

My Twins 231

Hey, My Twins Babies

CHAPTER 231 STILL HAVE FEELING FOR HIM

Two days later Kevin was sent to the hospital in A City to participate in a medical forum. While Kevin was not at home, Daenerys called Winnie. "Kevin is not at home, and I don't want to go back to my mother's home. Come and stay with me tonight." Daenerys begged, describing herself as pathetic. "All right, I'll be there after work, and I'll cook dinner for you." After work, Winnie told her aunt she was going to Daenerys'. Winnie went upstairs and began to cook, because Daenerys said she was starved. "Are you not afraid of the smell of lampblack now?" Winnie chatted with Daenerys while cooking. "No, I have good appetite now." Daenerys helped to cook. "Don't eat too much. It is not good to be too fat, you will have high blood pressure." Winnie told Daenerys. When she was pregnant, it was really miserable. She did not take care of herself but paid all attention to pay off her debts. "Daenerys. Treasure your happiness. In the pregnant time, a woman most needs to have accompany. I envy that Kevin is always with you." "Kevin is really kind to me, he I had already refused several business trips because of me, and he wouldn't have gone today if I hadn't let him go. I am happy." "Winwin, actually, you can also be happy. Move on and you will be happy." Daenerys tried to get into the conversation. "I'd like to, but I can't with children. Unless I go back in time, before my parents died and when I met Leo abroad." "If I had been with Leo at that time, I think I would be happy now. Alas..... I'm not destined to be a blessed man." It was too late to say this, but it was good to look forward to it and remember the happiness she once had. "There is no destined thing, no matter what people's life is, it relies on their own efforts. Winwin, Leo..." As Daenerys talked about Leo, Winnie immediately interrupted her. "Come on, I told you not mention Leo again. I have no feelings for him. Do you think I can easily mention him if I have feelings for him?" "Daenerys, Leo and I are friends and partners now, and we get along very well in this way. If you get a chance to see him, help me persuade him to find a girlfriend." "I will be relieved if get a girlfriend." Winnie only had Brian in her heart. She knew Leo still had feeling for her, but life had no chance to start over. "Well, since your attitude is so firm, I will persuade Leo. Winwin, you can easily talk about Leo, but you avoid Brian, does it mean that you have feeling for him?" Daenerys mentioned Brian. This was the main reason she asked Winnie to come, and it was also the task given to her by Isobel. Winnie stopped chopping vegetables when she heard Brian's name. "Well, now I know how hard it is to forget someone." Winnie continued to chop vegetables. "It was like he was rooted in my heart. I tried so hard to forget him but I couldn't do it." "Winwin, if you can't do it, why don't you try to be with him? Maybe you can overcome the obstacles." Daenerys knew the pain of Winnie. Although she did not feel how much pain Winnie had, but she felt distressed. "It is not that simple. Love is mutual, and he said he doesn't love me, how can I be with him?" "I saw Wendy. She kept calling Brian fiancée in front of me. Do you think I can destroy their relationship?" Remembered that day, Winnie's heart gathered together. "Did you see Wendy?" Daenerys vigilantly asked for fear that Wendy would be the next Penny. "Yes, at Brian's office..." Winnie briefly explained what happened that day, but she did not mention the conversation between the two men in the parking lot. "She is annoying, stay away from her as far as you could." "But Winwin, if Brian likes you, will you have a try?" Daenerys did not know why Winnie said Brian did not love her, because she heard that Brian loved Winnie. "No if, for the Bennet Group, for the chairman, he will choose Wendy. Actually, I quite understand him, each person has his own aspirations.

Compared with feelings, Brian more valued career." "I could be unhappy if I marry such a man, so I didn't expect anything from him from the beginning. I know I shouldn't fall in love with him, but I just can't control my heart. So I don't blame Brian. I only blame myself." Winnie really did not blame Brian. He and she were walking a different way of life. He had no feelings for her, why she went to his road? "Since you know it's impossible, keep trying to forget Brian. I believe you will be happy one day."

Daenerys did not tell Winnie that Brian loved her, or it would cause trouble to Winnie and make her more difficult to get over him "Well, I will. They say time is the best medicine. If I fail one year, I will try two years. I will get over him one day." Winnie never thought it took only a second to love a person, but it took a lifetime to forget him. Never mind, she would forget him when she died. Winnie and Daenerys chatted for a while, and Winnie felt better. After dinner and cleaning up the mess, the two of them sat on the sofa in the living room, watching the palace drama and talking about how the plot would develop. Just then, the doorbell rang. Winnie was to open the door, but Daenerys stopped her. "I'll get it." Daenerys came to the door and saw that it was Brian in the video. She didn't want to open the door for fear that Winwin would be sad, but the doorbell kept ringing. After she opened the door, Brian walked directly in. "Sorry to disturb you again. Where is Kevin?" Brian said as he changed into slippers. "Kevin is on a business trip today." Daenerys didn't want Brian to walk in, but as he spoke, Brian had already gone to the living room and saw Winnie sitting there. He stopped, wanting to go back at once, but could not move his steps. "You're here, too." Brian greeted her in a low voice. "Yes, Doctor Burns is on a business trip. Daenerys was afraid to be at home alone. I came to stay with her." For the appearance of Brian, Winnie felt surprised. And her mood became back at the moment to see Brian. "Oh." Before Brian sat down, he heard Winnie said that Kevin was not at home, then he noticed that Daenerys had just said that once. Since Kevin was not at home, he had no reason to stay, but he still sat down. "How are the children?" Brian found a topic and knew he shouldn't chat with Winnie, but he couldn't help it. He could not control his legs, his mouth and his heart. It was like he was not himself, by controlled by a ghost. "Well, they are good. I signed Luke up for a programming competition and he is preparing for it." Speaking of children, Winnie felt better, after all, he, as a father, had the right to ask about the children. "You teach them well, Luke can have achievement." Brian knew he was not praising his son but Winnie. However, his words made Winnie. Her attention was on Brian and she kept glance at him from time to time. "Mr. Bennet, have your wedding not been decided yet?" Daenerys spoke to ease the awkwardness. She knew it was a sore spot, but she had to remind Brian to face the reality and stop lusting after Winnie and bothering her. "No, it's been extended indefinitely. I'll think about it when Megan and Luke allow it." Brian replied coolly. "Having children is troublesome. If you don't have two children, you could have married respectively. Now you have to worry about the children." What Daenerys said made Brian and Winnie heartache. "Since Kevin is not at home, I will go back first. You go to bed early." Brian knew that he should not stay here. The meaning of Daenerys' words was too obvious, and it was hurtful to hear that. He got up. Winnie still sat on the sofa and had no intention to see him off. Before Brian reached the door, he called Winnie. "Winwin, please come out, I want to talk to you." Winnie was stunned for a moment, and then got up to follow him out. At the door of Daenerys' house. "Winwin, Klara was rude to you in the elevator the other day. I'm sorry. If you're not satisfied, I can demote her." Brian learnt what happened that day. Winnie had no reason to accept Klara's impoliteness. If she was not satisfied with his apology, he would fire Klara. "I do not know how you know it, but never mind. If you punish her, she will think I told you and will hate me more." Winnie did not put that in heart, but she minded Brian's apology. "And I am sorry that Wendy came to you. Please don't mind what she said, I will try not to let her see you." Brian said sorry again. In front of Wendy, he could pretend he knew nothing, but he felt that Winnie would mind it and he had to say sorry.

Hey, My Twins Babies

CHAPTER 232 SIX YEARS OF BETRAYAL

Winnie lowered her head and raised his mouth in self-mockery. It seemed that he knew that Wendy had found her alone, or he would not apologize to her. "Mr. Bennet, you always said sorry for women. You said sorry to before for Penny and now for Wendy and Klara. Actually, I quite envy them, when they did wrong things, there will be a man say sorry for them." "Don't worry, I don't pay any attention to what they say." "I gotta go." Winnie's heart was in tears. She hoped that Brian could also say sorry to other women for her. However, she it would be impossible. Brian did not speak and Winnie turned to the house. Brian's footsteps were unable to move because of Winnie's envy. He wanted to help Winnie most, protect her most, but he kept hurting her. As Brian was about to walk away, Winnie's wronged cries came from the house. "Don't cry, Winwin. What did he say to you?" Daenerys' worried voice also fell into Brian's ears. "Don't ask, don't ask, Daenerys. I just want to cry for a while, don't ask..." Winnie's crying hurt Brian's heart. He wanted to rush in to embrace her and comfort her. But the consequence of his impulse was likely to be eternal misery. Winnie and Brian had not seen each other for more than 10 days since they met at Daenerys' home. Although they missed each other, they would not feel hurt if they did not meet. But fate had brought them together again. Richard had not been caught yet. The case that Penny instigated kidnap and maltreatment Luke was time to sentence. Brian and Winnie came to the court as plaintiffs, and Penny was tried as defendants. All the evidence was conclusive, there was no opportunity for Penny's chicanery. Penny seemed to have seen the facts and she did not deny when the judge put forward all the charges. She was sentenced to six years in prison. Winnie was ok for that, whether it was six years or six days, Winnie only hoped that Penny could change. However, Brian was not satisfied with the sentence. According to the criminal law, she could only be sentenced to six years in prison. If Richard was caught and proved that she was involved in the killing, she would be sentenced to more serious charges. Penny was in low mood in the whole trial process. Until the end of the sentence, as she was to be taken away by the bailiff, she said to Winnie with hostility. "Winnie, it is only six years, I will miss you." Penny said gnashing teeth with hatred in eyes. Winnie looked back to Penny without any reaction, only to feel that six years of time seemed to be unable to change Penny. "Be careful what you say, Penny, threaten me again, I will sue you." Brian warned her with anger. Brian could not stand that. He was around, but Penny threatened Winnie. How dare she? "Brian, take good care of your woman these six years. Take it as a chance I give it to you." To this point, Penny was not afraid of any one. No matter how cruel Brian's words were, she wanted to warn Winnie that she would not give up and that she would live on the support of hatred for the rest of her life. Penny then was taken away by the bailiff. And Winnie was speechless. It seemed that what she told Penny was in vain. Why did Penny think Brian liked her? Why did Penny hate her? They walked out of the court. Winnie turned to Brian. "Mr. Bennet, I want to ask you something. Why did you not tell Penny that you do not like me, and why did you make her misunderstand me and hate me?" Winnie had long wanted to ask this question, but she felt pointless to ask so. However, Winnie could not help but ask seeing hatred in Penny's eyes. "....." Brian didn't know how to answer. "To protect Wendy, right? Are you afraid that Penny would hate Wendy? Are you afraid that Wendy will get hurt, so I have to bear all this, right?"

Winnie asked angrily. She thought she did not owe Brian, but why she took all the blame. Why did he use her for his beloved woman? "No..." "Yes. I'm a victim. Now Penny is not a threat to Wendy, why don't you tell the truth? Oh... I forgot that Richard has not been caught and it may still cause harm to Wendy, so my mission is not completed, right? You won't tell the Burn family that you don't like me until I am killed by Richard." Winnie could only think of this reason. If at the beginning when Penny held hostile to Winnie, Brian told her that he did not like her, maybe things would not be as bad as now. Penny would not be crazy to this point, and Winnie needed not again and again met accidents, and almost lost her life. But Penny, who had been punished, still hated her. In the court she threatened Winnie, however, Brian still did not tell the truth. Winnie could only think that she had not been used up. "Winwin, don't think like that. I didn't tell Penny that it wasn't because I was protecting Wendy. I was..." Last time when Brian tried to explain, he was interrupted by Winnie. This time, he stopped himself because he didn't know whether to say "I love you". He did not know if it was good or bad. Would it harm Winnie? He couldn't say it because he hadn't considered it well. "Why stop? Am I right? I now see that all things do not have a good ending, all because of my existence. If one day I die at Richard's hands, you will be happy. Everything will be over." Winnie said desperately and stared at Brian angrily. But she did not hate him. Since Brian did not give her a clear explanation, her speculation was the fact. In Brian's heart, she was a shield to protect his women. When all his goals had been achieved, he could be safe and happy. When the time came, she should have been dead. Winnie angrily turned around and walked away. She didn't hate him, she hated herself for falling in love with someone who used her. She hated herself for being unable to get him over. Brian could not defend, but look at Winnie leave. He did not expect Winnie to think in that way. However, Winnie's suffering was because of meeting him. Without him, Penny would not make it hard for her. If he did not love Winnie, perhaps Penny would not attack her as an enemy. But Winnie, you fool, why don't you think about it from another Angle? Why don't you think because he loved you too much, it caused Penny's jealousy, and that was why you experienced so many difficulties? Penny knew that he loved Winnie, so did Wendy and Klara. All the people knew that he loved her, why she thought he was using her? Who would use the one he loved? Brian was very sad. He wanted to love, but he could not. He wanted to be far away, but he could not. He wanted a famous teacher to give him directions to make Winnie happy. Felix finally came back. Wendy came to please him. Now she could only put the hope on Felix, because she finally knew, as long as Felix was alive, he was the king of the Bennet family, everything was up to him. There were many people in Bennet's house. Uncle Thomas and his families were all there. Rufus and Stella also came back. Wendy had been gallant at the table, served food to Grandpa, poured wine for grandpa, and said what Grandpa liked to hear. This time she didn't annoy Grandpa. "Grandpa, you have taken a long time to recuperate this time. Don't you miss me?" Stella said mischievously while eating a meal. She did not like Wendy's excessive attentions. "You are almost 40 years old and still naughty. I didn't miss you, but Luke." "Brian, why didn't you bring Luke? Do you still bother Winnie?" Felix had always wanted to ask this question, but he just didn't get the chance. Now he mentioned Winnie again, people who knew the truth were nervous. "He is with Winnie. Luke caught a cold in the kindergarten. I'm afraid he will infect you, so I didn't pick him up. I'll bring him to see you when he gets over his cold in a few days." Brian knew his grandfather would ask and had thought of a reason. "Grandpa is not afraid of infection. We all miss Luke. Brother, where is Winnie's home? I now can pick up Luke." Jack was very excited when it came to Winnie. "No, Luke does not feel well." Brian suppressed the anger and said in a low voice. He was angry to see that Jack was excited. "It troubles Winnie, but I feel relieved she takes care of Luke." Felix said this deliberately to Wendy. He was angry thinking that she could not accept Luke. Felix continued to speak. "I brought something back, and bring it to Winnie when you had time. I brought presents to Luke and Megan. Tell her I thank you for taking care of Luke." "When I have time, I will thank Winnie personally. She helps us take care of Luke, a present not enough." Felix meant Luke was pathetic as if no one wanted him. Wendy was in embarrassment.

Hey, My Twins Babies

CHAPTER 233

Stella said to ease the atmosphere, seeing the situation was not right. "Grandpa, it doesn't matter you don't miss me, but have you brought me a present?" Stella attracted grandpa's attention, not because she felt distressed about Wendy's embarrassment, but because it was not good for Brian. It was a family reunion, she was afraid that Grandpa would get angry because of Wendy. "No, except for Winnie and the children, no one has any presents. None of you can get presents." Although Stella did not want grandpa to continue this topic, no one could stop him. "Grandpa, you are right, I also think Winnie is a good person. She is a mother of Luke's classmate, but she was willing to help us take care of Luke. I think she is very great." Jack was in line with him. In short, he kept talking about Winnie. "All right, let's eat..." Felix seemed to say enough and wanted everyone to eat, but Thomas's phone rang and it angered Felix. "Your mobile phone always rings when you have a meal. I reminded you not to take your mobile phone when you have a meal. You are almost 60 years old, but you always forgot that." Felix blamed him, and Thomas did not care about that. "I forgot, I pick up elsewhere." Then Thomas got up and went to the living room. "Who is it?" Although it was an unknown number, Thomas picked it up. "Me, Richard." "You..." Hearing Richard's name, Thomas nervously looked back at the table and went back to his bedroom with his mobile phone. Thomas' prudent behavior was seen by Brian, so was Stella. After dinner, Wendy came to Felix's study alone. She knocked on the door carefully and entered, looking embarrassed. "Grandpa, I've come to disturb you." Felix took off his glasses and rubbed his eyes, but said nothing. "Grandpa, I was wrong last time. I shouldn't have made you angry. Brian and I have agreed to take Luke over and live with us as soon as we get married. I will treat him as if he were my own son." Wendy apologized. Although she was not willing to, although she did not want to see Felix's cold face, in order to marry Brian as soon as possible, she could only endure it. "That was what Penny said. How can I believe you? You left because you can't accept Luke." Felix said coldly. Wendy could not convince him. He was afraid that Wendy would become Penny. Luke had been unable to withstand a blow again and Felix must be cautious. "I..." Wendy did not know what to answer, at the moment she knew that she had left before made her unbelievable. "Grandpa, I can't show you that. But I promise you I'll do it. You can see how I treat Luke." Wendy did not know what to say and could only blindly guarantee. Actually she was not sure if she could make it. She didn't like children and didn't know how to get along with them. And one day Grandpa would know that Megan was a Bennet, and it would be a heavy burden for her to take care of two children. "We will see. I know Luke does not agree with you to get married with Brian. You can't ignore his feeling and insist on getting married." Felix said so was to give Wendy opportunity. "Yes, I have talk about it with Brian, and for the sake of the children, we will postpone the wedding. I want to move to the suburbs with Brian, so that the family are together, Luke and I will gradually had a better relationship. By the time he can accept me, we'll be getting married. You can have Brian's hukou, when the time comes, we will take it with Luke." Wendy tried to please Felix. She wanted to move here to cheat the hukou back and wanted to get a marriage certificate without telling Grandpa and the children. But in order to show it to grandpa, she could only go against her will. Now she was getting more and more far away from her goal. But if Grandpa did approve of their move to suburbia, it might be a good thing for her. In this way, they could live together, and their feelings would be deeper and she had not need to worry about Winnie's involvement. "Oh, you're moving to the suburbs?" Felix did not expect that. Winnie did not finish his task, if Wendy could finish it, it would be good. "If you think so, talk to Brian. If he agrees, you can move to the suburbs together, where it will be easier to connect with Luke." At this, Felix paused before continuing to say. "Wendy, you know Brian's relationship with his father is not good. If you can restore Brian's relationship with his father, I will be grateful to you." Felix's tone finally eased down. Although he did not feel that Wendy was as capable as Winnie, in this matter perhaps Wendy would have different results. "I will, don't worry, Grandpa. I will restore their relationship to what it was before." Wendy bragged, thinking this was her best chance. But she neglected to know how rigid the relationship between Brian and his father had become. On the way home, Wendy couldn't wait to discuss with Brian. "Brian, I have talked with grandpa. He told me to get along well with Luke, and I agreed. But I can't get along with Luke, because he is in his mommy's. What do you suggest?" Wendy asked Brian for advice, but did not directly say what she thought. "It is not difficult, I'll let you get along some other time. You don't have to care Grandpa's words. Luke and Megan will always be with their mother. You just need to do a good job when he comes to see Grandpa." Brian would not let Luke and Wendy live together. In the case of Penny, he trusted only Winnie. "But I need Luke to cooperate with me. Brian, why don't we go to the suburbs and live you're your father? Then every weekend we can take two children to the suburbs. Even if they don't like me, I can learn more about their habits and it will be easier for us to cooperate together." Wendy felt her words convincing and Brian would agree. "No, I'm not going to the suburbs." Brian refused coldly. He could not accept that heartless man. Only when Winnie was in the house, could he feel warm. Since Winnie left, he had no desire to be there, and even if Wendy wanted to make an effort for the children, he could not accept it. "Brian, I know you and your father..." Wendy still did not give up, but Brian did not give her a chance to continue to say. "Albert, hurry up and send Wendy home." "Ok, Mr. Bennet." Albert answered and stepped on the accelerator. He learnt Brian's attitude was firm, but Wendy did not give up. Albert knew that Brian would never take the suburb as a family without Winnie around. Without Winnie to mediate, the relationship between them would go sour. Wendy was sent home and Brian went directly to Winnie's home. He was to give her a present from his grandfather. And he had been worrying since Winnie left in anger that day. He could only feel relieved to see that she was well. Downstairs, Brian called Winnie, but it was Megan answered the phone. "Dad, I'm Megan. Where are you?" "Megan, ask Mommy to answer the phone." Brian knew that Winnie must be there, but she didn't answer his calls. "Mommy..." Megan looked up at Winnie and Brian continued. "Tell Mommy I something to tell her." The phone was silent for a while before Winnie's voice came. "What's up?" "Grandpa came back with a present for you. I'm downstairs. Come down and get it." Brian whispered and he felt at least only to hear her voice. "...Winnie wanted to ask him to get up, but the two children would not let him go if they saw him, so she changed her mind." "Wait a minute, I'll ask Vanessa to get it." Winnie didn't want to see him, and if possible, if her job allowed, she wanted to go on an indulgent trip, to go out for a month or two to broaden her horizons, so she could get over him. But she had not had such an opportunity, and she could only endure. "Winwin, get down. I have something to tell you." The person Brian wanted to see was Winnie. The matter was not so important. He just wanted to see if she was OK. "I'll go down if it's about the kids." Winnie said bluntly. She did not want to have anything other than the children to do with Brian. "It's about the kids." Apart from children, Brian had no other topics. Winnie did not refuse, put down the phone casually, put on her coat and went out. Brian's car was so good that it was very conspicuous in the community. It was not difficult to find him. Just as Winnie was about to reach the car, Albert opened the door in the back to greet Winnie. "I won't get in. Talk here." Winnie looked at Albert's smile and became serious. "Winnie, get in, it's cold outside." Albert would not miss this opportunity to let two people stay alone. Although he felt difficult that Winnie and Brian were together, he always thought that they were a match. Winnie was embarrassed to look at Albert standing there for her to open the door, she had to get in the car and sat beside Brian. "What's the matter... Atishoo." Before Winnie finished speaking, she suddenly sneezed.

Hey, My Twins Babies

CHAPTER 234 MEET IN THE ABANDONED FACTORY

Winnie's sneeze made Brian nervous, he asked with concern. "Have you caught a cold?" "It's all right, what do you want to say... Atishoo." Winnie sneezed again. "If it's cold, I can turn up the temperature of the air conditioner?" Worried, Brian didn't say what he wanted to say. "I'm fine, but the perfume is too strong for me." Winnie covered her nose and breathed with her mouth, and it seemed better. She had never smelled this perfume, but she knew it must be a strong perfume for women. Her nose could only accept the light one; this one was too strong. "Let's get off and talk. The perfume will stay for a while." With that, Brian opened the door and got out of the car. He knew that the perfume was left by Wendy, and it was not suitable for Winnie. Winnie got off the car too. It was better, and she had no need to be stiff. Two people came to stand next the car. Winnie finally could breathe smoothly. "Say it, what is it?" "Grandpa came back. I told him that Luke was here with you and he asked me to say thank you and that he was relieved that you take care of Luke." "Grandpa will probably come to you and thank you personally. Be careful what you say. I still haven't told Grandpa that Megan is my child." She knew that and he had no need to tell her. It was just an excuse he came to see her. "I know. Is that all? I gotta go upstairs." Winnie was not stupid. She could handle it. "A present. A present from Grandpa." Brian opened the trunk and took out the present. "Grandpa prepared this for you and two children. Albert, help send it up." Brian ordered. Seeing that Winnie's state was OK, he could feel relieved and did not expect to get along with her for a longer time. Although he was reluctant, he had to give up. Albert ran to take it. "I can take it myself." "Let me do it, I will send you up, Winnie." Albert said. "Let me do it, next time I won't come down. Please send it up next time." Winnie said. Then she took the thing in Brian's hand and turned to leave. After two steps, she stopped and looked back at Brian. "Talk in the telephone in the future, if you get things for the children, please ask Albert to give me." Winnie said ruthlessly and then left. It was no big deal. There was no need to meet like this. Otherwise, she would become Wendy's enemy. Looking at Winnie's retreating figure, Albert could not help speaking. "Mr. Bennet, it's not easy to see Winnie once. Why don't you stay here for a while? If she says so, how can you ever see her again?" Albert was anxious that they tortured each other like that. He had been holding back this sentence for a long time, but today he got courage and said it out. "What difference will it make if she stays longer? I still can't sway Grandpa." Brian was not angry, but the tone was sad. "Mr. Bennet, Chairman is so old that one day he will be gone, and then he won't be in charge of you. Happiness is yours. Would you rather live in misery all your life?" "I don't want to see you suffer. I want you to be with Winnie more than anyone else. I want you to be happy." Albert wasn't complimenting, and he knew that Brian didn't buy it. He said these words from the bottom of heart and he did not want a couple to separate. "I know, but Wendy is not easy to be dealt with." "Albert, am I so obvious? Even you can see I like her." Brian's eyes were fixed on Winnie's back. He only felt reluctant to part. "I was rude today, Mr. Bennet, what you said is implicit. You love her. Not only I can see it, everyone could see that, including Klara, otherwise she would not have done those things to Winnie." Albert almost said even a fool could see that. "You all know, why Winwin can't see it?" Brian seemed to be asking himself as well as Winnie. Now he was conflicted in the hope that Winnie knew his heart. "Mr. Bennet, Winnie heard you said you don't like her, how could she see that?" "Mr. Bennet, Winnie is such a good person, I think..." Albert wanted to continue to persuade Brian, but Brian changed the topic. "Albert, be careful of grandpa, tell his men the money could not be taken in vain. Do it well." Brian ordered, and then got into the car. He knew that Winnie was a good woman, if not, he would not fall in love with her, but he should let her live better, and she could only stay away from him. The next day Thomas went out and came to a remote abandoned factory, to see a person he hated. "Are you not afraid of being arrested by the police to contact me at this time?" Thomas grimly said. He came to see Richard. "I can only think of you at this time. How is my daughter now?" Richard asked. He looked messy, and had no prestige anymore. "I heard she got six years sentence in person. You're still thinking about her, can't you protect yourself? It was your daughter who had done wrong." Thomas said angrily. "I know it was her mistake, but she was my child. Thomas, we're in trouble now. Now that you're here, help me." Richard's voice became serious. When he heard that his daughter was sentenced six years in prison, he felt more at ease. It was not so long, and it was better than he had expected. "I haven't even settled with you yet. If I had been told these things earlier, I would not have come back." Thinking that he got cheated, Thomas was in anger. He maliciously looked at Richard and was angry that he destroy his things. "The speed of the Bennet Group's acquisition of the Burns Group caught people off guard and I was unprepared. I wouldn't have let you back if I'd known." Richard's explanation was not convincing at all, which made Thomas even more annoyed. "You don't know? Your company had long been in trouble. Otherwise, Brian wouldn't have found an opportunity. And that precious daughter of yours even dare abuse the child of the Bennet family. It was merciful to bankrupt you and put you in prison, if it were my father, he would have killed you." Thomas said angrily. He really did not expect that Penny would do that. "It's no use talking about it now. Help me find a place to hide. It's an abandoned factory. It's getting cold and I can't stand it at night." Richard did not continue the topic, no matter what Thomas said, now it was too late. Now he could only rely on Thomas now. "If I give you a hiding place, I am to commit a crime" Thomas stared at Richard with eyes widened and anger. At this time, it would be good Richard was as far away from him as possible. "Don't call me again. I'll be out of the country soon." Thomas turned around to leave. Richard sure would not give up this rare opportunity. "Thomas, you will give up your plan? I know a lot about Brian. And you can't be so heartless. We have been partners for many years. I know you well enough, in spite of what I've been through." Richard's words clearly reached Thomas's ears, making Thomas feel a cool breeze blowing on his back. "Stay where you are, and I'll get you a place to stay." Thomas had no way but to compromise. He did not turn back and continued to walk forward. "Please visit my daughter, thank you in advance." Seeing that he had smoothly threatened Thomas, Richard's tone became soft. he knew Thomas would meet all his requirements. Thomas stopped and then left in resentment. Winnie's design had been used in online car hailing across the country, and the response had been very good. Because of this, Winnie suddenly became a celebrity, and many journalists came to interview her. After recording the program, Winnie and Leo felt tired. "It seems that we are not professional. I thought it was easy to shoot films, but I felt I came back from the battlefield. Now I finally understand the meaning of the saying, "Difference in profession makes one feel worlds apart."Leo chanted as he walked.There were so many magazines and economic programs asking him to be interviewed, but he never accepted one. But this time it was different, because Winnie was with him.As long as Winnie was there, he would accept interview as long as he received an invitation."I feel the same way. I feel so tired. This is the last time I accept the interview. I won't accept one again no matter how much money they pay me."Winnie looked like a tired dog. This kind of work was difficult for her."For the last time, we're not going to be on any show in the future.""Winwin, let's have lunch together. We can only heal each other with food."Leo said jokingly. It was good to have his company. Otherwise Winnie might have been unable to hold on."Ok."Winnie readily agreed."Bring the kids out, too."Leo had been looking for a chance to spend more time with the two children, with whom he had not seen for a long time."The kindergarten is too far from here. I'll starve to death by the time I picked them up. Let's find a restaurant around here."Winnie didn't want to be troublesome. And she had to go back after lunch.

Hey, My Twins Babies

CHAPTER 235 MEET IN RESTAURANT

Leo always respected Winnie's opinions, so the two found a restaurant nearby. They had no reservations and had to eat in the lobby of the restaurant. "By the way, Winwin, how is the game you mentioned last time?" Leo put down the chopsticks and asked Winnie. "It's almost done. I'll sell you when it comes out." Winnie answered with ease. After this game was sold, she could return one million to Leo. "I have an idea. How about we develop it together? I pay money, and you pay technology." Leo suddenly changed his mind, and wanted to cooperate with Winnie. "You don't even know what game I design. I'm very likely to disappoint you." Until now Winnie had no confidence in her game, after all, this was a new field for her. But before she designed the game, she did a lot of preparatory work. She did a questionnaire and studied the game for a long time before she started. "No matter what you come up with, I have confidence in you. Winwin, we can not only be friends, but also make money together. I made a lot of money on last software, and we'll make more money on this one." "This software is your design, and we can cooperate with you, your company has no need to participate in it. In this way you make more money and I make more money." Leo wanted Winnie to make money for her own effort, so that she could more money. He did not think of self-interest. But he was not sure if Winnie would cooperate with him. "I'll think about it, and I'll tell you when I have the answer." Winnie knew she could make more money from the partnership, but if it failed, all her hard work would be worthless. Winnie knew Leo was thinking for her, trying to make her earn more money, and knew that he was helping her in another way. Winnie was moved, but Winnie was afraid that Leo could not get her over if they had too much contact. It was bitter to get someone over. Winnie was deep in it and knew it was difficult to forget someone. She was trying to avoid seeing Brian, how could she sway the heart of Leo? "No problem, continue to create while thinking about my collaborations. As long as you want to cooperate on development, please give me the opportunity." Leo said, but he did not want to bring burden to Winnie because of anything. "Rest assured, you are my first choice." Winnie said with a smile, but when she inadvertently looked up, she saw Brian and Wendy walked out of the compartment. Evidently Wendy had seen her too, and it was too late for Winnie to look away. She could smile as greeting. Seeing that, Leo turned along the line of sight of Winnie and saw Brian. Now it was impossible to pretend they had not seen each other. Leo looked back at Winnie and then got up. By this time, Brian and Wendy had reached their table. "I didn't know you are here, or we can have lunch together." Leo, as usual, was gentle. "We've already had lunch. Take your time." Brian said coldly, took Wendy's hand and was to leave, but Wendy said. "Nice to see you again, Miss Chambers. Is this your boyfriend?" Wendy's words were sarcastic, which upset Winnie. "Hello, nice to meet you, too." Winnie greeted her decently, and did not answer Wendy's questions. It was no one's business whether he was her boyfriend or not, she didn't have to answer. "You eat, we gotta go. Have dinner sometime." Wendy did not expect Winnie to skip her questions, instantly she felt embarrassed. "I'll see you sometime." Winnie still gave a polite smile. Wendy was pulled to leave. When they were out of Winnie's sight, Brian let go of Wendy's hand, and then got in the car with saying a word. At the moment he saw Winnie, he was pleased, but when he saw Leo, he was jealousy that Leo could be with Winnie regardless of everything. However, he minded the most was that Winnie did not answer. She had been saying that she had nothing to do with Leo, but didn't she explain when Wendy asked her. He really cared about it. Wendy's mood dropped sharply as Brian let go of her hand. The two of them had nothing to do with each other. Why didn't Brian say a word when he saw Winnie? He had been avoiding her touch, but why did he take her hand when he saw Winnie was with other men? Was Brian jealous and angry that Winnie was with other men? Were all these expression of love and care? In the dining room. "That woman..." Leo could not help but ask. "She is Wendy, the woman Brian had been waiting for all these years." Winnie tried to look as unfazed as possible by Brian, trying to look calm. "They'll get married?" Seeing that they were intimate, Leo asked. "Yes, if the children would have agreed, the wedding would have taken place." Sometimes Winnie wished Brian would get married soon. Like today, if they were husband and wife, what heartache would she have, what would she expect? Leo did not continue to ask. Brian liked Winnie, did he give up because of the status? Although Winnie covered well, Leo still could feel her sadness. She loved Brian so deeply that she could not easily forget him. Penny saw in prison Winnie's interview. Winnie's triumph and her mess at this time was a sharp contrast, which made Penny more hate Winnie. "Winnie, you will be good for six years, and after that, I will make you miserable." Penny stared at Winnie in the TV with resentment. "Your family comes to see you." Suddenly the C.O. called her. Penny was puzzled. She still had family? Who would come to see her? Penny was disdainful, but she followed the C.O. to the interview room. When she saw the man, she thought the C.O. had called the wrong person. She didn't know him, a man in his sixties. As Penny was to ask C.O., Thomas spoke. "Penny." When Penny heard the man call her name, she knew that he was here to see her, at least he knew her. Confused, she walked over to the glass wall and sat down. "You are..." Asked Penny in a low voice, with a puzzled look on her face. "You don't need to know who I am. I've been asked to see you." Thomas's voice was low. It was natural that Penny did not know him, for he had gone abroad at the time when she married Brian and he had not returned to participate in the wedding. He had never come back for so many years. But he had met Penny, when he was studying things with Richard. She looked different now. Thomas then raised his voice. "How are you? I am worried about you, so I come to see you. I got you some money and a single room. The police will show you to your room when you get back. If you need help, ask the police to contact me. I will help you." Thomas was not afraid of being heard by the police. Because before he came in, he said he was Penny's uncle. Penny was confused and could not figure out who he was. But the imposing manner of this man's dress was far from ordinary. Now she was at her worst. Her sister and brother had never come to see her. Who had asked him to come? Her father? "Thank you, Uncle!" Thinking of her father, Penny felt reliable, for he had not yet been caught, and it was natural for him to send a friend to visit her. "You are welcome. I should take care of you. I'm relieved to see you're all right. Behave well so that you can have your sentence commuted." Thomas looked at Penny, thinking

she was not that stupid. She was just not cautious. With her ability to fight with Brian, certainly she would fail."I will, Uncle. Tell my family I'm fine and don't worry about me." Penny was confused and could only say so. She did not know that her father had such friends, but the ones who could come to see her were his good friends."I will tell them, behave well and try to get home earlier." "You can spend the money I have transfer to you and buy whatever you want. If it is not enough, I will transfer to you." "Since you are good here, I will go back first." Thomas felt that his task was completed and had something to tell Richard once he asked."Good-bye, Uncle." Penny did not keep him, because she could not say much, and she did not know who he was. She guessed that if she spoke too much, it would affect her father. After Thomas left, Penny was taken to a single room, and her food became better. But her attention was still on the man. Was he her father's friend? If not, who would get her a single room? Luke's programming final was in the next day. Winnie was calm, even if Luke did not have good achievement, she felt normal."Luke, don't be afraid, don't be nervous. This kind of competition is just an exercise for you, and you'll do it more often. Be calm and you win." In the living room, Winnie was appealing Luke."It's my first competition anyway, so can you ask Daddy to come with me?" Luke asked with expectation.

Hey, My Twins Babies

CHAPTER 236 COMPETITION

Winnie did not want to see Brian, did not want to communicate with him, did not want to disturb his quiet and happy life. So she wanted to be perfunctory to Luke. "Daddy's probably busy. It's a small competition, don't bother Daddy." "You haven't called Daddy. How do you know Daddy is busy?" Megan asked Mommy. She also hoped to have father's company. "Then you can ask Daddy. If Daddy has time to go with you, I will go to work. I have work anyway." Winnie had no right to stop Brian to go, but she could do it herself. "Mommy, I don't feel so at ease without you. You have to go. Your son is more important than your job." Luke wanted his parents to go. This was his wish. "I'll call Daddy, and if Daddy has time, we'll all go and cheer on brother." Megan said while making a call. "Daddy, I miss you." Megan said happily. Hearing that, Brian forgot all worries. "I also miss you. You are still up, do you want to have a video chat with me?" "Yeah." Megan sent the video invitation to Brian. "Daddy, are you busy at work tomorrow?" As soon as the video was connected, Megan hurried to ask. "I am busy every day." Brian replied, looking at everything in the video. He saw Luke and Megan, but did not see Winnie. "Can you spare a day for me and my brother?" Megan asked. "What for?" Brian said in a soft voice. Megan felt she failed, but adults were heard to be dealt with. Luke said. "Daddy, I'm going to the finals of a programming competition tomorrow. Can you come with me?" "Competition..." Brian was silent for a moment, wondering if he could leave his work tomorrow. But Luke thought Daddy in hesitation..... "Daddy, I always envy that the kids have their parents to participate the kindergarten activities. Please come with Mommy, so that I can know what it is like." Afraid that Brian refused, Luke continued to request. "Yes, Daddy, the teacher said that we only have childhood once, and it's better to have parents with us as we grow up. Daddy, complete one of our wishes." Megan said. If Daddy did not agree, she would continue. "Where's Mommy? Has Mommy got a minute?" Brian did not mean to refuse, but listening to the words of the two children, he felt sorry for them. Speaking of Mommy, Megan switched the camera, and then Brian saw Winnie lying on the sofa, typing with her mobile phone. Just then a text message reached his phone. It was sent by Winnie. "Don't say yes if you don't have time." Brian looked at Winnie in the video who kept her eyes fixed on her phone as if waiting for his answer. "I am free. I will go with you." "Thank you, Daddy, Daddy, we love you!" Megan and Luke were very happy, but Brian found Winnie frowned in the screen. Then another message appeared on the screen. "If you have Wendy with you, tell them in advance so they won't get emotional again." Winnie finished the message and sighed. She did not know that she was on the video. "Luke, Megan, I will pick you up tomorrow morning. We will go together." Brian said. "I have to work now so I can go with you tomorrow. Say goodbye to Daddy." Winnie's delicate face was on Brian's mobile phone. He had been watching until she disappeared. The next day, Brian arranged everything and drove to Winnie's house to pick them up. All the way when Brian spoke, Winnie did not speak. When Winnie spoke, she would keep her mouth shut whenever Brian interrupted her. If possible, she only wanted to use text to communicate with him, and did not want to say a word to him. To the scene of the competition, Winnie once again comforted Luke, for fear that he was nervous. "Now, Mommy, you're the most nervous one. I have you and Daddy with me and I'm not nervous at all. Don't worry, I will do a good job." "Well, I am too nervous. I should learn from you to be calm." Listening to Luke's relaxed tone, Winnie felt relieved. "Son, just try your best. Ranking is not important." Brian was afraid that Luke would be nervous, after all, he had depression. If he was too nervous, it would annoy him. "Ok, Daddy, none of you are to leave. You must stay here until I finish the competition." Luke was calmest. He did not care much about the competition. That Daddy and Mom came with him was the most important thing. Now he felt the happiness of facing the future together as a family. "I will stay with you all day, rest assured, I will accompany you to the end of the competition." Brian promised the children, but Winnie was embarrassed. Spending the whole day with Brian, she would go crazy. Luke was taken into the competition by the staff, Brian, Winnie and Megan waited outside, but they could see Luke in the position of the family. "Mommy, look how serious brother is." Megan said proudly. "Keep your voice down. This is a competition. We can't disturb anyone." Winnie reminded her in a low voice. It would be good to look at it quietly. She did not need to communicate with Brian. Winnie put her attention to Luke. Winnie was proud of her child's calm and careful demeanor. Luke was the youngest in the competition of the youth group. According to the rules of the competition, he should be in the group of 6-9 years old, but his level was far beyond the content of that group, so Winnie took Luke's usual results to attend the youth group. The youth group is 10-16 years old, much older than Luke. But she wanted to see the strength of Luke, so that she know how much space for his development. The competition required that the program be completed and tested within five hours. As time went by, Winnie became more and more focused. Although this competition was the trial of B City, it was a great challenge to the contestants in terms of logical analysis ability, strategy making and brain power. Winnie was worried that Luke could not stick to it. Fortunately, Luke did a good job and had been focus. Luke had talent in programming and software. Luke was not like a five year old child, but a senior engineer. The big screen at the competition always played Luke's picture, the parents were whispering. "This boy is too young. It would be a loss to compete with children older than him." "He is serious, he may have good ability." "The boy is really handsome. His parents must be good looking." "He is excellent. I have been looking at him, and he kept focus, my child always looks around." Hearing that, Brian was flattered. For the first time, he felt more proud of his child's excellence than his own. However, with such excellent two children, the person he should thank most was Winnie. Thank her for giving him two children, thank her for bringing them up properly and intelligently, thank her for sacrificing her time for them. Brian's line of sight unconsciously fell on Winnie. The profile was so beautiful and the outline was so delicate. She sometimes frowned, sometimes smiled, sometimes she was nervous, sometimes was relaxed. Brian felt her every expression could hold his heart. By looking at her, he was pleased. "Daddy, brother is great." Megan lowered her voice and whispered in Brian's ear. "Yes, brother is the best, just as good as Mommy." Brian also whispered in the ear of Megan. Megan narrowed eyes and smiled happily. She liked Daddy's praise of Mommy. The competition was over, and the result was beyond anyone's expectation. The host announced the ranking one by one from back to front, but the name of Luke was not heard. Winnie had doubts. Did Luke make a mistake, how could he not get ranking? Third place, second place. "Now the first place winner is announced." "When you hear it, you must feel the same way I do, which is incredible." The host kept it a secret, then continued to announce. "The first prize, Luke Bennet. He is only five years old. He beat all the older kids and made it to the top." "Congratulations, Luke Bennet." When the host announced that, everyone held their breath and stared at the host with puzzled eyes, including Brian and Winnie. They thought they had misheard it. However, when the host said the last sentence, the referee took the lead in clapping, and all the people gave a warm applause. "Is it really Luke?" Winnie controlled her excitement and asked Brian. Now forgot that she shouldn't have spoken to him. "It is Luke, our son." "Brother is wonderful, brother, you are my pride." It seemed that Megan was the proudest one. She shouted loudly, attracting the attention of the audience. It was discovered that these were the champion's parents and sister.

Hey, My Twins Babies

CHAPTER 237 MAKING LIE INTO TRUTH

The host continued. "Miss Etiquette, please bring our champion forward so that everyone can see what a magical character he is." Then Miss Etiquette took Luke's hand and walked to the host. He was calm and composed, not proud, not excited, but slightly raised the corners of mouth. Seeing that, Brian knew that his confidence was inherited from Winnie and he looked exactly the same with Winnie. "Boy, why are you so calm? Are you happy you won the first prize?" The host squatted down and looked at the handsome and calm Luke. "Yes." Luke still gave a smile. "You should be screaming and cheering." The host like Luke's confidence and held up Luke. "I think it would make me proud if I shout and scream. But I'm really happy." "Wow, you are confident, and your words make sense." The host was astonished. However, Luke just gave a cool smile. "Luke, give acceptance speech, and then we will give you the certificate and price." The host put the microphone to Luke's mouth, looking forward to his speech. Luke looked at the location of his parents, and then said. "I have no testimonials. I don't know what to say. But I want to thank my father and mother for giving birth to me and raising me." Luke was sensible, but Brian and Winnie were more and guilty. They were the only ones who knew the deeper meaning of their child's words. They looked at each other with guilty to the children. "Winwin, thank you for cultivating Luke." At this time, Brian should say thank from the heart. Without Winnie, how could he have such an excellent child? Without Winnie, how could he experience such happiness? Brian also felt guilty to Winnie beside the children. He did not know whether there was a chance for him to pay for that, he only knew that she could not be hurt. No matter whom he lived with, the three most important people to him were the two kids and the Mommy. In order to avoid reporters' interviews, Brian could only use his connection, so their identity was not exposed. After leaving the competition, the family decided to celebrate, but Winnie suddenly received an emergency call from the company, so she had to give the two children to Brian. "You take them to dinner and bring them back to my house." Winnie was to leave after, Brian stopped her. "You are in urgent, and I can send you to the company." Brian was worried that Winnie feared of taking a taxi. "No, the kids are hungry. It's quicker for me to take the subway." "Please take care of them." Winnie would rather take the subway other than let Brian send her, so as not to be known by Wendy know or cause unnecessary trouble. After Winnie left, Brian took two children to a Chinese restaurant. During the meal, Brian made a phone call to Grandpa. "Grandpa, are you home?" "Yes." Felix answered. "Are Uncle and Aunt at home?" Brian continued to ask, but the children could not tell what was in his mind. "Not at home, Uncle Thomas is always not at home. Your aunt was not. Just me and your sister are home." Felix did not know why Brian asked that. "I will bring Luke and Megan to your home." Then he hung up the phone. "Luke, Megan, I take you to see great grandpa, ok?" Brian said to two children. "Ok, I haven't seen Great Grandpa in a long time." "Me too." Luke and Megan agreed. "I have something to tell you before we go. Great Grandpa does not know your identity, in addition to the address, be careful when you talk to great grandpa, don't let him find anything wrong." "We can do that." "Daddy, I can do that." Both kids had confidence. "Luke, Great Grandpa doesn't know you live with Mommy and thought you were in Grandpa's. But Daddy wants to use the fact that you won today to get you to stay with Mommy." "Do you understand what I mean?" Brian was afraid that the two children could not understand, so he confirmed with them. "Yes. You lied to great grandpa and now you're going to make it true." Luke explained. Megan listened carefully. "You are clever, Luke. Only if Great Grandpa agrees with you to stay with Mommy, you can stay with Mommy all the time." "Daddy, rest assured, brother and I will cooperate with you." Megan also understood the meaning of Brian, and was confident that she could do a good job. "Good, we will set off after meal." Brian drove to suburb with his two children and made sure again before he got off the car. "Can you do it?" "No problem." "Yes." The two children answered him at the same time. At this time, Brian was the one with the least confidence. Before entering the house, he sent a message to Stella for help. They walked into the house. In the moment of seeing Felix, two children rushed to Felix at the same time. "Great Grandpa, here we are." Felix sat on the sofa, otherwise he would have fallen down by the children. "Good, good, I miss you." Felix was also very happy. "Great Grandpa, have you forgotten Megan? But I have been missing you." Hearing that from Megan, Felix was glad. "No, how can I forget up? I have been missing you too." Felix did not know why he liked Megan and wanted to hug her. "Really? I will double miss to you. No matter how much you miss you, I will miss you more." With that, Megan kissed on Felix's forehead, which made Felix happier. "Good, I most like you." Megan alone could fix Felix. Brian thought Megan was brilliant. Stella was smiling from ear to ear. She did not expect grandpa's rigour would be defeated by a five-year-old girl. "Grandpa, I got the first prize in the city's youth programming competition." Luke said proudly, believing that the good news would make great grandpa happy. "Really? First prize, really?" As expected, Felix looked at Brian in surprise, waiting for a definite answer. "It's true. Here's the certificate and the trophy and the prize." Brian put the honors in his hands on the tea table. Felix let go of the two children and picked them up. "Luke is the youngest contestant in this group..." While Felix looked at them, Brian explained the competition. "You mean, Luke has beaten sixteen children?" Felix was surprised. "Yes, sixteen at the oldest. Luke won the first prize. After some time, Luke will participate in the national competition on behalf of B City. In national competition, he could only compete with the children in the same ages, so it would not be a problem." Brian was also very excited and proud. "Luke is the best, I am proud of you." Stella was also very surprised and did not expect Luke had this talent. "Well done, Luke, you are my pride, the hope of the Bennet Group's future." Felix sincerely praised. He had never seen such a proud hope like now, even if when he found Brian's ability, he was not so excited. A five-year-old boy defeated a sixteen-year-old child. No one can match his intelligence and ability. He was a genius. "Luke, you should thank your teacher for teaching you the skills." Said Felix. "Great Grandpa, there is no teacher. What I learned was the basic knowledge of computer, and what I used in the competition was taught by Auntie Winwin. I should thank her." Luke brought the topic to the key part, and there was nothing wrong. "Winnie." It was not strange. Winnie was a rare talent in this respect, and as expected, she could train Luke into a genius. "Thank Auntie Winwin then. I will thank her in person when I have time." "Great Grandpa, I have a request, will you agree?" Luke carefully asked, but looked pathetic. Brian was pleased to see that. It seemed that he learnt this skill from Megan. "Go on." Felix held the two children in his arms again. "I want to continue to learn software knowledge from Auntie Winwin. Can I live with her? I will come back after that." Luke's words made Felix instantly frowned. He said nothing. Stella said. "Grandpa, it's good to let Luke go to Winnie's. One is to learn better from Winnie, and the other is that he does not need to face Wendy." "Luke likes Winnie. It is better that Luke lives with her than Wendy." Stella was trying to persuade, but it could not be too obvious, so as not to have the opposite effect. After listening to Stella's words, Felix's eyebrows seemed to loosen a little, but he still did not speak. He thought that Luke should stay with his family, and he was afraid that the relationship between Brian and Winnie became more ambiguous because of Luke. However, if Luke was not allowed to go to Winnie's, he was afraid that Luke would lose interest in computers and that he could not find such an excellent teacher as Winnie. That would be waste.

Hey, My Twins Babies

CHAPTER 238 CRY ALONE

Megan kept turning eyes, looked at her aunt, Daddy, and then Felix. "Great Grandpa, let brother live with me. We will be good to brother. And he will have more time to learn from Mommy. Mommy said brother is a genius. If you don't feel rest assure, you can come and live with us, and I'll be happier if you live with us." Megan said sweetly, and Felix felt glad. "What do you think, Brian?" Felix finally said. "Grandpa, you have the final say. No matter whether you agree or not, what you worry about won't happen." Brian said. If his grandpa hadn't asked him, he wouldn't have spoken. But grandpa wanted to know his mind. Felix sighed and then became again silent. Megan found Great Grandpa had the possibility to say yes, so she made persistent efforts. "Great Grandpa, do you think Mommy is a good teacher?" "Of course." Felix answered simply. He did not know how to evaluate in the other aspects, but he always thought that Winnie was an outstanding talent. A few days ago, Felix found that Winnie developed a software that was used all over the country, and he liked her talent even more. "Then let brother learn from a good teacher, and he will be the best in the world." At this point, she paused, held Felix's face with two little hands and kissed him on his forehead. "Great Grandpa, go to my home together with brother, so there will be one more person loves me. Great Grandpa, my Mommy is very patient with old people and she will teach you to be a world champion." "Hahaha... Good, Megan, you are sweet, from now on Luke lives with you." Felix was happy and agreed. "That's great. Thank you, Great Grandpa. I love you so much." Megan kept kissing on Felix's face excitedly. She persuaded Great Grandpa successfully and completed the task given by Daddy. "Thank you, Great Grandpa." Luke was also happy. He admired Megan's clever mouth. "Don't say thank you so early, I still have request." "Luke, you should not only study computer software, but also business management. When you grow up, you should help your father grow the Bennet Group." Felix must take this opportunity to restrain Luke, but also suggested that he was the future successor of the Bennet Group, and he had to become a versatile talent. "No problem. I can do that." Luke promised. He did not know what he would do in the future, he only knew that only when he promised great grandpa, he could be with his Mommy forever. "Great Grandpa, I also want to learn business management, and I will work in your company when I grow up. I will earn money to buy food, clothes and toys to you." Megan once again warmed the heart of Felix, bringing infinite joy to Felix. "Well, I will give you the highest position, so you can make more money to buy toys for me." Felix said with a smile. He had not been so happy for a long time. The task was finally accomplished, and Brian didn't leak a smile until he was driving home. "Megan, you asked Great Grandpa to live with you, are you not afraid that he will really go to your home?" Brian wanted to laugh at the thought of it now. "I don't think Grandpapa will go, so I'm not afraid. Even if he will, he is welcomed. Mommy is the kindest and most filial, she will take good care of him." Megan said with confidence, because Mommy was the best Mommy in the world. "Well, Mommy is the kindest." Brian also agreed with the statement of Megan, which made Brian miss Winnie more. "Daddy, why don't you like Mommy, since she is so good?" Megan could not figure it out. Brian felt sad that he loved her, but he could not admit that. "I don't know. Nobody understands well about love. You'll see when you grow up and fall in love." "Maybe, but there's one thing I can't figure out. Mommy is so good. Why hasn't anyone liked Mommy in so many years? Why doesn't Mommy have a boyfriend?" "I'd rather have someone to take care of her, actually. It's really hard for her to be alone. I always saw Mommy crying alone. She must be in trouble. If she had a boyfriend to protect her, she wouldn't cry." "But I don't want any man other than Daddy to be Mommy's boyfriend. Brother, am I contradictory?" Megan seemed to soliloquize, and seemed to deliberately say to Brian. She was not sophisticated, scheming, but she hoped that Daddy knew that Mommy had a hard time. "Well, I've seen Mommy cry badly. Don't worry, Megan, I will grow up quickly, and then protect you and Mommy, I will be your support. I won't make Mommy cry when I grow up." Luke comforted Megan. He would rather protect his mother alone than want Mommy to have a boyfriend. He would take the place of Daddy to protect Mommy, make Mommy happy because of him. "Ok, we will protect Mommy together. We are obedient, don't make Mommy angry or sad." Megan felt that this was the best they could do now, and that they could only do better to reduce Mommy's pain. Brian felt sour to hear that. Two children were sensible, and Winnie was not easy. How could he repay the guilt for them? What difficulties Winnie encountered? Why did she secretly cry? Back then she must be very painful and sad. At that time, would she hate him, regret meeting him? "Luke, call Mommy and let's have dinner together." Brian wanted to see Winnie at the moment, and he could not restrain himself. "Sure, I'll call Mommy." Luke then made a call to Winnie. After persuasion of Megan and Luke for a long time, Winnie finally agreed to eat dinner together. Brian drove directly to pick Winnie up after work and they went to a top Western restaurant. "Do you drink wine?" Brian asked Winnie gently. "No, I have to work when I get home at night. You drink and I'll drive." The children were happy today. Afraid of affecting the children's mood, Winnie could only be gentle to Brian. "Neither do I. It gives me a headache. Have beverage." Brian told the waiter, and then the food was served one by one. Brian did not speak or eat. He kept cutting the steak. He cut it into equal pieces and brought the whole plate to Winnie. He then took her steak to himself. "I'll do it myself." Winnie was not used to Brian's sudden move, but she was late, Brian had begun cutting. "Eat." "There aren't many opportunities to get along like this," Brian wanted to say. He wanted to give Winnie as much care as possible. But Winnie did not think so, she felt that Brian's move would only sway her heart. But she did not know what to say. "Thank you!" She could only say thank you to prove her disacquaintance and her politeness to him. Winnie looked down at the steak on the plate, feeling sour in heart. She didn't understand why Brian did this he never did. He should have been cold to her as before, should have been harsh to her with that kind of eyes of disgust. Now he was so warm, with pity in eyes. She did not know what to do and how to get him over. "Mommy, we went to Great Grandpa's at noon. Daddy, brother and aunt and I worked together successfully to make him yield. He finally agreed to let brother live with us."Megan showed off their achievement today, which made Winnie feel relieved."Really, you are good, we don't need to be careful in the future."Winnie was also very happy to hear the news. "Yes. But we have to be careful to the address. Great Grandpa still does not know my identity. If one day he knows I'm a Bennet, we'll all be able to call Daddy, Mommy in front of everyone."Megan was sad, feeling her existence embarrassed.Hearing that, Winnie stopped smiling. Looking at the child's bitter face, she felt bitter too."Megan, it will be all right. You've got Daddy, Grandpa and Aunt. Great grandpa will know the truth one day and everyone will know you are a Bennet."Hearing that Winnie pacified Megan, Brian felt depressed. Yes, Grandpa would know Megan's identity one day. He could not hide it from Grandpa forever. Since sooner or later he would know one day, why not say it early to solve the problem, so that Megan felt better.Thinking that, Brian felt an impulse to tell his grandfather.But then he calmed down. Now Uncle Thomas was here and his purpose of returning was unknown. Brian did not know if Uncle Thomas would use Megan, so Megan could only endure it."Honey, Great Grandpa doesn't know you, but he already liked you, and he will like you even more if he knows. Give Daddy some time to find the right opportunity, Daddy will tell him.""You don't have to think too much, because you're on Daddy's household registration book, no one can deny your identity."Brian also pacified Megan, afraid of the child's psychological discomfort.

Hey, My Twins Babies

CHAPTER 239 PERSUASION AGAIN

When it came to the household registration book, Luke suddenly thought of what he heard at noon. "Daddy, I heard today Great Grandpa made a phone call, saying he has your household registration book. Has Great Grandpa already known about it?" "No, the one Great Grandpa has is an old one, and the new one with Megan's name is locked in my drawer." Brian was confident that he would not make this mistake. He confirmed when he took the household registration book. "Oh, that's a relief. But Daddy, you can't be too straightforward to Grandpa. He is old and it is not good to be sad. Luke reminded Brian. "Ok, I will do what you say." Brian said and raised the cup containing the beverage. "Winwin, I propose a toast to you. Thank you for raising the children so excellent and sensible. They are just as kind as you." Brian gazed at Winnie with deep feeling and thanks. He had much to thank her and had too much to say, but that was all he could say for the moment. "Not a big deal. They are my children, I will do my best to educate them. It's my job. Don't thank me." Winnie calmly raised the corners of her mouth. Brian's words were sarcasm to her. His unpredictable change confused her. If Winnie remembered correctly, Brian was the one who hated her the most. But now he said that she was good and that she was good at bringing up children. This was hypocritical praise to her, or she still had a use value for Brian? Either way, Winnie didn't believe that Brian meant it. The family dinner was harmonious. Looking at the happy children, Winnie felt better. Such opportunities might not be many after Brian got married. The children should cherish it and she should try her best to cooperate with them. The next day Leo went to the hospital to see a friend. When walking to the park of the inpatient department, he met Daenerys. "I haven't seen you for so long. You are going to be a mother." Leo said with a smile, looking at Daenerys' belly, and felt happy for her. "Yes, I didn't expect to be a mother like this." Daenerys looked at Leo with a happy face. The task Winnie gave her had not yet completed, and she wanted to ask Leo out these days. And accidentally they met. "Leo, shall we go to the pavilion and have a chat?" Daenerys asked Leo for advice. Leo looked at the time and agreed. "Ok." Two people came to the pavilion. Leo found a comfortable position to let Daenerys sit. "You are now more precious than a panda and need special protection." Leo said jokingly, and opposite Daenerys. "I wish I were a panda. I would be noticed by the world. You don't put pandas down." Daenerys had always been an optimistic person. She had known Leo for many years, and it was normal to make a joke. "I envy you have a smooth relationship. You must cherish it and don't bully Kevin." As a friend, Leo showed his concern. But he did envy her smooth love. He lost one and it was hard to get it back. "Everyone's love could be smooth and happy if they want to. Leo, you still can't get over Winwin?" Daenerys naturally mentioned Winnie. When it came to Winnie, Leo was sad. "Well, it's hard to get over. I just have to go with the flow." If it was easy to forget a person, all the love in the world would be beautiful. "Winwin's attitude is very firm. After breaking up with Brian, she had no plan to have a boyfriend. She won't be with you even if you keep waiting. Leo, why don't you stay away from Winwin, and you will move on as time went by." Daenerys once again explained Winnie's attitude, hoping Leo could forget Winnie, so Winnie would not have a burden. "I can't stay away from her. I can help if she needs help. I wouldn't even be a friend if I stay away from her." "Daenerys, I know my liking for Winnie may be a burden to her. I tried my best to hide my feelings from her and not burden her." "I owe her and want to help her as much as I can. Even if I don't love her now, I want to pay her back. Only then can I feel less guilty about her." Leo also put the words clearly. No matter what, he could not leave Winnie. He wanted to be a her friend to protect her even if they could not be a couple. "Leo, have you ever thought your affection of Winwin is out of love or guilty?" Daenerys was tangled, She could persuade Leo, but she could not restrain Leo's heart. "I don't know, I just want to help her, I don't want her to have a hard life. I always felt that I had something to do with what she suffered." Leo did not know his heart, anyway, he wanted to help her to give her warmth instead of making her suffer like Brian did. "Alas.....If you meet the right woman, forget Winwin. She still loves Brian. In her heart, there is only Brian, and I'm afraid she will never forget him." Daenerys had said it more than once. But she had to say it again, otherwise Winnie would be tired, and Leo would be miserable. "Don't worry, I will. If there is a suitable woman, I will give it a consideration. Daenerys, tell Winwin not to have burden. I am really with her now as a friend." Leo understood what Daenerys told him must said by Winnie. It seemed that what he did was not good enough. He should be more cautious, so that Winnie had no burden. Thomas got Richard a place and settled Richard down. He drove his car carefully to Richard's house. "Do you live well here?" Thomas asked coldly. "Yes, much better than an abandoned factory. And there is food and drink, which is very luxurious for me. I knew you'd help me. Thank you." Richard had a beaming look on his face and was not worried about his own safety. Because Thomas helped him and this hidden place would not be found. "Don't thank me. You'd better manage your own affairs. You can't hide yourself to death like this." Thomas said coldly. For Richard's thanks, he was annoyed. Nobody wanted to be involved in this kind of thing. If the police found him, he was a harboring criminal. But he had no other choice. Richard knew everything about him. "No, even if I die, I will take Brian with me to die. Without him, the Burns Group will not collapse. Without him, this matter will not be found out, and my daughter will not be in prison. Richard said maliciously, with hatred in eyes to Brian. Seeing that Richard like that, Thomas asked."What is going on? Was the Burns Group acquired just because your daughter mistreated Luke? At this point, you should tell me the truth." Thomas did not know much, but he heard some of them sporadically from Felix, which was not a complete story. "Abusing Luke is a small part, and my daughter abused him because of Brian." Richard thought for a moment before he answered Thomas."That's your fault. Why should the child be involved in things between adults? After all, it was just quarrel between husband and wife. Your daughter is not fit to be Brian's wife with little tolerance."Thomas said sarcastically. He knew it was more than this trifles, but he could not show it too obviously."That's not a problem. The problem is that your nephew has a woman outside. That's unacceptable."Richard pushed all the responsibility to Brian, and Penny had done nothing wrong."I haven't heard of that."Thomas showed indifference. But he was surprised.The Brian that he knew would not fool around with women. For so many years although he lived with Penny, he only had Wendy.Thomas wondered who that woman outside would be, but he did not get the answer. But he reminded a woman named Winnie whom he did not saw."Who is that woman?"Thomas asked apathetically."A woman named Winnie Chambers. She is..."Richard began with some basic information about Winnie."Winnie is the culprit. Since she came to work for the Bennet Group, Brian changed and started planning to divorce my daughter."Richard stopped, but he didn't say anything important.He contacted Thomas for more than two years and they had more than once cooperation.Thomas was the most ambitious, so if he wanted to live longer, he must have some reservations, and let Thomas constantly hear more useful things from him."If it were like that, Brian went too far."Thomas said and thought. If Brian had a woman, things wouldn't have gotten so bad. There must be something he didn't know.Richard was not telling the truth. It seemed that Richard should be kept and would be of great help to him.But he did not expect that Winnie was excellent. But why would such an excellent woman would be someone else's mistress?Could she not refuse Brian's money and status?If he remembered correctly, Winnie had a child. Was Brian so interested in married women?Thomas got more and more doubts in the heart, but it did not matter, he would find it out.

Hey, My Twins Babies

CHAPTER 240 DECIDING ON A BLIND DATE

Richard did not continue. Thomas did not ask any more questions. When Thomas turned to leave, Richard remembered his daughter. "How is Penny?" "I got her a single room, added food and left her money. There is no problem in her life at all. Don't worry about her, and think of yourself." Thomas was still cold. "That's good. Please get her out as soon as possible." Richard continued with his request. He thought it was a triviality for Thomas, and it was nothing compared with the secrets he had. "You're pushing your luck. She's a threat if she comes out. Your daughter will only spoil you. And I warn you not to keep in touch with your family. The more people know you, the more dangerous you are. Don't say I can't help you." Thomas had his purpose to temporarily help Richard, but he would not be controlled. Thomas felt angrily with that, but Richard did not care about his words. He was reassured to know that his daughter was doing well in prison. Kevin finally came back from his business trip, so he invited Brian to his home and prepared dinner for Brian and Daenerys in person. Having learned the lesson of the last time, this time they did not ask Winnie over. On the dinner table. "Why did you come to see me last time?" Kevin asked Brian, while helping Daenerys with food, which made Brian envy. "Nothing, I just wanted to chat with you, I did not know you were not home." Brian wanted to have the happiness of Kevin. Be happy every day and have the beloved woman around. "I thought it was anything important. Brian, you are in a good mood. Good news?" Kevin saw a slight improvement in Brian's face, not as good as when he was with Winnie, but he was more relaxed than a few days ago. "Luke won the first prize, and Megan succeeded in persuading Grandpa to let Luke live with his mother, both of which were very happy." Speaking of Megan, Brian involuntarily raised his mouth and began to talk more. "It's strange, Grandpa never listened to anyone in his life, but he was convinced by Megan in a couple of words."

"Megan is clever and said sweetly. I don't know from whom she inherited this gene." Brian flaunted, and felt no adjective could describe Megan. This child played it by ear, pleased people, and knew what people like to hear and what they don't like to hear. And she could always find an irresistible way. He was proud and smiled. Children were the most beneficial moral support for him. Kevin hadn't seen such Brian for a long time. Megan was pleasing, and it seemed that he had completely come out in the haze because of children. Daenerys said. "Before Winwin's family was in distress, she was like Megan. But she had experienced so much, and the burden on her shoulders was so heavy, that her naivete and vivacity had all been worn away. But her kindness and generosity never changed. Her calm was through so many years of suffering." "How can I put it? That's probably the way people live. Even nature fades little by little over time, and something new comes into soul." "But I still hope Winwin can lead a carefree life like she used to. Now her smile is disguised and her ease is false." Daenerys knew that she should not say that, but she suddenly thought of Winnie in that past. She felt sad that Winnie changed a lot. Daenerys's words made Brian's rare smile suddenly disappear. Now he knew that Winnie used to be lively. "What on earth happened to Winwins?" Brian asked about things many years ago. Thinking about it carefully, he seemed to have never asked about Winnie's past. Daenerys couldn't help sighing. "It's a bit sad, probably worse than the hell. Winwin's parents..." "Honey, your cell phone is ringing." As Daenerys just started, Kevin reminded her. "Oh, you eat, I will answer the phone." And so the conversation ended when Daenerys left the table. "Brian, everything will be all right. Take your time." Kevin comforted him. "Yes, it will be all right. I will talk to Grandpa about Megan and get her recognized by the Bennet family as soon as possible." Brian's low voice sounded depressed. "What about Winwin?" Kevin reminded that Brian's decision needed to be considered. "I'm thinking about it too. I can't let it hurt Winwin. The most important thing is that I don't know what uncle is coming back for. If he knows Winwin and Megan, he will use them." Brian had too many things to worry about, but the most important thing was Winnie's safety. "It's better to be careful and not to mess things up in a hurry. There is plenty of time to handle things related to Megan. Uncle Thomas is the most important. Don't make a mess of the Bennet Group because of him." Kevin was worried that it would make a mess of everyone's life as they had done many years ago. "Well, I'll be careful. Daenerys and Winwin are friends. Keep an eye on Winwin and tell me if there's anything wrong with her so I can help her in time." Now Brian could only know more about Winnie through Kevin, because they didn't have much chance to meet and talk with each other, and they did not know each other's difficulties. Even if they had a chance to talk, Winnie would not talk with him deeply. Since they met, Winnie had never asked him for help. Winnie had been thinking about Leo's proposal these days. Although she had no confident, after listening to Leo, she wanted to have a try. But for her, who had no economic foundation, there was some pressure. If she could not make money, her efforts during this period of time would be in vain. In this matter, Winnie needed to talk to Leo, so she asked Leo out. It was the first time that Winnie asked Leo out. They met in a cafe with a unique and elegant decoration. "Are you busy?" Winnie was still worried about disturbing him. "No, even if I am busy, I have to meet you since you asked me out. You're a rich man to me now." Leo was always warm and cheerful, feeling sunny. "I just want to know more about the cooperation." Winnie said with a faint smile. As long as Leo did not mention private matters, she did not feel restrained. "Winwin, do you trust me?" Leo asked. "Of course I do." There was no doubt that Leo was the person Winnie trusted most. She trusted Leo more than Brian, because Leo was not scheming for her. Alas, she thought of Brian again. "Trust me. Leave everything to me. You can only take care of the techniques, and I will take care of the rest. Publicity is important in addition to the ability to capture the hearts of players. If we do well in publicity, and we will have many players." "Winwin, now you are the most critical. As long as you want to cooperate, I will certainly put the game to the market and make success."Leo was confidence and this confidence came from the ability of Winnie."Well, I will think about it. But if we work together, we need a team, I can't work on my own."Leo was so confident. There was no need for her to ask details.If there was cooperation, there should be mutual trust, mutual support."Don't worry, as long as you agree, I will prepare the team for you. I said everything is not a problem, I just wait for your answer."Leo looked like he was going to win. He was not sure how much money he could earn but that Winnie would not lose money."Well, I'll think about it when I get home. I'll give you an answer tonight."Winnie answered freely."Give me answer tomorrow. I have a blind date tonight and it may not be convenient to pick up the phone."Leo said this to Winnie on purpose.The blind date was arranged by his mother. But her mother often set him up on blind dates, and he never said yes.He wanted to make Winnie rest assured, so that Winnie could be more comfortable to get along with him as a friend, so that the burden in Winnie's heart could be completely eliminated."Blind date, really?"Winnie was surprised and asked Leo with joy."Of course, how can I make this kind of joke with you? If you don't believe me, you can come with me and just help me to choose."Seriously, looking at Winnie's excited and happy face, Leo felt upset. It seemed that she really had no feelings for him."It's wonderful that you're getting married. I won't go with you, I think everyone is good, if I choose the wrong one, you will be in trouble."Winnie felt at ease and the burden was removed. She had been waiting for this moment and had hoped that Leo could have a woman loved him, only then Leo could be happy, and her guilt would be gone.Otherwise, she always felt that she delayed Leo's happiness, wasted Leo's time.Blind date was just a beginning, no one would know it can succeed or not, but it meant that Leo did not love her anymore.In this way, Leo would find the one he loved and have a happy family like Daenerys.