

Hey, My Twins Babies

CHAPTER 14 CALL HIS NAME

Brian's answer was in Winnie's expectation, but after hearing it, she felt uncomfortable. She felt wrong that her enthusiasm was trampled ruthlessly, but she did not want to give up. "I have no right to interfere your family, but you will cast a shadow on the boy by treating him like that. Childhood is only once, why do you let the child live carefully?" Winnie retorted. Why she talked with him was that she wanted to see more smiles on Luke's face, and wanted to see the child to open his hearts and to do what he wanted to do. She could not bear to see he was subdued and timid. "....." Brian did not speak, but his dark eyes were gloomy, and he seemed to be angry. "Don't look at me like that. I told you I'm not your employee. I'm not paid by you, so I am not afraid of you." Every man Winnie met was as cold as ice, and she got used to it, so Brian's trick didn't work for her. Winnie continued. "I think you and your wife are too strict to this child. Luke does not dare to approach you at all. You will have bad effect, you know? You control the child and gradually he will be depressed, which will cause psychological diseases." Winnie paused as Brian, still staring at her, did not respond at all "Have you finished?" Brian's eyes were gloomy and cold. "No. When you realize there's something wrong with your parenting style, I will stop..." "Ah...What are you doing?" Winnie had not finished her provocative words, and Brian, with a force, hugged Winnie in his chest. If there were no Winnie's hands against his chest, there was no gap between the two people. "Let me go, what am I to be seen?" Winnie tried hard to free herself from Brian's arms, but it didn't work. "There will be no one here. Nobody dares to come to my place." Brian said in a domineering way. His facial expression was cold, and there was unknown meaning in his pupils. "Don't move, or you will be in danger." It could be told that Brian was angry from his eyes. Winnie had been struggling and wiggling. They were so close, and her struggle seemed to have other feelings. "You..... Let me go, you're disrespecting me." Winnie saw Brian anger in his eyes, did not dare to continue to struggle, but she refused to be defeated. Winnie did not expect to have such a situation. Being close to Brian made her heartbeat lost its tempo. And the irregular heartbeat annoyed her. "I will respect you if you respect me. It is disrespectful of you to meddle in my family affairs. By the way, I'm warning you not to think of me." Brian's eyes were like a knife, and there was no warmth on his handsome face. "You.....You let me go, or the kids will see it..." Winnie was angry, but now the main problem was to escape Brian's embrace. When it came to children, Brian let go of her. MaLKe Brian was afraid his child would tell his wife when he came home. Thinking of this, Winnie had an indescribable feeling. Winnie arranged her messy clothes, and then calm down. "Mr. Bennet, are you sure that whatever I do is to seduce you?" It was necessary for Winnie to make things clear. She cannot always let Brian distort her thought. "Isn't it? Your ambition began when you first met me." Brian glared at Winnie angrily. His tone was nod, not questioning but judging. "The first time I met you?" Winnie looked at Brian inconceivably and said. "Are you kidding? I have no idea who you are when I first met you. Why did I seduce you?" "There is no woman who does not know me. You were lucky to meet me on the plane, and you are ambitious and started to get close to Luke." Brian was cold and calm, as if all this was true and he had known it but he did not reveal it. "Why do you say that about me, Brian? I've been careful since the first time you suspected me. I even asked Seth to report to you. I wanted to take the kid out to play, but I told you don't have to come. I avoid you, but you still considered me in that way. Brian, since you are so suspicious of me, since I was a scheming woman in your eyes, I will now ask the company to send a person to replace me." Winnie was so angry that she could not care too much and called Brian by his full name. She had never thought of hooking up with any man, and she had never been such a woman in other people's mouth. She did not understand why Brian would slander her like this. He was arrogant, rich and promising, and he thought everyone would look up to him and everyone wanted to climb into his bed to be his woman. Brian's face was gloomy and his eyes were dark. He said nothing but once again got close to Winnie. Winnie had a lesson from the last time and knew what he was going to do. She quickly stepped back, but in the next moment her hand was pulled and she was pulled away from the spot. "Let go, what are you doing?" Winnie lowered her voice for fear the children not far away might hear her. Brian completely ignored Winnie's words. Now he was provoked by this woman, and his anger had not way to vent out. Winnie was pulled to the back of a sturdy tree, still thinking about how to get rid of Brian's bondage, but Brian quickly pressed her against the tree."You.....What are you doing? Here..."Winnie was frightened by Brian's eyes with a raging fire. She was afraid that the fire would swallow her.Her heart was beating fast, without knowing it was because of anger or because of Brian's close.No matter what, she hated her reaction now, which was not calm enough. And she was not the Winnie who had suffered a lot."Children can't see it here."Brian curled his lips and restrained his anger in the chest."Stay away from me."Winnie's eyes became bright, and her heart stopped beating for a few seconds.She just said the kid would see it, and he found a place where the kid couldn't see it, and then..."Stay away from you? How will you be punished if I stay away?"Brian's dark fundus was placid, and his cold tone was hoarse.Looking at this woman at a close distance, who had slightly flushed face out of anger, stubborn but flustered bright eyes, and her trembling red lips, Brian felt lost."Why do you punish me? What have I done wrong?"Winnie continued to question, but her voice became smaller and smaller, for Brian's handsome face was getting closer and closer. Winnie feared that her breath would spread onto his face, which was too intimate."You made two mistakes. One was to call me by my full name."As Brian simple and overbearing voice fell, he directly kissed Winnie's attractive lips.He wanted to frighten her, but he failed to control himself."..."Winnie stared her eyes wide. She was frightened, incredible, but she could not say a word to refuse.Winnie was distracted for a moment, but more annoyed and humiliated.With force, she pushed Brian away, then raise hit in the face of Brian.
