticed that something was wrong, it was during your SAT. But you had so many things to deal with... Cyrus paused and said, "It's not a big problem. It doesn't affect the development of the company."

Cassandra's face darkened when she heard this. She wondered who was targeting her.

She asked, "Have you found out who it is?"

She didn't mind if Cyrus hadn't found it out. They could investigate now.

Cyrus gave Cassandra a meaningful look. "Do you know Kenneth Zelinski from Drieso?"

Cyrus wondered, 'Did Elaine unintentionally offend him?

Cassandra frowned and asked. "Do you mean that Kenneth caused all this?"

She wondered, Why did Kenne do this? It doesn't make sense.

'It's no secret that the Yates Group, namely the current Blossom Group, belonged to me.

"Then why did he mess with Cyrus?"

'I must find it out."

Cassandra said, "Go back and rest. I'll handle this."

After saying that, Cassandra stood up and left without giving Cyrus a chance to say anything.

Cyrus had a lot to ask. He even wanted to know about Cassandra's relationship with Kenneth.

However, Elaine left in less than five minutes.

In Springmount Townhouse, the light was on next door to Cassandra's, which meant that there was someone in the house.

Cassandra came forward and knocked on the door, which was opened by Yannick.

Yannick said, "Ms. Yates, please come in."

Yannick didn't ask why Cassandra was there. He directly opened the door and welcomed her in.

Cassandra entered the room and saw Kenneth sitting around drinking coffee.

Kenneth asked, "Cass, why are you here? Haven't you had a rest?"

He left just because he didn't want to disturb her rest. But seeing her tired-looking, he knew that she didn't rest at all.

Cassandra asked, "Well, I have something to ask you."

Kenneth glanced at Cassandra and then gave a look to Yannick, who left sensibly.

Kenneth poured plain water for Cassandra. At this time, she could not drink coffee. "What do you want to know, Cass?"

Cassandra was struggling. She didn't know whether to ask Kenneth or not, but she still felt that Kenneth was not that kind of person.

If he wanted someone to die, it was a matter of ease instead of killing the person by continuously causing trouble to him or her.

Cassandra asked, "Well... Have you been targeting the Yates Group, which is now the Blossom Group?"

Kenneth was confused for a moment and thought, "The Blossom Group? The company where Cass is now in charge? Why would I target it?"

Kenneth said, "No."

Somehow, Cassandra believed it.

She believed that what Kenneth said was true.

However, she also believed in Cyrus. She said, "But the Blossom Group has been in trouble recently. We face not big problems but a lot of small ones. The professional CEO whom I hired is too busy to have time to rest because of it."

Kenneth wondered, 'What? Wait. Something is wrong. The professional CEO Cass hired?'

Kenneth asked uncertainly, "What's the name of the CEO you hired?"

"Cyrus Jacobs."

Kenneth thought, 'He is the vice CEO of Modern Beacon Synergy headquarters.

It's a waste of talent for him to work for the former Yates Group in Drieso.

Kenneth was speechless and confused.

He wondered, 'So the man around Cass was hired to be the CEO of her company?'

'But they don't seem to be in a superior-subordinate relationship.

"Why didn't Yannick tell me about it?"

'Cyrus was the CEO of the Blossom Group. If I fight and make trouble for him, it means making trouble for the Blossom Group.

'Damn it!'

Kenneth asked, "How do you know Cyrus?"

Kenneth thought, 'As I could remember, he worked for Modern Beacon Synergy. Why did he come back to Drieso and work for Cass?'

Cassandra said, "Well, maybe we are like-minded."

Cassandra didn't know how to explain it. The two people in Modern Beacon Synergy were both net friends with her...

Chapter 153

Kenneth didn't know what to say for a moment.

He said, "I'll investigate it and give you an answer go back to rest."

Tomorrow. You should

He just wanted to punish Yannick.

Kenneth thought, "The useless guy! Why did he report it clearly?"

Cassandra nodded. She thought it was better for Kenneth to investigate this matter himself.

She believed what Cyrus said and also trusted Kenneth. So, there might be some misunderstanding.

After Cassandra left, Kenneth's face darkened immediately.

"Yannick!" he said.

"Yes!"

Yannick quickly ran to Kenneth and said, "Mr. Zelinski, what can I do for you?"

Yannick thought, 'Mr. Zelinski doesn't seem to be in a good mood.

“What’s going on?”

‘Did Ms. Yates upset him?’

‘It’s not likely to be so. When Ms. Yates went out, she looked fine.’

‘It doesn’t seem like they argued.’

“What did you do when I asked you to make trouble for Cyrus?” asked Kenneth.

Hearing this, Yannick realized it.

He said, “Mr. Zelinski, we were all on a mission at that time, so I asked our man to trouble Cyrus. Didn’t you want to keep Cyrus busy? So, our man reported that Cyrus has had no time to go home recently.”

Kenneth rubbed his forehead.

He asked, “So, you don’t know what exactly our man did?”

Yannick was stunned.

He thought, ‘No. We just need to trouble Cyrus.’

‘Do I need to know a lot?’

‘Isn’t it enough to see the outcome?’

Yannick shook his head honestly. He did know nothing.

Kenneth's clenched his fists, and his temples trembled. He said, "Ask the person who did this to come. Now!"

Only then did Yannick realize that something was wrong. He wondered, 'Did our man do anything wrong? But that's impossible.

Yannick called the person to come over, and he arrived in about forty minutes.

As soon as he entered the room, he was trembling. He wondered, 'What happened? Why did Mr. Zelinski suddenly want to see me? Did I do anything wrong?'

However, the person recalled his recent work and found nothing wrong. He was even praised by Yannick.

Kenneth sat on the sofa, crossed his legs, and hit the arm of the sofa with one hand. "Did you do what Yannick asked?"

The man trembled, but he still answered honestly, "Yes."

Kenneth asked, "How did you get Cyrus into trouble?"

The man thought, 'It turns out that it's about this. Then I have a lot to say.

Cyrus was the vice CEO of Modern Beacon Synergy. It would be a great challenge to make trouble for him.

The man began to tell his glorious story.

But he didn't notice that every time he said something, Kenneth's face darkened. Finally, Kenneth's face could be no more darkened.

“So, you know that Cyrus is the acting CEO of the Blossom Group?” Kenneth asked.

The man answered, “Yes. Modern Beacon Synergy doesn’t have a branch in our country. Cyrus only works for the Blossom Group. Therefore, to beat him, I can only pose trouble to the Blossom Group.

He added, “However, the Blossom Group is the former Yates Group. Although it has a new legal representative, there’s nothing to be afraid of.”

Hearing this, Yannick realized it. If he still didn’t understand what had happened, then he could directly resign.

Yannick thought, ‘We just made trouble for Cyrus and kept him busy. Unexpectedly, it became trouble for the Blossom Group.

‘It means that we brought trouble to Ms. Yates indirectly.

‘No wonder Mr. Zelinski is so angry.

Yannick hurriedly apologized in a low voice, “Mr. Zelinski, I’m sorry. I didn’t give him a clear order or didn’t know the situation.”

Yannick was bitter inside. He didn’t know if there was any regret medicine or medicine that could return to the past.

If he could go back to the past, he would make it well.

The reporter’s face turned pale when he heard Yannick apologize.

He knew how terrifying Kenneth was. But Kenneth paid him too much, so he was willing to work for Kenneth until death if he didn’t need to risk his life.

He wondered, 'Did I do it wrong?'

Kenneth took a deep breath, pointed at the man, and said in a cold voice, "All your bonuses this year are deducted, and half of your salary is cut. I'll see your future performance."

Kenneth glanced at Yannick and said, "You fix it yourself."

Kenneth held his forehead and worried.

He didn't know how to explain it to Cassandra.

The next morning, after receiving the message from Hugo that he could start the clinical trial, Kenneth went to Cassandra first.

Cassandra opened the door and was a little surprised. "Morning, Kenne."

Kenneth replied, "Morning."

He entered the room and said

surely in a magnetic voice, "Cass, I've found out what happened yesterday. It's one of my subordinates who thought that the Blossom Group could be acquired, so he wanted to make some trouble for the current CEO to let him retreat. But he didn't expect that you are actually the boss, as well as my friend."

Cassandra raised her eyebrows and said, "So, is this a misunderstanding?"

Kenneth said, "Yeah. I've arranged for Yannick to solve this matter. It won't happen again."

Cassandra nodded. She thought. It turns out to be a misunderstanding.

However, she felt that it was not as simple as a misunderstanding.

The reason that he wanted to acquire Blossom Group sounded reasonable, but it was a little far-fetched.

If he wanted to acquire it, he could just talk to her directly.

He didn't need to have much ado.

"I'm going to the Whitecrane Hall. Will you go with me?" Kenneth sent out an invitation.

Cassandra appeared in the Whitecrane Hall many times, and Hugo's attitude towards her was outrageously respectful.

Kenneth always felt that there were many secrets about Cassandra.

Cassandra blinked as if she was thinking.

She wondered, 'For the clinical trial?'

She said, "Okay, let's go together."

After arriving at Whitecrane Hall, Kenneth followed Hugo to the experimental area to watch the clinical trial.

Cassandra went to Jeremiah's office.

Jeremiah said, "Why are you so relaxed? Benjamin is awake."

Cassandra frowned and looked at him in astonishment. "Doesn't he have a cerebral infarction? Why did you wake up so soon?"

Jeremiah said, "How do I

ow? That's what I got.

He wondered, 'She is so relaxed that she is still wandering around here.

Cassandra was still calm. She laughed sarcastically and said, "It is good news. If he wasn't awake, how would he be stimulated again?"

Now it was Jeremiah's turn to be confused.

Cassandra said, "The day after tomorrow is my graduation party. Guess what Benjamin will do?"

Jeremiah smiled as if he praised Cassandra. He said, "I see. There will be a good show.""

Cassandra just hoped that Benjamin could hold on for a little longer. Otherwise, it would be boring to miss a good show.

Most of the Yates family were in the hospital except Raymond at this moment.

It was undoubtedly good for them that Benjamin woke up.

Miranda was crying sadly. She held Benjamin's hand and said, "Honey, you finally wake. up. You can't leave me alone."

With all his strength, Benjamin withdrew his hand.

“Dad, I’m glad you woke up. Get better soon. Our house is still there.”

Leonardo said so because he wanted Benjamin to feel at ease and not be stimulated anymore. It was because the Yates residence had been mortgaged that Benjamin became like this. Now that the Yates residence was still theirs, everything would be fine.

It was a comfort not only for Benjamin but also for Leonardo.

Benjamin just woke up, but Miranda kept nagging in his ear. He had a headache and shouted in a hoarse tone, “Shut up and get out.”

Benjamin didn’t forget that he was in such a sorry state because of Miranda!

It was all Miranda’s fault!

When Benjamin heard Miranda’s nagging, he even had the impulse to get up and beat her!

But Benjamin couldn’t move temporarily. He still needed some time to recuperate!

Miranda was scolded by Benjamin for no reason and felt wronged, but she held back her anger and said, “Honey, I know I’m wrong. I did it for our family. I didn’t mean to do it.”

Miranda thought, ‘Lisa is our daughter. She did so much for the Yates family!’

Leonardo helped Benjamin up and fed him some water.

“Dad, you are still in danger. Don’t be angry and take more rest.”

Leonardo was Benjamin's eldest son, so Leonardo took the responsibility of taking care of Benjamin.

Benjamin looked angry, but he nodded cooperatively. He listened to Leonardo's words.

Benjamin's sons were all here except for Raymond. To Benjamin's surprise, Cassandra did not show up after he had been in a coma for so many days.

"Where's Cassandra? Ask her to come here to see me." Benjamin suddenly wanted to see Cassandra.

Benjamin was anxious to get Cassandra's shares. Otherwise, the Yates family would have no chance to turn the tables!

Hearing this, Miranda echoed, "That's it! Call Cassandra to come here. The money for saving Lisa is in Cassandra's hands. She must return it to us!"

With Benjamin around, Miranda felt like she had a backer!

Miranda's tone also became arrogant!

Leonardo didn't move at all, and his brothers didn't have the guts either.

Benjamin only heard about the money. His face was full of anger. "What do you mean? Is the 7 billion dollars in Cassandra's hands?"

"You're right. She has admitted it personally."

Benjamin nudged Leonardo to see Cassandra..

"Dad, now that you're fine, I'll get out of your hair first. Have a good rest!"

Leonardo refused to go to see Cassandra. He didn't know how to face Cassandra yet.

Leonardo was reluctant to ask for trouble in front of Cassandra!

"I don't need a rest. Call Cassandra here and ask her to return the money to me!" Money was the most important thing for Benjamin!

"Dad, even if she has the money, how are you going to take it back? You don't have the rights. Don't forget that the Yates family has cut off ties with her a long time ago. She is now the top scorer all over the country. Mr. Hathaway will hold a graduation party for her. She has lived a good life since she left the Yates family!

"Now that we haven't raised her, why do we always make trouble for her? If you want to find her, go by yourself. I won't go!"

Leonardo was upset. His parents were like vampires, haunting Cassandra and trying to suck all the value out of her.

Leonardo was also shameless. He once had plotted against Cassandra.

Although Leonardo said so, Benjamin just ignored Leonardo's words and said, "Do you mean that Mr. Hathaway is going to hold a graduation party for Cassandra?"

Although Leonardo felt unhappy, he still nodded to admit it.

The atmosphere in the ward was suddenly thick with tension. Cassandra was from the Yates family. Thus, her graduation party should be organized by the Yates family, not Lucas!

This was a humiliation for Benjamin. "Have you received her graduation party invitation?"

It was the first time Miranda heard of it. After being surprised, she looked up at Benjamin and her son.
“No, I didn’t receive it.”

“Didn’t she give you an invitation?” Benjamin was extremely surprised.

“There is an invitation at home...” Frederick handed Benjamin the invitation.

“Is it from Cassandra?”

After Benjamin opened it, he was a little surprised. He thought that Cassandra did it to please him. Miranda also became proud.

Seeing their expressions, Yohannes snorted coldly, crossed his arms over his chest, and said sarcastically,
“Do you think that this invitation is from Cassie?”

Benjamin looked at Yohannes and was confused. “What do you mean? If it’s not from Cassandra, who else is it from?”

Yohannes sneered, “Humph. Cassie wants to distance herself from us. She is reluctant to have any relationship with us. It’s impossible for her to give us the invitation. Have you forgotten how you treated Cassie before? Mr. and Mrs. Hathaway gave us the invitation. Almost all bigwigs in Drieso received an invitation from Mr. Hathaway to the graduation party.

“Don’t you know why Mr. Hathaway gave us the invitation? Look at what you did. You were as blind as a bat. Cassie left the Yates family and has achieved success. Even if you have the invitation, it’s just because Mr. Hathaway wants to show off to you.”

Yohannes thought, ‘Mr. Hathaway wants to show off how excellent and shining Cassie is now after she left us.

Benjamin and Miranda became so proud after they saw the invitation. When Yohannes saw the scene, his heart was burning with anger.

Miranda's face clouded over. She scolded Yohannes, "How dare you say so? Anyway. Cassandra is related to us by blood. She should think about everything for the sake of the Yates family!"

Yohannes was shocked by Miranda's words!

"I've never heard such shameless words. Your sons are so disappointed in you. Have you ever cared about it? You haven't. You only care about Yulissa. I even suspect that Yulissa is your daughter and that we are all adopted by you!"

Miranda's face stiffened. She quickly walked to Yohannes and slapped him in the face!

Yohannes covered her face and said, "You are my good mother!"

Yohannes didn't know that Miranda was frightened and surprised by his words. She was afraid Benjamin would be suspicious, so she had to do it!

Benjamin said in a sullen voice, "That's enough. Stop arguing! This is an indisputable fact that Cassandra is from the Yates family. Don't speak for her!"

They were all strange!

The Yates family would be in trouble. Except for Benjamin and Miranda who thought they got the invitation at the right time, the others thought that something bad would happen!

They didn't know that there was indeed a good farce waiting for the Yates family to jump into it!

Leonardo and Yohannes were reluctant to stay here anymore. They left without saying goodbye!

They couldn't believe what they had seen and heard. Benjamin and Miranda looked so devilish when they said such shameless words in the ward. Leonardo and Yohannes even suspected that Benjamin and Miranda were their parents.

“Leo, if I were Cassandra, it would be a shame for me to be related to them by blood.”

Yohannes was extremely disappointed. Raymond hadn't shown up these days. However, Miranda didn't even ask about it and just ran around for Yulissa!

At 8:00 p.m., July 2nd, Cassandra's graduation party was held as scheduled.

This time, Cassandra wore a white dress and looked simple and elegant. There was no need to compete for beauty at the graduation party. If Lucas hadn't asked her to wear a dress again and again, she would have worn casual clothes!

Jeremiah, dressed in a light gray suit with a faint smile on his face, was helping Lucas entertain guests.

Jeremiah looked like a member of the Hathaway family.

Lucas' son, Roger Hathaway also came back. When Roger saw Cassandra, he greeted her with a smile, “Cassie, congratulations! You are the top scorer all over the country.”

Roger handed the gift to Cassandra. Cassandra opened it. It was the latest bracelet from Thousand Dreams' jewelry brand.

“Thanks!”

Cassandra accepted it without hesitation.

“I should thank you. Since you became our family member, my mother has been very happy every day. She said that you finally realized her dream of having a daughter.”

Roger didn't know what he could do. He didn't know whether he had offended his parents because of his gender. They both disliked him!

Thanks to Cassandra, Roger's parents called and texted him more frequently recently.

Jeremiah suddenly approached. "What are you talking about?"

Roger said, "Nothing special. Are the guests almost there?"

Jeremiah said calmly, "Almost all of the guests have arrived, but the important roles. haven't come yet."

Cassandra smiled and said sarcastically, "They have arrived."

Lucas and Sylvia came to the stage. Everyone present looked at them. Lucas smiled brightly, "Welcome to Cassie's graduation party. Although she is not my biological daughter, I have watched her grow up over the years... Although Elaine has obtained a lot of academic degrees, she has just graduated from high school and gotten such good grades as the top scorer all over the country. I would like to congratulate her.

"I have something to tell those who used to look down on Cassie. Open your eyes now to see how excellent Cassie is. She is my proudest kid."

Lucas's words received thunderous applause. Cassandra stood aside and was moved. She was indifferent and no longer needed family affection.

However, why was Cassandra still so touched when hearing these words?

Sylvia slowly walked up to Cassandra and brought her to the stage. "Although Cassie is not my biological daughter, I hope that she will become my daughter for so many years. Now, she is a member of the Hathaway family. My dream has finally hope my relatives and friends help me take care of her when you meet her in the future."

Come true. I

Sylvia thought, 'Cassie is ambitious. Although I'm not able to help her, I hope that the guests here will help her for the sake of the Hathaway family! Thus, she can do whatever she wants to do!'

The faces of Benjamin and Miranda clouded over because of the words of Lucas and Sylvia.

Benjamin and Miranda felt annoyed!

It was clear that they were embarrassing the Yates family!

Benjamin thought, 'No way. Cassandra is from the Yates family. The Yates family can't miss such a glorious moment!'

"Cassie is from the Yates family. She's so excellent. As her father, I feel honored..."

Benjamin's voice sounded. Everyone looked at him with contempt.

Cassandra smiled slightly and thought, 'I would like to hear what else you want to say!'

Miranda also said, "That's it. I had been pregnant for ten months and gave birth to Cassie. She is so excellent now. As her mother..."

"Mrs. Miranda Yates, are you my biological mother?"

Cassandra's question led to a heated discussion.

The Yates family always got caught in scandals.

Miranda's face turned pale. She was panicked. She thought, 'What does the bitch want. to say?'

Miranda pretended to be calm. "What nonsense are you talking about?"

Miranda thought, "Shut up!"

"I'm not talking nonsense. Will a mother ignore her daughter and only care about her adopted daughter? She even spends all the money in the family to save her adopted daughter while the adopted daughter is the murderer of her daughter!"

"However, you're trying your best to save your adopted daughter, Yulissa. I'm wondering who is your daughter."

Miranda looked guilty and thought, "How dare the bitch talk nonsense?"

"Of course, you're my daughter. However, I have raised Lisa for 18 years and have a deep relationship with her..."

"That's it. Yulissa has lived in the Yates family for 18 years. Of course, Miranda has a deep relationship with her."

"It makes sense. However, Miranda treats her adopted daughter too well. Now that Miranda loves her adopted daughter so much, why did Miranda bring her daughter back?"

"Look at them! Cassandra and Miranda are not alike at all!"

"Miranda is strange. She doesn't treat her daughter well but believes her adopted daughter so much. What is she thinking about?"

"It's because Miranda is a bumpkin and ignorant. She thinks that she can cultivate a lady with some money."

“Although Cassandra looks a little like Benjamin, her temperament isn’t like Benjamin’s at all. Benjamin and Miranda shouldn’t have had such an excellent kid as Cassandra!”

The people present began to whisper. Miranda couldn’t hear clearly and panicked.

“Really? I couldn’t figure out why Mrs. Miranda Yates was so kind to an adopted daughter. Out of curiosity, I investigated the DNA of Mrs. Miranda Yates, Yulissa, and me. It turns out that one is related and the other is not.” Jeremiah took out the report in time and handed it to Cassandra. “The DNA comparison between Mrs. Miranda Yates and me shows that the probability of paternity is 17.26% while the DNA comparison between Mrs. Miranda Yates and Yulissa is greater than 99.99%. Thus, it’s true that I have no relationship with Mrs. Miranda Yates.

“Unfortunately, I’m related to Benjamin by blood. Look, what a mess!”

Miranda was so frightened that she stepped back. Her eyes gradually turned red. “Cassandra, you are talking nonsense! How can you tell such a lie to cut me off?”

“You know whether it’s a lie or not.”

Cassandra walked slowly towards Benjamin and gave him the report.

Benjamin opened it in shock to see the results!

The results showed that Benjamin was Cassandra’s father and that Miranda was Yulissa’s mother. Also, Cassandra had no relationship with Miranda!

Benjamin thought, ‘Alright!

‘Miranda has deceived me for so many years!’

“You bitch!” Benjamin slapped Miranda in the face!

Lucas shouted harshly, "Go home and solve your problems. You are not welcome here!"

Chapter 156

"You bitch! How dare you cheat on me? I'll beat you to death!"

Benjamin couldn't restrain his anger. He had been cuckolding for 18 years and raised Miranda and the other man's daughter for so long.

Yet, he turned a deaf ear to what his own daughter said.

Miranda was such a shameless bitch.

"Ah..."

Benjamin began to punch and kick her, but because he had just been discharged from the hospital, he couldn't exert much force and it didn't hurt much.

In that way, Miranda could fight back!

"Honey, don't listen to Cassandra. How can Lisa be my biological daughter?"

Miranda explained while avoiding the slap from Benjamin!

"I'll figure it out myself. Don't try to deny it. You bitch! How dare you cheat on me!"

Benjamin didn't care about his image at all. All he wanted to do was kick Miranda's ass!

However, Lucas called the security guards over and threw them out!

After they left, the banquet hall quieted down and everything went as usual.

In Springmount Townhouse.

Jeremiah, Cassandra, and Kenneth gathered together.

They all wanted to say something but stopped. Cassandra couldn't help asking, "Do you have anything to say?"

"Kenneth and I have found something, which is a little unbelievable..." Jeremiah had never seen such a thing before.

But his findings were the same as Kenneth's.

Then it proved that it was true.

"What is it?"

Kenneth said in a deep voice, "Cass, I found out that the woman, who had an affair with Benjamin back then, gave birth to a child. The child was taken away by Miranda. However, the child died the day after Miranda lost her."

Kenneth told Cassandra the whole story.

It turned out that Miranda had left the child at the door of the orphanage with her last conscience. After the child was carried into the orphanage by the director, the child died the next day because of a fever.

They didn't know about it until they found the director of the orphanage.

Now that the other woman's child had died, what was Cassandra's origin?

Why did she have anything to do with the Yates family?

It took Cassandra a couple of minutes to sort out the matter. "You mean Benjamin's child is dead? Then why am I related to him?"

If they were only relatives, the consanguinity test would not exceed 70% at most. However, she was 99.99% related to Benjamin, which didn't make sense.

"This is what we are confused about..."

Jeremiah felt sorry for Cassandra. Cassandra thought that she was part of the Yates family, but they didn't treat her well at all. However, it turned out it was a joke. She had nothing to do with the Yates family.

Cassandra looked stern and her eyes were not focused, which made Kenneth very distressed. He said in a soft voice, "Benjamin's family is an offshoot of the Yates family in Drieso, but they are no longer related to each other." He glanced at Cassandra and said, "How about I ask Kayden over?"

Cassandra glanced at Kenneth and said, "Thank you."

Kenneth immediately took out his phone and contacted Kayden, asking him to come to Springmount Townhouse right away.

Kayden didn't know what was going on, so he hurried over and found that no one was in Kenneth's house. He instantly got annoyed and called Kenneth. "There is no one in your house. Are you kidding me? You bastard! How dare you fool me!"

Kenneth, Cassandra, and Jeremiah were all speechless.

"Come next door."

Jeremiah got up resignedly and went to open the door.

The moment the door opened, Kayden looked at it intently.

'Am I infiltrating the enemy?' he thought.

After Kayden entered the house, all three of them looked at him, which made his hair stand on end.

"What... can I do for you?" Kayden swallowed unconsciously. He was a little scared.

Cassandra said indifferently, "Mr. Yates, I want to ask if there are any people of the same age as Benjamin or girls lost in the Yates family?"

Kayden didn't understand what she meant. He glanced at Kenneth and wanted to know what was going on.

Kenneth told Kayden what had happened. Kayden was dumbfounded.

It was so ridiculous!

"I don't know much about this. I have to go back and ask my grandpa and dad. They all said that we had an uncle, but they didn't know where he was. Let's talk about it later when I get back."

Kayden really had no idea about it. He had no interest in taking charge of the Yates family, so he did not know many secrets about it at all!

Therefore, he was also confused when they asked!

Cassandra's eyes suddenly turned dull. Although there was no expression on her face, the look in her eyes had already betrayed her.

"Well, if you have any news, please keep me informed."

Before long, Jeremiah and Kayden left. There were only Cassandra and Kenneth in the house. Cassandra breathed a sigh of relief and lay back on the sofa.

"Cass..." Kenneth said worriedly.

"Kenne, I'm fine. I'm just happy."

Cassandra was happy because she was not Miranda's daughter or Benjamin's daughter!

She was not an illegitimate daughter!

This was great news for her!

However, Cassandra was just laughing at herself for being stupid. In her previous life, she got killed by them!

She once felt dirty and sick for being the daughter of Miranda and Benjamin!

She didn't expect that she had nothing to do with them!

This was a kind of relief for Cassandra!

Even if her biological parents were yet to be found, it didn't matter. It wasn't important!

She could live without her parents forever, but she didn't want Benjamin and Miranda to be her parents!

Kenneth didn't understand why Cassandra was happy.

"Kenne, I'm not the child of Benjamin, that bastard. I'm happy." Cassandra's words. made Kenneth feel deeply sorry for her.

"Well, my Cass is the best girl in the world. Your biological parents must be the most excellent people. They must love you very much."

Kenneth could live an unhappy life, but he wanted Cassandra to have a family and be happy!

Cassandra didn't answer but lay on the sofa with her eyes closed, completely unaware of what Kenneth called her.

"You've been tired all day. Go upstairs and have a rest." Kenneth walked to her side, raised his hand gently, and touched her head. His eyes were full of tenderness!

"Alright. I'm tired too. I want to hit the hay!"

Cassandra sounded like she was in a good mood.

Kenneth thought that maybe this was a kind of relief for Cassandra.

As for her biological parents, he would find them for her in the future.

If her parents were like Benjamin, he hoped that they would never show up in front of Cassandra.

“Well, have a good rest. Good night.”

Kenneth stood up and left Cassandra alone.

But when he went out, he found Jeremiah outside the door.

“Mr. Zelinski, I have something to talk about with you.”

Kenneth sent him to the villa next door.

“Go ahead. What’s the matter?”

Jeremiah came straight to the point. “You must be the boy who Elaine brought home eight years ago, right?”

Chapter 157

In the Yates residence.

Miranda came home with her hair pulled by Benjamin!

The anger in Benjamin’s heart had already made him irrational!

He thought, “This damn woman! How dare she go behind my back to find another man!

‘How dare she cuckold me and keep the bastard by his side for 18 years!

‘She made me lose my own daughter. This bitch is so cruel and vicious!’

Although Benjamin moved slowly, he increased the force in his hand.

“You bitch! How dare you cheat on me and raise a bastard in my house!”

All the people at home heard Benjamin’s angry voice.

They went downstairs in a hurry!

Immediately, they saw Benjamin beating Miranda!

What the hell was going on?

Frederick rushed forward to stand in front of Miranda. Benjamin even looked at him. with displeasure.

“Get out of my way! I’ll kill this bitch!”

Frederick didn’t obey. Instead, he opened his hands to protect Miranda behind him. When Miranda saw Frederick was protecting her, she quickly hid behind her son. “Fred, your dad is going to kill me!”

Now Miranda was not as arrogant as before when she went to the banquet of the Hathaway family. She used to be gorgeous, but now she had become embarrassed with blood in her mouth.

Her face was also bruised, not to mention her body!

To her surprise, Benjamin was actually prone to violence. He was really going to beat her to death!

“Dad, stop it! Calm down and talk it out.”

This family was already in chaos. Could he not make it worse at this time?

Benjamin put down his hand and snorted coldly, but the fierceness in his eyes was not hidden at all. "Humph! Your mom cheated on me. How can I calm down? I don't even know whether you guys are my biological sons or not!"

Since Yulissa was the child of the adulterer, it meant that they had been in contact with each other all the time. It was a question whether these six sons were Benjamin's children or not!

Humph!

That bitch!

Benjamin didn't expect that he would be cuckolded one day.

Miranda immediately retorted, "Honey, they are all your biological sons. How can you suspect them?"

"You can keep the bastard daughter by your side. Then how do I know whether these sons are mine? Don't you know it best whether they are my sons or not?"

Frederick, Jasper, and Matthew were a little confused. What were their parents talking about?

What cheating? What bastard?

"Dad, what do you mean?" Frederick thought he must have misheard. It was not what he thought it was.

"What do I mean? I mean your mom cuckolded me for 18 years. Yulissa is actually the bastard she had with another man, but she threw my daughter away. This woman is so heartless!"

Benjamin's words confused his three sons.

Miranda was cheating on Benjamin?

Yulissa was Miranda's illegitimate daughter?

How was that possible?

Miranda retorted angrily, "You said I cuckolded you. Didn't you cheat on me? Didn't do anything wrong? Then how could there be Cassandra? So what if I threw her away? If it weren't for mercy, I should have strangled her when she was born.

you

"Because that's the shame you brought to me!"

Benjamin was so angry with these shameless remarks that he felt dizzy and almost lay on his back. "I've long broken up with her. You were suspicious and aggressive. Otherwise, I wouldn't have slept with her. But I can't believe you are fooling around behind my back!"

Benjamin dragged Miranda in front of him and said, "Tell me who that man is. Is he your ex-boyfriend? You bitch! I'll kill you!"

Benjamin thought, 'How dare Miranda cheat on me? She must accept the punishment!

'I have been raising a bastard daughter for 18 years and made my own daughter live in exile!

I will never forgive Miranda in my life!"

“Honey, honey, I was wrong. I didn’t dare to do it again. Please let me go!”

It hurt so much that Miranda couldn’t stand it. She hurriedly begged for mercy!

“Let go of you? You have humiliated me. I want to divorce you, and you will leave the family with nothing!” Benjamin flared up!

His three sons also reacted!

“Dad, calm down. There may be a misunderstanding.”

Frederick thought, ‘Mom is so honest and dutiful. How could she cheat on Dad? Wasn’t Lisa adopted? Why does she become Mom’s biological child?’

Frederick felt like his brain was about to explode.

How could it be so messy?

“I’ve got all the evidence in front of me. How can there be any misunderstanding? A few days ago, your shameless mom went to Fallvale Mansion. Did she go to meet her adulterer?”

It was said that there lived a mysterious middle-aged man in his 50s.

Few people had ever seen the man, but he was filthy rich!

As for whether he was powerful, it was yet to be known. However, he was indeed a rich guy.

Benjamin threw Miranda to the ground and scolded her fiercely!

Frederick and his brothers didn’t believe that their mom would have an affair.

“I...

Miranda didn't know how to explain. “No! I didn't

there!”

Benjamin threw the photo in the DNA test report in front of her!

“How do you explain it?”

Frederick picked it up. Jasper and Matthew leaned against him. It was a photo of Miranda standing at the door of Fallvale Mansion!

This time, even if they didn't want to believe it, they wavered a little!

Miranda looked pale and didn't know what to say!

“Fred, get in touch with Leo. I want to divorce this bitch!” said Benjamin. Frederick failed to stop Benjamin and could only let Leo talk to him!

However, Frederick couldn't accept that Yulissa was his half-sister!

How embarrassed they were!

When Leonardo returned home, Yohannes also came, except for Raymond.

“Dad, what’s going on?”

Matthew sent Leonardo a message, which confused Leonardo. In the message, Matthew mentioned that Yulissa was Miranda’s illegitimate daughter and Miranda had an affair.

“You came just in time. I want to divorce your mom. She cheated on me and dared to let me raise her bastard daughter for so many years!”

Leonardo looked gloomy. He didn’t know what to say about this matter.

“Dad, let’s investigate this first. Mom is not that kind of person. Divorce is too much.”

Leonardo’s words worked.

“Then I’ll leave this matter to you. Find it out for me!”

“Okay.”

After a night of farce, it was finally settled.

“Dad, who found out about this matter?” Leonardo was a little curious. Since it had been 18 years, why did the secret thing be exposed?

“It’s Cassandra. Leo, she is your younger sister. Go find her. When she comes back home, I will take good care of her...”

Cassandra was the child of his first love. After marrying Miranda, Benjamin cut off contact with his first love. Until later, his first love suddenly appeared and it turned out that she didn’t get married. She had been waiting for him.

Once. Benjamin quarreled with Miranda and went to chat with his first love. He was drunk and he slept with his first love.

She didn't fight or want anything.

Benjamin felt guilty about it...

Chapter 158

Leonardo didn't know what to say. Now Cassandra did not need the Yates family anymore!

"Dad, Cassandra is fine now, and the Hathaway family treats her very well. There's no need to disturb her..."

"What are you talking about? What do you mean by disturbing her? She is my daughter. She should come back to me!"

Yohannes sneered, "Dad, do you think she still needs us as her family and needs you as her dad?"

Yohannes thought, 'When Cassandra was in need, we turned a cold shoulder on her and avoided her like the plague. Now she is excellent and brilliant. We ask her to go back home.

Isn't it too late?'

Benjamin's face turned red. "How can you say this?"

His voice was very loud, but it was just to cover up his mistakes!

“What I said is the truth.”

Yohannes shrugged and said indifferently.

“Dad, I hope we don’t disturb Cassie’s life. Since we have done something wrong, then don’t try to make it up because she doesn’t need our repentance at all!”

If necessary, Yohannes would rather kneel down for three days and nights to ask her forgiveness!

However, she didn’t need it. She didn’t need family affection or them.

“I... I’ll go find her myself!”

Benjamin stood up excitedly. He suddenly blacked out and fainted.

The next day, in Whitecrane Hall.

Kenneth was reading the clinical data with a solemn face.

It was not that he didn’t trust Faye’s medicine, but it was about the lives of more than 100 of his comrades-in-arms, so he had to be careful.

Cassandra knocked on the door and came in. “How is clinical practice?”

She saw the data of the clinical trial out of the corner of her eyes. She thought, ‘A round. of experiment has been completed?’

“But why does Kenneth look so gloomy?”

‘Is there anything wrong?’

“That is absolutely impossible!”

“Miss, the first round of the experiment has been completed and I’m preparing for the second round...”

“Mr. Gardner, I want to be the experimenter of the second round,” Kenneth said in a deep voice.

He had to know the efficacy of the medicine that could save his life in the future. He wanted to be an experimenter and provide the most accurate experimental data...

“Mr. Zelinski, it’s not appropriate...” How could the client do the experiment in person?

“Kenne, don’t you believe in this medicine? Or do you not trust Dr. Quirke?”

Cassandra’s tone suddenly changed!

She felt that the person she trusted didn’t believe her, which made her a little upset.

She knew Kenneth had no idea that she was Faye, but she still couldn’t help feeling sad.

Cassandra tried her best to hold her sadness, without any expression on her face.

“It’s not that I don’t believe it, but this is medicine to save my people’s lives in the future. I want to experiment on it myself so that I can rest assured.”

Even if Kenneth believed this medicine, he had to experiment with it before he could feel at ease.

More than 100 people were with him. If they couldn’t be given a chance to survive at the critical moment, then he didn’t deserve to be a commanding officer.

Although Cassandra's anger was gradually suppressed by this explanation, she still felt a little uncomfortable in her heart.

"The experimenters of these two drugs need to be injured before they can take effect. What are you going to do, stab yourself?"

Kenneth's forehead twitched slightly..

He felt like Cassandra was angry.

"That's the only way."

Cassandra was rendered speechless.

"Didn't your men have any wounded?"

Kenneth's identity was secret, so he couldn't say much.

'Why did he have to stab himself and then be an experimenter? Is he stupid or what?' Cassandra thought.

Kenneth thought for a moment and didn't seem to think of anything, but Yannick suddenly said, "Mr. Zelinski, there are two wounded in Windstreet Auctio

Maybe they can help."

House.

Cassandra glanced at Kenneth and said in an unhappy tone, "That's right. Aren't there some people wounded here? Give them more money so that they can do the experiment."

Kenneth was silent. After pondering for a while, he said, "Okay. I'll go check the injuries of those two people first and then bring them here."

On the way to the Zelinski Group, Kenneth asked in a deep voice, "Why are there some people wounded in Windstreet Auction House?"

"Mr. Zelinski, it's not Windstreet Auction House. Two people got injured in the Underground League yesterday..."

It wasn't reported to Yannick until this morning. Kenneth was busy in Whitecrane Hall for the whole morning. He hadn't had time to tell Kenneth yet.

Kenneth was speechless.

"Then you can arrange it."

When Kenneth returned to his office, several uninvited guests came.

They were Tyler, Hector, Conrad, and Harriet.

"What brings you all here?"

Kenneth looked at these uninvited people coldly. What did they mean by asking Conrad to come over?

"Kenneth, look at Conrad. Do you really want him to spend his whole life in a wheelchair?"

As soon as Hector spoke, he showed weakness to Kenneth. Since nothing worked, he could only beg his son.

“It wasn’t my fault. Why don’t I have the heart to do that?”

“You...” Conrad wanted to retort!

Kenneth asked someone to do it. Why did he deny it so confidently?

Harriet closed her eyes and took a deep breath to calm herself down. “Kenneth, I acted on impulse and made mistakes that cannot be undone. Please forgive me. Since you are related to Conrad by blood, please have Dr. Quirke save him.”

If it weren’t for her son, how could Harriet be humble to Kenneth? She must pay back the shame she suffered now!

“He and I are not related by blood. If I hadn’t promised my mom to protect the Zelinski family, do you think you guys could still stand in front of me?”

Those who hurt his mom deserved to die.

Hector deserved to die, and so did Harriet.

“You are part of the Zelinski family, and so is Conrad. No matter what, you can’t change the fact that he is your younger brother. It was you who did this to him. Shouldn’t you. be responsible for it?”

Tyler said in a tough tone, emanating an air of dignity as an elder.

“Couldn’t I send someone to play with her son when Harriet sent somebody to kill me? He was defeated and he went home and told his parents. Is he still a three-year-old child?”

Kenneth’s words made Harriet almost lose her balance. Conrad sat in the wheelchair and clenched his fists tightly, but then he let go!

“You crippled his legs. Don’t you think you are cruel?”

Hector regretted it as soon as he said that.

Cruel?

Harriet was the cruel one!

It was not easy for Kenneth to survive all these years!

Yet, Harriet even....

“Cruel? Am I as cruel as you guys? How many people have you sent to kill me since I was 15 years old? It’s just a pity that you can’t kill me. After all these years, I didn’t complain to you. Why can’t you stand it when I fight back once?”

Kenneth glanced down at Conrad, thinking he was such a loser.

The contempt in Kenneth’s eyes hurt Conrad’s self-esteem.

Both Hector and Tyler were speechless for a moment.

Chapter 159

Everything Kenneth owned now was earned by himself, not from the Zelinski family.

The shares he owned were also left to him by his mother, and the Zelinski family needed such a successor who would make the family better and had grown up in despair. He was the best choice.

The business of the Zelinski family did prosper in his hand and he became the richest man in the world in just a few years.

Hector knew everything that Harriet secretly did, but he kept turning a blind eye to it as long as Kenneth was still alive.

However, he didn't expect that Harriet would cross the line this time, which made Kenneth fight back so fiercely.

It cost Conrad's legs. It was unexpected, but it had already happened.

"He is your brother. Shouldn't you help him as you are a member of our family? How cold-blooded you are!" Tyler found that it was useless to press him in the name of family.

Kenneth took it as some kind of joke and said, "Well, when did the Zelinski family even have brotherhood?"

"They're all cold-blooded. How dare he mention family ties here?!' thought Kenneth.

"Do you have to make me ask the elders of the Zelinski family to come?" said Tyler.

The business of the Zelinski family was pretty good in the past. It was at least on the top list in Drieso, but wasn't one of the best. The elders of the Zelinski family were always there but had seldom been noticed.

It wasn't until Fiona married Hector Zelinski and the company developed stronger that the elders started to make their presence. After Fiona died, the elders took great power in their hands to gain more benefits.

That was how the elders became powerful.

If Kenneth still thumbed his nose at the family, Tyler had no choice but to ask the elders to come and say something.

“Whatever.” Kenneth didn’t take the Zelinski family’s elders seriously at all.

“What exactly do you want? What should I do to make you ask Dr. Quirke to save Conrad?”

Harriet couldn’t help pressing him.

She had only one son. If he couldn’t walk, he would lose his heirship to the business of the Zelinski family. No family would want a son sitting in a wheelchair to take charge of their business.

Hector also begged, following Harriet, “I can give you anything you want as long as you can save Conrad.”

Kenneth snorted coldly.

He thought, ‘What a great father!’

“When I invited Dr. Quirke to the Zelinski manor as promised, how did you treat him? How special do you think the Zelinski family is, expecting Dr. Quirke to break his rules just for you?”

Kenneth’s words humiliated Conrad and Harriet greatly.

“I was...

Harriet felt a little guilty. However, she didn’t think it was her fault. She didn’t know that the person was Faye. ‘Wasn’t it quite normal to doubt his identity?’ she thought.

“Alright. You were just doubting his identity at that time. So just keep doubting.”

Kenneth glanced at Conrad and said, “Since Conrad can’t work for the time being. I’ll find someone else to take over as the general manager. We’ll make arrangements after Conrad recovers.” He turned to Harriet and said. “Mrs. Zelinski, you don’t have any shares of the Zelinski family or contribute to our company. Please don’t idle around in the company every day. It will affect our image.

Tyler looked at Kenneth in disbelief and thought, ‘Is he going to drive us. out of Zelinski Group?’

“Why are you kicking me out?” Harriet retorted first.

I am a member of the Zelinski family. How could I not be in Zelinski Group?’ she thought.

Kenneth looked at Hector and said, “It seems that your promise and the letter of guarantee you signed with this lady didn’t count. Were you pretending?”

Hector was dumbfounded.

Since you said so, you can arrange their positions later,” Hector said.

Kenneth had the say about everything.

Hector only wanted to cure Conrad now, and he would never be against Kenneth in the future.

“Honey, what are you talking about? You want me and my son to get out of the company too?”

Harriet couldn't believe what she heard and thought, 'What are you talking about? How could he kick me and my son out of the company? Aren't we part of the Zelinski family?'

"Everyone, please go back. Don't come to Zelinski Group again."

Tyler was furious and shouted, "Kenneth, what the hell do you want? Just tell me!"

Kenneth snorted coldly and walked directly to the chair beside his desk.

He sat down, crossed his legs, looked at the four of them, and said, "If Conrad takes what I have been through, I can help you to ask Dr. Quirke at all costs.

Harriet's face became extremely pale.

She was a little regretful. 'Why didn't I refrain from trying to kill Kenneth again and again?' she thought.

"You... You're such..." she groaned.

Tyler didn't know what to say. He knocked on the ground with his crutch and left with a long face.

When Cassandra went back to Springmount Townhouse, Cyrus was just going to see her there.

Seeing Cyrus was in good spirits, Cassandra knew that he had a good rest and was not as worn as in the past days.

"Slept well, didn't you?" Cassandra asked.

Cyrus chuckled and said in a melodious voice, "Of course, as nobody's bothering me these days."

Cassandra was speechless as she heard this and said, "Didn't I tell you that it was just an accident?"

Cyrus didn't say anything more. He knew Elaine was a clever girl. No one could be smarter than her in business, but in terms of personal relationships, she seemed to be very dumb.

She trusted people too quickly, especially those she treated as her friends.

It seemed that Kenneth had got a place in her heart.

But they had only known each other for merely a month.

Cyrus couldn't believe now they were already so close.

"Now, Kenneth has asked us to do several of his projects. When these are done, Yates Group should be listed soon."

Yates Group hadn't been listed yet. Even if its value had reached billions of dollars, they never had auditors check their assets or review their financial statements for IPO prep.

"Well, then you can arrange as you wish. Just take it as a compensation from Mr. Zelinski."

Cyrus was speechless when he heard the last few words.

He mused, 'Don't you think there's something wrong with what you said?'

“What the hell is compensation?!”

“What are you talking about?” Cyrus tapped Cassandra on her head and yelled.

Cassandra rubbed her head and frowned.

“Don’t do that,” Cassandra said.

Cyrus sensed that Cassandra was obviously in a better mood than before.

In the past, she would always be a little bit impatient no matter when, but today she was totally at ease.

So he asked, “Anything good happened?”

“Sort of,” she replied.

Cassandra told Cyrus the news that she was not a member of the Yates. family. He was silent for a moment.

“Benjamin is not your biological father, but your DNA’s a match?” Cyrus paused for a second and said, “If Benjamin had an identical twin, then their kids’ DNA could look the same. But does Benjamin have a twin brother?”

Cassandra shook her head.

As far as she knew, he didn’t have a twin brother.

Benjamin’s parents had only one son.

But it didn’t make sense.

Cassandra sent her DNA to her lab for genetic testing to see if anything.

went wrong.

Either the DNA test between her and Benjamin was messed up, or Benjamin's parents and the Yates family didn't tell the truth.

Chapter 160

A few days later, Cassandra's genetic test reported that there was nothing wrong with the DNA testing.

But Benjamin's DNA sequence didn't seem to match with what had been tested before.

They asked Benjamin to go to the hospital for a blood test and they got some of his blood for the DNA testing.

The test report seemed to be different from the previous one.

But the blood had been used and no DNA test could be done.

Now that Cassandra knew they were not her biological parents, it was enough.

As for her real family, Cassandra thought there was no need to look for them.

It didn't matter to her anymore. She didn't need any family bond now.

She had something more important to do. These people and incidents. would only affect her mood.

For example, now she needed to go to Whitecrane Hall again.

The results of the second round of clinical trials on the medicine that Kenneth needed were available now.

She wanted to follow up.

However, today's encounter made her feel that she really needed to move to a new house and there was no need to stay in Springmount Townhouse.

She could live anywhere.

Yes, the Yates family that irritated Cassandra came again.

This time, Leonardo came with Benjamin and Jasper.

When Cassandra saw those uninvited guests, she was very irritated and wanted to leave without looking at them.

However, Leonardo stopped her.

"Cassandra, let's have a talk," he said.

Even the way Benjamin looked at Cassandra changed. He became more gentle and kind.

"Cassie, I'm Daddy. You..."

After knowing that Cassandra was the child of her first love, Benjamin longed to see her. Somehow when she was born, she went missing and never came back before he could even take a glance at her.

Now he thought, 'It was all because of that bitch Miranda. She stole the baby and pretended that it was lost!

'It was all her plan!

'Yulissa is two years younger than Cassandra? Nonsense!

"They're all liars!

"That bitch deliberately changed Yulissa's birth date to make us think that the child was adopted.

'But she substituted Yulissa for my own daughter who should have enjoyed the life that she deserved.

"Daddy?" Cassandra replied in disbelief.

Benjamin nodded excitedly.

"I don't have a father. My father died long ago!" she shouted.

Her biological father, dead or not, made no difference to her.

Benjamin's face turned pale, and his hands were trembling uncontrollably.

"Cassie, I..."

Jasper was a little impatient and said, "Cassandra, can't you talk nicely? Dad came here for you. How dare you be so arrogant?"

Jasper hated people who deliberately put on airs. He thought she was actually content but refused to say something nicer.

'So gross!' he thought.

Leonardo pushed Jasper with a gloomy face and said, "Jace, mind your words."

So Jasper stopped talking.

Cassandra sneered and said, "I had no parents for the first 18 years of my life and I don't need them for the next 80 years either. You guys just took yourselves too seriously."

It didn't sound very harsh actually, but it was already a huge blow to Benjamin.

Benjamin was so disturbed that he almost fell down. Fortunately, Jasper grabbed him. That was why Leonardo also brought Jasper here.

"Cassie, come on, please. I know I made a mistake. I will make it up to you!"

Benjamin seemed to be regretful.

However, Cassandra was not moved at all.

"Make up to me? With what? The house left in the Yates family or your remaining money? If so, just save it. I earn more than the value of your house. You have nothing to compensate me."

That was the truth. The market price of the Yates residence was merely 200 million dollars now, but Cassandra earned much more than that in a single month. Her monthly income could be as much as ten times or twenty times the price of the house.

“Cassandra, why are you so obsessed with money? You’re only 18 years old but with an unmatched strong desire for money. You still got plenty of time to become rich, you know that?” Jasper couldn’t help retorting.

Sure enough, she’s far from being a real lady. Even if she is the top scorer in the national SAT, she’s still so vulgar, Jasper thought.

“Jasper, if you continue talking like this, go back!” Leonardo threatened him.

“What a disgrace.

It was a mistake to let him come, Leonardo thought to himself.

“Mr. Jasper Yates was right. I might be desiring money, but look at you! A total loser with no money and was suspended by the hospital. How dare you talk to me like that?” Cassandra chuckled and continued, “What? You don’t itch anymore now? You think you’ve recovered, don’t you? Just wait. You’ll know how it feels later!”

When Cassandra saw Jasper, she had prepared a needle. However, it was not an ordinary needle.

Cassandra smeared it with the drug she had developed before.

It could intensify people’s pain ten times.

This was the drug Jasper used on her in her previous life. The pain she suffered had been intensified many times because of this drug, so this time, she would let him know how it felt.

Quickly, a needle was stuck into Jasper's skin.

He felt the pain, and then he pulled out the needle fiercely, threw it on the ground, and said, "Cassandra, you are such a devil! I just said a few words, but you took a needle to stab me! Do you want me to die?!"

"If you think so, I have nothing to say.

Cassandra looked at Benjamin and said, "Mr. Yates, you said I was your daughter, then why did I show up in the countryside? You know that I am your first love's daughter and now you come to show me how regretful you are, but where were you before? When you thought I was Miranda's daughter, what did you do? Stop pretending to be a good father and acting regretfully. If you do feel sorry, you might as well kill yourself to compensate me!"

Hearing this, Benjamin fainted.

Cassandra raised her brows and glanced at him lying on the ground.

She thought, 'If he wakes up again, he'll probably be hemiplegic.

"You want to divorce Miranda?

'No way! You two will be tied together and torture each other forever to death!"

Cassandra ignored them and drove directly to Whitecrane Hall.

Hugo hurriedly greeted her, "Ms. Yates, the clinical results are available now. The second round started two days before the third round, but the data of the third round is also good at present."

Kenneth didn't understand what was going on.

'Why did Hugo show Cass the clinical experiment data?

'I don't mean to look down on Cass, but it's medicine. Does she know medicine too?

Judging from Hugo's attitude to Cass, it seems that he is a little too respectful to her.

'Could it be that... Cass is Dr. Quirke?' he thought.

Looking at Cassandra's serious look, he was more and more convinced of this idea.

"Cass, what do you think about the effect?" Kenneth asked.

For Kenneth, these two medicines had been qualified. As long as they could cure his comrades, the money he spent was worth it.

"The effect is not bad. They have met your requirements, haven't they?"

'I'm right. She's Dr. Quirke!' Kenneth thought.
