

My Rebirth 391

Chapter 391

When Kayden woke up, it was three o'clock in the afternoon.

He woke up to see his mother, Jessica, and Hugo. Fortunately, he was a soldier and was in good physical condition. After waking up, he didn't feel uncomfortable except for his wound.

"Mom, when did you come here?" Kayden twitched his mouth and laughed.

"You bastard, you just woke up and you're laughing." Yasmine looked at Kayden reproachfully.

"Mom, my wound hurts," Kayden said like a spoiled child.

Kayden's tone made Cassandra, who had just walked to the ward door, somewhat speechless.

"I'll call a doctor for you." Yasmine was a little nervous, but when she turned around, she saw Cassandra.

When Kayden saw Cassandra, he was also surprised. "Cassie, are you okay?"

"I'm fine." Cassandra walked up to him and took his pulse.

"It won't be a big deal when you wake up. I asked Hugo to prescribe a pair of traditional medicine for invigorating blood and healing wounds, which will be brought here soon," Cassandra said in a serious tone, "If you drink traditional medicine, don't take Western medicine. Hugo will reapply medicine to you later, which can make you heal faster."

Her medicines were quick-acting and had no side effects.

Kayden was awake. Cassandra thought that she should ask him for his opinion on medication.

Kayden's eyes lit up, "Really? That's great." He asked curiously, "Can I get better in a week?"

Cassandra frowned and said coldly, "Yes. But you can't participate in the military drill. You should give up this exercise this time."

Kayden looked at Kenneth pleadingly, as if he were asking for help. It was too painful for him not to be allowed to participate in this military drill that was so hard to come by.

This exercise, which Kenneth and John had prepared for so long, must be very exciting as a result that he couldn't go anywhere now. It's really painful for him.

Kenneth said with a cold face, "Recover first. The exercise will start in two days. You don't have to participate this time. I'll explain the situation to the superior."

Kenneth's words completely extinguished Kayden's hope.

"You're so badly injured, and you still want to go to the exercise. Do you want to die?" Yasmine roared.

Kayden couldn't help but swallow his saliva. He explained awkwardly, "Mom, It's like I didn't go."

"Humph!" Yasmine was angry.

Seeing that his mother and Cassandra didn't seem to interact with each other, Kayden couldn't help but say, "Mom, are you blaming Cassie? My injury has nothing to do with her."

He didn't know what had happened. He thought Cassandra looked pale because his mother said something about her.

It took him a lot of effort to make Cassandra less hostile to him. If his mother said something bad, Cassandra might ignore him again after he healed from his injury.

Yasmine's expression changed instantly, and she scolded harshly, "In your heart, is this the image of your mother? Do you think I'd just pick on someone?"

Cassandra hurriedly explained, "It has nothing to do with Ms. Yasmine. I'm thinking about my own business. She took the initiative to say, "Auntie didn't blame me. Don't misunderstand her."

Kayden didn't see that Cassandra was lying, so he immediately changed his expression and said with a flattering look, "Mom, I'm sorry. I was wrong."

Yasmine glared at her son angrily.

Before long, Maximilian came to the hospital with Devin and Denzel.

They were stunned when they saw Cassandra. After all, they hadn't seen each other for a long time.

Even when Darren came back, they hadn't seen each other. They just didn't expect that they would meet again because of Kayden.

Denzel noticed that Cassandra was no longer hostile to them. He was a little surprised, but he could imagine that.

It was said that Kenneth was chased by someone yesterday. Kayden happened to go to his house to discuss something, so he got shot to save Cassandra.

Kayden had done a good job. Although he was injured, Cassandra still cared about him.

Although their kinship with Cassandra was shallow, it would be nice if she could treat them as her friend's elders.

"Grandpa, dad, uncle," Kayden says hi to them.

Although the wound was a little painful, it didn't hurt much for him.

It hurts when Cassandra detoxifies him.

"Are you feeling better? What did the doctor say?" Denzel asked.

"It's all right. Cassie is responsible for it. I will be fine soon," Kayden answered.

At the thought of Cassandra treating him again, Kayden was inexplicably excited. Seeing that almost all the members of the Yates family had arrived, Cassandra got up and stood opposite them. She apologized to them.

"Sorry, Kayden was in trouble because of me." Cassandra apologized to them.

Maximilian hurriedly stepped forward. Because of Cassandra's traditional medicine, he was now much stronger than his peers. He helped Cassandra up and said, "Cassie, don't do this. This is what Kayden should do. Don't blame yourself."

Cassandra shook her head and said, "There is nothing that should or should not be done. He did this because of me."

“Don’t think too much. He wouldn’t have done it if he wasn’t willing to.” Maximilian grabbed Cassandra’s hand with some heartache, “Cassandra, I’m sorry I don’t know why I cultivated such a son to make you suffer for so many years.”

Cassandra’s eyes suddenly widened. Was Maximilian apologizing to her? Apologize for what?

Such a son? Is that Darren?

She thought so. All the grievances she suffered in her life were caused by Darren.

Cassandra was silent, and she could not blame anyone or Maximilian.

“I don’t care anymore.” Cassandra nodded slightly, “You can watch Kayden first. I’ll ask Hugo to give him acupuncture treatment later.”

“Okay, you can go back to rest first,” Yasmine said gently.

After Cassandra left, Maximilian complimented Kayden, “You did a good job this time. Cassie is a girl. She can’t stand it and it even hurts her body. You did well this time.”

Kayden raised his head and said, “Of course.”

But he didn’t think about anything at that time. He just thought Cassandra shouldn’t get hurt. Otherwise, he might be punished by his grandfather. How good it was now!

Kayden was fine. Cassandra and Kenneth returned to the ward. When Kenneth made her bed, Cassandra suddenly stood in the middle of the ward and called softly, “Kenneth, I want to eat shrimp.”

Kenneth was so shocked.

Chapter 392

Kenneth was frightened by Cassandra's words.

He hadn't heard this, and he had thought he would never hear it again.

His voice trembled, "What--what did you say?"

He walked quickly in front of Cassandra and looked into her eyes. "Cassie, what did you just say?"

"Kenneth, I want to eat shrimp," Cassandra said again.

Kenneth burst into tears with joy.

'Kenneth, I want to eat shrimp. It was her favorite thing to say to him before.

At that time, when she first arrived at Rootland Village, Blossom was seriously ill. Cassandra loved shrimp the most. She tried everything to get him to take her in. Until finally she said she wanted to eat shrimp and bring delicious food to Jeremiah and Blossom, so Cassandra said most of the time that month, 'Kenneth, I want to eat shrimp.

to

Actually, she didn't want to eat shrimp. She wanted to buy food sickly Blossom. At that time he had the money to give her everything she wanted, so if she said 'Kenneth, I want to eat shrimp' for that month, he would take her out to buy.

It seemed that she bought a lot of things, but finally, he found out that they were all things for Blossom or Jeremiah's health.

He had never expected to hear these words again since he knew that Cassandra had lost her memory.

“Cassie, have you recovered your memory?” Kenneth couldn’t believe that her memory was restored.

But he didn’t do anything. When did she recover her memory?

“Well, in the chaos last night, Kayden pushed me and hit my head. Before I passed, out, I felt a lot of memories coming back.” Cassandra said.

When she woke up, she was looking at Kayden and forgot to say that she got her memory back.

The person in front of her was similar to the one in her memory. He was still tall and straight, giving her a sense of security.

“It reminds me of everything before,” Cassandra whispered.

“Can you remember how you lost your memory?” Kenneth asked nervously.

Cassandra shook her head seriously, “I don’t know.”

“It doesn’t matter. If you can’t remember it, just forget about it.” Kenneth was so happy that Cassandra had remembered him. What could be happier for him than this?

“But I seem to have met a young man. Maybe he hypnotized me.” Cassandra said.

Otherwise, why did she forget only Kenneth? She hadn’t forgotten anyone, not even what had happened with Blossom and Jeremiah that month, except for him.

She didn't believe that there was any accident that could make her forget only one person, so she should have been hypnotized.

Kenneth's eyes flashed. "You mean you met a strange young man after I left?"

Cassandra nodded. "Yes, he talked to me a lot, but I don't remember."

Kenneth had an idea in his mind, but he didn't say it out. He just looked at Cassandra with concern and said, "It's okay. Let me investigate this matter."

Cassandra put her head on his chest as if she had become a little more clingy since she recovered her memory.

"Okay," Cassandra said, "But don't worry. You can investigate this matter after the exercise."

"Well, don't worry. I can arrange it freely." Kenneth held her in his arms and said, "Have a good rest first. Don't think too much."

Although he was happy, he couldn't be carried away by happiness.

Cassandra needed to rest now, and everything would be discussed later.

Two days later, Kenneth had to leave because the drill was officially about to begin. All things can only be left to Hugo.

"Hugo, please take care of Cassie. If you need anything, just call William and Susan. Cassie likes the dishes cooked by Susan. You have to take care of Cassie and Kayden. You might want to get busy." Kenneth ordered in a deep voice.

Hugo nodded repeatedly, "Okay, I know. Don't worry. I will take good care of Cassandra."

He has taken good care of Cassandra for so many years, and he knows what to do.

“Well, I’ll leave it to you then,” Kenneth said.

Cassandra looked at Kenneth helplessly. He had been murmuring here since early morning and getting everything ready for her.

Cassandra felt more like a vacation than a sickness.

“Kenneth, I’ll be back in two days. There is no need for these things.” Cassandra couldn’t help but remind Kenneth.

“No, stay here for a few more days and take good care of yourself. How about I leave Jeremiah here to take care of you?” Kenneth was still worried.

Cassandra said, “No need. You exercise carefully, and Hugo will take care of me.”

“Kenneth, just do your business. Let me and Jessica take care of Cassie.” Yasmine suddenly appeared and said.

“Thank you, Mrs. Yasmine and Mrs. Jessica.” Kenneth thanked her.

Then he reluctantly left the ward and looked back, which made Cassandra “Cassie, tell me and Jessica what you need. We’ll be outside here.” Yasmine said enthusiastically.

It’s not easy to take care of Cassandra aboveboard.

However, she still couldn’t find a proper name. Just let Cassandra call them by their first names.

“Okay, thank you.” Cassandra didn’t know what to call Yasmine.

Suddenly, Kayden was helped into the room.

Cassandra was a little surprised, “Why are you out of bed?”

“Hugo told me to walk around more, so I walked here The wound is a little painful.

I need to sit down for a while,” Kayden said.

Cassandra was stunned for a moment and then nodded. “Yes, you need to walk around more.”

Chapter 393

Cassandra's refusal was no surprise to Kayden.

Cassandra was originally a loner, so she would not live with them. Besides, their relationship was unclear.

"All right. Kenneth is not here these days. If you need anything, just come to me." Kayden hurriedly said, "The medicine Hugo gave me is very good. I feel much better now and may be discharged from the hospital in a few days."

Cassandra just nodded and didn't. say much.

"My mom brought some food. Let's eat together. She took a lot." Kayden found other topics to chat with Cassandra.

"Don't bother. Hugo is going to fetch me food. You can eat first." Cassandra shook her head and said, "But you have to remember that you can't eat any seafood now. After the wound heals and no more medicine is used, you can take the seafood."

If he ate seafood, the efficacy of medicine would be reduced and he would recover slowly.

"Yeah, I know. Hugo said that it would affect my recovery after eating these foods. It haven't been eating those." He still listened to the doctor's words. He had already missed this military drill. If he didn't get better soon, he might not be able to attend the commendation meeting before the year.

Cassandra nodded and said, "That's good."

Kayden walked to the door and suddenly thought of something. He turned back to Cassandra and said, "Cassie, don't be pressured. Don't think that we have a purpose for you. This time you can do whatever you want. No matter what, we won't force you against your will as before.

"If you are unpleasant, just say it. We won't bother you. You should understand that the elders of our family have watched Kenneth grow up and treated him well, so they will naturally treat you well.

"Forget about the unpleasant things before, and let's get to know each other again." Kayden was able to see that Cassandra had been a bit uncomfortable these days.

But this time, their family really wanted to be nice to her. They used the wrong method before and thought that only returning to the Yates Group would be best for her. Now thinking about it, even if Cassandra didn't have these identities, she could still live a good life.

Since they couldn't really soothe her hurt heart, they would stay with her.

No one can erase the harm caused by her parents.

And Kayden couldn't forgive the so-called uncle anyway.

Kayden couldn't know what she had been through. Imposing their thoughts on Cassandra would only make her more rebellious. During this time, Kayden had completely understood.

Cassandra nodded. "Well, thank you."

She was really uncomfortable recently. The warmth and consideration of the Yates family made her a little overwhelmed.

But now that Kayden had opened up, she didn't have to worry too much.

Seeing that Cassandra didn't reject him, Kayden smiled and said, "Okay, I'll go back first. Have a good rest."

Cassandra took medicine for herself these two days, so she recovered faster and was discharged directly after two days.

Kayden also wanted to be discharged. Although his wounds were much better, he still needed a good rest. The doctor still had to monitor his physical condition at any time and couldn't discharge him at will.

But Yasmine and Denzel couldn't persuade Kayden.

So Yasmine had no choice but to ask Cassandra for help.

Yasmine was just packing up in the ward. Yasmine said with some embarrassment, "Cassie, can you help me persuade Kayden? He saw that you were discharged from the hospital and now he insisted on leaving"

Cassandra said, "OK."

Their wards were very close, but the VIP wards had a good soundproof effect. Therefore, she didn't hear what they said either, so she did not stop them. immediately.

In Kayden's ward, the appearance of Cassandra made them a little embarrassed.

Kayden, who was about to pack his clothes, stopped moving.

"What are you doing?" Cassandra asked coldly.

Kayden didn't dare to look Cassandra in the eye and said, "I just feel that there is nothing wrong with me. I want to leave the hospital."

Kayden felt aggrieved. After all, if Cassandra was discharged from the hospital, he would have to stay in the hospital alone. It would be boring. If Cassie were in the hospital, he could at least talk to her to pass the time.

"Stay here for another three days, and then go home on Christmas," Cassandra said coldly.

Kayden didn't know how to argue with Cassandra.

He felt that his mother had found someone he simply didn't dare to contradict.

"So I'll be spending Christmas in the hospital?" Kayden asked.

"It's not an important festival. Don't care so much about it. Get well first." Cassandra looked a little serious, "Kenneth and I have found the people who are chasing us. After you recover, you can deal with them."

Kayden was excited when he heard that.

He thought Kenneth had no time to care about anything after going to the military. drill. Unexpectedly, Kenneth found the murderers when he was leaving.

Kayden had been aggrieved for too long. He was going to take it out on the murderers.

"Okay, I'll stay in the hospital for another three days. When I get out of the hospital, I will deal with them." Kayden said fiercely.

"Well, then take care of yourself. I'll go back first," Cassandra said.

“OK,” Kayden said.

Cassandra turned around and nodded to Yasmine, then left directly.

Yasmine was speechless, and she thought her son was so stupid.

When Cassandra returned to her ward, she suddenly found that there was an uninvited guest in the ward.

He worked for Kenneth, and his name was Ethan.

Ethan walked slowly to Cassandra and said softly, “Cassandra, congratulations on being discharged from the hospital.”

Cassandra didn’t pay much attention, directly bypassing Ethan, and continued to pack her bags.

“Are you sent by Kenneth?” Cassandra said.

Ethan thought there was something different about Kenneth’s name coming out of Cassandra’s mouth.

“No, I’m here for Cassandra,” answered Ethan.

Cassandra paused and looked up at Ethan. “Well, what’s the matter?”

Ethan said bluntly, “I heard that you have recovered your memory, so I came to see you.”

Cassandra’s eyes sank slightly, and her face gradually became complicated. How did he know that?

“How do you know?” She asked with a cold face.

“Kenneth told us about that. He said he’s finally waiting for you to get your memory back, Ethan whispered.

“So what do you want to say?” Cassandra felt that Ethan’s purpose was not simple.

Yannick, Ethan, and Lamont, only Ethan had the deepest heart.

Chapter 394

“I—I came here to apologize to Cassandra.” Ethan lowered his head slightly and said apologetically.

Cassandra was stunned. Why did he come to apologize?

He didn’t offend her at all.

“I don’t understand what you are going to say,” Cassandra said.

“I caused you to lose your memory back then, Ethan admitted it directly. He apologized, but he didn’t regret it.

Cassandra was shocked and couldn’t believe it. She always thought it was Kenneth’s enemies who did it.

And it turned out to be Ethan.

Wasn’t he one of Kenneth’s men?

Why did he do that?

“I need a reason. Why?” Cassandra looked gloomy. If it weren’t for the fact that Ethan was Kenneth’s man, she would never have stood in front of him now.

Ethan said apologetically, “Kenneth was hunted down and fled to Rootland Village. He stayed with you there for a month. When we found him, he didn’t even want to take revenge, but how could he do that?”

“We had planned to hypnotize Kenneth and make him forget about you, but his will was too strong for me to do anything to him. I even got punished.

“I thought I’d hypnotize you into forgetting about him. Even if he appears in front of you, you won’t recognize him. In this way, Kenneth may give up and focus on revenge.

“After I hypnotized you, I made you forget Kenneth. Kenneth even talked to you. front of me, but you have completely forgotten him.

in

“Kenneth returned home at that time and was very sad. He had a high fever, so he forgot what he saw you later, as well as your condition.

“But the only good thing is, after that high fever, Kenneth was ready to go abroad and continue his goal to complete his revenge.” Thinking of that period, Ethari had no choice. When they found Kenneth, he was reluctant to leave at all, and they even lived outside Rootland Village for a long time.

Kenneth just wanted to protect Cassandra. He couldn't go on like that. That's why Ethan came up with this plan. But he didn't expect that by accident, Kenneth got seriously ill. Fortunately, he forgot all things about Cassandra.

herwise, he would have a hard time these years.

Did Ethan regret doing it? Ethan thought he had no regrets because at least Kenneth wasn't immersed in it and Cassandra wasn't much affected.

When they met again this year, he only felt that fate was marvelous and he also admired Kenneth's persistence.

At the same time, he secretly felt lucky that Kenneth had found Cassandra.

At that time, perhaps because he was young and aggressive, all he wanted to do was revenge. Therefore, he thought affection was not suitable for them.

He didn't want Kenneth's appearance to bring Cassandra unnecessary trouble. She had enough trouble at that time.

Cassandra's face darkened. She glared at Ethan and said, "Does Kenneth know that you were doing this?"

Ethan shook his head and said, "He didn't know. Only Yannick and I knew that."

Even Lamont didn't know about this. Lamont was too loyal and he would tell Kenneth anything. If Kenneth knew this thing, he would drive them away.

Cassandra didn't expect that Yannick knew this thing too. Then what was in his heart when he faced her?

“Cassandra, I’m sorry. I had no choice but to do that.” Ethan’s tone was full of apology, but there was no real regret.

Cassandra said with a darkened face, “What else did you do to me?”

“No.” Ethan shook his head honestly.

“You did this without permission, just do what Kenneth did to punish you, three days of confinement. Then this matter is over, Cassandra said, “I’ll make it clear to Kenneth. Don’t worry about that.”

Ethan hurriedly explained, “Cassandra, I think you have misunderstood. I didn’t want you to plead with him for me. After I knew that your memory was restored, I thought you had the right to know all this. I’ll take the initiative to admit my mistake to Kenneth. As for how he punishes me, I will accept it.”

Now, all of Kenneth’s revenge had been taken and his life was on the right track. Cassandra was with him now, and she recovered her memory. It was a good thing.

Therefore, Ethan thought he should be punished according to his previous mistakes.

“However, I will go for the three days of confinement.” Ethan nodded gently and said again, “I still want to say sorry to Cassandra. You haven’t had a memory for so many years because of me.”

Ethan left directly and went to the solitary cell mentioned by Cassandra.

Looking at Ethan’s back, Cassandra was a little confused.

She was so angry that she even wanted to kick Ethan.

However, she seemed to understand Kenneth's situation at that time. If it were her, she would be more ruthless than Ethan and might directly kill the girl who affected his master's mood.

They just made her forget about that month, all the memories of Kenneth.

In her previous life, she didn't understand why Kenneth treated the Yates family like that because of her. After meeting Kenneth in this life, she knew that they had known each other for a long time. Only after she recovered her memory did she know that it was fate between them.

She was angry because she missed Kenneth in her previous life..

Kenneth was the one to deal with this matter. It depended on his decision. He could beat them up or send them out for training.

It had been four days since Kenneth left. Today was Christmas.

Cassandra was a little bored at Pinehart Mansion alone. Before Kenneth came back, it seemed that she would be bored like this many days.

Suddenly, Cassandra's phone rang. Someone called her and she found that it was Sofia. She was a little disappointed and picked up the call. Then she heard Sofia shouting, "Cassandra, Cassandra!"

"What's wrong?" Cassandra asked.

"Let's celebrate Christmas together. There will be a firework display this year, which is very wonderful." As Sofia spoke, she turned the camera around. Several classmates were also there, including Cassidy and Samuel.

This made Cassandra a little curious. Why would the students from the Traditional Medicine Department stay with those from the Physics Department? The key point was that two of them seemed to be her students.

“Send me a location, and I’ll come to you.” Cassandra didn’t refuse. Anyway, Kenneth was not here, so she should spend the day with Sofia.

Cassandra soon drove off to find Sofia and the others.

The fireworks were beautiful, but the radio said, “The Christmas is coming soon. Hold on to the people around you and hug them. In the future, you will be even happier.”

Cassandra felt a little disappointed. After all, the person she wanted to hug was not there.

Chapter 395

It was already one o’clock in the morning when Cassandra returned to Pinehart Mansion.

When she went back, the villa was brightly lit. Even William and Susan hadn’t slept yet.

When William saw her coming back, he hurriedly came up and said, “Cassandra, you’re finally back. We have been waiting for you for a long time.”

Cassandra was a little confused. She thought it was William who worried about her safety, so she whispered, “William, I went out with some students this evening to celebrate Christmas. Sorry for keeping you waiting. Go to sleep now. You will have half-day off tomorrow morning and continue working in the afternoon.”

Anyway, Kenneth had said that she could arrange William and Susan’s work as she wished and they would have a vacation if she could. They had been waiting for her for so long today, so she should give them a vacation.

“Okay, thank you, Cassandra.” Although William had a vacation, William didn’t forget the main thing. He said, “When Kenneth left, he left you a Christmas gift, which was delivered at 11 pm. But you were not home, so I signed up for it. Hope. you don’t mind.”

He’s been waiting here for so long to tell Cassandra about it.

Cassandra suddenly opened her eyes wide and looked at William in surprise. “William, where is the gift?”

She was never short of gifts or someone to send them, but this was the first time she had expected a present so much.

“Cassandra, wait a moment.” After saying that, William turned around and walked towards the dining room. Because it was too large, Susan also went over to help.

They carried out a huge gift box. Cassandra was surprised and wondered what was. in the box.

Cassandra couldn’t help but approach curiously.

Seeing Cassandra’s reaction, William knew that she liked it. So William smiled happily and said, “Cassandra, we won’t bother you. You can open the gift first.”

It’s all a surprise for Cassandra. William wanted to leave Cassandra some private space and take her time to open the gift.

“Okay,” Cassandra replied. She looked up, “William, Susan, thank you.”

William and Susan just smiled happily and left without saying anything.

Cassandra was alone in the living room. With curiosity, she opened the box and found that there were large and small boxes inside.

The gifts were opened one by one, and there were nine in total.

If Cassandra's memory served her right, Kenneth had prepared gifts every year since he met her.

There were gifts from several years ago. It may be obvious that the boxes had been put there for a long time.

The most special gift was the last one, which seemed to be the latest.

The style was the most popular this year, but it was a necklace with a drop of red liquid on the pendant.

Cassandra was a little curious because the drop of red liquid didn't match the whole necklace at all.

She wanted to know what the red liquid was, so she rummaged through the box. and found a letter.

[Cassie:

[In the Christmas, I hope you will be happier.

[I'm sorry that we can't spend the first Christmas together, and even in the future, there may not be such an opportunity. My special status is destined to make you feel wronged. I'll try my best to make it up to you.

[It has been 9 years since I first met you. After all, at that time, you told me that you were not yet 10 years old, but you wanted everyone to think of you as a 10- year-old child.

[It has been 9 years since I met you. In these 9 years, we have all become better ourselves. Thanks for the blessing of fate that let me come back to find you and make you fall in love with me again.

[Nine gifts are prepared for you every year. I also prepare birthday presents and Christmas gifts for you, so when your birthday comes, you should be ready to open the gifts.

[A lot of words, back to the gift, the last gift, you may wonder why such a delicate necklace, will put a drop of red liquid. That is my blood.

[This necklace is an ancient one that was once handed down by the British royal family. It is said to be a magical treasure. My friend told me about the legend of this necklace. He also told me that when I gave it to my loved one, placing a drop of blood in the middle would bring us closer and more connected.

[Although I know it's a legend, I just want to try it. So, my Cassie, I hope that when I come back, I can see you wearing it. Good things are to be displayed.

[Finally, I wish my Cassie happy and healthy forever.]

Cassandra was shocked that this red liquid was Kenneth's blood.

Was he stupid enough to believe such a legend?

But for some reason, she was just happy in her heart.

She

the other gifts into her room one by one, and only this necklace was carried around.

The necklace was too precious. In her eyes, the drop of blood made her love Kenneth even more deeply.

She was so excited when lying on the bed, but she soon realized that something was wrong. If she remembered correctly, it seemed that Kenneth didn't remember to prepare a gift at all because he was going on a military drill.

Then she got up again and did all kinds of preparation work to see what kind of gift boys liked.

However, after looking online for a long time, there was no progress. Instead, the time had almost passed.

THE

It was almost dawn when Cassandra fell asleep.

When she woke up, it was already noon. She went downstairs and saw Kayden sitting there.

“Cassie, happy Christmas!” Kayden said excitedly.

“Thank you.” Cassandra walked up to him and said, “Why are you discharged so early?”

Kayden thought, ‘If you hadn't stopped me, I would have been discharged from the hospital long ago.’

“I wanted to say ‘Happy Christmas’ to you, so I came here early.” Kayden was blunt and straightforward.

“Happy Christmas.” Cassandra nodded slightly.

“Cassie, tell me quickly. Who tried to kill Kenneth on Christmas Day?” That’s what Kayden came here for. Other things were not that important.

If he didn’t let out the anger in his heart, he might be suffocated.

“It’s Zack,” Cassandra said a name in a deep voice.

Kayden was a little confused and thought, ‘Who is Zack?’

After thinking about it, this name seemed to sound familiar and he had heard of this name somewhere before.

“Ah, isn’t he Yulissa’s father? The one who robbed Kenneth of the oil business?” Only then did Kayden realize who Zack was.

It seems that after Kenneth took over the oil business, Zack became angry.

“Yeah,” Cassandra said.

“I’ll deal with this matter,” Kayden said.

‘You son of a bitch. How dare you hurt me? I’ll make you pay for it!’ Kayden thought.

Chapter 396

In Fallvale Mansion, Zack was a little uneasy these days.

According to Kenneth’s character, it was good enough not to kill him directly. However, after so many days, he didn’t show up. Didn’t they find out that it was him?

But it made sense. This time, the men he hired were all foreign mercenaries, and their identities were kept secret. How could he find out?

Moreover, the people who have been watching him these days reported that they hadn't seen him, not even in the hospital where Cassandra was hospitalized.

It seemed that he was no longer in the country.

“Then I can rest easy now!

Thinking of that, he felt happy.

‘Kenneth, you're the one who got in my way and stopped me from doing oil business. That was a cooperation worth hundreds of billions of dollars, but you just robbed it. If you don't make the pay, it would be maltreatment to me!’

He felt a sudden thrill of revenge, turning the prayer beads in his hand and enjoying it with his eyes closed.

With a loud bang, Zack opened his eyes in surprise.

The maid rushed out of the room.

Zack ordered coldly, “Go and see what's going on.”

Before she ran out, a group of people walked in directly!

“Who are you? Don't break into Fallvale Mansion without permission. Get out now, or I will call the police!” The maid roared.

A

She had never seen such a thing: Someone directly broke into the Fallvale Mansion. When she looked outside, she saw that the door was demolished.

The noise just now was the sound of opening the door.

Kayden ignored her and walked over to Zack.

“Mr. James, long time no see. How are you doing?” At this moment, Kayden rushed directly into the Fallvale Mansion like a yuppy.

“Mr. Yates, long time no see.” In terms of age, Zack was older. Therefore, he sat there still and said in a somewhat angry tone, “You came uninvited and knocked down my door. Isn’t it justified?”

Kayden didn’t care whether he had a problem or not. He sat next to Zack with his legs crossed and said in an unruly tone, “Mr. James, don’t you know what I am here. for?”

Zack’s heart skipped a beat. It seemed that he was doing this for Kenneth.

‘Didn’t Kayden get hurt? Did he recover so soon? Didn’t people say that he was hit in the abdomen? Logically speaking, it should not be so fast!

“Sorry, I really don’t know.” Zack pretended to be surprised and said, “Do you want to cooperate with me? If it is true, I think it seems reasonable to talk about it in the company.”

Kayden snorted. “Mr. James, you have some wish. Kenneth and I were hunted down on Christmas night. Kenneth was good at fighting and those underlings couldn’t defeat him. But I was different. I was a little weaker than Kenneth, so I got shot. Now I'm almost fine, but I feel uncomfortable if I don't fire back, right?"

Zack's face stiffened, and he said angrily, "Mr. Yates, you should take revenge indeed, but I just don't know what you are here for. Did you doubt that I did it at Christmas?"

Kayden said, "Didn't you?"

"Of course not. How could I be the enemy of Mr. Zelinski and you? Are you kidding me?" Zack felt a little excited as if he had heard something shocking.

"Mr. James, if you are an upright man, don't pretend to be confused. Since I am sitting here, it proves that I have evidence. What do you mean by not admitting it?" Kayden's face darkened. "He's good at pretending."

"Since you have convicted me, why do you ask? Just leave everything to the lawyer." Zack was not that stupid. He didn't place orders, hire people, or contact them. Even if he was sued, no one could do anything to him.

When Kayden wanted to say something more, there was a commotion outside.

Cassandra walked in and looked at Kayden with a sullen face. "You're quite capable. You got the evidence this morning and came here at noon."

Her tone was neither good nor bad, but Kayden had an illusion... Cassandra seemed a little pissed.

As for why she was angry, he didn't seem to know.

"Mr. James, there are two ways to deal with it. Do you want to know?" Cassandra didn't talk nonsense to him, which was why she was a little angry.

The man ran away before the matter was explained clearly. He didn't want to wait for more than a minute.

When Kenneth left, he gave her a silent but powerful gift. He asked her to use it when she got even with somebody. Before she went back to get it for Kayden, this man had already arrived at the Fallvale Mansion.

So, she had to come.

Zack's face was gloomy. "How could a little girl threaten me? If I remember correctly, this person must be Cassandra, the sister of his bastard daughter. No. Cassandra is a royal daughter. She is a real princess. But so what, threatening me? We'll have to see if you can do it!

"Cassandra, it wasn't me. How can I confess it?"

Cassandra nodded. "So you mean you don't admit it." She took out the treasure Kenneth had prepared for her from her bag. It was small and exquisite. "I got a treasure. Mr. James, would you like to see it?"

Zack was shocked and noticed it seemed to be a miniature bomb.

"How could Cassandra have such a thing! Kenneth must have left it to her. So Kenneth did find out the truth but saved it for them to fire back.

Even Kayden craned his neck to have a look.

"Isn't this the new product developed by Kenneth?"

When they did the experiment, such a small round thing was just like an ancient. smoke bomb. It was portable but powerful. The sound was so low that it could be ignored.

After all, it was not louder than people normally talked.

“Yes, he left it to me.” Cassandra nodded.

Kayden’s eyes widened!

“That’s unfair. I didn’t have this treasure, but Kenneth gave it to Cassandra!”

“What do you want?” Zack narrowed his eyes and looked at Cassandra dangerously.

“Nothing. I just like this little thing. I want to use your place and try the sound. I think the laboratory outside is good, what do you think?” Cassandra was a little wilted.

She knew who was lying in that lab, and she threatened him.

As expected, a cracked expression appeared on Zack’s face. His tone was no longer calm or sarcastic.

“Don’t you dare?” His voice was full of anger, and his eyes became sharp as if he would kill her.

Chapter 397

Cassandra had heard such a threat too many times, so his words did not influence her.

“Do I dare? Let’s have a try, won’t you?” After saying that, Cassandra walked outside.

Zack was confused. What did she want to do?

He hurried to catch up. Kayden was also watching everything. As soon as he moved, several bodyguards behind him followed out.

Cassandra stopped at the door of the laboratory and looked around with interest.

She had to admit that she was curious about the woman who had died for more than ten years. Zack kept her well.

To think about it, it was a little perverted.

“Cassandra, if you dare to blow up my laboratory, I will never let you go!” Zack was a little scared and grudging. ‘How did this bitch know the secret of the lab?’

“Mr. James, I just want to help you. Your wife has been dead for more than ten years. If you keep her body like this, she will be found one day. At that time, you can’t even explain it clearly.

“If I drop this small bomb, the laboratory will be gone. Your wife will also be cremated. Clusian believe that dead people should be buried in the ground. You’ve got to let your wife be buried in the ground.” Cassandra said in a calm tone.

But on the contrary, those words seemed to irritate Zack. He became hysterical and said, “My wife is not dead. She’s not dead! How dare you curse her? I want you to die!” With scarlet eyes, Zack threw away the prayer beads in his hand and hit Cassandra.

Cassandra calmly dodged all his offensive moves.

He attacked, Cassandra retreated, Cassandra attacked, he retreated.

‘My wife isn’t dead. She’s not dead! How dare this bitch curse my wife? I’ll teach her a lesson!’” “Zack, if you don’t stop now, I will burn down your lab immediately!” Kayden threatened.

He found that Zack had no intention of stopping at all, so he decided to join the fight.

Two against one, Zack soon found he was no match for them.

His movements were messy, and there was nothing that could be seen through. He was probably stimulated and his spirit was a little out of control, so he waved his fists at random.

Kayden asked someone to control him, and he kicked him!

‘Damn it! How dare he hit Cassie? Is he tired of living?’

“Zack, you sent people to kill Kenneth and me on Christmas Day. You even attacked Kayden. Have you forgotten all these?” Cassandra brought it up again. “How dare you hit me? I’m just letting the dead go to their grave now. How can you react so violently? Why are you doing this to me?”

Zack’s eyes were red. He was a little regretful that he couldn’t sit still when he heard about the lab, which Cassandra used to threaten him.

“So what if I did it? Do you have any evidence? Let the police arrest me instead of threatening me with my wife!” he shouted.

“Everyone knows that you are close to the chief of the municipal police station. It will only take a few hours for you to stay in the jail, and you will get out soon.” Kayden scolded him coldly. He knew what Zack was up to.

“So what? Isn’t Kenneth well-connected? He still doesn’t know how to deal with me. Why didn’t he show up today? Is he afraid of me?” Zack’s tone was unflattering. According to his information, Kenneth didn’t have any connections with the police station. Even if he did, it would be a very young officer, not as good as Zack’s connection.

‘So what if I broke the law? He has no choice but to watch.

“Zack James, don’t you think I can do nothing about it?” Cassandra said sarcastically, “Your willful murder of Clusian soldiers and hurting the personnel of the National Security Bureau are equivalent to treason. We will send you to the military court. You can think about how you want to die.”

It was self-evident that he hired foreign mercenaries to kill Clusia, and Cassandra was a member of the National Security Bureau. His behavior was equivalent to treason. Even if he wouldn’t die, he would have no freedom in his life.

Kayden’s eyes lit up. Just now, he was thinking about how to convict Zack and whether to use all the connections between the Zelinski Group and Yates Group to get him punished.

Unexpectedly, after Cassandra’s words, all the problems were solved.

He habitually stripped Kenneth of his identity, as he had done for so many years.

Zack wanted to kill Kenneth, the CEO of Zelinski Group.

But he forgot that although people were individuals, Kenneth was the CEO of Zelinski Group and the head of Falcon Special Operations Force. It was impossible to separate them from each other.

If the police couldn’t deal with him, the military’s court would.

Injuring soldiers, no matter how powerful the officer was, he would not dare to be covered up.

Zack’s life was over.

Zack's pupils were shocked. "Who hurt the soldiers? Who is a soldier and who is from the National Security Bureau?"

He looked at Cassandra and Kayden in disbelief. Kayden kindly explained to him, "Mr. James, let me formally introduce Kayden, the leader of Clusia Falcon Special Operations Force, and Kenneth, the head of Falcon Special Operations Force. Cassandra, the main director of the information security department of the National Security Bureau."

The more Zack heard, the more shocked he was!

"I can't believe they're soldiers! Even Cassandra is from the National Security Bureau! Then what should I do now?"

"What else do you want to say now?" Kayden's face was cold, but there was smile on his face, which looked extremely sarcastic. "But you can keep your mouth shut now. Someone will ask you to speak later."

still a

"Take him away!" With a wave of his hand, Kayden had him taken directly to the Falcon Special Operations Force, where he would later file charges in military court.

The evidence was now conclusive, he also had injuries reported and Cassandra also had cases reported.

"If not dead, he probably will stay in prison for life.

Zack was taken away. Cassandra looked at the lab and opened the door directly.

Walking into the monitoring room, he could only see chemistry bottles and jars. It was not hard to imagine how long such an experiment had been going on.

She walked into another room and saw the corpse, frozen stiff.

There was a thick layer of ice on the corpse's face, and she couldn't see the face clearly.. The only thing that could be sure was that the body was well preserved.

Kayden followed up curiously and was shocked to see that.

'Zack is such a jerk. How could he freeze his wife here for more than ten years?'

Cassandra gave a number to Kayden. "This is the phone number of this lady's brother. Call him and ask him to collect her body. She needs to be buried in peace."

Yulissa was Zack's only child. He and his wife had no children. His wife's parents were heartbroken because they couldn't get the body of their daughter. They died two years after her death.

The only comforting thing was that she had an elder brother who could collect her body.

"Okay, I'll call him now."

Chapter 398

It didn't take long for Kayden to file a lawsuit against Zack, which the court took seriously because it involved military personnel and National Security Bureau personnel.

The evidence provided by Kayden could prove Zack's murderous intent.

However, there was no direct evidence to prove that Zack did it. When Zack was complacent, Cassandra submitted the recording in her hands, crushing Zack's hope.

After such a recording was released, it attracted the attention of the superiors and even held a general meeting.

“Must be severely punished!” These few words from the superiors were enough to illustrate the attitude.

Thus, the military and government jointly investigated.

The director of the city police department was regretful. He didn't expect that Zack was so foolish that he became unrestrained at the mention of his wife. His relationship with him was something that could not be said in public.

A few days later, Kayden went to visit Zack in prison and brought him good news.

“Mr. James, there are two good news. Do you want to hear them?” Kayden's injuries were almost healed, so he ran to Zack and showed off.

After several days inside the prison, Zack looked very discouraged. He looked at Kayden and wanted to kill him. “What the hell do you want?”

“I don't want to do anything. I just want to tell you two pieces of good news. Why are you so unappreciative?” Kayden raised his eyebrows. Seeing that Zack was having a hard time, he felt relieved.

“What good news will you tell me?” Zack seemed to have heard a joke. “You just want to laugh at me. Now that you're satisfied. Get out of here!”

Kayden stretched out his right hand and waved his index finger. “They're good news for me but may not be so good for you.”

Kayden didn't care if he wanted to hear it or not. He said directly, “First of all, the Zelinski Group and the Yates Group have taken over all the business of the James Group. Even your company has declared bankruptcy. I am quite happy about that Zack didn't expect that his company would go bankrupt so soon.

No, as long as he was still alive, there would be a time to revitalize!

No one could stop him!

He just looked at Kayden indifferently. How could he react to the bankruptcy of a company?

Seeing that he didn't respond. Kayden said the second thing, "The second thing is that your wife's body has been taken back by her brother and buried yesterday. Your wife finally-

"Ah! I'll kill you!" Zack suddenly lost control of his emotions and wanted to kill Kayden directly.

He, who was originally expressionless, became agitated. Even the jailers couldn't control him. "Why? Why? She is my wife. I disagree that she to be cremated or buried!"

He thought. Why did you do this to me? She's my wife. We're a legal couple. Why are you cremating her? She's not dead yet."

"Zack, your wife has been dead for more than ten years. Since you made a mistake and had sex with Miranda, your wife has already died. She was frozen in the lab, and her body was covered with thick layers of ice. Even if she's still alive, she's frozen to death. Why do you want to disturb your wife?

"Your father-in-law and mother-in-law died in less than two years. You refused to hand over the body for so many years, and you've made her brother self-accusation. What are you?

"You've made so many mistakes and even want to kill Kenneth. How could you do that to Kenneth? You should never have hurt Cassandra while you were killing Kenneth!" Kayden accused Zack of all his crimes coldly.

He dared to hurt Cassandra, and then he would only die.

“You’re fine anyway. Do you think I will be executed by shooting? Let me tell you, it won’t happen!” Zack was sure that he would not die.

Since he couldn’t die, there was always a chance.

“Really? Let’s wait and see!” Kayden stopped talking nonsense to him.

Cassandra had asked Jonathan to get Zack the maximum sentence. He could turn someone sentenced to life imprisonment into a death sentence, or immediate execution.

The charge of harming a soldier could kill him.

Zack just snorted, “Kayden, let’s wait and see. I will get even with you for what happened to my wife!”

“OK, I’ll be waiting for you!” Kayden replied.

A few days later, there was a verdict on Zack’s case. The court directly convicted him of wilful murder, harming a soldier, harming the officer of the National Security Bureau, hiding a corpse, etc., and sentenced him to a suspended death sentence for all the crimes.

Kenneth had been left for nearly ten days.

There was no news of the drill at all. Cassandra felt a little uneasy, but she couldn’t inquire about it. This feeling was awful.

“Cassie, don’t worry. The military drill will be fine. They’re all friends.” Kayden. knew Cassandra was worried about Kenneth, so he comforted her.

In the past few days, he often came to Pinehart Mansion to accompany Cassandra.

“I know. I just feel a little uneasy.” Cassandra knew they were all friends, but she still couldn’t help but worry Kenneth.

“The drill lasts for half a month, and now there are only five days left. I think we can get in touch with Kenneth after that. Don’t worry. It’s fine,” Kayden comforted her.

Nothing went wrong in every drill, and nothing would happen this time. Cassandra’s worries were superfluous.

He didn’t worry about it at all. It was a pity that he did not go with them this time. They had researched a new method of combat, he didn’t get to try it this time, and he wouldn’t know if he had it next time.

Cassandra had nothing to say.

She didn’t want to talk to him. He was like a psycho.

Suddenly, Hugo arrived at Pinehart Mansion. He said, “Ms. Yates, there is an order.

on the dark web that wants you to go to the border to save a person...”

Cassandra frowned and asked, “Which border?”

“Hydias...” Hugo replied.

Cassandra frowned. Wasn’t that the place where Kenneth and his team maneuvered?

Going over there to save a person, to save who?

“What’s his identity?” Cassandra asked.

“It seems to be a drug dealer.” Hugo felt as if he had made a mistake. Cassandra said that these people could not be saved.

50%

However, this drug dealer’s gang was too big and had already killed many people. He wanted Cassandra to kick these people’s asses.

Otherwise, more people would suffer in the future!

“Arrange it. I’ll go.” Cassandra took the order.

However, Kayden was unhappy and said, “I disagree. You can’t go there. You know this man’s identity. How dare you risk your life?”

Chapter 399

“I’ll go whether you agree or not.” Cassandra retorted coldly.

She was a little unhappy and thought, ‘Does he care too much? It’s all my business. What does it have to do with him?’

“You...” Kayden was angry. He then realized that he cared too much and said, “Cassandra, you know that man is a drug dealer. Why did you go to save him?”

Cassandra frowned.

“Who told you that I was going to treat him?” Cassandra looked at Kayden as if she was looking at a fool.

Kayden was a little stunned. Didn't she mean that?

“I want to go to the border to find Kenneth, but there is no reasonable reason. Isn't this exactly a reason?” Cassandra raised her eyebrows.

Since these people begged her, she would satisfy them.

It was her duty-bound mission to end those people!

Cassandra changed into Dr. Quirke's outfit and flew to Hydias.

Due to the specific identity of the person she was saving, she experienced many twists and turns on her way there!

She said irritably, “If I still have to go around the city, I will refuse to treat the patient.”

Dr. Quirke had tempers too.

However, these people were all desperate to make a living. How could they be threatened by Cassandra? A man pointed his gun at her head and said, “Cut the crap! Do whatever you're told to do!”

Cassandra frowned, “I hate it when someone points a gun at my head!”

The man seemed provocative, pressed against Cassandra's head, and said, “I'm pointing at your head, so what!”

Cassandra's face darkened. Before the man could react, his hand was broken.

Seeing this scene, his companions pointed guns at her and said, "Don't move! Put your hands on your head!"

Cassandra ignored them and picked up her bag. "Since your boss has no sincerity in asking me to treat him, let's stop here. I won't accept his medical requests anymore!"

They couldn't shoot anymore, or they would be found out. So they didn't dare to linger. Seeing that Dr. Quirke was not about to get in the car, they had no choice but to leave.

They would think of a way after they went back!

Cassandra was not afraid of them shooting. If they shot, no one could leave. These people wouldn't be so stupid.

She deliberately lost her temper to make their boss show up so that she could make a decision.

If she directly entered their territory, it would be much harder for her to come out.

Cassandra was high-profile and booked a hotel in the center of Hydias for one month.

She hoped that everything could be done within a month. So she could have a good Christmas with Kenneth and wait for Kenneth to give her the Christmas gifts of the past few years.

"Knock! Knock! Knock!"

"Hello, room service!" A man's voice sounded outside, and Cassandra frowned. If she remembered correctly, she had just moved in and did not need room service.

at all!

But she opened the door, and when she realized something was wrong, she let the man in. Kayden took off the waiter's hat and revealed his delicate face. "Hello, long time no see!"

Cassandra was speechless.

Not even half a day had passed yet, okay!

"Why are you following me here?" Cassandra didn't really want to talk to him.

"Of course, I'm here to help you. How can I let you go alone?" He certainly had to do this kind of thing together!

||

"No, I can do it alone." Cassandra declined.

If Kayden got hurt again because of her, she really couldn't repay the favor she owed to the Yates family.

She didn't want to have too much contact with the Yates family.

"No. I'll cooperate with you. We should work together inside and outside. You will enter their territory sooner or later anyway. With me outside to support you, we can get twice the result with half the effort." Kayden explained, "When you go in.

in touch with the local police and try to arrest them all."

I'llger

Cassandra had nothing to say.

She wanted to destroy them, but according to the intelligence she got, the drug dealer had someone help him. Just the territory of Hydias alone had made the locals helpless. He also had lines in other countries. It was a huge industrial chain. Only the two teams in the military drill cooperated to cooperate and suppress together could destroy them.

Otherwise, it was just bullshit!

Kayden knew what he said was unreasonable, but they only wanted Dr. Quirke. Otherwise, he could go in and protect Cassandra with all his might.

He just wanted to make her feel at ease.

However, Cassandra couldn't realize it and rolled her eyes at him.

"You go out first. It's easy to misunderstand if you stay here for a long time." Cassandra asked him to leave.

Kayden went out and murmured. Have a good rest. Thank you for choosing our hotel. Please give me a comment on my service

She thought, 'He's really like a waiter'

On the second day of Cassandra's arrival in Hydias, there was a knock on her room door at nine in the morning.

It was a shrewd and capable woman, followed by several bodyguards. One of them was the one who broke his hand yesterday. She snorted coldly and opened the door.

“Who are you? What can I do for you?” Cassandra asked.

“Are you Faye?” The woman was a little suspicious. She didn’t believe that Dr. Quirke was so young.

“Don’t you know?” Cassandra retorted in a cold voice.

“Leva, the person in the photo Hugo sent is her. We have compared it, and it’s correct.” The person next to Leva said beside her.

“Leva? Who is it? I don’t treat any dogs.” Cassandra’s eyes were full of irony and even contempt.

Leva was instantly irritated, “How dare you call me a dog!”

She went forward and wanted to hit Cassandra. Unfortunately, she knelt on the ground before reaching her!

She stood up with some humiliation!

“What did you do to me?” Leva’s face turned red, and she wanted to kill this so- called Dr. Quirke immediately.

“Nothing. I just want to teach you the rules of being a human being.” Cassandra smiled gently, “Since your boss doesn’t really want to see a doctor, please go back. I will buy the flight ticket in the afternoon and go home directly.”

She also sent a message to Hugo, who immediately told the boss what had happened on the dark web.

The man in the lead was so angry that he coughed several times!

He shouted, "Ask them to come back!"

After receiving the phone call, Leva reluctantly left.

There was an aboriginal tribe on the border of Hydias. It looked like a village, but everyone here obeyed one person's orders.

"Idiot! It was hard for me to contact Dr. Quirke, but you guys ruined it!" The man held back the pain in his heart and wanted to hit them.

"Master, he is a man in his thirties. How can he be Dr. Quirke?" Leva knelt on the ground. Even if she made a mistake, she couldn't admit it under this circumstance. Otherwise, she would only be shot."

He shouted, "Foolish, stupid! Everyone knows that Dr. Quirke is very young, just in his thirties. What have you done to him?"

The man in the lead was Simon, whose real name was Preston Garrett. When he walked on this path, he changed his name.

"Stand out! Who put a gun to Dr. Quirke's head?" Simon got angry. He paid a lot to hire Dr. Quirke, but he doesn't even see him, but these idiots scare him away.

The man behind Leva was so scared that he trembled all over, and the pain in his hand couldn't offset the fear in his heart.

Simon noticed the man's fear and said to those behind him, "Bring him to me!"

"Master, please forgive me. I... I didn't know Dr. Quirke was so unforgiving."

“Bang!”

“It’s good that you admit it.” Simon shot the man directly, killing him.

“Dr. Quirke is my distinguished guest. If anyone dares to disrespect him again, I’ll kill you.” The lives of these people were not important to him, but his life.

He earned so much money to spend and enjoy!

Kneeling on the ground, Leva couldn’t help trembling. She thought to herself, ‘Master was so ruthless. After all, we all had been with him for such a long time. Why didn’t he show any mercy?’”

“Master, Dr. Quirke may need us to go there in person. He has a bad temper, which is known throughout the dark web.” The man next to Simon suggested.

“You’re right. Those who have a bad attitude towards Dr. Quirke were refused treatment by him and could only wait for death.” The more Simon thought about it, the more he felt scared. What if Dr. Quirke didn’t treat him? “Go and prepare some gifts in person. We will come together to make amends for Dr. Quirke.”

“Yes, sir.”

On the border of Hydias, dozens of camps were surrounded in the forest. The largest camp in the middle was the command area of the two commanding officers.

Eddie looked at the drilled soldiers in the monitor and said proudly, “Kenneth, look how well these people have been trained.”

The thought of such soldiers being his subordinates made him very proud.

“Well, it worked well this time.” Kenneth was also very satisfied, “We can go three days.”

back in

He had been out of contact with Cassandra for more than ten days. He didn’t know how she was doing recently.

“Yeah, I miss my wife. I want to go back and hug her...”

Kenneth’s face darkened. He was just showing off.

Suddenly, a video came in from their monitoring computer. It was the higher-ups.

They immediately got up and said solemnly, “General!”

“Kenneth, Eddie.”

“Yes, sir!”

“Urgent mission!”

Kenneth and Eddie immediately became solemn. They saluted to the person on the computer screen, “Please command!”

“There is a big drug dealer on the border where you are, and our police officers have sacrificed a lot at his hands. You must catch him for me. I will shoot him. myself!” The more the General talked, the angrier he became.

It was so hard for the country to train a good police officer, but this person had killed many.

Smuggling and drug trafficking were all unforgivable things. We must catch him at any cost.

guarantee to complete the mission!" Kenneth and Eddie said in unison.

This mission is very dangerous and may have sacrifices. You must protect yourself and your soldiers. I'll wait for your triumph." After the General finished his instructions, he suddenly remembered something.

By the way, according to reliable information, Dr. Quirke has accepted the drug dealer's offer to treat him. He has arrived in Hydias. You can think of a way to turn him around and let him be your spy." He almost forgot about it, but Duckie remembered it.

Kenneth was stunned. He asked, "General, do you mean Dr. Quirke? Faye?"

"Yeah, isn't he the only Dr. Quirke? He has an odd temper. Think about ways when you turn him over. The General could not help but say a few more words.

"Leave it to me. It was Dr. Quirke who solved Kayden's poison before." Kenneth was still shocked.

Why was Cassandra here? Didn't she know it's dangerous here?

Did she plan to go to the drug dealer's place alone and kill them all?

Didn't she know how dangerous it was?

The more Kenneth thought about it, the angrier he became.

“Well, you can use your phones now. The maneuver is over, and the mission begins. The General directly hung up the video.

Kenneth quickly took out his phone turned it on, and called Cassandra. Unexpectedly, it was directly hung un

It could not be connected for the time being.

Kenneth’s face darkened Eddie was confuet, Kenneth, what are you doing? Call Dr. Quirke?”

“Call Cassie,” Kenneth replied coldly.

“I thought you were on a mission. At this time, lets puthter aside and carry out the mission.” Eddie’s mouth twitched. He thought Kenneth was so fast that he called Dr. Quirke directly but to call Cassandra.

“Cassie is Dr. Quirke.” Kenneth looked at Eddie.

Eddie was shocked.

What did he hear?

Was it real?

“Isn’t your girlfriend Magnolia? How could she be Dr. Quirke?”

“Cassie is also from the National Security Bureau.

“Then why did she go to treat that drug dealer?” Eddie asked coldly. Since she had so many identities, why did she approach him?

“I think she wants to kill them all together.” The more Kenneth thought about it, the more ominous feeling he had in his heart.

“Call Kayden and ask if he came along,” Eddie asked Kenneth to call Kayden.

“Have you come to Hydias?”

“Shit, how do you know?” Kayden couldn’t help but wonder, “Are you done? Hurry up, I need your help.”

“Where are you?” Kenneth asked coldly.

“In the hotel in the city center, it is estimated the drug dealer will come soon.”

“Send me the address and we’ll come right away.” Kenneth hung up the phone and looked at Eddie.

Eddie nodded and gave the order to all members on the public channel,

“Everyone! The maneuver is over. The maneuver is over. Everyone comes back to the tent. There’s an urgent mission! There’s an urgent mission!”
