

My Rebirth 321

Chapter 321

Kenneth's words made Rhard's heart sink. He looked at Kenneth with anger in his eyes.

Even Emma couldn't help but raise her volume, "Why? I've apologized. Why do you have to suppress the Houston family?"

As Emma roared, tears streamed down her cheeks. It seemed like she was the wronged one.

Cassandra couldn't help but frown. Why would the perpetrators always feel wronged? Didn't they realize that they were wrong?

Even Richard had the same reaction. His respect had turned into impatience.

Was that what a retired soldier should be?

Richard looked at Kenneth with dissatisfaction and said, "Don't go too far. I asked Emma to apologize as you requested. Why don't you let the Houston family go? Do you think we're easy to bully?"

Kenneth was the commanding officer of the Falcon Special Operations Force. As the leader, if Kenneth broke his promise and went back on his word, his people wouldn't be convinced.

Kenneth asked, "Mr. Houston, do you believe that a mere apology erases the consequences of one's mistakes? What purpose do the police serve if that were the case? Are we expected to disregard the harm caused by Emma to Cassandra at school and the insults Emma directed at Cassandra during yesterday's banquet?"

"If you think so, the cost of your mistake will be too low, right? The Houston family still doesn't realize its mistake. In that case, I won't stop. Kenneth's tone was cold.

Cassandra smiled and thought, 'Kenneth really understands me. My forgiveness doesn't mean that I won't punish them. Timothy doesn't have the habit of attacking others overnight, but Jeremiah does.

'I don't believe that Jeremiah knew nothing about what happened yesterday!

As expected, after a while, Richard received another call from Sampson. "Sampson, what's the matter? Don't worry. Grandpa won't let you go to Ouflanca," said Richard.

Sampson's angry voice came through the phone, "I'd rather go to Ouflanca alone now than be suspended here! Grandpa, have you ever disciplined Emma at home? Now the Internet is flooded with trending topics about her. All the rumors have been confirmed. This morning as soon as my supervisor arrived, he suspended me from my position and ordered an investigation. I am being suspected of abuse of power!"

Richard was stimulated. He stepped back repeatedly. How could this happen?

Richard almost lost his balance and asked Sampson, "How... How did this happen?"

Sampson said, "I also want to know how on earth you educate Emma at home. She acts willfully outside, shows off in the name of you and me, threatens her classmates, and forces so many people to drop out of school. She is really awesome!"

Richard could feel Sampson's anger over the phone.

Kenneth tilted his head slightly and looked at Cassandra, who smiled lightly like a cunning and cute fox.

Hearing Sampson's furious words, Emma felt a little embarrassed and flushed. She had never been scolded like that since childhood, so she suddenly felt aggrieved.

Emma shouted, "They bullied me. Can't I bully them? They are afraid of you and Grandpa, which has nothing to do with me. Why are you scolding me now?" Emma cried sadly.

Richard didn't feel sorry for Emma at all this time. He thought she was really spoiled.

Emma didn't expect that Sampson would be suspended for investigation now. Even if Sampson was proven to be innocent in the end, his career would still be affected. It would be very difficult for Sampson to get promoted for the next few years.

But now, it turned out that Emma had bullied the weak by relying on Richard and Sampson's power.

If someone were to begin an investigation, Emma's actions would implicate the Houston family.

Helen was scared and at a loss after she heard Sampson's words. She grabbed Richard's phone and asked, "Sampson, how are you doing now? Are you okay?"

Sampson said, "Mom, since I joined the army, I have never relied on anyone. I even asked Grandpa for help. All my achievements were earned by my hard work. Now I have to accept a false investigation because of Emma. As long as they carry out the investigation, they will know that Emma used my reputation to bully people. Do you think I won't be punished? I'm going to be promoted to colonel soon. Do you really want to kill me?"

Hearing this, Helen cried with remorse, "Sampson, don't worry. Your grandpa and I will find a way out."

Sampson couldn't stand their words and hung up directly.

Helen stared at Emma with tears in her eyes. Then she walked forward and slapped Emma in the face.

"You stupid girl! It's all your fault. Do you want to kill your brother?" Helen's eyes were filled with anger and disgust. "What on earth are the trending topics that your brother mentioned? Explain it to me clearly. What have you done?" Helen asked in anger.

Helen put all the responsibility on Emma. Richard's eyes were full of despair, and his pace toward Kenneth was instantly much heavier as if he had become ten years older.

Richard said, "Mr. Zelinski, I didn't teach Emma well. But it has nothing to do with Sampson. I will take all the responsibility. Please let Sampson go. He has a bright future. His life can't be ruined because of his sister. I will discipline Emma well and let her learn to behave herself. Please forgive us!"

Richard's tone was sad, full of remorse. But it was too late to regret it.

For a soldier, such things were never allowed to happen in his family. The Houston family not only didn't restrain Emma, but let her become more and more arrogant outside. A little trouble would affect the career of a soldier who was in the army. Now the Houston family had realized the problem, but it was too late.

Kenneth shook his head and said indifferently, "Mr. Houston, I admit that it was me who ordered Sampson to go to Ouflanca, but I just found out about the investigation and his suspension."

Clearly, Richard didn't believe it. He gazed at Kenneth in disbelief. As Kenneth's eyes remained sincere and devoid of evasion, Richard felt a deep sense of heartbreak.

Cassandra suggested, "Mr. Houston, rather than begging me for help, it's better to see what is going on on the Internet and what serious things have affected Sampson, instead of wasting time asking for forgiveness."

Hearing this, Helen wiped the tears on her face and quickly turned on her phone to check Twitter.

As soon as she clicked in, she saw several trending topics on the homepage.

Helen felt dizzy and almost couldn't see the words clearly.

The trending topics were all about the Houston family.

The top trending hashtags were, "Undergraduates of Juset University," "Juset University's Former High School Bully," "Emma of Juset University: Bully," "Emma from the Houston family in Drieso," "Emma's Granddaughter," "Emma's Brother, a Soldier about to Be Promoted to Colonel," "How Powerful Emma Is," "Impact of Emma's Bullying on Girls," and "The Victim's Reaction to Emma."

There was more. The information provided was detailed, spanning from Emma's college years to high school, from her individual experiences to her familial connections, and from her grandfather to her brother.

Helen sensed her blood pressure surging, feeling as though her head was on the brink of exploding.

Chapter 322

Numerous comments fided in regarding the trending topics: [Heaven has eyes! Who on earth has finally exposed Emma? He's our savior!]

[What the hell is going on? These trending topics are suddenly so popular now and I can't understand them at all!]

[Let's put it this way. Emma Houston is from the powerful Houston family in Drieso. She is now a student in the Physics Department at Juset University. She is an unruly girl who bullies her classmates by relying on the influence of her grandfather and brother. Many students are forced to transfer to another school. Several students in Grade 12 didn't even take part in the SAT because they couldn't stand Emma's oppression.]

[Some even suffer from severe depression. Emma is the devil dressed like an angel, but she is more terrifying than a demon!]

[What a ruthless girl!]

[I am one of the victims of Emma's school violence. Her grandfather is a retired soldier and her brother is a lieutenant colonel. I was just from an ordinary family, so I couldn't afford to offend the Houston family at all. My parents owned a small restaurant, and Emma led people to smash our shop twice. I really couldn't stand it, so I was forced to leave Drieso and go back home. I don't know who exposed what Emma did, but thank you very much.]

[Oh my God, this woman is insane. It's terrible! This is a crime! Her brother is a lieutenant colonel, so what? With such a bullying sister, Emma's brother must not be a good person!]

[Yeah. The army should investigate him seriously!]

[I'm also a victim. I really couldn't help crying out when reading the news. Ordinary people can't defeat them at all. Emma took people to beat me, and my father broke one of his legs to protect me. However, Emma's mother threatened my parents in the hospital. Those threats are still my nightmares.]

[Who has the Houston family offended? It seems to be a trap.]

[Come on. How could it be a trap? It's all true! If you're blind, we can crowdfund to treat your eyes!]

Everything was exposed, and Helen felt dizzy. She couldn't accept it.

Emma shrank back in fear. She didn't dare to read the comments online, which must be scolding her.

Emma thought these people had gone too far. How could they expose what she had done in the past at such a time?

Cassandra said, "Mr. Houston, you have to bear the consequences for what you've done. You must be well aware of what is going on on the Internet, so you should be clear about what your granddaughter and daughter-in-law have done behind you. Since things have already happened, if I were you, I would try my best to make up for the families of those victims."

“You stood at the door of my house and apologized to me today because I have Modern Beacon Synergy and Zelinski Group behind me. If I were just a normal person, I would probably end up worse than these people. According to your granddaughter’s character, I may die or be disabled. Do you still think that your granddaughter is gentle and kind?”

Cassandra’s words were not harsh, but every word hit the nail on the head.

After this matter was exposed, no one would be willing to cooperate with the Houston family even if there was no threat from Zelinski Group.

Cassandra ignored them and got into the car with Kenneth.

*****

Cassandra asked, “Did you ask the companies to terminate their contracts with the Houston family?”

In the car, Cassandra couldn’t help but ask. She didn’t do it and Timothy didn’t tell her about it or ask for credit from her. Then it was not Timothy who did this. What happened on the Internet was done by Jeremiah. Cassandra just did something to make the news more widely known.

More people should know about the victims.

Kenneth shook his head and said confusedly, “It’s not me. I just ordered Sampson to go on a mission in Ouflanca. I have only been involved in the Houston family’s business for half a day. Moreover, Yannick was away yesterday, so I didn’t take care of those companies.”

Cassandra was lost in thought. Who could it be?

“Did your threat last night work?” Casandra asked.

Kenneth chuckled and said getly. “Even if it worked, not all of the partners would cancel the contracts overnight. It takes time. Besides, Yannick hasn’t received the order yet, so there is no pressure.”

Cassandra rubbed her glabella and didn't bother to think about it.

Back in the classroom, Sofia couldn't wait to pull Cassandra and said excitedly, "Cassandra, you are so amazing!"

It turned out that Cassandra was actually the boss behind Modern Beacon Synergy. Such an identity could defeat all the rich people in Drieso except Kenneth.

The point was that Cassandra was keeping a low profile.

Cassandra smiled lightly and said, "Sorry, I didn't mean to hide it from you. It's just that I am a hand-off boss and don't work in the company, so there is no need for me to boast about it."

Sofia said, "Do you think we're mean people?" Sofia pointed at Cassidy and continued, "Last night, she was motivated by you and decided to work hard. I am different. I decided to keep being myself!"

With such an excellent idol, Sofia believed that no matter how hard she tried, she couldn't reach Cassandra's level. It was better to live her old life and cheer for Cassandra.

Cassandra was amused.

"Cassidy?" Cassandra called Cassidy softly.

Cassidy looked up at Cassandra and smiled, asking, "Cassie, you're back. Do you have a class today?"

"Yeah." Cassandra nodded,

Everyone in the class looked at Cassandra strangely.

They wondered who Cassandra was. She studied well, and now she was even a professor. It was said that she was also the boss of Modern Beacon Synergy.

It was ridiculous!

The story was more unbelievable than a novel!

Cassandra didn't feel anything wrong. Just as she was about to sit down, Henry appeared at the door of the class and said with a smile, "Professor Yates, please come out."

Cassandra was surprised.

The other students in the class were silent.

Somehow, it was weird. The distinguished professor of the Physics Department was a college student in the Traditional Medicine Department.

¶

The students of the Traditional Medicine Department suddenly felt that they were honored.

Cassandra had no choice but to walk out.

She followed Henry to the office of the Physics Department and asked, "Mr. Wilson, what's wrong?"

Henry said, "Well, we've had some discussions about Emma's matter, and we also want to ask your opinion."

In the office, all the teachers of the Physics Department, whether they had or didn't have classes, were present.

Cassandra sat at her desk and asked, "What about the university's decision?"

Henry and Howard exchanged a glance. Howard's mention of Emma seemed to rouse a hint of anger in him. "We proposed that Emma be expelled from the university. Her behavior is both immoral and unethical. However, some professors believe that this action is inappropriate and suggest that she be given an opportunity to rectify her mistakes," said Howard.

Cassandra snorted lightly and said, "How will you give her a chance to make up for what she has done? What will happen to those who were forced to transfer to other schools, might not have been admitted to their ideal universities, and had their future paths changed? What about those who were forced to drop out of school in Grade 12 and couldn't take the SAT? What's Emma gonna do to make up for it? Could she make up for those stores that have been smashed and those who have been injured?"

How could someone who didn't apologize sincerely for what she had done change her mind?

Chapter 323

Cassandra's words silenced everyone.

Emma had hurt so many people. How could she correct her mistakes?

Additionally, Emma continued to display arrogance even after her actions were exposed, showing little inclination to rectify her mistakes..

The teachers just didn't have the heart to see Emma, who was still so young, lose everything she had, so they suggested giving her another chance.

“Professor Yates, do you agree to expel Emma from the university?” Henry asked uncertainly.

Cassandra said, “I won’t make any promises, and I am not involved in this matter. I have just had a class. You should make the decision.”

Cassandra didn’t show her attitude. She knew that she shouldn’t make a decision on this matter.

“Okay, we’ll further discuss it later,” Henry said.

Cassandra nodded and left the office.

Suddenly, Cassandra’s phone rang. It was Sophia’s message: [Cassandra, watch the live stream. Emma is going to jump off the building!]

Sofia had forwarded a live link to Cassandra.

In the live stream channel, Emma was standing on the roof of a building. Where she stood looked very high.

Emma yelled, “Get Cassandra out here!

“Cassandra, you bitch! You trapped me!

“Why did you want to expose me? Aren’t you afraid that I will kill myself?

“Cassandra, why are you taking everything that belongs to me?”

Cassandra felt annoyed when watching the live stream. She thought, ‘Whoever really wants to die will jump off directly. Why is she wasting time shouting there?’

Emma was even holding a knife in her hand, and she looked determined to die.

but

but to do as Emma asked.

The police had no choice b

“If I can’t see Cassandra in halan hour, I will jump from here!” Emma threatened.

Cassandra rolled her eyes and thought, ‘What the hell is wrong with her?’

Cassandra left the live stream channel and went straight back to the classroom. At this time, everyone in the class looked at her strangely. Sofia walked up to Cassandra and said, “Cassandra, what should we do now? Emma is going to commit suicide.”

Cassandra said, “She doesn’t treasure her life. Do you want me to support her? I am not her mother!”

“Cassandra, Emma wants to see you. Maybe she won’t die after seeing you. Why don’t you go?” someone asked.

“Do I have an obligation to do that?” Cassandra asked.

Then Cassandra began to pack up her things. It seemed that she couldn’t finish the class today.

“How could you say so? If there’s a chance to save someone’s life, we should all it. How could you be so cold-blooded?” the person said again.

try

“You know nothing about what happened. Instead of persuading me, it is better to tell her to shut up and not try to shift the blame to me, retorted Cassandra.

Wasn't it because Emma wanted to blame all the mistakes on Cassandra that she cursed Cassandra in the live stream?

No matter how many wrongs Emma had done, everyone would sympathize with her when she was about to die.

Then Emma could shift the blame to Cassandra and let her be attacked on the Internet.

As Cassandra expected, the trend on the Internet had changed.

[Cassandra is Samantha, right? What did she do to make Emma say those words?]

[Isn't Emma on the trending list today? What does she mean now? Does she want to say that all this was done by Cassandra?]

[But what about what the victims said?]

[Samantha has a lot of power the entertainment industry. Do you need me to explain it? Isn't it easy for Samantha to use public opinion against someone?]

[It's easy to make up stories. Why can't it be that Samantha did good deeds and exposed what Emma had done?]

[You must be Cassandra's fan, right? Emma will commit suicide. How could she risk her life to tell such a lie?]

Before Cassandra walked out of the classroom, two policemen came to the door and asked, "Who is Cassandra?"

Everyone looked at Cassandra in unison.

The policemen came forward and said in a pleading tone, "Emma threatens that she is committing suicide. She wants to see you. Please come with us."

Seeing that Cassandra remained silent, they said nervously, "Don't worry. We will protect you and won't let you get hurt. It's just we can't stand there and watch her kill herself. No matter what she has done, she should be punished by the law instead of ending her life so easily.

"She still insists on meeting you on the top floor. If this continues, you might face cyberbullying if she passes away. Cassandra, please come with us."

Cassandra's eyes were a little sharp when she said, "I can go with you, not because you say that I will be bullied online, but because you say that 'no matter what she has done, she should be punished by the law. I hope when she comes down, you can interrogate her carefully and see what she has done.'"

One of the officers said, "That's for sure. As long as she is alive, she will definitely be interrogated. We know what happened online and we were already setting up an investigation team when..."

Who knew that such a thing would happen? Emma was making trouble for the police, but the policemen must take action for fear that Emma would really kill herself.

Cassandra showed up on the rooftop, and Kenneth also appeared. The live stream was still on.

Cassandra walked forward and said coldly, "I'm here. What do you want to say?"

Emma frantically gestured at Cassandra with a knife and began to accuse her, "Cassandra, it's all your fault. You stole my freshman representative's place. You took away my future boyfriend, and now you still don't let me go. You want to destroy the Houston family and ruin me. Because of you, I was slapped by Grandpa twice, and my mother also beat me. My brother never yelled at me, but because of you, he yelled at me. It's all your fault!"

Cassandra looked gloomy and even somewhat disappointed. Then she said, "Emma, I was chosen as the freshman representative, which was decided by Mr. Wilson. I unscripted my speech because I have a photographic memory. I can remember the manuscript after reading it. It's not like what you thought. I didn't prepare it for a long time. As for your so-called future boyfriend, we were together after my military training in college. Richard just mentioned him to your mother. How did he become your boyfriend? I can't see how you can be so unreasonable."

Cassandra looked around and stepped forward slightly, continuing, "You did something wrong. You forced your classmates to transfer to other schools and drop out of school. You ruined others' futures and the happiness of many families. What are you upset about? Can't you stand just being slapped by your grandfather twice?"

in

"Think about those people whose legs were hurt by you and who didn't take the SAT, which has ruined their whole lives. Do they not harbor a sense of injustice? How can you audaciously express your grievances here, disregarding the profound impact on others? To whom can these people voice their grievances? Merely possessing a distinguished grandfather and a lieutenant colonel brother does not justify disregarding the emotions of others or covering up all consequences.

"Your grandfather and brother were defending Clusia on the front line to protect the children and teenagers of their motherland. As their family, what were you doing? You were destroying the teenagers and their futures. The straight—A student in Grade 12 was forced to drop out of school a month before the SAT by you and became depressed. What should those people do?”

Cassandra took two more steps forward and said, “If you really want to die and repent, you should die quietly instead of causing trouble to the hospital, the police, and the armed police.” Cassandra pointed to the people standing on the rooftop and continued, “Look at how many people are troubled because of you.”

Emma unconsciously glanced around and got distracted.

Cassandra took advantage of this moment and rushed forward. Then she reached out her hand and took Emma down.

Cassandra slapped Emma in the face.

“If you really want to die, pay back all the debts you owe before that. Co kneel and apologize to those victims. Then go to kill yourself. Don’t make trouble again. Otherwise, I will help you die,” said Cassandra.

Cassandra did not slap Emma to sober her up; rather, she did so out of annoyance.

Cassandra got up and threw Emma to the police easily. “You guys deal with her,” Cassandra said.

Then she left with Kenneth.

Chapter 324

The citizens were once again excited. [Holy crap! She’s so cool!]

[I admit, I love that backhand That's so cool!]

[Who said Cassandra did not care about Emma's life? A bunch of idiots. Listen to Cassandra carefully. How could you feel sorry for Emma after she has done so many bad things? Those who have been ruined by Emma are really innocent. Who can they turn to?]

[After hearing Cassandra's complaint, I think Emma deserves to die.]

[I think saving her is doing harm to society!]

[Please keep your mouths shut. Emma is still young and doesn't know what is wrong. Besides, she said that the victims were afraid of her brother and grandfather. What does it have to do with Emma?]

[Hey, stop talking shit.]

[If Emma hadn't shown her identity and threatened others, how would those things have happened? Now that she has been exposed, she pretends to be wronged. Cassandra is right. Emma would have killed herself if she really wanted to die. She's just causing trouble for the police!]

Cassandra ignored the discussion online. At the same time, Kenneth got in the car and said harshly, "How could you just rush up like that? Didn't you see that she had a knife?"

Cassandra said, "The knife was unopened at first glance, so it couldn't cause much damage. But Emma didn't understand, so she took the knife carefully. How could she hurt me at all?" Cassandra, didn't take it seriously and even looked a little proud.

Cassandra would not take her life carelessly.

Kenneth didn't have words to retort.

He knew that Cassandra was right, but he thought she didn't care about her safety

Kenneth just felt helpless.

He said, "Don't do this again. Emma is too extreme. She doesn't deserve your sympathy at all. You should just let her parents and grandpa come to her."

Kenneth opted not to continue the discussion, recognizing that he would be unable to prevail over Cassandra in a debate.

"Well, I'll be careful next time," Cassandra promised.

At the same time, when Helen and Richard learned that Emma was about to jump off from the building, Richard suddenly fainted because of the simulation. Dave followed the ambulance to the hospital, so Helen could only go to the police station by herself to see Emma.

Emma was in the observation room of the police station. After a long time, she finally calmed down. Then the police took her to the interrogation room for interrogation.

Emma was still young and innocent. She didn't know much about the world and felt that she had a strong background, so she was irritated easily and told everything to the police in a few minutes.

"Don't write it down, or I will ask my brother to teach you a lesson!" Emma even threatened the officers with Sampson's identity.

The police officer who interrogated Emma shook his head and wrote down every word she said, even recording it. He would report directly to his superiors.

Everything would be important evidence for investigating Sampson.

When Helen arrived, Emma was still threatening the police. Helen didn't take the interrogation seriously and just thought that Richard could handle this matter well. However, when she heard Emma mention Sampson, she instantly became flustered. Helen knew that Sampson couldn't be investigated again, which would ruin his career.

Helen hurriedly walked forward, straightened Emma's body, and slapped her in the face. Then Helen scolded sharply, "What are you talking about? Your brother never cares about your shit. How can you ruin his reputation outside!"

Emma was slapped again. She looked at Helen as if she were looking at her enemy. Emma shouted, "You... You hit me because I mentioned Sampson! Since you love your good son so much, why did you give birth to me? You don't care about me at all. You only let me apologize when I was bullied. How could you do that?"

"Didn't those people leave because you threatened them? It has nothing to do with me. Why did you blame everything on me?"

Emma was almost out of her mind, and Helen was pissed off. The police called a psychologist. They thought that Emma might be psychologically distorted.

In Zosteylor, Theodore and Vincent were conspiring in the room. Harper was absent as he required rest. Detoxing in the middle stage had depleted a significant amount of his energy.

"How are things going with Cassie?" Theodore asked.

On Theodore's computer screen, there were trending topics about Cassandra and Emma. There were many web pages, which indicated that Theodore was really concerned about Cassandra.

However, Cassandra didn't need such concern at all.

Vincent replied, "I've handled it. I have contacted all the suppliers and partners of the Houston family. They no longer cooperate with the Houston family. Most companies have terminated their contracts overnight. It is estimated that the Houston family will declare bankruptcy in less than two days."

Vincent was telling the truth. At this time, his computer showed the stock market situation and the shares of the Houston family. He wanted to make the Houston family heavily in debt and let them know that Cassandra had a strong backer.

Theodore said, "Well, that's good. All those who bully Cassie must be punished."

When Theodore said so, he was not confident at all.

He just knew that Cassandra was the boss of Modern Beacon Synergy. Although no one had seen the boss before, there were countless legends about her.

What never changed was that she started from scratch and worked hard. Together with Timothy and Cyrus, she founded Modern Beacon Synergy which was a business empire.

Theodore also admired such a person.

But he never expected that the person was Cassandra.

Thinking of this, Theodore felt very unhappy. He could imagine how hard it was for Cassandra to climb up the ladder when she had nothing. No wonder she didn't want her family.

The so-called family would only stand in her way.

Theodore envied Kenneth and Jeremiah. Even though they were not biologically related to Cassandra, they were more lucky than the Yates family because Cassandra treated them well.

"Theodore, when can we be reunited with Cassie?" Vincent was very fond of Cassandra, so he was eager to see her again. Nevertheless, Cassandra didn't give them any opportunity. Vincent stated, "If she can accept Dad and Mom, I am willing to break up with them."

Vincent always felt that it was because of the identity of him and Theodore that hindered Cassandra from accepting them.

It was because Cassandra didn't like them that she didn't want to go home.

As long as Cassandra was willing to come back, Vincent could deal with the adoption immediately. He was not a child now and could take care of himself. Even if there were no procedures for adoption, he would still take care of his parents.

Vincent just hoped that Cassandra could go home soon.

. Do

Theodore you think I don't want to? However, it's not a matter of our willingness to do this. Let's talk about it after Mom and Harper get better."

The treatment of Leanna and Harper had entered the middle stage, and they were already preparing for their visit to Clusia. As long as Leanna got better, she would put the matter of visiting Clusia on the agenda, and then they could go to Clusia and see Cassandra fairly.

As long as they could meet Cassandra, there was a chance to get her forgiveness.

Their family reunion was just around the corner.

Chapter 325

The incident of Emma was spreading on the Internet, and Juset University had to respond.

Although Emma was about to commit suicide, Juset University must show its attitude in this matter.

The official Twitter account of Juset University posted a blog post: “The recent incident involving Emma, a freshman from the Physics Department of our university, has been widely circulating on the Internet. In response, we have conducted a thorough investigation and gathered relevant evidence.

“Our decision regarding the handling of Emma’s matter is as follows.

“First, Emma will face expulsion from the university.

“Secondly, Juset University has made the decision to permanently bar Emma from admission, extending to all levels of study including undergraduate, graduate, postgraduate, and Ph.D. programs.

“Thirdly, all rewards and honors given to Emma by the university will be withdrawn.

“The university is a place to acquire knowledge. All individuals are born equal, and they should not intimidate the vulnerable based on their family background. Juset University will never tolerate such misconduct.

“Once the perpetrator is identified, severe punishment will be administered to those who have bullied others!”

In addition to the statement, Juset University also sent scanned copies and pictures. stamped with its official seal.

Juset University showed its firm attitude in this matter.

The decision was a great joy to everyone.

The comments went like this: [I’ve decided to let my straight–A student sister apply for Juset University after SAT!]

[Maybe your sister is working hard for Juset University.]

[Juset University is awesome!]

[Love my alma mater. Just responded so quickly and even made a special investigation. It's not a casual statement!]

[This time, Juset University won!]

The official Twitter account of Summit Crest High School later made a post admitting that due to their negligence, they failed to investigate the backgrounds and real situations of the dropouts. As a result, Emma had been bullying many students for numerous years during her time in high school.

Hence, the decision was made to revoke Emma's diploma and nullify all her student status details.

After Emma's interrogation, she not only lost her identity as a college student but also became a junior high school graduate.

When Richard awoke, he appeared markedly older. Helplessly, he relinquished his dignity and approached Kenneth's superior, John Frey, to plead for assistance.

"Mr. Frey, I can only talk to you about this," Richard called John first.

After Richard woke up from the hospital, he hurried to the military residential compound and found John. Richard didn't care if he would lose his dignity. The most important thing was that his two grandchildren could not be destroyed like this.

John said, "Mr. Houston, it's not that we don't want to help you with this matter, but we have no way out. The superior attaches great importance to this matter and its impact is very bad." John looked serious. He had always been an amiable person, but this time when he saw Richard, he couldn't smile.

John continued, "Our soldiers are fighting at the front, while our families are relying on the power of the soldiers and showing off their strength. Such evil acts will never be encouraged and must be strictly punished. It's useless for you to come to me. I won't be responsible for this matter. The superiors will personally investigate it. You should know how bad this matter is!"

John was also filled with sadness and disappointment. Sampson was a uniquely promising young man. There might not have been a second Kenneth in Clusia, but Sampson was the closest equivalent, Sampson achieved two second-class merits, one first-class merit, and one third-class merit. He made significant contributions, but it was his sister who derailed his future.

Was

"Is there really no other way?" Richard was beyond regretful. If even John couldn't do anything about it, who else could Richard go to?

John said, "Who is behind this? What's the reason for this? If you want the superior to let it go, you need to know who you have offended." John deliberately lowered his voice and continued, "I heard that Ms. Yates' identity is not as simple as what you see. This time, you have not only offended her but also may fall into the abyss. and ruin your family."

John couldn't help this matter. Judging from what had happened, Cassandra shouldn't be underestimated. Moreover, not only Kenneth but also the National Security Bureau had intervened if the information was correct, which made this matter more complicated.

The Houston family had come to an end this time.

Richard bent his back with despair on his face. He didn't know what to do now.

Richard wondered, [Who is Cassandra? What's behind her besides Zelinski Group and Modern Beacon Synergy? Why is she so difficult to deal with? Even John can't do anything about her.]

John continued, "Besides, it was the superior who ordered Sampson to be suspended from duty this time. It didn't go through me or Kenneth. Think about it."

John's words were simple, so Richard understood his meaning.

After Richard left, John's wife, Selena Frey, came out and asked, "What happened to the Houston family?"

"The kid Kenneth is with is not simple," said John.

The individual eligible for National Security Bureau protection could not simply serve as the boss of Modern Beacon Synergy, a company of little significance to the National Security Bureau.

"Then the Houston family..." Selena was curious.

John said, "The business of the Houston family and that girl should be ruined. But Kenneth cherishes Sampson's talent and won't leave him alone. Otherwise, Kenneth would not directly order Sampson to carry out a mission in Ouflanca."

However, Sampson listened to Richard and waited in the army. Instead of the mission being canceled, Sampson found himself suspended from duty.

If Sampson had flown to Ouflanca as soon as he received the mission, his superiors wouldn't have called him back. Then he could easily avoid this disaster.

Kenneth just wanted Sampson to be punished. How could Sampson lead the army in the future if he couldn't even lead his sister?

As a result, Sampson would face hardships in Ouflanca at most. It was possible that he could be promoted to the rank of colonel within a few years. Furthermore, if Sampson were to achieve a second-class meritorious service when the right time came, his promotion to colonel could be immediate.

Selena nodded and said, "It's time to teach the girl of the Houston family a lesson. It's good that the Houston family lost their property since they only knew how to harm others."

John agreed with Selena and said, "You're right, honey. I think so too."

Selena said, "You should make an appointment with Kenneth and ask him to bring his girlfriend over. We should meet her. I want to see this big shot." Selena was curious about Cassandra, who seemed to be a legend.

Originally, Selena and John didn't know who the girl Kenneth liked was. However, after the video of the Modern Beacon Synergy party spread in the circle, they saw Cassandra clearly and knew that Kenneth had not deceived them.

"Okay, I'll call him," John said.

John was also curious about who the girl was and how she could be so charming.

When Kenneth got the call, he happened to be with Cassandra. He put down his phone and asked softly, "My leader and the wives of several other leaders in the military residential compound would like to see you this weekend. Do you have time?"

Cassandra had felt a little sleepy when she leaned against him, but now she suddenly became sober.

"See me? This weekend?" Cassandra asked in surprise.

Cassandra thought, 'But didn't prepare anything!

‘What the hell is going on?’

‘Why are they so hasty?’

Chapter 326

Cassandra was a little enarrassed and said, “But I didn’t prepare anything. Is it really good to go there so hastily?” there so hastily?”

Cassandra didn’t have anything important to do this weekend.

However, she was a little worried that she might not be able to leave a good impression on those people.

What if they didn’t like her?

Cassandra thought, Those people are all respected by Ken. I should prepare for the meeting well.’

Kenneth said, “There is no need to prepare anything. I will prepare everything for you. You just need to show up.” Feeling Cassandra’s embarrassment, Kenneth comforted her gently.

However, Kenneth was happy in his heart. He thought, ‘Could it prove that Cassie is willing to be with me forever?’

‘When she is 20 years old, I will seek the leader’s approval for marriage!’

“Really?” Cassandra asked.

Kenneth said, “Yeah.”

In fact, Kenneth was ready for it long ago. As soon as Cassandra agreed, he could bring her to his leaders immediately.

Cassandra didn't refuse. So this matter was really settled, and she somehow had a feeling that an important occasion was coming.

At the weekend, Kenneth arrived at Cassandra's door early in the morning. When he entered the house, he found that she had gotten up early.

"Why did you get up so early?" Kenneth asked her.

Cassandra was silent.

Reborn as a fearless person, Cassandra was actually afraid of facing those leaders' wives. If Kenneth knew about it, she would be laughed at by him.

Therefore, Cassandra would not tell Kenneth how she felt.

Cassandra made up an excuse I did an experiment last night, and I finished it a little late. I couldn't sleep for a long time, so I just didn't sleep." Cassandra was calm when she said so.

Cassandra could lose anything except her pride.

Kenneth felt distressed and said, "Then I will tell them that we will go meet them next week. You should have a good rest today. There's no hurry to meet them."

Kenneth thought that if they wanted to see Cassandra, they could just wait.

Cassandra didn't sleep all night. For Kenneth, she was more important than anyone else.

Seeing that Kenneth had taken out his phone and was about to make a call, Cassandra hurriedly stopped him and said, "It's okay. It doesn't matter. I used to stay up for more than two days. It's not a big deal."

Kenneth said, "No. You didn't care about your health at all before, so now you should take good care of yourself and have a good rest."

Cassandra said, "I'm really fine. Isn't it far from here to the military residential compound? Anyway, we have someone drive us there, so I can just sleep in the back." Cassandra suddenly felt that she shouldn't have made such an excuse.

"Really?" Kenneth was worried.

"Yeah." Cassandra chuckled and said, "Let's go."

MUHONG

Kenneth got up, took her hand, and gave Cassandra a meaningful look with a smile on his face.

He thought that Cassandra was really lovely.

Yannick drove the car for Kenneth and Cassandra. There were so many things that Kenneth couldn't carry alone, so he needed Yannick to help him. Since andra needed a rest, Kenneth could be her pillow. All Yannick had to do was drive the car and carry the gifts for them.

After two hours of driving, they finally arrived at the military residential compound.

Kenneth motioned Yannick to get out of the car first and explain what was going on. When John heard that Cassandra had been doing a medical experiment all night, he immediately felt fonder of her. However, when Yannick said that Cassandra had fallen asleep in the car, he was a little worried.

John said to Selena, "Go and have a look at the car. The kid must be tired. You can ask Kenneth to take her back to the bedroom so that she can sleep more comfortably. When she wakes up, it will be time for lunch."

Selena smiled and walked out of the room. When she was about to knock on Kenneth's car window, someone rolled down the window. Selena happened to look into the eyes of a beautiful girl.

However, the girl seemed to be dazed.

Selena guessed this should be Kenneth's girlfriend. She looked very much like what Selena had seen in the video, and her face was perfectly charming.

Kenneth saw Selena and asked, "Mrs. Frey, why are you here?"

Selena said, "John heard Yannick's report and asked me to come down. You can take Ms. Yates back to our room to sleep. I didn't expect that Ms. Yates would have woken up."

Hearing this, Cassandra blushed awkwardly.

"Mrs. Frey, I'm sorry," Cassandra hurriedly apologized. Selena could see the sincerity in Cassandra's eyes.

Selena smiled enthusiastically and said, "It doesn't matter. Yannick said that you were busy doing an experiment all night. Of course, you should have a good rest." Selena liked Cassandra. Then she said, "Come on, let's go inside."

Cassandra looked a little unnatural. She did an experiment last night, but it ended at midnight.

Sure enough, people couldn't lie. Once Cassandra lied, she would inevitably feel guilty when hearing Selena mention the matter.

Cassandra hurriedly got out of the car, and Kenneth also got off from the other side. They all walked into the house.

As soon as John saw Cassandra, he liked her because he felt this child looked like an elite.

"Hello, Mr. and Mrs. Frey. It's nice to meet you," Cassandra formally greeted John and Selena. Yannick had already brought in the gifts, and some were prepared for other ladies who would arrive later.

"It's happy to see you, Cassandra. Come on, have a seat," Selena said with satisfaction.

Selena took Cassandra's hand with enthusiasm and talked to her kindly.

In less than 15 minutes, a dozen people arrived at John's house, all of whom were the wives of the commanding officers in the army. Some commanding officers who had nothing to do today also came.

What surprised Cassandra most was that the director of National Security Bureau was also present.

Daniel saw Cassandra and said gently, "Cassie, why didn't you tell me before you came here?"

Cassandra was a little surprised and said, "Director Walker, so you live in here, but you..."

Daniel said, "I've always had a military rank. Don't you know that?"

Daniel felt strange. Cassandra was the best hacker. How could she not know where Daniel lived?

“I haven’t investigated it. It should be your privacy,” Cassandra said.

“Well, now you know. You should come to visit me often in the future,” Daniel joked with a smile.

John was a little confused. What was going on?

John couldn’t help asking Daniel, “Do you know Cassandra?”

Daniel said, “Of course, Cassie is the favorite of our bureau.” His tone was proud.

At this time, everyone wanted to get close to Cassandra.

John was astonished.

So Cassandra was really relate to the National Security Bureau.

However, Cassandra was akin to Kenneth in that they both had their own distinctive way of doing things.

Daniel’s proud look surprised everyone.

Others couldn’t help but ask curiously, “What is she doing in the National Security Bureau?”

Daniel raised his eyebrow proudly and declared, “She’s a part of the most excellent team under my leadership.”

Since they were at the military residential compound, everyone knew that no matter what secret they had learned, once they walked out of this room, they must forget it completely and never gossip about it.

The ladies were not the only ones who were shocked.

The officers present were all dumbfounded.

“You mean...” John was hesitant.

Wasn't the most elite team in Daniel's leadership all the people of the information security department?
Was Cassandra a part of it?

No wonder the Houston family was doomed.

John looked at Cassandra with a smile on his face and said, “Cassandra...”

Chapter 327

Kenneth was alarmed. He immediately stood up and stood in front of Cassandra, looking at John sharply and asking, “What are you doing?”

John's face turned awkward.

Cassandra felt it strange.

John's expression froze, and he said angrily, “Sit down. What can I do? Why are you so nervous?”

Kenneth guarded against John as if he were a bad guy. Kenneth said with disdain, “I don't know what you want to do.”

Daniel also concurred with Kenneth, stating, “Indeed, John. Do not attempt to poach Cassandra. She is my ace.”

John's face turned more gloomy.

He stared at Kenneth with hatred and said, "Are you silly? Why didn't you get your girlfriend to work in the Falcon Special Operations Force? Now Daniel has taken the advantage!"

John felt it was a pity that Falcon Special Operations Force couldn't get such an excellent talent.

Hearing John's words, Daniel was also speechless.

Cassandra was surprised.

Kenneth, however, didn't know what to say.

Daniel stood up excitedly, pointed at John, and said, "Well, I knew it. You must have some ulterior plans. Do you know how much effort I put into letting this girl enter the National Security Bureau? If you to the Falcon Special Operations Force, just do it! You wish!"

Daniel was so pissed off.

Cassandra was such a treasure in the National Security Bureau. If she was taken away, there would be no one for Daniel to show off.

Surely no one would let go of Cassandra.

However, Emery and Kenneth were in a relationship. What if they broke up?

Cassandra said, "Mr. Frey, thank you for your appreciation, but I have no intention of leaving the National Security Bureau." Cassandra nodded gently and continued, "Wherever I am, I just work for one goal. It doesn't matter where I am."

Hearing this, John was stunned for a moment and then laughed out loud. "Well, I was too narrow-minded. Cassandra is right."

It was just as what Cassandra said. No matter where she was, she was working for world peace.

Suddenly, John reached out to Selena and said, "Take out the meeting gift we prepared for Cassandra."

Then Selena took out a bank card and an exquisite box from her bag. She handed the bank card to John and took the box herself.

John handed the bank card to Cassandra and said with a hint of relief, "This is for you. Kenneth's family..." John paused and continued, "Those don't count. He is about my son's age. For so many years, I have treated him as my own son. He brought you here to meet us, so we prepared you the gifts.

"There is one million and one dollars in the bank account, which means one in a million. If Kenneth ever makes you sad in the future, you can come to us, and we will all stand by your side!"

Cassandra felt moved when she took the bank card. She suddenly felt that she and Kenneth had similar experiences. They were destined to have no family, but the people around them treated them very well.

Kenneth was a little luckier than Cassandra. He had elders in his family who cared about him, so he grew to be a righteous man and even became the commanding officer, which was the most gratifying thing for these old officers.

"Thank you, Mr. Frey." Cassandra accepted the bank card and was touched.

Then Selena handed Cassandra the delicate box and said gently, "This is a bracelet inside. It's Fiona's favorite one. She was Kenneth's mother. When Kenneth was born, Fiona took off this bracelet and said that she would leave it to her future daughter-in-law.

“From the moment I knew that Kenneth was in love, I was sure that woman. So I give this gift to you on behalf of Fiona.”

you were the Selena’s words made Kenneth and Cassandra both stunned, especially Kenneth. He reached out to take the box and opened it. His fingers trembled uncontrollably.

It was his mother’s bracelet. Since he left the Zelinski manor, he had thought that this bracelet had been lost. He didn’t expect it to be so well preserved by Selena.

Selena continued, “When Kenneth was driven out of the Zelinski manor and hunted down, I went to the Zelinski manor with John many times. We exchanged conditions before we got this bracelet back, so... Selena looked at Cassandra gently and took her hand, continuing, “Cassandra, you should protect this bracelet well, okay?”

Cassandra was stunned and at a loss. Then she said, “Mrs. Frey, this is too.

valuable...”

However, Selena just shook her head gently and said, “It’s not. I think in Kenneth’s heart, only you are suitable to wear it, so it is yours.”

“Mrs. Frey, thank you,” Kenneth said seriously.

Then Selena took out another box from her pocket and said, “This is the gift I prepared for you. It’s a necklace that matches this bracelet. As your John said, we have treated Kenneth as our son for so many years. Naturally, we want to do more for him. You should have what my daughter-in-law has.”

When Selena’s son came back with his wife for the first time, Selena and John had prepared the same things as this time. John gave a bank card, and Selena gave a necklace.

Now Kenneth had brought back his girlfriend, so Selena and John would do the same thing.

“Thank you, Mrs. Frey.” Cassandra took the gift with both hands, and her heart was full of distress. She didn’t know why she felt a little depressed.

“Don’t call me Mrs. Frey. Just call us John and Selena. We’re family,” Selena looked at John and said to Kenneth and Cassandra with a smile.

Cassandra nodded obediently and said, “Okay, Selena.”

After John and Selena finished giving gifts, it was the turn of other officers and their wives.

Everyone had prepared a bank card of one million and one dollars, including Daniel. However, he didn’t want to give it to Cassandra.

Daniel held the bank card and felt a little sad. Then he said to Kenneth, “Although I thought there was something between you when in Zostaylor, I didn’t expect that you would steal my trump card and bring her to us. It hurts me to give her this card. I want my trump card...”

The other people laughed at Daniel.

Kenneth grabbed the bank card from Daniel’s hand and stuffed it into Cassandra’s arms.

He signaled Cassandra with his eyes. “Cassie, take it.”

Kenneth smiled slightly and said happily, “Thank you, Mr. Walker.”

Daniel was rendered speechless.

He thought Kenneth was really annoying.

Daniel said, "All right. You have to treat Cassandra nicely in the future. If you dare to upset her, I won't let you go, and I'll use all my power in the National Security Bureau to kill you."

Daniel knew that Cassandra had lived a hard life in the past. When he knew that Emery was Cassandra, he learned about her story on the Internet, so he felt sorry.

for her.

Now Cassandra was with Kenneth, and Daniel wouldn't allow her to live unhappily. again.

No one could make Cassandra sad again.

Whoever dared to bully Emery of the National Security Bureau must think twice.

Chapter 328

"Mr. Walker, don't worry if I make Cassie sad, I will punish myself," Kenneth said firmly, which was also a promise to Daniel.

Daniel snorted and said coldly, "What a sweet tongue!"

Well, Emery had been with Kenneth. Fortunately, Emery didn't say that she would join the Falcon Special Operations Force, which provided Daniel with a little relief.

Today, the Frey residence was quite lively. Several old friends of the Frey family had gathered together.

John was very happy and took out his treasured wine to treat everyone. Before the lunch started, his son, Eddie Frey, came back.

Eddie and his wife, holding gifts in their hands, first greeted their parents and several senior leaders before they finally looked at Kenneth and Cassandra.

Eddie said to Kenneth, "Congratulations. You finally have someone."

Kenneth rolled his eyes.

He didn't want to answer, because he always felt that what Eddie said was not a flattery. Did Eddie mean that Kenneth was old?

Eddie served as a colonel and captain in both the Air Force and the Marine Corps. He spent his time working on ships throughout the year, traveling des Tvers and seas, and engaging in battles along the country's winding waterways, solidifying his status as an esteemed member of both the Air Force and the Marine Corps.

Therefore, Eddie was quite excellent. He was John's proud.

His wife was Lydia Frey, an excellent perfumer.

Lydia looked at Cassandra enthusiastically and was about to give Cassandra the gift in her hand. When Lydia saw Cassandra's face, her hands trembled in surprise, and the gift fell to the ground.

With a bang, Lydia came back to her senses and said apologetically, "I'm sorry. I was distracted." She hurriedly bent down to pick up the gift box. Eddie asked softly, "What's wrong with you? You are a little absent-minded."

Lydia looked at Cassandra again and thought, 'Isn't this girl my boss?

“Why is she here?

‘What is going on?

‘She is Kenneth’s girlfriend now! What a powerful match!’”

Lydia’s attitude changed from enthusiasm to respect. She handed over the gift with both hands and said, “This is for you. Please take a moment to see if it suits your taste. If not, I’d be happy to make an exchange.”

Cassandra understood that Lydia had recognized her.

When Cassandra met Lydia, she was not very famous in the field of perfume. Lydia could only support herself at that time. After Lydia participated in the competition, she had been working for Cassandra. Until now, Lydia had been in charge of Magnolia Studio.

Cassandra nodded her head gently at Lydia and said softly, “I like your gift. Thank you.”

There was nothing wrong with Cassandra’s words, but Kenneth found something. wrong. He wondered if Cassandra and Lydia knew each other,

Kenneth thought, ‘Lydia seems to be a perfumer’

Eddie also sent a gift to Cassandra. Telling from the box, everyone could see that it was not cheap. Eddie said to Kenneth after giving the gift to Cassandra, “You must be nice to her in the future. We are all her backers. If you upset her, I will punish you as your elder brother.”

Eddie and Kenneth had been arguing about who was older since they knew each other. Logically speaking, Eddie was three days older than Kenneth. However, Kenneth always said that status should be determined by strength, so Eddie always lost to Kenneth.

This time, Eddie finally declared that he was Kenneth's elder brother.

Kenneth rolled his eyes.

He thought, "This guy always wants to take advantage of me."

Cassandra liked the atmosphere very much and even envied Kenneth because she hadn't experienced such warmth for many years.

Kenneth and Cassandra left after dinner. As soon as Cassandra went out of the house, she received a message from Lydia: [Boss, what's going on? You didn't go back to the company because you were in a relationship!]

Lydia was still shocked. She couldn't accept that Kenneth had been with her boss!

Lydia wondered if she was hallucinating, or if Cassandra was out of her mind.

After Cassandra received the message, she chuckled gently and couldn't help teasing Kenneth, "What should you do? Someone thinks that we're not suitable for each other."

Kenneth suddenly stepped on the brake, and the car stopped suddenly. Cassandra leaned forward because of inertia and bounced back. She asked, "Why did you stop?"

Kenneth looked at Cassandra seriously and said, "Who is it? Who thinks we are not suitable?”

Cassandra said, “Nothing. Someone just sent me a message asking why I’m in a relationship with you.”

Hearing this, Kenneth suddenly became sullen. She gritted her teeth and said, “It’s Eddie’s wife, right?”

Cassandra was stunned and asked in surprise, “How do you know?”

“I knew that you knew each other as soon as I heard your conversation today, but I don’t know how you got to know each other,” Kenneth answered honestly and restarted the car.

Kenneth thought he must warn Eddie to discipline his wife.

Cassandra was surprised by Kenneth’s carefulness. She nodded and said, “Well, we knew each other earlier than Colonel Frey came to know her.”

If Cassandra remembered correctly, Lydia and Eddie had only been married for two years, and they had known each other for a total of two years. Cassandra knew Lydia one year earlier than Eddie did.

Kenneth was a little surprised. He didn’t expect Cassandra and Lydia to know each other so early. Then why did Kenneth not see Cassandra at Eddie and Lydia’s wedding?

Cassandra said, “At that time, I was in Atharia and didn’t have time to come back. Moreover, at that time, I was too young and there was no inappropriate way to introduce myself, so I did not come back.

Kenneth nodded, but he didn’t ask how and why Cassandra and Lydia met. Since Cassandra did not tell Kenneth, he wouldn’t ask about it so as to give each other some space.

Maybe in the near future, Cassandra would surprise Kenneth.

In Eddie's room at the Frey residence, when Eddie found that Lydia had been frowning since she went back to the room, he couldn't help asking, "What's wrong with you today? Why are you a little upset?"

"I..." Lydia didn't know how to put it. She looked at Eddie and asked, "Is Kenneth reliable in his relationship?"

Eddie was stunned. He thought that Lydia must be worried that Kenneth might not treat Cassandra well enough, so he said seriously, "Kenneth is a soldier. He's absolutely loyal to the person he loves. You don't have to worry about that."

Lydia remained silent.

How could she not worry? If Lydia recalled correctly, Cassandra was not even 19 years old, while Kenneth was about 27. Undoubtedly, there was a noticeable age gap between the two.

"Why did you ask that?" Eddie asked.

Lydia looked at Eddie and said helplessly, "You may not believe me. Cassandra is my boss. When I saw her today, I was shocked. I just texted her, but she hasn't replied to me.

"I don't know what Kenneth is like. I'm a little worried about Cassandra. Eddie, please tell me more about Kenneth so that I can be mentally prepared. I always feel unrelieved!"

If Kenneth treated Cassandra unfairly, Lydia would feel heartbroken.

Eddie was a little surprised. He widened his eyes and said, "Are you kidding me? Is Cassandra your boss?"

Lydia nodded. She wouldn't have mistaken someone else for her boss.

Eddie suddenly felt that Kenneth was really lucky.

Chapter 329

After Cassandra returned from the military residential compound, the Houston family declared bankruptcy. The property of the Houston family was acquired by Kenneth. Dave and Richard tried their best to fill up all the deficit. They only had one apartment left in the end. It was the only place for them to settle down in the future.

Since Emma was detained in the police station on the day she pretended to jump off the building, she hadn't been released yet. What she had done was proved to be true after the evidence was exposed, and her behavior of threatening the police in the police station was also convicted.

Emma was sentenced to three years and six months in prison. When Helen knew the news, she fainted directly.

When she woke up, she couldn't do anything.

The only thing that comforted the Houston family was that Sampson wasn't affected. The investigation team had checked all his phone records and chat records, but they didn't find evidence that Sampson had let his sister use his power to bully others. Sampson himself did not know about it.

After the investigation team thoroughly reviewed all the evidence, they ultimately confirmed Sampson's innocence.

Kenneth should be thanked for all this. He wanted to punish Sampson because Emma had bullied Cassandra, and Sampson was a vulnerable point for the Houston family. However, Kenneth did not anticipate Sampson's naïveté in trusting Richard for assistance. Consequently, Sampson was suspended from duty for investigation.

Despite Kenneth's intervention, reinstating Sampson's position proved to be a complex process. He could only return to his role once his superior thoroughly reviewed and verified all the evidence. As a result, Sampson had to leave and return home for the time being.

Sampson hadn't returned home for more than a year, but when he came back again, he found that everything had changed. The family's villa had gone, and now the Houston family lived in an apartment. Their property was gone, and even Emma was put in prison.

Although Sampson was troubled by Emma, she was his sister. He could only find a way to let her not suffer in prison.

Sampson asked in disbelief, "Grandpa, Dad, what happened at home?"

Dave sighed, and he seemed to have suddenly become much older. Dave told Sampson all the things that had happened during this period of time, including Kenneth's suppression of the Houston family.

The more Sampson listened, the more he frowned. "No way! Commander Zelinski didn't mean to suppress us at all. Maybe he asked me to go to Ouflanca for a mission to punish me in the first place. However, if I had left at that time, I would have gotten rid of what happened later. But I did not leave, so I ended up being suspended from duty and investigated.

to be

"However, it is because of Commander Zelinski's mediation that I am proven innocent so quickly. Now I have to wait for the superior's final review. If there is not problem, I can go back," said Sampson.

He was a little unhappy about his family misunderstanding Kenneth. If it weren't for Kenneth, Sampson would have been in a worse situation.

Richard was stunned and stared at Sampson with wide eyes. It seemed that Richard was seriously thinking whether what Sampson said was true or not.

Richard asked in surprise, "Is what you said true?"

"Absolutely," said Sampson.

Hearing this, Richard covered his face in pain.

He thought, "What have I done? We deserve it!"

Cassandra got the news from Omar who said that the detoxification came to the last stage and everything went well at present.

Cassandra made a video call to Omar and asked coldly, "Do you need my help?"

Cassandra didn't pay much attention to her studies now, so she could go to the class if she wanted and give a lecture to students in the Physics Department.

Omar said, "You'd better not come here. The whole family doesn't harbor good intentions. I don't know what might happen if you come!"

Cassandra didn't know what to say for a moment because she knew what Omar said was right. But it was kind of weird when he said that.

Cassandra inquired, "I heard that you prescribed medication for Mr. Yates that led to him having diarrhea. Is that true?"

"Did Hugo tell you that? Humph, I knew it was him who complained to you." Omar sneered at the camera and continued, "What's wrong? They treated you so badly before. Now I want to take revenge on them. Besides, I was not wrong. His forehead was dark and he didn't sleep well. He looks great now, which proves that what I said works."

Cassandra remained silent. Darren had diarrhea these days, so his face turned. extremely pale.

Cassandra said, "You shouldn't go too far. What if he comes to me and makes trouble in the future? I don't want them to come after me."

Omar thought what Cassandra said was reasonable and immediately said, "Okay, I'll change the medicine."

Omar could cure Darren's diarrhea. Anyway, he could prescribe other medicine to Darren.

Omar was a doctor, so he wouldn't kill Darren anyway.

However, if Omar didn't teach Darren a lesson, he couldn't revenge for Cassandra.

Cassandra pondered, "I suppose Omar won't let it go. As long as he doesn't harm Darren, I suppose anything else is fair game."

Their video call in the room was just heard by Darren.

He had been confused. While his sleep had improved at night, aside from the initial night when he suffered from diarrhea, he found himself experiencing diarrhea during the day as well, leading to several embarrassing incidents. Unable to tolerate it any longer, he resolved to ask Omar about the situation. To his surprise, Darren overheard the conversation between Omar and Cassandra.

Darren thought, "Then all this is what I deserve, so I should bear it."

Darren could accept anything for Cassandra.

"Dad..." Theodore looked at Darren distressedly. How could he stand it?

"I'm fine. I deserve it," Darren said with a wry smile. Had he been more vigilant. from the start, he would have realized that the child brought home by the Yates. family was not Cassandra. If he had been more attentive, the Yates family wouldn't. have spent so many years without Cassandra.

“No, I’ll go to Mr. Mccall and ask him to punish me.” After saying that, Theodore turned his head.

“Come back,” Darren shouted harshly.

“This is what your mother and I should bear. It has nothing to do with you,” Darren said and covered his stomach, feeling a little uncomfortable. “Just pretend you don’t know about this matter,” Darren added.

“But...”

“There’s no but’. Just remember what I said,” Darren ordered.

When Cassandra and Omar hung up the video call, Cassandra heard someone. knocking on the door outside. She opened the door. It was a delivery man who asked, “Hello, are you Ms. Cassandra Yates?”

“Yes, I am,” Cassandra answered.

The delivery man said, “There is a package for you. Please sign for it.”

Then he handed the package to Cassandra. She was about to reach out and take it, but she felt something wrong.

Cassandra inquired, “The parcels in this neighborhood are consistently placed in the doorkeeper’s delivery box and never actually delivered. Who exactly are you? And why are you pretending to be a delivery man?”

Cassandra withdrew her hands..

“Ms. Yates, I’m really a delivery man. Look at my uniform. This package is required by the client who said that it must be delivered to you. It took me a long time to get the doorkeeper’s permission to let me in. I only have ten minutes.”

Cassandra still didn’t believe this man. There was obviously something wrong.

Upon noticing Cassandra’s refusal to accept the parcel, the delivery man, feeling helpless, retrieved his staff ID card from his pocket and declared, “Ms. Yates, please take a look at my staff ID card. It bears my likeness and cannot be counterfeited. If the parcel is returned, I will endure a deduction of half a month’s salary. I implore you to sign for it.”

Cassandra didn’t move. She believed that there must be something wrong with it.

The delivery man was more helpless. He turned on his WhatsApp group chat and showed Cassandra the chat records just now, saying, “Ms. Yates, I’m not lying to you. Please have some pity on me. I have to support my family. If I lost half of my salary, we couldn’t live through this month!”

Cassandra accepted the parcel and the delivery man left quickly.

Then the delivery man heard a bang.

Chapter 330

Cassandra sensed that something was wrong with the parcel and immediately threw it out. Unexpectedly, it exploded in mid-air.

Cassandra reacted quickly in a panic and threw herself into the door, so she didn’t get hurt.

When Cassandra got up again, she found a hole blasted through her villa, and the delivery man had vanished.

She didn't have time to read the delivery information on the box.

Who the hell was it? Who wanted to kill Cassandra?

Benjamin's family didn't have enough money to buy a bomb at all. Besides, it was not something that Benjamin's sons would do."

Could it be the Houston family? They could afford a bomb, but Kenneth said Sampson was a good man. Cassandra supposed that Sampson wouldn't allow such a thing to happen.

Cassandra entered the house calmly and went straight upstairs to investigate.

She had control of all the surveillance cameras on the path of the deliveryman. There was no way for him to destroy the evidence.

Finally, Cassandra saw a woman who handed the parcel to the deliveryman.

It turned out that the man was really a delivery man. Then why did he run so fast as soon as he handed the parcel to Cassandra?

Who was that woman?

Cassandra stared at the woman again, only to find that she had disappeared from the video.

"Bang!" There was a sound of the door opening downstairs. Someone should have pushed the door open vigorously.

"Cassie!"

"Elaine!"

“Cassie!”

Telling from the voices, Cassandra knew they were Kenneth and Jeremiah, but she felt that Timothy and Cyrus were also there.

When she opened the door, she saw the worried faces of four people. Timothy and Cyrus even sweated on their foreheads.

Kenneth immediately held Cassandra in his arms and asked gently, “Are you okay? Yannick said there was something wrong with the surveillance video at home. Then he saw what happened here. Why didn’t you call me?”

“Yeah, Elaine, are you okay? You scared me to death. Fortunately, I check the surveillance video at the door every day. There was an explosion at the door. Only you can be so calm.”

Originally, Yannick was having a meeting with Timothy and the others in Modern Beacon Synergy. When he got bored and turned on the surveillance video, he saw something abnormal. He was dumbfounded when he saw the explosion.

The point was that Cassandra could be so calm after the explosion. She just turned around and went back to her house.

At this time, Cassandra was held tightly in Kenneth’s arms. She felt a little uncomfortable and almost couldn’t breathe. She pushed Kenneth, and he let go of her. She broke free from Kenneth’s embrace and said, “I’m fine. I didn’t get hurt. I came into the house to find out who wanted to kill me.”

Kenneth frowned and asked, “Have you found it?”

How dare someone send a bomb to Cassandra in the daytime? Instead of threatening Cassandra, the person just wanted to kill her.

Cassandra shook her head and said, "It was indeed a deliveryman who delivered me the bomb. A woman sent the parcel to the express station. According to the surveillance video, it seemed that she had given some money to the deliveryman, so he came to my door. But I didn't see that woman's face."

Even if the woman walked past the surveillance of other sections, she covered herself well with a mask, glasses, and a hat.

So, Cassandra couldn't tell who it was.

Jeremiah entered Cassandra's room sideways, and the surveillance video was playing on the computer.

They looked at the video from beginning to end, but they didn't find anything. So they could only put it aside for the time being.

"Jeremiah, copy these surveillance videos and take them back. You take over this matter, Kenneth said, and it had become a matter of business.

"Yes, sir!" Jeremiah raised his volume and replied gravely.

"This matter has affected public order. Let the Falcon Special Operations Force deal with it." Kenneth was terrified when he remembered the scene on the video. The surveillance of his villa could only capture a small part of Cassandra's house.

So the real situation was more dangerous.

Cassandra nodded and said, "If you have any news, you must tell me as soon as possible. I want to know who wants my life."

In this life, Cassandra would not be as stupid as in her previous life. She knew that her life was the most important thing.

"We'll definitely tell you."

"Cassie, it's not safe here. Would you like to stay with us?" Timothy advised.

Anyway, they had lived together. When they lived in the rental house, Timothy and Cyrus even shared a bed. Now Cassandra's place was obviously unsafe, and her address had been exposed. So Timothy thought she should change her place in time, otherwise, she would be in danger.

Before Cassandra could speak, Kenneth said first, "I will arrange a place for Cassie to live. Mr. Gomez, you don't have to worry about it."

Timothy snorted lightly, with a trace of disdain in his eyes. "Humph, I've been worried about Cassie for so many years. Mr. Zelinski, how did you take care of little Cassie? How could you let your enemy send the bomb here?"

Cassandra was shocked.

Then she said angrily, "It was against me, not against him. If you and Cyrus aren't busy, why don't you help us find the real culprit? Go ask that deliveryman if he had seen who delivered the parcel to him clearly."

It was a safety hazard and must be removed as soon as possible.

"Fine, leave this to me and Cyrus. If someone dares to hurt you, I'll make him regret it!" Timothy said confidently.

Suddenly, another person came upstairs. It was Kayden.

His face was full of worries. Seeing that Cassandra was fine, he felt relieved and said awkwardly, "Yannick said there was an explosion here, so I wanted to come over and see if there is anything I can help."

Cassandra didn't show much emotion on her face. "Thank you, I'm fine," she said.

Kayden didn't know what he should do now. Finally, he walked towards Cassandra and asked, "Did you find the murderer? Who is it?"

Cassandra said, "No, we're still looking into it."

"Then leave this matter to the Falcon Special Operations Force. We can deal with such a dangerous incident very quickly." Kayden volunteered to investigate this matter.

Since Cassandra didn't want to come back to the Yates family, Kayden wouldn't mention it again. But today her life was threatened, and he couldn't just stand by and do nothing.

Cassandra and Jeremiah didn't say anything.

Kayden looked at Kenneth and thought he should agree. After all, Cassandra was Kenneth's girlfriend.

Jeremiah said, "Kayden, Commander Zelinski has asked me to copy the video for investigation."

Jeremiah thought, 'They really know each other so well.

Kayden was a little embarrassed, but he felt relieved.

Springmount Townhouse was exposed and Cassandra almost died here, so Kenneth decided to let Cassandra live in his private villa.

Jeremiah was shocked.

He shouted, "I can't believe you took advantage of this opportunity to let Elaine live with you! You bastard!" Jeremiah thought, 'Elaine is only 18 years old. How could Kenneth be such a monster?'

Kenneth rolled his eyes,

There were many rooms and servants in the villa.
