

My Twins 181

Hey, My Twins Babies

CHAPTER 181 MEET AGAIN

Daenerys tried to pull her hand back, but it didn't work. She could only protest. "Let go, I still have to work." "Let's have dinner after work." With a smirk on his face, Kevin said. "I don't have time. I have to work late." Daenerys refused Kevin, but she dared not raise her head to see him for fear that her eyes would betray herself. "Then I won't let you go, you don't work, and I won't have dinner. We'll see who insists the longest." Kevin said. Now he could not be humble and polite to Daenerys. "You..." Daenerys did not know what to say. She was not as stubborn as Winnie and she knew she could not insist, so she could only compromise. "Wait a minute, we can go for dinner after I finish." "No problem, I'll wait for you here." Kevin knew he made it. As long as Daenerys agreed, he could wait. It was better to be later and got drunk. Winnie left the hospital. She was happy to think of Daenerys and Kevin's love. But the happier others were, the lonelier she felt. All the people in the world had their own harbor to rely on, only she was a lonely individual, and no one to share her loneliness and hardship. Winnie drove to a supermarket to buy something to suburb. No sooner the car had just parked than the cell phone rang. It was Leo and Winnie picked it up. "You are busy. Why do you have time to call me?" Winnie said jokingly. "I am not that busy. Where are you? Are you off work?" Leo said gently over the phone. Every time she heard Leo's voice, she thought of Brian. If only Brian could be as gentle to her. "I'm off work. I'm going back to the suburbs." "Don't go back now, I need your help." So Winnie restarted the car and planned to be back to the suburbs after helping Leo. Winnie drove to the place where she used to live. From getting off the car, it seemed that there were memories of him and Brian everywhere. Although there were not many good memories, it was enough. When Winnie came to the 18th floor, she rang the doorbell and was waiting for Leo to open the door. The door opposite was opened. Brian came out followed by Klara. Winnie was surprised to see them come out together, and there was an indescribable feeling. She believed that Brian only cared and helped Klara, but Klara's heart to Brian had never been simple. Klara had love in her eyes to Brian, which made Winnie feel sad. But she realized that she was overthinking. Brian had nothing to do with her, why should she feel sad? Brian was also surprised to see Winnie standing in front of Leo's door, and then he frowned. So their relationship had developed so fast in a few days? More than once Winnie said she would not be with Leo, so what was going on here? She had just ended relationship with him and now she could not wait to come to Leo? "Mr. Bennet, Klara." Winnie was the first to say hello. She couldn't ignore them anyway, but she didn't expect the greeting to end up putting herself in an awkward position. Brian glared at her angrily and did not speak. Klara looked at her with disdain and did not speak. When Winnie was embarrassed, Leo opened the door and came out. "Here you are, Winwin." "Mr. Bennet, you are here too." Leo greeted, but his voice was serious. Brian still did not say a word, but stood there glaring at Winnie. "Let's go in." Winnie felt no need to talk to the two black-faced men again, and realized that she should not have said hello. "Okay, let's go in." Leo stretched out an arm to embrace Winnie's shoulder, before turning around, Leo could not help but say to Klara. "Klara, when Winwin greets you, you should know the most basic manners. Don't look at Winwin with contempt, she is very good, there is nothing you can despise." Leo's voice was unprecedentedly cold and angry. He saw the reaction of Brian and Klara in the video inside the house. He could understand Brian's reaction. He must be angry that Winnie was here. But Klara's arrogant and disdainful attitude made Leo angry. Klara did not expect that. She was surprise and panic. She was standing beside Brian, and Brian could not see her expression, so she was bold to despise Winnie. Leo exposed her, which made her embarrassed. "Mr. Johnson..." As Klara was to explain, Brian looked sharply at her, and she had to shut up. But Leo did not want to stop. "Mr. Bennet, it seems your secretary should be sent to study. Winwin....." "Well, stop it. What Klara did to me is her business." Winnie interrupted Leo's words, not because he hated Leo spoke for her, but she did not want to be stared at by Brian angrily. She did understand why he was so angry, why he kept silent. If it was because he disliked her, the best thing she could do now was to disappear in front of him. "Klara, I won't say hello to you again, bother you again, I am sorry for this time." Winnie said ironically, about Brian should know he could punish Klara. If he protected her, even if Winnie spoke out all her dissatisfaction and discrimination, Brian would do nothing to Klara. What was more, Klara had a lifetime "amulet" to protect herself, which Winnie did not have. Klara was embarrassed, even though there was no dirty word and disdainful eyes. "Winwin, I will move away from here tomorrow, and you won't meet rude people." Leo was still angry, and then turned into the house with Winnie. Brian heard Klara's disrespect to Winnie from their conversation. He warned Klara with a scowl and then took a big step to leave directly. For Klara's disrespectful behavior, he did not take it seriously. He was angry that Winnie came to Leo's home and Leo naturally out his hand on Winnie's shoulder. Why didn't she refuse Leo's approaching? Why did she appear? Had they been together? Winnie entered the room and stood at the door to change shoes. She did not hear the sound outside. She knew that Brian did not even accuse Klara, which made her disappointed. Winnie told herself to let go even if disappointed, because how Brian treated Klara had nothing to do with her. Winnie thought Leo called her to study software, but as she walked in and saw the delicious food on the table, she knew she had been cheated. "You cheated me." After adjusting her mood, Winnie said jokingly. "You wouldn't have come if I didn't cheat you." Leo forgot what happened just now and got into another stage. He was not busy today. He went off work in advance made cook some food, intending to give Winnie a surprise. He said that he would move out tomorrow and would never let such a thing happen again. He would not embarrass Winnie. "Go wash your hands to have a meal, or it will get cold." Winnie put her bag down and went to the bathroom. At this moment, Daenerys and Kevin were together, Brian and Klara were together and she needed an environment that she was not alone. She refused to drink because she needed to drive. They chatted about some insignificant things to keep the atmosphere pleasant. "Winwin, I heard you want to buy a house." Leo mentioned the topic he cared deeply about. "Did Daenerys tell you?" Winnie asked. "Daenerys has nothing to hide from you, it seems." "....." Kevin did not speak, but showed a slight smile. "Yes, I've paid my deposit, and I'm going to do the formalities tomorrow." Winnie answered truthfully. "Do you need a loan? I can lend you the money and you can buy it at full amount, so there is no pressure." Leo did not dare to give Winnie money, otherwise, she would refuse and feel self-esteem hurting. "....." Winnie was silent for a few moments before pretending to be relaxed and replying to Leo. "I would feel more pressure owing you money. It's been a long time and you don't know me. It's enough for now, but when it's not enough, I'll borrow it from you." Winnie refused. She would rather owe money to the bank than favors from others. "Winwin, don't always turn down my help. It is proper for friends to help each other. You will not come to work in my company, but I will still need your help in software. Isn't it ok to help each other?" Leo persuaded Winnie. He knew that she did everything on her own and that she didn't want to owe anyone. But Leo did not want to see her struggle, did not want to see her desperate to fight for money. He wanted her to have an easy life. "You don't need my help. How can I ask you for help? You're not afraid of being indebted to me. You're refusing my help." Leo had no other way. In order to make Winnie accept his help, he could only use this move."How you can I refuse to help you? I can do it on my own, so..."Winwin, don't say no again. I've heard all about you from Daenerys. If you buy a house with a loan, you don't even have a year's living expenses after paying the down payment. When you buy a new house, you need to buy daily necessities, and your two children have to change their kindergarten. You need to spend much money. If you don't have enough money, you won't have an easy life."My money is not to lend you for nothing. Just like bank, you pay me interest, so that you don't have to owe me favors and the loan fee can be saved."Leo tried hard to make Winnie accept his money.

Hey, My Twins Babies

CHAPTER 182 TERMINATION OF CONTRACT

Winnie lost her job, and it would take at least half a year for her to get a dividend of the new job. So she almost ran out of money, and it would worry her. "....." Winnie was silent again, with her smile fading. Leo was right. She did not have plenty of money. It cost a lot to buy a house, change kindergarten for the children and pay for Vanessa's university. And she could not always use Leo's car. Winnie thought it over and gave her own opinion. "Leo, how about this? Lend me a million and I'll pay you back at the bank's rate." This was Winnie's bottom line. One million yuan was enough to run a small drugstore for her aunt, which was enough to sustain their life for six months. "A million won't fix anything..." "That's a deal. I'll borrow more from you if it isn't enough." Winnie interrupted Leo's words and made it a deal. Leo was helpless. It seemed more difficult to help her than do business, but he could accept Winnie's decision, after all, she began to accept his help, which was a good start. Winnie had dinner at Leo's home. After chatting for a while, Winnie got up and went home. She came to the parking lot and found the car. As she was about to open the door, Brian unexpectedly appeared in front of her. He looked at her angrily. "....." Winnie did not speak, as if she had not seen Brian. She continued to reach out to open the door. Thinking that Brian ignored her just now, she was angry. She learned a lesson and did not say hello to Brian. "What took you so long to go downstairs?" Brian questioned her coldly, at the same time, he held Winnie's hand on the car door. "Let go, I don't know you." Winnie shook off Brian's hand, but she knew she would fail. Winnie was angry, but from Brian's words, he had been probably waiting downstairs for her. Why was he waiting for her? To sneer or make disparaging remarks on her? "You don't know me but Leo?" Brian raised his voice and held her hand more tightly out of anger. "You didn't take anything from me, but you use Leo's car. What on earth do you mean?" Brian was angry and did not give a second thought to his words. All he knew was that if he saw Winnie being with Leo, he would lose his mind. "Does it matter to you whose car I use or whose home I go to?" Winnie said to Brian fearlessly. "Don't you remember we have nothing to do with each other? Don't you think it funny to come and question me but you looked at me disdainfully?" "You have no right to mind which man I am with and I have no right to mind which woman you are with. That's the attitude of being strangers." Winnie suddenly shook off Brian's hand. When she stretched out her hand to open the door, Brian stopped her again. He didn't grab her wrist. Instead, he leaned against the car door, making it impossible for Winnie to open it. He was speechless and woke up from anger. He knew that he had no right to mind Winnie's business and that he should let her go at the moment. But he loathed doing so. Even if he said nothing, he wanted to stand with her. After a while, Winnie calmed down. "Get out of my way. You can't stand in front of me all your life." Winnie looked at Brian indifferently. Looking at his clear eyes, she knew that they were over. "Did Klara give you another hard time?" Brian changed the topic, wanting to say more words with Winnie. "She has never stopped doing that. The day I handed over the work, she gave me a warning look." Winnie did not want to talk about that. But she had left the Bennet Group and Brian, Klara still regarded her as a thorn in the flesh. Why, why should she be treated like this? She had not done anything sorry to Klara, nor done anything to hurt her interests, why should she be stared at angrily? No matter how Brian thought of her, she didn't want to endure it. Constant patience would only make her live more humble. "But never mind, I don't have to face her now. So thank you for keeping me away from the Bennet Group and her hostile gaze." With that, Winnie pushed Brian away and got into the car. She was angry when she thought of these things. Klara was mean to her and Brian ignored it. However it was over, and she would not be gratuitously discriminated and have to accept the selfish partiality of Brian. She was free, and her world was bright without Brian. The next day, Winnie asked for a day off with the company to handle the purchase procedures and loan matters. With Leo's one million, she became confident. It took a whole day to get everything done, and she just needed to wait for the bank to approve the loan, and then she could get the key to move in. Winnie began to develop and design games to make more money. Every day after work, she got home to work on it and she did not have a little extra time. The police did not make progress. They had found Daniel's computer, but there was no useful information. Penny became more arrogant when she got the news. She thought the police could do nothing to her. Penny was pleased and felt she had the courage to face Brian again, so she went to Brian's office. In president office, Brian glared at Penny sharply. Penny was scared and regretted she had come, but since she was there, she could not shrink. "Brian, I will go to my father's home tomorrow. Will you go with me?" Penny said in a soft voice. She had hope Brian and had never thought to give up. She believed that she had the ability to defeat Winnie and had Brian, and she had been telling herself to insist. "Why should I go back with you? Who are you to demand from me? You have come at the right time, Penny, let's settle our relationship." Brian was intolerant. If it were not for the Burns Group, if it were not for the police, he would have left the relationship with Penny. "What do you mean, Brian?" Penny instantly became panic. Today she came here to ease the relationship between them and did not expect to hear such words from Brian. "Don't you understand? I said rescind the contract, immediately." Brian shouted angrily. This five years contract marriage finally ended. And he finally felt relaxed. "Brian, how could you? How could you rescind the contract like this? I've been careful around you for so many years..." "Shut up. I don't want to hear another word from you. You know what you have done all these years." Brian coolly stopped Penny's defense, then continued. "According to the stipulation in the contract, you will have the villa and the agreed money." Brian pulled a contract out of his desk. "It's the contract we signed, and it's useless right now." As his cold voice fell, Brian tore up this contract, also tore up the five years marriage. "Brian, you can't do that. You can't cancel the contract unilaterally. I haven't agreed..." Penny looked at the contract which had been torn up and felt heartbreaking. She protested and resisted, unwilling to put an end to their relationship. However at the moment, Brian did not want to see Penny or to listen to her words. Brian angrily interrupted Penny. "Get the hell out of here, now." The he press the inner line. "Call Albert come in to drive Penny out, notice the whole company, Penny is no longer my wife." As Brian's voice fell, Albert broke in with security guard and dragged Penny out. "Brian, let's talk. We can't end it like this. Brian..." Penny still struggled, but her voice dissipated into the air. As Penny left, Albert and Klara were in the president's office. Albert was happy, so was Klara. But they were happy for different reason, and Brian could see it through at a glance. Albert was happy because Penny finally got such a end, while Klara was happy because an opponent had been got rid of. Klara's smile made Brian think of Winnie's grievance, think of her contempt for Winnie.No matter what kind of person Winnie was, he could treat her casually, but others could not, especially Klara who had extreme mind and wanted to be his wife."Albert, find a suitable person to take over Klara's work. She can choose any department except mine."Brian finally issued a command, and transferred Klara away from him.For so many years, she had been working flawlessly, hard enough and earnest enough. If she had no selfishness and desire for him, she would certainly continue to stay in the president's secretary office.It was her own greed that clouded her prospects."Mr. Bennet..."Klara was shocked to hear that."Mr. Bennet, if I do something wrong, you can punish me, and I'll correct it. Please don't make me go to another department."Klara begged, but she did not understand why Brian made such a decision and she did not know what she had done wrong.

Hey, My Twins Babies

CHAPTER 183 WAIT FOR MY ORDERS

"I warned you, but you didn't correct it. You should understand what Leo said that day. Klara, you should give up on me. If you continue to stay with me, you will be jealous of Wendy when she comes back. Since you could not do the distinction between private and private, you can only leave me." Brian said indifferently. He did not want such a thing to happen, but in order not to make her go deeper and deeper, he had to do so. Brian's words made Klara understand that Brian had known she was disrespect to and jealousy of Winnie. Klara hated Winnie deeply, but she had nothing to say, after all, these were the facts. "I see, Mr. Bennet. I accept the transfer. I will work harder and I will not let you down." Klara turned to leave, and the moment she turned around, her eyes were full of disobedience and resentment. The office fell into the dead silence. Brian felt sorry for the dead assistant, but there was nothing he could do. Albert said nothing since he entered the office, he had expected the transfer of Klara. He warned Klara more than once, but she did not take the advice, so it was her come to such an end. "Fine me a male secretary. No female staff to me in the future." Brian reminded Albert coldly. He did want to handle such trouble again. "I see, Mr. Bennet. I will do it tomorrow." Albert paused before he said. "Mr. Bennet, the breach of the Burns Groups has been found. As long as we make a move, it would go bankrupt." Albert came to report this good news. They finally found an opportunity with Rufus's help. "Found it? Good, wait for my orders." Brian was surprised. Everything related to the Burns Group would come to an end and he would finish the task his grandpa gave. From now on, he would be out of his grandpa's control. Penny was defiant and resentful. When she was evicted from the Bennet Group, almost everyone saw that. She was humiliated and ashamed. However, she owed all this to Winnie. Without Winnie, she would not have the current ending; Without Winnie, her contract marriage would continue; Without Winnie, she was still Mrs. Bennet. At the moment she did not have backup and she would be laughed at by her brothers and sisters, be abandoned by her father, because she had no use for the Burns family. She would have nothing. No, she would not allow such a thing to happen, and would not be looked down by Winnie. Penny was to call Winnie. She wanted to scold her, but as she pulled out the phone, Richard called her. Penny was afraid that Richard had already known about the matter of breaking off the marriage. After a moment's hesitation, she picked up the phone nervously. "Dad." Penny's voice was timid and she was ready to be scolded. "Where are you, can you talk now?" Richard's voice sounded eager, but not abusive. "I'm in the car, I can talk." Penny felt mysterious and looked around. "I told you that Winnie had a big background and you should not offend her. I am right." Richard was slightly flustered. "What background?" Penny was puzzled. "Winnie is not as simple as you said. She is Luke's mother, and the girl with her is Brian's child." Richard's tone was still shocked, though he had known this for a while. "What?" Asked Penny, incredulously. "Winnie is Luke's real mother." Richard repeated it again loudly. "Winnie is Luke's real mother? How is that possible?" Penny widened eyes in astonishment and she looked straight out of the car. This news is so shocking and scary. She preferred to believe that it was only a dream, or that Richard was making a joke with her. Winnie could not be Luke's mother. How could she have contact with Brian? How could Brian allow a woman who had nothing to give birth to his child? It was impossible. It was false. It must be false. Penny could not believe it, and would not believe it. If Winnie was Luke's mother, she would not have a chance and had completely lost to Winnie. "Nothing is impossible, only you think she is so simple, only you always misjudge people. Now, don't you understand why Brian protects Winnie? Why Brian always stands up for Winnie in everything?" Richard said angrily. Penny was too hasty, too careless in everything. Without knowing the identity of Winnie, she felt with her with sinister measures. This was a big mistake. "Brian is protecting Winnie?" Yes, Brian had been protecting Winnie. Since Winnie came back, Brian had never been kind to Penny. Regarding Winnie's attitude to Luke, Penny suspected more than once, but she did not expect that she was Luke's mother. "You have no hope, leave now. If Brian comes to you, it will get the Burns Group involved." Richard was already nervous, and the tension was growing stronger and more frightening. It seemed that the Burns Group would be swallowed up in the next second. Now only Penny disappeared immediately, Brian would stop being angry and the Burns Group would be saved. Only when Penny left, he could feel at ease. "Why should I leave? The police could not find out my fault. It's Winnie who should leave." Penny lost her mind and shouted loudly over the phone. She was a weapon of Winnie's growth, a tool that Brian used, and a pawn of her father. Everyone looked down upon her. She wanted to see if she could make them take her seriously. "Are you mad? Are you going to make another trouble? If you don't leave now, you won't be able to leave. The police will find you one day, and Brian won't spare you. Winnie has the evident that you abused her child, and she will not let you go." "After all the bad things you've done, you'll die if you don't leave. You can die, but don't bring the Burns family into trouble." Richard was furious and could not help scolding Penny. She always misjudged at critical moments and always didn't know what was important. She was so stupid "If I die, I will die with Winnie. I will break off relations with you now. I will not bring the family into trouble." Penny snarled angrily and hung up the phone. At this time, she did not know what to do. Her father made her disappointed and desperate. Now she began to regret that she went back to her hypocritical father. If she had not left Leo, she would be happy now. For the family, she sacrificed a lot, but no one saw it and no one appreciated it. In that case she had nothing to do with the Burns family. Penny felt better after a while. She made a call to Winnie, but Winnie did not answer her phone. She did not know where Winnie was now, what she was doing. She drove her car to suburb and waited for Winnie on a path that she must take. Winnie knew the police did not find any evidence. She felt that Daniel must have left something, she planned to go to the police station after work, perhaps she could provide evidence. But by the time she got off work and arrived at the police station, the police were off duty. So Winnie drove home and was ready to be there again the next day. When she was near home, Winnie found Penny standing in the middle of the road. She knew that Penny was waiting for her. She pulled over, and before she could get out of the car, Penny got to the passenger seat. She closed the door and glared at Winnie with sinister eyes. "Say it and don't do anything grandiose." Winnie said and she had been used to Penny who was insidious and angry. She felt it was a waste of time and energy. "Grandiose? Isn't it that grandiose that you are Luke's mother? Isn't it that grandiose that Megan is Brian's child?" Penny was angry and she hated Winnie more than that Winnie hated her. She hated

Winnie and wished her to be death, so that she could be with Brian forever. "How do you know?" Winnie was surprised, but soon she adjusted her mood, because soon it would be known to everyone, including Penny. "Don't ask me how I know. I just want to know how you seduced Brian and how you got pregnant with his children." Penny could not figure it out how Winnie did that. "Well, I thank you for that. If you hadn't taken Leo away, I would never have had anything to do with Brian in my whole life." Winnie gave a cold hum, and did not intend to hide the fact. "What do you mean?" Penny was puzzled. "My family was in an accident at that time. I borrowed money from Leo, but Leo broke up with me and refused to lend me money because of you. I need a rich man to help me overcome the difficulties, so I met Brian, and then I had Luke and Megan. Don't you think I should thank you? How could I give birth to Brian's children without you?" Winnie did not hide the fact, but she did not mention surrogacy, for fear of inconvenience to Brian. Hearing that, Penny's thoughts went back to five years ago.

Hey, My Twins Babies

CHAPTER 184 PENNY'S LAST HOPE

Five years ago, the day after Penny and Brian made a deal, Brian came to her and told her he had a child. At that time, Brian said nothing but that he was his child. If Penny did not accept that, their marriage would be dissolved. Penny did not agree to Brian on the spot, after going home to discuss with Richard, she thought of the situation and finally accepted the child. Now she found that it matched to what Winnie said and the time was right. Penny thought Luke was born by the other woman, and she did not expect it was Winnie. Was it an accident or a plan of Winnie? "Winnie, you have long revenged on me. You knew Brian is my husband so you set him as your goal." Penny looked at Winnie angrily. She did not believe that it was accident or that Brian would have a relationship with Winnie. "Do you have a problem with you brain? I told you I was with Brian because I need to pay the hospital fee for my mother. Did you know Brian at that time? Was you Miss Burns at that time?" Winnie was speechless that Penny held that thought. She did not expect Penny to be so stupid and she did not what she had been through. "I don't care. You made me parted with Brian. Get away now, or I will tell Brian and he will take the custody of Megan back. And I will abuse your two children endlessly." Penny felt humiliated. She realized that she was abroad when Winnie was with Brian and had just started her relationship with Leo. Now she felt humiliated by Winnie, but she wanted to get her dignity by threatening Winnie. Winnie gave an ironic smile. She did not expect that Penny was thinking about Brian and did not realize her mistake. Winnie stopped smiling and became cold. "You will never have a chance to abuse my child again. Penny, watch your mouth, or I will not forgive you." Penny still said that she had abused her child and it made Winnie angry. "Get off the car. Don't you want to tell Brian, go them, tell him Megan is his child. I would like to see if he will give a chance to you to abuse his child." Winnie shouted loudly with hatred to Penny in eyes. "Good, Winnie, good for you. You are not afraid of my threat, right? Wait and see who will win." Penny looked at Winnie angrily, as if she was to kill Winnie. She opened the door car, slammed the door and then left in anger. She tried to calm down to think what needed to be settled. Looking at the back of Penny crossing the road, Winnie suddenly felt that she was the poorest person. She had been long with Brian, but she knew nothing about Brian and even heard of Wendy. Even if Penny drove Winnie away, she could do nothing about Wendy. Penny kept blaming her for breaking up their relationship, but she did not know she would leave one day. Otherwise, Brian would not have a contract marriage. The next day, Winnie left early for work. First she went to the police station to see the computer the police had found. "Can I turn on the computer?" Puzzled, Winnie found that appearance of the computer was not the same, but she was not sure. "Yes, but the data has lost." The policeman said and gave a pair of gloves to Winnie. Winnie worked on the computer, but there was nothing useful in it. "Did you locate this?" Winnie asked seriously. "Yes, we found it as you said." The policeman answered in the affirmative. "He probably has another computer. This one doesn't have any software in it, and it's not the original brand. Look for it again." Winnie said. She clearly remembered that Daniel had just got a new computer before he went back to B City. It was not the one she saw now, and he could not have made it damaged so quickly. This one should be that Daniel used before. The important software information must be in another computer. Penny did not sleep last night and decided to use the child again to keep Brian. However, now this child could not threaten Brian, she could only find Rufus or Felix. And Felix was too cold and heartless. Knowing her maltreatment to Luke, she certainly would not spare her, so she could only come to Rufus. After lunch, Penny drove to suburb. Being uninvited, she felt unease, but she had to go in. In the living room she saw Rufus. Rufus' serious face frightened Penny. "Dad." Penny said in a low voice. "Don't call me Dad again. You have nothing to do with Brian now. What do you want? Say it quickly. It's my nap time." Rufus was disgustful about that address and he wrinkled eyebrows. "Dad, I do not agree to break up. It was Brian's unilateral wish." Penny was embarrassed. Rufus did not ask her to sit down and she could not sit down. She could see that Rufus hated her, but Rufus was her last hope. Penny continued. "I have a child in my belly. I can't divorce him. It is not fair to the child. Dad, please help me to persuade Brian not to get a divorce. If I do something wrong, I can correct it, but don't hurt the child." Penny begged, repeatedly stressing her child, hoping that Rufus could help her. "Child?" Rufus ironically raised his lip corner, but he did not reveal her. "This is a matter between the two of you, I cannot intervene in. I have had a bad relationship with Brian for so many years, and you know that I can't help you." Rufus refused coldly. He had been expecting Penny to leave, expecting her to be punished. He would not help her. The end was set, and only Penny could not see reality. She was greedy. She did not want to give up Brian and the Bennet Group. But she had to leave. "Dad, help me. The child is your grandson. How could you not help me?" Penny did not expect his attitude was so resolute. But she would not give up. She never flinched even when she was humble or got her pride hurt. "I said..." As Rufus was to refuse again, Brian's cold voice was heard. "Penny." Brian had cold face, staring angrily at Penny like a king, as if to swallow her. "Brian..." Penny looked back at Brian timidly. Brian step by step got close to her, and she became panic. She was afraid that Brian would know she came to Rufus. She thought that Brian would not appear here, but she was wrong. It seemed that he came frequently in recent time and she could see him every time. "Don't call my name. I feel sick." Brian walked to Penny and said angrily. "Didn't I warn you that never show up to me again? Why do you come here?" Brian questioned in a cold voice. He was angry to see Penny, especially to hear the shameless words she said. He had intended to tell the truth at the last moment, but since she came here, he would make her give up. "What did you say? Who is the father? Me?" Asked Brian ironically. "Yes, Brian, don't get a divorce. For the sake of the child, give me one more chance. I will correct my mistakes to your satisfaction." At the moment Penny was humble and cheap. But for her interests, for not to lose to Winnie, she would like to kneel down to Brian. "I'll show you something and you will know who the father is." Brian glared at Penny angrily and then sent her the video. Penny clicked on the mobile phone to listen to the recording. When she heard her own voice, she panicked. It was the conversation through the phone between her and her father, and she was talking about the child. And it could clearly be heard that Daniel was the father. At the moment, Penny trembled all over. She was too nervous to think. "Well, am I still the father?" Brian increased his voice, but it was so cold that it would freeze her. "No, it's not like that. Brian, give me one more chance, I will abort the child. I will only have Luke as my child, I will be good to Luke all my life." Penny sobbed in horror, but still asked for forgiveness, fighting for a chance. However, when Luke was mentioned, it annoyed Brian. Brian slapped Penny in the face. "You still dare mention Luke. This slap is for Luke. Penny. I never beat a woman; you are the first, because you ought to." Brian shouted angrily. "Brian..."

Hey, My Twins Babies

CHAPTER 185 ORDERS TO ACQUIRE THE BURNS GROUP

Penny was beaten almost fell to the ground. She suddenly felt despair, but she still had no intention to give up. She tried to explain, but was interrupted by Brian. "Shut up, you are just telling lies, I don't want to hear a word from you. You should know what you did to Luke. You beat him while I was away, cursed Luke and locked him in the warehouse. How can such a young child bear that?" "How dare you maltreat my child? I will send you to prison and you will be there for the rest of your life." At the thought of mistreatment on Luke, Brian was furious, fortunately, he still got his reason, or he would have killed Penny by now. "No, Brian, listen to me. What I did was a momentary foolishness. It was my fault. I mistreated Luke because of Winnie. Winnie upset my life, so I vent my anger on Luke. Winnie is a cheater, she wants to..." Penny cried, trying to put all the responsibility on Winnie, but before she could finish, once again she got Brian's slap. Her face was in pain that she covered it with her hand, but the pain did not reduce, while the sense of humiliation increased. And the hatred to Winnie climbed to the extreme. "Penny, this slap is for Winnie. She never said a lie. Leo was her boyfriend but was taken away by you. She is not a cheater, you are the cheater." "Your heart had already twisted. You are blinded by money and power. If you want to promote by stepping on Winwin, you will destroy yourself." "You've done all the bad things. You've tried to kill Winwin more than once. The first time, if I hadn't been there, Winwin would have died on that road. If I hadn't noticed about Daniel in time, Winwin would have died too." "You have done more than two bad things, Penny. You own Winwin in your life. You must go to prison." Penny did too many bad things, and Brian could not name it one by one. He just wanted to clarify for Winnie to Penny, to let Penny know, in his heart, only Winnie was the cleanest and purest woman. "No, it's not like that. You are deluded by her. She is a fox. She covets my position and deliberately destroys my life. Brian, you are smart, but you are bewitched by a fox. You..." Penny refused to admit. She loudly vented her anger. And before she could finish her words, Brian raised his hand again. She was scared and shut up. But to her surprise, he did not slap on her. Then Winnie's voice was heard. "Don't beat her, Mr. Bennet. She's still pregnant." This slap was stopped by Winnie and Penny avoided it. "You still stood up for her. After all the things she's done to you, you still stood up for her? Don't be silly, Winwin. She deserved to die." Brian was surprised by Winnie's appearance. She should be at work at this time. And it was unexpected that Winnie stopped him from beating Penny. "The law will punish her for the mistakes she made, and I will never let her go for the things she did to Luke. She will not have a good end, but the child in her belly does nothing wrong and you cannot hurt the child. You don't have to get your hands dirty for her." Winnie said in a cold voice, looking at Brian with gratitude in eyes, for the slap, for the fact that he still thought about her. Winnie got off work early but because of the company's circuit temporary maintenance. And she did not expect to see such a scene. She could not watch Brian beat Penny, for fear that Penny would tangle with him and Brian would get into unnecessary trouble. Not wanting to hurt the child was just one reason and she was most worried about

Brian. "Winwin, stop being so kind..." Brian was distressed about Winnie. After so many grievances, she was still kind. "Brian, calm down. Winwin is right, the law will punish Penny." Rufus said. She saw that Winnie was kind and honest, which made him admired, and he more liked Winnie. "Get out, get out now. Paul, drag her out, she is not welcome here." Brian could not get angry with Winnie and had promised Winnie that he would not get angry with his father, so he could only vent his anger to Penny. Paul came to Penny and dragged her out. Penny was not reconciled. She pulled Paul, while loudly scolding Winnie. "Winnie, you are shameless. You are the most insidious person. You take Brian away and one day he will be taken away too." Albert ran in and helped Paul to drag Penny out, but Penny scolded loudly. "Winnie, wait and see. I will take you with me even if I die. I won't let you be with Brian." Hearing Penny's curse, Winnie only felt she was struggling like a clown. She blindly pursued her so-called ideal life without seeing through the truth. Winnie was silent, but it did not mean that Brian could endure that. "Albert, acquire the Burns Group now. Make Penny got nothing and become a beggar." Brian issued instructions angrily. He did not allow Penny to abuse Luke and could not hear that Penny abused Winnie. They were the most important people in his life, who could not be slandered by Penny. "Do it now." Albert replied. "No, Brian, you can't do that to me. You can't destroy the Burns family...Winnie, I hate you..." Penny's voice disappeared in the sitting room and it became quiet, even the voice of air flow could be heard. Brian did not leave and found an excuse to stay. He wanted an opportunity to talk with his father about Winwin, Megan and Luke. From noon to evening, however, there were many opportunities but he deliberately missed that. After Penny left, Winnie went back to her room and put all her energy into her work. She kept herself busy so she wouldn't be distracted by thinking of Brian. She knew he had not left, because his car was parked in the yard. Although she had an uncontrollable desire to go downstairs and meet him, she resisted it. She didn't know what to say. She didn't know whether to thank him for slapping Penny for her. They missed each other and wanted to find a chance to be together, even if they did not talk. But they still wasted their limited time. When it was time to pick up the children in the afternoon, Winnie wanted to pick them up. She changed into a suit of leisure clothes, went downstairs and saw Brian. She wanted to say hello, but thought that Brian might ignore her, so she took a look at him and walked out directly. "Where are you going?" Brian asked coldly from behind. "Pick up the children, let Paul rest a day today." Winnie did not turn around but continued to walk forward. "Paul has set off." Brian's voice was still cold. He wanted to control his voice as far as possible, but inexplicably it was still cold. "All right." Winnie answered, turned around and was to go back to her bedroom. At this time, Brian's sharp eyes were staring at her. She noticed that even though Brian looked at her with anger and contempt, her heart was still pounding. She tried to look more natural, tried to be Vanessaful, and though she did not know how she was doing, her pounding heart was still cheering. Didn't she get hurt enough? Didn't she get torment enough? Why couldn't she stop loving him? Winnie finally returned to her room. It took seconds from downstairs to upstairs, but she felt that she had walked for a century. When she returned to her room, she felt relieved and told herself that she had behaved badly today, but at that moment, Brian suddenly opened the door and walked in. Winnie looked back at Brian, with her heart still beating violently, but seeing his cold face and disgust in his eyes, Winnie felt pain in heart. "What's up?" Winnie controlled her emotions and spoke like a stranger. "....." "What was up? Brian didn't know the answer. Her jeans and T-shirt reminded him of the first time they had met on a plane. He followed her up unconsciously. "I promised you that I would make Penny pay, and now I have begun to act. Soon she will have nothing. I have done what I promised you..." Brian stared at Winnie for a long time before finding a topic to speak, but before he mentioned the important things, Winnie interrupted him. "So you don't owe me anything." Winnie smiled at herself and continued. "You don't owe me anything. You don't have to worry about it. Thank you for slapping Penny for me." With that, Winnie felt sad and bitter. All that he had done for her had been to make himself feel at ease. Watching Brian's slap hit Penny's face, she felt warm in heart. She finally felt to be protected, as if there was a towering tree grew behind her giving her strength. However, that moment of happiness was shattered by Brian's word.

Hey, My Twins Babies

CHAPTER 186 ACCIDENT HAPPENS AGAIN

Hearing that, Brian frowned and did not know what to say next. He had no psychological burden, by standing there without a word made each other embarrassed. He had been waiting since noon just to be with her for a while. But Winnie did not give him a chance, so he could only brusquely broke in. Perhaps he had chosen the wrong topic and blocked his own path. The room fell silent. Winnie did not speak and Brian did not know what to say. After a while. "Vanessa decided to go to college in B City?" Brian's attitude was more conciliatory. "Yes, I respect her choice." Winnie said indifferently, as if they were strangers. And the atmosphere was awkward. "I heard from Paul you bought a house near University B?" Brian continued to ask and he could rest assured after getting positive answer. "Yes, I did. We're going to move there when Vanessa starts school." Winnie was still tepid. Hearing that Winnie would stay, Brian was reassured. But when hearing that she would move away from here, Brian did not want her to leave. "You and Leo..." "Go out first if there is nothing I can do. My house is bought on loan, so I have to work hard to earn money while I rest, or the house will not be able to afford." Winnie did not want to involve Leo. They had nothing to do with Leo. When she heard about Leo, she decided to end their conversation immediately. Even if she had anything to do with Leo, it was not Brian's business. She did not have to report to Brian. Brian looked awkwardly at Winnie, who had no expression at all. She didn't speak and then turned around. As he stretched out his hand to open the door, Winnie's soft voice came from behind him. "Don't be so cold when the kids come back. They're very sensitive." Brian could hear that Winnie only had temperature in her tone when talking about the children. She had no feelings for him anymore. Perhaps she had never had feelings for him at the beginning. And she was with him because of the children. Although Winnie did not show a smiling face, Brian did not leave. The family had dinner together in the evening. Winnie and Brian tried their best to show a friendly side in front of the children, so that the two children could not see anything. After dinner, Brian and his two children were playing in the yard, and Winnie returned to her bedroom, citing work as an excuse. She wanted to calm down to work, but Brian and the children were playing happily in the courtyard outside. Winnie could not calm down. From time to time, she went to the window to look at the three people. Looking at them played happily, Winnie involuntarily became melancholy. She was worried about whether Brian could still get along with her children as he did now after he knew the truth. Would he dislike the fact that Megan grew up in a lower class? Would he get angry at her for hiding fact from him and vent his anger on her two children? Would she be deprived of custody and never see them again? Thinking of these, Winnie was upset. And it was difficult to calm down to work. So she went out and stood in the pavilion watching Brian and the children played happily. She did not bother them but walked out of yard alone and walked to the shade of tree on the road. Brian and children were playing happily and Luke said. "Daddy, I saw Auntie went out by herself." Luke said, while pointing to the door. "Alone?" Asked Brian doubtfully. "Yes." After receiving a positive answer, Brian took out his mobile phone and called Winnie. But no one answered. Something unpleasant happened today, which made him concerned. He had been alert. When Paul and his father went to pick up the children, he did not feel rest assured and asked Albert to go with them. Now Winnie went out by herself and did not answer the phone. He was worried. After handing over the two children to Albert, he walked quickly out. Out of the door, Brian saw Winnie, who was walking leisurely under the shade of the trees beside the road. Watching her lonely figure, Brian did not bother her but quietly followed behind. However, seeing that, Penny was jealous. From noon driven out of the house, Penny was waiting around the villa and would take revenge no matter who came out. She would take revenge for all her humiliation which she had suffered this day. Even if she died, she would take one of the Bennet families with him, making them regret treating her like that. However, they did not walk in or out along. And even a few of them picked up the children together. She had been waiting for a whole afternoon and almost lost her patience. Finally, Winnie walked out alone. Penny was like a hunter saw the prey, and her eyes were filled with bloodthirsty indignation. She had been watching Winnie walking forward and planned to make a move when Winnie got further, so that she could successfully escape. But when she started the car, Brian walked out, following not far behind Winnie, silently guarding her. Seeing this scene, Penny could not restrain the anger. Her hatred to Winnie reached to the extreme. Trapped in her own thoughts, Winnie walked slowly forward. She just wanted to have a walk and did not notice Brian had been following her, nor the danger was coming. But Brian was alert. Since he came out of the villa, he looked around and did not see suspicious situation. From time to time, he also looked around while he was following Winnie. When no suspicious situation was found, he continued to follow Winnie. Penny's plan was destroyed by Brian and had no idea what to do, but she did not want to miss this opportunity. Finally, she decided to stick to her original plan and tried to hit one of them. As Brian was walking along, he heard the sound of a car behind him. There were not too many cars on suburb in the evening, so Brian's attention was attracted. He looked back and was frightened. Penny was driving the car toward him quickly. Her eyes were ruthless. She seemed to determine to hit them, which made Brian panic. Brian suddenly shouted loudly to Winnie and quickly ran to Winnie. "Winwin, careful." Winnie was surprised by the sudden cry, stood in the same place and turned around. She saw Brian running towards her. She was confused and did not realize the car was coming towards her. "Stand aside, it's Penny." Brian loudly reminded. Winnie looked at the car and saw Penny in the car. When she wanted to dodge, the car was close to her. She did not know which direction to dodge. At a critical juncture, Brian made a wise judgment and directly pulled Winnie's hand toward him, and then both of them fell to the ground at the same time. Penny thought she had grasped the opportunity well, trying to kill Winnie or hit her disabled. But at the critical moment, Brian saved her. However, she could not control her car and hit the tree by the side of the road violently. She passed out instantly. "Winwin, how are you? Are you hurt?" Brian got up in panic and asked Winnie with concern. He looked Winnie up and down, checking that if she was all right. His resolute eyes had been occupied by worry. Winnie was pulled up to sit on the ground. She looked at Brian with a face of fear. It seemed that she was still in the fright. When she saw the worry on Brian's face, she realized that she nearly encountered an accident, if not Brian, she would have died. Winnie suddenly hugged Brian and began to cry loudly. "Thank you, thank you for saving me again..." Winnie was trembling all over, not because she was crying, but because she was afraid, because she was moved. Brian did not owe her anything, but again and again saved her life. How should she thank him? "Don't be afraid, don't be afraid, it's all right. Nothing will happen to you, I am here." Brian patted Winnie's head gently to appease her. He could clearly feel her fear. She was as afraid that her heart was about to jump out, but she still thanked him. Brian felt sad in her heart. If he were her husband, she would only be crying and would not thank him. Winnie cried sadly and ignored Penny who was hurt. At that moment, someone passed by and called the hospital. Because Winnie was seriously frightened, she was unable to cooperate with the police for investigation. Brian did not cooperate the investigation on the grounds of taking care of Winnie. It had nothing to do with them whether Penny was alive or dead. Brian went home with Winnie in her arms and called Kevin. After making sure Winnie did not get injured, he was relieved. Winnie lied in bed with a pale face. There were so many people in the room, but it warmed her heart. Now she was still in shock, her eyes were floating. She had been holding Brian's hand, afraid that she would say goodbye to the world if she let go. "Winwin, don't be afraid. It's all right." Daenerys comforted her in a soft voice. Winnie was brave before. Since she was with Brian, she had always experienced highly dangerous things, and she was frightened. Otherwise, she would not have been so nervous this time. "Ok." Winnie said that she was fine, but her heart was still trembling, and her voice was low. "It's all right, no injuries, and I have taken care of the scrapes on her arm." Kevin comforted her with a frown and he hated Penny for what she did.

Hey, My Twins Babies

CHAPTER 187 HOW IS SHE

The two children stood by without a word but with tears in their eyes. They felt sorry for the fact that Mommy got a pale face and that she was lying there without any spirit. They wanted to comfort Mommy, but they were afraid that they could not help crying loudly and disturbing Mommy, so they could only stand and sob quietly. "Stop crying, you kids. Mummy's all right. Mummy will be fine in the next morning after sleeping." Winnie couldn't watch the children cry for fear they would worry about her. She could only force a smile to comfort them. Winnie's maternal love stimulated every nerve of Brian. Now she was in a bad state but pretended to be strong for her children. "Megan, Luke, mommy's okay. You need to stop crying. Mommy needs to rest now. Why don't you go out and play?" Brian told the two children and did not want them here to affect the mood of Winnie. "Luke, Megan, I take you downstairs to play. You will disturb Mummy's rest here." Rufus said, and then took the two children downstairs. After the two children left, Winnie asked about Penny. "How is she?" Her voice was weak, but she wanted to know. "You still care about her. I curse her to lie in the hospital and never get up." Daenerys said angrily. She hated Penny. If Brian had not been there, Winnie would have died. And now she still cared about her, Daenerys would inevitably nag. "She can die, but the baby in her belly is innocent." Winnie did worry about her. She wanted to know if she was ok. Winnie was kind which made Brian speechless. He knew Winnie wanted to know the situation of Penny. So he made a call to Albert. "How are things going?" "Penny is still in a coma." Albert was ordered to deal with the matter. "Is there any danger?" Brian asked in a cold voice. "No. The surgery has been done, but the baby is gone. Her left calf got hurt and her face got bruises." Albert told him the details. Brian hung up the phone and then told Winnie the situation of Penny. "I am sorry for the child." Winnie was sad and she did not say a word. Kevin feared Winnie would have nightmares at night, so before leaving, he prescribed some calm medicine to her, so that she could have a sound sleep. After Kevin and Daenerys left, Brian helped Winnie take the medicine. During the whole process, Winnie did not say a word but still held Brian's hand. Soon afterwards she fell into a deep sleep. And Brian was lying beside her, holding her hand. But he was not sleepy at all. Seeing Winnie sleeping soundly with a pale face, Brian hated himself. All this was caused by his tardiness. It was he who made Winnie like this. For months at his side, Winnie gained nothing, but was constantly surrounded by danger. Today he had a sense of crisis and timely pulled Winnie. If he was a second late, Winnie would have died and he would be painful just as he was when his mother died. He would live with the regret of losing her forever. Penny woke up in the next morning. To her sorrow, there was nobody by her side. The nurse came to tell her the situation. After learning that the baby was gone, she had no pain but pity. It was a pity that it had been lost before it was put to good use. She was in a daze lying in bed looking at the ceiling, in regret not killed Winnie. At this time, Richard came in angrily and abused her loudly. "Are you crazy? If you want to die, think of your own way, don't bring the family into trouble." "Now because of you, the Burns Group is under attack by the Bennet Group, and soon it will be defeated. At this time, you did not help the Burns Group but attacked Winnie, provoked Brian. You're nuts, aren't you?" "Didn't I tell you to get out of here? Now police are keeping eyes on you and you can't leave." Richard's resentment could not be described with language. Looking at Penny's injury all over, thinking of the crisis that the Burns Group faced, he could not calm down at all. "Are you finished scolding? If you're not here to care about me, please leave. I said I have nothing to do with the Burns Group, and nothing to do with you." Penny shouted back, she was very sad at the moment, because she was scolded by her father. She felt that her father's should ask how she was. But her father did not concern about her. What was the use of having such a father? "Shut up, do you think I want to have something to do with you? If I had known you had such a low IQ, I would never have brought you back." "Can't you see the truth, Penny? You are no match for Winnie. You are inferior to her in every respect. You've been competing with her since you were at school, and you haven't done anything to her yet. It's a matter of your ability. You can't deny it." Richard was still roaring with anger. He was so disappointed with Penny's performance that it was impossible to place any hope in her. "I won't admit it, I won't give up. When I'm out of the hospital, I will still look for her. I don't believe I can't kill her." Penny shouted angrily. Although it was pain on the face, she would never admit that she had lost to Winnie. "You don't give up? Do you think you still have a chance? The police have noticed you. They'll be here soon. I'll see what you tell the police." "The other day I told you to leave, and when it's all over we can start over. Now you've blocked your way, and you're going to jail." Richard said angrily, turned around and walked away. He was at a loss for words about his daughter. She was stubborn and obstinate. "Get the hell out of here. The last one I want to see is the Burns family. I'm not dead yet. I won't lose to Winnie. Penny broke down, shouting and throwing everything she could get. She even pulled the needle from her wrist that was being injected with fluids. She was angry, furious; she did not admit that she had lost to Winnie. As long as she didn't die, she would have a chance. As long as she didn't die, she would not spare Winnie. After Richard walked away for a while, Penny's mood was calmed down. The nurse came in with the police. She was flustered for a moment at the sight of the police, but then she figured out what to do. "Officer, you cannot frame me, that was an accident. I did not have the intention to kill her. If I did, how could I have gotten myself into this situation? The baby's gone and I'm covered in wounds. I'm the victim, okay?" In any case, Penny refused to admit that she was intentional. If she had to take the blame, she would say it was a traffic accident. "Miss Burns, we don't frame you. We are just here to get to know the basic situation. As for whether it was a traffic accident or intentional homicide, we will know until further investigation." The police said indifferently, feeling Penny was too alert. That made her more of a suspect. After the police left, Penny fell into a deep thought. If the police find out she killed on purpose, she would not get out of it. The child was gone, so the amulet was gone. She felt frightened at the thought. Before, she had Daniel and her father, but now she was alone. After carefully thinking about what happened, she felt she was impulsive. If she did as what her father said, she could have not come to such an end. Winnie recovered from her fear and returned to work. She was different to Brian as before. She was grateful that he had saved her, but she could not get close to him again. She would be desperate to help him some day if he needed her, but now she could not disturb his coming marriage. After a busy day, Winnie finally got off work. Instead of going straight home, she went to the hospital. On the way to the hospital she received a call from Leo, so she asked Leo to go to the hospital together. They gathered at the gate of the hospital. Winnie put the matter to Leo simply. "She hurt you on purpose and you came to see her? Winwin....." Leo said angrily, trying to take Winnie away from the hospital. But Winnie refused. "I want to talk to her." Winnie said indifferently. "Aren't you afraid she'll hurt you again?" Leo did not understand what Winnie was thinking. Penny was too dangerous. If she made a move again, Winnie could not always be so lucky. "Yes, she's mad now. I am afraid, so I asked you to come with me. You can't watch me get hurt while you're around." Winnie said jokingly, and then pulled Leo into the hospital. Penny was alone in the ward, looking miserable. "What are you doing here?" Penny said with displeasure. She didn't want to see them, because they reminded her of the past. "I want to talk to you." Winnie said indifferently with hatred in her eyes, but the hatred became less when she saw that Penny was hurt all over. "I have nothing to say to you. Once you leave Brian, everything between us will be over." Penny only wanted Winnie to disappear. Winnie sighed and showed her helplessness to Penny. Penny brought all this to herself, or she would be happy.

Hey, My Twins Babies

CHAPTER 188 END IT ALL

Winnie was to make things clear. Even if Penny blamed her, she would say what she had to say, so that she would feel ease. Winnie said calmly and she was at ease. "Penny, there must be an end between us. If you hear me out, I'll leave Brian." Penny looked at Winnie in surprise and did not believe she would agree to leave Brian. But she would like to have a try, so she chose to be silent and waited for Winnie to speak. "I didn't discriminate against you when we were in college. Every time you met with difficulties, I tried my best to help you. I didn't do it to impress my classmates, I did it for the friendship we have." "The qualification to study abroad was from me. If you don't believe me, you can check it. I gave you that, because I felt my parents had the ability to support me to study abroad. After studying abroad, your salary would be much higher, and your living standard would be improved to a certain extent." Winnie said from the beginning. She knew that all this was because of Penny's jealousy, because Penny was greedy which made her into such a miserable end. Although it was irreparable, she must explain, because she did not do anything wrong. She also wanted to let Penny realize her mistake as soon as possible, so that she would go to the public station to surrender for leniency. Only in this way could she make the most correct choice. "When we were in M Country, I was in love with Leo. When I needed Leo most, when I needed you most, what did you do? When you were home, you said I took Leo from you. Today we three are here. Say if it was you sabotaged the relationship between me and Leo?" Winnie asked in a deep voice. This was the most depressed thing for her. Although Leo had already known everything, she wanted Penny to understand she was not a fool and she would not be beaten down by her gossip. At the moment, Penny could not say a word and even had not courage to lift her eyes. She kept staring out of the window and was unable to defend herself. "You dare not say a word, right? Because you're wrong. But it is shameful to avoid the things you made a mistake." Winnie paused for a moment and then continued. "I told you more than once that I didn't come back to take revenge or take your thing, and I didn't expect to meet Brian. I have no design in all this, but you think of me as one of those cunning women with deep designs." "Penny, during our college years together, you didn't really treat me sincerely. You didn't know what kind of person I was." Winnie increased her voice, because she was angry to have considered an enemy as a friend. "Go away. I don't want to listen to you anymore." Penny finally said. She was embarrassed at the moment, regardless the mistake she made. But Winnie seemed to be right about everything. It was too much for her to accept or admit. "Do you think I want to talk to you? You abused my son and he suffers from depression. Do you think I don't hate you?" "I am the person who hates you most, not because you are the wife of Brian, but because you don't have a kind heart, because you vented your anger on the child." "You want to kill me, I want to kill you too, Penny, because you mistreated my son." Winnie got angry. Penny's attitude made her disappointed. She didn't even have the intention to admit her mistake. "All you've done is to try to get Brian, but do you know how stupid you are? You had a contract marriage with him. Have you ever wondered why he started a contract marriage?" Winnie questioned Penny again, but Penny still looked out the window and did not answer. "You don't know or don't understand? Penny, where is your intelligence? Can't you understand that? He has a woman he loves, and he is waiting for that woman. He loves someone else, not you or me." Winnie told the truth, but she did not mention Wendy. Winnie felt that if she did not tell Penny about it, Penny would never stop revenge on her, and the so-called hatred between them would not end. As Penny said, it would only end when one person died. "Someone else? Winnie, are you shirking the responsibility, so make this up?" Finally Penny turned to look at Winnie angrily. Then she went on. "In the nearly five years I've been with him, I've never seen him have anything to do with a woman, nor have he ever liked a woman. He even ignored Klara's frequent overtures. Now you're telling me he has another woman. Winnie, you are hypocritical." "Everyone could see that Brian likes you and you now telling me there was another woman. You are afraid to face it or afraid of me?" Penny did not believe that Brian did not love Winnie. The way he looked at Winnie had given it all away. If he didn't love her, how could he be desperate for her? If he didn't love her, how could he be partial to her? "You never believe what I say. I just want to tell you that even if you kill me, there will be other women. And Brian will never belong to you." "Brian and I have separated. We have nothing to do with each other now. It's up to you whether you believe it or not. But for the last time I advise you to stop at once, and correct your mistake, for you will have another chance, if only you are sincere and repent." Winnie did not believe Penny's words, either. She said that Brian loved her, because she did not want to transfer the hatred. Even a fool knew that Brian liked Wendy rather than Winnie. "Penny, from today on, whatever relationship we have between us, let's put an end to it. Former classmates, bestie, or enemies, it's all over from this moment on. I have nothing to do with you anymore." Winnie finally said what she wanted to say. When she mentioned 'former classmates' and 'bestie', she felt pain in heart. At that time the feelings were the most pure and holy, but was mercilessly trampled on by Penny. Winnie said that and turned to leave. Leo, who had been silent finally spoke. "Mind your own business." Then Leo walked out. "Winnie, what bullshit bestie classmate. I don't know you and we will always be enemies. I hate you, I hate you." Penny looked at Winnie's back and shouted loudly. When Winnie closed the door, Penny could not help crying out. Winnie was her enemy and, ironically, Winnie was the only one who came to the hospital to see her. Within five days, the Burn Group had been successfully acquired by the Bennet Group. Brian finally breathed a sigh of relief. He finally completed his grandfather's task. He had thought for many times that one day he would tell Wendy the good news, because it was a sign that they could be together and the Bennet family could accept Wendy. But now Brian did not want to call Wendy and told her about this. Brian came to the old house. In Felix's study, Brian told Felix about the acquisition of the Burns Group. "Good, Brian, you didn't disappoint me." Felix beamed. He had not been so happy in years. Felix was very happy, but Brian was silent and frowned. Felix thought Brian would feel guilty for acquiring the Burns Group for no reason, so he told Brian why he insisted on acquiring it. "Brian, do not feel guilty for the Bennet Group and the Penny. Richard is a very insidious person. He once fell in love with your aunt. At that time, he was secretly scheming to spy on everything in our family. Fortunately, your father found it out and because of him, your aunt married abroad." "This is one of the things. Once, we had a crisis. He was behind the scenes and almost brought our company go bankrupt, and your father saved that crisis." "So Richard deserves what he has today." Remembering the old things before, Felix was angry. If it were not for Richard provoked the Bennet Group, he would not have grudge. After that, Brian still had a gloomy face. "We can't spare Penny, because she mistreated Luke. We can pretend nothing happened. She was behind the car accident of Penny, I have proof. Give it to the police and send her into prison." Brian kept silent. And Felix continued. "I have proof too and will give it to the police. I will never spare her." Brian answered. But he did care about Penny now and did not have guilt to the Burns Group. He was wondering whether he should negotiate with his grandfather. "The Burns Group has been settled, you can divorce Penny now. No one would mistreat Luke, so ask Winnie to leave. Luke can live your father. When Wendy is back, if she can get along with Luke, you can take him now, if not, your father can raise him." "Grandpa, I want to talk to you." Brian finally spoke. He felt there would be no chance if he did not say it out. "When I agreed to acquire the Burns Group, you agree to let me to be with Wendy. Now I don't want to be with Wendy, can I be with another woman?" "Winnie?" Felix's voice became serious. "Yes, I don't want to be with Wendy..." "No, Winnie got nothing, and she was not a match to you." Felix did not give a change for Brian to explain and refused that.

Hey, My Twins Babies

CHAPTER 189 UNCLE THOMAS RETURNS

Felix knew that one day Brian would fall in love with Winnie. In fact, he liked Winnie, who was strong and optimistic, kind and patient to the elderly. But she got no background. The Bennet family ranked top in B City, in the country, and even in the world. How could the daughter-in-law of such a prominent family have no background? "Grandpa..." Brian tried to refute, but Felix put forward more requirements. "Don't talk to me like that. If you insist on staying with Winnie, acquire the Yup Group." Hearing that, Brian widened his eyes in surprise. He did not expect that his grandfather would put forward such requirement and that he was greedy. How could he acquire the Yup Group and hurt Wendy? "Grandpa, we can't do that. I want to keep Winnie around because of Luke, Luke can't leave Winnie." Brian did not say that he loved Winnie, because if his grandfather trampled on his love, he would be more disappointed at his grandfather and it would bring unnecessary impact on Winnie. "Why can't he? A child will rely on anyone once he stays with someone for a long time. As long as Wendy is nice to him, he will like Wendy and can't leave Wendy." "Brian, even if Winnie is Luke's mother, we can't accept her." Felix made up his mind. He did not mean to acquire the Yup Group, he just wanted Brian to give up on Winnie. Brian had been waiting for Wendy for years and he would not do that, Felix thought. Brian did not say anything with a gloomy face. He knew his grandfather, he would never take back his words. But he was disappointed at his grandfather and got annoyed at his domineering manner. Since childhood, he was obedient to his grandfather. But his grandfather never cared if he was happy or not. And he was disappointed at that. "I gotta go." Brian said coldly. "Have dinner together tonight, your Uncle Thomas is coming back." Felix did not ask Brian to stay, but he wanted Brian to have dinner together at night. "Uncle Thomas?" Brian frowned. "Yes, I have informed your father and he will bring Luke back tonight." With that, he left. And Brian was thinking for a moment before he walked out of the study. On his way back to the company, Brian was thinking about Winnie and Uncle Thomas. Uncle Thomas had been aboard for years, why did he come back suddenly? And he could not figure it out. And Winnie became his new worry. What should he do? He felt distressed to let her go, but if he kept Winnie around, she would be hurt. According to his grandfather, if he knew that Winnie was Luke's mother, he would not give Winnie a chance and Winnie probably could not see Luke again. And if he knew that Megan was Brian's child, Winnie could disappear in B City. It was pain for Winnie and he could not bear that fact. So he would have to hide it from his grandfather. Because it would be bad for both sides. "Albert, does Grandpa have someone to investigate on me?" Brian asked Albert who was driving the car. "Yes, he does all the time." "Try to bribe them and tell them not to follow me. When they need to report to grandfather, I will tell them how to report." Brian could not act according to Felix's instruction, because he had to protect Winnie and he had to guard from his Uncle Thomas. The Bennet old house at night. Thomas Bennet came home with his wife and son. Brian and his father and Luke came in time. They greeted passionately, but it was not from heart, it was just a basis politeness. "Brother, it's been a while." Thomas hugged Rufus with enthusiasm. "It's been a while. Welcome back." Rufus said. "Is this boy Luke? He has grown up." Thomas was surprised to see Luke standing next to Rufus. "Yes, Luke, this is Grandpa Thomas." "Nice to meet you, Grandpa Thomas." Luke greeted him and made a bow. "Nice to meet you, Luke. I did not buy you a present, because I don't know what you like. I will give a red envelop later, and you can buy what you want." Thomas said in a gentle voice but there was unknown emotion in his eyes. "And me, call me Uncle, I will give a red envelop too." Jack Bennet, Thomas's son said and felt this boy adorable. "Nice to meet you, Uncle, welcome home." Luke had a good performance today, not because the red envelop, but because Winnie told him to be polite and be brave to show himself, because he represents his dad and grandpa. "Good boy, I like you. I will give you a red envelop bigger than Grandpa Thomas's." Jack had a happy talk with Luke, and Thomas paid this attention to Brian. At this moment, he was not kind anymore, he looked gentle, but it was fake, "Brian, I heard from your grandpa that you run the company well, I am glad with that." "I just paid more than others and put more energy into it." Brian answered in a deep voice, looking coldly. He was not modest, because he needed not to be modest in face of his Uncle Thomas. "Good, young men should be ambitious, and Jack should learn from you." Thomas was obviously awkward. "Well, let's have dinner." Felix told them to sit at the table. The focus of the dinner was on Luke. No other things were mentioned, so it was kind of harmonious. Winnie and Megan were not in the suburb. After Luke and Rufus left, she drove to the city with Megan to have dinner with Leo. "Megan, long time no see, I miss you." Leo said softly. Seeing that Megan looked alike Winnie, he was pleased. "I miss you too, Uncle. But I didn't have a change to see you." Megan said in a sweet and sound voice. "Contact me more even if there is nothing important, or I will miss you." Leo said jokingly. He wanted to communicate with Megan, so that they could get along well. "Ok, I will call you." Megan nodded, but she would not contact him, because she did not want Mommy to have too much contact with Leo. "Uncle, let's order food. I am hungry." Megan said. "Ok, I am so glad to see you and I have forgotten to order food." "What would you like? It is on me today, and you can have whatever you want." Leo began to order and he knew what Winnie liked. After the food was served, they chatted while eating. "Have you done with the procedure of the house?" Leo asked with a bright smile. "Yes. I have the key now and we can move in." Winnie finally felt relieved about the house.

She suspected that the house had a problem, but it was normal of the procedures, and it was smooth, and she could finally feel at ease. "Good, I can help you to move in." "We don't get too my stuff. I can move some in when I was off work. And when my aunt is here, we can live in there." There were some boxes unopened, so she just needed to move them in. "Are Venessa and your aunt coming? How is the thing going?" Leo asked while helping Megan with food. "Vanessa will go to school on August 28th and they will come back before that. My aunt's drugstore can be sold at any time, but she does not want to give it out." Winnie knew that her aunt would not sell the drugstore until the last moment. But it was a few days to go. "She did not want to give it out because she loved that store." Leo said. "Leo, I am developing a new game. If you want that, I can sell it to you." Winnie mentioned the work. Brian had asked her to sell her software to the Bennet Group, but Winnie would rather sell it to others in a lower price than sell it to the Bennet Group. "Ok, I'd love that. The game will be sold well for your reputation. And the business will be interesting." Leo was glad, because in this way, he would get more chance to contact with Winnie. "It is my first time to develop game, I am sure it will be good. You better made decision before thinking about it." Winnie was not confident as Leo, it was her first time to game after all. "I don't worry about it. What are you worrying? I trust in your capability." Lei praised Winnie. Many companies could not get her work even if they wanted to, so he had to seize the opportunity. After dinner, Winnie came back to suburb with Megan. As her car parked in the yard, Brian drove in. Rufus and Luke got off. Luke came to Winnie and gave her a hug. "Auntie, I had a good performance today. Daddy and Grandpa praised me." Luke showed off happily.

Hey, My Twins Babies

CHAPTER 190 I WILL GIVE YOU WHAT YOU WANT

Seeing that Luke was happy, Winnie showed a smile. "Good boy, I praise you too. I know you are the best." Megan came to Brian and opened her arms, requiring a hug. Seeing that, Brian understood her intention and held her up with a smile. "Uncle, you should praise me, I had good performance too." Megan did not want to lost to Luke, because she did have a good performance today. "Well, what did you do? I will decide if I should praise you after I learn what happened." Brian dragged the time deliberately, because he felt happy to hug Megan. "We had dinner with Uncle Leo today. He asked me to contact him more, I said ok, but I did not tell the truth. I want to spend more time with you. I like you more than him." Megan said sweetly. When Brian heard the name of Leo, he looked to Winnie and found that she dressed formally. He then realized that she had just come back. "Oh, you had dinner with Uncle Leo. Ok, I praise you had a good performance today. Brian was jealous, but he did not show it off because the children were present. They came into the house together. Winnie took the children to have bath upstairs and then told them to do homework at their bedrooms. When she came out, Brian was not in the living room. Winnie thought he had left and Rufus had been back to his bedroom, so she wanted to have a walk in the yard to refresh herself. Brian had not left but was told to the pavilion by Rufus. This was the first time he got along with his father alone, and he was not used to it. To settle things as soon as possible, he had to ask Rufus for help. "Get me Winnie's hair or toothbrush." Brian said coldly with his back against Rufus. "Are you suspecting her connection with Luke?" Rufus pretended to know nothing, because he had promised Winnie that he would stay out of it and Winnie would say it out by herself. "Yes, I suspect Winnie is Luke's Mom." Brian did not hide his intention. Since Rufus asked that, he would guess his purpose and he had no need to hide the fact. Rufus was silent, he did not know if he should offer help. Winnie did not tell him her plan, so he did not know how long Winnie wanted to drag. Therefore, he felt it difficult to deal with it. "Brian, if Megan is your child, have you ever thought what you should do so that the children would not be hurt?" Rufus said in a low voice. "I am not sure, but I will figure it out when I know the truth." Brian could not take the risk to hurt more people. "Brian, I will not get involved with your marriage and your sister's marriage, I just want you to be happy. But it is different now. can you consider to be with Winnie for the children?" Rufus wanted a good ending, at least the children had a complete home. He had thought it over and over before he said that. They would be happy to be a family of four, but Wendy would be hurt. He did not want a couple who loved each other could not be with each other. But his words reminded Brian of his mother. When he was a child, his parents quarreled a lot, because it was the family marriage and they did not get married at their will, so his father did not want to get involved in his marriage and his sister's marriage. But Brian could not accept the fact that his father was different to his marriage with his mother, he felt that his father had not qualification to mind his business. "I can take care of my business, and you don't need to give me advice." Brian said in a cold voice. "I know I should stay out of it, but Luke has not recovered yet. It will take a long time to recover, if he is stimulated at this time, he will get depression again. Luke can't leave Winnie." Rufus said, but before he could finish his words, Brian interrupted him angrily. Brian turned to Rufus angrily. "I said don't mind my business. I have to cut off my relationship with Winnie." "Wendy will be back soon and we will have a wedding. If I can't deal with the matter with Winnie and the children, I am disloyal to Wendy. I will not do as you did before." Brian got furious and stared at his father sharply, because he remembered what his father did to his mother. "I..." Rufus felt sorry for his son. He was awkward to hear that. He wanted to explain but was stopped by Winnie. "Don't make it hard for your father. I will tell you what you want to know." Winnie was now angry, disappointed and hurt. She had heard the conversation. She was pain in heart. Now she knew Brian wanted to be clear up their relationship for that he could stay with Wendy without guilty. "Come with me, I will show you what you want to see." Winnie pretended to be strong, but her heart was like bleeding. Brian was driving, and Winnie sat next to him. they drove to the city, to the house rented by Winnie nearby the kindergarten. "I am sorry I don't you was eager to know the fact.: Winnie looked out of the window and said in a low voice. The sky was dark without stars, which was like her mood, stroking. "I know why came to the suburb and what you are suspecting. I did not allow you to get the sample because I wanted you to come here more, so that you can spend more time with your dad." "but I neglected your feeling and forgot that you are to marry. Whoever I am, I am an obstacle to you." "I thought it in a simple way. I should not mind your business and should cut off connection with you." Winnie said with a sour noise and did not dare to look at Brian. "Winwin..." "You don't need to say anything. I will stay away from you and will not make it hard for you in the face of Wendy." Brian was to explain, but Winnie did not give him the chance to speak. They felt into silence until they got Winnie's home, until Winnie took out two copies of paternity test reports. "Have a look." Winnie gave the paternity test report to Brian and Brian became nervous when he took it over. He did not know why he was nervous, probably he was afraid that Winnie was Luke's mother, and they had no reason to contact in the future. Brian opened the first one with shaking hands. It was about Winnie and Luke.They were mother and son."Winnie, it is you."His voice was cold and his eye were sharp.Then he opened the second one, it was about Brian and Megan.They were father and daughter."Megan is my child."Brian said excitedly with a faint smile.But when he looked at Winnie, his face changed and his eyes were cold."Winnie, why didn't you tell me before? Why did you fool me?"Brian shouted."Simple, I didn't want to disturb your life and I just want to stay with Luke like this."Winnie said indifferently and sat down on sofa.Now they fact was revealed, but she had no strength to support herself anymore, so she could only sit down. "If you do it for me, you should leave and disappear forever." Brian lost his temper and he could control it. He had suspected that and got mental preparation, but after he was sure that Winnie was Luke's mother and his was Megan's father, he was irritated. "I wanted to leave you, but I did not want to leave Luke, especially when I knew he had got abused." Winnie was painful too and she had been facing all this alone. She was tried and wanted to end it all. "Never mind, I just want to know why you hid the fact from me? Why didn't you give Megan to me?" Brian asked with dissatisfaction. "Because I didn't want to, because Megan was my metal support." On her way, Winnie had told herself to be brave and could not show that she was weak in face of Brian. But she could not help bursting into tears. "You should know that I was in a bad situation, or I would not go surrogacy." "I was desperate when I left, because the money was not enough." "I wanted to commit suicide, but then I found I was pregnant with twins. And they made me have a reason to live." "If I gave two of them to you, I would not have courage to live till now."