

My Rebirth 361

Chapter 361

When Leanna woke up the next day, Darren and Harper were awake, sitting there asking if Leanna felt all right as if nothing had happened.

However, Darren didn't look well.

After he woke up and turned on his phone, he received countless calls and messages asking about the same thing.

He wondered whether Leanna had made it public.

He also received a lot of calls from Maximilian but he didn't answer any of them. He just opened Twitter and checked what Leanna had posted.

The more he read it, the deeper was his frown. He could understand why Leanna wanted to send this tweet because he thought about doing so too but this would push Cassie to face public opinion, which was why he didn't do it.

But he didn't understand why Leanna posted it two days later.

What was even more hard to fathom was Cassandra's reply: [Get away from me!] It made him angrier that his own daughter used these words to reply to her mother.

Harper looked upset. He thought, 'How did this happen? Making it public is forcing Cassandra to admit it!

'We're here to get my sister back home, not force her to do anything!'

Harper asked with a sullen face because he couldn't agree with what Leanna had done, "Dad, can you explain what is happening on Twitter? Aren't you afraid of having a bad influence on Cassie if you do nothing?"

Darren said, "Don't you want my sister to get back to us? This matter has an impact. on her. But she gets back to us, we can make up for it." Although he didn't agree with Leanna, he always supported her unconditionally.

Although Darren didn't know why Leanna couldn't wait to make this announcement, he could feel that Leanna was doing it for him.

When Leanna woke up, she was happy to see the two most important people in her life had woken up. She looked surprised. "Darren, Harper, are you feeling all right?"

Darren asked gently, "Of course, you should worry about yourself. How are you feeling now?" They looked affectionate.

Leanna said, "Are you all right? Aren't you guys..." She didn't know if it was all right to say this, afraid that they would be reminded of something bad.

But they seemed to forget everything about it.

Darren asked, "What?"

Leanna said, "Nothing." They just had a psychological consultation. Now it was not a good time to bring up that matter.

Darren asked, "Are you feeling better?"

Leanna chuckled, "I'm fine. The doctor said that the little poison would not recur or hurt me, so it's no problem." She didn't blame Cassandra for poisoning her but she would never let Cassandra get away with it after Cassandra hurt Darren and Harper.

Darren nodded and said gently, "How about we meet the Yates family? Dad called me in the morning."

Darren could guess what Maximilian was going to say. However, they needed to face this matter together. Cassandra was his granddaughter so Darren thought he had a say.

She said, "OK."

At the Yates residence, as soon as Darren, Leanna, and Harper walked into the living room, they found the atmosphere was weird.

Darren had a bad feeling.

Darren greeted them, managing to suppress his anxiety. "Dad, we're back."

Maximilian looked at Darren, Leanna, and Harper expressionlessly and said, "Being a prince consort is really something different. I invited you several times."

He was holding a crutch. He hit the tip of it on the floor twice. The clear sound was the only sound after his voice for a while.

Darren explained, feeling helpless, "Dad, something happened to Leanna. We've been in the hospital these days."

Maximilian said, "She has time to send a post on Twitter in the hospital to shape public opinion to make netizens put pressure on Cassandra? What is the real purpose of her hospitalization?"

Maximilian didn't know Leanna was poisoned. Kenneth made sure no one else knew it. Therefore, Maximilian thought Leanna was hospitalized to put more pressure on Cassandra. Many people had posted photos of them in the hospital online and public opinion began to change.

were

Darren was a little angry that his father thought they were scheming. “Dad, we haven’t seen each other for so many years. That is what you think of me? Leanna was poisoned but it’s not serious. Can’t she be hospitalized for that?”

Maximilian’s face softened a little for a brief moment but when he remembered Leanna’s rosy face, he didn’t think she was poisoned.

Maximilian said, “Only you two know whether it is true.” He looked away from Darren and turned to Leanna. “Leanna, do you still think I am your father-in-law?”

Leanna was a little confused and subconsciously said what she thought, “Dad, what do you mean? You will always be me and Darren’s father and Harper and Cassie’s grandfather.”

Maximilian snarled, “I cannot be Cassie’s grandfather. Even if we’re related by blood, I don’t deserve it.”

Leanna said, “Darren and I are Cassie’s parents. You are Darren’s father so of course you are her grandfather.”

Maximilian hit his crutch on the floor again, signaling Leanna to shut up. “So, you made it public against her will so that she will be attacked by the public. What’s the difference between you and the Benjamin family?”

“You said you were Cassie’s parents. What proof do you have? How can you say you are her parents after 19 years of absence? Have you ever spent a penny on her and taken care of her for one day? Why didn’t you choose her when you had to take only one of them with you? Because she was healthy? Was it her fault?”

Just now, Cassandra released the recording of a conversation between her and Darren. They mentioned their adopted son and that Leanna was poisoned because of her.

It seemed they hadn't seen everything about it. So, they were still so calm.

Maximilian said, "Did Leanna's poison have anything to do with Cassie? When you chose to keep the kids, did you think about their feelings? You didn't take her with you after she was born. Even though you had no choice, why didn't you wait for us? Thomas was also in surgery. Didn't you ever wonder if I read the text message?

"Just because Cassie was born healthy, you blamed her for it and let her bear the consequences. Now you take it for granted. How can a Yates be so shameless?"

The more Maximilian spoke, the angrier he became. He threw his crutch directly at Darren!

Maximilian said, "I've forced Cassie once. She just told me what she really thought. I fainted and everyone blamed it on her. We have subconsciously made a bad choice. Why keep pestering her?"

Kayden just said that Cassandra didn't dislike him very much. Maximilian did not want her to get back to the Yates family. He just didn't want her to treat them as strangers.

But now, everything was back to the starting point.

Chapter 362

Leanna was frightened by Maximilian. She didn't expect him to be so cruel.

Leanna said, feeling righteously indignant, "Dad, I also want to give Cassie some time. But look at what she is now! She asked Kenneth to scare Darren and Harper. She has learned a lot of bad things from Kenneth!"

As long as she was reminded that Cassandra instigated Kenneth to hurt Darren, she felt heartbroken and hated herself. She thought, 'Why didn't I come back earlier? I let Cassie become what she is now. How could she do this to her own vn father?"

Maximilian didn't believe a word of hers. "Then tell me what she asked Kenneth to do."

Leanna said, "She asked Kenneth to scare Darren so he threw them into a snake pit."

Maximilian frowned and scolded coldly, "What are you talking about?"

Leanna said, "I'm not talking nonsense. You can ask Darren if you don't believe me." Although they had received psychotherapy, she thought they must remember a little bit of it.

Unexpectedly, Darren was confused. He stared at Leanna with wide eyes and asked, "When did it happen? Why don't I know?"

Leanna thought, 'Didn't he experience it himself? Why did he remember nothing?'

Leanna looked at him in disbelief and said, "How is that possible? You and Harper were frightened! You told it to me yourself!"

Darren was a little confused. He didn't remember it at all. He wondered how could this kind of thing happen.

Maximilian said, "Enough. If you want an excuse, find a better one. Do you think I will believe such a clumsy one?" Maximilian was very disappointed. "When Kenneth wants to attack someone, he is open and aboveboard. He won't play dirty tricks. Abetted by Cassie? Do you think Kenneth is stupid? Or do you think that Cassie is not capable of handling you herself?"

Maximilian was a little emotional and couldn't help coughing violently..

Leanna said, "Dad, I'm telling you the truth. It was because of this that I went to Cassie and slapped her."

Leanna said the last three words in a very low voice but everyone else heard her. Maximilian raised his voice. "What? You slapped Cassie?"

His son and daughter-in-law, who were behind him, also looked bewildered.

Yasmine couldn't help but say, "Leanna, you have never raised Cassie. Do you think she will still treat you as her mother after you slapped her?"

Cassandra was soft-hearted but she would never be forced to do anything. As long as people didn't push her, she would be nice. Yasmine and her sister-in-law had realized their mistakes. If they left Cassandra alone for a while and asked her out when there was a better chance and didn't bring up anything about the Yates family, things would probably change.

But this slap directly ruined everything.

Whether it was true, Leanna didn't listen to Cassandra before slapping her.

Yasmine thought, 'Leanna deserved Cassie's response.'

She said, "You didn't even ask her any questions. Is that how you treat your daughter? You never raised her. How dare you slap her?"

"Even if Kenneth did it, it had nothing to do with her. Just because she and Kenneth are boyfriend and girlfriend, you think you're right to blame it on her?"

Maximilian felt a little short of breath and he wanted to slap Leanna and Darren.

Leanna wanted to explain it but she felt helpless. "Dad, I'm not..."

Darren wanted to explain for his wife so he said, "Dad, Leanna is not an impulsive person. Cassie must have done something that made her..." He believed she did not do it impulsively.

Maximilian said, "Subconsciously, you think it is Cassie's bad. What will Cassie do to you? Why do you want her back if you don't believe her? Why not just go back home and stick with your sons?"

He never thought his son and daughter-in-law, whom he had been waiting for 20 years, would become like this.

If someone's parents didn't believe him, who else would believe him?

If they thought she was wrong, why did they keep pushing her? What was the difference between her and a stranger to them?

Maximilian closed his eyes in disappointment, not wanting to see them again. "You can leave now. Don't show up here again. The Yates family has nothing to do with you."

He thought, I'd better not see him again if he had changed.

Darren, Leanna, and Harper all widened their eyes as if they didn't know what Maximilian meant.

Darren asked uncertainly, "Dad, what do you mean?"

"It means literally." Maximilian didn't look at any of them. "Go back to Zosteylor with Leanna and Harper. From now on, I will think you're dead and you should. think the Yates family has vanished. I don't need a son like you.

The Yates family finally found a treasure but was ruined by Darren. He thought they were animals. At first, he hesitated because he knew they were still in the hospital. But unexpectedly, his son left after sending a message and didn't even stay for one more minute.

Not long ago, Kayden found out what happened back then. Some stole Cassandra half an hour after they left. Even if they could fly, they couldn't catch up with that person.

Now, Darren and Leanna suddenly showed up in front of Cassandra. First, they kidnapped Hugo and then Leanna slapped Cassandra. They even used public opinion to push her. No matter how grateful Cassandra felt for Leanna's giving birth to her, she had paid it off.

"Cassie asked her mentor to save Leanna and Harper. You have made a promise i won't pester her again. Since you have broken the promise" that you bear all the consequences."

you have to Maximilian didn't give them a chance to speak a word. "Leave. You are not welcome here. After you leave here, I will announce that I have disowned you. You are expelled from the Yates family. As for the reason, just come up with a decent one."

Darren's eyes turned red and bloodshot. He said, "Dad, are you really going to disown me?"

Maximilian said, "Yes."

Leanna asked with a sullen face, "Dad, what did we do wrong?"

Harper said, "Grandpa

Denzel said coldly, Darren, Leanna, we are apologizing to Cassie for our previous mistakes but you pushed her away again. Since you don't believe her, why do you insist on forcing her to get back to your home?"

He didn't agree with what his brother and sister-in-law had done and even looked down on them. He wondered if they thought Cassie of a fool.

Maximilian closed his eyes, leaned back on the sofa, and stopped looking at them. "Denzel, Devin, stop talking with them. Walk them to the door."

Harper asked with a choked voice, "Grandpa, you don't even want me?"

Maximilian said, "Harper, it is Cassie who should say this."

Harper was speechless. He thought owed anyone Cassandra the most.

Soon, Darren and his family were kicked out in disgrace.

Darren said, "Denzel, Devin, you.

Devin didn't agree with what Darren and Leanna had done so this time, they were all on Larry's side. "Brother, we don't want to. But you went too far this time."

Before Darren could say anything, he received a phone call. It was from Theodore.

Suddenly, Darren raised his voice in shock. "What?"

Chapter 363

Darren's reaction made Leanna tremble. She felt that something bad would happen.

Darren hung up the phone in a daze and he looked bewildered.

Leanna hurriedly asked with concern, "Darren, what's wrong?"

Darren didn't know how to get his voice back but he said, "Theodore and Vincent's companies were attacked and many multinational business partners stopped cooperating with them."

His two sons controlled the economic lifeline of Zostaylor. Now that their companies were attacked and their business partners withdrew their investment and cancelled cooperating with them, which meant that Zostaylor's economy would be hurt and even a national financial crisis was possible.

Then all their effort would be in vain.

Hearing this, Leanna almost lost her balance.

She couldn't believe it. The companies had been attacked so she was worried about those top-secret documents.

Leanna asked nervously, "Have you found out who did it?" She wanted to find out who was behind this. It was about Zostaylor's economy so she must be careful.

Darren's face darkened and his eyes were filled with mysterious emotions. "Not yet. I only know that they have a powerful background and even we can't track them. down.

He taught Vincent hacking skills so he knew very well how good Vincent was. Although Theodore did not rank among the top three hackers, he ranked among the top five at least. Although Theodore's hacking skills were not as good as Vincent's, he was brilliant enough.

Darren wondered who could break through the defense system set up by Vincent and Theodore and stay there calmly for half an hour to publish all the secret documents.

Multinational companies canceled cooperation projects with them one after another and each of them was worth dozens of billions of dollars. Now they were all gone, they not only had to handle the liquidated damages but also were on the verge of bankruptcy.

It happened overnight. Darren wondered who on earth was attacking them.

He wondered who was taking revenge on them.

Leanna asked, "What should we do now?" Even Harper was a little frightened.

It was absolutely not a trivial matter that Denzel and Devin's companies were in danger.

Darren said, "Leanna, we have to go back now. Zosteylor is more important." In other words, companies related to the national economy were more important.

Leanna didn't want anything but to go back home right away. "Okay, okay. We'll leave now."

Her country had just had a war. If its economy was also in danger, what would happen to it in the future? It was originally a prosperous country and she couldn't allow it to be destroyed during her reign.

Harper said casually, "We'll leave Cassie alone?"

The two, who were about to leave, were stunned and stopped walking.

“Harper, I want to do what a mother should do too but now...” Leanna felt a little embarrassed. “I have to prioritize everything.”

Harper couldn't believe what his parents were about to do. “So, are you going to abandon her again?”

he wondered if they really felt guilty in the past years.

They chose other things over Cassandra and left her alone over and over again.

Leanna was silent.

Darren said in a deep voice, “We're just going back to solve the problem. When it is done, we will come back and take your sister home.”

He thought it didn't matter that his father did not understand him. As long as Cassandra was his daughter, she would come back to them sooner or later.

Harper looked at his parents in front of him and thought they were like ers.

He shook his head in disbelief. “You take everything for granted! What makes you think Cassie will go back with you? The so-called blood relationship? When you abandoned her, you didn't even want to stay with her for one more minute. You caused her tragedy. She grew up without a family. And now you're asking her to forgive you! What are you thinking about?

“Do you know what she's been through? Why do you take everything for granted? It is us who hurt Cassie the most and it is you who abandoned her repeatedly.”

Harper turned to Darren, disappointed, “Dad, you made a deal with Cassie to save Mom and me. Why don't you admit it now? You chose Mom and me over her. You abandoned her again. In Whitecrane Hall, when Mom passed out, you were the first one to blame it on Cassie. Oh, I did it, too. I am a monster.”

He looked at Leanna again and said in a choked voice, “I don’t know what Cassie did to me or Kenneth did to me. All I know is that Mom, your slap has completely pushed Cassie away from us. You do not deserve to see her again, let alone ask her to go back to us.”

Harper had been putting up with it for too long. Last time, at Whitecrane Hall, he was in a hurry and his subconscious reaction probably had hurt Cassandra. He couldn’t imagine how disappointed she was with them.

Now, with a slap, everything was ruined.

Leanna said coldly and aggressively, “Harper, Cassie has gone bad with Kenneth. She is an excellent child and she can’t be ruined by Kenneth.”

She thought, ‘Cassie is my child and she is outstanding. She should come back to me and I will educate her. In the future, she will either inherit my brother’s company or my throne. That is what she deserves. She cannot be influenced by Kenneth in a bad way.’

Harper gave a sarcastic smile and said, “Mom, what did she do to make you think she had done it? Have you ever trusted her or asked her about it? You don’t treat her as your child, but a stranger, whom you never trusted at all.”

If Cassandra wanted to do it, she would do it straightforwardly like how she did it at Whitecrane Hall, instead of playing a dirty trick in a secret place.

Leanna was a little unsure that her son really didn’t believe her. She said, “You don’t believe me?”

“Do you believe Cassie?” Harper said coldly, “At least I remember I was not hurt by her. I believe Dad thinks the same.”

Darren didn't say anything but basically, he agreed with what Harper just said silently. He did not remember anything at all.

Leanna was desperate. She looked depressed. "You two don't believe me? Who the hell do you think am I doing this for? But you don't believe me?"

Leanna was so angry that she wanted to leave now. She thought, 'What's going on with them? They told me that they were frightened by Kenneth. Who else could make Kenneth do this to them except Cassandra?

But now, they think it is my fault as if they had said nothing.

"Leanna, I think Harper is right." Darren took Leanna's hand and said in a deep voice. "We should go find Cassie and explain what is going on to her before leaving.

Chapter 364

Darren asked him for Kenneth's address because if they could find Kenneth, they could find Cassandra.

Outside the Pinehart Mansion, they asked the guards about this, but the guards refused to tell them.

In the end, Leanna revealed her identity and asked to see Kenneth, which changed the guards' minds as they finally realized it was the queen who visited Pinehart Mansion.

Not long after, the butler, William, came out, who smiled at Leanna and the others, "Your Majesty, prince consort, welcome to Pinehart Mansion, but unluckily Mr. Zelinski is not at home. How about..."

"You don't have to make excuses. I know both he and Gassandra are home. We're here to see Cassandra, not Kenneth," Darren snapped coldly.

Darren was angry with Kenneth's attitude, so he spoke bluntly.

“Then I’ll go in and ask,” William went on calmly.

Anyway, William wouldn’t open the door for them without Kenneth’s permission.

William went in and explained the situation to Cassandra, who just smiled, “I’d also like to know what they’re gonna say to me since they came here.”

“William, tell them they’re allowed in after half an hour,” Cassandra said with a wicked grin.

Pinehart Mansion was huge, so of course, it was understandable that it took William half, hour to go back and invite them in.

Half an hour later, Darren and his family arrived in the living room of Pinehart Mansion. Seeing Cassandra taking small bites of her cake airily, Leanna was furious because Cassandra ignored them.

Cassandra ate the last bite of the cake and sighed with satisfaction. Kenneth handed her the cup of juice on the table and said gently, “Drink some water so you don’t choke.”

“Okay,” Cassandra answered, took the glass, and drank it, ignoring them completely.

“Cassie... Darren muttered as he was a little dissatisfied.

Darren still regarded Cassandra as his daughter, who was inferior to him, so he took offense to Cassandra’s ignorance.

“Mr. Yates, Ms. Leanna Stark, what are you looking for me for?” Cassandra asked in a cold voice.

Leanna stammered for a moment, "I... Your father and I are going back home. Will you go with us?"

Cassandra sneered as if she had heard a joke, "Ms. Leanna Stark, what are you talking about?"

"You..." Leanna raged but was stopped by Darren.

Darren said curtly, "Cassie, something bad has happened to Theodore and Vincent, so we're rushing back to fix it. Would you like to come with us..." Cassandra cut Darren off before he could finish his sentence.

Cassandra snorted, "I think you have misunderstood something. Do I recognize you two as my parents? Don't call me Cassie. I said I don't have parents, let alone brothers: Don't ever tell me that Theodore and Vincent are my brothers again. I've said it a million times. Don't you understand what I'm saying? Or is this because the Yates family are all this shameless?"

During this time, Maximilian stopped trying to change Cassandra's mind, but Darren and Benjamin still didn't give up, and they were just as shameless as ever.

Darren only listened to what went his way. Cassandra started to think that maybe that was why he chose Benjamin to change her genetic data.

It turned out that they were the same kind of people.

"What nonsense are you talking about?" Leanna said harshly.

Cassandra sneered, "Ms. Leanna Stark, you think I'm going to recognize you as my mother just because you put me online? That's not gonna happen. I will never be blackmailed by public opinion, so you won't succeed if you try to corner me with it. I'm a human being, and I'm an independent individual who can think. The law gives me the right to choose whether or not I disassociate myself from my parents as an adult.

“Yes, you gave birth to me, but you didn’t want me. What do you have to be upset about since I’ve repaid you about that? Don’t offend me again. Don’t make me deprive you of everything you have.”

Instead of calming them down, Cassandra’s words infuriated them even more.

Only Harper, who’s eyes were full of guilt, lowered his head in shame.

“Do you hate us so much?” Darren called out as he couldn’t believe it.

He wondered why his daughter was such a ruthless person.

Expressionlessly, Cassandra said, “I don’t hate you. You’re just strangers to me. Just to remind you, I’m a vindictive person. Ms. Leanna Stark, I won’t forget the slap you gave me, so I’ve decided to give you guys something back.”

Darren felt something was wrong because bad things kept happening lately. He asked a little uneasily, “You... What did you do?”

Cassandra chuckled, “Nothing special. I just released Theodore’s company’s confidential data. Those groups canceled their partnership with him because Modern Beacon Synergy gave them a better deal. How’s that? Isn’t that a surprise?”

Kenneth was also involved in this. He attracted these clients for Modern Beacon Synergy, so Cassandra agreed to share the profits with Kenneth in half.

Theodore carved up those companies, which made his company powerful enough to account for even a small portion of the country’s GDP, but Modern Beacon Synergy and the Zelinski Group were even more powerful.

In other words, Theodore’s company was no match for them.

Leanna widened her eyes and looked at Cassandra furiously as she exclaimed, "What did you say? You did all this?"

Cassandra chuckled, "It's me. But do you have any proof?"

Darren asked disappointedly, "Why did you do this? Don't you realize how important Theodore's company is to Zostaylor?"

Cassandra smiled sarcastically and her eyes were very sharp. "Well, that's why I did. it. Otherwise, how are you gonna leave me alone?"

"Since you are going back, don't come back. I have nothing to do with you two. You live your lives and I live mine. I don't need your so-called care, and I don't want to see you two for the rest of my life."

Cassandra's words made Leanna sad and angry. She wondered if Cassandra knew how important Theodore's company was to her.

The more Leanna thought about it, the angrier she became. She raised her hand and wanted to slap Cassandra again.

Unexpectedly, Cassandra didn't give her a chance at all and threw a silver needle. directly to her.

"Since you don't want a healthy body, let me help you." After saying that, Cassandra pulled out the silver needle. But Leanna didn't faint this time.

Leanna glared at Cassandra and raged, "What did you do?"

Cassandra snorted, "Nothing. I just do something as you wish. You know what? You can leave now. Otherwise, I will announce your evil deeds to the world. It's not worth it to maintain your persona for so many years and ruin it in Clusia, right?"

Darren was a little worried about Leanna's health, so he didn't retort. Before they left, Darren sighed, "Cassie, I will come back to you after I take care of everything."

"Please don't, Cassandra snapped.

Chapter 365

After the news that Leanna was going to return home came out, everyone was shocked and confused.

[I'm a little confused. What happened? Didn't she just announce that Cassandra is her daughter? She had left?]

[I knew it ex

left all the trouble for Cassandra! She wanted everyone to blame. Cassandra for not leaving with her!]

[Isn't that the truth? What else does Cassandra want? Her mother's the queen!]

[Then may you be alone forever!]

[Interesting. Is Cassandra going back with Queen Stark? If she doesn't, what does. Queen Stark mean?]

[It's really confusing. I can't understand it.]

[Say something, Cassandra!]

[I heard that Queen Stark's eldest son's company had a big problem, and they went back to solve it. As for Cassandra, they just gave up on her.]

[She said she wouldn't abandon Cassandra again, but now she did. She's even, trying to mislead people that Cassandra drove her away!]

Netizens had different opinions about it, but most of them supported Cassandra and sympathized with her.

Her biological parents left again without taking her with them.

When Leanna saw the comments on Twitter before she got on the plane, she was a little angry that these comments were against her.

Darren noticed that something was wrong with the look on Leanna's face and asked worriedly, "Are you okay?"

Darren didn't know what Cassandra had done to Leanna as even Clusia's most advanced equipment couldn't detect any abnormality with Leanna's health. However, he was still worried and wanted to go back as soon as possible.

Darren really cared about Leanna and Theodore.

Leanna handed her phone to Darren with a sullen face. He glanced at it and raged,

"I'll handle it."

Then he took out his phone and texted someone. After a while, Leanna couldn't find all the annoying comments gone.

After returning home, Darren hurriedly asked doctors to examine Leanna before. went to Theodore's study to inquire about the situation.

"What the hell is going on?" Darren asked coldly.

“The defense system was destroyed and there’s no way to fix it yet. Vincent and I can’t fix it even when we work together,” Theodore said respectfully.

The most important thing now was not the stolen cooperation but these confidential files and documents. If they continued to be leaked Theodore’s company would be finished.

“Father, what are we going to do? Vincent and I haven’t found out who did it yet,” Theodore said angrily as he felt insulted.

Speaking of this, Darren also looked a little unhappy.

“It was Cassie,” sighed Darren.

Theodore couldn’t believe what he had heard. How could it be Cassandra?

“Why did she do that?” Theodore asked in confusion.

“To drive us back,” Darren said coldly.

He was a little disappointed with Cassandra and even felt that she had gone too far. They were her family, but she was so cruel to them.

“Well...” Theodore muttered. He hadn’t checked Twitter in the past few days, so all he knew was that his mother had announced Cassandra’s identity on Twitter. He thought uneasily.

At that thought, Theodore suddenly realized that he hadn’t seen Leanna, so he hastily asked, “Where’s my mother? Why hasn’t she come over?”

Theodore didn’t think Leanna would miss this.

“Your mother is undergoing an examination, and it’s not over yet...” Darren answered. Before he could finish his words, there was a knock on the door of the Theodore opened the door.

“Doctor, what’s wrong?” Theodore asked.

“Queen Stark... Queen Stark has fainted...” exclaimed the doctor, Dr. Albarn.

Dr. Albarn panted, his eyes full of anxiety and fear.

Dr. Albarn was also panicked and confused as Leanna passed out just as he started examining her and there were even other symptoms.

Without appropriate medical treatment, Leanna might never wake up.

To put it bluntly, she would be like a living dead.

But she wouldn’t die.

Darren was so frightened that he pushed Dr. Albarn away and ran to the examining room. As he entered, he saw Leanna lying there quietly, no different than in the years she was poisoned.

He shook his head in disbelief and shouted, “What the hell is going on?”

Dr. Albarn stammered, “According to the examinations, Her Majesty is fine and the poison in her body does not jeopardize her health. We haven’t found out what caused Her Majesty’s coma. However, judging from the vital signs... If Her Majesty can’t wake up within three days...”

Then she will never wake up’ thought Dr. Albarn.

However, he didn't dare to say it out.

all, prince consort loved consort if he couldn't get Leanna

Dr. Albarn wondered if it was too late to run away. After Leanna dearly, and he might be killed by prince to wake up.

Dr. Albarn didn't want to die here.

Grabbing Dr. Albarn by the collar, Darren yelled, "Make it clear. What do you mean she won't wake up? What happened to her? Aren't these devices the most advanced in the world? Why can't you find out why she fainted?"

"I haven't figured it out yet. Anyway, the instruments don't lie. The results won't change even with more advanced equipment," Dr. Albarn said with a frown.

Darren let go of him and snapped, "Go! Check her again!"

However, a few hours later, the results remained the same.

Darren was a little frustrated. He asked coldly, "What will happen if she doesn't wake up in three days?"

Dr. Albarn was scared and his eyes dodged. He murmured, "Then... She may never wake up.

Dr. Albarn had no confidence in changing the situation.

"But if it's Dr. Quirke, Her Majesty might be cured!" Dr. Albarn exclaimed as it suddenly occurred to him that Leanna's daughter was Faye.

Darren's face turned gloomy and he interrupted, "Shut up."

It wasn't until then that Darren realized this might be Cassandra's revenge.

Instead of making Leanna pass out in Clusia, Cassandra got them back to Zosteylor it was in Leanna's own territory that she passed out, which had nothing to do with Clusia.

Cassandra was cruel, but she valued her country's reputation and didn't want to tarnish it.

Darren had to admit that Cassandra was more capable than he thought she was

Now he was desperate.

The Yates family in Clusia posted a statement on Twitter.

[Statement: Effective immediately, Darren Yates, prince consort of Zosteylor, will be removed from the Yates family genealogy and will not be associated with the Yates family of Drieso.]

[Good luck, Darren.]

As soon as this statement came out, Darren was officially removed from the Yates family

It was a double whammy for Darren.

Chapter 366

[Crazy! Darren's been evicted? I thought he just came back! He's not part of the Yates family anymore?]

[I'm curious about what Darren has done. He's the prince consort! What did he do to make the Yates family abandon him?]

[Curiosity +1!]

[Doesn't Darren have a son? Is his son dumped by the Yates family? Since Darren was expelled from the Yates family, what about Prince Harper?]

[That's a good question. I wanna know that, too.]

[And Cassandra! Darren has a daughter!]

[What daughter? Has Cassandra recognized Darren as her father? I don't think so.]

[Agreed. I wish Cassandra would leave Darren alone. He's such a hypocrite.]

[Did the Yates family recognize Cassandra? Darren disappeared for 20 years and was removed from the family tree only after a week. It's so dramatic.]

[I'm afraid Maximilian is the most devastated one. He spent most of his life raising such a brilliant son, but his son became the husband of the Queen of another country. Since Maximilian insisted on driving Darren away, Darren must have done something unforgivable.]

The netizens were right that Maximilian was the most upset one.

He was the most disappointed and sad one.

Disappointingly, Darren made the same mistakes as Maximilian, but unlike Maximilian, Darren didn't repent or reflect, and he even felt that it was all Cassandra's fault.

Maximilian was glad Darren was alive. However, while Darren was a good husband, he was a terrible father.

Cassie was the only granddaughter of the Yates family, and Maximilian couldn't accept that Cassandra resisted the Yates family because of Darren's fault.

Maximilian hoped that Darren would apologize and get Cassandra's understanding, but their relationship worsened even more.

Kayden looked at Maximilian's disappointed face and felt sorry for him. Maximilian was regretful, but now he blamed himself even more.

Kayden felt in no position to ask Cassandra to visit Maximilian or forgive him...

Kayden said comfortingly, "Grandpa, take care of yourself. Even if Cassie doesn't recognize us, we can still be her backup. I believe one day she will contact us even if she doesn't want to recognize us as her kin."

He thought, 'Since the relationship between Cassie and me is not very close, I might as well stay with her in a different way to become her backer. That's okay.'

At the very least, Maximilian wanted Cassie to know that she still had family in the world.

Maximilian sighed and smiled bitterly. He said in a low voice, "You're right. I shall take care of myself and live longer. I'll be Cassie's backer and make sure everyone in Drieso knows it."

Though Cassandra already had Kenneth, Maximilian was still willing to offer her some protection.

Maximilian wanted Cassandra to get the best.

Cassandra was shocked when she saw the news online.

There were even a lot of people messaging her to curse her.

[You are such a jinx! You're not related to Yulissa at all, but she's in jail because of you! You're part of the Yates family, but you won't admit it. Why? Because it makes you feel superior?]

[You're such an asshole! Your parents left you because they had to! Why can't you just try to forgive them? You pretended to be a victim and now Prince Consort has been evicted from his family because of you! Why don't you go to hell? None of this would have happened without you!]

It was the first time Cassandra had seen such paranoid netizens and comments. Had it been in her previous life, Cassandra would have considered it valid, but now, she didn't give a fuck.

Ignoring the message, Cassandra hacked the account directly and permanently.

Originally, Cassandra wanted to release the IP address, but in the end, she didn't

So, she just hacked the account.

Cassandra was shocked by what Maximilian did. Although she hadn't had much contact with Maximilian, she had always known that Maximilian was proud of Darren and had high expectations for him.

But now, Maximilian had removed Darren from the family tree and disowned him.

Unconsciously, Cassandra was lost in thought and didn't even notice that Kenneth had returned.

"Cassie, what are you thinking?" Kenneth sat beside her and asked softly.

Cassandra suddenly sobered up, looked at Kenneth, and said tenderly, "You're back."

Kenneth was probably the only one who still went to work on weekends at the base and the office. In fact, Cassandra didn't go to school or Whitecrane Hall on weekends anymore.

Cassandra had given Lydia the perfume for the International Perfume Competition, and now she just had to wait for the results.

Cassandra had made a lot of perfume for Leonardo in her past life, but that had been a long time ago.

Kenneth held Cassie in his arms. He hadn't hugged Cassie for a long time and missed her embrace. He whispered, "Yeah, I'm back. What were you thinking about just now?"

She handed the phone to Kenneth and showed him the Yates family's statement.

"This is the decision of your father. He must have thought it over carefully, so you don't need to pay attention to it," Kenneth said calmly.

Cassandra shook her head and retorted, "I just thought it was funny.

"Maximilian must be really disappointed in Darren."

The last person in the world to blame Cassandra was Darren. After all it was Darren who caused all the wrongs. He was a good husband, and he might be a good father at times, but he was never the same for Cassandra.

Darren was truly shameless and greedy.

Cassandra smiled, "So what? Maximilian used to be very proud when he spoke of Darren, but now I'm afraid it's over."

Kenneth chuckled, "He deserved it. Andy has arranged a variety show for you. Are you interested?"

Cassandra's eyes suddenly widened as she thought in shock, 'When did this happen? Why did I know nothing about it?'

"How do you know?" Cassandra asked curiously.

Kenneth answered proudly, "I became your emergency contact after we got together."

To be exact, after Cassandra was wrongly accused of cheating in the mid-term exam last time, Kenneth changed all her emergency contacts to him. He asked Hugo and Jeremiah did it for him.

Jeremiah was furious at that time.

But since Cassandra was Kenneth's girlfriend, he couldn't say anything about it.

Chapter 367

Zosteylor, inside Queen's Palace.

The air was filled with the smell of illness, and no one dared to breathe heavily.

They were afraid that Darren or Theodore would be angry with them, so they were all uneasy.

The face of the prince consort was even more gloomy.

Everyone was confused and scared. After all, Leanna was fine when she came back, but suddenly she fainted before finishing her checkup.

This was terrifying.

"Is there any other way to make the Queen wake up?" Darren turned to Dr. Albarn and asked coldly.

Dr. Albarn was helpless as he was clueless at the moment. He didn't understand why Prince Consort didn't ask Faye for help since Dr. Quirke was his daughter.

"Mr. Yates, honestly, there is nothing I can do," Dr. Albarn said solemnly. If this were ancient times, Leanna would be the Queen of Clusia. How could he lie and say he could cure Leanna?

Therefore, Dr. Albarn had to tell the truth.

Dr. Albarn continued, "The only ones I can think about right now are Dr. Quirke or Dr. Quirke's mentor."

Even with the most advanced medical equipment, Leanna was unable to wake up. To make matters worse, they didn't even know why Leanna was in a coma.

They had no choice but to ask Cassandra for help.

Darren's face changed all of a sudden. He looked gloomy as he snapped, "There is no other way?"

Darren didn't want to find Cassandra anymore, at least not because of this.

Darren could even think of the conditions Cassandra would make. She would probably tell them never to go to Clusia, where she grew up. She didn't welcome them at all.

Dr. Albarn shook his head and answered truthfully, "No."

Darren felt helpless and even desperate. He closed his eyes in pain as if he were struggling.

“Father, are you going to give up on Cassie again?” Harper asked anxiously as he could tell Darren was hesitant.

Darren growled, “Then tell me what I should do. What could I do? No one can help your mother but Cassie. Do you want to watch your mother slip into a permanent coma?”

Darren thought, ‘I don’t want to make a choice either!

‘It was Cassandra who forced me to do this!’

Cassandra reminded Darren of him when he was young. However, while he was getting older and indecisive, Cassandra was getting more powerful.

Darren took out his phone to call Cassandra but was stopped by Harper.

Harper called out, “Have you made up your mind, father? If you call Cassie now, we’ll be turned off by her forever.” It was the last favor Cassandra would ever give them.

Harper thought in despair, ‘Is this really what I want to see?’

If he had a choice, Harper would have rather it was him who was abandoned back. then.

However, he couldn’t change the situation.

Darren sighed, “I can’t watch your mother die.”

Darren’s eyes were full of pain as he was in a dilemma. Theodore and Vincent also looked bitter.

Suddenly, Vincent said, “Father, does Cassie hate Theodore and me? If so, we can immediately sever our relationship with you and Mother as long as Cassie can come back.

“Theodore and I have been thinking about this for a long time. None of us wanted. this to happen.”

After all, Cassandra was Darren’s daughter, but Darren abandoned her and raised two adopted sons.

This must be unacceptable for Cassandra.

“Vincent, Theodore, it has nothing to do with you two,” Harper retorted in a cold. voice.

Vincent looked up blankly.

Harper went on, “Mom slapped Cassie, so...”

“What?” exclaimed Vincent and Theodore.

“Do you also think your mother has done something wrong? She was defending Harper and me,” Darren snapped as he was dissatisfied with the reaction of his adopted sons.

“Father!” Theodore blurted out.

‘Damn, thought Harper.

Harper had a bad feeling at Darren’s reaction.

With no one stopping him anymore, Darren called Cassandra, who didn’t answer the phone until Darren called her a third time.

“Mr. Yates, what?” asked Cassandra impatiently.

“Say what you want. I will keep it this time as long as you wake Leanna up,” Darren said coldly.

Darren gave up on getting Cassandra’s respect.

“Did something happen to Ms. Leanna Stark?” Cassandra asked lightly as if she didn’t know.

“You don’t have to pretend that you don’t know. You drugged her, right? And she was in a coma after returning to Zosteylor. Who else could it be if you didn’t do it?” Darren lost his good temper and said harshly.

Cassandra snorted, “Mr. Yates, prove it. Otherwise, I shall think you are slandering me. Queen Stark had the incident in Zosteylor. How can you blame that on me?”

“Cassandra, trust me again. This time, I will never go back on my word no matter what you ask for,” Darren begged as all he wanted now was to save Leanna.

However, during his call, Harper heard the news and left in despair, not knowing where he had gone.,

Cassandra said in a serious tone, “Darren, it’s too late. You can’t meet my requirements anymore. You broke my terms from the start, remember? In that case, I’ll take back everything I have.” Cassandra didn’t deny it this time because she knew Darren wouldn’t be able to present evidence even if she admitted it.”

Cassandra knew that Darren was a good hacker, but Vincent was no better than Jeremiah. Therefore, it was unsure who would win.

as Casu

Therefore, it for Cassandra to hack someone’s phone or computer.

“Let’s just assume I was wrong. Please give me one more chance. You are in charge this time,” Darren muttered with desperation.

“Darren, you have no credibility with me. Well... I’m not going to help you, so find someone else,” Cassandra sneered and hung up.

Cassandra was a little surprised that Leanna had passed out so soon. After all, Blue Sky, the drug she had developed, had different effects on different people. The better a person’s health, the quicker the coma came when she ingested the drug.

Cassandra liked the name she had developed for the drug, Blue Sky, and she thought it suited Darren and Leanna.

Cassandra hung up the phone and directly turned off her phone. In this way, no one would be able to call her. There were very few people who could hack her phone, not alone Darren.

Not wanting to be called by Darren from different numbers, Cassandra turned off her cell phone.

She could have used another phone number anyway.

When Darren called again, he found Cassandra’s phone turned off, which made him panic.

He asked the others to call Cassandra, but they all failed.

Then Darren was sure that Cassandra did it on purpose.

Chapter 368

Darren didn’t waste any more time on the phone. Instead, he asked Theodore to prepare a private plane and fly back home.

When he arrived at Drieso, photos of him leaving the airport were posted online.

[Wow... He's back?]

[He should indeed come back since something so terrible has happened. But why is he alone? Where's his family?]

Oh, Prince Consort's is back, but he was rejected by the Yates family.]

[I'm curious about what will happen next.]

[Me, too.]

[Breaking news! Prince consort didn't go to the Yates residence! Wasn't he back to quarrel with Maximilian?].

[So where is he going and what is he going to do?]

[Well, he went to the Pinchart Mansion, Kenneth's place. Could it be...]

[Isn't that Kenneth's house? I've always wondered what its name means.]

[Stay out of Kenneth's business. You wouldn't want an attorney's letter from him!]

Cassandra had received the message since the moment Darren boarded the plane, but she ignored it.

She was not going to change her mind anyway.

“Cassandra, what on earth do you want so that you can spare Leanna?” Darren said straightforwardly. This time, he didn't call her Cassic but Cassandra directly.

Darren thought Cassandra had gone too far this time.

“Darren, I gave you opportunities, but you didn’t seize them. Blame yourself,” Cassandra retorted coldly.

Cassandra did give Darren and Leanna a lot of chances, but instead of cherishing the chances, they touched Cassandra’s bottom line again and again.

“Aren’t you afraid that I will tell the president about this? I’m sure Mr. President of Clusia will give me a satisfactory reply,” Darren snapped as he gazed at Cassandra with disappointment and regret.

He and his daughter finally came to this.

“Go ahead and say it. If there is no evidence, will Mr. President believe it?” Cassandra snorted as she felt that Darren was getting stupid.

In the past, when Kayden’s mother mentioned them, she had expectations, but she was afraid.

Cassandra was afraid that she would go through the tragedy of her past life again, so she decided to disassociate herself from the Yates family. Although she went about it the wrong way, which made up for Maximilian, she knew that it was temporary. As a result, she never intended to go back to the Yates family.

To put it more bluntly, Cassandra never wanted to recognize Darren and Leanna before her birth parents came back.

In the end, after knowing the truth, she had no expectations. Later, Hugo was kidnapped...

What they did drained the last vestiges of her longing and expectation of kinship.

Cassandra and Blossom were both people who were eager for kinship, and that was why they had the tragedies in their previous lives. In this life, things changed a bit.

But it was not the right time yet.

“Cassandra, I can satisfy you as long as you tell me what you want. Zosteylor can’t exist without Leanna. It will be a total mess,” Darren called out anxiously. He didn’t want to waste time with Cassandra here.

“It’s no use. There is no antidote. I haven’t worked it out yet,” Cassandra said with a serious look on her face.

Darren widened his eyes and looked at Cassandra in disbelief as he couldn’t believe that Cassandra had used some drug without an antidote on Leanna!

Darren panicked out of worry for Leanna.

His eyes turned red, full of grief and rage!

“Cassandra, how can you be so cruel? No matter what, she is your mother. Aren’t you afraid of karma for doing this?” Darren shouted harshly.

Cassandra snorted coldly, “Darren, let me tell you what happened. Because of your stupid idea to change my genetic data, I’ve died tragically once! I was stabbed and trampled and had my corpse dumped. Isn’t that karma? I’ve already paid for it! Who are you to accuse?

“You are the culprit of what I have suffered. I’ve died once and am now on my second life. Do you think I’m going to make the same mistake? Yeah, Benjamin is an asshole, but what about you? Without you, how would I have died that miserably? You’re calling me cruel? If you’d felt one ounce of sorry for me and waited for Maximilian for a while, that tragedy wouldn't have happened! Who am I supposed to blame for that?

Don't tell me about karma. I've been punished once, and I'm not afraid of being punished a second time!" When Cassandra finished all this, her body was still shaking.

"You... What are you talking about? Do you think we're filming a TV series?" Darren stammered as he was shocked by Cassandra's words, but he didn't believe her.

Darren thought it was nonsense. Reborn after death was impossible.

Cassandra said indifferently, "Well, you won't believe me anyway. Whatever. It's useless for you to argue with me here. I don't have an antidote. It is newly developed. You won't be able to develop an antidote even if I give you the recipe. for the poison."

Cassandra wasn't able to make an antidote so soon, and neither was Omar.

So, Leanna could only stay in a coma forever and wake up unless something miraculous happened.

"You..." Darren stammered. He wanted to scold her, but after hearing what she said. just now, he realized that he couldn't.

"You might as well go back and talk to her instead of wasting your time here," Cassandra said as she watched Darren impatiently and sneered.

When Darren left, Cassandra gave him the formula of Blue Sky.

After Darren left, Cassandra realized something was wrong with Kenneth.

He stared at her in disbelief and asked, "What did you mean by the words you just said to Darren? What did it mean that you had died once? Cassie, what have you gone through?"

Cassandra was shocked and looked at Kenneth in a panic. She didn't know how to explain it.

"I... I was just kidding. It's not interesting, Cassandra tried to explain it in a wicked way. However, it didn't work.

"I might believe you if you just said that once, but this was the second time you said so. I don't think it was a joke," Kenneth said in a serious tone. This was the first time he retorted to Cassandra.

Kenneth wondered, 'What's Cassie's secret?'

"What karma?"

'What did she mean that she died once?'

'Her second life?'

This must not be a joke. Some things couldn't be answered by science, but they did exist.

"I..." Cassandra stammered as she was a little embarrassed and didn't know what to say.

Meanwhile, she wondered if Kenneth would believe something so ridiculous.

Chapter 369

Cassandra wanted to flee whenever she mentioned her past life. It wasn't because she was cowardly but because she didn't want to be aware of how stupid she had been. She would never forget how she died.

Kenneth could tell Cassandra's hesitation, but this time, he didn't intend to spare Cassandra because he needed to know the truth.

Kenneth held her in his arms and said softly, "Cassie, don't try to hide it from me. This is the second time you have mentioned your death. Can you tell me what happened?"

Cassandra was so flustered that Kenneth felt sorry for her. This was not what he wanted to see. He hoped his girl could always be happy instead of suffering after being hurt.

Cassandra felt Kenneth's heartbeat and firm embrace, which made her giddy.

'Is this... Is this the feeling of being supported?' wondered Cassandra.

"It's ridiculous. You won't believe me even if I tell you," Cassandra hesitated.

Things were too supernatural and bizarre so it took a lot of courage to speak of them.

"It doesn't matter. I believe whatever you said to me," Kenneth shook his head and said tenderly.

He trusted her with his heart.

Cassandra said uncertainly, "Really? But it's really crazy."

Kenneth felt a dull pain in his heart. He didn't know what Cassandra had experienced when he was not aware of it. And he wondered why Cassie became wary yet vengeful toward Leonardo and Darren whenever she mentioned it.

Kenneth also wondered if Cassie's death she mentioned had anything to do with them

He patted Cassandra on the back and sighed, "I won't push you if you don't want to tell me. You can tell me when you're ready. I'll always be there for you."

Kenneth thought firmly, I'll always be by your side.

'I'll always believe in you.

'I don't believe in this world. I only believe in you.

'I will believe in something beyond science for you because love is never logical.

Looking at Kenneth's sincere and sad eyes, Cassandra was in a trance. She blurted out, "I have already died once. Now I am Reborn. In my last life, Leonardo and his brothers and Yulissa killed me."

Kenneth stared at Cassandra in disbelief.

He was really shocked.

Noticing the expression on Kenneth's face, Cassandra murmured, "Forget it."

It seemed that Kenneth didn't believe it either.

Darren, Cassandra's biological father, didn't believe it and even thought she was insane.

Cassandra smiled bitterly.

Kenneth quickly noticed it and pulled Cassandra into his arms. He said cautiously, "Does it hurt?"

Cassandra looked up in disbelief and exclaimed, "Do you believe what I said?"

Kenneth nodded and stressed, "I said I believed anything you said. I just feel sorry for you. Did the moment of death hurt?"

Kenneth had fixed feelings. He didn't know what had happened to Cassandra, but he knew that the Yates family deserved to die.

"What happened to you back then?" Kenneth asked.

Cassandra went on, "After returning to the Yates family, you also came back and participated in Yulissa's 18th birthday celebration. However, you didn't stay as you did in this life but left directly.

"After I returned to the Yates family, Yulissa stole my SAT scores. She rigged my information to change it to hers and got admitted to Juset University. I was living at life that was worse than death in the Yates family.

"Neither Grandma Blossom nor I had a family. After her death, I was so looking forward to a family. When I was told that Benjamin was my real father, I did everything to please him until I died."

Cassandra's voice was light and her tone was flat as if she were telling a fictional story.

She recounted what had happened to her as if it were a banal tragedy.

However, Kenneth was a commanding officer who participated in the war and fought with enemies several times. He knew it was not as easy as Cassandra said it was.

Cassandra just did to Leonardo and his brothers what they did to her in her last life.

“Cassie, I’m sorry,” apologized Kenneth.

He thought bitterly, ‘Sorry, I didn’t protect you well in my previous life.

‘I’m sorry you had to go through all this.

For this, Cassandra said lightly, “What are you apologizing for?”

“It’s my fault for not protecting you in my last life,” Kenneth said in a low voice.

Kenneth felt pain as if his heart had broken somewhere.

Cassandra shook her head and said to him in a soothing voice, “You don’t have to. In my previous life, you killed them all and found my body under the leadership of that guard.”

Kenneth had Cassandra buried so she wasn’t eaten by bugs and beasts.

And Kenneth avenged Cassandra and made the people who killed her pay.

“Does it hurt?” Kenneth asked again.

Cassandra was a little frustrated at Kenneth’s question.

Of course, it hurt. Jasper’s acupuncture had magnified the pain dozens of times. The injuries on her body were just minor problems as she was killed by the pain.

Yulissa wouldn’t have stabbed Cassandra twice so blatantly without the support of the six brothers of the Yates family.

She shook her head and did not answer.

Kenneth didn't leave Pinehart Mansion after Darren left. He wanted to stay with Cassandra forever.

Meanwhile, Darren returned to Queen's Palace in dismay after returning to Zosteylor. He was unable to read the prescription Cassandra had given him and had shown it to many traditional medicine practitioners, but none of them could come up with an antidote.

This time, he was even more desperate than when Kamila poisoned someone.

There was only one day left. If Leanna didn't wake up, she would never wake up again.

It was all Cassandra's fault.

Darren didn't understand why Cassandra was so heartless and callous.

He didn't want such a daughter.

He thought, 'Maybe I should pretend I don't have such a daughter.'

So, he opened Twitter, registered an account, and authenticated his real name.

[Solemn Declaration]

[I, Darren Yates, hereby announce that my wife, Ms. Leanna Stark, and I will sever our relationship with Cassandra Yates. Her life will no longer have anything to do with us.]

Effective immediately, my wife and I have only one son, Harper, as well as two adopted sons.]

The netizens were even more confused.

Why were celebrities disassociating themselves from their kids?

The Queen had just announced that Cassandra was her daughter, but now the prince consort announced that they were cutting ties with their daughter.

They made themselves a laughingstock.

[I don't get this situation. Any insiders?]

Chapter 370

[Hey! What a coincidence! I didn't get it either!]

[Are these people from the Yates family going to become my laughingstock? First, the father and son have not seen each other for many years, and they become strangers after a statement. Then the Queen announced in a high-profile manner that she has a daughter, and how they are no longer mother and daughter?]

[I'm so confused.]

[So confused.]

[At this point, I have to say that Darren has no right to deny it as if Cassandra had admitted him.]

[Whether she admits it or not, it is a fact that cannot be changed, okay? Can she change the fact that Darren is Cassandra's biological father if she doesn't admit it?]

[What tongue twister are you talking about? I don't know what you think. How can a man whose daughter doesn't even want to recognize him be good? Affection is just a persona.]

[I think you have a point.]

[Will Cassandra respond to it? After all, that “get out” is still rolling in my heart. Boohoo, I really love it!]

[I want to see if Cassandra responds, and I’m looking forward to it.]

[Looking forward to it!]

As it turned out, Cassandra didn’t even have time to pay attention to her.

Cassandra even lived a full life. Since she said everything, she felt that she was now very relaxed and in a much better mood than before.

Moreover, she also entered the 20-in-10 stage in the perfume competition. This was not good news for her, but it wasn’t too bad.

Her mentality was obviously different from before.

Even Sofia and Cassidy in the classroom noticed that she was quite different.

“Samantha, do you have something happy?” Sofia asked curiously.

O

Cassidy also looked at her curiously.

“Yeah, I’m in a good mood,” Cassandra answered.

She was glad that things were no longer weighing on her mind.

She was most happy that Kenneth believed in her, which was more important to her than anything else.

“Well, some people are still pretending to be calm here,” Anabella said gloatingly. “I thought she was a princess. But I didn’t expect that she would be abandoned in just a few days. When she was born, her parents rejected her. Now she has grown up and they don’t want her anymore. It’s really pitiful to think about it.”

Anabella finally found a chance to vent her anger. She was overwhelmed by Cassandra, which made her very angry.

She wished Cassandra would disappear. Why did she appear in the traditional medicine practitioner class and in Juset University?

Cassandra was speechless.

She thought, ‘Is she talking about me? But what does it have to do with her?’

Cassandra ignored her and didn’t even look up at her.

Anabella was a little angry and suddenly shouted, “What are you proud of? Your father has issued a statement and kicked you out of the family. Are you still proud here? If you are sad, you can cry. We will all sympathize with you.”

Cassandra looked up at her coldly and said slowly, “I don’t have parents. And it doesn’t seem to have anything to do with you. Are you being nosy?”

“Of course you don’t have parents. Darren has declared that he have nothing to do with you and no longer recognize you as his daughter. How can you still laugh?” Anabella’s face was full of sarcasm.

She thought, 'I thought that after she became a princess, she would cause trouble for me, but I didn't expect that it had only been a few days... It's indeed retribution.'

Cassandra finally understood. It seemed that Darren had posted something on the Internet again, which made this person crazy here.

She opened Twitter and saw Darren's tweet.

She smiled and thoughtfully retweeted his Twitter message, and then wrote:

[Thank you.]

Why did this kind of reply feel more lethal than "get out"?

It was like she couldn't wait for such a thing to happen, and now that her dream finally came true, she sent a very thoughtful "thank you".

The phrase "thank you" soon became a trending topic!

[Who knows? Thank you!]

[Thank you! I don't understand!]

[Thank you! I think Cassandra is just satirizing Darren. Obviously she doesn't have this idea, but he is adding drama to himself!]

[Thank you! Are you going to say that now?]

[Thank you!]

[“Thank you” is more lethal than “Get out“. I love it!]

[She’s so gorgeous!]

[Come to my bowl. It’s much more comfortable for you than being a princess.]

[This idea is a little dangerous.]

Anabella also saw Cassandra’s response.

That “thank you” shattered not only Darren’s self-esteem but also hers.

But Darren didn’t have time to worry about the Internet right now.

Because Leanna couldn’t wake up completely.

But the doctor said he had done his best to make Leanna keep her senses and hear the outside world, except that she couldn’t wake up.

The doctor was shocked. It seemed that the poisoner didn’t want to kill her.

That was pretty good.

‘In the days to come, Leanna will continue to lie on this hospital bed. I don’t know how long it will take, or whether it will last forever. Then, what about Zosteylor? Zosteylor still needs development and progress and it cannot be without a leader,’ Darren thought..

O

Then he said softly by Leanna's bedside, "Honey, I want our son to succeed to the throne directly. The country needs a leader. You won't blame me, will you?" No one responded to him, but he still said, "If you wake up one day, our son will have run the country well by then. Then we can go traveling and make up for all the places that we didn't go when we were young."

What answered him was silence.

However, he suddenly discovered that Leanna seemed to be crying.

He was a little excited that Leanna could really hear him!

Did it prove that he could continue to be with her in the future?

"Honey, if you agree with my proposal, can you cry again?" Darren looked into Leanna's eyes and prayed for her response.

It didn't take long for Leanna to cry again.

Yes, she agreed!

And he was immersed in the joy that Leanna could respond to him.

It was not until the next day that he remembered his proposal.

But, Harper...vanished.

He left a note in his room: [Since you don't want my sister, I will take her alone. Goodbye.]