

My Rebirth 309

Chapter 309

About 40 minutes later, Kenneth drove a Porsche to the university gate.

And the three of them gathered together. Sofia was a foodie. They were discussing what to eat all the way.

When they reached the gate, Kenneth also arrived. Perfect timing.

Kenneth got out of the car and opened the door for Cassandra gracefully. Then, he opened the back seat door and let Sofia and Cassidy in by themselves. He also helped to protect Cassandra's head gently with his eyes full of affection and love.

Sofia was speechless.

Kenneth treated them so differently.

However, it didn't matter when she saw Cassandra's boyfriend love her so much.

After getting in the car, Kenneth asked, "What would you like to eat? Have you decided which restaurant we are going to?"

Sofia was good at socializing. She held the backrest and asked curiously, "Kenneth, can we eat whatever we want?"

"Of course, you are Cassie's friends. You can choose whatever you want."

The prerequisite for Kenneth was that they were Cassandra's friends.

So, they could eat whatever they wanted. If it were anyone else, he wouldn't care.

Sofia and Cassidy looked at each other. Sofia suggested with a smile, "There is a new fancy restaurant downtown. It's said that it tastes good, but you have to make an appointment in advance... So, Kenneth, can we go there today?"

Sofia mentioned it on purpose. She wanted to see what Kenneth could do for Cassandra, and whether he could treat her friends like his own friends.

Cassandra didn't have many friends. She could count her friends with one hand. If Kenneth couldn't treat her friends well, he might not really like Cassandra.

Kenneth looked at Cassandra and said, "Would you like to go there? Or what else would you like to eat?"

For him, only the needs of Cassandra were his top priority. If Cassandra wanted to go, then they could go. go, then they could choose

If Cassandra didn't want to other restaurants.

Sofia was speechless.

Who were Kenneth's guests today?

Cassandra smiled lightly, and her soft tone surprised Sofia. Was she still Cassandra, who would talk indifferently in the classroom?

"I want to try it, too. They say it's delicious."

Kenneth agreed immediately and decisively, "Okay, I'll arrange it."

He asked Sofia to tell him the name of the restaurant, and he would find out the location.

He sent the restaurant name to Yannick and asked him to deal with it..

When they arrived, the waiter immediately stepped forward to greet them and said respectfully, "Mr. Zelinski, welcome. Your room is ready."

Fifteen minutes ago, the manager hurriedly asked the waiter to identify someone and said that he would have a distinguished guest coming later.

They must respectfully welcome the guest into the restaurant and give him the highest service.

When the manager said the guest was Kenneth, the waiter trembled. Fortunately, today's Kenneth was not as scary as rumored.

"Well, take us there."

Sofia and Cassidy followed them directly into the room. Sofia was dumbfounded and thought, 'Is this the feeling of having power?'"

It was said that no one had the right to make an appointment in this restaurant, whether he was a politician or a big business shot. Unexpectedly, the so-called. rules in front of Kenneth were nothing.

Her father had booked a table three months later, but she didn't expect she could. come here in advance.

She didn't feel the truth until she sat in the private room.

The waiter brought up a very exquisite menu for them and handed it to Kenneth, "Mr. Zelinski, here is the menu."

"Give the menu to those two ladies and let them order."

Today, it was his treat. Cassandra's classmates could eat whatever they wanted.

He turned to look at Cassandra beside him and said, "Cassie, here's the menu. What do you want to eat?"

It was the first time he had come here, so he didn't know much about what was delicious and suitable for Cassandra.

"It's okay. Let them order."

Sofia took the menu and read it with Cassidy.

When they looked at it, they felt shocked.

Was a piece of foie gras so expensive?

That was more expensive than what she had eaten.

Looking at the price of each dish, she suddenly felt that this menu was killing her...

It was really expensive. If she ate one meal, it would cost her more than half a year. of living expenses.

She and Cassidy looked at each other, then closed the menu. Cassidy handed the menu to Cassandra carefully. "Cassie, how about you make the order?"

It was not suitable for them to order such expensive dishes.

Cassandra took the menu in confusion and glanced at it. She thought that they might think it was too expensive, so they were embarrassed to make an order.

She closed the menu and said to the waiter, "All the specialties. That's all. If we need anything else, we'll ring the bell."

Cassidy unconsciously widened her eyes and thought, "She is really rich."

Cassandra was Samantha and Elaine. It seemed that she wouldn't be short of money. And her boyfriend/was the richest man in the world.

This kind of person wouldn't be short of money at all.

Sofia scratched her head with some embarrassment and said apologetically, "Mr. Zelinski, Cassandra, I'm sorry. I didn't know that this restaurant was so expensive, and my father had made an appointment three months later, so..."

Sofia thought they could change to another restaurant.

Although Kenneth was very rich, this meal was a little expensive.

Her living expenses in half a year were 1 million dollars, and the specialty dishes. ordered by Cassandra just now might be more than that. The point was that they would order more dishes later?

She felt dizzy now.

“It’s okay. Thank you for taking care of Cassie at university,” Kenneth spoke in a deep voice, not deliberately getting close to them or keeping away from them..

Cassidy said, “It’s Cassie who takes care of us. We did little for her...”

Sofia was also a little embarrassed and said, “Cassandra is an outstanding student. She helped us in our studies, otherwise we couldn’t pass the examination at all.”

When Cassandra was bullied by others, Sofia and Cassidy would stand out for her. That was all they could do.

“Take it easy. Cassie told me about what you did for her in the classroom. I’m not always around Cassie, so I can’t take care of her all the time. Thank you for backing her up there.”

After saying that, Kenneth took out two business cards from his pocket and handed them to Sofia and Cassidy. “If anything happens to Cassie at university or someone bullies her, please call me.”

Cassandra tilted her head and looked at Kenneth. “Are you trying to bribe my friends?”

Kenneth smiled. “Yes, I do. So what? I can do anything for you.”

He tried his best to protect Cassandra.

He didn’t want the whole plagiarizing thing to happen again. He had to wait for Hugo to tell him. That feeling was really bad.

Hearing this, Sofia suddenly felt that the business card in her hand was not so good.

Kenneth took every opportunity to show his affection to Cassandra.
