Hey, My Twins Babies

CHAPTER 331 DON'T BE NICE TO ME

Brian said as he headed for the elevator. Albert drove the car away. He felt he could get off work today. Winnie could not persuade Brian by this time. Fortunately, there was no one in the elevator. Otherwise she would be the topic of the neighborhood again. When he got the room, Brian put Winnie down and closed the door. Winnie ran to the bathroom, and then came the sound of vomiting. Brian hurried to find some water and then went to the bathroom. "Here's some water. I'll go down and get you some medicine." Brian put the water aside and turned to go out, but Winnie pulled him. "Don't bother, I will sleep it off." Winnie was gasping for breath, with tears streaming down her face. "Are you uncomfortable? I told you not to drink." Brian was distressed. Seeing that Winnie was tortured by alcohol, he regretted that he brought the wine. "I am ok. Go back now or your father will be worried." Winnie had been opposing Brian to stay with her. She was not afraid of what Brian would do, but that she could not control her mood and asked Brian to do something. "I am worried about you. Don't talk, drink some water, or you will vomit again." Winnie was obedient and gargled. After spitting out the water, her nausea subsided. But because of vomiting, her stomach and throat were uncomfortable. She got up, but she had no strength. At this time, Brian bent down to pick up Winnie and took her back to the bedroom, put her on the bed, and began to undress her. "I'll do it myself." Winnie felt it too ambiguous. Although they had countless close contact, they were a couple and they should not do that. Maybe she was melodramatic, maybe she was pretending to be noble, but she really wanted to live with dignity in front of Brian. "Don't move, or you will throw up again. I'll help you with clean clothes and I will leave as soon as you sleep." Brian knew what Winnie cared about and knew that she had strong self-esteem. But he would be thinking about it all night if he left like that. "Brian, I really will misunderstand if you do that. Don't be nice to me. Go back. I will get drunk a thousand times in my life, can you take care of me every time?" Winnie said sadly, feeling suffocated like a big stone pressing her heart. At this time, Brian had helped Winnie take off her coat and covered her with quilt. He sat by Winnie's side and said to her gently. "Winwin, don't say that. I can't promise that I'll be with you a hundred times, but as long as I'm with you, I will take care of you. Don't think too much, don't escape deliberately. Even if we have no courage to overcome difficulties, we can't destroy the love in the heart. Take your time and let it be." "I wanted to, I told myself not to run away, but when I see you..." Winnie couldn't finish her words and her tears flowed down the corner of her eyes. "I can't help myself when I see you, so don't be so nice to me. Stay away from me, hate me, and only then will my heart be cold to you." Winnie sobbed uncontrollably. She had to do everything she said, but she found it harder to forget Brian than to forget herself. What she wanted most at the moment was amnesia, so that she could forget Brian and feel at ease. "But I can't, and I can never be cruel to you." Brian was sad too. The greatest pain in the world was that two people who loved each other could not be together. He and Winnie were miserable people. "We are thousands of miles apart and walk the opposite way. We can't be together for a lifetime, why do you torture me?" Winnie cried more and more sadly. Even if she believed that Brian loved her, she had no hope for their future. Felix, the powerful status of the Bennet family, Brian's excellence, and Wendy.....The obstacles between them were more than a mountain. Winnie continued. "I am wrong, it is not you torture me, it is I can't get over you." "Ah...I'm going crazy." Winnie cried loudly. She would be death if she didn't vent out. "Brian, please let me leave with the children and find a place where I can live without you." As soon as Winnie's painful voice fell, Brian pulled Winnie's arm with a force and pulled her into his arms. "I'm sorry. I have to be selfish about this. I can't live without you." "Wendy told me more than once to ask you to leave with the children, but I refused. I can't live without you and children. I want you to live in my sight even if we can't be a couple." At the moment, Brian might be the most selfish person in the world, who only considered himself instead of Winnie. But he really could not lose Winnie and he could only be selfish. "Bastard, Brian, you are a bastard, you are a devil, you know? How can you do that? It's not fair to me, you know?" Winnie was sobbing and reproaching Brian as she beat him with her fist. His words were like a sentence of death to her, and she would live in pain for the rest of her life. Why didn't he put himself in her shoes? "I am a bastard, I am selfish, you can scold me, beat me, as long as you won't leave." Brian said gently. Hearing that, she hugged Brian and cried. "What I owned you in my previous life? I gave you two children but I got nothing. And I can't even leave." "Brian, please don't say you love me again, don't say you can live without me again, or it will kill me." Winnie wept and fell into Brian's arms, looking so weak. She could bear the framing of others, could ignore the abuse of others, could bear all the injustice, but she could not hear Brian said that. "I will never say it again. I promise you anything, as long as you don't leave." Brian knew that these words were the most tortured since he could not be with Winnie. He was selfish, but it was for love. The night outside the window was quiet. The two people in the bedroom were suffering. No one knew when the pain would last and whether there would be happiness at the end of the pain. Brian did not leave until the next morning, when Winnie was still sleeping. Brian turned off Winnie's phone, for fear that someone would wake her up. Brian left Winnie's home and went to the old house to see Felix. When he arrived, he said hello to his uncle and aunt before he went to grandpa's study. "Why are you here so early?" Felix asked Brian in a low voice. "Personal affair." He said only two simple words, but firm. He had to have a firm attitude about what he was going to say, whether or not Grandpa agreed with it. "Winnie or Wendy?" Felix's intuition told him that his personal affairs could only be related to these two people. "Winnie. Grandpa, Winnie's aunt is taking her sister back to A City for the New Year. I want Winwin and Megan to come to our home to spend the New Year." Brian said with certainty, as if he did not allow grandpa to refute. But he knew that if grandpa did not agree, even if Winnie spent New Year with him, it would not be happy. "Winnie is coming?" Felix frowned and said in a low voice. "No, I want her to come. I'll talk to her if you agree." Brian thought that if his grandfather agreed and he talked with Megan, Winnie would come. "Brian, Wendy is your nominal girlfriend, even she can't come to our home for the New year, do you think Winnie is appropriate to come over?" Felix asked Brian in a slow tone. "But you don't like Wendy, and since she can't come over, I think Winwin can come. She can come as a friend of yours and a teacher of Luke." Brian's attitude would not change because of anyone. He tried his best just to spend New Year with Winnie. "Put aside things related to Winnie." "Do you insist on me marrying Wendy since you know I don't like her?" Felix was inspired by something he was planning. He put Winnie's things aside. If Brian performed well, he could agree Winnie to come home for the New Year. "Wendy is the most in line with my requirements." Brian did not like Wendy now, but he could not bear to lose so many years of relationship. He could not hurt Wendy, or destroy the Yup Group according to the meaning of his grandfather. "I have a new standard, if you are willing to cooperate, I can consider of letting Winnie come over." Felix said slowly. "What standard?" Brian had a feeling of standing on the edge of a trap. "Go to blind date, if you meet someone more suitable than Wendy, break up with Wendy." Hearing that, Brian was surprised. How could Grandpa be so casual about marriage? Wendy was a woman he had been waiting for four years. Even if there was love now, there was friendship, how could he break up so easily. And it was not ethical. "Grandpa, I haven't broken up with Wendy, I can't go to blind date. It is unfair to Wendy and the women who are in blind date. I can't do that." Brian gave an affirmative answer. "Do you think it is fair that you are in between Winnie and Wendy?" Felix asked Brian in a cold voice.

Hey, My Twins Babies

CHAPTER 332 GET MARRIED

Hearing that, Brian could only keep silent, because he had something that could not be known. He admitted that he was doing wrong, but because of too many responsibilities, he could not do what he wanted and could not be with the woman he loved. If Uncle Thomas had no selfish interest in the Bennet Group, and if he could guarantee the safety of tens of thousands of employees, he was willing to give up the Bennet Group and leave with his beloved people. If grandpa did not take the Yup Group and Wendy to threaten him, he would rather break up with Wendy and be with the woman he loved. For all of this, he had tormented the people he loved most. "I was disappointed in all the ways Wendy behaved. She will disgrace you if she marries you. You return to the suburbs because of Winnie, but she shamelessly claim credit from me." "She made Winnie be scolded by the whole nation by her backstabbing, but she came to me and said that Winnie is dirty and unfit to raise the children. Let me give her the children. There is no bottom line, how can she bring up a child like that?" Felix said to Brian, but he did not mention Winnie's necklace, because he did not want Brian to know that he met Winnie. "I don't know that, how she could do that?" Brian was more disappointed at Wendy. It seemed that Wendy was not an honest woman. How could she do such a thing behind his back? Had she not given up attacking Winnie? "If you go on a blind date, Winnie can come with her child. It's a quid pro quo and there's no alternative." Felix told Brian his idea directly. He thought that since Brian did not have deep feelings for Wendy, it would be the same for him to marry anyone. Although the development of the Yup Group was fast, its foundation was not solid enough, so he would rather find a more powerful one. Brian was embarrassed and was forced by his grandfather again and again, he did not know what to do. He came here for the reason that he could spend New Year with Winnie. But Grandpa made everything complicated. Grandpa's attitude was very clear that he would not accept Wendy. But why he was greedy about the Yup Group? What should he do? Should he go to a blind date so that he could spend New Year with Winnie? Drinking too much alcohol was bad. Emily had not been awake, but she had to open her eyes because of a headache. But as her consciousness became clearer and clearer, she suddenly stood up and looked around in amazement. This was not her bedroom, this was not her home. It was clean and tidy, like a hotel, but it had a warm feeling. She looked around, wondering why she was there. She tried to remember what happened last night, but she did not remember anything. She told Leo to help her find a driver, it must be the driver send her here. Thinking of this, Emily suddenly had a bad feeling and quickly looked down at her clothes. After felt more panic after that. She had clothes on, which was reassuring. But she was not wearing her own clothes. Where were her clothes? Who changed her clothes? Emily could not calm down, and then got up to see if she could find someone. As soon as she got out of bed, Leo walked out of the dressing room, making Emily retreat twice. "Are you a ghost? How can you walk without making any sound?" Emily was obviously frightened by Leo's sudden appearance. "I thought I'd be careful not to disturb you." Leo said gently. "You.....Why I am here? Why are you here? Where is this place?" Emily did not continue to tangle whether there was a sound walking. She was now more concerned about what happened last night, why she was with Leo. Leo did not rush to answer Emily, but found a bathrobe to wrap Emily. Now Emily was wearing a shirt of Leo, which was very loose on her body. If her fruity and firm chests not hid, Leo's heartbeat would be wild. Her lower body was undressed and only covered by the wide shirt. Her buttocks were covered, but her delicate slender legs could be seen. If Leo did not wrap her, he could not be a gentleman. Only then did Emily realize that she had no clothes on, and the setting sun drenched her body. She quickly wrapped herself up in the bathrobe. Subsequently she stared at Leo angrily. "Answer my question." Leo calm himself down and then said. "This is my home. You're here because I would be worried if you were sent back home by a drink when you were drunk." "Then you can send me home, how did you bring me to your home? Rascal, what did you do to me?" Emily did not accept Leo's kindness. She had different idea with Leo, she thought driver was safer than Leo. "I never thought of that. Next time I will send you home." Leo jokingly said. Seeing that Emily was anxious, he felt funny and gave a smile. In fact, he wanted to send her home, but it was too late, if her parents saw her to be drunk, they must be worried. That was why Leo took Emily back to his home. "You..." "Don't worry, I did bring you back, but I promise I didn't do anything to you." Leo explained. If he did not explain, Emily might have punched at him. "You were so drunk, your clothes were all dirty, and you would be sick if you didn't change your clothes." "Who changed my clothes?" Emily believed that she vomited, because it happened every now and then. "My female housekeeper. I was not there, don't worry." Leo thought he was a gentleman. He now had broken up with Emily, and he could not take advantage of her. "But why did you come out of the room?" Emily was confused that Leo came out from the bathroom. "I shied away when you were changing, and then I came in. I've been in the same room with you ever since I was afraid you'd need someone to take care of you." Leo told the truth that he had not done anything but was simply worried about Emily. "In the same room? In my bed?" No way, nothing happened since they were in a bed? "I've been lying on the couch and you've been sleeping in my bed, that's all." Leo was pretty sure he didn't do anything, although last night Emily hugged him and almost made him lose his mind. But Leo still controlled himself, fearing that Emily would regret it when she woke up. "That is all?" Emily questioned. "Yes." Emily looked at Leo's frank expression and believed him for the time being. But she suddenly realized a big problem and got panic. "You just said this is your house and I slept in your room. How can I explain this to your parents? We've broken up. What do they think of me when they see me in your room?" Emily was so worried and agitated. If his parents saw that, they must think that she was an unscrupulous girl. She had broken up with him, but still slept in his bed. "Then get married. No need to explain if you are their daughter-in-law." Leo was surprised but his own words. He liked to make a joke, but never regardless of the occasion. Leo was frightened by his words, but Emily did not feel it was terrible, because she knew that Leo was making a joke, even if it was true, he had his reason. But she must not be part of the reason. Emily calmed down and gave a hum with disdain. "Are you kidding me? You don't love me, don't make fun of me." "Leo, I have something to tell you." "I don't blame Winwin for what happened between you and Winnie. Although Winwin and I have not known each other for a long time, we get along very well." "I hope you can tell Winwin that I have broken up with you. I can't always lie to her, it will affect my relationship with Winwin." Emily wanted to break away from Leo. Sooner or later, she could not help him. It would be good to stop procrastinating early. Emily paused before she continued. "I can bear to lose a man who doesn't love me, but I don't want to lose Winwin as a friend." Emily's attitude was firm. In her view, it was not a bid deal to lose a man who did not love her, but it would be sad to lose friend because of this man. Leo was embarrassed, because it was not suitable to say that because of their relationship, although it was just a joke. "What I just said was thoughtless.

Please forgive me if I offended you. I'll do it as soon as you say, but I need your help in the near future." "I can see the relationship between you and Winwin, and I will not let you lose your friendship because of me." Leo stopped smiling. To Emily, he was an irresponsible liar without credibility. He knew that Emily was sad because of his lie. But he always had a feeling that he didn't want to lose Emily, and that feeling grew stronger.

CHAPTER 333 FIND OUT THE TRUTH

Leo sighed. "It is my villa, my parents are not here, so you don't have to worry about being seen." "Your clothes are dirty and I have called the secretary to send in new ones. Take a shower, and she will be here soon." Said Leo, pointing to the direction he came out. "A bathroom is inside and you can use whatever you want." "I'll wait downstairs for you." Leo went downstairs directly after saying that. Emily breathed a sigh of relief, but she was lost and disappointed. Seeing that Leo was indifferent, she knew there was no hope for them. Emily told herself that it was time to give up. He did not belong to her, she would let go as early as possible, only in this way she could live proudly and not to be hurt. After Winnie woke up, it was already nine o'clock in the morning. She had a headache, but she could bear it. She got up and found her cell phone, only to find that it was turned off. So she turned the phone on. Fortunately, nothing important was missed. She called Laura to help her with something. "Laura, I will be at work this morning, please help me sent the document I gave you yesterday." "Don't worry. I'll take care of it." "If you don't feel well, don't come today. I'll take care of it." Laura said intimately, but she had her plan. "I am fine. I just drank too much last night. I will go to work in the afternoon." Winnie said politely. "Ok, I can take care of it." When Laura said that, Winnie thought their call was over. Just as she was about to say goodbye, Laura spoke. "I understand, it's time for good friends to get together as the New Year is coming." "Yes, I drank with friends, and drank too much. Laura, I gotta go, I have to my friends and see how they are doing." "Goodbye, Laura." Winnie really did not have time to chat with Laura, so she could only hang up the phone. Laura still wanted to continue to inquire about something, but the phone had been hung up. She first finished the work Winnie had assigned, and then texted the other two people in the group. Laura: Winnie got drunk last night and has not come to work today. Laura: I don't know who she drank with. She said she drank with friends. After the message was sent, Laura waited for a while before Klara replied. Klara: Maybe Daenerys and her friends. Daenerys is pregnant now and can't drink. Maybe she drank with men. Laura: She recently was close to the girlfriend of Leo. When Leo's girlfriend was free, she came to the company to chat with her. They seemed to be good and always laughed while talking. Klara: Good for her. She once dated with Leo, now she gets along well with his girlfriend. I can't tell she is sincere or has a sneaky idea. Klara was puzzled. That day she told Wendy that Leo and Winnie had an affair. Didn't she use it to make it hard for Winnie? Was Wendy afraid of being known by Brian? At this time, Wendy also sent a message. Wendy: Laura, are you sure that Leo's girlfriend and Winnie are very close? Laura: I'm sure. She came to the company to see Winnie the day before. They had lunch together. They got along well, talking and laughing. Wendy was silent, but she felt unease. She told Emily about Leo's affair. How could Emily not care about it? If Emily didn't care or make trouble to Winnie, her plan failed again. After hanging up the phone, Winnie got up and wash her face. As she was to go out, she received a phone call from Brian. After receiving the phone, Winnie went directly to the Bennet Group. This time she was not as impulsive as last time and did not take the president's elevator.

On the thirtieth floor, she greeted the secretary as usual, and then the secretary took Winnie to the president's office. "Why did you ask me to be here?" Winnie stood there, intending to listen to Brian to explain and then leave. "Sit down, let's talk." Brian walked over from his desk, and Winnie sat down on the sofa. "You don't look well." Brian cared about Winnie. Seeing that she was not in good spirits, he was worried. "It's all right, I'm much better after a solid night's sleep." Every time Brian said that, Winnie's heart was in inexplicable sorrow. He shouldn't care about her, and she had no reason to accept his care. "Then let's get down to business." "Yesterday you asked me to inquire into Penny. And I found that the man who went to see her was my uncle." That was why Brian was in a low mood. When Albert told him the results of the investigation, he immediately became suspicious. He had no idea why his uncle contacted with Penny. "Your uncle?" Winnie was in a daze. She did not know Brian's uncle or his relationship with Penny. "Winwin, I don't know the reason, so I can't tell you details. And the Bennet family is complicated and I need to look into it." "I called you here today to talk about things related to Megan." Brian did not want to involve Winnie in the disputes of his family, and did not want Winnie to know too much, otherwise she would be in trouble. "What does it matter to Megan?" Winnie was confused. "Uncle Thomas often visited Penny, and Penny might have told Uncle Thomas about Megan. I'm not sure what Uncle Thomas will do if he knows it. So I want to tell my grandfather about it before he says anything." Brian said simply and deliberately slowed down his speed of speaking. With this explanation, Winnie understood. It seemed that the relationship between Brian and Uncle Thomas was only superficial. Winnie was silent, because if Brian wanted to tell his grandpa about Megan, she could not stop him. "I told you this because I want you to be prepared. Grandpa may come to you, and I have no idea what he will do to you." Brian continued. He was worried that Winnie would be in trouble and might leave B City after he told the truth. "I know, and I'll be prepared. It doesn't matter to me what the Chairman does, just don't affect my family." Winnie was always prepared, but until now she was not ready, because she did not know how the Bennet family would treat her and the children. "I don't have objection about it, Mr. Bennet. Megan is your child, after all. But I want you to promise me you'll make sure I have custody of the children." That was the only thing Winnie worried about, and it was what she kept thinking about when she could not sleep at night. She knew that Felix was domineering and that it was not easy to keep the children's custody. Brian did not know what his grandfather would do. However, he promised Winnie. "Rest assured, you will have the children." "Ok. When are you going to tell your grandpa?" On the issue of children, Winnie believed what Brian said. He would stand on the standpoint of children and consider giving them a most suitable growth environment. "The sooner the better." Brian wanted to think about it carefully. After thinking about it, he would immediately tell his grandfather. "When I tell him, your family and my family will be greatly affected. It is a few days away from the New Year, so tell him after New Year, so that everyone can have a peaceful year." Winnie wanted to make everyone have a final peace and gave herself more time to consider and prepare. After Winnie left, Brian thought a lot. His idea was basically the same with that of Winnie, and he was not entirely sure about the custody of the children. If his grandfather insisted on taking back custody, if he could not bear to let the children and Winnie separate, Winnie could only leave with the two children. After thinking for a long time, Brian finally decided to follow Winnie's advice and let everyone have a stable year. At the thought that Winnie might leave with children, Brian had a strong desire to celebrate the New Year with Winnie. This was likely to be the only New Year together in their lives, the only chance to give their children a complete memory. But such an opportunity required him to do something. Thinking of this, Brian picked up the phone and called grandpa directly. "I agree to the blind date, but the result should be based on my own decision." "All right, I'll arrange it." "Will you invite Winnie or shall I invite her?" Felix was obviously proud, he knew Brian would agree to go to the blind date because of Winnie. "I'll tell her." Brian did not trust Felix, afraid he said something wrong. "Ok, make your own arrangements." Felix hung up the phone after that. He did not immediately arrange the blind date, but made a call to Winnie. After Winnie left the president's office, she met Albert and chatted for a while before going out of the Bennet Group. And then she met Jack as she walked out of the building. Winnie was stunned and did not know what to say. "We met again." Jack was excited. He did not expect to meet Winnie today. "Oh, I'm here for business." "I..." Winnie said and then found an excuse to leave, but Jack continued. "You were in a hurry to leave last time. Don't say you are unavailable this time. We're all going to have dinner at noon anyway. How about you treat me today?"

CHAPTER 334 ASKING DAENERYS FOR HELP

Jack was straightforward, to save time so that Brian would not show up suddenly, and he was afraid that Winnie would refuse him. It was cheeky, but the most important thing was to ask Winnie out. "I..." Winnie was embarrassed, but her phone rang suddenly. Winnie was relieved to hear the phone. "Excuse me, I have to answer the phone." Winnie picked up the phone and found it was Felix calling. She felt that she should avoid Jack. "It is my leader, it must be something urgent. I am sorry, let's take a rain check." Winnie found an excuse to leave quickly. Although Jack tried to ask her to stay, she did not look back. Winnie went back to the car. The phone had been hung up, and Winnie called back. "Sorry, Chairman, I was convenient to answer the phone." "Are you convenient now?" Felix' was serious and cold. "Yes." Winnie quietly answered. "Brian told me to ask you to bring Megan to my home for the New Year. In fact, I like Megan very much, but the New year..." Felix went directly to the point. He wanted to tell Winnie what he thought, if Winnie insisted on coming over, he would be ok with that. However, before he could finish his words, Winnie stopped him. "Thank you for that you like Megan. New year is for union of the family, Megan and I are not suitable to be there, or it will make everyone not at ease. I have family too and I have to stay with them. Thank you, but we can't be there." Winnie refused directly. When Felix was in the mid of his sentence, Winnie had known the reason he called. It was a day for family gathering, and she had no reason to be the Bennet family. Winnie could understand that, so she did not need Felix to say something to hurt her. Winnie was sensible, and Felix felt upset unexpectedly. He liked such people, who was smart and sensible. "Brian wants you to come." To avoid unnecessary troubles, Felix had to say so. "Don't worry, Chairman, I will go to A City in a few days. Even if Mr. Bennet asks me to be there, I will not agree. Actually he had told me twice, but I refused." "I gotta go and have to drive now." Winnie guaranteed again and again and she would do that, Felix had no need to be worried. "Ok." With that, Felix put down the phone, as he was to hang up the phone, Winnie spoke again. "Chairman, I wish you and your family a happy new year." Hearing that, Felix felt warmed but bitter. Emily did not feel at ease. She could not lie to Winnie all the time and one day she would find out that she had broken up with Leo. And she could not help Leo to cheat Winnie all the time. It was not a way to fix the problem, and they had to face the reality. After thinking for a long time, she put the hope on Daenerys. So she drove to Daenerys'. But she was awkward when she saw Daenerys' parents. "Kevin has to work and Daenerys will give birth soon, we are worried, so we can't company her." Daenerys' mother was nice. As Emily thought her plan would fail, Daenerys' mother said. "You came at the right time. Please company Daenerys, we go out for shopping and we will be back soon." "Ok, I will company her. You can go ahead, and I will contact you if something is wrong." Hearing that, Emily was pleased. After Daenerys' parents left, Emily helped Daenerys to the bedroom. "How do you feel? Are you uncomfortable since you drank a lot last night?" Daenerys asked Emily, because Emily did not look good. "I am ok, but I have forgotten what happened last night." Emily was much better now, but she was in a bad mood. "Why you look bad?" Daenerys thought Emily did not admit it because she was drunk. Emily sighed and her eyes became dark. She was an optimistic person, and Daenerys had never seen her sighed, so she had a reason to be upset. "What happened?" Emily sighed again and then sat down on the bedside. ... She told Daenerys what happened between her and Leo. It hurt, but only when it was solved, she could feel better and then get over Leo. "How could Leo do that? It doesn't matter he cheats on Winwin, but he could hurt you." Daenerys was angry and surprised, since she did not expect that. Emily gave a bitter smile. "I did not expect that he would use my feeling. I hate Leo, but I am happy to know you." "If Leo told me in the beginning, I will help him to cheat Winwin, but now I got cheated. I get along well with Winwin, if she knows that, I am afraid that we can't be friends, after all she got cheated. And I am afraid she will blame herself. Emily said what she thought. She was sad but not emotional, because she it was in vain. "Leo was thoughtless, even if you conceal it for kindness, you can conceal it for a lifetime. You can't always help Leo. He is smart, but why did he do this stupid thing?" Daenerys had not way but blame Leo. "It is not stupid. He cares about Winwin and loves her in a different way. He wants protect her, he wants her to have a good life." Emily knew everything. And she could understand that when she calmed down. But she was hurt because his love for Winwin. "It could be Leo's thought, but he could make you do it for him. I am speechless about him." "What do you plan to do?" Daenerys asked. Since she came, she wanted to solve the problem. Daenerys wanted to hear her plan. "I want Winwin to know about it. I don't think it is respectful to conceal from her. Leo and I have broken up and I can't help conceal from her for a lifetime. Winwin will be angry if she knows it late." "Daenerys, I just want her to the know that truth and she would not be hurt. We are still friends even if there is no Leo." It was a simple requirement and she did not want to continue this ridiculous lie. She wanted to get along with Winnie with a peaceful mind. "It is hard for you. You must be sad." Daenerys could understand that, and the only one got hurt was Emily. And she still thought for Winnie. "Yes, we started our relationship from a blind date, but I would not be with him if I don't like him. don't worry, there are many people break up, I can make it." Emily was optimistic. She endured it, but she underestimated her love for Leo. "Daenerys. If I tell Winwin directly, I am afraid she will be sad, so please tell her. You don't have to tell her the reason we broke up, but the fact we broke up." Emily cared about her friendship with Winnie, because love made her hurt, and friendship made her feel good. And she could not have one-sided love as Winnie, or she would be painful for a life. "You give up? Don't you think it is a pity you give up on Leo?" Daenerys felt it was a pity. They were match to be together, thought Leo loved Winnie, but he knew that he could not be with her. Leo would go into a new relationship sooner or later, and Emily could be his love, but he had not noticed it. It was a pity to break up. "No matter how good he is, I don't think it is a pity since he doesn't love me. Winnie is to be single for a man, but I can't live as her." "I am the writer of my life, I don't want my life to be so miserable. I don't think it is necessary to pay too much for a man who doesn't love me." Emily was open minded. She loved Leo and she was determined to get over Leo, but it needed time. "It makes sense, if Winnie is like you, we don't need to worry about her. You are right, it can't be concealed, I will tell Winnie some day. When it is solved, everyone could feel relieved." "But, Emily, thank you for not blaming Winwin." Daenerys felt that Winnie met someone was reasonable. If Emily was like Wendy or Penny, she would have one more enemy.

CHAPTER 335 LOVE IS NOT COMPLICATED

From beginning to end, Emily did not go against Winnie. she only hated Leo for cheating her, trampling on her love, and failing to live up to her heart. "Why do I hate her? I love her love Brian, how could she love Leo? It is Leo's problem, and I will not be unreasonable. Emily entrusted it to Daenerys. When Winnie knew it, Leo and she would be totally over. "Emily, how did you know that? Did Leo tell you?" Daenerys asked. Since Leo was using Emily, he would not tell her, but how did she know? Did she find it out or did someone tell her? "Wendy told me." Emily did not lie to Daenerys. "She again, what a bad woman." Daenerys was angry, speaking of Wendy. She always messed things up. "She told me that Leo likes Winwin and that they used to date. Daenerys, I had doubts before, but I did not expect that it was Winwin." Emily told Daenerys in details. "I was Leo's girlfriend, but we did not kiss but just hold hands." Hearing that, Daenerys was surprised. That was why Emily believe Wendy. Emily continued, "And it was me to hold his hand, and he had been avoiding it." "There was an old pedant in his car, a hand made bracelet. I bought him a new one, and when I took the old one, he was angry at me, it made me awkward." "I was thinking that pedant must be meaningful, so I felt upset." "I know that bracelet, it was from Winwin they were a couple, but you don't have to care about that. Their relationship lasted only for a short time, and they just held hands." Daenerys knew about the bracelet because Winnie had told her. So Daenerys had a say about their relationship. "It has been past, and it has nothing to do with me." Emily sighed again before she said. "when I doubted that he loves Winwin, it was when Winwin took the promotional video. I went to see Winwin and Leo was outside the studio. And I found there was love in his eyes to Winwin. At that thought, Emily was sad, because Leo would not see her in that way. "So you believe Wendy?" "Yes, and I asked Leo, he did not conceal it from me and told me the truth." Because Leo told her the truth, she broke up with him. if Leo lied to her, she might believe him. "I am sorry to involve you." "But Wendy is so mean. She warmed me in the first time she met me." Daenerys said angrily. "Why, you love Brian too?" Emily was surprised. "No, I don't like cold man." Daenerys denied. She would not accept such a man. "Wendy knows that Winwin and I are good friends, and Kevin and Brian are good friends, she was afraid that Keven would help Winwin to be with Brian, so she warmed me stay away from it." Daenerys explained. "She is sinister, how could she do that? Don't she know that love could not be forced?" Hearing that, Emily was angry. "If Brian doesn't love her, it is not useful to warm." "Why Brian pesters with some cheap woman? Winwin is good and has two children, can't he see that?" Emily had forgotten her pain and felt sorry for Winnie. "They love each other, but there were so many difficulties, the children could not help." Daenerys felt sorry too, but it was destiny, no one could change that. "Why not? They just think too much. Why did they think in a complicated way?" "Isn't Wendy making a trick? Shall we help her?" Hearing that, Daenerys was shocked. "Help her? What is wrong with you?" "Help her to stay away from Brian so that Winwin can be with Brian." Emily was impulsive, but she felt she was sensible. In her view, lovers should be together and nothing could stop that. "I am shocked, please give me time to think about it." Daenerys was calm, and she had to be calm, because she knew Winwin had been through a lot, she was not sure if it worth. Emily left till Daenerys' parents came back but Daenerys kept thinking about it. She felt she should communicate with Leo before she told Winnie. She was inconvenient and Leo was too busy to come, so she called Leo. "Shall we chat?" Hearing that, Leo knew that Daenerys had something to tell him. He waved his hand and let his assistant and secretary to leave before he answered. "Yes." He was gentle and no sadness could be heard. "Ok, since you are busy, we will go to the point." "Did you break up with Emily?" Daenerys asked. Leo was silent for a while and frowned. "Did Emily tell you that?" "Yes, she wants to end the current situation and doesn't want misunderstanding with Winwin. You don't have to explain. Tell me what you want? Let Winwin know or continue to hide from her?" Daenerys asked Leo, from his voice, she knew that he had feeling for Emily. "Please hold it on for a while, I don't know my feelings for Emily, and I need time." Leo answered. He was in bad mood since he broke up with Emily. He did not want her to go. So he did not understand. Daenerys made a call in the right time, or Winwin would have known about it. "Ok, but you have to try to find you what your feeling for Emily." Daenerys agreed. She hoped that Leo and Emily could be together and Leo could make up for Emily with love. Brian's grandpa was efficient, and Brian got the notification of the blind date in the afternoon. And he only knew when and where to meet. It seemed that his Grandpa had long prepared for it, and Brian could only do as he asked. Megan wanted to take the tool. Brian thought there was no one in Winnie's home, so he intended to go to Winnie's home since the children know the key to open the door. So he took two children to Winnie's home. Soon after he left, Wendy drove to the suburbs. "Hello, Rufus." After greeting with Rufus, Wendy began to look for Brian. "Is Brian upstairs?" Wendy asked. "He is out." Rufus answered in a cold voice. He did not want to see Wendy. "What about the children?" Wendy did not notice Brian's car when she came in. "They are out too." Rufus did not raise his head holding the magazine sitting in the sofa. "Ok, then I stay with you." Wendy thought it was a good chance to talk to Rufus, though she felt she was not welcomed, but she could not sit idle. But there was no answer, Wendy was awkward, but she did not intend to leave. She sat down and said. "Rufus, can I move it? So that I can take care of Brian." Wendy went to the point. She knew it was not appropriate to raise that question, but Brian said if she wanted to move in, she would have the approval of Rufus. "Wendy, do you mean I don't take care of Brian?" Rufus refused, if Wendy was smart, she should understand him and stop talking about it. Wendy understood, but she did not stop. "No, you have taken good care of him, but you are old and I should be the one to take care of him." Wendy was awkward again, but she could not shrink. "I am old, but you told me to take care of the two children. Since I can take care of two children, why can't I take care of my son?" Rufus did not want to mention it, but it reminded him of the fact that she refused to take care of two children.

CHAPTER 336 THE SURPRISE OF GOING HOME

Rufus did not want Wendy to live in his house, because of the children and Brian and he himself disliked her. Wendy came to discuss with him was certainly that Brian refused him, or she would not ask his advice. "No, Rufus, I can explain that. I....." Wendy did not expect that her words would cause Rufus' dissatisfaction. "Well, explain it; I want to hear your explanation. You can't blame others and you can't take the credit for what you haven't done." Rufus looked up at Wendy sharply. He knew that Wendy had done, but he never mentioned it, and today he would like to hear her explanation. "Rufus..." Wendy looked at Rufus in daze. Hearing what Rufus said, she knew that the Bennet family had known what she had done. "Yes, my father told me. Wendy, I will give you a chance to explain everything you've been doing lately. Do you think it is right?" Rufus continued and he wanted to get to know why she became so vulgar. "I... Rufus, Brian did come back, and I did advise him. I don't understand why you and Grandpa have questions. At the beginning I said I would let you take care of the children, but now I have changed my mind. I want to be close to them and raise them myself. If Brian wants the children back, I prefer not to have child for the sake of the two children." When Wendy said that, she was unsure, because she did not know why the Bennet family was not satisfied, and did not know what she had done wrong. Now she has been forced to corner. She admitted that she was anxious and did things in a hurry, but she was not that sinister. Why did the Bennet family hate her? "I know you advised him. Grandpa, Stella and Kevin had advised him for a long time, but he never had been back. Do you understand what I mean? He doesn't listen to anyone, including you." Rufus had put the words straight forward, but he did not say that Brian came back because of Winnie. He believed that Wendy could understand. "It wasn't because of me. Whose was it? Whose advice was it?" Wendy finally understood the reason for Felix's temper with her. All people did not believe that it was her credit. "I don't know. Maybe he figured it out on his own. Maybe the kids played a part in it. Wendy, even if it is your credit, you should not take credit from Grandpa. "He knows everything, and he will know that it if it was your credit. When he knows it, there will be rewards and punishments. Only when he rewards you, can you be sure that it is your credit. No matter in any matter, you should keep a low profile and act after thinking." Rufus warned Wendy, intending to let her not play tricks with grandpa. Rufus paused for a while before he continued. "As for the children, you said you have changed your mind, but who can believe that you would not change your mind again if you have the children. If you kick the children out after you get married with Brian, what should we do? What should the children do?" Rufus did not trust Wendy after what had happened. He did not feel at ease to let her have the children, only Winnie was good to them. "You don't trust me?" Wendy was sad that Rufus still did not believe her. "Think about whether you mean it before you ask me. Do you see the children as tools to keep Brian, or do you really like them and see them as your own children? Can you do that?" Outsiders might be moved by Wendy's statement, but she could not cheat Rufus, because there was love to the children to her erratic eyes. "I..." Wendy wanted to defend, but Rufus got up. "Wendy, the children will stay with me for a few days on holiday. They still can't accept you now, so don't move in." With that, Rufus walked away. He felt that Wendy could not listen to what he said and did not admit that she was wrong. She was like Penny. Wendy was rejected again and was scolded. She drove away in low spirits, wondering what she had done wrong all the way. She tried to win her relationship, but it was getting worse. The Bennet family including Brian hated her now. Would she be a qualified daughter-in-law by doing nothing? Wendy was confused. When Brian came to Winwin's home with two children, their children changed their minds. "Daddy, Mommy is still at work. Can we surprise her by cooking her dinner?" Megan came up with this idea. "Yes, I agree." Luke said. "But what if Mommy eats out? We will work for nothing." Brian asked two children. If Winnie came back, it would be a surprise. "I'll call Mommy and ask." Megan was to find a mobile phone, Brian reminded her. "Mind your words and don't slip away the surprise." "I know, Daddy, your daughter is the cleverest." Megan said mischievously. She was as confident as Winnie. And the way she walked was pleasing to watch. Looking at her small figure, inadvertently Brian gave a happy smile. He had grown more and more fond of the children, and was more and more inseparable from them. If his grandfather really forced Winnie to leave, and if the two children had to follow her, Brian would feel like his world was an empty shell. Winnie was to come back later, so they got to work. They did not know how to cook, but they could find a recipe online. Finally they made four dishes and a soup. The table was set and they were waiting for Winnie to come home. Winnie was really tired today. She did not want to cook by herself after work. Downstairs she bought instant noodles. Opening the door, Winnie smelled the fragrance before she changed her shoes. She was confused about it After taking off her shoes, she walked inside and saw food placed on the table. Four dishes, one soup, four sets of cutlery, four bowls of rice. Winnie was surprised. She did not know who cooked the dinner, it seemed that there were more than one person. She looked around, but she found no one. "Mommy..." The two children ran out together, followed by Brian with a smile. Winnie was indeed surprised. Watching they appeared at the same time, and there was a meal, she felt warm. "Did you cook the food?" Winnie asked with a warm smile on her face. "Daddy made it. My brother and I helped. You have the Love Supper." Megan said with a clear and bright voice. She was satisfied when she found Mommy was surprised. "I'm so touched that you can help with the cooking." Winnie said and hugged the two children in her arms. "Wash your hands and eat, or the food will be cold." Brian said and pulled apart two children hugging Winnie. He was jealous of the children, he wished that it was him to hug Winnie. "Wash hands and eat." Winnie stood up straight and went to the bathroom. She did not dare to look at Brian. As long as she saw love in Brian's eyes, she would break down. It was like a family of four living their life. The one who got off work first picked up the kids and then cooked and worked for the other one to come home for dinner. It was the simplest happiness, which belonged to ordinary people and she had been hoping for it, but it had not come true. So Winnie prayed that if they met in the next life, Brian must be an ordinary person. After washing hands, she came out and looked at Brian. "Thank you for cooking the dinner." She said to Brian. "It is the first time I cooked. I don't know whether it tastes good or not. Have a taste and give me some advice, I will try to make it perfect next time." Brian's tone was gentle and he was wearing a smile. He liked this kind of life too, but he could do nothing to have it. Winnie smiled faintly and began to taste. She was surprised and moved to taste them. She felt so warm eating the soup. "All in all, it's good, the taste is a bit too heavy. But it is good enough since it is your first time to cook. Kids, give applause to Daddy, so that he can make it better next time." Winnie said happily so that the children could have a feeling of home. Megan and Luke were applauding and cheering. "Daddy, Mommy said you are good." "Daddy is the best." The two children couldn't help laughing and clapping together when they praised Brian. "As long as you want to eat it, I will cook for you when I am available."

Hey, My Twins Babies

CHAPTER 337 UNKEPT PROMISES

"Ok, we are looking forward to it." "And cook for Mommy. We are the happiest family in the world." Megan was very excited, at the moment she felt she was the happiest person in the world with her parents and brother around. "Ok." He wanted to cook for his children and the woman he loved every day, which was a kind of low-key happiness. "Well, let's start eating. Daddy cooked it, you must eat it all." Winnie said with a smile, but her heart was bitter. They could only have this happy scene once in a lifetime. After the New Year, the identity of Megan would be revealed, and she was not sure if they could meet again. Everyone began to eat. The two children obeyed and ate carefully. Brian ate little, but he kept helping food for the children and Winnie. After dinner, they cleaned up the kitchen. Finally, the two children were kicked out of the kitchen by Brian, and he came to help. "Take the children back, if you are late, your father will be worried." Winnie said to Brian as she washed the plates and chopsticks. "I..." "We're not going back. We'll stay here for the night." As Brian was about to speak, he was interrupted by two children who came back. "Daddy will stay too." Megan added that she didn't want her hard-won happiness to disappear so soon. "Grandpa would be worried." Winnie had been using Rufus as an excuse. The children could stay, but Brian could not. But as Winnie's words fell, Megan ran away, leaving Luke to explain. "She went to call Grandpa, and he will not be worried after she called him." "Haha...You're twins. You know what Megan is going to do. It that empathy." Brian said with a smile. His children were so smart. "I think so." Luke nodded and then turned around to leave composedly. "Luke changed. He can make jokes now. He is really happy." Brian felt gratified looking at Luke was dependable now. "Yes, as long as there is no serious stimulation in the future. Don't worry, I will let them grow up healthily and happily." Winnie had the greatest sense of achievement because she gave birth to her children and she was proud of everything about them. "You have paid efforts." What Winnie did for the children was far beyond what Brian thought. He wanted to express his gratitude, but Winnie didn't want to hear the words of thanks, so he could only express his gratitude in another way. "I am their mother, and I should pay efforts." Winnie looked back and smiled. She never felt hard to take care of the children, but enjoyed it. "They are my children, too, and I didn't do well." Brian felt sad. If he had time to stay with the children, Luke would not get depression. He thought the fault was on him, and Winnie cleaned up the mess. "You paid efforts too. You earn money to support them, that is why you have no time to company them. And I'm responsible for teaching them. It's good to have a clear division of labor." Winnie felt that they could only live in this way, so there was no expectation in her tone. Winnie continued to wash the dishes. "The children want to sleep at home, so let them stay. I'll take them to the suburbs tomorrow before work." Winnie spoke politely, but Brian understood what she meant. "You want me to leave?" "Go back, or Wendy will have wild thoughts." In other words, Winnie didn't want to cause any more trouble. "Wendy doesn't live in the suburbs and she won't know where I am." Brian explained. Winnie should have misunderstood him. "There are no guest rooms." Winnie still insisted that Brian go back. "Can't I share a room with Luke?" Brian knew what Winnie was worried about, and that she was adamant about letting him go. But he wanted to stay and to spend the night with the three. Winnie did not speak again, as a tacit acquiescence. Hearing that, she had no excuse to oppose. They watched cartoons and chatted in the living room and they did not go to sleep until the children were sleepy. There was a problem. Luke's room had only one single bed, and Brian was so tall that it seemed far-fetched to share one bed with the child. "Daddy, why do you sleep with me? Go to Mommy's room. Mommy's bed is big. It is crowded to sleep with me, you know?" Luke protested. Hearing that, Brian couldn't help laughing. "Luke, you became as naughty as Megan. I want to go to Mommy's too, but Mommy won't let me." "You just stay there, no matter Mommy says yes or no. She won't drive you out when you are asleep." Luke said and pushed Brian, hoping that his Daddy went to his Mommy's room. "Are you sure Mommy won't drive me out when I am asleep?" Brian confirmed with Luke. "Yes. Maybe Mommy's asleep and you can sneak in." "Well, I will go to Mommy's." Brian immediately got up and left Luke's bedroom. He walked quietly to the door of Winnie's bedroom, but did not slip in quietly as Luke said. He was afraid to wake Winnie. Winnie could not fall asleep in a short time after she lied down. She was flipping through her phone when there was a knock on the door. "Come in." Winnie looked at the person coming in and became nervous. Because she was wearing only a thin nightgown, and there was nothing underneath. At first she thought it was two children, who had a habit of knocking on the door. She forgot that there was a man in her house. "What is it?" Winnie asked. "Nothing, Luke drove me out, so I come over." Brian answered, walking over to the bed. Without giving Winnie a chance to refuse, he directly lay beside Winnie, and then stretched out his hand to pull Winnie's quilt, and wrapped both of them in the quilt. "You.....Go out and sleep on the couch." Winnie drove Brian out. At the same time she wanted to pull the quilt to wrap herself, but Brian directly held her in arms. "I promise I won't do anything right here." Brian's voice was low and warm, but his assurances were hard to believe. He could already feel the hot body temperature under the thin silk pajamas and the soft and delicate skin. He could not control himself. "You are rogue, you know? You said you would sleep with Luke. Now..."Winnie said, but the touch made her shuddering. Every cell of her body was in high tension, especially her heart beat violently. They had sex for many times, but she was still nervous like a virgin. Perhaps she only loved Brian, perhaps it had been a long time that she did not have sex. All her body cell was inclined to Brian, which made Winnie bashful. Of course, Brian knew that Winnie wanted to drive him away. Before Winnie finished speaking, he refused. "I'm sorry I can't keep that promise, and this promise..." Speaking of that, Brian paused for a moment and then pressed Winnie under his body. "Winwin, I can't keep this promise too." Brian was almost out of control, he gasped and eyes got lust. His heart was beating fast, not listening to his command. Every time he met Winnie, he couldn't help himself. Winnie had no time to react, the next moment Brian kissed her..... Although it was a tired night, it was the most solid and secure night that Brian had recently, and it was also the only night that he did not have nightmares. The next morning, Brian had to go to the company to deal with an emergency, so the children could only be sent back to the suburbs by Winnie. On the way back to the suburbs, the two children sat in the back and talked happily. They mentioned the day that Grandpa went to pick them up. Naturally, Winnie noticed the topic. "Grandpa saw Grandpa when she sent you downstairs?" Winnie asked. "Yes." Luke answered. "It's the first time they met. What did they say?" Winnie continued to ask curiously. "Grandpa asked us to get in the car with Paul first, so I only heard one sentence. Grandpa asked grandpa to spend the New Year with us." Megan only heard that. She stopped and suddenly spoke again. "I think it's not the first time Grandpa and Grandpa have met." "Why do you say that?" Winnie asked. "They didn't introduce themselves, they didn't say hello and the grandfather knew her name was Isobel." Megan's words surprised Winnie. If she remembered correctly, this was the first time they had met. But why did he know her name? Winnie felt weird, but it seemed to be normal to think about it. It was possible that the two had already met because of the children. Winnie indulged Brian last night, and she got hickey on her neck. Fortunately, there was only one, otherwise she would be crazy. Winwin had to wear a small scarf to cover it. Fortunately, there is nothing wrong with wearing silk scarf in this season, so she did not attract attention from others. She even forgot it when she was busy. When she was at work, she felt that the scarf around her neck was inconvenient, so she took it off and concentrated on her work.

Hey, My Twins Babies

CHAPTER 338 SUDDEN COOPERATION

Laura had work to report to Winnie, so she knocked on the door and went in. "Winnie, this document is in urgent need of the other party company. I sorted it out, please check if there is something wrong, and then I will send it." Laura said and handed the document to Winnie. When she put down the document and looked up inadvertently, she saw hickey on Winnie's neck. She was surprised and curious. Even a fool could see that it was a hickey. She wanted to know who had made the hickey. Brian or her ex-husband? Anyway, it was a man. Winnie had forgotten about the hickey on her neck, she just read the document carefully and signed it and then went back to work. Laura thought it was shocking news and wanted to share it in the Group. She sent the document and then broke the news in the group at the first time. Laura: You two come out. You have something to analyze. Wendy: I'm here. Wendy's response was almost immediate. Because she was holding the mobile phone and wanted to tell them her current situation. She wanted both of them to help her figure out what to do in the future. Laura: I saw something disgusting today. Wendy: Winnie? Laura: Yeah, no one makes me sick except her. Klara:

What's going on? Did I come late and miss something? Klara replied. Laura: No, you're just in time, I am about to say it. Laura: I went to Winnie's office to deliver some materials and I saw a hickey on her neck. Don't you think it's disgusting for a single woman to have something like that on her neck? Klara gave a surprised look. But Wendy was silent for a moment. Klara: Did you see the hickey? Laura: I'm not stupid. Who can't tell it's a hickey? Klara: Take a picture of it. Laura: How can I take a picture of it? Winnie will find it. I can't make a mistake. You can rest assured. Laura: That's not the point. The point is who gave her the hickey. Klara: Who? Klara's first reaction was Brian, and in addition to Brian, there was no a second person. The two of them had always been flirtatious and have kept up their relationship in secret. Otherwise, how could Winnie took the president's exclusive elevator at late hour? It was clear enough. But she could not tell Wendy directly, or she would expose herself. Wendy: Is it Brian? Wendy asked, she thought it was Brian too. Yesterday, Brian went out with the children. Why didn't she realize that they would come to Winnie? Wendy was furious at that thought. Laura: I'm not sure. After all, I didn't see him. Wendy: It must be Brian. Brian went out with two children yesterday. Who can he see expect for Winnie? Klara: I think it's more likely to be Mr. Bennet. They seem to always be seeing each other. Klara could only say that, and Wendy could think about it. She was still on observation and if anything went wrong, she really would not have a chance. Wendy: Damn Winnie. I think she's crazy. She is restless, isn't she?" Wendy: I have been driven crazy by the Bennet family these days. I don't know why they look down on me for anything. They always said I was wrong. Laura: Did Winnie play tricks? Wendy: I don't know. They didn't mention Winnie directly, but I think it has something to do with her. Laura: Be careful. If she buys off all the Bennet family, you'll be in danger. Klara: The most important thing is Brian. Now he loves Winnie. What can his family do? Klara: Although Winnie has no a strong family background, she has many things that the Bennet family needs. They would not accept such a daughter-in-law, but they would not object to their ambiguous relationship. It's also a way of wooing. Wendy: I know that. I just don't know what I should do. I've been trying to get him back, but it's getting worse and worse. Wendy: Now Brian has moved back to the suburbs. I wanted to move in with him, but Winnie took both of her children back. The children wouldn't let me live there. Klara: I can understand that Luke won't let you live there, but what does it matter to Winnie's child? Why Winnie sent her child there? Will the Bennet family accept her? Hearing Wendy's words, Klara was puzzled. She knew that Winnie had been raising Luke, but she could not understand why they got along so well. Laura: I don't know what Mr. Bennet was thinking. Why he hangs on to a woman with a child? Wendy didn't realize she had said something wrong until she saw Klara's question, but it was too late to recall it. She could only find an excuse. Wendy: Winnie's family all went back to A City. She has to go to work and no one takes care of her child, so her child went back to Brian's home with Luke. The key problem is not the child, she is so young and she knows nothing. It is Winnie behind. Wendy was nervous. If she exposed the relationship between Luke and Megan, she would be over. Laura: Wendy is right. The key issue is not the child, but Winnie. I think if Winnie doesn't leave, even if you marry Mr. Bennet, your life will not be easy. They always connect each other, and you will be affected. Wendy: What Laura said is reasonable. If Winnie doesn't leave, I will never get Brian, and I will never be able to live in peace. If she doesn't leave, she'll drive me crazy one day. So the culprit was Winnie. If she did not leave, Wendy would have to leave. Either way, only one of the two women could stay. Winnie had a meeting this afternoon to test a new software. "Winnie, only the Bennet Group has this software test equipment. Do you know someone from it? Or do want you want to go with me?" The general manager said to Winnie. He knew it was not within the work scope of Winnie. "I... I'll call and ask, but if they agree us to use it, you can go." Winnie was embarrassed, but she had to help for the software development. She did not call Brian, but Albert. She told Albert the basic situation. Albert responded immediately. "Winnie, Mr. Bennet is in the meeting. I'll tell him when the meeting is over." "Okay, no hurry." Winnie hung up the phone. "Wait for the news, their president is in a meeting." Winnie felt uneasy, afraid that Brian would not agree. Their company was small and a competitor to the Bennet Group. Who would lend equipment to a competitor? Winnie's meetings continued for other projects. And Brian soon called back. Winnie picked up the phone directly. "Put your general manager on the phone." Brian's tone was serious and very commercial. Winnie was puzzled but she still handed the phone to the general manager. "The president of the Bennet Group." Winnie handed the phone to the general manager. The general manager was stunned. He did not expect that Brian would personally call him. He took the phone and said respectfully. "Hello, Mr. Bennet ...Yes... Yes...All right, that's great... Yes, I agree.. No problem, I will ask Winnie to be there and explain to you in detail." The general manager was passive was on the phone. From time to time, he raised his eyes to see Winnie, and from time to time, he looked thoughtful and surprised finally. And as he hung up, he had only said a few words altogether. What followed stunned everyone. The general manager stood up excitedly and announced loudly. "We're going to work with the Bennet Group. This is our chance." After the general manager's excited announcement, everyone stood in disbelief for a few seconds, and then cheered up. Among them, only Winnie was the most rational. She did not expect that Brian wanted to have cooperation. She did not want to have any involvement with the Bennet Group, or she lost the meaning of leaving. "General manager, our development will earn a lot, why we cooperate with the Bennet Group?" Winnie raised an objection. "We will earn more if we work with the Bennet Group. And we will win our reputation, from then on, every software development and sale price will be different." "Winnie, this is a very rare opportunity for our company. We must seize it. By the way, you will be responsible for the cooperation with the Bennet Group. After the meeting, you go to the Bennet Group for a brief report. Try to get the contract signed before the end of the year." The general manager was a businessman, what he wanted was interest, and he never missed a better opportunity. Everyone wanted to cooperate with the Bennet Group, she was the only person opposed. The good news soon spread all over the company, including Laura. And she told Wendy and Klara about it. Laura: Winnie is in charge of this cooperation. She will go to the Bennet Group and talk with Mr. Bennet. Wendy, be careful, they will use cooperation as an excuse for frequent exchanges. Wendy: This is Winnie's trick. How can she make it more and more public? Wendy received bad news one after another, and she was extremely agitated. She hated Winnie and wished she disappear in the world immediately. Klara: God, Winnie is really more and more arrogant. Who gave her the courage to be so provocative? Klara: It must have been Winnie's trick. The cooperation must be facilitated by Winnie. There are much cooperation in the Bennet Group, but Mr. Bennet never personally talked about the cooperation. Klara was also depressed. Winnie had finally left the Bennet Group, if they had the cooperation, it would be meaningless.

CHAPTER 339 VEXATIOUS

Winnie thought about it repeatedly and she could only talk to Brian about it, the best was to cancel the cooperation plan. Therefore, she came to his office. Pushing the door and walking in, she saw Brian standing in the center of the office, with his hands in his pants pocket, looking serious. Winnie was surprised to see that, as if he was waiting for her arrival. At the moment the secretary closed the door, his face immediately turned warm. Winnie had no idea about what happened, as she was in daze, Brian took steady paces toward her. "Mr. Bennet, I..." Before she could finish her words, Winnie was embraced by Brian. Winnie was shocked. "What are you doing? This is your company, I'm here to talk about work. Let go." Winnie was panic. If now Wendy or the company's employees suddenly broke in, she would become the focus of others. "I'll let you go." Brian also felt that he was crazy. Hug was not part of his plan. Why did he suddenly do that? Since last night's intimacy, Brian's love for Winnie seemed to be stronger and more unforgettable. In particular, he missed the simple life of a family of four. With children and a woman of his own, his heart was more steadfast than ever. "You..." Winnie was still trying to refuse, and Brian finally let her go. "It angers me, you know? We....." As soon as she was free, she began to blame Brian. But she paused because of Brian's inexplicable smile. "What are you smiling?" Winnie asked blankly, but Brian did not answer her. "What's the matter with you today? You look strange." "Nothing, I am just in a good mood, but why are you wearing a scarf?" With a smile on his face, Brian reached out and took the scarf off Winwin's neck. "You..." Winnie stretched out her hand to stop him, but it was later, her neck had been exposed. When Brian saw the hickey on her neck, he remembered that it was his mark. Seeing that, he stopped smiling and embraced Winnie again. This time he did not say anything but felt that the hickey was magic. It was like they belonged to each other. "Brian, you are out of line. Let's not talk about our work now. I will ask someone else to take charge of it." Winnie warned in a low voice, because she was not used to Brian like that. But her heart was unexpectedly calm, as if all this was natural and nothing was wrong. Because of Brian's bright smile, she did not want to destroy all these. "Well, let's talk about work. We'll see more of each other in the future anyway." Brian let go of Winnie, and then he gently put the scarf on Winnie's neck. "I don't want to see you very often, Mr. Bennet. That is the reason I am here. Cancel the cooperation. We can't get involved. It's not appropriate." Winnie went to the point. Although she did not want to destroy the warm atmosphere, she could not live in the illusion for a lifetime. No matter how harsh the reality was, she had to face it. "If there is anything inappropriate, tell me." Brian said softly. He had different thought as Winnie. It was the chance God gave to them. It was appropriate. "You know why, if we work together, we can't get away from our relationship." Winnie felt that this was not the time to joke, nor was it the time to worry about their relationship. Although the cause was the relationship between them, Winnie still wanted to deal with it separately. "There should be distinction between public and private affair, don't you think so?" Brian admitted that he had a selfish agenda and that his feeling was involved in the matter. But as long as it was related to Winnie, he would lose his mind. Just let it be, maybe they were meant to experience it. "It's two different things, Mr. Bennet. Our company is small, and it is not good enough for you. And there are many large companies want to cooperate with you. Dare you say the cooperation is not because of me?" Although she did not know what as the real reason for the cooperation, Winnie felt she was part of the reason. Otherwise, she would not have been named in charge of the cooperation. "Yes, it is because of you." Brian was straightforward with a warm smile on her face and said with a warm tone. "If I cooperate with you, I will be envied by the women around you and I will be tortured by them. Do you want me to be tortured?" Brian answered so candidly that Winnie thought he was going to play with her as a toy. She didn't want to be hated for a lifetime. Seeing Winnie's serious face and worry in her eyes, Brian stopped the smile. He approached Winnie and gently held her in his arms again. "What you worry about won't happen in the future. Don't worry." Brian's words were warm, but Winnie was angry. What did he want to do? He changed so often, Winnie was panic and did not know what to do. Brian let go of Winnie and began to talk about work. "The companies we can work with are big companies. We won't choose small companies, but I chose your company because of you and because of the software you designed." "Our company has been designing this software, but until now it has not come to fruition. I can only choose to cooperate with you to develop it, otherwise a lot of money will be wasted." "Selfishly, I'm more motivated by what's good for the company." Brian said the reasons for the cooperation seriously. Only by saying so, Winnie would not be so entangled. Only when everything was commercialized, Winnie could accept it logically. However, hearing that, Winnie was lost, because Brian cooperated with her due to her ability, not herself. "In that case, get someone else in charge and stop me from showing up at your company." "No, others do not have your ability. I do not believe anyone in your company expect you. This cooperation can only be charged by you." Brian was determined, no matter how good the cooperation was, he would not sign a contract with small companies, if Winnie was not involved. "What do you want me to say..." Winnie was helpless and had nothing to refute. The door of the office was suddenly pushed open, Wendy rushed in angrily. The situation was similar to the last one. She was followed by a frightened looking secretary, and her clothes were twisted. Obviously she had been pulled. "Miss Yup, I am really embarrassed by what you have done. I will lose my job."The secretary was helpless. Such a situation always happened and she did not know what to do. Seeing this absurd scene, Brian's face suddenly turned cold. He said in a cold voice. "Now go and get two guards for me. If anyone comes in again without permission, you will all be fired." Brian roared as a lion. The secretary was frightened and hurried to do it. However, Wendy was dissatisfied about that. After hearing the door closed, she was furious. "What do you mean, Brian? I can't come in? Why she can come in?" Wendy pointed at Winnie resentfully with jealousy. "No one is allowed to disturb me when I'm talking about work, not to mention you. When grandpa comes, he has to wait outside for me. Wendy, it's not once or twice that you make trouble out of nothing. What do you want?" Brian snapped. His angry face was like a furious lion. He did not expect Wendy to do that, and she had become his burden. "I want nothing. I won't be so rude as long as she doesn't approach you. Which woman can stand it when her man goes out with another woman? Ask her if she can stand it." Wendy once again pointed at Winnie. She did not dare to be licentious to Brian and could only blame Winnie. She glared at Winnie angrily, but Winnie was speechless. She had thought it would happen the night before, but she did not it would happen so soon. What Wendy said was reasonable. Winnie could not stand that his man saw other women too, so she could only keep silent. Wendy was not the same as Penny. If Penny scolded her, she would fight back, after all, Brian did not love Penny. But Wendy was the woman Brian had been waiting for for four years, the woman he loved deeply. Winnie was insignificant, so she could not refute. "Say it, why are you pestering Brian? I'll give you any money you want as long as you leave him..." "Wendy, you are too presumptuous. How dare you say that to her?" Brian suddenly shouted, but the more he defended Winnie, Wendy's jealousy became stronger. And she would hate Winnie more. "I will accept all your terms, if you leave him." Regardless of Brian's stop, she insisted on finishing her words. However, it could not vent out her anger, she strode to Winnie and was to slap in the face of Winnie. Winnie did not expect that and was not in guard. Fortunately, Brian grasped Wendy's hand, which fell in the air. "Are you crazy?" Brian shouted loudly and then threw off Wendy's hand.

CHAPTER 340 A DOMINEERING SHIELD

Brian's roar made Wendy feel wronged. She felt she was greatly insulted in face of Winnie. Her heart had been completely broken because of Brian's partiality. "You still protect her. If it weren't for her, how could I become what I am now? Brian, why did you ask me to come back since you love her so much?" Wendy roared. Who could understand her bitter, her pain and her fear? "Wendy, I seem to have said this question more than once. Are you out of your mind? Have you forgotten it? I asked you to come back, but you refused, you said you couldn't could the children, and we were over. Have you forgotten what you said?" Brian protected Winnie and loudly rebuked Wendy. He did not say that before, because he respected Wendy, but Wendy was capricious and vexatious. No one would accept such a woman. "But I regretted it, so I've come back. Isn't it great to be back to be with you? Why did Winnie come to destroy our relationship?" Wendy was obviously not confident when she said that. "You came back as soon as you regretted it. You feel good and do whatever you want to do. Have you ever considered the feelings of others?" "At the moment you said you would not come back, I have completely given up on you. I have decided to give my love to another woman. Have you ever considered what I have paid for your selfishness? And what did Winnie pay?" "Do you know on the day when you come back, I was all set to propose to Winnie with a ring and there you were before I could say a word to her? Have you ever considered how I felt at that time? You did come back, but you can't make up what I lost." Brian put everything out. He was angry about Wendy's selfishness. If he did not say that, Wendy would be vexatious and Winnie would be hurt. He had given Wendy too many chances and did not want to indulge her again. Two women were shocked when they heard that. Wendy did not expect that Brian would change in a short time and that he was to propose to Winnie on the day she came back. She could not believe what Brian said and did not want to believe it. Even if it was true, at that moment, Brian chose her and he was her man. Winnie felt it inscrutable too. She looked at Brian who was angry and could not believe what she had just heard. Was she the woman he talked about? Could she believe that she was the woman in his heart? If so, it was true that he loved her. "But you chose me, you should be responsible to me." Wendy cried and tears had blurred her line of sight, but she was still standing on her position to refute Brian. "I chose you because you came back, because we waited four years for each other, so I didn't want you to come back for nothing. I hurt Winwin because of you, and she had taken all the consequences. You should thank her, but for her sacrifice, you would have gone back to MG." Brian said angrily. Wendy was not aware of what she had done wrong. She just blamed others. She did not see that others paid for her, and she would not pay for others at all. She only cared about herself. She was not comparable with Winnie at all. "Wendy, if you must figure out who is right and who is wrong, then I tell you, you are the third person between me and Winwin. My family of four would have been happily living together if you did not come back." Brian gave the final answer angrily, which made Wendy fall into silence. How did she become the third person? How did the plot suddenly turn?

"Brian..." "You have no need to say anything. Winnie is here to talk about cooperation. I won't stop it because of you." Brian said coldly, and pulled Winnie to his side. "Wendy, I want to tell you clearly again that this woman is the mother of my children. No matter who is the reason, I will never let her go."

"Now I give you two choices. One is to continue to be my girlfriend and not make any trouble, the other is to break up now and never see me again." Brian had no patience. He only gave two choices, and it was up to Wendy to make a choice. "I..." Wendy still wanted to defend, but Brian made a call. "Come in." As his voice fell, Albert had come in. "Send Wendy home." "Wendy, think about it and give me your answer tomorrow." Brian said coldly, and then took Winnie's and walked to the break room. "Brian, I have not finished my words, you..." "Miss Yup, don't make it scene, I will send you back." Albert interrupted Wendy seriously. Seeing that closed door, Wendy closed her eyes with disappointment. What was going on? Since she came back, everything was not smooth. Brian stayed away from her and now she could only see his back. Albert took Wendy away and the office was silent again. In the break room. "You are usually smart, but didn't you avoid when she was to slap you? If I were not there, you would be hit." Brian said in a deep voice. He looked at Winnie who was in daze and felt she had been frightened, so he stroke her hair and comforted her. "I have questions for you." She looked at Brian with doubts. She whispered, but she was eager. "What do you want to ask?" "Are you serious about what you have just said? You were to propose to me?" Winnie was moved and had tears in eyes. Brian did not answer her immediately. He held Winnie's shoulders with hands. "Listen, I love you. On the day Wendy came back, I asked you out because I wanted to propose to you." "But Wendy came and messed up my plan." At that, Brian felt sorry, but Winnie had something needed to be confirmed. "Are you serious that you love me?" "Yes, I love you, Winwin, but..." Before he could finish his words, Winnie hugged him, buried herself in his chest and cried out loud. "You don't have to say that, I understand, I know you have your reason. Brian, it is enough that you love me." Winnie was moved to hear that. No matter what she had been through, now matter what difficulties she would encounter, it was not a big deal for her. With Brian's love, she would not be lonely. She did not expect a relationship with him, because she could understand Brian. She knew they would not be together, so she would not force him. From the choice Brian gave Wendy, Winnie knew she could not be with Brian and they could not get married. Hearing what she said, Brian was sad. He could give her anything, and Winnie would be poor and he would be guilty. He embraced Winnie and wished to get her into his body, so that no one could hurt her. "Winwin, don't give up. I will try to fight for it, I will..." "No, I don't want you to fight for it. I don't want anything, as long as you love me." "Live your life and take your responsibility. Don't change anything for me, or I will blame myself and will not have a peaceful life." Winnie sobbed sadly and Brian was speechless. She buried her face into Brian's chest and cried. She only gave her this chance to love each other. Winnie raised her head and looked at Brian with tears in eyes. "Brian, I love you, I love you very much." With that, she tiptoed and kissed Brian. This kiss was bitter but sincere. After a while, she calmed down and stopped crying. It had to be back to reality. Winnie looked at the man she loved with a smile. "We can get along like before, we have to persist for the sake for the children. Continue your relationship with Wendy, don't break up. She is also a Victim. If I did not show up, you would become like this."
