

My Twins 29

Hey, My Twins Babies

CHAPTER 29 WAKE UP IN THE SAME BED

Winnie looked at Brian's eyes and could only compromise. She told herself to endure it for Megan and Luke could play together for a while and for Luke could have a delicious meal. At home, Winnie wiped all her unhappiness off her face and, after playing with the two children for a while, went to cook dinner. She recalled Leo's words while cooking. Luke's birthday was the same day with Megan, and Penny should be pregnant when she was abroad, but at that time she was with Leo, so she could not be pregnant with Brian's child. Did it...? Winnie suddenly stopped picking vegetables. She couldn't believe her thought. No, Brian was a person who demanded perfection and was so cautious. How could he possibly accept other's kid? There was another possibility that Penny was not Luke's biological mother, and he was not adopted, but Brian's illegitimate child. "The water is boiling, you don't see that?" Brian's voice suddenly was heard, which scared the meditating Winnie. "Are you a ghost? You walk without a sound." Winnie reached out and turned off the fire. Out of guilty, she quickly took the vegetables to wash. "Winnie, what are you hiding? Don't you approach me to get money?" Winnie's move made Brian suspect. "Can't you stop that, Brian? You are always suspicious? Is it funny?" Winnie said irritably. She had nothing to hide from Brian, but in his heart, she was a scheming woman. She was so wrong. "It's none of your business, you'd better..." "You'd better be good, or you can't afford the consequences." Winnie had been familiar with Brian's warning, and she directly interrupted Brian's words. "Brian, can you come up with a new kind of warning? I have not known you for long, but the time you have warned me was more than the time we met." Winnie angrily denounced and then continued to wash vegetables, and successfully changed the topic. "It is good that you know. Do your job well. If I find out you're bad for me, don't blame me to be rude to you. I'm no less cruel to any woman I've slept with." Brian said coldly and sharply. Winnie made him feel helpless, and he hated that. "I'll do better if you leave me alone. And as a woman who's been in your bed, I don't ask for privileges. If you don't like me, you don't have to be lenient. It is better to kill me." Winnie was not threatened to grow up, but she went through the suffering which was more painful than death, so she had nothing to fear. So what if he showed mercy? He would still protect his wife when it was critical. So what if he spared no mercy? The worst was to be death, at least it would be better than living. The conversation between two adults was overheard by the children. The two children were surprised and then pleased. Covering the mouth to smile, they lowered their waists and ran back to the living room. "Megan, shall we help them?" Luke said happily. He would rather let Winnie be his mommy, than face his own mommy. He knew it was bad for his mother, but he was tired of her being crazy all the time. "How to? You have a mommy? Can Uncle accept my mommy?" In fact, Megan had the same thought as Luke, but she had no way. "My Mummy and Daddy can divorce, and a lot of parents got divorced these days. You don't have to worry that my Daddy would not accept Auntie. If Auntie gives birth a little sister to me, my Daddy will have to accept her." Luke did not care about it. As long as his parents divorced, he could get rid of the nightmare. "Well..... What should we do?" Megan smiled happily. "Check online." The two kids took their phones to search for methods. The table was set, and they were seated. Megan got up and left suddenly, and after a while she brought a bottle of red wine. "Uncle, Mommy. You should have some wine, for this is a very rich dinner." "Megan, I will drive a car, so I can't drink." Brian was the first to refuse. "Daddy, have some. We can ask the driver to pick us up later." When Luke spoke, Megan had brought the wine cup. "Megan, Mommy can't drink." "You can, it is ok to have a few." As Megan said, she carefully filled the two glasses.

Then she took the drink to fill the cups of Luke and hers. "Mommy, cheers. Thanks Mommy and Uncle for the dinner." Megan was very sweet, which could not be refused. So Winnie and Brian both drank more than one glass. When dinner was over, Winnie began to clean up and soon felt dizzy. After a few words of exhortation, she returned to her room, thinking she had drunk too much. The next morning, Winnie woke up exactly at the time of her biological clock. She stretched out her waist and rubbed her eyes. When she sat up, she accidentally found Luke and Megan standing at the door of her bedroom. She was surprised. "Luke, you didn't go home?" Winnie asked doubtfully. "No, neither did Daddy." Luke's face could not be seen through. "Where's Daddy?" Winnie suddenly felt uneasy. Luke and Megan stretched out fingers almost at the same time, pointing to her side. Winnie only felt cold on back and suddenly found Brian lying beside her. This was embarrassing! Winnie took a look at the children still standing in the doorway in embarrassment, and then ruthlessly kicked Brian. Brian probably drank a lot and was awakened from a deep sleep. But he, always calm and self-possessed, immediately calmed down. "Close the door." Brian told the two children and sat up. "You..... if the door is closed, the children will misunderstand." Winnie opposed, and glared at Brian angrily. "They had already misunderstood. We had sex, why are you still afraid of misunderstanding?" Brian lifted the quilt and got up. He was disappointed to see his clothes still on. "The children misunderstood because of you. How did you get in and sleep in my bed with the children here?" Winnie rebuked him. She went to bed because she was dizzy yesterday and did not expect Brian to sleep on her bed. "We've slept together, so don't be hypocritical. You should be happy that I'm sleeping in your bed." Brian had an indifferent face, and there was sarcasm in his tone. He made Winnie suddenly got angry. "What do you want, Brian? Why do you keep saying that? Why don't you leave me alone?" Winnie was overwhelmed by Brian's sarcastic and indifferent words. It seemed that Brian did not care what she did and what she said. "Be my woman." Brian said coldly. His black eyes send out dangerous aura, which made Winnie confused. Winnie sighed helplessly. "What if I refuse?" The topic was so old that Winnie was tired of hearing it. No matter how many times Brian said it, she would stick to her principles. "Everything will change for you." Brian said with a threatening tone and stared at Winnie coldly, as if the storm was about to come in the next second. "Different? Well, since everything will change, I will have a try." Winnie said angrily. She took the mobile phone to call MT's assistant. "Tell the company to transfer me back. I'm not up to the job at the Bennete Group. If the company doesn't agree, hand in my resignation and book me two tickets from B City to A City as soon as possible." Winnie put down her phone and glared at Brian angrily again. "I quit my job and never want to see you again. I would like to see how you make everything change." Winnie said and got out of bed to pack her clothes. She regretted to come back to this city and did not want to have anything to do with this arrogant man. "You know how much you would lose if you quit." Brian suppressed the anger, said coldly and looked at Winnie with gloomy eyes. "It doesn't matter, it is just to lose money. I have lived for four years with tens of millions of debts. I don't care about more tens of millions of debts. I can have it just by cheating a rich man." Winnie got agitated, she could not stand it anymore. It was the best to take this opportunity to leave and avoid more troubles. She continued to pack her clothes, and then turned suddenly. "Listen up, Brian, although you are rich and powerful, I have no fancy on you. Even if I am a cheater, I won't cheat you." "Enough. Stop being unreasonable." Brian shouted angrily all of a sudden. Watching Winnie pack, he was restless, no matter how hard he tried to calm himself down, he failed to do so. "Am I unreasonable? Am I reasonable if I agree to be your woman? Mr. Bennet, you are so superior that you can get any woman you want. Why bother me? As I said, I'm here to work for a year, just a year, and you? I don't think you can tolerate me even for a day." Winnie shouted loudly. She had been entangled in life and did not feel relieved for days. If it continued and before Brian did anything to her, she would be entangled to death."I said enough, don't you understand?" Brian's flames of fury soared and burned the blood in heart when it came to his heart. He directly reached out and grabbed what Winnie was holding and kicked the suitcase aside. And then he stretched out his hand and directly held Winnie in his arms. The movements were coherent and agile, which did not give Winnie a chance to resist. "Let me go, let me go. Brian, can you respect me once? I am a divorced woman, so you treat me like this? You have a wife, and you are dishonouring me by making me your woman." Winnie struggled, but it was useless. Although this chest was warm, he had a wife. Although this man was excellent, he had a family that he should be responsible for. She was held in such a way, which was intolerable.
