

Hey, My Twins Babies

CHAPTER 12 THE MAN SHE DOESN'T WANT TO SEE

After stepping out of the president's office, Winnie headed for the elevator. When the elevator door opened, she was surprised. In the elevator there was a graceful woman for whom Winnie was familiar. Winnie came back to her sense, pretend not have seen her and walked directly into the elevator. The woman, on the other hand, had no intention of going out. "Long time no see." The woman spoke first, but her voice was very proud. "....." Winnie did not answer her. She had deleted such a person in her memory and did not want to have anything to do with her. "Winnie, don't pretend not to know me." The woman's voice was cold and she was angry for Winnie's silence. "It is better to pretend I don't know you. I feel sick talking to someone like you." Winnie's hatred was far more than her own prediction. She thought that after so many years, she would think it was not a big deal. But when they met again, she knew her hatred was still clear and still burning herself. "Winnie..." The woman was angry and raised her voice, but at this time, the elevator stopped at the 25th floor, Winnie ignored the woman's anger and resolutely walked out of the elevator. Before returning to the city, Winnie had expected to meet the people who made her sad. But she did not expect to meet her so soon, which made her unprepared. She broke up with Leo in her most difficult time was because that woman Penny Burns. She used to be her best friend as Daenerys. They went to college together, lived in the same dormitory, and studied abroad together. But she betrayed Winnie in the end. She was a bestie stabbing a knife from the back. Was she scheming, or was Winnie too stupid to distinguish between true and false friend? Penny returned to the 30th floor with anger and doubts. She took the clothes for her husband, but did not go directly to find her husband, but to the secretary office. "Why is that woman who just went out here?" Penny's tone was arrogant and she seemed to be questioning. "A woman? Is that Miss Chambers?" Klara was asked suddenly, so she was not sure who Penny was talking about. "Yes, Winnie." Penny said impatiently. "Miss Chambers is now working in our company. She is the chief engineer sent by the headquarters of MT Company." "Work here?" Penny frowned and continued to say. "Bring me her information." It was almost imperative. Penny was dominant. "I'm sorry, Young Mistress, but we can't give out our employees' personal information without the president's permission. Ask the president in person if you want to know anything." Klara seemed to have been accustomed to Penny's attitude towards people, and would not yield to her dominance. "You.....Aren't you afraid I'll let Brian fire you?" Penny was angry and wanted to say dirty words. If not Brian was inside, she would have done something to her. "Young Mistress, Mr. Bennet is waiting for clothes, so you had better go in first." Klara said calmly and was not affected by the words of Penny, because she had heard many times of such a threat and she now had been immune. Penny was angry. She took a look at the clothes and turned around to the president's office after giving Klara a glance. At the moment she pushed open the door to the president's office, Penny restrained her exasperation and dominance and pretended to be gentle and generous, quiet and clever. In short, she had super power of perfect metamorphosis. "Honey, I send clothes to you." Penny's voice was as sweet as sugar, which was different from her just now. However in the next second, Penny received Brian's warning eyes. "Sorry, I forgot." Penny quickly changed her speech and tone. "You didn't come home last night and didn't call the housekeeper. I was so worried that I didn't sleep all night. When I woke up this morning, the secretary..." "You can go after placing the clothes." Brian had no patience and drove her out with cold and domineering tone. "Oh, I put it on the sofa." Penny put away the clothes and continues to say. "It is weekend tomorrow, let's take Luke out to play. He can't always stay at home and should go out to contact nature." "I don't have time. You take him out alone." Brian said coldly, and there was no temperature in his tone. "He's at the old house, Grandpa..." Penny continued, regardless of Brian's firm attitude, but was stopped by Brian's angry voice. "I told you to deal with it alone. Don't bother me. Get out." There was anger in Brian's eyes and his voice was cold. He hated most the disobedient woman. Penny did not dare to speak, and did not dare to ask about Winnie, but could only obediently leave. After work, Winnie went directly to kindergarten and saw the little sunshine boy Luke again. "Luke." She first called Luke instead of her daughter. "Auntie! When Luke saw Winnie, the gloomy mood on his face disappeared. "Does Mommy now like Luke more than the me?" Megan deliberately pouted and walked slowly to Winnie. "No, I like you both. Mummy loves him because he takes care of you." Winnie said in a doting manner. When she saw this boy, she wanted to love him, spoil him, protect him, and take care of him. "I like you, too." "Mommy, when is my birthday? Uncle said Luke's birthday was almost the same as mine, so make I am elder." When Winnie and Luke looked at each other with love, Megan was jealous and changed the topic. "Birthday? Your birthday is January 23rd." Winnie said lightly. "January 23rd?"

Auntie, my birthday is also January 23rd." Luke excitedly said, and then continued to say looking at Megan. "We were born on the same day. You may not be the elder sister. Call me brother, I'll protect you." Luke said proudly. In his heart even if he was younger than Megan, he still wanted to be elder brother and wanted to protect Megan. The two children began to argue about who was older and who was younger, but Winnie was surprised by Luke's birthday. They were born on the same day in the same year, was it fate or coincidence? "Well, you don't have to argue. Luke is the elder brother, and Megan is the younger sister." Winnie came to her senses and stopped the two children with a smile. "Luke, who will pick you up today, Mom or Dad?" Winnie did not casually ask, she wanted to know more about Luke. However, Luke looked suddenly sad after he heard that. "Daddy had never picked me up since I started kindergarten. He's always been busy." Luke stopped, and then lowered his head slowly, looking sad. "And Mommy?" Looking at the depressed Luke, Winnie felt distressed and knew how much he looked forward to his father coming to pick him up. "Mommy... Mommy won't come to pick me up, and I don't want her to pick me up." Speaking of mommy, Luke had resistance, but still reluctantly answered. "Why?" Winnie was puzzled and began to be angry. There must be some special reason why parents, no matter how busy they were, never picked up their child once. "I live with my great grandpa. I go home on weekends when Daddy is home and stay with great grandpa when Daddy goes on a business trip. My great grandpa's housekeeper came to pick me up every time."
