

My Rebirth 241

Chapter 241

Cassandra was deeply moved.

If Kenneth knew her and Jeremiah when she was 10 years old and they spent a month together, then why didn't she know?

Since Kenneth mentioned Jeremiah, he probably wasn't lying.

Cassandra recalled a dream she once had where a man told her he would take her away, but as she grew up, she forgot the dream gradually.

She seemed to know what love was.

Cassandra wasn't disgusted to hear Kenneth's confession. On the contrary, she was nervous and bewildered.

According to Hugo, if Cassandra loved Kenneth, she wouldn't want to run away or drive him away when he said he loved her. She'd get a little excited as if there were butterflies in her stomach.

Now, Cassandra was pretty much sure she didn't want Kenneth to leave.

Kenneth went on, "Cass, I may not be a perfect boyfriend and I may even have a lot of little problems, but I will change all the things you don't like about me for you. If you're worried that I will stop loving you in the future, I'll transfer all the property in my name to yours right now. At that time, you can even have your friends kill me."

Kenneth thought firmly, 'Cass, I will never betray you.

Cassandra looked over at Kenneth, his eyes were so tender and lucid as if he could only see her.

Cassandra was silent for so long that Kenneth thought she was going to reject him.

Kenneth withdrew his gaze in frustration and thought that maybe this wasn't the right time to tell Cassandra about this.

"Are you sure you won't cheat on me?" Cassandra asked suddenly and cautiously, which softened Kenneth's heart.

"Never and ever, Kenneth answered firmly.

Cassandra suddenly grinned. She decided to give it a try, and even if he cheated on her one day, she was capable of getting rid of him and making him lose everything he had.

After all, she was at the top of the hacker list.

"Well... Mr. Zelinski, I'll be your girlfriend," Cassandra reached out her right hand and smiled. Kenneth was shocked. He looked at Cassandra in disbelief and blurted out, "Cass, you... You agreed?"

Cassandra snorted, "Well, can I go back on my word?" If he said yes, it was okay. Anyway, she didn't lose anything.

When Cassandra was about to withdraw her hand, Kenneth held it. She could clearly feel his hand trembling.

"You can't go back on your word. Since you agreed, you are my girlfriend now," Kenneth called out with excitement. This was the happiest day he had ever had.

Cassandra muttered, "Don't get overjoyed. Maybe someday I'll..."

Kenneth immediately interrupted, "That's not possible. We will belong to each other only for the rest of our lives."

Cassandra turned to look hesitantly at Kenneth and murmured, "Have you been in a relationship before? You're really good at saying words of love."

If Cassandra didn't mention this, maybe Kenneth wouldn't care about what he just said. But since Cassandra said that, his face suddenly blushed and he said in a low voice, "I didn't. I just fell in love with you, and it's from my heart."

After saying that, Kenneth felt his face even hotter.

Kenneth held Cassandra's hand tightly. Their hands were sweaty, but neither of them wanted to let go. Finally, Cassandra couldn't stand the tacky feeling in her hand anymore, struggled to break free of Kenneth's grip, and snorted, "It's sweaty. Aren't you feeling uncomfortable?"

Another reason was that she wasn't used to being held by others like this.

Kenneth smiled with affection in his eyes. He pulled a tissue from the coffee table and gently wiped the sweat from her palms.

"Sorry. I was so happy that I didn't realize it," Kenneth said with a shy smile on her face.

Cassandra said lightly, "Well, the school season is coming up, so I'm afraid we won't have much time to see each other. See you later on weekends?"

Kenneth was shocked.

He thought, "But you're Elaine! Why would you need to go to college?"

However, he answered calmly. "It's okay. I'll pick you up every Friday and you can always call me if you need me."

Kenneth's answer satisfied Cassandra and made her feel much better.

So Cassandra nodded and smiled, "Good."

They stayed in the house for a while. It was a little late, so Cassandra walked Kenneth to the door. As Kenneth went out the door, he saw Yannick standing outside with a suggestive smile on his face.

When he saw Kenneth and Cassandra coming out hand in hand, he knew it was done.

“Congratulations, Mr. Zelinski!” called out Yannick

Yannick’s expression was flattering.

Cassandra couldn’t help but complain, “Is everyone around you like this?”

Cassandra recalled what Sofia and Cassidy had said that afternoon.

Cassandra thought confused, ‘Why would Yannick say those things to Sofia and Cassidy?’

“Wait! He took them away because Kenne had something to say to me?”

‘So Yannick just made up an excuse to help Kenne.

Cassandra thought she had found the truth:

Kenneth chuckled and joked, “I have no choice. He wouldn’t leave me after I saved him.”

Yannick was a little embarrassed to hear this.

Cassandra exclaimed, “So did Jeremiah! I saved him from the dead bodies, and he wouldn’t leave me after he was cured.”

Jeremiah, far away in Spaunia, sneezed for no reason.

He thought in wonder, “What’s going on? Did Elaine miss me? Yeah, it must be!”

“He won’t have time to pester

you once he joins the Falcon Special Operations Force,” said Kenneth nonchalantly, which made Yannick silently wish Jeremiah good luck in his mind.

It was awful even to think about it.

Cassandra sighed, “Don’t torture him. Actually, he always wanted to be a soldier, but he’s used to a free life. He’s the only one who’s been by my side since Blossom passed away, so just let him do the tech stuff.”

In her previous life, she was trapped in the Yates family because of her stubbornness, and she caused his hands to be disabled, which was a mistake she could not fix for the rest of her life.

So, in this life, Cassandra let Jeremiah do whatever he wanted, including joining the Falcon Special Operations Force.

Kenneth agreed, “Don’t worry, He is your family, and I will not train him based on the standard of training Yannick.”

While Kenneth was a little uncomfortable and jealous of the male friends Cassandra had around her, he was also grateful that Jeremiah had been there for Cassandra during the eight years he was away, and he knew that Cassandra considered Jeremiah as family.

Cassandra nodded and felt relieved.

Yannick was speechless.

However, his eyes suddenly lit up and he said to Kenneth, “Mr. Zelinski, the surprise at the villa is ready. Won’t you show it to Ms. Yates?”

Chapter 242

Cassandra was a little curious to see what the surprise would be, so she looked at Kenneth with expectant eyes.

Kenneth’s heart skipped a beat in an instant.

He had never seen Cassandra so sweet, lively, and cheerful.

So he didn’t care that the surprise was now a little awkward for him.

“Let’s go. I’ll take you there, but you can’t laugh at me,” Kenneth said hesitantly.

Cassandra agreed, “Don’t worry, I won’t.”

When they returned to Kenneth’s villa, the living room was decorated with flawless white scenery and two-color balloons. It must have taken a lot of people a lot of time to prepare this set.

Cassandra loved the pure white scene, but she would have been happier if there wasn’t that huge heart shape surrounded by pink candles in the middle of the living room.

There were also many hydrogen balloons, each of which had streamers hung underneath and seemed to have words on them.

[Cass, it’s been eight years. It’s so good to see you again.]

[Sorry, I am late. I’ve missed you for eight years, let me make up for it with my next eighty years, okay?]

[I love you a little more every day, but I'm too shy to tell you for fear you'll be scared off by me.]

[Cass, will you love me?]

Kenneth wrote down every word he wanted to say to Cassandra.

Before that, he had thrown away many notes that weren't good enough.

As a result, Cassandra was touched, and she hadn't realized until then that she wasn't as aloof as she thought she was.

She was just so disappointed in the Yates family.

It was only then did she believe she deserved to be loved.

Cassandra's eyes were slightly red. Kenneth had been watching her. Seeing that she was in a bitter mood, he immediately stepped forward and asked, "What's wrong?"

"Nothing." Cassandra shook her head. "Thank you, I love this surprise."

Kenneth breathed a sigh of relief and said, "I'm glad you like it. I thought you didn't like it just now."

They looked at each other affectionately, which made Yannick feel redundant. So he hurriedly closed the door and went out.

It was a mid-September night and there were plenty of mosquitoes outside.

Yannick was a bit regretful that he hadn't brought any mosquito repellent with him.

The next day, Cassandra packed up her things and went out. It was time to go back to campus.

However, when she went out, she met Kenneth. He walked forward with a smile and took the backpack from Cassandra's hand.

"Let's go. I'll drive you to campus," said Kenneth in a good mood.

Kenneth opened the passenger door for Cassandra and closed the door gently.

After he got in the car, he handed Cassandra the breakfast he had bought and said, "I bought you some breakfast. It will be a while before we get to school."

Cassandra looked at the breakfast Kenneth bought her and fell silent.

It was not to say that Cassandra didn't like the breakfast Kenneth bought her, but she was full.

Cassandra said hesitantly, "Kenne, Hugo prepares me breakfast every day. It's too much." Though saying that, Cassandra ate a croissant.

Kenneth said apologetically, "Sorry, I didn't know Hugo prepared breakfast for you every morning. Since you're full, just put them aside."

Meanwhile, Kenneth felt relieved Cassandra was well taken care of.

Cassandra laughed, "I could eat two more croissants."

Kenneth was the first person to care so much about Cassandra and prepare her breakfast besides Hugo and Jeremiah, so Cassandra didn't want to let him down..

"Okay. Whatever you like. I'll eat the rest of them," Kenneth smiled with concern, which warmed Cassandra's heart.

Cassandra said firmly, "No, I'll finish them."

Kenneth didn't know what to say.

"I'll take them back to the student apartment so don't grab them from me, Cassandra said sincerely and decided to take the rest as snacks.

"Oh, okay." Kenneth was amused. Suddenly, he asked, "So you lived in the student apartment last semester?"

"Yeah. That saved me a lot of time. I would come home when I didn't have classes that day." Cassandra said slowly while eating a croissant.

Kenneth's eyes lit up and he continued, "So Cass, Hugo couldn't prepare breakfast for you when you were living in the student apartment, right? How about I bring you breakfast every day?"

"No, I'll just go to the canteen every day. It's so troublesome for you to come here every day." Cassandra declined and shook her head. She even put the croissant down.

"It doesn't matter. I feel happy about getting my girlfriend breakfast every day," Kenneth insisted.

Cassandra suddenly felt that he was quite used to being a boyfriend.

After a few seconds of hesitation, Cassandra agreed, "Okay then. Thank you."

Only then did Kenneth smile with satisfaction, which was completely different from his previous indifference.

When they arrived at campus, Cassandra got off with the rest of her breakfast in her hand.

“Oh, give them to me. I ordered you a meal for lunch,” Kenneth said as he reached up to take the breakfast bag from Cassandra’s hand.

“That’s okay.” Cassandra said subconsciously, automatically ignoring the fact that Kenneth had ordered her lunch.

“But I haven’t had breakfast yet and it’s going to be too late to get breakfast now because I have a meeting soon. Would you like to give me your breakfast?” Kenneth said, feeling a twinge of disgust at his contrived tone.

“Then give it to me. Hurry up. You’re gonna be late,” Kenneth urged and took the breakfast bag straight away.

Cassandra shrugged and nodded.

“Well, then goodbye. Be careful when driving.” After saying that, Cassandra entered the campus.

Sitting in the car, Kenneth felt greasy when he thought about the tone of his voice and began to worry that Cassandra might think he wasn’t cool enough.

After all, Cassandra was 18, while Kenneth was already 27.

He took out his phone and started to search for something on Google.

[How do I know if a girl thinks I talk greasy?]

The responses below were very similar.

[Not greasy? That's easy. Give her a black card, and she'll think your voice is the most pleasant sound in the world.]

[If you feel that way, then you must not have bought enough gifts for her. Buy her a couple more bags.]

[Have you been called greasy by a girl? Lol. Read the book How to Be A Dominant Man.]

Kenneth thought in wonder, 'How to Be A Dominant Man?

"What's that?

Kenneth ate the breakfast that Cassandra hadn't finished just now and sat in the car to start searching How to Be A Dominant Man on Google. He completely forgot about the meeting.

Kenneth murmured, "Woman, you managed to get my attention."

"Woman, this is my black card, and it's yours now."

"You are mine, so you can only look at me and love me only."

Kenneth almost threw his phone out. If he said that to Cassandra, she would definitely break with him.

Chapter 243

"Cassandra, Cassandra, come here!"

As soon as Cassandra entered the classroom, someone was calling her. Judging from the voice, it should be Sofia.

Cassandra looked over and saw Sofia waving at her. Then she walked towards Sofia.

Sofia pulled her enthusiastically. "Come and sit down. I have reserved a seat for you."

"Thank you."

"Anytime. We're classmates."

The most important thing is that you are still my idol. It would be so lucky to do you a favor!" thought Sofia.

"Cassandra, I heard that we are going to register for the courses today. Do you have confidence? Do you think you can get your favorite courses?" After Sofia saw the notice, she was nervous and afraid that she couldn't get her favorite courses.

"Well, it shouldn't be a big problem," Cassandra said lightly.

When Cassidy heard this, she also hurriedly came up and said, "I heard that the teacher who teaches Traditional Medicine in the optional courses is the kindest. No one has ever failed his course, so everyone is scrambling for his course."

She hesitated. "But his seat is limited. I may not be able to take his course since the competition is so fierce."

Sofia suddenly thought of something. The most annoying thing is that we also have to learn anatomy and take public courses with those who major in Modern Medicine."

At the thought of Emma's face, she felt that public courses were not that good.

Cassandra raised her eyebrows as if she didn't know anything. "Where did you all get that?"

Although there was no expression on Cassandra's face, Sofia still felt that something was wrong with Cassandra today and she seemed to be in a good mood.

"Cassandra, these messages have been posted in the group chat. Are you not there?"

Cassandra was stunned. Was there a classmate group chat?

She took out her phone and looked through WhatsApp, only to find a group chat with numerous messages.

She didn't know when she was added to the group chat. Because there were too many messages, she muted the notifications for the group chat.

As a result, she missed the messages.

Sofia accidentally glanced at the group chat messages, and she couldn't believe it. "Idol, you didn't check your phone yesterday?"

Nowadays, all young people were phubbers. How could Cassandra not log in to WhatsApp for a whole night?

Cassandra raised her eyebrows. "Idol?"

Sofia scratched her head embarrassedly and said, "I'm Samantha's fan. So you are my idol."

Cassidy had already passed the excitement because she could only be regarded as a stander-by. She listened to every song of Samantha and even sang them, but she couldn't say how much she liked them.

However, Cassidy was very excited when she knew who Samantha really was and Samantha stood in front of her.

It was just that she hadn't been as excited as Sofia for so long.

Cassandra nodded with a smile, "Thank you."

Outside the hospital gate, Frederick, Jasper, and Leonardo were thrown out.

The security guard threw them to the ground fiercely. "I gave you a week to raise money and pay the fees. Your injuries are almost healed. You still can't pay the fees. Do you think this is a public hospital?"

Leonardo and the others went to the famous private hospital in Drieso, which charged high fees. and provided good service. But when they were hospitalized, they only paid the deposit and didn't put more money on it. As a result, things turned out like this.

There was no money in every card they used, even the one left for Matthew, which made them a little confused.

Matthew, Yohannes, and Raymond went to the bank for more information and were about to get a loan. Yet, the loan application was rejected.

When they got back to the hospital, Leonardo and others had been kicked out.

"Leo, Fred, Jace, what's going on?" Yohannes hurriedly stepped forward to help the three of them. up, but Leonardo had a problem with his legs and could no longer stand, so he needed someone to fully support him.

"Yohannes, you're here. Did you get our money back?" Leonardo hurriedly asked.

Yohannes's face turned gloomy instantly. "I'm sorry, Leo. We checked all the monitoring systems but didn't find any transfer records. The money disappeared out of thin air."

In fact, Cassandra remitted their money to a system. It was like writing some blank checks in it. As long as three or four days passed, all the numbers in the system would be cleared, and Cassandra received all the money as soon as it was transferred.

“Leo, let’s go back first. There are too many people here.”

It was crowded at the gate of the hospital. Therefore, those people were pointing fingers at them.

“Oh my God, he’s dressed decently, How could he not afford the medical bill?”

“Their suits are all high–end customized. They don’t even have the money to see a doctor. It must `be fake”

“The world is so big that nothing is to be surprised at. I’ve seen two people who can’t pay the bill, but I have never seen anyone being thrown out in their twenties. If I were them, I would probably cry on the spot.”

“He even pretended to go to the bank and withdraw money, but it turned out that there was nothing. They can just look at each other in despair.”

“Aren’t they the sons from the Yates family?” One, two, three, four, five, six. Six brothers in total.”

“What a weird family. Do they really think they are still from that rich and powerful family? They were as blind as a bat. Why didn’t the fake rich girl sponsor them?”

The discussion was getting louder and louder. The few of them couldn’t stay here anymore, so they had to leave in dismay.

They came to Matthew’s apartment. It was a large apartment and the surrounding environment developed rapidly. The value of this apartment had doubled, but when it was bought, the six of them thought it was too small.

“What’s going on? Why is so much money gone?”

“No, it’s just weird. We checked all the systems and transfer records, but there was no operation on this sum of money. And...” Yohannes looked a little gloomy and didn’t continue.

“And what?”

“Mom maxed out her credit card when she went to prison and owed more than 160 thousand dollars. They were already living beyond their means, but now they had to take on a heavy debt.

Yohannes felt himself overwhelmed.

“What?”

Leonardo tried to stand up, but his legs were weak.

“It’s overdue. The bank has been contacting us to pay back the money on her behalf, or we will be sued.”

Leonardo felt dizzy and almost couldn’t hold on.

“Let her pay it herself. We have no money left. How can we pay it back?” Leonardo said angrily. “Let those debt collectors go to jail to look for her!”

Leonardo was inexplicably agitated and felt very uncomfortable in his heart.

“Leo... Why don’t I try to find Cassandra?” Cassandra found someone to cure Raymond’s hand, so they could also ask her for help this time.

Yohannes said excitedly.

“I’m not going. Go by yourself. Cassie is disappointed with me.” Leonardo refused without thinking.

“Then what should we do now?” Yohannes asked grumpily.

Chapter 244

Leonardo knew he couldn’t stand up

but he was too ashamed to see Cassandra again.

Everything in the dream was so real that he survived by relying on Cassandra’s survival method.

Cassandra not only saved Raymond’s life but also somehow saved Leonardo. With this perception, Leonardo felt even more embarrassed to see Cassandra.

“I don’t know. Cassie gave money to save Ray, but now how can we beg her?”

In the past, they thought Cassandra was their younger sister. Even if they cut ties with each other, they would go to find her because of her identity. Clearly knowing that she hated their guts, they would kidnap her in the name of her family member. They even felt that they did the right thing.

But now, it turned out that Cassandra was not their younger sister. What was worse, they made irreparable mistakes. No one would forgive them.

Besides, in the dream, Cassandra died in their hands. Leonardo was the cruelest person. He even asked someone to throw the corpse into the mountain and let it be gnawed by wild animals.

The bodyguard. Where was the bodyguard?

What about the bodyguard who was ordered to throw the corpse? Why didn't Leonardo see him in his memory?

Leonardo didn't pay attention to Yohannes's nagging in his ear at all, and Yohannes also realized that something was off. "Leo, are you listening to me?"

"Yohannes, where are the bodyguards in the Yates residence?" Leonardo asked.

"They have long been dismissed. We can't afford to pay their salaries. Why do we keep them?"

Among the six of them, only Matthew had a house now.

All their real estate was exchanged for money. Now that the money had disappeared, they didn't know where it went. It could be said that they were broke now.

This was the only place that could keep out the wind and rain.

However, Leonardo was lost in thought. He wondered if he could find those bodyguards after they had left.

"Do you have the phone numbers of those bodyguards?"

"No, but I have Robert's phone number. I think he has their contacts." After the Yates residence was sold, Robert also found another job..

"I'll call Robert." Leonardo also had Robert's phone number, and he started looking for his phone.

Yohannes was confused and asked, "Leo, why are you looking for a bodyguard?"

Matthew and Jasper approached Leonardo. Jasper asked, "Leo, you dreamed about Cassandra's death too, didn't you? So you want to find the bodyguard, but the bodyguard should know nothing.

"In the dream, you asked the bodyguard to throw Cassie into the mountain. Do you already know that?"

Matthew's words confused Yohannes. What were they talking about?

Leonardo called Robert and said, "Robert, this is Leonardo. I have something to ask you."

"Mr Yates, go ahead, please."

"I wonder if any bodyguards resigned before."

"There was one. It seems that he works in the Urban, and the salary is five times what the Yates family gave him."

"Do you know who introduced the job to him?"

"I heard from other bodyguards that he thought he was lucky enough to be favored by Ms. Cassandra Yates and arranged for someone to poach him. He also received training before joining the Urban."

Robert knew it because he had taken care of that bodyguard when he was in the Yates residence, so he would contact that bodyguard sometimes.

Leonardo hung up the phone in a daze. It seemed that Cassandra knew everything, so she treated them like this.

It turned out that Cassandra was ungrateful, but they were too evil!

At the same time, Jasper and Matthew looked pale.

“You can leave now. I want to be alone.” Leonardo closed his eyes and stopped looking at them.

Only Yohannes was out of the picture and didn't understand what had happened. After walking out of the room, Yohannes asked, “Jace, Matthew, what are you and Leo talking about?”

“Nothing. Don't disturb Leo,” Matthew said.

Jasper suddenly fell straight to the ground with his eyes wide open. Yohannes and Matthew hurriedly stepped forward to check what was going on. “Jasper, are you okay?”

“So... It's all my fault. I deserve it.”

In the dream, he not only looked at Cassandra coldly but also injected her with medicine that could amplify the pain several times when she was seriously injured. No wonder Cassandra treated them in a different way, and he was the most painful one.

So, it was all karma.

“Just... leave me alone.” Then Jasper closed his eyes and fainted.

Cassandra had just finished class when she;

had her curriculum.

“Why are you so punctual?”

a call from Kenneth. She was curious why Kenneth Kenneth said proudly, "I asked your instructor for your curriculum and minor courses. "But I don't want to master your schedule. I just want to figure out when to come and treat you to a meal."

Cassandra smiled lightly, "So, are you at the school gate now?"

"Of course. Would you like to have a meal with me?"

"Wait for me."

Cassandra hung up the phone and couldn't help smiling. Sofia immediately realized something was off and asked curiously, "Cassandra, do you have a date?"

"Yes. Bingo, but there is no reward." Cassandra rarely made a joke, then picked up her backpack, and left

Sofia felt a little unbelievable. She asked Cassidy blankly, "Did Cassandra joke with me just now?"

Cassidy looked disgusted and complained, "It's normal. There is nothing to be surprised about."

"You don't know how it feels. You are not Samantha's fan after all!"

Sofia thought, "This kind of great discovery should be shared with Samantha's real fans.

"Samantha had an unfortunate childhood. She finally returns to her biological parents' home but is abused by others. How can she smile and joke?"

'But recently, she always had a faint smile. She even made a joke just now. Who changed her?"

I really want to know. I will definitely thank them for their kindness!

“Don’t exaggerate. Cassandra is a human being, and she has feelings of joy and sorrow. Besides, I don’t think that she is a gloomy person. On the contrary, when I met her, she was very cute, okay? Don’t think Cassandra is so fragile. You can protect her in the name of a fan but don’t over-protect her. Isn’t it the most important for her to be happy?”

Sofia looked at Cassidy in shock. She thought, How could this arrogant young lady say such a long sentence? What she said makes sense!”

“Are you possessed by something? How could you say so many great truths?” Sofia asked.

Cassidy’s face darkened at once and she said in a fierce tone, “What? Am I so unreasonable and evil in your heart? I’m also Cassandra’s friend!”

Then Cassidy left angrily. Sofia was a little dumbfounded. Why did Cassidy get angry all of a sudden?

Sofia muttered in a low voice, “I just wanted to praise you. Why didn’t you wait for me to finish?”

“I still have to appease you. It’s really killing me!”

Sofia wondered when Cassidy could change her bad temper!

Chapter 245

After Cassandra got into Kenneth’s car, she threw her backpack in the back seat and asked, “What are we going to eat?”

“Let’s go home. I’ll cook for you. Kenneth reached out and rubbed Cassandra’s head, saying in a doting tone.

But Cassandra dodged in disgust. “No more rubbing or I can’t grow taller.”

Cassandra had no choice. She was only 5.4 feet tall. During her adolescent period, she devoted all her energy to learning skills and had meals irregularly, so she grew slowly. Her current height. gradually improved after she used traditional medicine to recuperate herself. At the age of 16, she suddenly grew a little taller. Otherwise, she might be only 5.1 feet tall.

“Cassandra, you are the most perfect with a height like this. You don’t need to be any taller,” Kenneth said.

A height of 5.4 feet was considered to be tall among girls. So there was no need to compare with girls who were 5.5 feet tall or even taller, Cassandra was the cutest at this height.

Cassandra didn’t believe in Kenneth’s rhetoric.

Of course, Kenneth didn’t care. He was 6.2 feet tall. There was a distance of 9.8 inches between him and her. When they stood together, they looked like an uncle taking his niece out. They didn’t look like a perfect match at all.

When the two arrived at Springmount Townhouse, they were stopped again. It was Raymond..

Raymond stepped forward and slapped the passenger door. “Cassandra, get out of the car. I want to talk to you. Get out of the car!”

Cassandra’s good mood disappeared at the moment Raymond appeared. She got out of the car and asked coldly, “What do you want to say?”

Cassandra’s indifferent aura made Raymond somewhat uncomfortable. “Did you take our money away?”

Cassandra sneered, “Raymond, are you crazy? Go and check your brain. Why do you think I am capable of taking all your money away?”

She was really capable of doing this. She gave the money to a few orphanages in the suburbs of Drieso so that they could repair the orphanages and buy some clothes and school supplies for the children. Those shabby things should be replaced.

She checked the backgrounds of those orphanages one by one, so she was relieved.

Miranda killed a little girl, so it was reasonable for her sons to pay her debts.

Raymond didn't believe her words at all. You are capable of doing this. Even if you aren't, what about him? He is the richest man in the world and a powerful figure." Raymond pointed at Kenneth and questioned Cassandra.

"Raymond, if you have evidence, sue me. If you don't, I will sue you for defamation. Or we can't solve it in other ways. Cassandra's face darkened instantly.

Raymond swallowed his saliva unconsciously and said. "It's definitely you. No one has such abig hatred for the Yates family except you. We are in such a terrible state now. Aren't you satisfied?"

"No, it's far from enough. If killing wasn't illegal, you would have died long ago, and it wasn't your turn to shout at me!"

Raymond was so agitated that he wanted to slap Cassandra, but his hand didn't fall at all. He was grabbed by Cassandra and thrown out fiercely.

However, at the moment he fell, he clearly felt that his left hand was misplaced.

"Raymond, for the sake of Benjamin's death and I'm in a good mood today, this matter is over. If you show up in front of me again, it will not be as simple as breaking your hand."

Cassandra got into the car directly, but Kenneth didn't get in. Instead, he walked around from the front of the car to Raymond and stamped on Raymond's leg.

"If you disturb Cassandra again, I'll cut you into a shred and put you on display in the city center!" Kenneth kicked hard, and the sound of bone cracking could be heard clearly.

Then he walked back to the driver's seat as if nothing had happened and drove the car into the neighborhood. His movement was smooth without doing anything extra.

Cassandra didn't utter a word, but the smile on her face had betrayed her.

Kenneth didn't think she was ruthless, and he even went up to kick Raymond hard. She broke Raymond's arm and Kenneth broke Raymond's leg. Raymond was completely ruined.

When Cassandra returned to Kenneth's house, she found that he had already prepared all the ingredients. Even the soup was almost ready. Yannick looked funny and ridiculous guarding the soup in the kitchen.

Seeing them coming back, Yannick seemed to see a savior. "Mr. Zelinski, Ms. Yates, you're finally back! This soup is too scary!"

Words failed Kenneth.

Cassandra smiled unconsciously, "What's so scary about the soup?"

"It's gurgling terribly! It's good that you come back. I'll leave first!" Yannick ran away as fast as his legs could carry him.

It was not his fault. Yannick was terrible at cooking. He couldn't tell whether the water was boiling or not, and he admitted that in this respect, he was no match for embeth

If it weren't for the fact that Kenneth was allergic to so many things. Yannick wouldn't have known so many vegetables and meat at all.

Kenneth said disdainfully. "Ignore him. He is terrible at cooking. When be cooked for the first time, he blew up my kitchen. He can't even tell whether the water is boding or not. It has been a blessing for him to live so long.

Cassandra was rendered speechless.

Jeremiah could even make simple dishes to support himself

Kenneth had already put on an apron and was ready to cook. Cassandra looked up and saw Kenneth wearing the apron. She couldn't help but burst into laughter.

“Kenneth, the pattern on your apron is... so cute.” Cassandra couldn't help it. It was so cute.

On the apron was the pattern of Winnie the Pooh. It bent down, turned its head and suck out its tongue. It was so funny.

Kenneth glanced at his apron in confusion.

“I'll go get another one.”

In the storage room of the kitchen, there were several newly bought aprons, but each was ter than the other.

There was Doraemon. Pikachu, Squirtle, and even a pink apron with rabbits on it...

Kenneth was dumbfounded and wondered why Yannick had bought all of these!

However, Cassandra laughed heartily and Kenneth was stunned by her laughter.

Her laughter was very pleasant, more beautiful than the lark. With her laughter, it seemed that the world had become a better place.

“Kenneth, these aprons are so cute. Just use them.” Cassandra smiled and she was in a pleasant mood.

Kenneth asked, "Do you think these look good?" "Did she have any special taste?" he wondered.

"Yes, when Grandma Blossom was still alive, she would accompany me to watch cartoons every day. I just watched these cartoons with her. After she passed away, no one accompanied me. So, you look good in these aprons." As Cassandra spoke, she missed Blossom.

Kenneth took a deep breath and exhaled heavily.

Anyway, as long as Cassandra liked it.

"Then which one do you like? I'll wear it to cook tonight."

Chapter 246

Cassandra thought carefully and said seriously, "Winnie the Pooh, right? Next time you cook, wear the other one."

Kenneth raised his eyebrows and asked in confusion, "Winnie the Pooh!"

Cassandra said, "It's the one on you. Don't change it. Hurry up! I'm hungry."

She was really hungry. She wasted time at the door just now. Otherwise, she was able to cook two dishes at this moment. Thinking of this, she felt that the Yates family was even more annoying.

"There are snacks in the refrigerator. Have some first, and the dinner will be ready in a while." Hearing that Cassandra was hungry, Kenneth didn't bother about whether the apron looked good or not and hurriedly went to the kitchen to start cooking.

Cassandra saw the shrimp in the basket and asked, "Aren't you allergic to this kind of shrimp? Why did you buy it?"

Kenneth picked up the shrimp thread smoothly and said skillfully, "I know you like it. Just because you're with me, and you can't even eat your favorite shrimp, making me look domineering."

His words moved Cassandra.

But Kenneth thought it was very simple. When Cassandra lived with Blossom, Cassandra rarely ate shrimp for almost a year. For Cassandra, shrimps were precious food.

When Kenneth was hunted down and saved by Cassandra, she once went to the town to buy a lot of shrimp. But at that time, she was reluctant to eat them and wanted to save them for her sick grandmother.

He was allergic to shrimp, but it didn't mean that he couldn't have shrimp for dinner in the future. It was just cooking one dish at home.

Cassandra didn't know what to say. She silently opened the refrigerator and was surprised when she saw a lot of snacks. "Why are there so many snacks?"

Kenneth didn't stop and said, "They're your favorites. I asked someone to prepare some for you. You can see if it suits your taste or tell me what you like to eat. I will ask Yannick to buy some."

In this way, whenever Cassandra wanted to have snacks, she would think of coming to find him so they could have more time together. It was a good idea.

"How do you know I like to eat snacks?" Cassandra took a bag of raisins, opened it, and ate it.

"Who came to me for snacks before the last day of the physical training? Who kept eating snacks. but didn't eat much barbecue at the friendship night?" Kenneth's repeated questions made Cassandra a little embarrassed.

"That's a gift from my classmate. I can't refuse it." Cassandra felt a little guilty, but she insisted.

“What you said is right. Let’s go eat,” Kenneth smiled. If it weren’t for the water in his hands, he would really like to pinch her little face. Her mouth was stuffed with raisins and her cheeks looked very cute.

About another hour later, Kenneth finally made dinner.

There were six dishes in total.

Cassandra looked at these dishes which were delicious.

“Sit down and eat.”

Cassandra couldn’t wait to pick up a shrimp, peel off the shell and start eating.

This season’s crayfish was not excellent enough, so this kind of sea shrimp was the best.

She closed her eyes with satisfaction and didn’t expect Kenneth to be so good at cooking.

“How is it? Is it delicious?” Kenneth asked cautiously with expectation in his eyes.

“It’s so delicious. I think it tastes better than mine.” Cassandra tasted a spoonful of soup. She wanted to try the taste of the “terrible” soup in Yannick’s view.

She took a sip and wondered, ‘It is very delicious, but how could it become scary in Yannick’s view?’

After dinner, Cassandra was about to go to the kitchen to wash dishes, but Kenneth stopped her.

He said, “There’s no need to wash them. There is a dishwasher. I can put these in.”

He gave the cleaner a vacation, so he had to do everything himself. However, it seemed to be wonderful to be with Cassandra.

Cassandra sat on the sofa after dinner.

She thought that if it went on like this, she would gain lots of weight sooner or later. The breakfast was different every day, and the food ordered at noon was also according to the standard. configuration with very fresh ingredients, which was more delicious than those prepared by Hugo.

If she ate like this every night, she would gain ten pounds in a month.

Cassandra said, "I think I will get fat sooner or later."

Kenneth said, "That's good. This is my lifelong wish."

He just wanted to make Cassandra gain more weight and be healthy. Although she was tall now, she was too thin and looked like she would be blown away by the wind.

They cuddled each other for a long time. It was almost ten o'clock when Kenneth got up and said, "Let's go. I'll drive you back to school."

It took an hour to drive from Springmount Townhouse to Juset University every day, but now it only took 40 minutes without traffic jams, Cassandra could sleep a little longer the next day.

Cassandra got up and followed Kenneth out.

When they returned to the student apartment, Sofia and Cassidy were also at the door.

"Cassandra, you just came back now. Who send you back?" Sofia's eyes were full of curiosity.

Why did she feel that there was something wrong with Cassandra these days? She had become... glowing.

“My boyfriend. How about the answer?” Cassandra said.

She thought, ‘Kenneth deserves it. So what if I admit it?’”

“Ahhh! If you are in love with someone, what should I do? Who dares take you away from me?! I won’t let him go!”

Sofia didn’t expect that Cassandra was in love with a man.

It was a complete blow!

Cassandra was speechless.

It seemed that Kenneth had an enemy.

Kenneth just stopped the car and heard Sofia’s words.

Seeing him coming, Cassandra pointed at him and said, “Here it is. Do you want to get even with him?”

Although Cassidy was a little excited, she wasn’t as exaggerated as Sofia. Cassidy could just let Sofia talk for the time being.

When the two of them looked over, a man who was 6 feet 3 inches tall walked towards them. The closer he got to them, the more attractive his face looked.

Sofia was obsessed with appearance, but she didn’t scream at this time.

She said, "Cassandra, I don't think he deserves you. Shake hands and break it up!"

As Cassandra's fan, she felt that no man in the world deserved Cassandra!

Besides, this man looked very mature at first sight. He must be older than Cassandra.

Sofia thought, "Wait. Why does this guy look so familiar?"

'Kenneth? Kenneth!'

"Kenneth?" Sofia's voice quavered at once!

She wondered, 'Cassandra's boyfriend is Kenneth?

"When did they hook up? Was it when the show was being recorded?"

Kenneth nodded and looked at Cassandra. He said gently, "What are you talking about?"

Cassandra said. "They asked who took me away?"

Kenneth was speechless.

He didn't know what to say.

Chapter 247

Kenneth was a little confused.

However, Sofia was too excited to say anything. She never thought that Cassandra's boyfriend was Kenneth, the richest man in the world. She would not forget this face when she saw it!

Cassidy also pinched Sofia's arm excitedly until it hurt. "Ouch!"

Then Cassidy let go of Sofia awkwardly. Cassidy asked, "Kenneth, are you Cassandra's boyfriend?"

She thought, I heard that Kenneth was in his twenties. Why is he still with a girl as young as Cassandra?

Is he pretending that he is still young?"

"Do I not look like her boyfriend?" Kenneth asked.

It seemed that Cassandra introduced him just now, but he felt a little regretful and didn't hear it personally.

Cassandra smiled, and her eyebrows slightly raised, showing her happy mood. "Let me introduce my boyfriend, Kenneth."

It was not Cassidy and Sofia who were excited, but Kenneth.

He didn't expect that he would be introduced so soon. He thought it would be a secret for a few years because of Cassandra's study.

Sofia's mind was full of thoughts. 'Is Cassandra really with Kenneth?!"

When she watched the variety show before, she had thought that Cassandra looked perfect match. with Thomas or Amelia. Even if the comments were talking about how match Kenneth and Cassandra were on the screen, it was just funny. No one dared to make a joke about Kenneth.

But now, all the possibilities were impossible, the most impossible couple was true.

“Hello, everyone.” Kenneth nodded slightly and greeted them with a smile.

Cassandra felt that it was late, so she said, “Go back quickly. I’ll go upstairs with them.”

Kenneth said, “Okay, have a good rest when you arrive. I’ll come back tomorrow morning.”

These days, he would come here every morning. It seemed that after seeing her once, he was more motivated to work.

Therefore, he would take breakfast and accompany her to the school gate.

The three of them walked into the student apartment. Kenneth’s greeting just now couldn’t suppress their curiosity. Sofia asked, “Cassandra, when did you be with Kenneth? Is it beginning from the program?”

Cassandra shook her head. “No, we had a romantic relationship after the summer camp.”

Sofia thought for a while and realized that it had been less than a week.

She wondered, ‘Is Cassandra so vigorous? She doesn’t give him a long-term assessment. She even officially announced it to us.’

“How is Kenneth treating you?” This was what Sofia cared about the most.

Cassandra thought for a while and smiled unconsciously, “He is good to me.”

“That’s good, Cassandra. You should be happy!”

After the three of them finished chatting in the elevator, Cassandra found that Cassidy and Sofia were on the same floor with her when she got out.

Cassandra asked, "Do you also live here?"

"Yeah. There are too many people in the dormitory, so we wanted to apply for a student apartment. It just happens that there is enough room for us," Sofia explained.

The next day, Cassandra entered the classroom with Kenneth.

But she found that her classmates today were very enthusiastic.

[Did you hear that? There will be a new transfer student today. He's the prince of Zosteylor and the Queen's only son.]

[I heard that! He will study with us for five years in the future.]

[Why does a foreign prince come to Clusia to learn traditional medicine?]

[Who knows? He'll be here soon anyway. I wonder what the prince looks like.]

Even Cassidy couldn't help gossiping. "Cassandra, have you heard that there will be a prince in our class? The school seems to attach great importance to him."

Cassandra nodded. "Yes, I just heard."

Cassidy was speechless and thought, "You heard their discussion just now!"

Before the class, the instructor came in, followed by a handsome boy. His hair was styled fashionably and his eyes were striking, which attracted all the girls present.

The instructor was introducing this new student, but he glanced at his classmates and suddenly smiled.

“Introduce yourself and let everyone know about you,” The instructor said.

Harper said, “Hello, everyone. My name is Harper Yates. I’m 18 years old and from Zosteylor. Nice to meet you.”

Sofia also poked Cassandra and said, “He has the same last name as you.”

“He is Prince from Zosteylor. How could his surname be Yates? He just changed it casually.” Cassandra didn’t care.

Soha nodded in agreement.

The instructor said, “Then find a seat. It’s time for class.”

Harper nodded and walked towards his classmates. He looked at them for a long time and finally stopped beside Sofia. “Excuse me, can I sit in your seat?”

Facing Harper’s wink, Sofia surrendered and said, “Okay. Then sit down.”

Just as Sofia was about to get up, Cassandra stopped her. Cassandra said coldly to Harper, “This seat is taken. You can sit in another seat.”

Cassandra sat between Cassidy and Sofia, while Sofia was sitting in the aisle. If Sofia gave up her seat, then this person would sit next to Cassandra.

Harper shrugged regretfully and said politely, "I'm very sorry. Then I will sit in another seat."

He thought, 'Damn it. The first thing she said to me was "This seat is taken.

Finally, he chose a position behind Cassandra and asked someone to move inside.

After class, Harper took the initiative to greet them again. "Hi, nice to meet you. What are your names?"

He stood next to Sofia again, smiling cutely.

Sofia said, "My name is Sofia." She pointed at Cassandra who was busy writing. "This is Cassandra, who got the highest SAT score in our country." Then she pointed at Cassidy and said, "She is Cassidy."

Harper squinted and exclaimed in surprise, "Is Cassandra the girl with 1598 points?"

Cassidy was a little surprised and said. "I don't think it has spread to Zosteylor.

Harper shook his head and said gently, "I heard it after I came to Clusia."

He volunteered to invite them. "You guys are the only friends I know in Clusia. Can we go to the canteen for lunch together?"

Cassandra began to pack. "Excuse me, I have to go now, and you can have lunch with them."

When Sofia was about to say yes, she couldn't say anything.

Sofia asked, "Cassandra, where are you going?"

"I'm going to the Physics Department. You can have lunch with Cassidy."

Cassandra had lunch at noon. To be honest, she had been in school for almost a week and didn't even know where the canteen was.

It was a little embarrassing-

Only then did Sofia remember that Cassandra had a minor course. She said, "Okay, go ahead."

Cassandra left without even looking at Harper.

Chapter 248

Without Cassandra, Harper didn't have much interest in eating.

He took out his phone and opened the group chat.

Harper: [It's difficult for me to get close to Cassandra. After saying a few words, she has already lost patience.]

Someone in the group quickly responded.

Vincent: [What did you say to make her dislike you?]

Theodore: [If you can't do it, come back and let Vincent do it.]

Harper: [No, I'm the elder brother. I don't believe my sister is so cruel.]

Theodore: [Mom and Dad still don't know about her. You can deal with it as soon as possible. If it goes well, I will tell Mom and Dad again.]

Harper: [Okay.]

Vincent: [If you can't, let me do it. If it weren't for the suspicion of Cassandra, I wouldn't have let you go alone.]

Harper: [Don't even think about it!]

He put down his phone and stared thoughtfully at Cassandra's seat.

He especially changed his father's surname and came back to recognize his sister, but he failed on the first day.

But this is all Cassandra didn't know.

In the Physics Department, when Emma saw Cassandra's figure, her eyes darkened and looked terrifying. She hurriedly stepped forward and said in a sharp tone, "Isn't this Cassandra from the traditional medicine major? What are you doing here?"

Cassandra looked at Emma coldly and said, "Excuse me."

"If you don't make it clear, then the Physics Department will not welcome you." Emma stood in front of Cassandra.

Physics and mathematics were the trump cards of Juset University. Many students who could be admitted to these two departments were very proud, but Emma was arrogant.

"It doesn't seem to have anything to do with you. Have you ever heard the saying that 'Good dogs don't stand in the way where others walk?'" Cassandra retorted without hesitation.

Emma's tone became sharper. She looked at Cassandra with hatred in her eyes. "You insulted me? Cassandra, you are not welcome in the Physics Department. Get out of here now, right away!"

She pointed to the door of the Physics Department building and let Cassandra out.

Cassandra said, "Wherever I go, it's my business. Mind your own business."

"But you are not a student in the Physics Department. This is not a place for you to come here. If you break something and affect the experiment, can you afford it?" Emma asked.

Emma's attitude could be described as arrogant.

Cassandra ignored Emma and called Howard. "I am downstairs. Your student stopped me from going up."

Today was her first day of class. But before she could go upstairs, Emma stopped her here.

"Who are you phoning? There is someone in the Physics Department who you know?" Emma said in a disdainful tone.

Cassandra said sarcastically, "Actually, we don't know each other. But since the beginning of the summer camp, you have been making trouble for me everywhere. Tell me how I offended you."

Emma said, "I just don't like you, so what? You don't want to speak as a freshman representative on the surface, but you even recite the script behind your back. You are hypocritical?"

Cassandra was stunned for a moment and thought, "Was she talking about the first day of school?"

It suddenly dawned on Cassandra that Emma was the freshman in the Principal's Office that day, and Emma was refused by Henry.

It seemed that Henry had planned to let Cassandra address the speech, but the Physics Department chose Emma.

So Emma thought that Cassandra took her place.

“If I remember correctly, that was Mr. Wilson’s arrangement. He said in advance that he had at candidate and your department director insisted on recommending you. You blamed me now. It’s really funny.” Cassandra didn’t want to argue with Emma but Emma provoked her again and again.

She found it ridiculous. Now Emma even stopped her from going upstairs.

Cassandra thought, ‘Crazy woman.

Emma said, “You are talking nonsense. You showed up in the Principal’s Office just because your wanted to be the freshman representative to address the speech.”

Cassandra was speechless and wondered, ‘Is she out of her mind?’

‘How did she get into Juset University?’

“What are you doing?” When Howard came down and saw someone stopping Cassandra, his face changed instantly.

Emma didn’t expect to meet Howard at this time.

“Hello, Professor Kaptur. I’m your student, Emma.” Emma introduced herself earnestly, hoping to make a good impression in front of Howard.

“I’m not interested in knowing who you are. I mean, what are you doing here?” Howard’s question made Emma’s heart skip a beat.

Cassandra said, "You don't have to ask, Howard, anyway, the Physics Department doesn't welcome me very much. Can you cancel my course? I don't want to come here."

Cassandra didn't want to learn this major. It was Howard who asked her to do it. He had the only instrument in his hand in Clusia, but not the only one in the world. At worst, she could buy it at home.

Howard's expression changed and he hurriedly said, "Cassie, don't talk nonsense. You can't leave the Physics Department!"

Cassandra was so talented in physics that even Howard felt ashamed of himself. If it weren't for that Cassandra hadn't accepted an apprentice, he would have wanted to be her disciple. He finally ask her to study physics because he wanted Juset University and Clusia to improve their physics. But now...

Emma's face changed slightly and turned pale. "Professor Kaptur... Is Cassandra a student of the Physics Department?"

"What? Do you have a problem? Cassandra minored in physics. Why did you stop her here?" Howard's questioning almost made Emma stand unsteadily.

Emma explained, "I just..."

"Can we have classes now?" Cassandra didn't want to listen to their conversation. There were only 25 minutes left in this class, and she could have lunch after that.

"Come on, let's go upstairs first." Howard kindly took her upstairs and turned to look at Emma. "Go to my office and think about what kind of explanation you should give me!"

In this physics class, the students obviously felt that Howard was very enthusiastic.

The first two days of lectures were very serious, but today Howard not only laughed very brilliantly but was also patient.

After the class, they all thought that Howard was out of his mind.

Howard walked to Cassandra's seat and asked, "How about my lecture? Do you want to come here every day?"

Cassandra only came on Thursday and Friday every week. Howard was bored in class, waiting for her to correct his mistakes.

Cassandra rolled her eyes and said, "If I hadn't seen the video of your public class. I would have believed the way you teach today."

Howard was the professor who taught the lecture with a bad face even in a public class and leaders of the College Board were present and wanted to keep her in the class with his gentle teaching method..

Howard was speechless.

"Cassie, are you really not considering majoring in physics? Physics is more promising than traditional medicine." Howard asked confusedly.

He knew that traditional medicine needed to be inherited, but Cassandra was extremely talented in physics. She should be on the stage of physics!

Chapter 249

Cassandra ignored him and said, "Howard, don't worry. I won't be absent from your physics class. Other than that, I can't meet your requirements."

At first, Faye's name charged a lot because she wanted to make money at the beginning. But later, she didn't lack money and it depended on her mood to save people.

Therefore, she would not be absent from the free consultation every once in a while. However, few people paid attention to traditional medicine.

Besides, she liked dealing with herbs very much. It was interesting and not as complicated as physical experiments.

Howard said, "Fine, fine. I have a competition here. You can participate in it."

Cassandra was speechless.

"Individual or team?" Cassandra asked.

Howard said, "It's a team competition and is mainly for postgraduates, and I want you to participate in it."

He thought, 'Only if you participate, can I have confidence in this competition.'

Winning the prize is one thing, but winning the first prize is another.

Cassandra said, "Then you can team up with graduate students first. I'll be a spare. I'm just a freshman in college, so it's not appropriate to participate now."

Howard originally wanted to retort, but Cassandra had a point, so he didn't insist. "Well, I will let the graduate students team up first."

He was originally a tutor for doctoral and graduate students. The reason why he came to teach undergraduate students was that Cassandra was just a freshman, and he enjoyed her calling him a teacher. So he spent more time teaching college students.

"I have something else to do. I'm leaving now. Cassandra ran away with a backpack.

When she returned to the student apartment, the delivery man was already waiting at the door.

"Ms. Yates, please sign for your meal today! The delivery man handed Cassandra a large bag.

"Okay, thank you. Cassandra went upstairs with her lunch.

She opened the lunch box and found that it suited her taste. It seemed that Kenneth was very thoughtful.

She had watched videos of the couple by accident before, saying that they wanted to share their life with each other, which proved that you liked him very much.

She took a picture of the food and sent it to Kenneth.

Kenneth, who was still in a meeting and didn't have time to eat, received the message immediately.

He smiled and replied, "Enjoy your meal. Go to class after a rest."

After replying to the message, Kenneth looked at the people in the office and said to Yannick, 'Go downstairs and get some lunch in the canteen. We'll continue after dinner.'

The general managers sitting there almost cried out. They thought that they would have a hungry meeting until the end of work today!

Unexpectedly, Kenneth was able to think about their health. It was a miracle.

After a while, Yannick led the canteen staff to come up. The main reason was that there were too many lunches for dozens of people. He couldn't bring them by himself, let alone there was so much soup.

After Kenneth got the boxed lunch, he took a photo and sent it to Cassandra. "I'm starting lunch too. See you tonight."

He smiled. His normal behavior seemed to be weird in the eyes of those general managers.

They wondered, 'What's wrong with Kenneth?

'Is he falling in love with someone?

'I can't believe that I can see Kenneth's sincere smile. I must be in my dream..

'Something's wrong with Kenneth!'

Everyone was curious about it.

In the afternoon, Harper had learned that he had no way to sit next to Cassandra, so he sat behind her wherever she sat.

It was good to watch her in class.

"Good afternoon, Cassandra." Harper handed her the coffee he bought and said, "Nice to meet you. Have a drink."

He handed over the other two cups of coffee and said, "These are for Sofia and Cassidy. You can give them when they come."

He was afraid that Cassandra would refuse, so he simply bought three cups of coffee and handed the best he thought to Cassandra.

Cassandra, who was frowning at first, then withdrew her eyesight and said, "Thank you."

Then she put the coffee on the table and didn't drink it.

There must have been evil intentions in the one who offered unsolicited hospitality.

Harper directly ignored Cassandra's impatience with him and then said warmly, "Cassandra, how did you want to be a traditional medicine practitioner? Is there anyone in your family who is a traditional medicine practitioner?"

Cassandra replied coldly, "I don't have a family. It seems that what I study has nothing to do with you.

She thought. This man is too enthusiastic which is weird.

Sofia's enthusiasm for her came from Samantha, and the process she knew Cassidy was by accident.

After knowing each other for so long, the classmates kept a certain sense of distance.

But this man, who had just transferred to the school today, was enthusiastic about Cassandra, which was weird.

When Cassandra said she had no family, Harper was stunned for a moment and said in his heart, "No, you have a family, your parents who love you very much, and three brothers. Although Theodore and Vincent are not biological children of our parents, we all love you very much.

"It's just not the right time!

Harper said. "Sorry, I mean no harm."

Cassandra ignored him, but she knew that he meant no harm. So she didn't do anything.

On Friday afternoon, Kenneth came to pick up Cassandra from school early.

She only had one class in the afternoon, and it would be over at 3:30.

Therefore, as the boss, Kenneth skipped work!

Yannick had been suffering lately. Ethan and Lamont were forced to learn business management in order to share Yannick's workloads.

Cassandra got in the car and asked, "Why are you here so early? Aren't you at work?"

Kenneth said proudly, "I'm the boss and I have the final say. No one can control me."

Cassandra nodded.

When they returned to Springmount Townhouse, they walked hand in hand. As a result, Cassandra opened the door and saw Jeremiah!

"Surprise-Jeremiah stopped abruptly.

Jeremiah shouted, "Ah! Let go of her!"

'I just went abroad for a while. Why is Elaine holding hands with Kenneth? This doesn't make sense!' he thought.

Cassandra frowned, "What are you yelling for?"

Jeremiah suddenly felt a little dissatisfied. "Aren't you happy that I'm back?"

"I would be happier if you didn't say a few words. Cassandra and Kenneth still held hands. She bypassed Jeremiah and went straight into the living room.

Jeremiah asked, "Hey, tell me. What's wrong with you two?"

Kenneth even held Cassandra's hand and dared to defile his sister. Jeremiah wanted to kill Kenneth!

He was furious!

"Just what you saw. Don't make a fuss about it." Cassandra complained and then asked. "Have you done your business in Spauia?"

Jeremiah became angry. He raised his chin and said, "I won't tell you!"

She didn't tell him about such a big thing as falling in love with Kenneth, nor did she report it to him. Under the condition that she didn't know Kenneth thoroughly enough, she was innocent.

A pure girl like her was absolutely fooled by Kenneth!

"Are you going to tell me or not?" Cassandra glanced at him!

"It's done. Jeremiah swallowed unconsciously and snorted reluctantly.

Cassandra said, "Well, that's good. You can rest at home for two days and report to the Falcon Special Operations Force in a few days"

Jeremiah was stunned.

Chapter 250

Jeremiah felt like he was hurt deeply.

He sat on the sofa and protested, "I haven't agreed. I'm not going."

He thought, "How dare Kenneth seduce Elaine behind my back? This kind of man is the worst, and I have to work for him. I'm so pissed off at the thought of that."

"Don't you want to go? Forget it. It's not an important army, and it is normal that you don't like it. Then take a rest for two days and go to the Whitecrane Hall to help." Cassandra pretended to be sorry.

Jeremiah was speechless.

He felt that Elaine did it on purpose, but he had no evidence.

Kenneth understood what Cassandra was thinking and agreed, "Don't force him. After all, he is your brother. I was going to arrange for him to win glory for the country in his field of expertise. Since he is unwilling to do so, I can't force him."

Jeremiah was confused.

He thought, "You're the one who asked me to go, and you are the one who won't let me go now. What are you talking about?"

"Kenneth! You've gone too far. Are you making fun of me?" Jeremiah suddenly stood up and protested!

Cassandra pretended to be confused and said, "Didn't you say that you haven't agreed yet? Don't push yourself too hard."

Kenneth thought that Cassandra had become bad and lovelier.

"No... I feel good." Jeremiah's voice was not much louder than before.

"Well, quit joking. I'm just waiting for you to come back." Cassandra smiled and dragged his sleeves.

Jeremiah snorted coldly, "I knew you were the worst. Humph."

He suddenly turned to Kenneth and asked, "When did you hook up with Elaine?"

That was too much. He had been away for more than half a month. They were just friend before, but now everything changed when he came back.

go in front of

Elaine actually held hands with Kenneth. They looked so natural and didn't even let him. At the thought that Elaine would be someone else's in the future, Jeremiah felt his head aching.

"We've been together since a few days ago. Don't you wish us well?" Kenneth took Cassandra's hand and raised it.

Jeremiah didn't say anything.

He asked, "Elaine, are you serious?"

"Well, at least I'm serious now. Cassandra nodded.

However, Kenneth was somewhat dissatisfied with what Cassandra said, which meant that he had not given her enough security.

He thought, I will keep trying

Jeremiah said, "Fine. Anyway, you're a college student now. There are so many handsome guys of the same age in school. If you like it later, just change one."

Jeremiah was already looking forward to that. It must be wonderful.

The smile on Kenneth's face gradually froze. When he looked at Jeremiah, there was a hint of curiosity on his face.

"I don't think you are tired now. In that case, I will ask Yannick to take you to register later." Kenneth put a piece of watermelon on the coffee table with a toothpick and fed it to Cassandra.

The movements were smooth as if they had been used to it.

"What?" Jeremiah was confused.

"That was not what you said just now."

"I think so. Let's do it now." Cassandra nodded in agreement, fully agreeing with Kenneth.

Therefore, they naturally ignored Jeremiah's feelings.

Five minutes later, Yannick appeared in Cassandra's villa. After greeting Kenneth and Cassandra, he looked at Jeremiah.

"Mr. Lawson, welcome to join us! You are the 122nd member of Falcon Special Operations Force. Our comrades can't wait to see you. Come with me!" Yannick stepped forward and took Jeremiah's hand enthusiastically.

With that, Yannick dragged Jeremiah to the door, but Jeremiah was so reluctant.

"I'm not going now. Let go of me!" Jeremiah thought he was kidnapped!

"Mr. Lawson, will you let your comrades-in-arms wait for you under the scorching sun? Come with me." Then Yannick dragged Jeremiah out of the door.

Jeremiah sat in the car and doubted himself. He was a racing driver, strong, and had practiced kickboxing.

How could he be so weak in front of Yannick?

Even if he couldn't compete with Elaine, how could he be no match for Kenneth's men?

This kind of suspicion did not dissipate until he arrived at the base.

Harper didn't see Cassandra after class, and she wasn't in the canteen at this time either.

However, he saw Cassidy and Sofia.

They didn't want to eat out today.

Since Cassidy became a fan of Cassandra, those followers around her no longer followed her. Instead, Cassidy and Sofia lived together.

Harper carried the plate and sat next to them.

"Good evening, Cassidy and Sofia Harper wiped his fork with a piece of tissue and said casually, "Why are there only you two? Where is Cassandra?"

Sofia looked up at him and said, "She goes out to dinner with her boyfriend. How is it possible that they are with us?"

She thought Harper was very concerned about Cassandra and wanted to talk with Cassandra from time to time.

Sofia wondered, 'Is he trying to flirt with Cassandra?

"However, Cassandra's boyfriend is Kenneth. Even if Harper is a prince, but he is at such a young age and attracts so many lovers, he doesn't deserve Cassandra."

Harper's hand, which was about to pick up the food, suddenly stopped!

He thought, 'What?

'What did she just say?

"What boyfriend? Cassie has a boyfriend!!

“When did this happen? Who is it?”

He tried to suppress his anger and asked calmly, “Is Cassandra in love? When did it happen? Why is she so low-key?”

He cursed the man who fell in love with Cassie in his heart.

But he had to fake a smile.

Seeing that he was so concerned about Cassandra, Cassidy couldn't help but ask, “Harper, do you like Cassandra? Otherwise, why are you always asking about her?”

Harper coughed violently.

It took him a while to calm it.

Cassidy said, “Calm down. There are so many people who like Cassandra, and you're not the only one.”

Everyone knew Cassandra's name and was asking for her information after the friendship night

Those who liked watching variety shows knew Cassandra's identity, and those who didn't like it were rarely seen on the Internet.

Therefore, there were countless people who came to ask Cassidy and Sofia about Cassandra's preferences every day.

There were already many people who came to them today.

Harper said. "I think... You misunderstood me. My feelings for Cassandra are the same as that of Sofia. I am also a fan of Samantha, but I'm a new fan, so it's inevitable to be more enthusiastic.

Actually, there was nothing wrong. He was Cassie's brother. How could he not like her?

But he couldn't tell the truth. He might as well pretend to be a fan and get closer to Cassie.

When Sofia heard that Harper was Samantha's new fan, her eyes lit up!

"Do you also like Samantha?"

Harper was secretly happy and nodded, pretending to be excited.
