

My Rebirth 261

Chapter 261

He thought, 'Why is Cassie here?

'Doesn't she know that there are endless wars here?

'Life may be in danger here at any time. Why is she here?

'She's actually saving people on the street. Isn't she afraid of being targeted by Kamila's men?'

"Ms. Yates, why are you here?" The man addressed her by her last name directly.

Cassandra frowned and thought, 'Does this man know me?

'But I don't know him.'

"Do you know me?" Seeing that this man might know her, although she was highly vigilant, her tone was calm.

"Yes, you're classmates with my younger brother."

This man was Harper's nominal eldest brother, Theodore Yates.

He was adopted by the queen and the prince consort.

Cassandra thought for a moment. This man was from Zosteylor, and his younger brother and she were classmates, which meant that he was Harper's elder brother.

She remembered that she met Harper's elder brother at the amusement park last time, and they didn't seem to be the same person.

She thought, 'The queen has so many children.'

"I see." Cassandra nodded.

"Cassandra, come with us. I'll take you back," Theodore said.

Originally, Theodore wanted to get ahead of Kamila's men and take away the doctor. Even if she refused to join them, it would be better to persuade her not to join Kamila's team.

Now that he knew she was Cassie, it would be impossible for him to put her in peril.

His previous thoughts didn't matter anymore.

"Do you know where I live?" Cassandra asked.

At this time, the man behind Cassandra lost patience and looked angry. He even aimed at Cassandra with a gun and said, "You, turn around. Look at me. I have something (to) ask you."

Cassandra turned her head, looked at the muzzle of the gun without any fear, and replied, "What are you going to say?"

"Come with me. My master wants to see you." He said this pretty clearly.

“Your fight has nothing to do with me. I’m a Clusian, and more importantly, I’m a doctor. I’m just here to save people. It seems that I haven’t disturbed you.”

Cassandra didn’t walk to either side, and she didn’t have to rely on either side to get away as well.

She just needed to wait for Kenneth to come here.

But still, she couldn’t confront the tough with toughness now that she was still alone here.

Therefore, she had to buy some time first. She didn’t have a gun. Only the two men arranged by Kenneth had guns.

She didn’t take a gun with her because these injured people had experienced the war and were very sensitive to guns. If she put it in her bag and took it out accidentally, they might be scared.

She didn’t expect that she would be surrounded by so many people.

“You... D–Don’t... P–Push... Me...”

It was clear that he wasn’t good at Clusian. He couldn’t even finish a sentence properly.

“Brut, she’s just a young girl. I don’t think Ms. Stark will find faults with a young girl.” Theodore took two steps forward and talked to the person opposite him in Zosteylor’s language.

“Theodore, why do you care so much about her? I’m more interested in her now. I believe that my master will also be interested in her.”

The man thought, 'If the royal family of Zosteylor is interested in her, my master must be interested in her.'

'Moreover, Theodore seems to care about this person very much, which makes it even more interesting.'

Cassandra could only understand some of their conversation, such as little girl, relationship, and interest.

It seemed like they were talking about her.

The kindness of Harper's elder brother made her a little confused. She felt he was being too friendly.

The two of them had been talking to each other in the language of Zosteylor. Cassandra couldn't understand it, so she just sat on the ground and watched them arguing. She didn't have to do anything except for waiting for Kenneth to arrive.

Before long, several large military trucks appeared ahead. Dozens of people jumped out of the trucks and soon surrounded them.

Theodore was speechless.

They seemed to be the Clusian army.

Kenneth walked towards Cassandra in military uniform in a quite imposing manner.

He hurriedly walked up to Cassandra and asked, "Cassie, are you okay?"

Cassandra smiled, shook her head, and answered, "I'm fine. They didn't do anything to me."

They were quarreling and I couldn't understand their conversation because I don't know the language of Zostaylor."

Kenneth was speechless.

He thought, 'Is it the right time to talk about this now?'

Seeing some army coming to pick Cassandra up, Theodore was still a little worried about her. But when he saw the man's face clearly, he was shocked and said, "Mr. Zelinski?"

The logo on Kenneth's uniform was the Falcon Special Operations Force.

Theodore thought, 'He's with the Falcon Special Operations Force?'

'And he seems to be a commander-in-chief.

"Mr. Yates, I didn't expect to meet you on such an occasion."

Kenneth didn't expect that the person sent by the royal family was actually Theodore, a guy who was definitely no fighter. Kenneth thought, 'Did he come out to get himself killed?'

Cassandra reacted for a moment and suddenly remembered that Kenneth knew Harper's other elder brother, so he should know this one as well.

But Theodore's gaze at Kenneth wasn't so friendly.

Because he had heard from Vincent that Cassie's boyfriend was Kenneth, but he didn't expect Kenneth to be the chief of Falcon Special Operations Force.

When the Falcon Special Operations Force was dispatched before, the chief always wore a mask. But this time he didn't wear it...

"Ms. Yates is a Clusian, so I'll take her away." Kenneth took Cassandra's hand and was ready to leave.

Brut pointed his gun at Kenneth and said, "You can't go!"

He said in the language of Zosteylor, "My master has invited her. No one can take her away. She must go with me."

Kenneth's face darkened instantly. He said in a deep voice, "Ms. Yates is from the military department of Clusia. Where does Ms. Stark want to take her? Did she ask if we Clusians agree?"

Brut's face became gloomy as well. He knew that Clusians cared about their citizens, but he didn't expect this woman to be a member of the military department.

If he openly took away Clusia's soldier, it would be causing a dispute between the two countries.

Even accidentally hurting a citizen of Clusia wouldn't have much impact. At least, they could explain and say that citizen was implicated in the war. However, the nature of taking away members of the army department was different.

Brut continued, "Why should I believe you? Do you have any proof?"

"My presence is the best proof. Clusia won't intervene in the matter between Ms. Stark and Queen Leanna, but if you want to take our people away, we won't turn a blind eye to it." Kenneth looked at Brut sternly, and his tone was firm.

“Mr. Zelinski, take Ms. Yates back. I’ll handle this.”

Theodore thought, ‘As long as Cassie leaves, nothing will be a problem!

“Thank you, Mr. Yates.”

Kenneth thought, ‘It would be the best to let Theodore handle this. I can’t harm those people easily, but he can do it at will.’

Kenneth took Cassandra’s hand and strode away.

Seeing Cassandra safely in the car, Theodore looked at Brut with bloodthirsty and cold eyes.

He snatched a gun from one of his men and shot Brut straight through the middle of his eyebrow...

“You can threaten me with anyone, but if you want to hurt Cassie, you’ll have to die.”

Theodore turned around and left with his men, leaving Brut lying in a pool of blood...

Chapter 262

Back to the camp, Kenneth got out of the car, ignored Cassandra, and directly walked away.

Cassandra was left standing at the car door in a daze.

She didn’t think this was a good sign.

Kenneth was angry with her, but she didn't expect this to happen as well.

Moreover, when the signal was blocked, she cracked it right the first time and asked someone to contact him.

She couldn't figure out why he was still so angry.

Seeing that Kenneth came in alone, Yannick and Kayden were a little surprised. They thought Kenneth went to pick Cassandra up.

So they were confused seeing him back alone.

"Kenneth, where's Cassie?" Kayden couldn't help asking.

Kayden was worried that Kenneth failed to bring Cassandra back from those people.

Kenneth didn't say anything. At this time, Cassandra also came in with aggrieved eyes touch of fear for having done something wrong...?

Yannick thought, 'I must've misread it. When has Ms. Yates ever admitted she did something wrong?

'Moreover, it seems that Mr. Zelinski is angry with Ms. Yates. Otherwise, his face won't be so sullen.

'Mr. Zelinski is still angry with Ms. Yates at such a time. He's such an unqualified boyfriend!'

Kayden winked at Yannick.

His

eyes said, 'Let's go out and let the two of them talk.

1/5

The latter replied with his eyes too, 'Is that okay? I feel Mr. Zelinski will eat Ms. Yates alive!

Kayden winked as if saying, 'Cassie knows what she's doing, and Kenneth won't do anything to her. Let's go first.'

Therefore, Yannick and Kayden silently left the tent and left the two of them alone.

"Ken, are you angry?"

Seeing that no one else was in the tent, Cassandra ventured to walk towards Kenneth.

His face was gloomy. In the past, he was always formidable even though he didn't show his anger, but now the emotion on his face was quite obvious.

Kenneth ignored her and didn't even look at her.

Cassandra could feel his anger. She felt that he didn't want to talk to her, so she decided to let him calm down and talk about this matter later.

So, she turned around and walked towards the door. Looking at her lonely back, Kenneth felt distressed.

He thought, 'Why should I get angry with her? She was only doing this for ordinary people involved in the war.

'She's Dr. Quirke. How can a doctor watch people die and do nothing? Then she won't be herself.'

But as long as he thought of the time when he went there and saw Kamila's subordinate aiming his gun at her, his heart was lifted up to his throat. He was so afraid that something horrible would happen if he was a bit late.

He wanted her to learn her lesson and not go out alone like this again, and he wanted to get angry with her so that she would know the seriousness of the matter. However, looking at her lonely back, he was no longer angry but only distressed.

"Do you know what you did wrong?" Hearing Kenneth's voice, Cassandra paused.

She looked at him and noticed the indifference on his face was gone.

She hurriedly walked to Kenneth and said with a grievance, "I know. I won't put the gun in the camp next time."

Kenneth was rendered speechless.

He thought, 'Does she think that's the point?'

"I don't think you've realized the problem." Kenneth took a deep breath and told himself not to get angry with his girlfriend.

"I know what you want to say. It's so dangerous out there. I shouldn't go out to save people or put myself in danger. I understand everything you want to say." Cassandra paused and said seriously, "Ken, first of all, I'm a doctor. It's not my personality to fold my hands and see people die. I can refuse to save evil people according to my mood, but those outside are just ordinary people involved in the war.

"They lost their homes and money, and they couldn't get treatment in the hospital. Since I met them, I couldn't leave them alone. Moreover, these two days, I've found more than 20 Clusians. Isn't that a good thing?"

"Secondly, I'm a member of the National Security Bureau. Although I'm only an information security department officer, I am also a member of the country and a part of this Evacuation Operation. If there may be Clusian citizens outside, then shouldn't I them?"

Cassandra made a good point. As a doctor and a civil servant, she should put the safety of Clusian citizens first.

However, Kenneth was a human being and had his own selfish motives. He just wanted Cassandra not to get hurt.

"But have you ever thought about me? When I saw Brut put his gun against your head, have you thought how I would feel? Have you thought I might be afraid when I saw that scene?"

Kenneth felt that his retort was a little powerless.

"I understand. You were all over my mind. I knew that you must've received the news and would come to save me as soon as possible and not leave me in danger, so I wasn't afraid of those people. Besides, I just didn't have a gun, but I could protect myself. It wouldn't be a problem for me to snatch one from them.

“But at that time, I thought if you came over and saw me against so many people, you would be more frightened, so I didn’t act rashly and waited for you.”

Speaking of this, Cassandra also felt a little aggrieved. No one dared to point a gun at her head like that before, but she had experienced it today.

If it had been in the past, she would definitely strike back. But she pretended not to see it because she was afraid that her counterattack would scare Kenneth.

When the Evacuation Operation was over, she would surely rip that man’s head off and kick it like a ball!

Kenneth felt both relieved and helpless. He was relieved that she had considered him even in such a dangerous situation, but he was helpless because he knew that she would still do it again.

“Fine. But don’t think about going out these days. Our men will go find the wounded and missing Clusian citizens, which is our duty as soldiers. You just need to do your job in the camp.

“As for the medicine sent by Ethan, you can sort it out and tell me about the usage and dosage. I’ll think about how to give it to the people outside, okay?”

Kenneth said that patiently, but he wasn’t sure whether she would listen.

“Okay.” Cassandra nodded and continued, “Then can you stop being angry?”

“I wasn’t angry with you. I was angry with myself.” He was angry with himself for not going out with her.

Cassandra suddenly hugged Kenneth and said in an aggrieved voice, "I thought you didn't want me anymore."

When he got out of the car and walked away without looking back, when he returned to the tent without saying a word, she thought that she would be abandoned again.

The fear and terror in her heart grew recklessly. She had even thought that if he didn't want her anymore, she would die with him.

No one was strong enough to be abandoned so many times.

She could be cruel to anyone, but she had imagined countless times that Kenneth no longer wanted her and still couldn't convince herself.

Luckily, he didn't.

Kenneth felt distressed. He hugged Cassandra and said, "What are you thinking about? I'll never abandon you."

"Really?"

"Really."

Cassandra felt that she was very different from before.

She thought, 'Am I only like this in front of him?'

Chapter 263

In Theodore's room in the Queen's Palace, Vincent and Harper were also here.

“Theodore, why did you call Vincent and me here?” Harper didn’t seem to be in a good mood and even darkened his face.

Vincent looked at Harper and shook his head helplessly. He thought, ‘Harper must’ve been scolded again for going to school in Clusia without the permission of his parents.

‘Moreover, he’s still taking medicine. Mother must be distressed.’

“Cassie came to Zosteylor.”

Theodore’s words were like a bombshell that knocked both of them out.

Harper stood up suddenly. He felt dizzy probably because he exerted too much strength. Vincent held him quickly.

“Theodore, what did you say? Are you telling the truth?” Harper didn’t believe it.

Harper thought, ‘Cassandra should be in class. Why did she come to Zosteylor? She knew how chaotic this place was from the news, so why did she come here?’

“Yes, the doctor who saved people on the street yesterday is her.”

They learned that there was a doctor with excellent medical skills who was saving people in the street, so Theodore and his two younger brothers, as well as their father, had discussed that one of them went to bring the doctor back and tried to win the doctor over to their side.

At this time of war, doctors and medical supplies were in short supply, let alone skilled doctors.

But he didn’t expect the doctor to be Cassie.

Although Theodore and Vincent weren't Leanna's biological children, they had been raised by her and Darren since childhood, so Cassie was just like their sister.

All his principles and ideas had been thrown aside when Theodore saw her.

Vincent was a little shocked and didn't understand. He said, "Isn't she a college student? Even if she has some achievements, those are just artistic ones. She's not a soldier or an official doctor, and we didn't ask Clusia for help. There's a lot of war here. What's she doing here?!"

The more he talked, the angrier he became. He thought Cassie just had to go wherever it was dangerous.

"I don't know what she came here for, but she followed Kenneth here," Theodore said helplessly.

Vincent was even more irritated. He thought, 'What kind of a boyfriend he is?! What the hell is he doing with his girlfriend on the battlefield?'

"If I'm not mistaken, Kenneth is the head of Clusia's Falcon Special Operations Force. As for why Cassie is here with him, I don't know."

This was also what Theodore couldn't figure out. According to their investigation, Cassandra was a student at Juset University. She also disguised herself as a well-known designer Elaine and a popular lyricist Samantha in the entertainment circle.

There was no more information, so he wondered why she was here and what she wanted to do.

Theodore looked at Harper and said, "Do you have Cassie's WhatsApp account? Ask her."

Harper's face stiffened, and his head tilted to one side.

He didn't.

"You've been her classmate for so long. How can you not even have her WhatsApp account?" Vincent complained.

Harper suddenly came up with an idea and said, "I remember. I'll try to add her from our class chat group."

As a result, his friend request went unanswered. He said in embarrassment, "Maybe she didn't look at her phone."

"Ask your classmates who are on good terms with her," Theodore suggested.

Harper opened the chat box with Sofia.

Harper: [Sofia, did Cassandra go to class these two days?]

Sofia: [No, the two of you were absent from class on the same day. Everyone knows your condition. Are you safe now?]

Harper: [I'm fine, but today I saw a girl on the street of Zosteylor who looks very like Cassandra, so I wanted to ask you if she was still in Clusia.]

Sofia: [I don't know. You and she asked for leave together, and her leave was granted by Mr. Huddleston. I don't know the reason, but I can't get through to her phone these days and it has been turned off all the time.]

*****

Cassandra's phone had been turned off all the time, which meant that it might have been confiscated, so she didn't see the friend request.

"Then we can't get in touch with Cassie now?" Vincent asked.

Theodore was lost in thought. He had tried all the ways he could think of but still couldn't contact Cassie directly, so he didn't know her situation.

"Vincent, don't you know how to hack? Hack the surveillance system of Falcon Special Operations Force to check how Cassie is now. What do you think?" Harper thought his suggestion was quite good.

Vincent took out her computer and began to hack the surveillance system, but he found that he couldn't hack in at all.

**

In the camp.

"Jeremiah, someone is attacking us." The technician of Falcon Special Operations Force reported to Jeremiah.

When Jeremiah joined the Falcon Special Operations Force, he and the technicians had a competition. In the end, they were all completely defeated by him. It was also at that time that he gained a bunch of fans.

"Which part is being attacked?" Jeremiah became serious and asked in a deep voice.

"It seems to be... Our surveillance system?"

“Everything must be done to stop it. The surveillance system is very important.”

Jeremiah said that, intercepting the attack incessantly.

He cursed in his heart, ‘Who the hell dares to hack into the surveillance system of Falcon Special Operations Force? Is he courting death?’

Half an hour later, Jeremiah began to sweat. He could hardly hold on.

The enemy’s strength was strong, and he seemed to be no match.

Meanwhile, Vincent was also a little anxious. He thought, ‘Who is this guy? His skills are superb. If I can’t succeed in another five minutes, then I will definitely lose!’

But Jeremiah felt that he couldn’t hold on any longer.

“Hurry up and call Emery over for me!” Jeremiah’s fingers moved extremely fast, and the sweat on his forehead kept flowing down.

Cassandra came over and saw Jeremiah’s embarrassed appearance. She frowned and asked, “What happened?”

“Someone is attacking the surveillance system of Falcon Special Operations Force. The enemy is very powerful, and I can barely hold on.”

Cassandra darkened her face. She knew best about Jeremiah’s strength. After all, she taught him herself. Someone who could scare him shouldn’t be underestimated.

“Get up! Let me do it!”

Cassandra pulled Jeremiah and he quickly got up to make room for her. Cassandra took over his work, her fingers dancing on the keyboard so fast that they could barely be seen clearly.

Five minutes later, Vincent was defeated and failed in his attack.

Cassandra stood up and said with disgust, "That's all he got? I think your skills have deteriorated and you need to take classes."

Jeremiah was speechless.

He thought, 'Is that really necessary?!'

"The enemy is really good. I held on for half an hour but failed to defeat him." Jeremiah protested with dissatisfaction. He thought the enemy was very powerful.

But he couldn't figure out why the enemy was defeated by Elaine so fast.

Vincent closed the computer and said, "I can't. The protection system of Falcon Special Operations Force is too strong. Especially at last, that person should be their leader. Otherwise, he wouldn't have beaten me so quickly."

Chapter 264

The surveillance thing was over. Anyway, they had to stop since it would easily arouse suspicion.

However, Cassandra had already suspected it. She tracked the enemy after she finished her work and finally got the information that he was in the Queen's Palace.

Looking at the IP address on the screen, Cassandra was a little confused. She asked, "Why do people from Queen's Palace want to hack into the surveillance system of the Falcon Special Operations Force? What do they want?"

Jeremiah was confused as well and he said, "I don't know. The Falcon Special Operations. Force is just here to complete the Evacuation Operation. Why would someone attack us?"

Cassandra rolled her eyes and said, "How do I know?"

"I know." Kenneth also came in. He went to find Cassandra but didn't see her. Someone said that Cassandra had come to the technical team.

He heard them discussing and couldn't help but cut in.

"What is it?"

"The person we met today is Theodore Yates, the Queen's eldest son, also Harper's elder brother. Vincent has good hacking skills. I think someone asked him to investigate you." Otherwise, there was no other explanation.

Cassandra was speechless.

"Are you saying that Harper did all this?"

"It's possible."

Kenneth nodded. Suddenly, his phone rang.

"Hello?"

"Yes, sir!"

"We'll arrive on time tomorrow!"

Kenneth hung up the phone helplessly.

“What happened?” Cassandra asked.

“The higher authority ordered me to negotiate with the Queen of Zosteylor tomorrow on behalf of Clusia, and Director Walker will go see Kamila.”

Kenneth frowned. He thought, “Their civil strife had already hurt innocent people, and now they won’t even let Clusians go.

‘What exactly do they want to do?’

“Just Director Walker?” Cassandra asked.

“I’ll arrange for Yannick to accompany him.” Kenneth looked at Jeremiah and continued, “Why don’t you go with Director Walker to see Kamila as well?”

Cassandra looked at Kenneth.

She thought, ‘What about me?’

‘Just wait at the camp?’

13

Kenneth seemed to know what Cassandra was thinking and said softly, “You can’t go anywhere now. You’re the doctor they both want. No matter where you go, you may not be able to come back. We’re going as ambassadors this time, and we won’t be carrying weapons. So, you stay in the camp, okay?”

Cassandra looked at Kenneth and seemed to want to argue, but she felt that he was right, so she said, “Fine, I’ll do as you say.”

At the critical moment, she shouldn't be the one to hold them back.

**

The next day, Kenneth, Kayden, and Kayden's second-in-command, Daniel, Yannick, and Jeremiah split into two groups heading for the Queen's Palace and Kamila's camp relatively.

When they reached the Queen's Palace, they were stopped at the door.

"Sorry, but we need to search your body. The Queen is not in good health, so..." A guard said that respectfully. Kenneth showed understanding and let the guards search their bodies.

After confirming that nothing was wrong, the guards let the three of them in.

The gorgeous palace was magnificent. Perhaps because all the previous state leaders were women, traces of pink could be found everywhere in the palace, which wasn't obvious but couldn't be ignored as well.

In the negotiation room, Kenneth and others were sitting aside, waiting for the Queen's arrival.

When the Queen came in, Kenneth was stunned and called, "Cas..."

'No, she isn't Cassie, he thought.

Although she and Cassandra looked very alike, she was more mature and charming and her face bore the marks of age, while Cassandra was still immature and bright, and most importantly, her face was still quite delicate.

"Sorry to have kept you waiting, Mr. Zelinski." The Queen first reached out and shook hands with Kenneth.

Seeing this, Kenneth reached out his hand and gently shook hands with the Queen.

“Please have a seat.”

Kenneth was still in shock. Her smile was quite like Cassandra’s as well, and he could even imagine what Cassandra would look like after she turned 50.

It was so real.

He thought, ‘Who is the Queen exactly?’

O

“Mr. Zelinski, Mr. Zelinski?” The Queen called Kenneth twice. Kayden patted Kenneth’s back worriedly, and Kenneth finally came to his senses.

“I’m sorry.” Kenneth nodded and said, “Your Majesty, you’re just so much like a friend of mine. I thought I saw her. I’m so sorry for being rude.”

Kenneth suppressed his doubts and planned to wait for the explanation to come.

“It doesn’t matter. It’s rare to meet a person who looks like your friend in this world.” The Queen said with understanding.

“Yes, Your Majesty.”

“Let’s get down to business.” After the brief interlude, Kenneth focused himself on the negotiation.

*****

After several hours of discussion, although there was no final answer, the Queen had already wavered.

Then, Kenneth decided to give a more specific Evacuation Operation plan and wait for the Queen to make the decision and draft it, and then let Zostaylor's armies escort their Clusians.

"Thank you, Your Majesty. This has been of great help to our Evacuation Operation." Kenneth showed his gratitude without hesitation.

"It's Clusia who helps us a lot..." The Queen looked at the three of them and went on gently, "If you don't mind, you can have dinner here before going back."

Kenneth looked at Kayden and his second in command. Seeing that there was nothing wrong with them, he agreed.

During dinner, the Queen suddenly asked, "Mr. Zelinski, your friend who looks very like me, where is she from? How old is she now?"

She thought, 'Could it be my daughter?'

'Daughters look like mothers, don't they?'

Kenneth looked at the Queen's expression. She seemed to have mixed feelings, including inquiry and expectation, but more of it was guilt.

With this awareness, Kenneth didn't tell the truth. "She's from Drieso. She's 20 now and very cute."

Except for adding Cassandra's age, he was telling the truth:

years old

The Queen withdrew her eyes in disappointment. She thought, 'Her age is wrong, so she shouldn't be the person I'm looking for.

'But even if she is, she shouldn't come here at this time. How could she stand such chaos?'

Kenneth pretended not to understand her emotions and asked curiously, "Why did you ask that, Your Majesty?"

"I thought she would be my daughter..." However, she didn't have the right age.

"Oh? You have a daughter, Your Majesty? How old is she? Where is she now?" Kenneth asked, snorting coldly in his heart. If he was right, Cassandra was the daughter of the Queen.

He thought, 'So why do they have to let Cassie suffer for 18 years when they have such a happy family?'

"She's 18 years old, but as for where she is..." The Queen sighed and continued, "I don't know."

She didn't even know whether her daughter was alive or dead now.

Kenneth asked, "Did you guys get separated?"

The Queen's face suddenly darkened as if she had thought of something unpleasant, and her breathing became rapid.

"Doctor, doctor!"

Chapter 265

There was a mess in the dining room.

Suddenly, a figure flashed by. Kayden thought it was familiar but couldn't remember the name.

The man shouted anxiously, "Honey, honey."

He hurriedly carried the Queen up in his arms. The doctor followed him and cried in Zostaylor's language, "Take her to the emergency room!"

Kenneth and Kayden were confused. They didn't know what was going on.

Kenneth frowned slightly. He was not worried about the Queen's safety. He was worried about what would happen to the Clusian citizens in Zostaylor if anything happened to her.

Without her support, Operation Evacuation would have a lot of setbacks.

He didn't notice Kayden's confused look. He followed the man and waited outside the emergency room.

He walked to the man who had carried the Queen and heard him call her his wife. He knew the man must be the prince consort.

The man stared unblinkingly and motionlessly at the door.

Kenneth said in a deep voice, "Sorry. We don't know why the Queen suddenly fainted."

Only then did the man come to his senses. There was no hatred in his eyes but a little indifference. He said, "It's all right. It's not your fault. She suffers poor health." He looked at Kenneth and Kayden. "Sorry if we scared you."

Everyone would be scared by this.

The man suddenly raised his head and studied Kayden's face.

He shook his head and thought, 'No way. There is no trace of it.'

Kayden suddenly asked, "Sir, I found your face familiar. Are you from Drieso, Clusia?"

Kayden thought this face was very familiar and he must have seen this man before. He even thought the man was probably important to him.

The man was shocked and looked at Kayden in astonishment. "How do you know?"

Kayden smiled faintly, "I'm indeed from Drieso. But I left there almost 20 years ago." His look became gentle when Kayden mentioned Drieso. He said, "You guessed it because I looked like a Clusian, right?"

Kayden frowned and said in a deep voice, "No, I really think I have seen you before. You look like my family but I can't remember the name. I'm not sure."

Kayden thought, 'But he had been away from home for almost 20 years. He's my uncle? No wonder I found his face familiar.'

'They seem to be living a good life here.'

"The Queen, the prince consort, and three sons?"

"What the hell is Cassie then?"

“They have been having a good life but Cassie was made an orphan. She suffered so much but their sons were born with wealth and privileges.

‘It seems that he doesn’t want to find her back. They probably left her alone deliberately. Poor Cassie.’

The prince consort was Darren Yates, Cassandra’s biological father.

Kenneth noticed that something was wrong with Darren and thought his words were suggesting something.

Darren suddenly smiled, “I also think I’ve seen you before. You look somewhat like me.”

Darren was not sure whether the man in front of him was his nephew.

Kayden said casually, not as enthusiastic as before, “Well, we are both Clusian. We both look friendly.”

Kenneth suddenly said, “Since the Queen is in an emergency now, we should leave you alone. If she is out of danger, please ask Vincent to send me a message.”

Darren nodded. “Okay. Bye.”

After saying that, Darren continued to stare at the door of the emergency room.

Kenneth said, “Kayden, let’s go.”

What he said surprised Kayden and Darren.

It might be a coincidence if they just looked like each other. But their surnames were the same. It couldn't be a coincidence.

Kayden must be Darren's nephew.

But when Darren figured it out, Kayden and Kenneth were gone.

Soon, the door of the emergency room was opened.

He forgot about Kayden and Kenneth. Instead, he grabbed the doctor's hands and asked, "How is my wife doing now?"

"Don't worry, sir. Her Majesty is fine. She's just a little emotional." The doctor frowned, "She will die in three months if the poison inside her can't be removed."

Darren almost lost his balance. He said in a somewhat trembling voice, "Didn't she take the special effect medicine? The poison has been suppressed."

The doctor said, "Yes, but Her Majesty had been too emotional recently. It is no longer effective. The spreading of the toxicity has been accelerated." The doctor also felt very helpless. He had been working with his team to treat the Queen for more than ten years but she didn't get much better. Once she got better, things would quickly change.

The princess who used to be wild, lively, and confident, was totally a different person now.

Darren said, "Is there any other way?" He didn't believe that Leanna would be dead in three months. He wanted to be with her forever.

They hadn't found their daughter yet. They had agreed that after they defeated Kamila, they would leave Zosteylor to their sons and go back to Clusia to find their daughter.

However, the situation was different now.

“Well, I don’t know if it will work out.” The doctor sighed, “But there is a miracle doctor, Dr. Quirke, who may be from Clusia. He is an expert in traditional medicine. People of the dark web said that he could even save a patient who stopped breathing. If you can find Dr. Quirke, the Queen might be saved.”

This was probably Darren’s last chance. If he could find the miracle doctor, Leanna would at least live longer. If he couldn’t find the doctor, Leanna was likely to die before New Year’s Eve.

Darren said, “Okay, I will find the doctor. I’ll find Dr. Quirke as soon as possible whatever it takes.”

Darren looked firm. As long as there was a glimmer of hope, he wouldn’t give up.

On the way back to the camp, Kenneth suddenly asked in a deep voice, “Is that man Cassie’s biological father?”

Kayden was stunned for a moment and then he smiled faintly. He thought, “Kenneth is smart enough to notice something. He must have guessed it.”

“Yeah.” Kayden said sarcastically, “It turns out that in the past 19 years, he has been the prince consort and living a happy life.”

Kenneth frowned, “Don’t let Cassie know about this.” If he had been Cassandra, he would have wanted to destroy the world after knowing the truth.

Cassandra, who had stopped believing in family, would find it even more unacceptable.

Kayden said, "I don't want her to know either."

He thought. Tell her what? Her parents are leaders of Zosteylor. And she has a twin brother who grows up with them?

'Harper is about 18 years old, about the same age as Cassie.'

'Cassie hates her parents. If she knew this, she would break down.'

Kenneth wanted to confirm it again. "Are you sure he is Cassie's father?"

Kayden said, "I can't be wrong. If you don't believe it, why don't we steal Harper and Cassie's hair and do a test?"

Kayden's advice was ridiculous.

Kenneth said, "Let's just keep it a secret for now."

Chapter 266

When Kenneth and the other two returned to the camp, Cassandra was in front of her computer with her fingers typing fast.

She still looked very serious. It seemed that something bad was happening.

Kenneth hurriedly walked to her and asked, "Cassie, what happened?"

Cassandra said, "A group of people are attacking the surveillance system of the camp. Another group of people wants to hack my mini-program and master all the surveillance information of this country. I haven't figured out who these two groups of people are!"

Cassandra was still typing. She didn't stop typing for a brief moment. People beside her were waiting to witness a historic moment.

Cassandra suddenly shouted, "Jeremiah, catch that bastard!"

Jeremiah replied, "All right!"

People who had been fighting with Cassandra and Jeremiah began to carry out Cassandra's plan, surrounding these people in the middle. Now it was time to put an end to it.

About another hour or so later, Kenneth was still standing beside Cassandra. He did not leave. He occasionally handed her water and food.

He knew Cassandra had an uphill battle to fight so he decided to take care of everything else.

More than a dozen people in the information security department were fighting with Cassandra. They could take turns to support her but Cassandra couldn't. No one could replace her.

Eight hours later, a message finally popped up on Cassandra's computer: Defense Succeeded. She pressed enter and breathed a sigh of relief.

"Ahhh!"

"Wow! We succeeded!"

Jeremiah smiled like a child. He said excitedly, "Elaine, you are amazing!"

Cassandra stood up and felt a little dizzy. She leaned against Kenneth and said angrily, "I don't need you to remind me of that."

Kenneth was happy to be Cassandra's support. He took out a chocolate bar from his pocket, "Get replenished. I'll take you to dinner."

Nine hours had passed after he came back. They had been working before he came back. Cassandra had low blood sugar and being hungry was bad for her.

Cassandra said, "Okay." After eating the chocolate, she seemed to feel a little bit more energetic.

Yannick couldn't help but ask curiously, "Ms. Yates, who is the bastard that you were looking for?"

Jeremiah said with a mysterious smile, "If you beg me, I'll tell you!"

Yannick was speechless.

Yannick hooked his finger and said with a wicked smile, "I'll beg you if you come here."

Jeremiah walked to Yannick proudly. Before Yannick realized what was happening, Yannick wrapped his arm around his neck.

Yannick said, "How dare you ask me to beg you? Do you think you can force me to do anything? Tell me now!"

Since Jeremiah knew it, he didn't want to bother Cassandra.

Yannick was still wrapping his arm around Jeremiah's neck. Jeremiah felt like he couldn't even breathe. He shouted, "Let go of me!"

Yannick said, "If you don't tell me, I won't let go of you!"

Jeremiah said, "If you don't let go of me, I won't tell you!"

They were in a stalemate. When they were bored of it, they found that they were left alone in the tent.

In Cassandra's tent, Kenneth fetched two lunch boxes and said, "Hurry up, I brought you two extra drumsticks."

They had to make do given the current harsh environment.

Cassandra said, "Okay,"

Cassandra was hungry. She began to cram down the food. The moment she ate the carbs, she felt like she was back to life again. She was in a much better mood. "How does your negotiation end?"

Kenneth said, "Well, not bad except for a minor accident."

Cassandra raised her eyebrow curiously.

Kenneth said, "Her Majesty was suddenly attacked by her illness and fainted. The negotiation was about to come to an end so we came back."

Kenneth explained everything to her patiently.

Hearing his explanation, Cassandra nodded.

After eating some food, Kenneth had a meeting with Kayden, Daniel, Jeremiah, and Yannick. They summoned the negotiation to find out how to make both sides satisfied.

Yannick said, "Kamila is ridiculous. They want us to get involved in their dispute with Zosteylor.

"I don't think we need to respond to this. There is something that can make Kamila compromise. At least, we can skip those unreasonable conditions."

Jeremiah turned on a computer and opened a video.

It showed that it was Kamila's men who attacked the Falcon Special Operations Force's camp. And it was also Kamila's men who wanted to take down Elaine's mini-program and control Zosteylor.

As long as this video was made public, what Kamila did would be offending Clusia and basically declaring war.

Before Kenneth could say anything, Yannick asked, "Where did you get this?"

Jeremiah said, "Who do you think is the bastard? There were so many people attacking Elaine's mini-program. They must have a leader. The leader is the bastard. This bastard happens to be hired by Kamila. It cost a lot of money. Naturally, her purposes were made very clear to the bastard."

Kenneth nodded. He thought this was plausible.

Daniel volunteered and decided to negotiate with Kamila in person.

Kayden hadn't said a word. Suddenly, he said, "I would like to switch to another team. I want to go with Daniel to negotiate with Kamila."

He didn't want to go to the Queen's Palace again.

He was afraid that if what happened today happened again, he might go crazy. He felt so sad for Cassandra.

At night, the camp was quiet. Cassandra and Kenneth were on duty tonight.

It was obviously Yannick who arranged this.

Cassandra suddenly said, "Ken, let's have a vacation after the Evacuation Operation is over." Every time she was away from home in the past few months, she was fighting with Kenneth. All she could remember now was related to the battles. It was quite a special experience.

Kenneth gently said, "Okay, but the shooting of Hello, Life is about to start. I guess we have to do it before having a vacation." He was now the biggest sponsor of this variety show so he would know everything earlier than the artists.

Cassandra smiled mildly, "That's fine." Kenneth suddenly found that she was not in a good mood.

Kenneth asked with concern, "You seem to be in a bad mood. What's happening?"

Cassandra shrugged casually. "I just had a nightmare. I am a bit affected by it. That's all."

Kenneth moved closer to Cassandra. "What kind of nightmare? Tell me and I'll explain to you the reason why you had this dream."

Cassandra said, "I dreamed that I was a little kid. There was another baby beside me but I didn't know who he was. I saw a pregnant woman take him away and leave me there."

If it had been someone else, it wouldn't even have been counted as a nightmare.

Kenneth wondered whether Cassandra was abandoned in her dream.

Chapter 267

Kenneth was surprised. They had just met her parents. Cassandra dreamed about them the day before. If there hadn't been so much work to do, she might have been absent-minded all day long.

In her dream, she was even abandoned when she was still a baby.

Kenneth said, "It's just a dream. Don't take it seriously. Cassie, you're the best. They were unlucky to lose you."

Kenneth gently rubbed her head, held her in his arms, and comforted her.

Cassandra was supposed to be an aristocrat but God fooled her.

Cassandra smiled gently, "I guess only you and Jeremiah think I'm the best."

She thought, 'And Hugo and people of Modern Beacon Synergy!

Kenneth praised Jeremiah, which was rare. "Great minds think alike."

He knew how important Jeremiah was to Cassandra. Fortunately, Jeremiah only wanted to be her friend. So Kenneth didn't treat him like a rival.

Suddenly, Kenneth received a message on WhatsApp.

Vincent: [My mother is fine. Thanks for your concern.]

It was a message from Vincent. It seemed that the Queen had been out of danger.

He simply replied: [Received.]

Although their private phones were taken away, they logged into their WhatsApp accounts using other devices just for the convenience of the information security department.

Cassandra asked curiously, "Who is it?"

Kenneth explained, "Vincent, the Queen suddenly fainted when we were negotiating. She is out of danger now."

There was no need to keep this message from Cassandra.

Cassandra nodded. "Good."

The night was a long one. Kenneth couldn't bear to let Cassandra suffer so he asked her to rest her head on his shoulder.

In the darkness, they were silently supporting each other.

In the Queen's Palace.

Leanna woke up at midnight. Darren hurriedly helped her sit up and asked with concern, "How are you feeling? Do you feel pain? I'll send for the doctor."

Leanna's face was very pale, her lips too. Her eyes were dull. She said, "I'm fine. Where is the chief of the Falcon Special Operations Force? I didn't faint because of them."

Darren sent someone to find the doctor. Hearing Leanna's explanation, he felt helpless. "I knew. I didn't blame them for it. They have left. We'll discuss it after you get better. Or, you can leave the rest to me.”

He was surprised that his wife didn't believe him.

But Leanna had a reason. Some time ago, when Kamila attacked them, Leanna was discussing something with several generals. She was so exhausted that she fainted.

Without hesitation, Darren beat those generals up. If they hadn't needed the generals to lead the army, he would have locked them up.

Afterward, Darren didn't think that he had done anything wrong. So Leanna had to apologize to the generals herself.

This time, she suddenly fainted again. She was not worried about her health but whether her husband had beaten up someone again.

207

If he really had done it, it was not a problem that could be solved by an apology. Kenneth was representing Clusia. They couldn't even touch a random Clusian citizen in Zostaylor.

Leanna said, “After they perfect the Evacuation Operation, we will have a negotiation again. Let Theodore handle it. He is a good choice.”

After that, the doctor came in to examine the Queen.

The doctor said, “You already woke up so there is nothing serious. Keep happy and don't get too excited.”

After the doctor went out, Darren couldn't help but warn Leanna. “Did you hear the doctor? He said you couldn't get too excited. What did they say during the negotiation with the Falcon Special Operations Force today that agitated you?”

Leanna remembered Kenneth's upset look. Darren felt a heartache. He said, "What happened? Did someone from the Falcon Special Operations Force say something that upset you?"

Leanna said, "No, Mr. Zelinski said that I looked like one of his friends. I thought it could be our daughter. But she's not the same age as our daughter."

Darren was stunned. He never thought that it could be her daughter.

After leaving their daughter in a hurry and returning to Leanna's home country, Leanna was sick. Harper was also on the brink of death.

Darren didn't have time to think about his daughter at all. Leanna and Harper were both suffering after all. Besides, he had sent a message to his father.

However, after Leanna and Harper were out of danger, he investigated the Yates family but didn't find a baby, let alone his daughter.

His daughter disappeared. After Leanna knew this, she fainted. With the spreading of toxicity, she remained unconscious for the next two years.

Zosteylor was Leanna's country had it was trapped by all kinds of problems. He had to take charge of it for her.

He never found anything about his daughter. He had checked all the surveillance videos. and babies that were born around that period of time. But he failed to find his child.

They were in Zosteylor. If they wanted to do anything in Clusia, they had to go through a lot of procedures. And back then, they didn't dare to let anyone else know that they had been looking for their daughter..

After the deaths of Leanna's parents, the throne belonged to Leanna. But Kamila disagreed with it. She repeatedly framed Leanna so that Leanna was away from the throne for a long time.

Kamila took advantage of Leanna's pregnancy and put poison in her food. To protect their children, Darren and Leanna escaped with Leanna's parents' token. But when Leanna gave birth to the babies, they received a fake token from Kamila. Kamila was ready to be enthroned.

One of their babies was healthy and the other was sick. The healthy one was their daughter. Their son was born with the poison. To stop Kamila's evil deeds, he had to leave with his wife and the poisoned baby.

But he didn't expect that it would cause the tragedy of his daughter.

They had been haunted by what they had done ever since.

Darren gently stroked Leanna's cheeks. "Don't think too much. We will find our daughter. Maybe Dr. Quirke can cure you. I have started to find his whereabouts. After the civil strife is solved and you and Harper are cured, we will go to Clusia and we will do everything to find our girl, okay?"

They had tried to find her. They had sent people to Clusia and they had found a girl who looked like Leanna. But when they were about to do a DNA test, Kamila's men killed the girl.

No matter how secret they thought their action was, Kamila would find it out and kill every girl they found that might be their daughter.

So they had to give up. Too many girls had died because of Kamila.

There was no joy in Leanna's eyes. For so many years, she had seen a lot of doctors. She thought the miracle doctor that Darren just mentioned would only give her some medicines to make her live a bit longer and suffer a bit longer.

But she thought it was not a bad idea. If she could find her daughter, she would have no regrets.

Leanna said, "Okay."

Early the next morning, Cassandra picked up her phone and saw a message from Hugo.

[Ms. Yates, someone placed an order on the dark web to look for Dr. Quirke.]

Chapter 268

Cassandra simply replied: [No.]

Now she was busy. She didn't have time to fulfill this order.

Hugo sent another message: [The patient is in Zosteylor and the consultation fee is high.]

Cassandra replied impatiently: [Don't make me refuse you twice.]

Soon, Darren got a reply, saying that his order was cancelled.

He looked at the reply and wanted to ask why it was canceled. But he found that he had been blacklisted.

He thought the doctor was really a mystery since he was refused so directly.

Darren: [I can double the consultation fee again. Dr. Quirke, please consider it.]

When Hugo received this message, he was surprised. He had blacklisted Darren's account so he didn't understand why he received another message from Darren.

He thought someone must have hacked his computer.

Hugo immediately sent a message to Darren: [My master has refused it. No matter how much you offer, it's useless. Please find someone else. Wish the patient an early recovery.]

Darren stared at the words on the computer and looked angry.

He thought, 'Who is he? Why is he so proud? He's just a doctor.

'I was willing to pay him 4.8 billion dollars, but he still refused! Is this Dr. Quirke a swindler?'

He turned off the computer and went to find Leanna's doctor.

Darren was very suspicious. He asked the doctor, "Are you sure Dr. Quirke can save her?" He was willing to pay the miracle doctor a lot of money and he talked friendly so he thought he had made no mistake. But he was still refused. He thought the miracle doctor was definitely a swindler.

The doctor was surprised but then he thought it was normal. "Sir, you must have been rejected."

Darren snorted coldly and tacitly admitted it.

The doctor adjusted his glasses and said, feeling helpless, "It's normal. It depends on Dr. Quirke's mood. If he is in a good mood, he will just take a few dollars. But if he is in a bad mood, no matter how much money he is offered, he won't change his mind."

Darren thought, "This is ridiculous!"

Darren said, "Tell me. What else can we do?"

He could do anything for Leanna.

The doctor said, "No. According to the rules of the dark web, you can place an order or try to find Dr. Quirke through other channels. But don't harass his men. Otherwise, Dr. Quirke will turn against you and everyone will have a hard time."

Although the doctor had never met the miracle doctor, he had read almost all the messages on the dark web. Someone once harassed the doctor. His hand, which was about to be cured, was ruined. The doctor threatened, saying that it was a warning.

There were so many rich and powerful people who thought they were different and the doctor should show more respect to them. But in the end, whoever harassed Hugo and Whitecrane Hall suffered a lot.

He never saw the miracle doctor's face, but he knew clearly how skilled and cruel the doctor was.

Darren thought for a long time. He came up with an idea.

A few days later, the Evacuation Operation of the Falcon Special Operations Force was finalized. Kenneth and Yannick went to the Queen's Palace together to give her a report.

At the same time, Daniel, Kayden, and Jeremiah went to negotiate with Kamila.

Daniel and Kayden's experience was mainly conversations between superiors and subordinates. Jeremiah was better at negotiating.

In the meeting room, Kamila was sitting at one side of the table with her men. Daniel, Kayden, and Jeremiah were sitting at the other side of the table.

Kamila said first, "I guess I haven't seen this guy. He wasn't 'here last time, was he?"

Jeremiah was leading the negotiation. It was a decision after a discussion with Cassandra.

Daniel unconditionally believed in Cassandra so he would only make some supplementary points and make the final decision. Jeremiah was fully responsible for the negotiation.

Jeremiah nodded and said politely, pointing at Kayden, "This is the captain of the Falcon Special Operations Force. The negotiation will be followed up by him and Daniel."

Kamila smiled gently, "Really? Do you agree to my terms then?"

Her conditions meant to make Clusia sacrifice a lot. If she could get Clusia's support, it would be one step closer for her to sit on the throne in the Queen's Palace.

Jeremiah leaned back lazily in his chair and pointed at the table without saying anything.

Daniel and Kayden both stared at Daniel.

They thought, "This guy's starting to fake it."

Jeremiah shook his head. "No."

Kamila pushed everything in front of her expression instantly changed. "Then there's nothing to negotiate."

Jeremiah said, "I think we still have a lot to talk about, such as a cooperation project. Or, let's go to the international court and talk about how you stole Clusia's secret information?"

Jeremiah had everything given by Elaine. He thought he would sell The Urban if he couldn't nail this negotiation.

He thought it would be a great humiliation. He should have learned a lot from Elaine.

He must succeed even though Elaine was not here.

Kamila's expression changed. She turned to Jeremiah with an unfriendly look. She even looked shocked.

She thought, 'How did they find it? How could it be possible? I hired the No.2 hacker on the ranking list. They couldn't find it so easily.

She thought Jeremiah might just be bluffing. It was a negotiation after all.

Kamila asked coldly, "Steal Clusia's secret information? This is serious. Mr. Lawson, do you have any evidence?"

Jeremiah looked at Daniel and said seriously, "If I had no evidence, I wouldn't say that. Mr. Walker, the chief of Clusia's information security department, was sitting in front of you. Do you think I would make a joke about it? Mr. Walker said nothing because he wanted to leave this to me. Once he said something, it would be a dispute between Clusia and you."

Kamila looked sullen. How could she forget that Daniel was the chief of the information security department? It was easy for him to get all kinds of information.

She glanced at the hacker whom she invited to be here. The hacker looked disdainful. Obviously, he didn't believe it.

The hacker said, "You said you had evidence. Then show us the evidence. Don't try to play tricks,"

He didn't believe that someone could solve his maze except for Emery. But it was absolutely impossible because Emery had already announced that she would quit. How could she work for Clusia?

Jeremiah tapped on the table and the tip of his tongue swept across his teeth. He suddenly chuckled. Kamila was scared by it. "What's so funny?"

Jeremiah turned to Kamila and said coldly, "I was just reminded of something funny."

"If I don't have evidence, do you think I will lie to you?" Jeremiah smiled, "The reason why I haven't shown it to you is because I want to give you a chance to modify the terms.

"Isn't it more convenient to get a friend than an enemy? Clusian soldiers are committed to defending Clusia. If the safety of Clusian citizens in Zosteylor is threatened again, we will not just have a peaceful negotiation with you."

The truce between Kamila and the Queen was coming to an end. They must bring Clusian citizens home before it.

Chapter 269

Kamila looked bad.

Kamila said, "I haven't done it. If Mr. Lawson and the Falcon Special Operations Force want to frame me, I think we'd better take it to the international court."

Kamila still believed that they couldn't find any evidence of her attacking Falcon Special Operations Force so fast. Even if they had, now they were in her territory. She was not afraid at all.

Daniel and Kayden looked at each other. Daniel wanted to say something but Jeremiah didn't look at him, which meant that Jeremiah was confident that he could solve it. Jeremiah said, "Well, since you don't believe me, I have no choice but to submit the surveillance videos, voice recordings, as well as the IP address of the attacker."

Jeremiah took out a USB flash drive from his pocket and fiddled with it. "When it becomes an international issue, I wonder if you will still be so composed."

Kamila's eyes were fixed on the USB flash drive. She glared at the hacker whom she had invited to be here.

The hacker banged on the table and shouted, "Don't blame us for things that we haven't done."

Jeremiah threw the USB flash disk at the hacker and said, "Since you don't believe me, check it out yourself." He kindly warned the hacker. "Don't try to destroy it. This is just a copy. No one can steal the original files from Emery."

The hacker's hand that was holding the USB flash drive paused. He thought, 'What did he just say?

'Emery?

"The person who has been helping them is Emery! She is working for Clusia?"

'If Emery is really helping them, there is absolutely evidence inside the flash drive. I can't compete with Emery, which is something I hate to think about most.

The hacker said, "Do you think I'll believe you?"

Jeremiah felt speechless.

He thought, 'Is there something wrong with him? Is he really a genius? He can't compete with Elaine but he ranks second on the best hackers list.'

What a sarcastic thing!

Jeremiah said, "Believe it or not, you have the evidence now. Check it out."

The hacker suddenly hesitated and turned to Kamila. He noticed that she looked gloomy and even murderous.

Bang!

With a gunshot, the hacker fell directly to the ground.

It was Kamila who fired the shot.

She took out her handkerchief and wiped the pistol. She didn't look indifferent or murderous anymore. She gave a soft smile. "I'm so sorry. I didn't expect that he would do such an absurd thing. Now it has been solved. Let's get over it."

She sat down calmly as if what had happened just now was an illusion.

Jeremiah's eyes darkened. He lowered his head and then suddenly raised it again. "Then. how do you want to talk about it?"

"After all, I made a mistake. I agree with the Evacuation Operation that Clusia proposed." Kamila hesitated for a while and said, "However, there are only three days left for us. You must evacuate them all in three days. After the truce ends, if any Clusian gets hurt, it has nothing to do with me."

Jeremiah said, "Okay, but the three days start three days later."

Kamila's expression immediately changed again. "Don't push your luck."

She was like a chameleon.

“We’re not pushing our luck. We just want to give each other more time.” Jeremiah looked down at his phone. “It’s October 2nd in Zosteylor. Three days later, it will be October 5th and October 8th another three days later. We will evacuate everyone before 11:59 p.m.”

Kamila was furious. “You don’t think you’re ridiculous? You have six days!” She didn’t expect that she would be at a disadvantage.

“Let’s take the three more days as your compensation. Don’t worry, our operation will start on the 5th and we won’t start earlier than that.” Jeremiah ignored Kamila’s gloomy face and said, “It seems that you have no objection.”

Jeremiah stood up and helped Daniel stand up. Jeremiah took Kamila and Daniel’s hand. Then Kamila and Daniel shook hands with each other.

Daniel said, “Thank you for your understanding. Clusia will always remember you. We will certainly sing a praise for you.”

Jeremiah looked at Kamila’s eyes, which were full of rage.

Jeremiah said, “Since you have no objection, it’s a deal.”

Jeremiah gave Kamila no chance to refuse him.

He asked Daniel to sign and seal the documents of the Evacuation Operation and then handed the documents to Kamila.

Jeremiah said, “What are you waiting for? Sign your name!” He patted Kamila on the shoulder and thought, ‘Damn it! Move!’

Finally, Kamila realized what was happening and pressed a gun against Jeremiah’s head.

Kamila said fiercely, "Believe it or not, I'll shoot you." She looked like she would shoot him the next second.

"Don't you dare?" Jeremiah wasn't scared of her gun at all. "If you shoot me here, you will not only have to face the Queen's attack but also Clusian soldiers. Think about it. Is it worthwhile? If you want to kill me, do it. But think about what kind of situation you will be in.

"You will be surrounded by the Queen of Zosteylor, her sons, and Clusian soldiers. Guess if it will be an amazing thing.

Kamila's hand paused. She was lost in thought.

Everyone in the world knew how protective Clusia's leaders were. Everyone knew not to pick a person from a powerful country.

Kamila said, "Do as you say. But if you start the Evacuation Operation earlier, I will regard it as a breach of contract and the agreement will be nullified."

Kamila was not afraid of killing at all. But she couldn't kill a Clusian citizen.

Kamila signed the agreement and Jeremiah secretly breathed a slight sigh of relief.

He smiled brightly, "I know you're a straightforward person. Clusia loves to make friends with people like you. I'll show you around in Drieso."

With the agreement in his hand, Jeremiah thought his task was finally completed. Kamila didn't want to see him anymore so she asked them to leave as soon as possible.

On the way back to the camp, Kayden couldn't help but ask, "Weren't you afraid that Kamila would shoot you?"

Jeremiah said, "I was! But it could not change anything. I can't disgrace the Falcon Special Operations Force." He thought, 'I can't disgrace Elaine either.'"

Kayden snorted, "I thought you were afraid of nothing." But he actually admired Jeremiah a lot.

Daniel, who was sitting in the back seat, suddenly said, "Jeremiah, why don't you come to work for the National Security Bureau? I think I need a talent like you."

Kayden joked, "Daniel, it's inappropriate to poach people from Falcon Special Operations. Force."

Daniel asked, "Why?"

At the same time, Kenneth and the Queen had reached an agreement. As long as Kamila didn't suddenly start a war, they would never fire and let Clusia do the Evacuation Operation.

Kenneth readily agreed.

Suddenly, Darren came in to bring Leanna a bottle of water and her medicines.

Darren looked at these negotiators. "Mr. Zelinski, why isn't the young man who came with you last time here today?"

Chapter 270

Kenneth pretended not to know anything about it and said respectfully, "I have arranged other tasks for him. He won't join us for the time being."

Darren asked tentatively, "Really? I heard you call him Kayden the other day. His name sounds familiar to me. Is he from Drieso?"

Kenneth said, "Yes, he is from Drieso. But you can find a bunch of people who are called Kayden. It's a common name."

"Really? It explains a lot." Darren sighed, "I haven't come back to Drieso for so many years. I wonder how Drieso is developed now."

Kenneth said, "You can go back when you get the chance."

Kenneth turned to Leanna. "Your Majesty, since the problem has been solved. Let's just follow our plan. When the spring comes, we will come back to this beautiful country. I will pray for its peace."

Kenneth didn't want to stay here to discuss Kayden with Darren.

As Kayden said, Darren, his wife, and their sons had lived here for 18 years but never tried to find Cassandra. Kenneth thought there was no need to let Cassandra know this. She had him now and that was enough.

It would be good if everything stayed the same. Kenneth thought he should thank them. If they hadn't abandoned Cassandra, he wouldn't have met her.

Kenneth said, "Thank you."

Kenneth returned to the camp and found that Kayden and others were also there.

After they exchanged information with each other, they worked out a detailed plan.

The negotiation was finally over. At present, more than 98% of the Clusian citizens who they could find had gathered in the consulate. There were still a small number of people left in dangerous places. But with Clusia's flag, no one would hurt them during the truce.

The Falcon Special Operations Force, along with the army, started to search for the rest.

Kenneth finally could spend some time with Cassandra.

He said, "I've been busy these days. I must have neglected you."

He held Cassandra in his arms. Although it was already autumn, it was still hot. After a while, he sweated. Cassandra pushed him away and said displeased, "It's hot."

Cassandra was bothered by the heat, which Kenneth had noticed long ago. Throughout the summer, there were always watermelons in her refrigerator and the temperature in her room remained very low.

Therefore, after she arrived here, she had been having a hard time. There were not many fans in the camp. He put two of them in her tent, which had reached the limit so that she could sleep better at night.

Cassandra said casually, "We both have work to do. Don't say that again."

Kenneth took Cassandra's hand and walked toward the door. "Let me take you out for a walk."

Cassandra asked, "Have you arranged everything?"

Kenneth said, "Yeah." He thought his girlfriend was too patriotic. They finally get a chance to spend some time with each other but all she talked about was national affairs.

Kenneth noticed that she looked worried. "I feel that you are a little absent-minded. What happened?"

Cassandra was in low spirits. She kicked the little stones at her feet and said, "Nothing. Howard and the instructor each sent me a message today saying that there would be mid- term exams at the end of October."

She thought, 'If I tell Howard that I haven't read the physics textbooks, will he kill me with a knife?'

Kenneth didn't believe it. "That's it?" He didn't believe that the best student in this country would have anxiety about exams.

He thought, 'How can the others survive?'

Cassandra said, "What else can it be?"

Kenneth's tone changed. "It's easy for you, isn't it?" He knew it was a piece of cake for her.

Cassandra said, "But I haven't even opened the books. I don't know what they have learned in the physics classes."

She thought, 'I have almost forgotten what I learned in traditional medicine classes, let alone physics classes. It was all theoretical knowledge without any practical use. It's so boring.'

Kenneth felt speechless.

Kenneth said apologetically, "Don't worry. We can go back in a few days. But the vacation that I promised is probably not going to happen."

He was a soldier so he couldn't do whatever he wanted.

Cassandra said, "It doesn't matter. This is already a thrilling vacation." She didn't think it was a big deal or she was having a hard time here. Instead, she enjoyed it here.

They wandered around hand in hand for about two hours. When they went back, they saw a group of people standing outside the camp. They pushed each other as if they were watching a show.

Seeing Kenneth coming, they began to shout excitedly!

“Wow!”

“Mr. Zelinski has been hiding it from us!”

“Hand in hand! Mr. Zelinski should work harder. Hand in hand is not enough!”

Chapt

“Kiss her! Kiss her!”

When Kayden turned to Kenneth again, she felt that something was wrong.

Kayden thought, “This guy is much older than her!

‘Cassie is a fragile little girl. Why is she in love with a man who is nine years older than her?’

Cassandra frowned. She was not used to this kind of thing: She didn’t expect this at all.

Kenneth looked at Cassandra and asked, encouraged by his comrades, “Cassie, can I do it?”

He couldn’t refuse when everyone was so enthusiastic.

Cassandra glared at Kenneth.

She snorted in her mind, 'Are you trying to take advantage of me?'

But somehow, she was looking forward to it.

Finally, Kenneth kissed Cassandra on the cheek being stared at by everyone else. The crowd was even more excited but they were afraid that Cassandra would get angry. Cassandra said, "You are free? Complete 200 laps around the foot of this mountain."

Everyone was instantly quiet. Sure enough, they were the same kind of person. The way that they threatened people was the same.

200 laps! Why not just kill them like how ancient emperors did? 200 laps would be too cruel.

The crowd dispersed quickly.

In the following few days, they were even busier. They sent Clusian people to safe places in batches and then transferred them to Clusia.

When they were ready to leave, it was already the eighth day.

Harper finally found the camp. "Hello, I'm looking for Cassandra. I'm her classmate. Please tell her that I am here."

Cassandra happened to be walking out. She saw Harper. She walked to him and asked, "Why are you here?"

Harper said, "Cassandra, Clusia's army has retreated. I thought you would soon leave so I wanted to see you off. Thank you for bringing peace to my country."

As soon as Harper finished his words, the impatience in Cassandra's eyes instantly disappeared. But some complicated emotions overwhelmed her.

Cassandra asked in confusion, "Your country is at war. You are safe in Drieso. Why did you come back?"

She thought, 'Is it because of his family?

'But isn't family the most unreliable thing?'

Harper said, "My family and the citizens of my country all are here. As the prince, I should stay with them."

Cassandra nodded helplessly.

"This is a gift for you." Harper handed a gift to Cassandra and said, "I'm very happy that I was once your classmate."
