Hey, My Twins Babies

CHAPTER 411 GET A SAMPLE

Kevin gave a bright smile. He was tired from an operation, but Brian's matter had to be solved. "How is your wife and child?" Stella asked with concern and did not hurry to mention the matter of Brian. She could not be so relaxed when it came to Brian. "They are good." When it came to his child and wife, Kevin gave a smile. Now Kevin made everyone envy. He was happy, but Brian was still in a mess. "Look how happy you are, you have wife and child. By the way, don't forget to invite me to the party when you celebrate the 30th day of the kid." "Yes, I will tell you." As Kevin said that, a nurse came with a cup of coffee, put it down and then left. Kevin put the coffee in front of Stella, and then he said seriously. "I am telling you about Brian. Now he remembers it more and more, and I don't know how to hide it. Are we going to keep it a secret?" Stella knew that it must be Brian's business, and she came for the same reason. "What does he know now? How much does he remember about abroad?" Stella wanted to know more. "He remembered the accident, and the woman who had saved him. And he kept asking me who the woman was, I didn't know how to answer him, and he is now looking into this person. On this trip, He seems to be looking for the accident site." Kevin said. "Did he remember the place of the accident?" Stella asked with a frown. If he remembered the place of the accident, they could not hide it any more." "It didn't come back to him completely, only in a vague way. But he has a picture of the woman, and he should be able to find it based on the picture." "Besides, these things are hidden deep in Brian's memory. He has impressions in his mind, and whenever he encounters similar scenes or sudden stimuli, he may recall them all." "Does Winwin know he's looking for this woman?" Stella continued to ask, that was why she came today. "He had mentioned this woman to Winwin, and it was Winwin who had told him that the woman looked like the one in the picture. But Winwin doesn't know he is looking for that woman." Hearing that, Stella understood why Winnie hesitated yesterday. "Winwin is smart, she doesn't need Brian to tell her. She must have known Brian is looking for that woman." "What should we do? They finally are together, will it be destroyed by this woman?" Kevin was worried. "I don't know what to do. This woman is a mystery to Brian, and with his character, he would find it out, but Winwin will get hurt and the two of them can't go on." Stella now felt it became more and more complex. "Let's tell him the truth and tell her not to go on searching. A woman who had saved his life is nothing. The most important thing now is the children and Winwin." Kevin was helpless in the face of the present situation, but he could only give advice. After all, it involved many people of the Bennet family, it had to be cautious. "Grandpa mentioned it again the other day, and for whatever reason, we couldn't tell him. It is up to him to think of it. Grandpa did not allow me to say anything. And it related to the whole story, if he doesn't find out who the woman is, he would not give up." Stella said, she felt it hard to control the situation. Stella continued with a sigh. "I want them to get married before he gets his memory back, before he remembers that woman. Once he's married, he's bound, and he can't mess with it." Stella said, but it was difficult to implement. "When can they get married?" Kevin felt hopeless. A marriage needed two to fight for it. Brian was bound, Winnie thought too much and had no confidence. This could only make the distance between them more and more far, how could get married? The next morning, Rufus went to Winnie's to pick up the children, looking for a chance. Rufus came to Winnie's house. At this time, the two children were already dressed and waiting at the door. Winnie was ready to go out with a bag. "You two must be good, ok?" Winnie told her two children as she put on her shoes. "Yes, Mommy, we'll come back tonight." Megan said, but this time Luke spoke. "Mommy, I want to go pee." "Why do you want to pee at this hour? I have to go to work now." Winnie said as she watched the time. At this time Rufus spoke. "You go to work and I'll wait. I'll close the door when I leave." Rufus volunteered, but at the same time he got nervous. If Winnie left first, he would have a chance to get what he wanted. "Ok, I have a meeting today, I gotta go." Winnie hurriedly left as she said that. Then Rufus closed the door, and took Luke to the bathroom. "Luke, is this the only bathroom?" Rufus helped Luke sit on the seat, and asked Luke looking around. "There's another one upstairs. This one's for my grandaunt and Mommy. Megan and I and aunt use the one upstairs." Luke answered Rufus and thought Grandpa was just asking. "Oh, I see." "Luke, stay here, let Megan show me around the house, ok?" Rufus felt that this was his best chance, he must find a way to get a DNA sample. "Ok, Grandpa, don't forget to go to my room." Luke was enthusiastic. Rufus took Megan directly to the upstairs, and then Megan showed her grandfather room by room. "Grandpa, our room is not big as that in the suburbs and not luxury as Great Grandpa's house, but we live here happily." Megan said proudly. If she could live with Daddy, she would not ask for more. "Good. The most important thing in life is to be happy." Rufus inadvertently answered and put her attention on the bathroom upstairs. "Megan, this is..." "This is the bathroom. Grandpa came in to take a look. My brother and I packed our own things." Megan holding Rufus's hand walked into the bathroom, to show his brother and her independent ability. "This is my towel, this is brother's, Mommy told us to put there neatly after we use it." Megan continued. "This is my toothbrush and this is my brother's. They should be kept in place and replaced regularly." Megan finally mentioned the toothbrush, now Rufus's attention was on the toothbrush. "Well, mommy is right. Megan and Luke do a good job. This is Megan's, this is Luke's, whose is this?" Rufus pointed at one by one, and finally stopped on the third toothbrush. "This is my aunt's, we three use a bathroom." Megan gave Rufus the answer he wanted most. After confirming which one was Vanessa's toothbrush, it would come to how to get it. "Megan, Luke is using bathroom downstairs, can I use this one?" Rufus made an excuse to let Megan out. "No problem, I go downstairs to see brother." Megan walked out of the bathroom and she closed the door. This time only Rufus was left, so he could get what he wanted. He first found a new toothbrush like Vanessa's, then packed up the old one and put it away. This time Rufus could soon find out the answer. Brian finally came back, but he didn't seem to be in a good mood. Winnie he must be excited to see her after several days, but it seemed that she overestimated her position in the heart of Brian. Brian came to the company directly from the plane in the morning and began the meeting. Winnie had been looking forward to Brian to finish the meeting early, so that she could leave early. But she waited all morning and was called to the president's office during her noon break. And what she had imagined didn't happen. Brian's eyes filled with worry. He just walked up to her and gave her a lukewarm hug. "You must have hard days, were the kids good?" Brian was concerned, but it sounded like a strange gratitude to Winnie. "It is not hard and the kids were good." Winnie managed her heart and answered Brian with indifference. "Your work should be over, shall we have lunch together?" Winnie inexplicably felt Brian's attitude had changed and he must have something in mind, but she didn't want to ask, didn't want to explore his heart. If he did not want to tell her, she would not ask. "I just had a light bite and now I have a meeting to attend." Brian said while still looking at the time, as if it was too late. Winnie had doubts and she felt more uncomfortable after hearing that he had had lunch. However, she pretended nothing happened and forced a smile. "Ok, I will have a meal in canteen." Winnie turned around, walked to the door and stopped. "I want to take Luke to go to the hospital to check Tomorrow. If you are available, you can go together, if you are not, you can go on with work." "I'm going out first, you hurry to the meeting." Winnie pushed the door, leaving Brian with a complex mood. He went out for several days, and the person he missed most was Winnie. But before he came back, something did not go well, which affected his mood. He did not hide it in front of Winnie, which made Winnie very upset. His memory was getting messy, and it was already affecting him.

Hey, My Twins Babies

CHAPTER 412 THOUGHTS UNFINISHED

Winnie went out. Before she had adjusted her mood, she received a phone call from Leo. She used her lunch break to take care of another job, so there was no time for lunch. Winnie took her bag, walked out of the office and got into the elevator. The moment the elevator door closed, she saw Brian pass by the elevator. Before she could speak, the elevator closed and began to descend. She believed that Brian had also seen her, but did not stop her to ask for anything. This scene made her bleak, as if they separated and had become strangers. Winnie in the elevator gave a bitter smile. Sometimes she felt was too sensitive and thought too much. But the change in Brian's attitude was real. She took a sigh and decided not to waste energy to think, just let it be. She better put her energy on work, so that she had a sense of harvest. Winnie came to Leo's office after dealing with some problems. When she got into the office, she saw lunch on the coffee table, suddenly she felt warm. "You know I didn't eat lunch?" Winnie asked as she sat down. "You've come in such a hurry. You can't have lunch. And if you don't do your work well, you're not in the mood to eat." "Let's eat together. I've been waiting for you for a while." Leo said and sat down. He asked Winnie to come at noon, and it was natural to get lunch ready. "You know me well. I'm hungry, let's eat." Leo might be the most warm-hearted and caring man in the world, but it was a pity that she could not be such a man. They began to eat casually. "Has Emily recovered from her illness? I wanted to see her that day but she refused me." Winnie asked about Emily. She had been too busy these days to call Emily, so she could only ask Leo. "She is better. And she can come out in a few days." Leo answered. He had been working overtime these two days and had no time to see Emily. Emily still did not answer his phone, and he learnt the news from Emily's mother. "Spend more time with her. When people are sick, people need to be cared." Winnie reminded Leo, in fact, she felt it meaningless. Leo was so good at taking care of people, how could he ignore Emily? "Ok, I'll go when I am available." Leo wanted to accompany Emily every day, but Emily did not allow him to come near. "Are you not going to marry?" Winnie asked, as if she wanted to feel the happiness of others. "It's up to Emily. I can get married at any time as long as she agrees." Leo wanted to get married, but now they were not even boyfriend and girlfriend. But at this time he could not tell the truth to Winnie and could only cheat her. "The man needs to take the initiative, you put more efforts and Emily will agree." Winnie encouraged Brian. She especially hoped that Leo and Emily could get married as soon as possible, so that her heart would be more secure. "You worry about yourself. Emily and I are good and we will get married sooner or later. Your children are six years old and you don't have a stable home yet." Winnie cared about Leo, while Leo in turn cared about Winnie. To this extent, they were good friends. "Ok, never mind, or you will mention me." Winnie said with a smile. It was hard to explain, so she did not want to mention it. "Let's get back to the game, or we won't be able to have fun." Winnie turned the conversation to the game, only work made her relaxed. "I have developed some new equipment, be sure to test well, launch after you master it, do not make the same mistake again." "Don't worry, I'll tell them." "By the way, Winwin, this game has made a lot of money so far, and is getting more and more popular. I have all the money now. If you want to change cars and houses, tell me, and I can take the money out for you at any time." At the beginning, they agreed on getting bonus every half a year, but Leo was afraid that Winnie was lack of money, so he wanted to give her the money. "I don't need to change the car. I don't change the house either. This house is for Vanessa. Two years later I'll transfer it in her name." "I temporarily do not need the money, I want to save it. When it is enough, I will buy the house Grandpa gave to my aunt. If my aunt had not sold the house, we would still be living in debt." Winnie had put it in mind. When he had the ability, she wanted to buy her villa back, after all, there were the memories of parents. As for the victim, who never showed up, she had the money ready. Leo heard the house for the first time and did not expect that Winnie still had unfinished dream. "Winwin, can you have the house back? If the owner is willing to sell it to you, you don't have to wait for enough money. Otherwise, you will miss the opportunity. I'll give you the money and you can pay me back when you get the bonus." Leo said this because he was afraid that Winnie would refuse his help. But Winnie felt reasonable, if missed the opportunity, she might not get it back. "I'll check it out when I have time, and if the owner wants to sell now, you can help me." Winnie now had changed her mind and could accept Leo's help. Because Leo had no the original feelings to her. They were friends now. When they were in trouble, they can turn to their friends for help, just as Daenerys helped her in those days. "Don't worry, I'll help." Leo was happy to hear that, so that she would not take hardships alone. When Winnie saw Brian again, it was about to leave work in the afternoon. Brian came to her office, and his mood seemed to be better. "Did you have lunch?" "Yes, I went to Leo at noon and he had got the lunch ready." In fact, Winnie said this on purpose. She wanted to tell Brian that there was someone to have dinner with her even if he was not around. "Oh, I saw you go out in a hurry. How does the game sell?" Brian did not know how to describe his mood. He got worries, but he asked some unimportant things. "It's great. We can make more money working together than selling the rights of the game." Winnie answered unintentionally, because she saw that Brian did not care. "Anything else? If not, I have to work." Winnie asked, because she was not interested in irrelevant topic, and Brian did not tell her anything, which made her feel uncomfortable. "I come to tell you that I will go to the hospital with you tomorrow. I have asked Kevin to arrange a doctor." Only then did he remember why he had come. "You go to work. I have things to do." That was all Brian said before he turned to leave. He did not say where he was going after work, or whether he was going to spend the night at Winnie's house, nor did he mention whether the children were staying in the suburbs or going back to her house. Winnie felt particularly familiar about Brian's state. She felt that he was leaving her. How could she live with such a man for a lifetime? She now hoped that Felix would hold his ground and not accept her. Looking at the state of Brian, she would rather live with the children alone for a life time than live with Brian with suspicion. When Winnie got off work, she heard from the secretary that Brian was still busy. She drove home alone. As soon as she got home, the two children were sent back and Winnie began to prepare dinner. In the kitchen. "Mommy, auntie said Daddy is back. Will he come here tonight?" Luke asked while he was helping Mommy. "Daddy has to work overtime and I don't know when he'll finish. It's too late and maybe he won't come. Daddy said he would go with you to the hospital tomorrow." Winnie did not know whether Brian would come back, they did not talk too much today, and what they said was insignificant. "All right, then." Luke seemed disappointed. "Luke, after the examination, you will start school. Uncle Oscar urged you to attend classes these days. You need to attach importance to it." Winnie had to talk to Luke in advance to avoid any resistance. "I know, Mommy, and after I checked my body, I began to have lessons with Uncle Oscar." Luke had always been very sensible, because he felt that only when he was sensible and obedient, Mommy would reduce the burden. "By the way, Luke, Uncle Oscar said that there is an international competition. He asked if you want to participate in." "Yes, I want to participate in." Luke suddenly became excited, as if he was born for the game. And his spirit was completely different had forgot that his Daddy would not come back. "Then I will ask Uncle Oscar to sign up for you. But you have to think well, you used to represent B City in the game, now you are representing the country." Winnie imperceptibly put pressure on the child, hoping that his ability to bear could therefore improve. "No problem, Mommy, whether I win or lose, I want to give it a try and learn from others." Luke said confidently, which made Winnie feel at ease. "Well, study hard. Ask more if you don't understand." "Go out and take care of sister, she's alone..." Before Winnie's words had finished, Megan took Winnie's mobile phone and ran over. "Mommy, it is Daddy Oscar's phone." Megan handed the phone to Winnie. Then Winnie answered the phone. "Hello." "Are you at home?" Asked Oscar in a low voice. "Yes, where are you?" "I just got off work and I don't know where to go yet. Is it convenient to go to you home? If it is convenient, I want to have dinner in your home." Oscar was bored being alone and did not like cooking, so he thought of Winnie.

Hey, My Twins Babies

CHAPTER 413 GET TWO DAYS

"You must have known that I was cooking, so that's why you called. Come, it's very convenient." Winnie said jokingly, then hung up the phone and began to prepare more dishes. But she did not if Brian would come and if would be unhappy to see Oscar. Oscar arrived soon and bought fruit and snacks for the children. After chatting with the children in the living room, he went to the kitchen. "Can I help you?" Oscar looked around the kitchen, which was not mess because of cooking. "No, it'll be ready in a minute. You can wait for dinner." "By the way, Luke wants to attend that competition, you can sign up tomorrow." Winnie said, for fear she would forget it if she got busy. "Well, I'll sign up tomorrow. It needs to go abroad, and parents must accompany. You need to plan your time ahead, too." Just now Winnie reminded Luke, but now she was reminded by Oscar. It was funny being reminded and reminded, and it was the life. "No problem, I can manage the time. You take the children and wash your hands while I set the table." Winnie's dinner was ready and they would talk about it when they had dinner. At the beginning of dinner, the two children were very excited because of Oscar's arrival. Luke kept asking about software programming, and Megan occasionally said a few words. "Luke, eat meal before you discuss with uncle. Let uncle eat well first." Winnie stopped Luke, or Oscar could not be quiet during the whole meal. "Ok, Uncle Oscar, eat more, or you won't have the strength to answer my questions." When in a good mood, Luke was a kid who could make jokes. "Yes, I must eat more. After this meal, I can have no food for two days, I don't like to cook anyway." Oscar joked too, but it was true that he didn't want to cook and eat alone. "Oscar, if you can overcome obstacles, make a girlfriend. I think you are particularly lonely." Winnie's words were tactful, because some things were not allowed to known by the children. "I want to overcome it, I want to stop being single, but I can't. I can only be a single dog." Speaking of his own obstacles, Oscar had nothing to hide from Winnie, because Winnie knew him well. "Maybe you can ask your parents to live with you, and take theirs with you wherever you go. Then at least someone will cook for you." Winnie knew that obstacle could not be overcome, but Oscar could not be single all his life. "They can't come here. They will miss hometown, and they would nag to me to make a girlfriend. I don't want to listen to it." Oscar couldn't have been on the move for so many years if he hadn't been hiding from his parents. He was afraid that they would find his obstacles and would not accept it. "Then when you don't want to cook, come to me. My aunt will be at home while I am gone, and that will certainly feed you." Winnie could only help Oscar as much as she could. "That's a good idea, just because I like to eat your aunt's cooking." Oscar was still joking, but he could come occasionally, he could not always come. Oscar had dinner and discussed with Luke for a while before leaving. Brian had not appeared and did not call. Winnie thanked Brian for not appearing, so that Oscar had a good meal. But at the same time she was disappointed, because Brian ignored her. Winnie waited all night with a glimmer of hope, but Brian did not appear, she was completely disappointed. She told herself not to hold any hope in Brian, because he was uncertain. Because there was no communication about the time to go to the hospital the night before, Winnie waited until Megan to be picked up and went to the hospital. On the way to the hospital, Luke asked Winnie where his Daddy was. Winnie did not know whether Brian went to the hospital so she did not know how to answer Luke, and she could only tell Luke Daddy might have been waiting in the hospital. When arrived at the hospital, Winnie took Luke directly to Kevin's office, after all, the doctor was arranged by him, she was going to confirm it with Kevin. When they went to the elevator, Luke suddenly saw Brian. "Mommy, Daddy is over there." Luke told Winnie excitedly, but Winnie did not see Brian, so she looked around. "Where?" "In the elevator, Daddy's in the elevator." Luke told Winnie at the same time the elevator door has closed, so Winnie did not see Brian. But she comforted Luke. "I told you Daddy would come." Winnie waited for the elevator holding Luke's hand. Brian came early, because he had something to ask Kevin, but he did not see Luke and Winnie. "You come here so early. You have a nine o'clock appointment with the doctor." Kevin looked at the time, and it was a little over eight. "I want to talk to you, so I come early. Winwin and Luke won't come until nine." Brian was sure about that. He thought he and Winnie had agreed on the time. "Sit down." As Kevin finished speaking, a nurse opened the door and came in. "Doctor Burns, this is a case of bed No. 3." "Leave it here and I'll look at it later." After Kevin's instructions, the nurse placed the case on his desk and turned to go out. The nurse went out and closed the door behind her. Just as the door was about to close, Winnie came up. Thinking that Winnie was going in, the nurse left the door open, smiled at her and left. Just as Winnie was about to push the door to go in, she heard the voice of Brian inside. She suddenly stopped. The two men in the office, however, did not notice that the door was open and began to talk. "When I went abroad, I went to the place in my dream, which was basically the same as the one in the picture. Now I'm pretty sure I'm not dreaming, it's my memory coming back." As soon as Brian said this, Kevin leaked a surprised look. His surprise was not because of the fact that Brian said, but because Brian knew more and because he didn't know how to answer. "Can it really be true? But you never told me about the accident. And how much have you remembered about the woman?" Kevin could only be perfunctory to Brian. He had to pray every day that Brian would not beat him when he regained his memory. "I was looking for this woman. I thought I'd find out everything by finding her. Actually, I finished my work two days early. I spent two days there looking for her. I asked some people and checked the surveillance, but there was no evidence." "It turned out to be nothing. It is depressing and I hate myself for not remembering anything about it." Brian said, showing a look of annoyance. Although Winnie could not see his expression from outside, she could tell from his voice that his mood was affected by the woman. The conversation continued in the office. Kevin pondered for a moment before speaking. "I think you're thinking in the wrong direction. That woman probably doesn't know anything. I don't see any point in you worrying about a woman you're not sure about." "If what you're saying is true, you should start with the number plate and the car model, not a woman." Kevin said so because he didn't want Brian to focus on that woman. "I have no memory of what you said, except that it was probably a white car. I didn't look up that woman just for the truth. I always have different feeling about her. I always feel that she was special in my heart."Because these feelings confused Brian and he insisted on finding out this woman.However, hearing that, Winnie was sad.She felt that the state of Brian was not right since he came back, she felt that Brian estranged with her. It turned out that it was not intuition but fact.Brian's heart was indeed filled with another woman, a special woman.In the office."It's just a feeling. It's not that important. Brian, you should concentrate on Winwin now. She would be sad if she knows you are looking for another woman. She now finally was with you. Don't you afraid she would leave."Kevin was worried, because he and Stella analyzed yesterday that Winnie must know it. And Winnie was smart, meticulous and sensitive, she must know it but she did not say it out."No, I didn't mention it to her. She won't know about it. I just want to make sure what was the feeling in my heart. Looking at the back of that woman in the picture, I can't control my heart. I can't be tortured like this. I have to find out the truth."Brian did not think that Winnie knew it. Only the truth was found out, could he be with Winnie steadfastly."Brian, you are too persistent. The consequence of your persistence is likely to lose Winwin and you can't find that woman."Kevin was not as confident as Brian. It was not easy for them to be together, but they were likely to break up because of an insignificant woman."No, I'm discreet. I'm sure I can find that woman."Brian's attitude remained confirm."And even if you can, what if you find out that you loved this woman? Which one will you choose between Winwin and her?"Kevin asked the right question. Brian was speechless, because he was worried about the same thing.

Hey, My Twins Babies

CHAPTER 414 AS NOT KNOWING

For a moment. "I think the woman should be Wendy, otherwise I would not be with Wendy." Brian didn't directly answer, choosing a different way to sidestep the question. Hearing that, Winnie felt upset She was just a substitute for any woman in his life. Any woman who came could easily take her place. Winnie felt unnecessary to listen to the conversation, so she took Luke's hand, left Kevin's office, and then took the elevator to the first floor. In the lobby on the first floor, Winnie found a quiet place to call Kevin. In Kevin's office, Kevin was still warning. "If it's Wendy, you've given up, don't continue looking for the truth. If Winwin knows, you may break up and no one could help." "I have other possibilities, but I'm conflicted. You don't have to worry about Winwin. I won't let her know." Brian was still persistent. There was a mystery in his heart that could not be solved, and only he knew that feeling. He felt if he wanted a peaceful life, he had to solve the problem. "Why don't you listen to me? I understand what you're doing. Okay, I will leave you alone. You can keep looking for that woman. But break up with Winwin first, before she gets sad." Kevin said angrily. It was hard for them to be together, but Brian was looking for another woman. He even wanted to give up such a Brian, who always disappointed and hurt Winnie. She would not be able to stand it one day. No sooner had Kevin finished speaking than the phone on his desk rang. He picked it up and had a look. "It is Winwin. Have you turned off your mobile phone? Why is she calling me?" With that, Kevin adjusted his mood before picked up the phone. "Winwin." "Brian said you made an appointment with the doctor for me. What time is the appointment?" Winnie asked as if nothing had happen, wanting to tell Brian she didn't hear anything, he could go to the woman as he wanted. "Didn't Brian tell you?" Kevin looked at Brian and asked Winnie. "No, he never called me. Maybe he was busy and I didn't call him." Winnie did not receive a phone call and even a message from Brian. Now he thought of no one but that woman. "He might have forgot. I have a nine o'clock appointment with the doctor. It's half past eight. You can come." Kevin hung up the phone and looked at Brian angrily. "Didn't you say you called her? How can Winwin not know?" "Didn't I? Did she not see the message?" Brian looked at the phone in doubt, and found that the last call record with Winnie was two days ago. The message was never sent. "I really didn't tell her." Brian was upset, Winnie must be very worried. "I don't know what you're thinking. Didn't you get together last night?" Kevin was disappointed at Brian and regretting helping set them up. "I went back to the suburbs last night and stayed there. I kept thinking about this and I felt sorry for Winwin, so I didn't go to her house." Brian was regretful now. Why did he forget to call Winnie? After answering Kevin's words, Brian called Winnie. Winnie sat on the chair downstairs with Luke. As she was to talk about it with Luke, Brian called. Winnie took a look at the phone and gave it to Luke. "Son, answer it and say mommy is driving and can't answer the phone." Luke looked at his mother sadly and then picked up the phone. "What's wrong, Daddy? Mommy's driving and can't answer the phone." "Oh, tell Mommy to drive carefully. Daddy is waiting for you at the hospital in Uncle Kevin's office." "Got it, Daddy. We'll meet you later." Luke was not good at lying, but Mommy must have her reason to let him say so. "Don't think too much, Mommy. Daddy....." Luke gave back the phone to Winnie and comforted her. Before the words were finished, Winnie stroked Luke's head and interrupted his words. "Son, I am sorry, I always put you through more than you should." "Don't worry about me and Daddy. No matter how it turns out, Daddy and I will never love you less. Pretend you have not heard anything. Don't tell anyone, not even your sister. If you're a man, you should take it on for Mommy." Winnie's words were very tactfully, but Luke could understand. "Ok, Mommy. I'm a man, I'm your son, it's right that I help you with anything. I won't tell anyone what I just heard." "Mommy, will you promise me something, too?" Luke asked Winnie with expectation. "What is it?" "Whatever happens to you and Daddy, don't abandon me and my sister. Don't let us part." Luke was afraid and really did not want to separate from Mommy. "Ok, I promise." Winnie answered the child positively, but there was no confidence. Brian did not really love her, it was only a whim. So she could not guarantee that he would keep his promise and give her the two children on the day they broke up. But she would do her best to keep her two children. At nine o'clock, Winnie took Luke to Kevin's office by elevator. "Hello, Uncle Kevin! Luke first greeted Kevin, and then walked to Brian and embraced him. "Daddy." He gave Brian a hug, but he was not enthusiastic. He could not stop thinking about what Mommy and Daddy had said, so he could not do it like nothing happened. "Luke." Brian stroked Luke's head, showing the love to him. Winnie was relieved seeing that. No matter what kind of attitude Brian had towards her, at least his love for the child had not diminished. "Am I too late?" Winnie said softly, just like the thing didn't happen at all. "No, I'll take you there." Kevin adjusted his mood, so that Winnie would know nothing. Winnie did not communicate with Brian, but directly took Luke with Kevin to see the doctor. The whole examination was very smooth, and Luke was cooperative. Of course, the result of the examination was good. "You as a parent did a good job and the child has made a full recovery and is doing well. You can rest assured that you don't have to re-examine it in the future, as long as you pay more attention to the child's mood." The doctor's words were not only to inform Luke's condition, but also to praise the parents. Winnie smiled happily, no matter how much she paid, as long as the child returned to normal, she was very happy. A few people walked out of the doctor's office. Kevin was back to his office, the family of three walked toward outside the hospital. "You go to the office. You haven't been there all morning. You must have a lot of work waiting for you." Winnie spoke first and broke the silence. "And you?" Asked Brian. "I send Luke to Oscar. Oscar helps Luke sign up for an international competition, and it needs Luke to verify his identity. After that, I let Luke have class from him. I will go to the company later. If Calvin has something to tell me, ask him to call me." With that, Winnie took Luke and intended to separate Brian. Then Luke suddenly mentioned the things last night. "Mommy last night when we had dinner with Uncle Oscar, he said he is not available today, didn't he?" Luke said this because he wanted his Daddy put all his attention on Mommy, or Mommy would be with others. When sitting on the first floor with Mommy, Luke thought a lot. He suddenly found that any man was better than Daddy to Mommy. Thinking this way, he found that he and Megan blindly ask for a complete home, in fact, was a selfish behavior. They only thought about themselves and had not cared about Mommy's feelings. "Uncle Oscar called me this morning and said he is available. I will take you there, and after you sign up, you can stay at Uncle Oscar's place and wait for Mommy to pick you up after work in the evening." Winnie had completely ignored the existence of Brian. While walking quickly, she told Luke what to do. "Mommy, let Uncle Oscar come to our home to teach me in the evening, so that it will not affect his work and he can have dinner at our home. Killing two birds with one stone, ok?" Luke and Winnie's conversation was not for the same purpose. His only purpose was to attract the attention of Daddy, hoping his Daddy could not good to Mommy like other men. "I am not sure, you can discuss with him." After that, several people had walked out of the hospital. Winnie looked back at Brian. "My car is over there, I go with Luke." When Winnie turned to leave, Brian stopped her. "Winwin, I'll come to your home tonight." Brian's words made Winnie's heart chaotic. He should have said it yesterday. It was not too late to say it today, but the meaning was different. "Ok." After that, she left with Luke. It was noon when Winnie returned to the Bennet Group. As she walked into the office, she got into work. She had to seize the time to finish the work. But as soon as Winnie started to work, Brian opened the door and came in. "Have you had lunch?" Brian asked in a light tone. "Yes, I ate at Oscar's before I came back."

Hey, My Twins Babies

CHAPTER 415 WENDY INTERCEDE

If Winnie wanted to pretend that nothing happened, at least she should showed her original attitude. "And you, did you eat?" "No, I've been waiting for you." Brian had not had dinner. He was waiting for Winnie to come back, hoping to make up for the regret of not being able to accompany her yesterday. "Oh, I'm sorry, you didn't call me. I didn't know you were waiting for me." "You must be hungry, ask the secretary to prepare lunch for you." Actually, Winnie had not had dinner yet. She came back to the company after sending Luke to Oscar, and then she was busy at work. She did not have time to eat. She told Brian that she had dinner because she didn't want to have lunch with him. She was disappointed and angry. "I was busy with work last night, so I didn't bother you but went back to the suburbs. I was so busy that I forgot to call you and tell you when to go to the hospital. Brian felt that Winnie was angry with him. After all, he neglected too many things last night, so he wanted to explain. "It's okay. Even if you didn't tell me, I still took Luke to the hospital. It is your liberty to go wherever you want to go." Winnie said with a smile. She was clam on face but in heart. Brian's explanation for Winnie, who knew everything, was pointless, but it made the result worse. He was busy at work, but suburb was farther than her home. Was he so busy that he could not call her? He had something in mind and could not face her, so he chose to return to the suburbs. He didn't even think about making a call to her. "Winwin..." Brian wanted to say sorry but hesitated, because Winnie did not like him to say sorry. "Did Oscar go to your home last night?" Brian asked. He had heard what Luke said in the hospital. But Winnie was in a hurry to leave that he had no chance to ask. "Yes, he did not want to cook, so he came for dinner." Winnie continued. "By the way, don't go to my home tonight. My aunt is back, you can't be there."

Winnie took this opportunity to refuse Brian. At the hospital, she wanted to refuse, but she didn't say it because Luke was there. She was in a bad mood today, and now she was pretending she was ok. Talking to him face to face, Winnie could endure the inner suffering. But if they lied in a bed, she was afraid she could not do calm herself in the dark. "You come with me to the suburbs." Brian was sure that Winnie was angry with him. It was his alienation that made Winnie unhappy. He regretted that he had not controlled his emotions. Brian's words made Winnie given an irony smile. "Have you forgotten that your grandfather doesn't allow me to set foot in the Bennet family? How shameless I am if I go with you." Winnie felt suffocated and had to take a deep breath to relieve herself. "Go back and ask your secretary to prepare lunch for you. We'll talk about it later." Winnie indirectly asked him to leave, at this moment she could not continue to talk with him. She did not understand the purpose of Brian's coming here. She felt that he was coming to apologize, but he looked absent-minded. Such an apology was meaningless and could not make her better. After Brian left in depression, Winnie sent a message to her aunt. "Aunt, come back, I miss you and Vanessa." After a while, Winnie sent another. "I have booked your tickets for tomorrow. Come back." After sending the message, Winnie could not help but feel sad. She and Brian had a freezing relationship and she did not know when it would melt. The next day Isobel and Vanessa really came back. Winnie went to the airport to pick them at noon. At Winnie's home. "Sister, Megan and Luke are still in the suburbs? I go and pick them up." Vanessa looked for the children as she walked into the house. She had not seen the two children for many days and missed them terribly, otherwise she would not have come back even if her sister had booked the plane ticket. "Megan is staying with his grandfather and aunt in the suburbs. She will be back in the evening. Luke will go to Oscar's class, and I will bring him back when I get off work." Winnie knew her aunt and Vanessa missed the children, but now it was special. If she pick up the children now, Felix would be angry. "It is boring, I want to see them." Vanessa did not know what happened, only want to see the children. "Vanessa, some things happened during this period of time. I will tell you in detail when I come back from work in the evening. Aunt, I still have work to do, I have to go to the company now. Please cook delicious food for me in the evening." With that, Winnie got up. Now she didn't have time. If she had time, she would make it clear. Winnie to the company to work, there was a document needed to be signed by person in charge of the Bennet Group. She did not bother Brian, but went to Calvin. But Calvin was out, so Winnie could only go to find Brian. However, the secretary told her that Wendy had just gone in and that if she was not in a hurry, she should wait for a moment. Winnie's mood was inevitably affected when she heard the name of Wendy, but she decided not to bother Brian. In Brian's office. Brian looked at Wendy sitting on the sofa with a cold face. Looking at her, he thought of that Megan got injury and Winnie suffered because of her. "What are you doing here? I am busy." Brian spoke in a cold voice. "Brian, I come to make a solemn apology for everything and for you. I finally understand it is my fault. I was suspicious, I was not tolerate. I am not good enough to be the mother of two children." Wendy first gave self-reflection, only when she had a sincere attitude and admitted her mistakes, Brian's hatred to her could be weakened and it was likely that he would forgive her. "Brian, I have accepted the fact that we broke up. I will not bother you and Winwin any more." Wendy stopped at this, lifted her eyes to see Brian and then continued. "There's one more thing I want to tell you today, Klara..." "Speak your own business, not others." As Wendy was to speak, Brian interrupted her coldly. Now Brian didn't even want to hear the name of Klara. "Brian, I hope you would give me a chance to speak. It's not Klara's fault, she just helped me. I I threatened her that if she did not help, I would make her leave the Bennet Group. I couldn't make Klara involved because of my selfishness." Wendy took all the responsibility, and even make it worse. Only in this way could Klara get her job back. "Why are you selfish if you knew that she would be involved? Should I believe you, Wendy?" Brian did not believe her, because he knew Klara well. If she had been threatened, she would have told him. It was impossible that she was quiet. "What I said is true. Klara has nothing to do with it. I was wrong and tried to keep you around me. But now I know I have hurt many people because of my selfishness, and Klara is one of them." "She's having a hard time with four elderly people and a child to raise. Without the job, she felt insecure. And they still don't know she lost her job." Wendy said, she knew Brian was indifferent on the surface, but his heart was soft. Wendy continued since Brian did not interrupt her. "Klara leaves home when it is time to go to work and goes home when it is off work every day. She's been wandering around all day for fear the elderly found out the truth." "I feel guilty for her, so I come to you. I hope you can give her another chance." Hearing that, Brian's heart was indeed shaken, and he remembered Spencer who had died. But he kept silent. "Brian, in view of Spencer's loyalty to you, please give Klara a chance. I promise that I will never have contact with Klara again and I will never threaten Klara again. Now I realize it's not easy for Klara, and I'll feel less guilty if you give her a chance." Wendy continued to work hard on it and she felt that Brian's heart wavered. "Go home first. I'll think about it." Brian did not agree or refuse, but this was hope for Wendy. Wendy walked out happily and had a mile on face when she was out of the office of Brian, which was seen by Winnie in the office. Although she did not know who wanted to meet, but it could be told that they had a good talk, otherwise Wendy would not be so happy. After Wendy left, Winnie received a notice from the secretary, asking her to go to the president's office. Winnie took the document to be signed to Brian's office. "Sign the papers first." Winnie went straight to work and did not ask about Wendy. Brian took the document and signed in the last page without reading it. Then he spoke. "Wendy was here just now." "Oh." Winnie answered with indifference. "She came to intercede for Wendy, hoping that I would give her another chance to come back to work." Brian said. However, Winnie was indifferent as if it didn't seem to have anything to do with her. "I told you that because I want your advice. Do you approve of Klara's coming back?" Brian felt that it was related to Winnie and he should seek Winnie's opinion. "Mr. Bennet, it is your company's affair. It has nothing to do with me and you don't have to ask for my advice." "By asking my advice, you have forgiven her, and you have decided to have her back. Now that you have made up your mind, if I say no, I will be sinister." "I am ok with it. You can do what you want to do. Even if you want to get back to Wendy, I am ok with it." With that, she took the document and left. Brian got up quickly and held Winnie. "Winwin, I am asking for your advice." Brian guessed that Winnie would not be happy, but he did not expect that she would say so. "Is my advice useful? On which think you asked my advice?"

CHAPTER 416 BREAK UP SOONER OR LATER

Winnie suddenly lost her temper. After saying two sentences, she found she was emotional and failed to control her own emotions. "I'm sorry, I shouldn't have lost my temper with you. I don't have a problem with that, you can do whatever you want to do. I won't stay in this company for a long time anyway." Winnie endured her anger, and she was about to explode. She really wanted to have a big fight with Brian and asked him how many women in his heart and where was her position. She would give up if her position was unimportant. But if she had a quarrel with him, she might lose the hope to get the children back. Winnie only felt tired emotionally. She had to think of the consequences at every move and she had too many things taken into account. She did not know how long it would last and when she could work to make money in an easy way. "If you don't agree, I will refuse. After all, she hurt you." Brian was distressed and worried about Winnie. Her angry words called his wandering nerves back. Kevin was right. Since he did not know that woman was, he could not be affected by her. If Winnie knew it, she would not accept it and they would break up. He could not accept the fact they broke up. "It doesn't matter if she hurt me or now, but I can't accept that she hurt my children. But it's a personal thing, nothing to do with business. Let her come back. Don't feel guilty to her husband because of my words." "You are shaky because you want her to come back. If I say no, you will have more things to your mind. Let her come back. You're still a good leader, she's still a good worker and I'm the only bad person." With that, Winnie pushed the Brian standing in front of her away and directly walked out. When she was back to the office, she felt upset. Before leaving, Brian was good, but now he was different. If feelings faded, vows were not important, even the suffering of the children could be forgotten. He could choose to forgive her, but Winnie was disappointed at Klara and she could not forgive her. Winnie was not in a mood to work. The feeling of depression these days made her more painful than what she had been through for so many years. She grabbed her bag, took the car keys and left angrily. After Winnie left his office, Brian was thinking about Winnie's last words. Why did she say that he had more things to his mind? Was it true that she had already known the fact as Kevin said? When Winnie was in a bad mood, she could only go to one place, the cemetery of her parents. She put the flowers in front of the tombstone. Looking at her parents' eternal smile, Winnie felt depressed and shed tears uncontrollably. She suddenly regretted that she did not control herself and put forward to be Brian's girlfriend. If they were not formally together, she would have no position to be angry with him and no status to quarrel with him. The previous relationship was emotional straits for her, and she had no right to be angry with him no matter what he did. But now, it seemed more painful, as if she had sunk deeper. She was less and less able to understand herself, and less and less able to understand Brian. Winnie said nothing in front of her parents, just silently shed tears. She kept everything in her heart and in her stomach. Because she knew that everything would move on and suffering would never easily let her go. Since she was alive, she had to be brave to face setbacks, unless she died. But now the children were small, her aunt was old and Vanessa did not have a fixed future, it seemed that she could not die. Winnie stayed in the cemetery until it was time to pick up Luke. She drove car to take Luke home, but met Brian downstairs. It was clear that Brian was waiting for them. "What are you doing here? My aunt is back, it is not convenient you are here." Winnie's mood was better, but she could not let it go. "Winwin, I know you're angry, and I am depressed to see you are angry, so I came here to wait for you. I....." Brian said regretfully, but Luke was there, Winnie did not want to talk about it. "Wait me a minute, I send Luke up and we chat." Winnie felt that they should have a talk, but the child was not suitable to listen to it. Brian did not object, waiting for Winnie downstairs. Winnie went downstairs and came directly to Brian's car, but she spoke more directly. "Let's break up." It was a blow to Brian. He came to Winnie to say sorry, not to hear 'breaking up'. "Winwin, I don't know what you mean." It was not that Brian did not understand, it was that he did not want to understand and accept it. "You should know that when you come back from your business trip, you're a different person. I have to cooperate with you and go back to our original relationship, so breaking up is necessary." Winnie spent the whole afternoon thinking about this problem, so she did not feel abrupt. She was sad, but she felt relieved. "Winwin..." Brian tried to explain, but Winnie was stubborn again and refused to give him a chance to speak. "Brian, before I say break up we are boyfriend and girlfriend, you always changed your attitude to me. It shows that you have another woman in your heart or you can't get over Wendy." "Since you have another woman, I am unimportant. So break up." Winnie's attitude was tougher and tougher. She felt she was right to do so.

Sooner or later they would break up, if they broke up a day earlier, she would be less hurt. "I don't have another woman, and there is no way Wendy and I can get back together. Winwin, I don't agree to break up, you can't leave me. I admit I came back from abroad with emotion, but it has absolutely nothing to do with you." Brian explained anxiously. No matter how insistent Winnie was, he would not agree to break up. "Winwin, I don't agree to break up and it won't happen again." Brian said firmly. No matter what, he could not break up. "You will put forward to break up sooner or later, why insist on it?" Winnie just said it for him in advance. Now Winnie saw clearly that the main obstacle between them was not status or social status, not wealth or poverty, but women, a continuous stream of women between them. "Don't be so sure. I won't break up with you." Brian did not agree with what Winnie said. He loved Winnie so much, how could he raise to say break up? However, hearing that, Winnie frowned. "You said you wouldn't break up, okay, pretend I didn't say it. Let's go on, and we will see who would put forward to break up." Winnie seemed to have seen through Brian that he would put forward to break up. She wanted to make Brian to know he was wrong and see clear his heart to her. With that, Winnie opened the door and got off directly, ignoring Brian, who called her at the back. Brian wanted to catch up, to remove the misunderstanding between them, to be together as before without distractions. But he did not understand why Winnie said the last sentence with such certainty. Winnie knew that her choice would only make her pain deeper. She was sure that he would put forward to break up, because his heart was shaky. Winnie adjusted her mood before entering the house. On her aunt's first day back, she wanted to have a quiet meal with her aunt. She didn't want to upset her family because of her. Back home, Vanessa came over and asked her why she went out. Winnie gave her perfunctory answer and said she would tell her in the evening. Later, Winnie was about to go to the kitchen to help her aunt cook dinner and then the doorbell rang. Vanessa was the closest to the door and the fastest one to reach it. After seeing the man outside, she opened the door without thinking. "Hello, Rufus..." Vanessa said happily. It was not just her sister and two children that she missed when she was away. She missed Rufus too. "Hello, hello, you are finally back." Rufus's face was permeated with uncontrollable love. Although the DNA test results had not come out, he believed that she was his daughter. "Auntie, I miss you so much." Megan jumped directly to Vanessa excitedly, Vanessa caught her and they embraced together. "I also miss you, I miss you and Luke, you two naughty guys." Vanessa suppressed her excitement a day. She was excited when she saw Luke just now, and at the moment she was unable to suppress her emotions and kept kissing on the small face of Megan. "Come in, Rufus. My aunt has cooked a lot of delicious food today. You can stay for dinner." At this time Winnie also came over. She was most grateful to Rufus in these days. If Rufus had not insisted, she would not have seen the children by now. "Ok." Rufus said happily and the spirit in the house was unusually high. On the way he sent Megan back, Rufus knew Isobel and Vanessa had come back. He had been thinking of a suitable excuse to stay. Since Winnie asked him to stay, he naturally would accept it. Winnie invited Rufus to sit in the living room, asked Vanessa to go to the kitchen to call aunt out, and got some tea. Isobel was busy in the kitchen and did not notice the visitors. Until she was called to the living room, she looked at Rufus sitting on the sofa in surprise. But she also panicked at that moment of seeing Rufus. "Rufus, this is my aunt. Her name is Isobel. I suppose you've met?" Winnie would like to formally introduce to them who both helped her to take care of her children. She was grateful to them, so it was a must she made the introduction. "Yes." "No."

Hey, My Twins Babies

CHAPTER 417 HAVE NO QUALIFICATION TO COMPLAIN

Winnie inadvertent question unexpectedly got two answers, which surprised Winnie. Then Rufus stood up unhurriedly, with a slight friendly smile on his face, he said calmly. "Yes, we met last time I came to pick up the kids." Rufus had to correct it because he saw the panic on Isobel's face. "Yes, I'd forgotten." Isobel answered in embarrassment and panic. She was a composed person, but Rufus' sudden appearance made her unprepared. "I will give you a formal introduction. Aunt, this is grandpa of Luke and Megan." Winnie continued and her doubts were gone because of Rufus's explanation. Isobel was very unnatural but had to introduce herself, for fear that Winnie and Vanessa saw something wrong. "Hello, I'm Isobel." "Hello, I am Rufus." Rufus' self-introduction was also very brief. He thought they were familiar, but he had to make introduction, as to hide the fact from the children. "Have a seat, I go cook." Isobel found an excuse to leave. At this time Winnie said to her. "Aunt, Rufus is having dinner at our house. Cook more food." "Ok.....ok." Isobel was to break down, but she could not refuse and could not drive him away. It seemed that she had to face Rufus during the whole meal. How should she swallow the food? "Rufus, have some tea." Vanessa brought the tea over and put it in front of Rufus. "Vanessa, stay and chat with Rufus, I go to the kitchen to help aunt cook." With that, Winnie went to the kitchen to help. There were only two children and two adults left in the living room. "Vanessa, are you happy to celebrate the New Year with your relatives in A City?" Rufus deliberately found a topic to chat with Vanessa. "Yes, but it isn't my home, and I was stiff. Next year, no matter what my aunt said, my sister and I will not go out. We will celebrate the New Year in our own home. It's at ease at home." This was Vanessa's real thought about the New Year. No matter where she was, it could not make her at ease than being at home. "Spend the next New Year in my home. There are many people in my family and it will be lively." Hearing Vanessa's words, Rufus felt sour in heart. If she really was his daughter, how could he face her with guilty? "Thank you, Rufus. If aunt agrees, we'll definitely be there. My aunt is God. Whatever she says, my sister and I obey her unconditionally." Winnie said jokingly, in fact, her aunt never interfered with their freedom, as long as it was within the scope of principle. "You two are obedient, and your aunt is happy to have you both." Rufus said and looked at the direction of the kitchen. It seemed that everyone in this home was not easy to live. "We are happy to have my aunt. Without her, my sister and I would not have been able to survive. My sister and I have been grateful for her for this life, so we never make her angry." Vanessa had many inexplicable words, which she never said to outsiders. Today, she felt that Rufus was very kind, just like a family member, so she said a few more words. "You and your sister are sensible, and I should thank your aunt." Rufus said emotionally, but Vanessa was confused. "You need not thank her." Vanessa gave an awkward smile and had no idea why Rufus thanked her aunt. "Of course I should. It was your aunt who helped Megan --" At this, Rufus suddenly stopped. He realized he seemed to have said the wrong thing and Vanessa might not know the identity of Megan had been made public. He paused for a moment before he explained. "Your aunt help take care of Luke, I sure thank her." "Oh, this is trifle, Luke is a kid of our family. We should take care of him, you don't need to thank." Only then did Vanessa understand what Rufus was saying. "Vanessa, you had been through hard time these years, right?" Rufus wanted to know more about Vanessa, so he couldn't help but keep asking. Hearing that, Vanessa gave a bitter smile. "I was miserable when I was ill, and I might have been a sick man by now, but thanks to the good care of my sister and aunt, I recovered, and put all energy on study. I hope I can help my sister and aunt out of trouble. Studying is tiring, boring and it needs patience to stick to it. But in a family like ours, there is no reason I don't insist, and I have to do more than others." "Study is not the only thing in life, but I think it is a shortcut to change life. I did have a bit of a rough time compared to other people at my age, but it was more difficult for my sisters and aunts, so I can't complain." Vanessa said. These words had been buried in her heart and she had never told her aunt and sister, for fear to bring them unnecessary troubles. "Good girl, you are a good girl. Your aunt and sister have always been very proud of you, and you are sure to have a bright future." Rufus' sadness could be seen eyes. The more he listened to her, the guiltier he felt to Isobel and Vanessa. If in those days he could get rid of the bondage of his father, handle the triangle relationship well, the Chambers family might not end up like this. "If I don't study harder, my aunt and sister will lose all hope. I'm just doing my best to help them, and it's them had a hard time. Without them, I might be with my parents in the heaven now." Vanessa was sad, and Rufus hurried to comfort her. "Well, it is a good day, don't mention your parents. When you have the ability, you are take good care of your aunt." Rufus ended the sad dialogue, for fear that Vanessa would break down and Isobel blamed him. After the two chatted casually for a while, dinner began. Rufus and Isobel sit face to face, which made Isobel uncomfortable. Plus Vanessa sat beside Rufus, the two similar faces made her more uncomfortable. "Let's eat, Rufus." Winnie said warmly, and then Rufus began to eat up. When he took the first bite, he was emotional. It was the same which he had been missing for 20 years. When he and Isobel were together, he never went out to eat, it was Isobel cooked for him. But he never thought that he had not eaten it again in twenty years. "Yummy, your aunt's cooking skill is very good." Rufus consciously praised. Now felt the happiness for the food like back to many years ago. "Rufus, how do you know it was my aunt made it? It could be my sister made it." Vanessa doubted. "Well..." Rufus was stunned by Vanessa's question and then he explained. "I have eaten the dishes your sister cook, but it is different from this. I think only an old chef could cook such a delicious, colorful dish." Rufus said jokingly, alleviating his embarrassment and did not want Isobel to be nervous. "You are eloquent, Rufus. My aunt did make them." Vanessa's doubts were solved again, although she thought Rufus was not calm and composed as usual, he might be nervous in the first time to see her aunt, which was understandable. The meal was, to put it mildly, perhaps the most delicious and memorable one Rufus had had in many years. Although he knew Isobel was nervous and cautious, he felt happiness however. After Rufus left, Winnie asked two children to back to room to review their lessons, she and her aunt and Vanessa talked about Megan in the living room. "You mean Brian's grandfather wants to give back custody of the two children?" Before Winnie could finish her words, Vanessa could not calm down. She angrily asked Winnie. "He doesn't allow the children to come here now. What you have seen was fought by Rufus. In spite of his father's objections, he took the children out and sent them back every night and picked them up when I had to work during the day." Winnie explained the current situation, which was the reason she had been grateful to Rufus. "Brian's grandfather is too dogmatic. He's over ninety. How can he even control his great-grandchildren? We really can't provoke people like that." Vanessa suddenly hated Brian's grandfather. She thought he should not be as autocratic as a tyrant. "He is domineering and assertive. If anything doesn't go his way, he'll ruin it rather than bring it through." Winnie knew Felix. It was not because she made investigation or had been through a lot, but from the way he controlled the Bennet family for a long time, and the way Brian was obedient to her, she knew he was domineering. "This is horrible. You'd better stay away from Brian, sister, don't die in their hands." Vanessa felt it terrible. Such a family was really not suitable for their common people. All the joys and sorrows of a large family were in the hands of a person who had a generation gap with the society. It was inconceivable, so it was better to stay away from it. However, for everything of the Bennet family and Felix's tyrannical dictatorship, Isobel had known it, but she did not expect that Winnie would have something to do with it. "I'd like to keep my distance from the family, but we have two children." Winnie was helplessness, heaved a sigh and then continued. "If I could go back in time, I would not have chosen to be a surrogate for Brian. I should not have come back if I had known that things would become so difficult to solve now."But it was just a talk, who can go back to the past?"It's meant for you to experience, you can't get away with it. If you had no surrogacy, you could not afford to pay your mother's hospital fees, and Vanessa's disease could not get timely treatment. If you didn't come back, how could you meet Luke? How could you rescue Luke from suffering? If you didn't come back, Luke would be tortured to death."

Hey, My Twins Babies

CHAPTER 418 SHE IS STILL ANGRY

Isobel understood Winnie's helplessness, after all, she had been there. She said a few words to comfort Winnie and also to make her relax. Isobel continued. "Every bad thing has a positive side. Don't dwell on the negative side. Your mother lived a few days longer because of your surrogate. Vanessa is sitting here healthily because you made efforts. And Luke is good now. Everything is worth it." "And now, Rufus is fighting for you, even though his father is preventing you from raising your two children. Don't lose confidence, we still have hope." Isobel had been like this for so many years. When Winnie could not hold up, when Vanessa was tired of studying, she always could say a few positive words and make them full of energy. Her words made Winnie and Vanessa able to carry on and feel warm in hearts. This was why Winnie sent a message asking Isobel to come back. Her confidence was insufficient, she could not hold on, and needed her aunt to cheer her up and to give her courage to continue to hold on. "Auntie, I feel much better after I heard that. I'm going to carry on no matter what. I don't want my two children to go through such pain." Winnie felt much better. Just as her aunt said, she felt more comfortable when she was optimistic about everything. "Auntie, Brian broke up with Wendy. I'm with him now, and he --" Winnie wanted to tell her aunt about her relationship with Brian, but she was interrupted by her aunt just as she spoke. "Break up with him. If we can get the children back, it is the best. Felix won't let Brian to be with you." "The Bennet family is complex. People like us can't survive in their family, as Vanessa said. So break up and don't get yourself in trouble." Isobel still opposed. If Winnie wanted to live a safe life, she could not be together with Brian, and Brian could not accept Winnie because of her. To clear the relationship as soon as possible would cause the least harm to Winnie. "Auntie, who is Felix you are talking about?" Vanessa asked in puzzle. She did not understand what her aunt said, because she did not know who Felix was. Hearing that, Winnie had doubts. Her aunt should not know Felix, why did she know his name? And Isobel found she said wrong words. She was momentarily at lost and then she calmed down. "Felix is Brian's grandfather. I heard Luke said the name of his great-grandfather." After explanation, Isobel took a sigh of relief. If she was not calm, she could not hide it anymore. "Oh, so Felix is that tyrant." Vanessa believed it, after all, she was not sure whether Luke told her aunt. "Winwin, you must think about what I said. You are a grown-up and have your own ideas. You should know that you can't be with Brian." Isobel continued to persuade Winnie. She did not want suffering to continue and did not want to be involved with the Bennet family. "Aunt, I understand. I know it's impossible for me and Brian to be together. Such a noble family is beyond our reach. The most important thing is that I can't control Brian. But I can't break up with him right now. I need him to get custody of the kids back. I want him to let me take the kids back and then I will break up with him." Even if her aunt did not remind her, Winnie knew it. Brian was destined to be a king, surrounded by countless women to please him. And Winnie was a grass, would never become the focus of Brian's attention. But if she did not take the kids away, her relationship with Brian would not be clear. Only when she took the kids away, her relationship with Brian could be clear. Isobel did not continue, because even if she could control Winnie, she could not control her heart. She had been there and she knew what it was hard to get over. But would Winnie's expectations come true? Winnie went to work as usual the next day. She tried to finish the work as soon as possible, so that she could get off work early and leave Brian's sight as early as possible, and she could calm down and think about it. As Winnie was working hard, Brian suddenly opened the door. When Winnie saw that it was Brian, she immediately turned dark on face and continued to work with her head lowered. "Are you still angry? I....." "You don't allow me to apologize, what should I do to have your forgiveness." Brian's tone was warm, but he didn't know how to express regret. He was really wrong in this matter. Before the business trip, he was enthusiastic, but after the business trip, he was extremely cold. Anyone else would have problem on it. Winnie stopped what she was doing but did not look up at him. She admitted that she was really angry because of Brian's abnormal attitude, but she then thought it was inevitable. Even now they did not break up, there would be a day they would break up. After a silence, Winnie raised her head. "Convince Chairman to give me the children and I'll forgive you." Winnie gave herself an excuse to forgive him, but it could not change anything. Could it erase those women in his heart and let his memory never come back? No, what should come would come, when they should break up, they had to break up. "I can that, but you..." Brian saw hope and smiled at once, but Winnie interrupted him in the middle of his sentence. "Of course you can, but you haven't done anything yet. My children can stay with me now because of Rufus and Stella. What did you do?" "Brian, I know you take your work seriously, and the Bennet Group always ranks first in your heart. But I hope you will put the children first in your personal affairs. Take care of it as soon as possible and don't let them be scared." Winnie was not so optimistic as Brian and she could not smile immediately. She was implying that she was not important and could be treated casually by him. But he was the children's father, which were more important than that woman. "I have been busy in this period of time and I haven't been able to take care of my children. I will go to see Grandpa when I get off work. I will try to solve the problem as soon as possible." "I'm sorry, Winwin, even if you don't want me to so say sorry, I should apologize. I was negligent about the children." Winnie's words made Brian ashamed. He had done nothing about the children, making the children and Winnie worried. Hearing that he said sorry and that he was too busy, Winnie could not help but ironically raised the corner of his mouth. She had hinted that so obvious, but Brian was still hiding. He had no time to deal with the kids, but he wasted two days trying to find that woman abroad. Since then, why he made insincere apology? "There's nothing to be sorry about. We all have our troubles. Even if you are sorry, you should not say sorry to me. Since you came back, you were not only cold to me, but neglected the two children." "I'm not angry with you. I'm angry with my own incompetence. Don't neglect children any more. Their hearts are more fragile than anyone else's. They will be upset because there is too much uncertainty about everything for them right now. Again, focus on children and let them feel that you really love them." Winnie looked at Brian and forced a smile, then continued to work with her head bowed. Brian was hurt by Winnie's. He was really an unqualified father, even ignored the children. But Winnie was the saddest of those ignored. Because compared with the children, Winnie's heart was more turbulent. After Brian left, Winnie breathed a sigh of relief. Now all she could comfort herself with was persistence, till she could get the children back and took them away, and the emotional suffering would be over. At noon, Winnie's work was not over, but she received a phone call from Felix unexpectedly. Winnie felt uneasy thinking Felix might threaten or warn her. But no matter what, she had to face it, because no one to carry for her, no one could understand how hard it was. Winnie put down her work and went out with her bag and coat. It was the same teahouse, but this time Winnie had no confidence.

After all, she hid Felix for so long. As she came to the room, Winnie saw Felix sitting there. And his face was dark, which was different from before, which made her nervous. "Chairman, I'm sorry." The first sentence Winnie said was sorry. "I should ask you out, but I feel guilty that I had hid Megan from you, so I don't have the courage to ask you out." "You were so angry the other day that you wouldn't listen to me, so today I solemnly say sorry to you." Then Winnie bowed to show her regret. After the apology, Winnie could face Felix and said to him to get back the two children. Whether Felix accepted her apology or not, she got up and sat on opposite Felix. "What do you want to say, Chairman? I'll accept whatever it is." Felix's face was gloomy, but it was better after Winnie made an apology. This showed that her apology had effect. "I want you to get out of here. Leave the children, leave Brian, leave B City and never come back." Felix's voice was cold and confirm, not allowing Winnie to refuse. However, Winnie believed that she should fight for it. Winnie spoke calmly. "Chairman, I did not come back to B City because of Brian. I can leave, I can leave everything here, but I can't leave my children." "I am a mother, I love my children very much. I can't lose my children. I can't let them grow up without a mother." Winnie's tone was also very persistent and strong enough to show her attitude.

Hey, My Twins Babies

CHAPTER 419 UNDAUNTED CONFRONTATION

Felix did not expect Winnie would say that in a justified manner and did not expect she was afraid of him being cold. "You remember now that you are a parent, just like Brian. When you had surrogates, you should have thought that the kids could not be with you. What's the use of a mother's love now?" Felix involuntarily raised his voice. "I didn't expect Luke would lead a life like that, and I didn't want to disturb his life. I knew Luke was my child very early, but I got along with him as an aunt. I didn't mean anything else. I didn't mean to use my children to get close to Brian. I just want my children to be happy and healthy." Winnie didn't know how to make Felix believe her, but anyway, her only purpose was to be with the children. She continued. "I know I should not get into your life, but I did not know the father was Brian, when I realized that, I could not leave because we have the children." "Chairman, I have no other requirement, I just want to see the children growing up." "You are selfish. If you stay with the children, you will cause inconvenience to others. If you stay here, how can Brian get married? If you stay, you are a kind of harm to his wife. You are sensible, don't you think you are hurting others?" Felix said angrily and he knew Winnie had her reason. He thanked her to save Luke, but he did not think she should have hidden her identity as a mother. "I may be selfish, and I do will harm his wife, I am not doing it on purpose. I have no intention to hurt anyone since I was born. If I am sinister, I would not have harmed by Penny and almost lost my life and I would not have defiled by Wendy." Winnie refuted. She had no intention to hurt anyone from the beginning and did not mean to do harm others on purpose, but she had been enduring it. "Chairman, you may think I am quibbling, I better stop." At this, she stopped and then looked at Felix firmly. "Chairman, I have no motive to Brian and to the Bennet Group. I only want the children. Please allow me to take them away, and will not affect Brian's life." This was why she came to see Felix and it was the only reason. "No way, they are the children of the Bennet family, no one is allowed to take them away." Felix shouted angrily. He would not even give her the custody, how could he allow her to take them away? "Chairman, don't be angry, I hope you can think for the children. I don't want them for a lifetime, after all, they are Bennets. I can let them break the relationship with the Bennet family. Only when I take them away, Brian could have a peaceful life and everyone could feel relieved." "I want to raise them up. When they are independent, I will give you back. I don't want to live under the guidance of a stepmother at this small age and feel wrong. I don't want to endure something that they should not endure. Chairman, please think it over for the sake of the children." Felix was angry, but Winnie insisted her thought fearlessly. Felix had his bottom line, she had too, she must protect two children. "No way, I will not give the children to anyone, just give up." Felix insisted too. In his view, the best way was that Winnie left, but her words touched his nerve. Did he make decision standing at the foot of the children? If they parted with their mother, they would always cry, could he stand it? What if they ask him for their mother? What if they complained? What if their stepmother was like Penny or Wendy? Did the children have to take this risk? "Chairman, let's take about it separately. Can you give me the children first? I will educate them well. As for if I can leave with the children, we will talk about it when we have difficulties." Seeing that Felix had tough attitude, she had to compromise. But this was her bottom line, she could not separate with the children. "It is the same thing to me, it has no need to talk about it separately." "Leave with your aunt and sister, I will give you enough money to spend in the rest of your life." Felix made the final decision. He did not want to hear any quibble anymore and did not want to sway his heart because of her words. Speaking of the money, Winnie gave an irony smile. It seemed that the rich only had one way to solve the problem and they were proud that they could use money to fix anything. Brian was the same. And Wendy had used money to ask her to leave, and now Felix did it too. Did they take money all-purpose, or did they think she could be taken care of with money? "Chairman, it is not a short time we get along, I think you will understand me, but I was wrong." "Sorry, Chairman, I am capable to earn money to support my family. With my hands, I will not be starved, so I won't take your money, I only want my children." Winnie repeated her purpose. She had no other way but had to insisted her thought. "Winnie, you are stubborn. Your behavior..." Felix got up angrily, but he did not expect that Winnie had the courage to interrupt him at this moment. "I have my consideration. If I don't care about your feeling, the ten millions of employees of the Bennet Group, Rufus and Stella, I would have agreed to Brian to leave with him." Winnie was domineering, she was not afraid of Felix's anger. She thought when Felix was domineering, she could not fear, or she could have her children back. She had to threat Felix, because she had no mean to frighten Felix. "Are you threatening me?" Felix looked at Winnie with distain and said coldly. He did not expect that she had such courage. "I am not, I am just telling you the truth. Chairman, again, I don't want anything but the children." Winnie was tough in attitude. Even if Felix's eyes were sharp, she did not shrink back. She was a mother, she had to be tough. She could give up on anyone and everything, she could give up on Brian and even her life, but she could not give up two children. Felix was speechless. After glancing Winnie with hatred, he turned and left. He was surprised at Winnie's attitude. She was more persistent than Brian. She said she could give on everything for the children, it seemed that she was pulling teeth in the mouth of a tiger for the children. She was using her life to express her tough attitude. If he did not allow her to be with the children, would she take away Brian? He had been thinking about it for a whole afternoon after he was back home, but he got nothing. Brian came to him at night. To be honest, seeing Brian's cold face and his tough attitude, he was helpless. He felt that everyone was going against him. He was in his 90s, but he had to fight alone. "Grandpa, I don't want anything, I just want Winnie to live with the children. Is that ok?" Brian begged, his attitude was tough, but he was suppressing his anger. Felix did not speak, because everyone was saying the same thing to him, and his answer would be the same, so he did not want to waste his energy to answer them one by one. "Grandpa, what on earth do you want? You parted them, do you think it is good for the children?" Seeing that his grandpa said nothing, Brian was anxious. He could not guarantee how long he could control his emotion. But Felix was still silent. Brian's endurance had reached to his limit. "Grandpa, I know what you mean. So you don't agree Winnie to be with the children?" "Since you don't agree, I will do it on my way. I will refuse the girl I had blind date with. As for the Bennet Group, if you don't trust anyone, you can deal with it by your own." "I will give up everything for the sake of my children." With that, Brian turned and was to leave. At this hour, Felix spoke. "Think it over. Who will take the responsibility if you do that? If you want Winnie disappear and the children lost their mother forever, you can leave now." Felix said coldly but his attitude was tough. Hearing what Brian said, he was panic, but he did not show it but threaten him. But Brian was not a puppet which was controlled by him. He had his ability and he could do anything. He turned around, there was no pity but resilience and confidence on his face. "You don't agree Winnie to be with the children and the children will lost their mother, you can't threaten me with this. And since I had made the decision to leave the Bennet Group, to leave you, I am capable to take the responsibility for my behavior. I have the ability to protect the people I want to protect." "Grandpa, if you don't want to break relationship with me, do it, and I will see if the four of my family could be survive happily." After the confrontation, Brian strode away but heard Felix' anxious voice from behind. "I have not made the final decision yet. I am still thinking about it." But Brian did not stop because of his words, but he looked more relaxing. His grandfather's words proved that his threat played its role.

CHAPTER 420 FORGIVE RELUCTANTLY

After leaving the old house, Brian went back to company to work. When it was over, it was 8 at night. He hurried to find Winnie and want to tell her his grandfather's attitude and that Winnie could stop being angry. He came to her community, parked the car and was to call her, but when he raised his head, he saw Winnie and Oscar walking over. They walked slowly, taking and laughing, which made him uncomfortable and sore in heart. He knew Oscar and Winnie were good friends, but Oscar was a man. He put away the phone and got off, at this time, Winnie and Oscar happened to walked to his front. "What a coincidence, Mr. Bennet." Oscar looked at Brian in surprise but he did not forget to greet him. "Hello, I came to Winnie and I just arrived." Brian did not feel comfortable, but he did not show it up. If he gave a cold fact, Winnie would still be angry. "Ok, I am leaving. Winwin, my car is over there, you don't need to see me off." "Bye, Mr. Bennet, bye, Winnie." Oscar did not occupy their time, after saying goodbye, he strode to his car. "What are you doing here?" Winnie asked in a low voice. In the past, when she saw Brian, she would ask if he had dinner. But now he did not care about if she had dinner, did not care she was happy or not, she felt she had no need to ask that. "I talked with my grandpa and his attitude eased." Brian said lightly, hoping that Winnie would not be so indifferent. "Good for you." Winnie said without any expression. Since he could do that, he had the ability to persuade Felix, but he dragged for a few days for a woman and let her and the children suffered for a few days. "Winwin, don't be angry, as long as Grandpa eased his attitude, the children can be with you." With that, he took her hand and held it in his hand. "I have not had dinner yet, please forgive me for the sake that I am still hungry." Brian put down his posture. In face of Winnie, he did not care about his image and self-dignity. As long as she was happy, as long as she was not angry. Hearing that he had not had dinner yet, her eyes became soft. Looking at the man she had been love, she suddenly felt it was her reason that she did not feel happy these days. Her identity changed, so she had higher requitement on him. Being his girlfriend, she wanted him to be loyal to her. But it was wild wish. She knew he did not belong to her, why did she become so greedy? If she took him as a man of others, would she stop being angry and his estrangement be reasonable? It was her fault. It had nothing to do with Brian. As long as she controlled her heart, she would not be angry. "I have not had dinner yet, let's eat out." Winnie suddenly felt better and decided to love him carefully. "Really? Great.: Brian was happy, so Winnie forgave him. At this moment he held Winnie in arms as happy as a kid. While Winnie dare not be to enthusiastic, because she did not want to be hurt. They came to a Chinese restaurant. Winnie only ordered two dishes Brian liked, because she had had dinner and she could not eat more, or it would waste. "Just two dishes? Is it enough?" After the dishes were served, Brian knew they were his favorite and he was touched. "If only you can eat them all. Eat." Winnie said coldly without a smile. "What about you? Don't you want? Didn't you say you have not had dinner?" Brian asked, looking at his bowl of rice and empty plates of Winnie. "Give me some of you rice. I don't feel well today, I am afraid I will feel worse if have eat too much." Then Brian gave some of his rice to Winnie. "If I have known you are uncomfortable, I would not let you come out with me. Have you had medicine?" "Yes, I don't feel well in stomach." "By the way, Luke has signed up for the competition abroad. If you want to go, you can arrange your work in advance. Winnie changed the topic and felt guilty for her false sickness. "I will check my schedule first, and I will try to go." Brian wanted to stay with the children when they were growing up, because that happiness of the children's success could not be gain from others. "Did Oscar come to you for the competition?" Speaking of the competition, he reminded of Oscar, who made him feel sore in heart. "He gave lesson to Luke. As long as he is available, Luke will have class at our home, and Oscar can have delicious meal. One stone, two birds." This was Luke's opinion, which was accepted by Brian and Oscar. "I want to be there too. I want to see your aunt and have dinner at you hone every day." Brian became jealous as a kid and raised his requirement to Winnie, but he was serious. As Winnie was to take food, she stopped when she heard that. "My aunt said she does not want to see you. She will see you when we determined to ger married." Actually Winnie had not told her aunt that Brian wanted to see her, because her aunt opposed them to be together, and the other reason lied in Brian. He always changed his attitude to her and she had no idea how long their relationship could last, so it was pointless to see her aunt. Then she added, if she did not add it, Brian might misunderstand her. "My aunt doesn't force us to get married, she thinks it is our thing. As long as we get married, the parents could be involved. If we don't get married, there is no need to meet." "Don't think too much, so as want you want to do. But don't meet my aunt, if she does not want to see you." Winnie explained, hoping her words would not cause burden to Brain. "So it is not easy to see your aunt, she must be disappointed at me." Brian knew he could not give Winnie a legal marriage, but he would not give up. Winnie did not anger, but raised the corner of her mouth. It was not only her aunt disappointed at her, even the woman he loved was disappointed at him for many times. "Your aunt doesn't allow me to go to your home, you don't go to the suburbs and you don't like the hilltop villa. How can we meet? Are we getting less and less chance?" Brian was depressed and did not even know how the food tasted. Yes, there would be less and less chance, but Brian, it was you lost the chance. If you were not cold to me when you cane back, and I had not heard what you said, we will not lose the chance so early. If you came to my home that night, or called me, I would not have been so disappointed at you. And if I didn't heart what you sad, we could be good for a longer time. Winnie stared at Brian and said that in heart. She would not let Brain know her thought at this moment. She took her sight back and then said. "There will be a chance." "We will talk about it later, now eat." Winnie gave a faint smile, but her heart was bitter. In the next day, Oscar went to the prison at noon and brought some food to Penny. He sat a while in the meeting room before Penney was taken out by the police. Penny asked him who was that man came to see her. "Have you found out who the person you met last time?" She sat down and asked anxiously. It was only then did Oscar think of what Penny asked him to do. He did not require it or check by hacking, so now he did not know what to say. "I don't know him, and I know few people in B City, so I did not find it out. I asked Daenerys and Winnie..." Before he could finish, Penny stopped him. "What did they say?" "Nothing, but it was confirmed that it was not Brian did not arrange a single room and come to see you. I know Brian and he is not Brian." That was all he said, because he could not say too much. "Alas..." Penny took a sigh with disappointment. It was not a good news for him, it was seen that she was scheming. Seeing that she was disappointed, Oscar said. "Don't think too much, behave well. And things outside have nothing to do with you. No matter who came to see you, be grateful to him." "Penny, you are still young, even if you are in prison, you can make achievement in 6 years. I hope you can be out soon and we still are best friends." Oscar found that Penny was still ambitious and there was still hatred in her eyes. She let him down, but as a friend, he had to advise her. "I know, I will behave well." Oscar's words seemed to touch Penny. She was not anxious anymore and her look eased. Oscar thought she would stay in prison for 6 years at most, but Penny had no idea how long she would stay. If her father was caught and said the murdering was related to her, she could not go out anymore. That was why she could now calm down, and she was eager to know what happened outside. "How are they doing?" It was the first time Penny asked about them. She was not worried but wondered anything bad happened to them.
