Hey, My Twins Babies

CHAPTER 301 ADMIT IT

Wendy had been considering it until noon and finally decided to find Brian, because this was her only way. When she was arrived at 30th floor of the Bennet Group, she was stopped by the secretary. "The directors of all departments of are reporting work, Miss Yup, please wait for a while." "It is noon now, and they are still reporting work?" Wendy questioned and suspected that the secretary lied to her. She thought it was Winnie inside. "It is the summary report of the month, which has not been over since the morning." Brian had ordered her not to let others disturb him, including Wendy. "All right, I'll wait a minute." Wendy said, but she was eager. She was afraid that Winnie would tell Brian ahead of her. After waiting for a while, Wendy could not calm down, so she went to Jack's office to kill time. Jack was the first to report work, and he had works to do, so he went back to his office first. He spent the whole morning to sort out all the works that had not been done in the past few days. As he was to go for dinner, Wendy showed up. "Why do you show up at this hour? Do you want to invite me to dinner?" Jack teased her and he knew the reason Wendy came. "I am not in the mood to invite you to dinner. I came to see your elder brother, who is still in a meeting at this very moment." Wendy was anxious and wanted to find someone to talk to distract her attention. "Why do you come to him? Is it about Winnie?" Jack had been thinking about it. Winnie had not answered the phone these two days, and he was annoyed by that. "Do you know about Winnie?" Wendy asked in panic. She did not know how to face Brian and what Brian would do to her. "You should ask who doesn't know. The whole country knows about it. How could I not know about it?" "I am angry about it. What a pig's brain does the person who posted this post have? How dare he slander the reputation of others with such poor Pictureshop skills? If I were Winnie, I would seek justice through the law. Such a villainous person should be sent to prison for a few days." Jack said righteously and wished to find out the person behind scene. He heard it from his Grandpa and knew the picture of Leo was false. It still affected his mood, so he hated the backstabber. He wouldn't have bothered if she hadn't made such a mess of things. "What's that got to do with you? How do you know that the picture is false? Did Winnie tell you that? And not all pictures are false. You know about her relationship with your brother. They slept together, and you believe that the embrace was false?" Although Wendy was guilty, only she could do was to ask for justice for herself. She was in the wrong for this, but why she did that. If it wasn't for Winnie pestering Brian, how could she target Winnie? "The man in the office is Winnie's ex-husband. Now he gets along with her as a friend, so hugging is normal. I don't know the one with Brian." Jack was far-fetched. He did not dare to admit the relationship between Brain and Winnie, but he could not be direct in face of Wendy. In fact, among the three men involved in this matter, he most minded Brian. "Who have you heard all this from?" Wendy asked in surprise, wondering why Jack knew it so clearly, even knew about Winnie's ex-husband. Through this dialogue, Wendy finally knew that that man was Winnie's ex-husband. Winnie was a divorced woman, but Brian still loved her? Did the two children connect them together? "I heard it from Grandpa, it can't be false." He did not know what kind of attitude other people had towards his grandfather, but he had believed in his grandfather since he was a child. "Does Grandpa know it too? What does he think of it?" Wendy did not expect that an old man who only read books and news every day and never played with his mobile phone also knew this matter. "As I said, the whole country knows about it. Grandpa knows it for sure. He only said that the picture is false." Jack did not care about grandpa's attitude, but from grandpa's words, he knew some information. Wendy got nervous. Grandpa spoke for Winnie and did not believe that Winnie was such a person. It could be seen that Grandpa had a good view of Winnie. She had to pay attention to it. Winnie's reputation was so bad but Grandpa was willing to believe her. If he knew that Winnie was the mother of two children, he would make Winnie and Brian be together. It seemed that Brian made the right decision to hide identity of the children's real mother, so that they could be together. Wendy understood not if she wanted to seize the heart of Brian, grandpa and two children were also very important besides Winnie. Wendy returned to Brian's office. At this time, Brian had finished his work. Before he could take a rest, there was knock on the door. "Come in." As his voice fell, Wendy pushed the door open. Wendy walked in timidly and looked up at Brian cautiously. "Have you had lunch? If not, I will ask Albert to prepare." Brian said lukewarmly and there was not joy in his tone. "No need, I came over today because I want to tell you something." Wendy spoke in a low voice because of uncertainty. Brian found something wrong with Wendy and asked. "What is it?" "I..." Wendy was too timid to say. "Brian, don't be angry at what I said, you must forgive me." Wendy begged for forgiveness before she said that and her heart was beating violently at this time because of fear. After hearing that, Brian frowned immediately. Looking at the timid Wendy, Brian had a bad feeling. "Say it." At this moment, Brian really did not want to hear his own speculation, if his speculation was consistent with what Wendy said, he would be ashamed to face Winnie. "I...Winnie was slandered by me." Even if Wendy was afraid, even if she did not dare face the consequences, she had no choice but told the truth. "You did it?" Brian did not want to believe it, so he asked to confirm it. "Yes, I sent the main post. I am sorry, Brian, I did not mean it." After that, Wendy begged for forgiveness. "You went too far. How could you do that to her?" Brian suddenly roared. He was most afraid of this kind of thing happened. He did not want Wendy to hurt Winnie. Wendy was scared and cried. She was not afraid of the indifference in Brian's speech, but disappointment in his eyes. "I am sorry, Brian, I did not mean to do it. I was in a bad mood after drinking with my friends that day, so I posted it on the spur of the moment." "Do you think it will be all right by saying sorry? Do you have any idea how much I trust you? Winnie doubted you from the beginning, and I assured her again and again that you would not do that. How can I explain to Winnie?" Brian was furious, and at the same time, he was trying his best to control his emotions for fear of punishing Wendy. "Brian, don't be angry, don't be angry. I did it without malice, I just wanted to vent resentment that I had been holding in my heart." Although Wendy defended herself, but she still felt warm in heart by Brian's words. After all, he believed her. "You want to vent your resentment, but have you ever thought about Winnie's feelings? Didn't you see that abuse of the netizens? If it were you, can you accept that?" Brian was angry, but regretted that she did not believe Winnie's words to bring her harm. "Why do you only think about Winnie's feelings, why don't you think about my feelings? What I did was wrong. I didn't have a brain. But why did I do that? Why didn't you ask me the reason?" Wendy felt cold in heart. At this moment, Brian only had Winnie in his mind. Wendy continued as she sobbed. "If you hadn't given Winnie such an expensive necklace, if you hadn't always hugged her, and if you hadn't always kept an ambiguous relationship, how could I have done that?" "Brian, I came back from abroad and gave up everything, and now I have nothing but you. But you and Winnie spend so much time together that I have no sense of security." "After all these years of loving you, I could not let you be taken from me." Wendy sad crying and felt it was the saddest time for her. She was so humble because of a man. "Winnie and I were together before you came back. It's my problem that we kept contacting. I always pestered her. You should take your anger out on me, why do you bother her?" Brian did not understand women's jealousy.

He was wrong and should not hesitate between two women. But why Winnie was always hurt, and he was always safe and sound. "I love you, how can I vent my anger on you? You said it is you pestering Winnie, but if she didn't seduce you and stay away from you, how can you be pestering her? She is unrestrained." "Wendy." Brian warned Wendy in an angry voice and his eyes were cold enough to freeze all creatures to death.

Hey, My Twins Babies

CHAPTER 302 UNACCEPTABLE

Wendy had vilified Winnie. What he could not stand was that Winnie got insulted. "Wendy, from what you said, I know you did it on purpose. You followed me, didn't you? You investigated Winnie, didn't you? You did that was to embarrass Winnie. You hate her and want to make her disappear from my world." If it wasn't for Wendy followed him, how did she get those pictures? If it wasn't for her investigation of Winnie, how would she know the necklace was from him? At this thought, Brian was disappointed at Wendy. Wendy should rejoice she was a woman and rejoice they had loved each other, otherwise Brian would have punched her. "Are you related to Winnie's brake failure?" Brian connected that to Wendy, because he did not believe that Wendy was so simple. "No, I don't know that. I did not mean to do that, Brian. I did not expect it would be so serious. I'm sorry. I'm really sorry. I can assure you it won't happen again." "Brian, I am really sorry. I made a mistake. Forgive me." Wendy could only apologize and make promise. She pulled Brian's arm and begged him, but the indifference in his eyes made her feel cold in heart. Brian frowned angrily and kept silent with cold eyes for a long time. "Does Winnie know about these things?" Brian lowered his voice. Looking at Wendy panic eyes, he could not stand it. "Yes, she came to me after work yesterday. Brian, I went to sleep after it was posted, and when I woke up the next day, I realized how serious it became. I feel sorry for Winnie and I had deleted the post. I've realized my mistake. Just give me a chance." "Brian, please help me. Winnie told me that she would call the police. I can't be investigated by the police. I can't go to jail. I was wrong. Please help me." Seeing that Brian's attitude eased, Wendy continued to beg him. She did not want to go to jail. Brian again fell into silence. It seemed that Wendy took the initiative to admit her mistake was because of Winnie. And it showed that Winnie was disappointed at him. Brian took Wendy to the sofa and let her sit down. "Wendy, I can let it go this time. But Winnie's brake failure is related to you, I will not forgive you. Brian was not joking. He could not let such a dangerous thing happen to Winnie again. And he could not let both women suffer. "It is not me, really." Wendy promised again, but her heart was shaking at this moment. "Good. I can trust you." Brian said that he trusted her, but he was not sure. At the same time, Winnie came to the Bennet Group at noon. This was her second time back after leaving the Bennet Group. After she got slandered, people looked at her in a different way. There was disgust and contempt. Some even were discussing about her. It made Winnie uncomfortable, but since she came here, she had guessed that. As if she hadn't seen or heard anything, she walked straight and strode forward. Winnie directly came to Klara's office. As she reached the door, Klara pushed the door. She was surprised to see Winnie. "What are you doing here?" Klara asked with displeasure. "Sure I come for you, do you want to say it here or elsewhere?" Winnie said directly with a serious face. Klara felt something was wrong and became nervous. "I'm going to the canteen now and I don't have time to talk to you." Klara was to leave, but Winnie stepped back to block in front of her. Employees in the hall were looking at them. "I don't have time either, and I didn't have lunch. But I have to say it. Since you have limited time, let's talk here." "You must know that I got slandered online. I don't want to say who did that, but the person scolded me was you and got most thumbs up, right?" Winnie told the reason she came here. She was not afraid of being heard. In the eyes of these people, she had bad reputation, so she did not care about it. "Winnie, are you slandering me?" Klara's face changed suddenly, and her heart beat uncontrollably. Winnie got this thing to the company, she could only deny it. "Don't you think you're joking, Klara? The whole company knows what my job is. I should have no trouble finding out who abused me. Do you think I might slander you?" Winnie said with a cold face. She didn't come here just to get justice. It was Klara who went too far and fooled her again and again. Winnie could not endure it anymore. "Winnie, it's rude of you to talk like that. You..." Klara did not know what to say. She knew Winnie's ability and it was easy for Winnie to find her out. She thought that Winnie would only find out who posted the pictures and would not pay attention to the followers. So she gave comments and forwarded it an unscrupulous way, but Winnie still found her. Winnie interrupted Klara's words. "I was rude but I didn't say the dirty words, I didn't make tricks in secret. Klara, you are not stupid. You should know that it is cyberbullying. It is against the law. You have not confirmed the truth of the matter but you organized people to scold me. Don't you think you went too far?" Winnie loudly questioned, as her volume increased, more people gathered around. But Winnie didn't mind and that was what she wanted. She wanted to let Klara feel what it was like to be despised. "Winnie, it is you went too far. I know nothing. What are you doing here? Not only me, but everyone in the company knows about you. Why do you question me?" Klara was embarrassed to be exposed, but she did not admit it. "You don't admit it, right? Ok, I will call the police. Let's see if the police can find you out and if you will say the police go too far." Winnie turned and was to leave. It was this sentence made Klara afraid. "Wait." Klara stopped Winnie. Winnie stopped and turned. She stared at Klara sharply. "Let's talk in the office." Klara lowered her voice, which proved that she was afraid. She was afraid of being investigated by the police, because she was guilty of something. Seeing that, the people present knew what happened. "I'm sorry I didn't have dinner. It is just a break. I don't have time to talk to you in the office. Let's take here. Everybody is listening, so that they can know the whole story." Winnie repeated what Klara had just said. Just now she had given Klara the opportunity, but she did not cherish it. It was impossible for her to follow her instruction now. "What do you want?" Klara did not expect it would become like this. "Since you did something wrong, you should apologize. You are wrong, and the person who posted the picture was wrong. I've found her and I'm going to ask for a public apology. You apologize in the same platform that you used to slander me." That was Winnie's bottom line. She did not call the police or ask for compensation for mental damage. After that, Winnie gave Klara a look and walked away. Then she saw Albert, Calvin and Morgan. "Winnie." The three of them greeted her with deep voice and the expressions on their faces were extremely unnatural. "You all saw that?" Winnie asked in a low voice, and her face looked better. "Yes. Shall I tell Mr. Bennet?" Albert asked Winnie. The three people passed by and gathered to see what happened. They did not expect that it was Winnie and that it was Klara scolded her online. "Do you three have a minute? Go to the cafe." Winnie invited three men. They were the only three people in the Bennet Group who trusted her the most and thought for her. "Go to the restaurant. You haven't had lunch yet. We're going there, too." Calvin said. The three of them were not going to for lunch, but they could accompany Winnie to had food. "There is a new restaurant nearby. I heard it is good, let's go there." When Morgan said this, he called and booked a table. Winnie went to the restaurant with the three men. There were no private rooms, so they sat in the lobby. But the restaurant had a quiet corner for them. "Don't you need to go to the branch now?" Winnie wanted to know how they were doing. "I've always been around Mr. Bennet." Albert gave the first answer. "I've been back for a few days and have no intention of going out." Calvin said softly. "I have not yet finished the work arranged by Mr. Bennet. I come back to report and I will leave the day after tomorrow." Morgan said with a smile. "It seems that we met at the right time, or Morgan would have left." Winnie jokingly said. After knowing their situation, Wendy began to talk about the problems they were concerned about. "Don't tell Mr. Bennet about Klara. Even if he knows, it won't change anything." Winnie did not want to let Brian know about it. Even if he knew about it, he would not do anything to Klara. "But you bear the grievance by yourself. Klara is too unreasonable. I have warned her many times, but she never changed." Albert said angrily.

Hey, My Twins Babies

CHAPTER 303 AN ENVIABLE LOVE

If Albert dealt with it, he would tell Brian and would make Klara face punishment. "Never mind, I got a lot of grievance from Brian and this is not a big deal." Winnie's attitude surprised the people present. But her attitude made Klara jealous. Winnie continued. "You and Klara have been working for Mr. Bennet for years, and you all know why she did this to me. I can understand her, and she's got a family. Who's going to look after her family if I make it big?" Winnie had many reasons for not calling the police. Brian was the main reason, but she had to think of Klara and Felix. "Winnie, you are too kind, you cover for her, but she is not grateful at all. I think Mr. Bennet ought to know about it. She's gone too far. You've been gone from the Bennet Group for a long time and she still doesn't let you go." Calvin expressed his views on this matter, apparently he and Albert had the same idea. Then Morgan expressed his view on this matter. "She depended on her husband's death, and on Mr. Bennet taking care of her, she would do anything. I agree to tell Mr. Bennet. She should be punished so that she could learn her lesson. Or she will do things worse than Penny did." Morgan was afraid that Klara would be like Penny and that Winnie would become the target again. Winnie agreed that Klara relied on Brian, otherwise how could she still work in the Bennet Group? Because of Brian on her behind, she hated Winnie and took revenge on her. "There's no use telling him. Maybe next time. I'll tell him if she does that again." Winnie said bitterly. Even if there was next time, even if she told Brian, it would not change anything, and it would only make Klara hate her more. "Did you find the person who posted it?" Albert sighed and continued to ask. He seemed to know what Winnie was thinking about. "Yes, I'm waiting for her to apologize." Winnie was ready to have meal. "Eat first and we'll talk while we eat. I haven't seen you for a long time. Let's talk about some happy things" Winnie avoided that topic, which was related to Wendy. If she said that, she did not know if Brian would be unhappy. They began to eat, but all three men could feel her helplessness and loneliness. After experiencing such a big thing, she had to face it alone. When they were having a meal, Albert's phone rang. It was Brian calling. "Mr. Bennet?" "Call Winnie and ask her to come to the company. She did not answer my phone calls." Brian ordered. He knew why Winnie did not answer his phone. Albert took a look at the phone Winnie placed on the table and realized she refused to answer Mr. Bennet's phone "Mr. Bennet, Winnie is with us now..." At this point, Albert was forced to stop because Winnie gave him a gesture to make him stop speaking. In fact, Albert had impulse to tell him about Klara. If it were not for Winnie to stop him, Klara would be screwed. "With you? Where are you? Who else is with you?" Brian said. "In a restaurant near the company, Calvin, Morgan and I have lunch with Winnie." Albert did not tell the truth, because he respected Winnie. "Bring her to me when you finish. I want to see her." Brian said coldly and then hung up the phone. Winnie and his three right-hand men had dinner together, but he did not know that, which made him jealous and angry. Albert felt Brian's dissatisfaction on the phone, but he could not tell Winnie. "Mr. Bennet wants you to go to his office after dinner." "I know, let's eat first." Winnie said indifferently and did not want a phone call of Brian disturbed their moods. In fact, she had already guessed what the matter was and she refused to answer the phone because it would affect their mood. At last, with three men escorting her, Winnie came to the door of the president's office. As she was to knock at the door, the secretary came to her. "Winnie, go in. Albert, Calvin, Morgan, Mr. Bennet asked you to go in together." The secretary gave two knocks on the door and then pushed it open to let them in. Winnie knew why Brian wanted to see her, but she did not understand he asked the three to go in too. She had doubts, but seeing Wendy, Winnie became angry. The three people looked at each other and walked in. Brian looked at the three people coldly and issued orders. "You three are quite free. Grab the paper on the desk and read it. Give me your opinion tomorrow." Three people looked at Brian's desk and found it was a pile of paper on it. They dared not refuse and could only take the papers. Seeing that, Winnie was self-condemned and she knew why Brian told them to come in. "Mr. Bennet, are you unsatisfied that I have lunch with your employees? So this is punishment?" "After all, I worked for the Bennet Group. I worked with them. I can't contact with them after I left the Bennet Group?" Winnie said angrily and her tone was stubborn. "If I can't show up it the Bennet Group, you should never have asked to see me." Winnie turned to look at the three men still holding the papers. "Sorry to cause you into troubles. I will ask for leave with the company in the afternoon to help you finish the work." Winnie was to take the papers in Albert's hands. But at this moment, Brian came to Winnie with the fastest speed and directly stretched out his hand to hold Winnie's arm. However, he angrily stared at Albert and commanded in a cold voice. "Put the papers back, and you three get out." The three right-hand men put the papers back and left the office quickly. Brian had been holding Winnie's arm, which made Wendy angry and jealous. Brian changed his attitude and took back the punishment because of Winnie, and only Winnie could make him do so. Winnie did not say a word, but directly shook off Brian's hand. "Why do you want to see me, Mr. Bennet?" Winnie took two steps back but never took a look at Wendy, who was sitting on the sofa. Hearing that, Brian came to his senses. He spoke. "It's about you being slandered. I want to tell you that it's Wendy who did that." Wendy got up and came to Winnie. "I'm sorry, Winnie. I posted the pictures on the website after drinking that night. It's my fault, and I apologize to you." Wendy whispered, but Winnie did not feel she was guilty. Winnie knew that Wendy was only apologizing on the surface and had no regrets in her heart. Winnie did not say a word, but stared at Brian stubbornly. Didn't he say he trusted Wendy? Wasn't Wendy the best woman in his heart? Now Wendy personally admitted that she did that. Didn't it have any impact on him? "Winnie, Wendy went too far and I have my responsibility. I am sorry for that, and I will take all the consequences." When Brian said these words, he was ashamed to face Winnie. He still clearly remembered what he said to Winnie. But he failed to keep his promise because of Wendy. Winnie's heart froze instantly after hearing such words. Although she knew Brian would protect Wendy, she still felt sad. "You'll bear all the consequences? Can you go to prison for her?" Winnie was angry. She wanted to see what Brian could do for Wendy. "I'd do it if I could." Brian answered helplessly, but looking at Winnie's sad eyes, his heart was hurt. He could not satisfy both women. The last thing he wanted was to see Winnie hurt, but every time he made a choice to hurt her. "I don't need him to go to prison for me. If you want to go through legal procedures, I can bear it myself." Wendy said. She was touched by Brian's words. "Winnie, it is my fault, I am willing to bear the consequences. As long as you don't call the police, I'll agree to anything you ask." Wendy begged Winnie. She would not let Brian go to prison and she did not want to go to prison either. So she kept apologizing. "Ok, give me Brian, how do you think?" Winnie said that out of anger. She knew that even if Wendy said yes, Brian would not agree. "No, anything but that." Wendy answered bluntly. If she could give up Brian, she would not have done that. "It seems that the love between you is deep, one is willing to bear everything, the other would rather go to prison than give up. OK, I won't make it hard for you. As long as you make a public apology on the website, I will not pursue it." Winnie said and looked at Brian. "Is that ok, Mr. Bennet?" Winnie deliberately asked, but her heart was suffering. "....." Brian was speechless. He was ashamed to face Winnie and could not require anything from Winnie. "Winnie, I have apologized to you, so don't let me make a public apology on the website, or I will be scolded."

Hey, My Twins Babies

CHAPTER 304 IT'S THE BEST I CAN DO

Wendy thought Winnie would agree with that. She didn't have the ability to face the netizens' abuse, and it would be even worse if she was found. "It won't be more miserable than I, it will be ok because you have your fiance to help you. Wendy, do I deserve to be scolded by the whole country? Isn't it too much?" It was Winnie's bottom line. she would not agree with that. Even if Brian asked for mercy, she had to defend her bottom line. "I'm sorry, Mr. Bennet, but I think it's the best I can do. No one cares about my feelings, so I have to protect myself." "There are only two ways to solve this, one is to make a public apology, the other is to call the police. If I don't see a public apology from Wendy tomorrow morning, I will call the police immediately." Winnie said coldly and then directly turned to leave. This was the decision she made after considering all the people. She felt sad for because Brian's shield for Wendy, but she did nothing wrong. Winnie walked out of the president's office with tearful eyes. Albert and the other two stood outside and had not left. At that moment seeing them, Winnie wanted to cover up her grievances, but she failed and tears flowed down. "I'm going back." After saying that, Winnie hurried to the elevator. "Calvin, you go to see Winnie off." Albert was worried about Winnie. He thought it was dangerous to drive when she was in a bad mood. Calvin hurried to keep up with the pace of Winnie, and the other two had not stayed in place. "Come on, let's go find Klara." Albert took Morgan downstairs in another elevator to find Klara. When they left Brian's office, they deliberately left a gap in the door, eavesdropping. Though not quite aboveboard, they worried about Winnie. Therefore, they knew the person who posted was Wendy, and knew that Winnie was sad because of that. They were angry. they could not defense with Mr. Bennet, so they could only find Klara. Without knocking at the door, they broke into Klara's office and then closed the door. "What are you doing here?" Klara asked doubtfully. "I heard that you scolded Winnie on the Internet, so I came to remind you of something." Albert went to the point and his tone was filled with dissatisfaction and disappointment. "How do you know?" Klara asked Albert angrily. Morgan answered. "Now everyone in the company knows it except Mr. Bennet, of course we know. We just passed by and overheard your conversation with Winnie, so here we are." "What attitude do you have? Are you here for Winnie?" Klara questioned. She was uncomfortable to see Albert and Morgan's cold attitude. They had been working together for many years, and she was not as good as Winnie? "No, but I want to remind you not to do such things again. Klara, we know your feeling about Mr. Bennet, and we've reminded you of it more than once. But why can't you get yourself out?" Albert continued. "Mr. Bennet doesn't like you, he just feels guilty for you, because of your husband. If there was no your husband, you are nothing in his heart. Everyone knows that, and I believe you know it too. Why do you persist on that?" Albert said similar words, but it was not as direct as this. He did not say that because they were colleague for years, but now he could not bear it any more. He had to persuade her to give up, for the good of her. "It has nothing to do with you. I can deal with it myself." Klara was embarrassed that it had been exposed. "Klara, you must see your heart and the truth. You have lost your way and have done harm to Winnie. Do you really want to end up like Penny?" Morgan persuaded Klara. He did not want to see Klara lost her direction, and did not want Winnie get hurt. "I didn't hurt her." Klara denied. There was not only her scolded Winnie on line. With what he said she hurt Winnie? "Other may believe you, but I don't. This is not the first time that you have hurt Winnie. Last time Winnie came to our company, you also said nasty words in the elevator. Mr. Bennet confirmed it with Winnie, but Winnie denied it. This time..." Albert was interrupted by Klara before he could finish his words. "She was right. I didn't say anything, how could she frame me?" Klara still did not admit it and she was still arrogant and unyielding. Such Klara made Albert angry, and he suddenly increased his voice. "You still deny. I checked in the control room and I know what you had said." "What's wrong with you, Klara? Can't you work as well as you started? Do you know that Winnie help you again?" "We're going to tell Mr. Bennet about this, and let Mr. Bennet deal with it, but Winnie said you have family. If you lose your job because of that, your family has no one to take care of. She thinks of you, but you do ignoble things. You are cold-blooded." Albert said angrily and turned to leave directly. He felt that there was no need to continue to persuade Klara. "Klara, this is the last time, if you do it again, even if Winnie forgives you, we will not forgive you. We will tell Mr. Bennet, and you will bear all the consequences." Morgan left after the warning. They would never help Klara again. Looking at the two people left angrily, Klara had mixed feeling in heart. Did Winnie really protect her? No way. She liked Mr. Bennet and she would not do that. Since Albert and Morgan came to remind her, she would not attack Winnie frontally for her job, but others had nothing to do with her if they wanted to hurt Winnie. Klara did not believe that Winnie would be so kind, so she had to seize the position as Wendy's "consigliere". Calvin accompanied Winnie out. Although Winnie refused to have him to escort, he took the driving seat and Winnie had to give the car keys to him. On the way back to the company. "Calvin, thank you." Although she felt a burden, Winnie felt warm. At least the three of them understood her heart. "Winnie, we three respect you the most. You're kind and worth it from the three of us." Calvin felt sorry for Winnie that she had much suffering. "Thank you, all three of you, for giving me that appraisal." "You heard what we just said." Winnie said firmly. If they did not hear that, they would not stand outside waiting for her and show sympathy. "Yes, we are angry. Mr. Bennet should never have taken Wendy's side. You should be so lenient, but protect your rights. No matter who speaks for Wendy, you should not show mercy." Calvin thought Winnie would not be so wronged if she did as what he said. "Well, I'd like to do that, but I have too many people's feelings to worry about. If I make it too big, Mr. Bennet will be embarrassed. Forget it." Winnie said helplessly. She also wanted to make her heart comfortable, but if so, several people would face difficulties, so never mind. "Don't worry about others. If they have the guts to do such a thing, they should be able to bear the consequence. You don't have to worry about Mr. Bennet. He always can come up with a solution. Winnie, you should think about yourself. Your own comfort is the most important thing." "After Wendy dare to hurt you again, you must not spare her, do what you should do, don't worry about anyone." Calvin knew that Winnie considered others. In her view, it did not matter she got hurt, as long as others were good. "She'll learn her lesson and won't do it again." It could not even convince herself. It was neither the first nor the last time Wendy did that. She was destined to be hurt, despised, and regarded as an enemy all her life. In fact, it didn't matter, but Brian's attitude towards her made her sad and it was unacceptable. He never mentioned his promise. He did not really trust her. Even if Wendy gave him to her, she would not accept it. After Albert and Morgan left the office of Klara, they were still angry and returned to the president's office. When they knocked on the door, Wendy was still there, so Albert and Morgan had to swallow their words. "What is it?" "Mr. Bennet, I have something to tell you." Albert said with a serious face. "Go ahead." Brian's voice was cold. He was angry and self-condemned because of Winnie. Now seeing Albert and Morgan's faces, he could not control his mood. "Winnie left in tears." Morgan braved to say that. Brian frowned and his heart pulled together. "Where is she?" Asked Brian. "We are worried, so Calvin sends her back. If you see indecent pictures of Calvin and Winnie online, she must be slandered, Mr. Bennet, please understand." Albert did not remind Brian, but taunted Wendy. Brian took an angry look at Albert and Morgan. "I know, get out." Brian issued an order. He knew that they should have known the fact and that Albert was mocking Wendy.

Hey, My Twins Babies

CHAPTER 305 CAN ONLY SAY SORRY

After Albert and Morgan left, Brian's face became bleaker. For Wendy, he hurt his most beloved woman, he made his most beloved woman cry. Wendy felt good, but he felt sorry that Winnie was sad. "Make a public apology tonight. She's given you the chance. If she calls the police, I can't really help you then." Brian reminded Wendy in a cold voice. It was Winnie's bottom line, and also Brian's bottom line. He could not indulge Wendy. "Brian, please talk to Winnie not let me make a public apology. I'm afraid..." "No, there are only two options, one is to go through legal procedures, the other is to make a public apology." Brian suddenly interrupted her angrily. And he felt more disappointed. "I..." "Go home, think what you're going to say, and if you're not sincere enough, turn yourself in to the police." Brian interrupted Wendy again. He would not tolerate Wendy and would not make Winnie hurt again. This was the only thing he could do for Winnie. With that, he returned to the break room. At the moment he did not want to have a second look at Wendy, or he would remember that Winnie was hurt and he felt guilty. Wendy was helpless. She did not want to make a public apology, nor want to be asked by the police. But she had to choose between the two. She walked alone outside and asked Klara and Laura out when it was off work. Finally she could tell them her worry. "What should I do? I don't want to apologize to her. I was wrong, but I wouldn't have done that if she hadn't forced me." Wendy said gloomily. "You're right, Wendy. I would have done the same. It is right you admitted your mistakes to Mr. Bennet. You take temporary setbacks, so that you can continue to fight with Winnie." Klara was depressed now. As soon as Wendy made a public apology, she had to apologize too. She was not willing to do that. However, she would turn the reluctance into driving force. "Yes, she does not want to give up on Mr. Bennet. You can't admit defeat, or she'll always be happy to get Mr. Bennet." Laura said. "I will not give Brian to her, but how I should write this apology. Brian said I must be sincere. I have never done this kind of thing before. How do I know what sincerity is?" Wendy was agitated. She was afraid that her information would be found out if she made apology on line. "Wendy, if you trust me, I will write that for you. I will make it sincere." Laura volunteered, only then could she show her value. And Wendy would remember that she was good to her. The most important thing was to let it over as soon as possible. If it was dragged, she would be involved in it. "Really? I trust you. Thank you so much, Laura." Wendy was suddenly excited. With the help of Laura, she became less fidgety. However, seeing that, Klara was uncomfortable. It seemed money and powers were good, so Laura carried favor with Wendy. Winnie was very depressed all afternoon, always thinking about what Brian had said. She tried to work hard to forget her worries, but Brian's words and deeds were like nails stuck in her brain. She could not get rid of them. After work, Winnie did not go home, but went directly to the acting class. Since Leo insisted on the original plan, she must insist and work hard to try her best to make a good effect. Winnie was in such a bad mood that she went home without even eating dinner. When the car parked in the parking space, she sat there to relieve the depression in heart. She was alone to heal herself. No matter what she encountered, no matter how annoyed she was, she could only face it alone. She did not want to be strong, but all these things forced her to be strong. With a sigh, she opened the door and got off, only to find that Brian was standing beside her car. Seeing him, Winnie felt pain in heart and got angry. "You're not happy with my decision today, so you come to me?" Winnie said with a sharp tone. She wished to have thorn when she saw Brian, because the man who hurt her was standing in front of her, and she had to protect herself. "No, I want to thank you..." "No thanks. I don't want your thanks. I just want you to know that it was Wendy who did that." Before Brian could finish his words, Winnie interrupted him in a cold voice. To Winnie, the "thank you" was sarcastic and show-off. It showed off they were winners. "Mr. Bennet..." Before Winnie said she wanted to go home, she was interrupted by Brian. "Winwin..." Brian called Winnie and approached her, but Winnie quickly retreated and stopped Brian. "Please call me Winnie and keep a distance with me. I don't want to be scolded by the whole country for the second time. I don't want to be mistrusted again." "Mr. Bennet, we have nothing to do with each other except the children. There is no trust between us. Don't ever come to me about anything other than the children." Winnie said angrily, took a step to leave, but Brian pulled her arm. "Winwin, I have something to say." Winnie angrily shook off Brian's hand and looked back at him. "I said call me Winnie, I said don't touch me. If Wendy sees it again, it is my misfortune, I will bear the consequences. We have nothing to do with each other. Why should I be the spice of your relationship? And then I become the scapegoat, why?" Winnie questioned loudly, paused for a moment to ease a breath and then continued to accuse Brian. "What do I owe you? Why should I be blamed for all this shit?" Winnie gasped angrily, but her stubborn face showed her last trace of dignity. "Sorry, all I can say is sorry." Brian did not dare to close to Winnie and could only say sorry. "Don't tell me you're sorry. I'm sick of hearing it. There is no need to apologize. I fully understand that you sacrifice others for the one you love." Winnie got angrier, which verified her words that she became a victim. "Winwin..." "Please call me Winnie. You called me like that in face of your fiancée, so please respect your fiancée." Winnie could not help but increase her voice to prevent Brian from calling her "Winwin". She knew that in face of Wendy, Brian should call her so, but if so, he was to make clear with relationship. She hated that, including his tone, his eyes and his behavior in the face of Wendy. All this was for that woman, and it had nothing to do with her. "Winnie." Brian looked at Winnie, who stared at him angrily. However, Winnie broke down at that moment he did not call her Winwin again. "Excuse me, I still have work to do..." Winnie directly turned back to her car, started the car and left. At this time, she had no courage to face anyone, and tears could not be controlled. She felt she needed most at this moment was someone to comfort her, but so far she had never met such a person who she could complain to. Since no man was willing to stand by her side, she had to complain to her friends. Winnie called Oscar. Oscar did not ask too much, but went straight to Daenerys' house after buying wine and food. Oscar and Winnie arrived at Daenerys' home at about the same time. Seeing Winnie's red eyes, Daenerys and Kevin seemed to understand the reason. None of them stopped Winnie today, nor did they ask too many questions. They just drank with her. "You have been pregnant for eight months, I'm sorry to bother you, Daenerys. But I have nowhere to go, and no one understands what I am feeling. Oscar, you must drink with me today, and not go home before you are drunk." After a few glasses of wine, Winnie lost control of her emotions. She was not good at drinking, plus she was in a bad mood, she got easily drunk. "I'll drink with you, and you can drink as much as you like." Although Oscar felt sad that Winnie was tormenting herself, but he knew that if he did not let Winnie release, she would have been depressed. "Drink, as much as you like. I've already called your aunt. You don't have to go back tonight." Daenerys felt depressed, but she had to be strong, or Winnie could not stick to it. "You are all my best friends. You are the only people in the world who know me best. Unlike that asshole Brian, he doesn't care about my feelings at all." Others did not dare to mention Brian, but Winnie could not control herself and mentioned the one she loved. "He told me that if Wendy slandered me online, I can do whatever I want. But he went back on his words. He is so hateful." Winnie's eyes were red, but she didn't let the tears come out of her eyes. She bore it because it was not worth shedding tears over that heartless fellow. Winnie took another glass and then continued to speak. "I told him that Wendy slandered me, but he didn't believe me. He said Wendy would not do that, he trust Wendy so much." "From the time we knew each other, he believed Penny's words that I was a cheater. Till now he doesn't believe what I say. I will always be a cheater in his eyes." "I...I had no idea why I cheated him. Why he said I am a cheater?"

Hey, My Twins Babies

CHAPTER 306 HATE YOU ALL MY LIFE

Winnie said painfully, picked up the glass and was to drink again. Kevin was worried and reached out to grab the glass. "Winwin, don't drink." "I am ok, you are a doctor, don't worry." Winnie said jokingly, but this joke was sad. "Let her drink, so that she can get the pain out of her mouth." Daenerys felt distressed about Winnie, but it would be no use to stop her. She hoped that Winnie would vent out her grievances, so that she could start all over from tomorrow. "You can drink, but don't drink so fast. If you drink like this, I can help you even if I am a doctor." Kevin persuaded Winnie. It was dangerous for a man who was not good at drinking drank a lot. "Ok, I will drink slowly." Winnie took a sip and then began to speak. "He usually calls me Winwin, but in front of Wendy, he called me Winnie. Do you think he was afraid that Wendy will be angry? If so, don't show up to me again. Don't come to me, don't hug me." "Hypocritical man, I hate him." Winnie said she hated him, but love had occupied her heart. Had it not been for her deep love for him, such a trifle would not have hurt her so much. "Winwin, it is your choice to deal with this situation like that, so you should be relaxed." Oscar said. He had never seen such Winnie. She must have grievances. "Yes, so I have no complaints. Even if Brian didn't talk to me like that, I wouldn't send Wendy to the police station for his sake. I was sad that he did not trust me and not let me deal with Wendy." "I don't know what I did wrong that made him so distrustful of me." "I am ... speechless." Winnie had been unable to use language to describe Brian's attitude to her, in short, she was worse than beggar in his eyes. With that, she drank up the rest of the wine in the glass. Oscar and Daenerys felt distressed but they could not help. However, Winnie did not know that it was recorded by Kevin and sent to Brian. Winnie continued. "Daenerys, Oscar, you know, I live a very, very tired life. I want to give my aunt, sister, the children a good life, so I work all the time. I am tired but I feel happy. But Brian..." Winnie broke down and had to stop. "Don't think about it, and try not to contact him in the future. Since you can't be together, forget him and you will be ok." Daenerys persuaded Winnie. With that, she shed tears too. She understood Winnie was tired, hurtful and helpless, so she felt distressed for her. "I see it differently. Winwin, if you really love Brian and can't forget him, you should try to pursue your happiness. Since you are painful, why not try, maybe there will be a different result." Oscar expressed his opinion, which was the same as Kevin. "That's my opinion. You are painful anyway, so go for it." Kevin hastened to say. "It's no use. I can only make myself more humble by fighting for it. He loves Wendy so much, how can there be my existence in his eyes? Even if we are together, I can't accept that he still loves Wendy." "Forget it, the gap between us is too big, he is the man I can't be with in my life." Winnie's mood was low. She knew everyone was for her good, but she really did not have the courage to close the distance between her and Brian. ... Daenerys held to her opinion, and Oscar and Kevin still held to their opinions. As they were discussing, the doorbell rang. Kevin ran to open the door. The next moment, Brian frowned and stood in front of Winnie with a cold face. Winnie was not aware of the arrival of Brian. As she raised the glass, it was grabbed by Brian. "Stop." Winnie looked up along with the sound. "Why are you here? You are the last person I want to see at this moment. Go, go now. Or I'll go." As Winnie said this, she got up and almost fell down because she was top-heavy with alcohol. Brian held her luckily. "Winwin..." "Don't call me Winwin. How many times do I have to tell you before you remember? Just call me Winnie. This address is good, call me so in the future." Winnie stood up straight and spoke with bitterness. She wanted to slap the man in front of her and kill him so that she would never be sad again. "He's here and I'll go. It hurts me to see him." Winnie said and turned around. She wanted to release her emotions by drinking, but Brian appeared. Winnie loved him, but she only felt pain when she saw him at this moment. "Win...Winnie, I'll see you off." Brian changed the address. He did not stop Winnie from leaving, or she would have a bad day tomorrow. But when he reached out his hand to help her, Winnie dodged. "Keep your distance. I'm afraid of being posted on the Internet. I do not need you to see me off, and dare not to. If you go, I won't go." Winnie stood there. She had to be stubborn once, she wanted to cut off her relationship with him. "Win...Winnie, I was thoughtless. I..." Brian felt pain in heart seeing that Winnie was hurtful. He wanted to apologize again, wanted to make Winnie feel better, but Winnie did not give him a chance. "You're kidding, Brian. You're not thoughtless, you are determined to do that. You don't want me to make it big and you don't want her to make a public apology." Winnie suddenly remembered something. "Daenerys, see if Wendy has made a public apology. I don't want her to apologize now. All I want is for Wendy to be put in jail for a few days. I want her fiancé to have a taste of pain." When she said this, her sullen eyes were fixed on Brian and did not move. Her heart was not so cold. She did not want to do that, but her heart froze into ice at the thought that Brian tried to protect Wendy. "I did it because..." Brian still wanted to explain, but Winnie was not to give him a chance. "Well, well, don't say it. Whatever you say makes sense. I don't want to hear it. I don't care. You want me to forgive Wendy and I have done the best. If you want me to cancel the public apology, Brian, I will hate you forever." Winnie did not want to listen to Brian. She was afraid that he continued to intercede for Wendy, she was afraid that she would not refuse Brian but agree to his request. "No..." Brian still did not give up. He just wanted to explain a few words to make Winnie feel better. However, Winnie was determined not to give him a chance. "Stop talking and get out of here. I don't want to see you again." Winnie raised her voice and glared at him. Seeing that Winnie could not control her emotion and did not give him a chance to speak, he walked to her, took her hand and walked to the guest bed. "Let go..." Winnie flapped Brian's hand as she retreated. Oscar was worried. "Mr. Bennet..." As Oscar was about to dissuade, Daenerys stopped him. "Leave them alone, they can handle it." As Daenerys's voice fell, the guest bedroom door closed. Daenerys looked at the closed door and sighed. "What can we do? These two can't go on and on like this all their lives." Daenerys feared it would happen again, because with two children involved, it was hard for them to draw boundaries. "Brian loves Winwin." Oscar was sure. Although it was the first time he saw Brian, but from Brian's eyes, he could see his love. "You see that?" Daenerys asked Oscar. Was Oscar good at judgment, or was Brian's performance was too obvious. "Yes, I can see that in his eyes." "Daenerys, you spend the most time with Winwin, and she listens to you the most. You can persuade her to try to get along with Brian. Maybe the result will be different." After Oscar determined that Brian also loved Winnie, he wanted to make them together. "It's no use. The problem between them is not just the two of them. What about Wendy? Would the Bennet family accept Winwin? Winwin was slandered and the Bennet family knows it, so it is impossible for them to accept Winwin." Daenerys wanted to see Winnie to be happy, and she was the most rational person. She thought that even if Brian and Winnie loved each other, they should fight for it together, because there were many difficulties. Brian was not an ordinary person. He could not do everything as he wanted and he had to consider overall situation. "Even if it doesn't work, she should try. The result would come out only when she tries. Like you said, if they don't go through it, they would haunt them for the rest of their lives. Who do you think would be hurt?" Oscar was still persuading Daenerys. He wanted to let Winnie and Brian see the facts and their hearts. Oscar's words made Daenerys fall into meditation. What he said was reasonable. Only they could solve the problem. Only they could decide to get over each other or overcome difficulties desperately.

Hey, My Twins Babies

CHAPTER 307 SO MANY IFS

Winnie was forcibly brought to the guest room. She pushed Brian away with force. Because of anger and grievance, Winnie began to vent herself. She clenched her fists and punched Brian's chest, scolding Brian. "Why do you do this to me? Why? Even if I am nothing in your heart, at least respect me for the children's sake." "Is it my fault? When did I ever hit on you? Because of you, I have always been framed and humiliated. It is your fault. Why should I take the blame?" Winnie could not control anymore and her tears fell down. Winnie pushed Brian away. Her painful look made Brian blame himself. "Winwin..." Brian stepped forward to appease Winnie, but the word "Winwin" got Winnie emotional. "Brian, if you ever call that again, I'll leave with two children and you can't see them again." "You do not deserve it. You are Wendy's fiancé, and do not deserve to call my name." "I am Winnie, not Winwin." Winnie cried loudly, with tears blurred her line of sight. She was wronged, angry, and helpless. "Ok, I was wrong. Winnie, I'll call you Winnie." Brian knew that Winnie was angry, but he had to agree with that, because she was emotional. He was afraid that Winnie would faint again and that she would be ill in hospital. "I'm sorry, Winnie, but I have no choice about that. It's not good for anyone if it gets big." Brian explained two words, but as he was to continue, Winnie glared at him angrily with tearful eyes. "Don't defend yourself. You did that for Wendy." "She is the one who did the wrong thing, and it is right to suffer the consequences. But you love her, even broke the promise to me. You sacrifice me to please the woman you love. You rely on that I love you, so you use my love for you to protect your woman. You are shameless and despicable." "If I knew that my love for you will bring me so much harm, I would rather not tell you." "If I knew I was going to get tangled up with you and be in so much pain, I'd rather not be a surrogate." Winnie shouted hysterically. Why she suffered all of these? She was not strong enough to withstand that. Would those people stop hurting her only when she died? Brian was unable to defend himself and found that he could do nothing and he had hurt the woman he loved. Brian strode to Winnie and held her in his arms. "I'm sorry. I'm sorry, hate me. Don't forgive me, it is my fault." "Fuck off. There is surveillance in the house. Wendy can see that. Don't put all this on me. If Wendy is making trouble for me again, I will not sit still but fight back. I will show no mercy even if you defend her."

Winnie struggled desperately. Brian's embrace was the warmest for her, but now it had become the most fearful place. She was so afraid of torture and she dared not think of the embrace any more. "I'm sorry, I'm sorry, it won't happen again. I admit everything is because of me, I admit everything you said. But I don't love Wendy, I love you." Brian finally confessed. He felt Winnie could feel better if he said that. However, Winnie could not believe that Brian was telling the truth under such situation. She pushed him away and said in a tone of extreme sarcasm. "You love me? What the hell are you talking about? How can you love me? No man is willing to hurt the woman he loves, no man will let the woman he loves to take the blame. Isn't you love special? If this is true love, I would rather not have it." Winnie gave a sarcastic smile, showing desolation and bitterness. "Mr. Bennet, don't fool me and don't used my love to hurt me. Stay away from me from now." "Win...Winnie, I am telling you the truth. I did not lie to you." Brian explained, but Winnie felt it was a kind of insult. "I have said the same sentence to you more than once. I said I am not lying to you, how many times did you believe?" Winnie was in low spirits, but her tears still flowed silently. She was so dizzy with crying that she had no strength to quarrel with Brian. No matter what she said, there would be no result. "Don't talking. We've made everything clear between us. From now on, take good care of your woman and don't let her trouble me anymore." Winnie was disappointed and she had no passion to believe Brian's words again. "I'm sorry. I know it doesn't matter whatever I say. And you will never forgive me. But I want to make it up to you. I will agree with any requirement you raised." Brian knew Winnie was disappointed. He did not blame Winnie for such an attitude. It was he made her feel cold. Winnie was silent. Could she still believe his words? Would he agree to the terms she proposed? The answer was no. It was impossible for him to separate from Wendy, and it was impossible for her to ask to leave with her two children. "If you want to make it up to me, move to the suburbs, make it your home and try to get along with your father." Winnie felt that it was not possible, but Brian would not agree with whatever she could think of. Since so, she put forward with that requirement. "I..." Brian was embarrassed and did not expect Winnie's request. "Forget it, I know what you said to me was just casual remark. Follow your own rules and don't promise anything if you can't keep." "Go out. I'm tired and want to rest. I have to work tomorrow." Winnie looked disappointed, took a look at Brian and lay down on bed. She curled herself up. Brian did not go out. He stood there and did not move. He did not go to the bed until he heard Winnie's well-balanced breathing and lifted the quilt to cover her up. Brian sat on the bedside, quietly watching Winnie. Her face was still wet with tears, and she occasionally sobbed. Looking at Winnie like that, he felt distressed. What he could do to compensate her? Would she really be happy if he went back to the suburbs, would it really be a remedy for her? After waking up, Winnie was still brave and tenacious, and she had to face everything. She was busy in the morning. She got home and had breakfast with the children. There was a meeting in the company. She was so busy that she didn't even have time to have a look at her phone. It was not until the morning meeting ended she returned to her office. She saw Wendy's public apology online with the same account that she used to slandered her. Winnie finally felt relieved. In addition to Wendy, Klara also apologized, which was unexpected. She thought she was not so deterrent. Now the netizens who previously scolded her began to scold Wendy, saying she had no morality. Winnie sat in the office, heaved a sigh of relief. She did not care how the netizens scolded Wendy and she didn't have the energy to inquire. She just let it go. Brian, who had been watching the news online since the morning, was relieved to see one apology after another to Winnie. But a personal apology caught Brian's attention. After careful comparison, he found this person scolded Winnie the most. He frowned and made a call. "Ask Albert to come to see me." The secretary was informed to contact Albert. Soon after, Albert appeared in Brian's office. "Go and find out who this person is scolding Winnie?" Brian put the phone on his desk and showed it to Albert, but Albert did not pick up the mobile phone. Brian was confused. "What's the matter?" "Mr. Bennet, it is Klara, and Winnie had early found it out. On the day we had dinner together, Winnie came to the company to look for Klara." He had promised Winnie he would tell Mr. Bennet, but since he felt something wrong, Albert could not conceal it anymore. "Why didn't you tell me?" Brian got angry, but not because of Albert, but Klara. "Winnie told us not to. She said that Klara has a family to support. If she loses her job because of this, her family will be worried." Albert conveyed Winnie's message. "Klara again. She's getting bolder and bolder. She takes my guilt about her husband and just does whatever she wants. Albert, transfer her to a branch office and ask her to bring her family there." Because Klara had family to support, Brian forgave her again and again for the sake of her husband. But she even dared scold his woman. "Mr. Bennet, please execute according to Winnie's wishes. Just pretend you don't know it and give Klara another chance. Winnie said this is the last time. If she does it again, Winnie would not forgive her again. And she has apologized on the website." Albert wanted to do as Winnie's wish. After all, it was good for everyone to do so. If Mr. Bennet sent Klara away, Klara would hate Winnie more. "I have already given her the chance by doing so. If it were others, I would have fired her." Brian was angry and disappointed at Klara.

Hey, My Twins Babies

CHAPTER 308 WENDY'S DOUBTS

"Mr. Bennet, for once, let's do as what Winnie said. If we don't, we are to make enemies for Winnie. Winnie is kind. Let's not waste her kindness." Albert insisted on following Winnie's instruction and had been persuading Brian. At the same time, he was giving Klara one last chance, and no one could save her if she did it again. Brian was angry, but he did not speak again. Winnie forgave Klara again and again, concealed for her again and again, but her kindness only made Klara treat her more and more badly. Did he really have to pretend that he didn't know anything? "Albert, tell Klara that I have already known about the fact. The reason why she is not punished is because Winnie begged for mercy. Tell her that Winnie is my woman all the life. Let her respect Winnie. If she dares to offend Winnie again, not one could save her." Brian commanded in a domineering manner. Even if Winnie was not his woman, he would protect her for a lifetime. No one would be forgiven if such thing happened again. Wendy's apology produced more profound impact than that Winnie was scolded. Brian did not control the expansion but just hid the basic information of Wendy, so that she would not be found out. In such way, Wendy would not be embarrassed and the whole thing would not ferment. Let the netizens scold her and it was a lesson for Wendy. Such consequence was the lightest punishment. Wendy did not know that her basic information was covered up by Brian. After the apology was sent, she stayed at home in fear of being found out. She did not dare to leave home and only chat in the group. Wendy: I didn't expect the Internet was so terrible. How could an apology post cause such a stir?" Wendy: I dare not go out now. It would be a shame if someone finds out it is me. It is even more humiliating than going into jail. Klara: Don't worry, it will not be so serious. With Mr. Bennet, you have nothing to be afraid of. Wendy: What's the use? He can't protect me all the time. From yesterday to now, there were more and more scolds online, but he did not even make a call to me. I can see my position and Winnie's position in his heart. Wendy felt depressed. Didn't Brian go too far? When Winnie had a problem, he went to comfort her regardless of gossip, but now he was silent. Klara: Forget it. Just get this thing over and we can move on. Mr. Bennet will be yours sooner or later. Winnie is impossible to be with him. Klara gave Wendy encouragement and hoped that she would not flinch because of this. Wendy, however, was indeed timid. If something went wrong again, she and Mr. Bennet would be over. Klara: Wendy, keep a low profile these days. I think it's best to get the children back. Then Mr. Bennet will have no reason to keep up with Winnie. Wendy: Yeah, I'll listen to you. Laura: I'm sorry I'm late. Wendy: It's not too late. Thank you, Laura, for your apology post. Laura: Nerve mind. Just lift a finger. Wendy: Laura, how does your company respond? Laura: Don't mention it. Those people look at Winnie differently. They go to curry favor with her one by one. I get tired of watching it. It was expected by Wendy, but she still felt agitated hearing that. Wendy: By the way, besides me, there were others apologized. Among them, one of them scolded Winnie the worst. Who is this person? It has been found by Winnie. Wendy had been wondering about it since last night. She was not sure whether this person did not get along well with Winnie. Laura: I don't know that. Laura was equally curious, but it didn't involve her interests, so she didn't have to take it seriously. When Wendy and Laura chatted, Klara did not participate, because Albert came to her again and conveyed Brian's words to her. After Albert left, Klara was timid. Mr. Bennet's love for Winnie had exceeded her imagination. Mr. Bennet had officially warned her that she might lose her job if she started any more trouble. Wendy would not be able to help her when the time came. Without this job, she would have no source of income and she could support her family. She should indeed restrain, but she would not stop the rejection of Winnie. Klara returned to the group and spoke after a moment of pondering. Klara: I just got a phone call. Klara: Do you want to know who scolded Winnie the most? Laura:? Wendy:? Both wanted to know. Klara: It's me. Wendy and Laura were surprised. Wendy: Is that really you? Klara: Of course. How can I lie about that? I can't leave Wendy fight alone. Klara did not want to say about it, or Wendy would suspect her motive. But she failed and Laura helped Wendy to write an apology script. If she did not say it, Laura would have higher position than her in Wendy's heart. Wendy: I'm so moved. I don't know what to say. You've been compromised on my account. Klara, thank you. And Laura, I will never forget your help to me. If you have difficulties in the future, I will try my best to help. Wendy did not think much. In her simple world, Klara and Laura were her comrade-in-arms, her good friends to get through difficulties. Klara: Never mind. Laura and I will continue to help you. Klara sent a emoji to cheer Wendy up. Now she was most afraid that Wendy lost her morale. A few days later, Wendy's apology was calmed down, and the matter was over. It was in the end of the year, and Winnie became busier and busier. At the monthly dinner of the Bennet's. "Jack, how is your recent work?" Felix asked Jack as he ate. Of the three children, the one he was most worried about was Jack, who had limited abilities and only wanted to play. "Good, I performed very well and brother praised me. If you don't believe me, you can ask him." Jack said proudly. "Jack did have good performance, he sign a cooperation contract through his own efforts." Brian proved it for Jack. "Good, keep on. Your brother will be easier if you do more. You're a Bennet, too. You have a duty to help your brother grow the Bennet Group." Felix believed Brian more than Jack. Hearing that Jack made a progress, Felix was gratified. "Don't worry, Grandpa. I will be brother's right-hand man." Jack answered confidently, but only he knew that his love for his work was far less than he let on. "Dad, it's right for Jack to help Brian, but I think his position is too low." Maria, Jack's mother, put forward her opinions. But her suggestion made Felix frown at once. Felix did not speak but stared at Maria coldly. Thomas spoke at this moment. "Don't get involved in the company affairs. Jack has to grow up slowly. Now he doesn't have leadership ability and needs to be taught by Brian." Maria did not speak again, and the atmosphere on the table also quieted down. "Stella, it is near the new year. Hasn't your husband come back yet?" Felix said to Stella. "He is too busy to come back from work. I'm going to visit him these days." Stella was to mention it at the dinner, but Grandpa mentioned it first. "You don't spend new year at home?" Felix was disappointed. "I'll try my best to come back. Don't be angry if I can't. You can be happy too with so many families." Stella was sorry, but there was something abroad that she had to deal with. "I am ok. I'm worried about your father. Who's going to accompany him if you go aboard?" Felix had been thinking of Rufus. "I accompany Grandpa. Don't worry, Grade Grandpa, I won't let grandpa alone." Luke was very sensible. He would soon have a holiday. Mommy said that they could go to the suburbs to accompany grandpa in holiday. Hearing that, Felix could not help but give a smile. "Good, good, Luke has grown up and can take care of grandpa." Felix was pleased and praised Luke. Luke was in a good mood these days. He became optimistic and more sensible than before. It seemed that Winnie deserved a lot of credit. "Brian, your marriage with Wendy had not settled, so don't bring her home during the Spring Festival. Wendy will also have to accompany her parents to the reunion dinner." Speaking of Wendy, Felix's tone was serious. He remembered what Wendy had done to Winnie. Winnie lived up to his expectations and did not make it big, he should thank Winnie. If Wendy dealt with it, it would not have such an effect. "I know, Grandpa." Brian was silent for a moment before answering Felix. Although he did not know why Grandpa refused to have Wendy to spend the festival together, he could see that Grandpa still disliked Wendy. After dinner, Brian reported his latest work in Felix's office. Brian's conscientiousness and responsibility at work always pleased Felix. It was soon over, but Felix had to remind him of some private matters. "Winnie's affair is over. She handled it in a low-key manner and didn't embarrass the Bennet Group. I will call her to thank her when I have time." "As for you, you must be careful. If the relationship between men and woman is not handled well, it will directly affect your career, and it will also make the Bennet Group stock crash." "Since it is impossible for you to be with Winnie, don't make trouble for her and don't make enemies for her. I am very disappointed by what Wendy did. She is not like the hostess of the Bennet family. If Winnie had not shown mercy, she would have embarrassed the Bennet family. You must teach her well, at least make her be sensible."

CHAPTER 309 STELLA'S THANKS

Felix spoke for Winnie in this way. He did not like Wendy. After what happened, he disliked her more. "I see." Brian only gave a simple answer. From grandpa's words, he understood why grandpa did not want Wendy to go his home. He knew what happened to Winnie and was dissatisfied with Wendy's practice. Brian paused for a moment before he continued. "Grandpa, can't I be with Winnie?" Brian asked. As long as his grandfather said yes, he would immediately end the relationship with Wendy, and tell him that he had a daughter. This question made Felix silent for a moment, and finally he gave an answer. "I understand how you feel, Brian. But you have to think about the big picture. You are a man who can do great things and you can't let your emotions stop you. Winnie is a good girl, but she is not suitable for our Bennet family. Felix also wanted Winnie to do the hostess of the Bennet family, but she did not meet the standards of the hostess of the Bennet family, so he could only give up. Brian was disappointed again and felt sad. He even had an impulse to abandon everything and live for himself. Emotional problems seemed trivial to grandpa, but in Brian's eyes, it would affect his mood for a lifetime. Without Winnie by his side, he had no sunshine for the rest of his life, only loneliness. "I gotta go." Brian turned to leave, but Felix stopped him. "Can't you forgive your father? Do you want to see him alone?" Felix had been annoyed by that. Winnie would not help and he could only talk to Brian. "I don't have time to think about it at the moment. I will think about it." Brian answered coldly and turned to leave directly. No matter who mentioned that to him, he could not accept it, except for Winnie. Brian took Luke to leave directly. When he sent Luke home, he thought that Winnie would come down to pick him up, but it was Vanessa who came down. "Mr. Bennet, I haven't seen you for a long time." Vanessa greeted him with a sweet smile. "Yes, long time no see. How have you been?" Brian slowed down his speech to show his softer side. "Good, I have no worries and I just need to study." Vanessa said casually, but study was not easy. "Don't think too much and don't have any apprehensions. If you need help, you can come to me instead of your sister." Brian emphasized. "Why, are you afraid my sister would be upset?" Vanessa said jokingly. Seeing that Brian was embarrassed, she realized that she should not say that, but it was too late. "Is your sister still at work?" Brian asked about Winnie, which was his most concern. "No, she works overtime today. Mr. Bennet, I will take Luke up and I have to help him do his homework." Vanessa said and took Luke's hand. "Ok. Thank you for taking care of the two children." Now Brian knew that what he owed was not Winnie alone, but Winnie's family, who had paid for two children. "Good-bye, Brian! "Bye, Daddy!" The two said goodbye and left. Brian began to worry about Winnie. It was late, but Winnie was still working. Could she stand it?. The next day, as Winnie was working hard in her office, someone knocked at the door. "Come in." Winnie said in a gentle voice. Stella heard the permission and pushed the door open and saw Winnie who was surprised. "Why, can't I come and see you?" Stella said jokingly, smiling like a warm sun. "Yes, why not. I just did not expect that." As Winnie said this, she got up and walked to the door. She saw only Laura outside, so she said with embarrassment. "Laura, do me a favor and bring me two cups of coffee. Thank you." Winnie had been very polite to Laura, and did not change her attitude to Laura because of what had happened. "Ok, I'll get it for you." Laura got up to make coffee. She was curious about the woman who came to see Winnie, and she could take a look at her when she sent the coffee. That woman's temperament was extraordinary and she was not like ordinary people. Winnie closed the door and looked back at Stella. "Stella, have a seat." Through the processing of Wendy, Stella liked Winnie more. "Stella, how do you have time to come to me?" Winnie asked and thought Stella would not come to her for nothing. "I need your help." "Have a seat too, Winwin." Stella patted the position next to her, indicating Winnie to sit down. Winnie then sat down as she wished. "What can I help you? I will offer help, as long as I can offer help." "You can." Stella said. "I am flying to MG tomorrow, but I am worry about my father. He is old and recently he talks less and his spirit is not good as before." "Winwin, I wonder if you can help me to take care of him when I am absent. I will be worried if he has no one to take care of him." "Ok, I can help. You can go." Winnie agreed. She could do that, if she had no time, Vanessa could take care of him too. "Thank you." At this time, Laura came in with coffee. "Here is the coffee, Winnie." Laura came to the tea table and put down the coffee. "Thank you Laura, thank you!" Winnie thanked her again. "Never mind, I should serve coffee when a guest comes." Laura said, peeping at Stella through the corner of her eyes. She was right. This woman must be a rich lady, because of her expensive cloths and bag, which would cost her a year of salary. "I am going out. Let me know when you need help." Laura had no reason to stay, so she had to leave. She was still thinking about it when she was back to her office. She wondered what was the relationship between this woman and Winnie, and she was afraid that Winnie had a strong support, if so, she could not offend Winnie. She had been curious about it, so she secretly took a picture and sent it to the group, waiting for an answer. In Winnie's office. "Winwin, I have another thing to thank you on behalf of our family." Stella continued. "What is it? I have done nothing." Winnie was confused. "we know that Wendy slandered you online, I heard from Grandpa that you did not make it big for the sake of the overall situation. If it gets big, it will be shameful for our family and the Bennet Group." "So Grandpa asked me to thank you." Stella was sincere. She knew Winnie was thoughtful and she took all the bitterness. As a Bennet, she came to comfort Winnie. Hearing that, Winnie figured out what happened. Her smile froze. "Never mind. I have done nothing and it is over. I can have a normal life, which proves that it is not a big deal. Stella, don't put it in heart and tell Chairman I am fine." However, she still felt warm for Stella's thanks. "You are modest. You paid silently for Brian and we all know that. We owe you thanks." Stella tried to say it in an easy way, so that Winnie would not feel burden. "Winwin, for the children and Brian, we will try to make it up for you." "I don't feel I have done anything, especially for Brian. I am the mother of the children, and I should pay for them. I don't want you to make up for me, or I will feel burden." "I only have a request. If one day, I can't stay with the children, please take care of them." It was possible that she would separate with the children. Maybe one day Brian changed his mind and took the custody of the children back. "It will not happen. The children will be with you for a lifetime and you will not separate. Winwin, don't over think, Brian is not that cruel. In the past, he has the same character with Kevin, sunny and liked to laugh, but he changed after the death of my mother." "He knew the feeling to separate with mother is hurtful, so he will not let you and the children separate." "Hold on a while and when I have the chance, I will tell Grandpa about Megan. When the time comes, the children would not likely to separate with you." Stella was a woman with both emotional and intelligence quotients, and she could certainly guess what Winnie was worried about. So she told Winnie that she would stand by her side, and her words worked. "It will be great. I will never want to be separated from my children if I can." Winnie didn't hold her breath on Stella's promise, because it was different for the Bennet family. She was the biological mother of two children, but she might not have the right to raise them.

Hey, My Twins Babies

CHAPTER 310 CONSTANT DISAPPOINTMENT

In Winnie's view, as long as she did one thing wrong, the Bennet family will take it as an excuse to take back the custody of their children. Now for Winnie, the most practical and safest way was to leave with the children, but without Brian's permission, even if she went to the ends of the earth, she would be found by Brian. Laura had been waiting for reply in the chat group. Finally Klara answered first. Klara: Isn't this Mr. Bennet's sister? Why she is there? Klara was confused and worried at the same time. In her view, Winnie would not give up on Brian, so Stella accused Winnie or agreed with her to persist? Laura: This is Mr. Bennet's sister? No wonder she looked noble. Laura was surprised about that. Klara: Yes, she was born in such a powerful and rich family, how can she have no temperament? Klara: Laura, do you know why she went to Winnie? As far as I know, Stella doesn't like Winnie around Brian. Klara asked with doubts. Laura did not reply, but secretly took a video before she answered. Laura: Do you think she doesn't like her in this way they chat? In the video, Stella and Winnie were saying the two children were naughty. They were in good mood and it was harmonious, and Stella was smiling at the moment. Klara was surprised when she saw the video. It was not like the rumor that Stella hated Winnie. They were more like good friends. It seemed that Wendy was more dangerous, because Winnie had begun to seize the hearts of the Bennet family. Klara was thinking about it. Wendy sent a message. Wendy: Why is she there? Seeing that Winnie and Stella were harmonious together, Wendy was panic, feeling she was to lose favor. Klara: I don't know, but they seem to have a good relationship. Laura: I don't know either; I came out after giving them two cups of coffee. Laura: Winnie's scheming. She has started to make a move to the people around Mr. Bennet. Klara: I think what Laura said is reasonable. If Mr. Bennet's father agrees them to be together, Winnie will have the most advantage. Wendy: She thinks gets the upper hand because I apologize to her. Hearing what Klara and Laura said, Wendy was anxious and felt she should take a step earlier. Klara: Wendy, don't be impulsive, or it will have bad result. Klara persuaded her. Wendy: Don't worry, I won't do that again. With a lesson, Wendy would never do it again, but she still hated Winnie. Wendy put down her phone and went out. Wendy drove to the old house before telling Brian. As soon as Wendy entered the door, he saw Thomas and his wife chatting in the living room. She did not like the uncle of Brian, but she had to say hello. From now on, she would try her best to please ever member of the Bennet family, so that Winnie would not have the opportunity. "Uncle Thomas, Aunt Maria, you are here!" Wendy walked to Thomas. "Wendy, sit down." Maria got up and greeted Wendy. "Maria, haven't you gone to play cards?" Wendy sat down with a smile on her face. Although it was not from her heart and she felt her smile stiff, she had to get used to such a pattern to get along with them. "No, I will go out to see a friend with Thomas, so I don't play cards today." Maria answered gently. "Oh, I see. If you have not enough players, you can call me. I can play with you." Wendy knew it was a good way to please Maria. Sure enough, Maria was pleased. "Ok, I will let you know." "You are available today, Wendy." Thomas spoke. His mood could not be told from his tepid tone. "I haven't come for a long time. I want to see you and Grandpa. Brian is busy, so I came alone. Am I welcomed?" Wendy said with a smile. "Yes, you'll soon be one of the Mr. Bennet family members, sure you are welcomed." Thomas continued after a pause. "Wendy, Jack needs Brian's help in work. You are his sister-in-law, please care about Jack. We respect and love each other, and it is more like a family." Thomas knew that Wendy was to please Felix. She did not care about him and Maria. Through such a reminder, he wanted to tell her that they were family. "Don't worry, Uncle Thomas. We are family, Brian will take care of him." In Thomas' words, Wendy only noticed the word of "sister-in-law". She was joyful and it increased her confidence. "Good, Maria and I have to go. Grandpa is in the study. Go and see him." Thomas got up. Wendy got up too and went to Felix's study after seeing them off. Seeing that it was Wendy who came in, Felix wrinkled his eyebrows. He did not speak, took back the line of sight. Wendy was at a loss by his serious face. "Grandpa, I come to see you." Wendy calmed down, but her voice was timid. Felix was silent, and then slowly raised his head but his eyes were cold. "Go to the point. Your coming to see me is not the main purpose." Felix's tone was full of irritability and indifference. He did not like hypocritical people like Wendy. She must come with purpose, but she said she came to see him. "Grandpa..." Wendy was embarrassed. She did not know if she should say it since Grandpa had that attitude. "Go ahead. How do you solve it if you don't say it out? You will come again if you don't say it this time." Felix's tone was cold. And Wendy could only say it. "Ok, I will go to the point. Grandpa, I want Luke back. I will take care of him." After saying that, Wendy's heart was beating violently. But she dare not show her cowardice in face of Grandpa. "You take care of Luke? Give me a reason." Felix gave Wendy a chance to persuade him. "Grandpa, I believe you have heard about the things on the Internet. You have seen what kind of person Winnie is. No matter it is true or false with other men, it is certainly not false that she was with Brian." Wendy felt less confidence saying that, because she wasn't sure what Grandpa knew. She looked at Felix, but Felix was silent and she had to go on talking. "Grandpa, I underestimated Winnie's ambition. She will haunt Brian with Luke as an excuse all her life. He will affect my relationship with Brian." "And Luke is a child of the Bennet family, he cannot always live with Winnie. Winnie is an unscrupulous woman, she can't teach him well." Wendy stopped again, and Felix finally had a response. He looked at Wendy coldly. "How Winnie is unscrupulous?" Felix asked Wendy in a cold voice. "Well..." Wendy did not understand why Felix asked so. "Why you come today? For Luke, or for you?" Felix's sharp words made Wendy stunned for a moment. "Grandpa, I think of Luke first and then me. I think..."However, before she could finish her words, Felix interrupted her angrily. "You are lying, you come for yourself. You would have not left if you think of Luke and let Luke live with his grandfather. Now you have a sense of crisis, and want to use Luke. How can I give you Luke?" Felix's sudden rage made Wendy panic. Her mind had been seen through, and she did not know what to say and had no courage to talk with Felix. "Wendy, if you did not leave willfully, all this would not have happened. And you let me down by secretly slandering Winnie, do you know it would have bad impact on us if it gets big?" Felix loudly scolded. Wendy was afraid. Grandpa knew everything and was waiting for her to find him. "Since you came back, you haven't shown any magnanimity. If you hadn't pushed him, and if you hadn't put Brian in a dilemma, how could he have leaned toward Winnie?" "You created this situation. You closed the distance between them." Felix angrily stood up from the chair and was unsatisfied for Wendy. Obviously, Wendy did not expect that. But to be the future mistress of the Bennet family, strain ability was the most basic. If it were Winnie, she would not let herself in such an embarrassing situation. Even in the face it, she would face will it, rather than crying out like Wendy now. "In other words, you don't love Brian, and if you do, you would find a way to be together with him, instead of running away for years." Felix's tone was awe-inspiring, and every word made Wendy's heart tremble. But when Felix denied her love, she could not help retorting. "Grandpa, it is not like that. I admit all the other things. It is my thoughtlessness and my attitude is not good. But I do love Brian, or I would not have waited him for years." She retorted, but she had not confidence, and her voice was so timid. "You love his power, love his money, love the supremacy he gives you." Felix said sharply. Wendy was like that in his eyes, or she would not have been waiting for Brian. "No, Grandpa, I don't, I..." Wendy cried out and she had no courage to face Felix. Seeing that Wendy was crying, Felix was annoyed. "Give up the thought to take care of Luke. Even if one day Winnie can't take care of him, I will let his grandfather do it or his aunt do it. Since you have done so mean things, you may abuse Luke." Felix gave the final answer and then walked away with awe.
