CHAPTER 521 HER SISTER IS DISCRIMINATED AGAINST

As dinner began, the whole family sat down together. This was the most crowded time ever. Actually, seeing such a complete table of people, Felix felt quite pleased. This feeling was not in line with his family's situation at all. This feeling was happy and warm, it was the kind of happiness where there was no estrangement between heart and heart. It was just that he wanted more than this pleasure. He wants the big picture of the Bennet Group. If the Bennet Group is to survive in the business world forever, it needed more than a good leader. Competent helpers were also needed. When there was a slight change in the Bennet Group, they would try their best to protect everything about the Bennet Group and resist the change of the Bennet Group. That was Winnie could never do, only marriage between powerful families give security. "Let me say a word before we eat. Winnie has contributed a lot Luke's good performance." Felix's serious words surprised everyone, especially Winnie. Since they came, everyone was talking about Luke's competition, except for Felix. Winnie thought Felix did it deliberately and wanted to tell her that even if the child's education was good, she had no possibility to marry into the Bennet family. But what did he mean now? "No..." Before Winnie could finish, Maria interrupted her again. "It's a mom should do. It's nothing. But Winnie, Luke is really a genius." Maria's words could be understood if they were not a fool. Even if it was Winnie's credit, she should do it. There was nothing to brag about, much less to be phrased. Everyone understood it, but no one said anything. Even Felix, the first to speak, was silent. Winnie understood too. Felix admitted her credit, but reminded her by Maria's words. "Maria is right, Luke is really a genius in this respect." Winnie gave a faint smile, hiding her bad mood. "Let's all eat." Felix gave the order and everyone began to eat. As soon as Maria spoke, Brian's face was dark. But he didn't say anything but put up with it. He knew that the Bennet family still could not accept Winnie, but Maria should not say that in face of Winnie. She did not respect Winnie and also did not respect Brian. When they had just eaten a few mouthfuls of food, Luke spoke. There was a clear expression of discontent on his face. "Whether I am smart or not, it depends on my parents. Even if I am a genius, I should be educated. Not every genius can achieve great achievement, and not every mother can produce a world champion." With that, Luke continued to eat, but everyone paused. He spoke for his mother, but mocked at Maria. He was very angry about what Maria said. It was ok that she did not admit the credit of his mother, but she could not embarrass his mother on this occasion. He had been enduring it while they talked in the living room, but at dinner, Maria still gave his mother a hard time. If he did not speak, the food would not be delicious. "There's a sting in your words, boy. You're a genius, you should use your talent in the right place. How can you argue with the elders, it is rude, you know?" Maria was embarrassed. Others said nothing, but a child did not respect her, so she rebuked him angry so that she gave a lesson to Winnie. Seeing that Maria rebuked Luke, Felix finally spoke. "Luke..." However, as soon as Felix said a word, the voice of Megan covered his voice. "Brother, I know what you mean. Regarding that you are genius or your performance, it was because of Mom, right?" Megan said. She had been enduring and disliked Maria. "Yes, it is because of Mom. No one can deny it." Luke said with a firm attitude, did not accept any refutation. And he said that to everyone present. "What do you mean, Luke?" Maria was mocked by two children, naturally she felt embarrassed. "Grandma Maria, Brother means nothing. You are Uncle Jack's mother. If you raise him to be a talented person, you won't say those words if people say it's nothing to do with you." Megan words were obviously offensive. Winnie had been holding Megan's hand under the table and stopped her from speaking, besides that, no one said anything. As the father of the children, Brian should stop them, but he did not respond except that the gloom was dispelled from his face. Maria wanted to make a scene, Brian could not rebuke her, but the two children could not stand that their mother was bullied, even if he rebuked, it would be no use. "What are you talking about, Megan? You are ill-bred at such a young age, you will become worse when you grow up." Maria was scolded by the two children, feeling embarrassed, she rebuked them. "We are ill-bred, but we don't speak with sarcasm. We....." "Luke, stop talking. It is ill-bred if you talk like that. Megan, Luke, apologize to Grandpa Maria." Winnie stopped Luke in time, if she did not stop them, they would embarrass Maria. Two children were young, but they were much smarter than Maria. If she did not stop them severely, it would make it big. Megan and Luke looked at each other. They did not continue to say and then apologized reluctantly. "Sorry, Grandma Maria." The two children's apology was very simple, which was unintentional, but angered Maria. "It's an apology? Is that you Mom..." "Eat." Maria was furious and before she could vent out her anger, Felix stopped her in a cold voice. Maria was embarrassed, but did not dare to continue be arrogant. She took a glance at Winnie before she sat down. "Winwin, don't be angry with your aunt. She has a quick temper and doesn't know how to speak properly. But her heart is good." Thomas had to speak to alleviate atmosphere. It was his wife provoked his father. This occasion was not suitable for infighting and not suitable to say anything about Winnie. "I am not angry. Two children are not sensible. Maria is the elder and she can educate them." Winnie still smiled. As long as it didn't make things big, it did not matter she suffered injustice. Winnie then looked at Maria. "Maria, please forgive the children, they are not sensible, it is me that I didn't educate them well. I apologize to you for them. Sorry, Maria." Winnie had to say sorry, or Maria would hold grudge to her and would make troubles to her. "Like mother like son. There is no need to apologize. No wonder your family is disgraceful. I tell you..." Seeing that Winnie apologized, Maria thought she had a chance to vent her anger and was to scold Winnie, but Thomas kicked her. Maria stopped immediately and looked at Thomas with emotion. After being stared by Thomas, she put away the anger. "It's nothing. We are family." "Eat, eat, eat together." Maria changed her attitude immediately, pretended to be generous, but there was dissatisfaction in her eyes. Seeing that, Vanessa felt sad for her sister. Winnie had position in the Bennet family. She gave birth to two children and educated them well, but she was even inferior to a cooker in the kitchen. Would she have to endure his kind of contempt and neglect for the rest of her life? In the Bennet's old house, Maria made a scene, but the rest of the time was safe. Nothing about Winnie was mentioned, including Brian's blind date. Winnie felt satisfied with the safe end of this family gathering. Felix now respected her and began to care about her. In the evening, the family returned to the suburbs. Stella and Joshua drove back to their home. Joshua drove and Stella sat next to him. "Grandpa still doesn't accept Winwin." Joshua broke the silence in the car. "Yeah, I think grandpa did as much as he could without giving Winwin a hard time." Stella took a depressed sigh and felt uncomfortable that Maria made a hard time for Winnie. "I should speak for Winwin back them. I am married and Maria could do nothing about it and grandpa will not blame me." Stella blamed herself. "I think you should speak too, because we're the only ones who don't have a stake in it, and we would not be suspected. If I were not an outsider, I would speak." Joshua felt it was said that the two children spoke for Winnie. But Rufus and Brian were not appropriate to say anything, but Stella had superior condition. "I wanted to speak, but before I spoke, Luke didn't calm down, followed by Megan. Since they had spoken, if I spoke too, Maria would be embarrassed, and it will become big." Stella considered in many ways. If they children did not speak, she would stop Maria from mocking at Winnie. "The children sure will speak. They are smart and knew Maria was aimed at their mother as Maria spoke. If they could resist it under such a situation, their love for their mother is less profound." "Alas..... Don't worry too much about it. The two children can protect Winwin and no one dares to do anything to her." Joshua comforted Stella. Thinking of the way the two children scolded Maria, he could not help but smile. "Dear, I tell you, if no one stopped Maria, Maria was no match for the two children. They are only six, but they are smarter than a 60-year-old man. They spoke together and would anger Maria if they said a few more words." After that, Joshua continued to laugh and thought it was interesting.

CHAPTER 522 THE WRONG CHOICE

Stella could not help laughing at what the two children said. "Maria was arrogant. As an adult, she did not respect the two children. Winwin had stopped that, or Maria would be embarrassed." Stella felt more comfortable thinking about it. But then she thought of Vanessa. Vanessa had not been happy. When Maria was in disregard of Winnie, Stella found Vanessa's face had changed, but she had been enduring it. She must feel distressed that Winnie was treated like that. The car was silent for a while, then Joshua sighed. "Winwin is wise, solved the most difficult problem with the simplest way." Joshua admired Winnie's attitude, if for Wendy, they could not even finish the meal today. "Yes, it was hard for Winwin. Not a single member of the family stood up for her. Not only did she not get angry, but she handled it well. That's the smartest part about her." Stella knew that the most wronged person was Winnie and the most sensible person was also Winnie. But under that situation, that was the only thing they could do, but she did not know how long Winnie would have to face it. Brian drove Winnie and two children back. Vanessa and Rufus were in the other car. All the way Vanessa did not say a word, but had been looking out the window in a daze. Rufus tried to talk to Vanessa, but she still didn't speak. Two cars arrived home together, and they got off together. Vanessa still wore a gloomy face and said a word to Winnie before she went away. "Sister, I go upstairs to rest." Vanessa didn't give Winnie the chance to react and disappeared in the sight of Winnie. Winnie understood Vanessa's heart and knew Vanessa was distressed for her. "Winwin, go to see Vanessa, she had been silent all the way." Rufus had been worried all the way. He went to Winnie and asked her to see Vanessa. "Rufus, Vanessa is not irritable. She's probably in a bad mood, if you don't mind. I'll go and see her." Winnie explained for Vanessa. It was not their home after all. Although Rufus was good to them, although Vanessa was still young and felt difficult to control her mood, she could show a black face to the owner of the house. "What are you talking about, Winwin? How would I mind? I know she's in a bad mood, you just need to enlighten her." Hearing Winnie's words, Rufus was guilty and did not know what to say. Since Winnie said so, Winnie and Vanessa did not take here as home did not regard him as family. Such a mindset was proof that they lived here with caution. His own daughter lived in his house with care and restraint, which made him sad. "Thank you for understanding. I'll go up and have a look." Winnie politely said thank you before she went upstairs. She had to say it politely, because it was the Bennet's house. "Vanessa did not speak all the way?" Brian went to Rufus and asked. "Yes, she had been looking out the window and not saying a word. She might feel sad for Winwin." Rufus knew why Vanessa was not happy and knew that Vanessa was depressed at the table. Quality told her to eat polite in other people's homes, but her heart told her that she could not see her sister to be discriminated against. These two states of mind must alternately afflict Vanessa, it was not sisterly love if she was still happy under such state. Winnie came to Vanessa's room, only to see Vanessa crying in bed. Seeing the thin trembling figure on the bed, Winnie also felt distressed. She went to the bedside and sat down, patting Vanessa. "Vanessa, I am ok. Don't worry, it is not a big deal." Winnie knew that Vanessa could not accept indifference and disregard of the Bennet family to her. Winnie had anticipated this situation and had been ready for it, but she ignored Vanessa's ability to accept it. "Sister..." Vanessa sat up and hugged Winnie directly, crying sadly. After her parents did, her sister and aunt took care of her for so many years. She did not know what it was like to be wronged and what her sister had endured outside. But the attitude of the Bennet family made her think of a lot, of her sister's unknown heartbreak. In B City, the Bennet family was their family. If a family despised her sister, what would the outsiders treat her sister? "I am really ok. It's nothing. When you have a job, you will know it was not a big deal." Winnie held her sister in his arms and let her snuggle on her shoulder, even if Vanessa cried, she wanted to make Vanessa cry more comfortably. "Sister, it's different. We won't care how outsiders treat us, but I can't stand that our own family treated you like that." Vanessa left her sister's shoulder, sat up straight and wiped away her tears. Like she said, it was the attitude of family that hurt the most. "Sister, you are despised by Maria, but none of the Bennet family spoke for you, aren't you sad? Stella, Joshua, Rufus and Brian knew that Maria despised you, but they seemed have not heard it. Sister, they don't think of you as family." Vanessa said while crying. Winnie felt distressed but did not stop her. She had to let Vanessa say what was in her heart. Vanessa continued. "You gave them two children, but they don't think you're as good as a cooker in the kitchen. Why? I don't understand." "Everyone is equal now. Even if we are beggars, they have no right to be irony. We don't take any advantage of the Bennet family. Why did they treat you like that?" "Our family is poor, but we have dignity. We don't have to stay in their house, we don't want anything from their family. Why they treat us like we're thieves?" Vanessa felt sorry for her sister and thought such treatment was not fair. "Sister, no matter who asks you to go to the old house, don't go, we are poor, don't dirty eyes of the Bennet family." Vanessa cried more and more sadly, until she had a headache and had serious hypoxia. She was disappointed in the entire Bennet family, especially Brian. "How could Brian listen to that? He said he loves you, but it is not love, how can he allow his woman to be bullied?" "Sister, I was wrong. What happened to you was because of my selfishness. If I had listened to you and gone to a foreign university, we would have left here, and you would not have been suffered this." Vanessa realized that she had done the most regretful thing. At that time, everything was not late. If she chose to go abroad, her family would not be like now and her sister would not suffer such injustice. "Sis, I'm dropping out. We leave now. We leave the Bennet family, none of them is true to you." Vanessa was emotional and wanted to correct her wrong choice, immediately left the Bennet family, including Brian. They were all fooling her sister, they were all liars. Winnie could not help but shed tears, not because of her injustice, but Vanessa's concern. Winnie still did not speak, but got up and took tissue to Vanessa. She had one in her hand too to wipe her tears. In the meantime. Outside Vanessa's room stood Brian and Rufus. From the beginning to now, Vanessa's word had fallen into their ears. They were wrong, they made the two sisters sad, they did not protect them. Brian and Rufus had acknowledged all of Vanessa's accusations. Just hearing that Vanessa want to drop school and leave, Brian was afraid. He did not do a good job, failed to protect Winnie, it was his fault. He would try to correct his mistake, but absolutely he could not accept that Winnie left. Winnie had been his all. If she left, he would be a walking dead with no soul. Brian could not calm down when he heard that. He stretched out his hand to open the door and was to explain to Vanessa, but Rufus stopped him. Rufus did not speak for fear that the two sisters in the room would hear him. He only told Brian with his eyes that he could not go in now, or Vanessa would be more emotional. For Vanessa's accusations, he was speechless. Winnie endured all grievances, Vanessa sure felt distressed for her. They lived together and they were close families. At the thought of Vanessa's grievance, Rufus felt sorry too. For Vanessa, the old house was her home. But in her own home, she was ignored unexpectedly and treated badly. In the eyes of Vanessa, it was a ruthless cold-blooded family. They all had no human interest. Inside and outside the door were silent. Vanessa's mood got better. Winnie wiped her tears before she spoke. "Vanessa, I feel bad that Maria treated me like that, but it's natural that she looked down on people of humble status like us." "If I can say no, I will not be there again. Don't worry." Winnie comforted Vanessa, no matter what, she could not have a negative impression on anyone. "It's a complicated family, there's so much we don't know. But I want you to understand everyone because they have a position to stand for, because they all want the big picture." "Vanessa, it is right that they did not speak for me. If they did, contradiction would grow bigger and we could come back smoothly. They are angry to see me being mocked and feel bad for me, but they can't make everyone unhappy just because they feel bad." Winnie wanted to untie Vanessa's knot in heart bit by bit, bit by bit to make her understand all the people. "Sister, you have a good heart. They don't want to see the conflict escalate, so they're gonna sacrifice you, let you suffer alone? If they did not speak for you this time, Maria will be worse to you. Do you have to bear every trouble caused by Maria in the future?"

Hey, My Twins Babies

CHAPTER 523 DECIDE TO LIVE IN SCHOOL

Vanessa understood Winnie's explanation, but she could not accept it. She refuted Winnie's words, and did not want Winnie to solve all the problems with a kind heart. "Sister, there are many ways to solve the problem. They speak for you, it doesn't mean they have to have quarrel. As long as the method is right, it can be completely solved, why they did nothing but watch you were bullied?" "Vanessa, that was the easiest way. We had just begun to eat, and we couldn't delay the time to have meal. And, I promise you, I won't go to the old house any more. No one can bully me." Winnie knew her grievances, also knew that sacrificing her was not the only solution. But they were the Bennet family and only she could be sacrificed. Winnie thought so, but she could not say that to Vanessa, or Vanessa felt her more oppressed. There was no chance that she could go to the old house. Once Brian had a blind date, she might not even be able to live in the suburbs. There was no need to worry about the future. There was nothing human about the family and it made no difference to her if she went there or not. "And Brian, don't you blame him. He's the last one who can speak. I told him before I went to Bennet's house not to be on my side, in any case." "It was all family to him, and if he stood up for me on occasions like that, there would be chaos and quarrels at the table. Once they had quarrels, they think worse of me and I will have to take the blame." "That is it and it had been solved smoothly. I feel it was much better to have a quarrel. Vanessa, there are many ways to solve the problem, but to use the simplest and best method is the smartest choice." "There must be some grievance, but it's worth changing your position." Winnie was afraid that Vanessa hated Brian and had bad impression on Brian, so she had to explain to Vanessa constantly. Actually, when Maria made it hard for her, she hoped that Brian could speak for her, but it was all about the big picture. "Sister, but do you have to stand in other people's position and suffer grievance yourself all your life?" Vanessa managed to hold back her tears, but after hearing her sister's considerate words, she shed tears again. Her sister did nothing wrong to anybody, her sister would rather suffer grievance than compete with others. This made others comfortable, but she had to be wronged. "No, I won't be like this all my life. When the chips are down, when it comes to principle, Brian will be there for me. If he makes me feel wronged all my life, then he is not worth my love." If Brian really made her feel wronged, Winnie would not give him a chance. "Sister, why are you so silly? Why don't you love yourself?" Vanessa hugged Winnie and cried. She knew that no matter how much she loved her sister, she could not change her sister's attitude, could not change her sister's way. "I feel enough you love. Well, don't cry, with you, I am not afraid of anything." Winnie patted Vanessa on the back to appease Vanessa. She knew she was silly, or how she would stay with Brian? "Sis, we really can leave. I can go to school in any country. I can study well in any country. If you can leave Brian, let's go. No one likes us here. It's all people who hate us. No one likes us abroad, but at least we don't have to be hated. We don't need to see other's black faces." Vanessa still felt that they should leave, so that her family could live a quiet life. "Are you willing to let two children leave their father?" Winnie did not object directly, but asked Vanessa a question. Vanessa lay on Winnie's shoulder, silent. Yes, the two children were reluctant to leave, or they would have left. "No, We have no parents. We can't let the children leave parents." Vanessa left her sister's shoulders, sat up straight and took a deep breath. Though she had vented her anger, she was defeated by the existence of two children. She could only understand everything for the sake of two children. "Sis, I don't want to live here. I want to move out." Vanessa could not see her sister to be bullied by the Bennet family, and did not want to eat and drink free there and her sister was discriminated against. "Where are you going, Vanessa? I will worry if you are not here." Winnie was worried Vanessa to be alone. If she could feel relieved, she would not let Vanessa come to the Bennet's house. "Sister, I live in the schoolhouse with my classmates and eat in the school canteen. I feel comfortable spending my own money on food and shelter. That's it. Bring me there on Monday when you go to work." Vanessa said with a firm attitude. She did not want to leave her sister, but she had grown up and could not bother her sister any more. "Vanessa..." "Sister, I have decided. I will tell Rufus I have a lot to study and it is a waste of time to go back and forth." Vanessa did not give Winnie the chance to speak but made the final decision. The Bennet family was so good to her that she couldn't tell it was true or not. Though she asked herself to understand everyone, she could not figure out why they could be so indifferent to the bullying to her sister. In the old house. After everyone had gone, Felix was drinking tea alone in his study, while thinking of Winnie's attitude towards Maria today. Considering the overall situation, she endured the grievance, there was only she could be so considerate probably. She didn't make things worse, she didn't embarrass the Bennet family, she didn't turn a nice reunion dinner into a war zone. Only she could be so tactful. Thinking of Maria's attitude to Winnie, Felix was angry. He got up, opened the door and shouted to Thomas. Not much later Thomas trotted over. "Dad, what is up?" Thomas asked carefully. But Felix's attitude was very cold. "Tell your wife to get out of the house if she talks nonsense again when there were visitors. She doesn't even have the intelligence to deal with children, just wants to make fun of others. Who does she think she is?" "It was Winnie who came. I didn't say anything. Who is to hear her talking in a strange way? She doesn't accept your brother's family before I'm dead." Felix was scolding. He was unsatisfied for Maria's behavior today. Although he did not stop in time, she should know to stop in time and should know it was not suitable to play rough today. "Dad, don't be angry. I told her off in the room just now. But she was angry because Winnie didn't say hello to her when she came in." "She was targeting Winnie's impolite behavior, not brother's family. You think too much." Thomas explained for his wife. He knew that his wife had made troubles today, but play rough to Winnie was not a bad thing. "Winnie was not polite to her? I didn't see it. Even if Winnie did not say hello, she could not haggle over every ounce.

Don't cover for her. I think she just wants to show her status and play rough to Winnie." Felix did not believe in Thomas's explanation, he did not find a good excuse. Winnie was a person who could handle big things properly. How could she neglect such small things as etiquette? "Dad, I scolded her. Besides Winnie is not a family member of us, don't pursue it. I'll warn Maria again and it won't happen again." Thomas did not bother to explain, said perfunctorily and then changed the topic. "Dad, Brian has been back for several days. Will you arrange his blind date?" "Yes, it is a must. I will tell you the exact time after I confirm with Brian." Felix gave a straightforward answer without hesitation. After answering, he remembered Winnie's tact, wisdom and reason. He did not know which one would be better between Winnie and the blind date. Winnie returned to her room when Vanessa stopped crying, but she didn't succeed in stopping Vanessa from moving out. "Vanessa's mood..." Brian went to Winnie. He heard from the beginning to the end and knew Vanessa's attitude, but he still wanted to show his concern. But when he went to Winnie, he found Winnie's eyes were red and swollen, so he could see that she had cried. "Did you cry?" Brian asked sadly. He only heard Vanessa crying, but did not hear Winnie crying. "Yes, Vanessa cried and I did not control myself from crying." Winnie explained in a low voice. There was no way she could stand it when her sister was crying. After her parents died, she tried her best not to grieve her sister, but her sister cried sadly because of her. "I'm sorry, it's all my fault. You've both been wronged." Brian held Winnie in his arms and said sorry. Vanessa was right that he was not thoughtful and that he failed to protect Winnie. "Never mind. Don't say sorry." There was a grievance, but Brian made it up to her with a hug. "Vanessa is young and has not experienced these things. For so many years she was under protection of me and my aunt. She does not know what is grievance, so she could not accept it. Don't worry, I explained everything to her and there will be no emotion." Winnie understated their injustice. "By the way, Vanessa's behavior today is very impolite, is Rufu angry?" "No, no. He has been worrying about Vanessa." Brian knew that his father would not haggle over every ounce, so he would not be angry with Vanessa. Instead, he cared about her even more than he did. "Good, I'm glad that he doesn't mind it." "Brian, Vanessa said she had intense task in study, so she needs to move to the school. There will be teachers and classmates to take care of her and it will not waste time on the way to school, and Rufus doesn't need to pick her up. So I agreed."

Hey, My Twins Babies

CHAPTER 524 SOONER OR LATER, IT'S GONNA HAPPEN

Winnie felt it necessary to tell Brian about it in advance, so that he could be ready. Brian was surprised to hear that and let go of Winnie. He had heard that Vanessa wanted to move out, but he had not heard Winnie's affirmative answer. How could Winnie agree? Vanessa wanted to move out, because there was a knot in her heart. Brian did not want her to leave with resentment to his family. She move out with this mentality, Brian would be worried. "Winwin, a girl is safer at home. She is still a student and can't deal with problems at all. She said she was moving out, you should stop her, how can you agree with that?" "I am worried about her too, but her attitude was tough and I couldn't stop her. I know that Vanessa's decision is very capricious without considering the Bennet family, but....." Winnie was embarrassed and did not know how to explain. But she did not explain, she was afraid that Brian would have a wild thought. "Brian, actually, Vanessa couldn't understand what had happened today. She said that she could understand everyone's silence, but she loved me dearly and could not see me being bullied. She also did not want to make others find an excuse to despise me because she was living here for free." Although Vanessa did not say these words, Winnie guessed that it was the reason she insisted on leaving. "Vanessa has never been unruly since she was a child, even when she went through puberty. This time she was too sensitive. I know that her sudden departure will make Rufus and Stella uncomfortable, but I want her to be willful once and learn to be independent." Actually, the most important reason for Winnie was to worry about Vanessa's illness. If she lived here for a long time, what happened today would happen again. She was afraid that Vanessa could not stand it and it would affect her illness. After listening to Winnie's words, Brian swallowed all the words of opposition. He did not create a good living environment for Vanessa, how could he ask her to stay? "Since she is determined to move out, I would not force her to stay, but you need to see her often. Let me know if she needs help." That was Brian could only do. He felt sorry to Winnie and Vanessa, because he failed to protect Winnie and made Vanessa worried. Vanessa and her aunt gave him Winnie was because they felt he could give Winnie happiness and he could take care of Winnie. But on the contrary, he did not give Winnie anything, but Winnie thought for him and helped her solve all problems. Now he felt ashamed of Vanessa, how could he ask her to stay? As Winnie and Brian were discussing about who told Rufus about it, Brian's phone rang. He went to the bed and picked it up. Seeing that it was his grandfather's, he answered it. "Grandpa." His voice was low and slightly dissatisfied, because it was his grandpa invited Winnie, he should not allow Maria to make a hard time for her. "I have something to tell you. I couldn't say it when Winnie was here, so I can only make a call to you." "You have been back for several days, you should be ready for the blind date. Tomorrow is the weekend. You pick a time and I'll arrange it." Felix was domineering, not asking for Brian's opinion, but giving a direct order. Brian frowned, looking at Winnie with embarrassment. There was constant harm to her. Until now he had given Winnie warmth, but he had to hurt her again. Brian did not want to do it, but he could not refuse. "The day after tomorrow, six in the evening." In the end, Brian picked a time. But when he said time, when he looked embarrassed, Winnie had guessed it was the blind date. After the call was over, Brian held the phone firmly in his hand. He did not know how to say to Winnie about such a ridiculous thing. "Blind date, right? You have agreed with Chairman a long time ago, you should fulfill your words." Winnie didn't want Brian to be in a dilemma, so she took the initiative to mention it. Brian was ashamed and speechless. "Brian, if you meet a woman of good character, get married. Otherwise, Chairman will keep pushing you to go on a blind date, and he will think I am in the middle to prevent it." Winnie knew sooner or later it would happen, it'd better to start early and end early. She was impossible to marry Brian, it'd better to make Brian have a family as soon as possible, so that Felix had nothing to worry about. Maria did not make a big deal, but Winnie understood one thing. Seriously speaking, Thomas and his family had no right to interfere her relationship with Brian, but Maria still looked down on her and showed her a black face. Since Maria did not respect her, even if she married in to the Bennet family, she would not be able to lead a peaceful life. It might as well get his whole family happy. "Winwin, what do you and the children do if I get married? I won't get married." Brian decisively refused. Now he felt sorry for Winnie, if he got married, he would become a jerk. "My children and I will still live here and nothing will change. Brian, I am willing to be with you. I do not need to marry you and do not want status. As long as you love me, and as long as the four of us can be together, I will be content." Before Winnie could finish her words, Brian embraced her into his arms. She knew that Brian was touched and that Brian loved her that she was telling a lie. But at the moment, if she wanted everyone to live quietly, if she wanted Brian not to be dilemma, she could only say so. She really wanted to be with Brain, and she really wanted to give her children a complete home, but she knew she couldn't share a man with another woman. The children were still small, she had no other choice. But when they grew older and could accept the fact, she would leave. Perhaps by that time Brain's heart had shifted to his wife, and she would leave with ease. "Winwin, the more you don't fight or rob, the more I feel I owe you. As long as you always are with me, give me some time, I will not disappoint you. I will manage to persuade grandpa." Brian was moved. Hearing what Winnie said, he felt that he was a bastard. Woman took all blame and endured everything for him. However, he gained nothing for this woman in his arms, but only made her sad. "I'll wait for you. I'll give you time. But don't force it. Let it be. Just don't make me the enemy of everyone." Winnie was really afraid that she was hated though she was kind to others. If so, her life would be failure. Rufus had a complex mood. He walked back and forth in the room, again and again thinking of Vanessa's distressed words. He had heard that Vanessa would leave, it was not her fault, it was he failed to take care of her. Rufus was guilty of Vanessa and Isobel. He promised Isobel to take good care of Vanessa, but he failed so, but made her cry sadly. Rufus felt it was necessary to call Isobel to talk about it. After the phone was connected, Rufus asked Isobel's physical condition first. "Well, have you been out of the hospital?" Rufus's voice was low and moderate, feeling indebted to Isobel. "Yes, I discharged today." Isobel was having a rest in the hotel room and then she received a call from Rufus. It didn't really make any difference to her if she had discharged or not. She lived in hotels, though hospitals were much more expensive than hotels. "I have sent the man who took care of me back. Thank him for me. The weather here is very good these two days. I want to stay here for a few days and then go to H Country with a tour group." Before Rufus asked, Isobel told him her plans in recent days. She knew Rufus called her for that. "Have a good rest these two days and take care of yourself if you go abroad. Find a reliable tour group. Don't be fooled." Rufus said. He was not around Isobel, so he was worried about her whether she was good or not. "It's all right. I won't be fooled. If nothing else, I'll hang up." Isobel answered indifferently and was to hang up the phone, but was stopped by Rufus. "Wait, I have something to tell you." "Isobel, I took Vanessa to the old house today..." Rufus told Isobel what happened today, including the conversation between Vanessa and Winnie and that Vanessa wanted to move out. Isobel listened to him quietly, did not interrupt him once. Isobel's calm attitude made Rufus nervous. "Alas....." Isobel took a sign, which flustered Rufus. "Isobel, I failed to do what I promised you. I failed to take good care of Winwin and Vanessa, but I don't want Vanessa to live in school. I never thought it would be a problem to pick her up and take care of her. I really will be worried if she lives in school." Rufus didn't want Vanessa to move out. He felt relieved and happy that he picked her up every day. He made this call was to say sorry, wishing Isobel could help him. However, Isobel's answer surprised Rufus. "Since she wants to live in school, let her do it. She's old enough to learn to be independent. And it could happen again in your family or..." At this, Rufus interrupted Isobel. "No, I promise I won't take her to the old house again. Not only will she not go, but also I will not let Winwin go. Neither of them will be laughed at." Rufus thought Isobel would be worried if Vanessa moved out and she would try to stop Vanessa. However, Isobel's words were unexpected, as if there was no hope. "No, you can't keep your promise. You're all Bennets. The suburbs and the old house are the Bennet's. Even if the two sisters don't go to the old house, you can't stop the people from the old house from coming to suburbs." "Do they always tell you before they go to you? Do you always keep the two sisters away before they go to you? I think it would hurt their pride more."

CHAPTER 525 START HERE

Because Isobel felt distressed about two sisters, she agreed with Vanessa's leaving. She should have known it would happen, after all, they were so lowly in the eyes of the Bennet family. Isobel was extremely uncomfortable to hear that. Although she didn't know much about the situation, Rufus told her that no one spoke for Winwin except the children. It was ok that others did not stand up for Winnie, because no one was obligated to be good to Winnie. But Brian said he would protect Winnie, would not make her sad, but he was silent. "Isobel....." Rufus wanted to explain more, but Isobel did not give him the chance to speak. "You shouldn't let Winwin and Vanessa go to the old house. We are humble, we can't handle the momentum of the old house." Isobel again took a deep breath, as if there was resentment in her heart that could not be released. "Since Vanessa is leaving, don't think too much about it. She's not like Winwin, she doesn't have ability to withstand setbacks." "Winwin has been suffering from various grievances since her parents died. Compared with Vanessa, she can understand more things and is able to accept more unequal treatment. But Vanessa can't do that. Her illness doesn't allow her to bear the contempt that seeps into bones." "Again, for Vanessa's disease, let her move out." Isobel felt heartache saying that. She wanted to fix everything with the Bennet family as soon as possible, but it was getting deeper and deeper. She wanted to protect Vanessa, but eventually Vanessa was hurt. When would this entanglement and piercing torture end? "I'm sorry, I'm ashamed. I failed to take good care of them..." Rufus was embarrassed and speechless. He kept apologizing, but before he could finish his words, the phone went silent. "Isobel... Isobel, are you listening?" No one answered, Rufus was sure that Isobel had hang up the phone. He had to tell Isobel about it, Isobel was out, she must be worried. The next day. Like nothing had happened, Vanessa had the same attitude towards people as usual. After breakfast, she said she had something to do at school. Felix wanted to give her a ride, but she said she would go with her classmates and refused Rufus. After Vanessa left, Winnie and Brian went to the hilltop villa with two children. Since their return, they had no time to entertain their friends, who were eager to celebrate. They were available today, so Brian chose to gather in the hilltop villa, a place with excellent environment and air. Although Winnie did not like the hilltop villa, there was no better place, so she came reluctantly. It was the first time for Luke and Megan to come here. They were surprised by the luxury and modern design here. "Dad, whose house is this?" Standing in the courtyard of the villa, looking at the big villa, Luke asked. "It is ours." Brian replied softly and proudly to the two children. Since he brought them here today, he didn't intend to hide anything. This was their home and the kids had the right to know about it. "Our house?" Megan asked her father in disbelief. "Yes, it is ours. Technically, mom owns this place, but you can't tell anyone about it. This will be our secret base for the four of us." To avoid his grandpa and his uncle knowing that he had private property, he had to remind the two children to be careful. "It's Mom's house, we can't tell anyone about it. Can't we tell grandpa and aunt?" Megan still could not believe it. Her mother had been busy making money, how could she have money to buy such a good house? "Grandpa and Aunt Stella, Aunt Vanessa and Grandpa cannot know it for the time being." He didn't want to hide it from everyone, but the more people knew it, the more risky it was. It was not time for him to show off. "Ok, but Mom doesn't have enough money to buy such a nice villa. If she has money, we wouldn't have a tough life all these years." Megan still didn't believe it was her mother's house. "Don't listen to your Dad, it is your Dad bought this house." Winnie came to clarify that the owner of the house was not her. She never wanted the house, which was full of bad memories. "I bought it, but I gave it to your Mom. Now the ownership is your Mom's." Brian rejected Winnie's words. He had transferred this house, including the mountain, to Winnie's name. It was Winnie's private property. "I don't want it. I don't like it." Winnie was not excited that she was the owner of the house, but felt depressed. Two children were stunned and were unable to conclude who owned the villa. At this time, Brian came to Winnie and whispered. "I know you don't like it. No matter how much you hate it, no matter what bad things happen here, we started here, our first memories are from here." "Take it or not, I have given it to you. It has been transferred to your name, and it will cost a great deal of money if you give it back to me. Take it for the money's sake." Brian said softly, and then crouched down beside the two children. "This is where both of your lives began. This is your hometown." He laughed, wondering if the children could understand him, but it really started from here. At that time, Winnie was special to him. When he had just lost his memory and was confused, it was Winnie's existence that gave him some sense of security. He grew spiritual sustenance on the woman he had never seen, as well as a sense of physical dependence. "Mom and Dad made us here?" Megan knew the meaning of her father and asked. "You are clever!" Brian praised Megan's shrewdness. "No, you have taught them wrongly." Winnie hurried to stop it, for fear that Brian said more and taught the children wrongly. "There's a lot to get ready. Let's get in." "You mom is shy!" Brian joked at Winnie, Megan and Luke followed suit. "Mom is shy! ... There were indeed a lot of things to be prepared, but Brian had already found someone to do it, Winnie did not need to do it personally. They just needed to wait to receive their guests. At noon, the two children took a nap. Winnie and Brian also went back to the room for some sleep. Brian thought of Vanessa. "Vanessa is not occupied by the school affairs but went to arrange the dormitory, right?" "Yes, she said she wouldn't tell Rufus until it has been arranged." Winnie answered the question while lying on the bed with her phone in her hand and playing her game. "I'll call their principal and arrange a good dormitory for her." Brian picked up the phone, but Winnie sat up to stop him. "Leave her alone and let her manage her own affairs. She has to learn to be independent. You can't make arrangements for her all her life." Winnie stopped Brian, not only for this reason. The most important reason was that Vanessa had told her before she left she did not need anyone's help. "I am worried that she would meet bad roommates and that she would not be able to eat and sleep well." Brian put down the phone. He wanted to respect Winnie, but could not help but worry. "Let her arrange herself first, if she fails, you still have time to help her." Winnie found an excuse, and then began another topic. "Brian, I really can't have this house. I hate here, but I don't deny that I have special feelings about this house. But..." "No buts. If you want to be with me all your life, you have to accept all the things I give you. Either you're perfunctory to me, or you want to leave me." "What I have is yours. Your refusal only proves that you don't love me enough." Brian's passionate and loving words made Winnie speechless. It was obvious that if she insisted to refuse, it proved that she wanted to leave, and Brian could not settle down. It seemed that Brian was testing her in this way. Winnie said nothing, but sighed. In order to reassure Brian, she could only temporarily accept it. "You are as stupid as you can be. I don't ask you for anything, but you still give it to me. I'll take it since you have a problem with your brain." "Really?" Brian couldn't believe it for a moment. "It's mine. There's no point in refusing." Winnie forced a smile, but it was suppressed and burdened. "Ok, the car in the garage is yours too. Give your car to Vanessa. And....." Brian thought Winnie figured it out, thought that she would accept the car since she had accepted the house, but he was wrong. "No, I can't do that. Vanessa is still a student, she should be like a student, and she can't drive." Winnie refused decisively. The more she made public, the more envy it would brought. She didn't want to make too many enemies for herself. And if Felix saw that, she would be a typical gold digger. "But you said..." "No buts, if your force me to accept the car, I will give up this villa." Winnie was adamant and threatened Brian. "Winwin, you are the director of our company, a shareholder in your company. You should have a good car, it is not making public." Brian was still not convinced, but he dared not force her, for fear that Winnie would give up the villa. "It's ok to drive a good car, but your car is ten million at the cheapest. I can't afford to drive such a good car." Winnie thought those car was a burden to her, she could not afford it. "You know, I still owe people money, if they know I drive such a nice car, I will be called a cheater."

CHAPTER 526 BRIAN'S MEDICINE

Winnie accidentally mentioned that she owed money, but the word “cheater” was spoken of. When She remembered that in Brain's eyes in the past she was a cheater too. "I'll pay the money you owe." Brain said without hesitation, but Winnie gave a bitter smile. "I can't find him, how do you pay?" "You can't find him? Where is he? How much do you owe?" Brain was confused that the lender could not be found. He had never heard of such a thing. Brain asked Winnie where the person was, but Winnie did not have the answer. "I have four million ready, and I would have paid him back if I knew where he was." "I do not know why he suddenly disappeared. He did not answer my phone and when I called again, he had turned off the phone. Anyway, I can't find him." Winnie had it in mind, only when she paid the money back, could the past be over. "I have never heard of such a thing. Since he was willing to lend you money, why did he disappear? Is it a man? Does he like you? Is he silently helping you?" Brian said in a sour voice, it seemed that only this possibility could explain. Hearing that, Winnie could not help laughing. "It's a man, but I don't think he'll like me. What kind of fool would disappear after helping me if he likes me? It's not like that." "Alas..... This man is..." Winnie sighed and wanted to talk about this man and how she owed 4 million, but as soon as she spoke, Brian's cell phone rang and interrupted her. The phone was close to Winnie. Winnie reached out and handed it to Brian. He looked at the caller id and frowned. "It is Wendy, she has been calling me these days, but I did not answer it." Brian said, refused to answer and then turned it into mute. "Maybe she has something to tell you." Winnie said indifferently. Hearing Wendy's name, she was in a bad mood and resisted Wendy in the heart. "I don't have time to deal with anything right now." Brian knew the purpose of Wendy's call, but he did not want to see Wendy or listen to her explanation. "Wendy... Didn't Wendy help you find your memory back? What did you remember?" Winnie had endured for a long time. She knew she should not ask that, but she could not help it. "Nothing. She said the accident was solved at the time. But I don't have the memory of solving things. I always thought she was wrong, maybe there was something wrong with my memory." Brian gave the same answer as Morgan. Only he didn't say about that thing. "Don't worry, the memory will come back little by little." Winnie did not know what to say, and didn't know if she was cheating Brain or not since she did not tell the truth. All she could offer at the moment was comfort. Winnie's comfort silenced Brain, he bowed his head, depressed. "What's the matter?" Winnie asked with concern. "Winwin, it is not easy to have my memory back, and once I have a headache, I will forget some things." Brain said sadly, thinking of his state. "What do you mean by once you have a headache, you will forget some things?" Winnie suddenly felt anxious. "My selective amnesia continues. It's not just what happened before the accident I forget. After the accident, once I have a headache, I will forget something." "I remember after my first headache, I forgot a lot of things and couldn't think of anything. To avoid this, I have formed a habit of keeping a diary. As long as I read my diary after every headache, I have avoided many accidents." Brain said sadly, and he had never mentioned it to anyone, including his father and sister. "How can there be such a stubborn amnesia? Have you recovered from the injury?" Winnie was distressed and felt incredible. It is a stubborn disease, for so many years, his memory still lost. "The blood clot in the head has been completely absorbed. I have been checked in major hospitals at home and abroad. There is nothing abnormal, but I will have a headache and lose some memory." In the past few years, Brain had to look for famous doctors all over the world to cure his disease, but none of them had a reasonable explanation. Over time, he gave up treatment and accepted the condition. "It is strange, why there is no explanation?" Winnie was worried. If not cured, Brain would have this disease for a lifetime and he had to write a diary to remember what happened for a lifetime. "But it is much better after I meet you. I have fewer headaches, and I retain my memory. But it has not been cured completely, sometimes I got headaches, so I have to keep a diary." Brain smiled bitterly. Writing diary seemed to have become a habit of his, even if he did not have headache or he could keep his memory, he could not quit this habit. "I help you write, you say, I ghostwrite." To relieve the low mood of Brain, Winnie used jokes to eliminate Brain's depression. "That's a good idea. I'll record everything I do and you can help me put it in my diary." Brian thought it was a good idea. Because of Winnie's words, he felt much better, but there was one thing he had to explain to Winnie. "Only my sister and Kevin know my headache, but only you know I keep losing memory." "Winwin, don't tell anyone, especially Uncle Thomas. Once he knows, he will convene a meeting of the board of directors, he will deprive my position at any time." "I'm not fit for top management at all." Hearing that, Winnie knew what was going on. It was a secret, which could not be known. She must keep her mouth shut, as if she knew nothing. "Don't worry, no one will know." With that, Winnie hugged Brain and comforted him softly. "Don't care too much about the amnesia, I will be with you. As long as you don't have a headache, you will not lose your memory." "So I said you are my medicine, only you are can cure me. I'll never let you go." For Brian, Winnie was more than his medicine. She was his life. If she left, his life would end. "I can only accompany you for a while in this life, and one day I will leave you, and you will have to bear it alone. When the time comes, don't blame me for being selfish. I hope you will find better medicine that will cure all your diseases." Winnie said that in heard, but as long as she accompany Brain one day, she was the best medicine, so that he would not suffer that pain from headache and he would not have to worry about memory loss. In the evening, people gathered and the party began. "Mr. Bennet, your concealed it well. We all don't know this good place." Daenerys joked at Brain. She like that it was quiet. "It is not late to know it now. If you have a quarrel with Kevin, come here, so that he could not find you." Brian joked happily. "It is rare to see Mr. Bennet make a joke." Emily joined in, saying she had never seen Brian as happy as she was today. "You don't know him, but he's the craziest guy in the world. He's just hiding it." Kevin came over with a wine glass, revealing his friend's past, but it was years ago that Brian was crazy. "You're no better. You always gave advice to do bad things." Brain did not stop Kevin from speaking of the past. When they were kids, they were really crazy and naughty. They did everything together, so he refused to take all the blame. "Are you tattling on each other?" Leo and Oscar also walked over, seeing that everyone laughed happily. "Everyone is here, I want to say a few words." Brain suddenly became serious and then put his long arm around Winnie's shoulder. Seeing that Brain was serious, they stopped laughing and waited for Brain's speech. Brain adjusted his mood and then said. "I honestly didn't expect Luke to get such a good performance. A clever and studious child is indeed a powerful condition. Oscar's patient education also played a crucial role. But the person I want to thank most is Winwin." At this, Brain looked to Winnie. "Without this woman, my son's talent would have been buried whatever talent he had. Without this woman, I would not have known that I had a lovely daughter. Without this woman, I could not have changed my mind. She not only gives me affection and love, but also changes and warmth." "Brian..." Winnie did not expect Brain would be so emotional to say these words, she was moved, but she did not feel that she was so important, so she wanted to stop him. But once Brian spoke, he had no intention of stopping. And today he wanted everyone to witness his attitude. Even if Winnie stopped him, he wanted to finish the words. "Winwin, hear me out." "This woman has taken root in my life, has been the essential nutrition for my growth. I thank her for coming to my side, thank her for making me know life again and live with heart. Not only did she save my son, but also she brightened my life." With that, Brian turned to Winnie face to face, with his hands on her shoulder. "Winwin, since everybody's here, I solemnly thank you, thank you for coming to me, thank you for being with me without caring your status, thank you for everything you've done for our children." "Thank you for loving me, and for making me love you. Winwin, I love you!" Brian's deep feeling, love, thanks were in his words and his eyes.

Hey, My Twins Babies

CHAPTER 527 TRY TO EXPLAIN

Winnie was touched, she could not help but crying in Brian's arms. She did not expect that Brian, who was reserved, would express his deep gratitude express his attitude and his heart in face of everyone. She never thought that he would say he loved her in a serious attitude in face of so many people. She was touched. It was sudden, Winnie did not know what to say, and could only allow her tears flow. "It is enough that you said these words." Yes, it was enough for her to recall these words for a lifetime. She should write that in the diary and let it take root in her heart. Not only Winnie was touched by his words, and Daenerys and Emily could not help but wipe tears. In their opinion, it was worth that Winnie had been through all the suffering, after suffering, Winnie would only have a sweet life. Winnie cried for a long time before she stopped. Brian picked up the glass. "You witness for me, supervise me. I will protect Winnie all my life, and only love Winnie all my life. Here, cheers." Brian drank up as his voice fell. It was not wine, but everyone's witness, his promise to Winnie. "Cheers..." Everyone was willing to be a witness and then drank up happily. Everyone was happy, only Leo and Emily from time to time felt distressed and was touched by some scene from time to time. Both had something in mind, but on such an occasion, they would not say it. Emily didn't drink too much, but because of her mood, she soon got drunk. "Winwin, do you have a room for me, if you do, I will drink a lot." "Yes, there are plenty of rooms in my house. You can all stay here." Winnie smiled and answered Emily, knowing that she was drunk. "But Leo will not let you stay in my house." Winnie then joked about Emily. "He... He's too drunk to care about me." Emily wanted to say she and Leo had broken up, but she was afraid of destroying the rare atmosphere, so she decided to say it after this day. "No, Leo knows it well. When you drink, he doesn't drink too much. Just relax and drink. He will take care of you." As her voice fell, Winnie saw Brian picked up another glass of wine, so she walked to him. "Why are you still drinking? You can't drink too much." Winnie grabbed Brian's glass, but Brian avoided it. "It is ok, I will be fine with you here." With that, Brian bowed his head and attached to her ear, whispered. "You help me with tonight's diary." Today he was with Winnie all day. Winnie knew all the things that happened. It was no problem to write it down for him. "You should control yourself." Winnie was still afraid. She felt distressed that Brian had a headache, that kind of torture was unbearable. "I know, I will control it." Brian felt that he was the happiest person at the moment, with care from Winnie. Emily stood for a while and she felt tired, so she came to Daenerys and sat down. "Winwin will be have a happy life. Look, Brian cares about her." Emily said and associated with her own. Actually, she would like to have such a man to love her, but she did not know if this man had been born or now. "Do you envy? If you forgive Leo, you will have a happy life too." Daenerys whispered, for fear that Winnie would hear here and it would affect the atmosphere tonight. "Don't joke, I don't hate Leo, why should I forgive him? My happiness depends on my man, why bother Leo?" Unconvinced, Emily said, not only Leo was a man, not only Leo could give her happiness. On the contrary, Leo made her in tears. "Your man? Tell me where your man is?" Daenerys teased. In addition to Leo, Emily had no man. "In the womb." Emily answered, and she could not help laughing. "Then you'll have to be patient." As Daenerys' words just fall, before she said the next word, she saw Leo coming this way. Daenerys directly stood up. "I'll see if Kevin drinks too much, he won't be able to go home if he is drunk." Daenerys left with an excuse to create Leo and Emily a chance to talk alone. Before Emily figured out what happened, Leo had sat down in front of her. After seeing Leo, she said in a low voice. "Don't say anything today. Winwin and Brian are rarely so happy. I don't want to upset them." "You don't need to explain, I won't affect your blind date. I will tell Winwin tomorrow, and then I will fly away. From then on, I will not bother you and will not appear suddenly when you are dating." Emily could not forget his blind date, could not forget Leo's determined attitude. It was like she was trying to sabotage his plan. "I don't mean to say anything, and it has nothing to do with my blind date. I just come to explain..." "What do you want to explain? You made it clear that night, and I know what you meant. Leo, please rest assured, I... I really will not harass you. I'm not kind of person." "You can have your blind date and get married. Congratulation." Emily was sad to mention these things, and the effects of alcohol were even more obvious. If it were not for a trace of reason to tell her that she could not upset Winnie, she would cry out. "Why don't you let me finish? I just want to explain. Why don't you give me a chance?" Leo's said in a low voice, for fear that Winnie and Brian heard him. But he really did not want to miss this opportunity and really wanted to explain the blind date that day. If he could not make it clear tonight, he would not have a chance again. "I understand, you don't need to explain. Please don't insult my intelligence. I know what you're thinking. Blind date... Get married... Do as you want." Emily put down the glass and then stood up. "I'm going to play with the kids, you go and drink." Emily turned to go, ignoring Leo who was calling her name. "Emily....." "It's not like that..." Leo was helpless and depressed. Emily did not give him the chance. He did not want her to leave with hatred to him. Everyone stayed up late, and the party ended when Jelly Bean cried at home. Everyone was good, only Emily was drunk. "Emily drank too much, she could stay here." Winnie sought Leo's opinion. "No need, my driver would come to pick me up, I'll send her home." Leo was not going to leave Emily there. Even if she was drunk, he still wanted to explain the blind date. "Well, then, I won't keep you. Go back, and be careful." Leo left with Emily after saying goodbye to Winnie. He and Emily sat in the back seat, looking at Emily who drank too much and felt uncomfortable, he felt distressed. "How can you take care of yourself abroad?" Emily was dizzy and could not tell the direction, but she was sensitive to Leo's voice. She heard it very clearly. "Why can't I take care of myself? Anything is possible, you know. When I was on a blind date with you... I didn't know I'd be... No, no... Never mind." "Leo, let me tell you... I....." Emily was leaning on Leo's shoulder, because of the speech, because of the change of mood, she lifted her head from Leo's shoulder. "Leo, you had a blind date, get married... Let me know when you get married... Although I will be abroad, I will come back to bless you." Emily said generously, but she felt sad and her eyes became uncontrollably red. "Emily, I just want to explain the blind date to you. I....." "Don't explain it. Don't explain it to me." Emily interrupted Leo's words with a trembling voice. She tried to hold back tears, but she failed and her tears flew down. "You know what, Leo, I'm afraid... The thing that scares me the most is your explanation. I understand... I know everything." She said so, but Emily was asking herself what she knew, if she understood Leo. If she did, why it ended up like this. Oh, god, she was going crazy with her tears. She could not in tears without dignity. Dignity, what was dignity? It was that she could not cry in face a man who did not love her. "I don't cry... I must not cry. I wish you all the best... No matter how we used to... Forget it... It's nothing to speak of." Emily was incoherent, but she comforted herself, tried to hold back tears and did not want to be pitiful in face of Leo, but she felt sad and her heart was bleeding. "I know you don't want to hear me explain, but I want to." Leo had been unable to find the opportunity to explain, because Emily didn't want to listen to him. But it was still stopped by Emily. "Explain what? People should be confused sometimes. No matter what... It's in the past and even if you explain it, it won't change anything." "Winwin is back and we had fun. Tomorrow... Yes, I have to book a flight tomorrow." "You..... Don't forget to tell me when you get married. No feelings... no love, but we had our mutual friends, Winwin and Daenerys... So I have to come back for your wedding." After these words, she felt her heart painful. Emily gave a misty-eyed smile looking at Leo, but she could not hold back tears, so she allowed it flow down. Tears were out of control. Emily was not willing to swift her eyes away from Leo's face. She bit her lip, allowing the tears go crazy. She did not want to leave, did not want to leave this man, but she had to. What this fate that they could not be together? She loved this man, why did he have a blind date? How could he marry another woman?

CHAPTER 528 HELP WITH YOUR DIARY

Leo should belong to her. From the day she saw him, she felt Leo was her destiny, but why did it end up like this? Emily was grievous and felt heartache. She could not control her emotion, hugged his neck and kissed him Her kiss was taking the taste of alcohol, mixed with love and hate and reluctance to leave Leo. Emily's sour tears flew into Leo's mouth, which him guilty and painful. He did not expect that he would hurt Emily so deep. He brought Emily pain, or her tears would not be so bitter. Leo knew at the moment it was not suitable for such passionate kiss, but he was unable to control himself. He wanted to more and wanted to hold Emily in his arms forever, so that she could not fly away. Leo's response made Emily came back to her sense. She suddenly pushed away Leo and then smiled in embarrassment. Tears still flowed, but a smile crept up her face, which was heart-wrenching. "Goodbye kiss." "I don't hate you. I want you to be happy." Emily said in a trembling voice and said to the driver. "Stop the car, I'm home." The she was to open the car door, Leo thought it was dangerous and pulled Emily. "You are not home. We are still in the hilltop." Leo was frightened by Emily's move. "I want to get off, otherwise you want to explain again of. It is pointless, why do you explain?" Emily said in gibberish, but Leo understood her that she was afraid of his explanation. She did not want to hear what she did not want to. "I won't explain it if you won't listen." "Sure?" With tears still on her face, she seemed to be relieved after hearing Leo's words. "Yes, as long as you are happy, I will not explain, I will say nothing." Leo guaranteed and did want Emily to stay away from him like he was a ghost. "Ok, don't talk. Don't you say anything. I want to sleep, I want to sleep." Emily did not get off, but closed her eyes, and feel asleep with her heard leaning behind. Looking at Emily shaking back and forth, he wanted her to sleep comfortably, so he held Emily's head on his shoulder. Feeling the familiar smell of her body, feeling the symmetry of her breath, he felt it was natural and logical. But why they had to separate, why they could not be together? Leo wanted to be back to her, but Emily even did not give him a chance. What kind of person he was in Emily's heart? Winnie sent away Leo and Emily, and returned to her room after the two children went to sleep. By this time, He was already lying on the bed, apparently asleep. Winnie got into bed lightly and lied next to Brian, quietly looking at his handsome face closing his eyes, she thought of his moving confession. At the moment she thought of nothing but those words, and was happy enough to look at the man in front of her. The corner of her mouth raised, even the beautiful dimples were sweet. She couldn't help kissing him on the face. Just as she tried to pull back her lips, she was suddenly suppressed by Brian. "You are up?" Winnie was frightened. The clever eyes were filled with panic. "You woke me up.

Am I really that handsome? You've been looking at me for so long and you're not tired of it." Brian joked, naughty in tone. He hadn't slept. He was dizzy and closed his eyes. But this woman lied on his side watching him and kissed him. Winnie rarely kissed him. "You are arrogant. Do you think I watch you because you are handsome?" Winnie shyly denied. Hearing that, she knew he was not asleep but just lied there enjoying to be watched and kissed. "Hahaha, I am not arrogant but confident." "Answer me, are you tired of me?" Brian asked with a smile, waiting for Winnie's answer with expectation. "No, I never will be tired of you." Winnie answered certainly, because she was sure that she would love Brian for a lifetime, how could she be tired of him? She would never be tired of his appearance, his body, his character, even his snore, she would remember them for the rest of her life. Brian smiled with satisfaction, and then said to Winnie. "I will never be tired of you either. You will always be my baby." "Disgusting, when did you get so disgusting!" Winnie smiled happily. She never thought such a powerful and domineering man would say such lovely words. "Am I? There will be more disgusting." Brian said with a smile, and then kissed Winnie's lips, so that she could not say naughty words. This kiss quickly heat up, it became from a tender kiss to a passionate one. Through the alcohol force, passion grew to the extreme in a sudden... The aura of passion still lingered in the big bedroom. Winnie nested in Brian's arms, listening to his rough breath, feeling his irregular heartbeat. "Do you have any discomfort, do you have a headache?" Winnie voice was low and soft. She had been worried if Brian would have a headache after drinking wine. "No, I'm in a good mood today, and I didn't drink that much. I just felt dizzy and wanted to sleep." Then Brian turned and embraced Winnie into his arms. "Winwin, help me write my diary. You made me too tired to get up." Hearing that, Winnie was shy. "I did not. You drank a lot." "You go to sleep and I'll write for you. But where shall I write on?" Winnie kissed Brian's forehead, then stood up and put on Brian's bathrobe. "I have my spare diary in the drawer. I also have a pen. You write it down, and then I'll tear it off and post it in my diary." Brian said with his eyes closed. His diary was in the study, but he wanted Winnie to write here, wanted to see her write seriously, wanted to fall asleep watching her. "Ok, sleep and I'll write for you." Winnie helped Brian cover the quilt and then got out of bed. She turned off all the lights except one on the dresser. Then she looked in the drawer for a pen and paper. When she opened the drawer, the first thing she saw were not pens and paper, but the phones that had been lying there. One of them was that Brian contacted with her, she did not know the second one and third one had the picture of the woman. Thinking of the picture, Winnie felt her heart like hit by a stone. It wasn't too painful, but it shook every cell in her body. It gave her a sense of panic. Winnie took a deep breath, forcing herself to ignore the phone in front of her. She was so happy today that she should have perfect memory of today. She took out a pen and paper and calmed her heart. Sitting in front of the dresser, she began to write today's diary for Brian. The next day Brian and Winnie got up very late and were woken up by two children. This night was the most restful night Winnie slept in the hilltop villa. "Mom, Dad, you get up late. Brother and I played for a long time and had finished breakfast, why don't you get up?" Megan lay prone at Winnie's bedside, said with dissatisfaction, pouting. "We stayed up too late last night, and we've been tired for a week, so we get up late." Seeing that Megan was not satisfied, Brian explained to Megan. "But you promised me and my brother to see Jelly Bean yesterday. Brother and I have a class in the afternoon, so we could only see Jelly Bean in the morning. If you get up in the middle of the day, we can't see Jelly Bean." Megan had her plan, otherwise she would not wake up her parents. "Oh, so you have a reason. All right, I will keep my promise. I am getting up, and after breakfast, we're going to see Jelly Bean." Brian hurried to get up, so as the children would not be disappointed. They had breakfast, cleaned up and went to Daenerys' house. Kevin was at work today. Brian sent the two children and Winnie to Daenerys' home and then went to the hospital to find Kevin. Kevin was not in charge today, so he was free. He had just returned to his office after checking the ward when Brian came. "Are you free day?" Kevin asked Brian, they had not talked alone for a long time. "Yes, but not tonight." Brian felt depressed thinking about it. "Why?" Kevin asked curiously while sorting out the cases on his desk. "Blind date." "Blind date again? Isn't it good you are with Winwin now? Why there is a blind date?" Hearing the words blind date, Kevin could not calm down. He paused. If he remembered right, Brian had sincere confession to Winnie and asked friends to witness that he only loved Winnie. It hadn't been twenty-four hours since he spoke. What a change! Was it illusion yesterday? "It's not up to me. If it is up to me, I will marry Winwin now. Grandpa only agreed me to be with Winwin on the premise of that I marry someone else." Brian was helplessness, if he knew what to do, he would not let it happen or hurt Winnie's heart. "Marrying someone else? Was it like stabbing a knife into Winwin's heart? How strong she should be to accept the fact you marry someone else?" No matter what the excuse Brian gave, no matter how difficult it was for Brian, Kevin felt that it was unfair to Winnie.

CHAPTER 529 FILES IN THE PORTFOLIO

At this time, Brian was in a dilemma and was temporarily helpless. "I know, I know I'm sorry for Winwin, but there's nothing else I can do for the moment. I had to hold off on marriage and figure out a way to make grandpa accept Winwin. But I can't refuse the blind date. If I refuse, grandpa will do something to Winwin immediately, and he will definitely drive her out of B City." "As you know, there are many things I can do in my position, both public and private. There are many things I have not yet figured out. Now is not the best time to decide anything." Brian felt that his explanation feeble and weak. But this was the fact, as if his hands and feet were tied, he could do nothing. "Alas..... Winwin had a tough life. She was tied up by two children, otherwise even if she loves you, she would not be with you. In other words, this is moral kidnapping, you can use the children to bind her for life." "What does a woman live for all her life? A husband who loves her, a lovely and sensible child, and a home that can shelter her from the wind and rain. But what has she but her children?" Kevin understood Brian's difficulties, but understanding did not mean accepting. From Winnie's point of view, Brian was selfish. Brian could have given up his current status and power and his past animosities. He could have put aside everything and all his lost memories and stayed with Winnie. But he did not do so, he could not give up all these and could only sacrifice Winnie to solve all the things in his heart. Brian was speechless and could only sigh. He knew what a woman wanted all her life. But there were many things could not be solved temporarily, and he did not feel at ease to live with these things. He felt that he needed time and that he would be most secure living happily with his family after everything was settled. "I don't know what to say. After coming from MG, Winwin..." In the middle of the words, Kevin stopped. It seemed useless to say that. Brian knew everything, but he did not give up. Even if it was said, so what? "Oscar told you?" Though Kevin did not finish his words, Brian knew what he was trying to say. "Yes, Oscar told me. Brian, you can't change your grandpa's attitude, so you need to have blind date and get married, but you can't even handle with Wendy. Not to mention what happened in the police station, the fact that foreign man forced into Winwin's room had something to do with Wendy. You had broken up with Wendy, you can't let Wendy so hurt Winwin." Kevin could not control his emotions and was irritable. Winnie did not say a word about this matter. Brian could not treat such a well-bred and generous person casually. "I also suspect that it has something to do with Wendy..." "No doubt, it's Wendy. After Oscar came back and told us, Daenerys and Emily reasoned with Wendy the next day. Wendy didn't admit she did it, but she admitted she didn't want to give up on you. I don't think there is a fundamental difference between the two." Kevin wanted Brian give up one, he could not hurt Winnie in several aspects. "I know, and I warned her. But I think she needs a process to forget. All I can do now is protect Winwin from Wendy. Wendy will quit in the end." Brian saw through Wendy's mind, but he did what he should do, he could not kill Wendy, in any case. "Have you protected Winwin? She got framed abroad, is that the way you protect her?" Kevin's tone was clearly sarcastic. Brian seemed to fail his promise to Winnie. He failed to protect her, but he did hurt Winwin's heart. Brian was speechless again, yes, had he protected Winnie? The office was silent for a moment because of Kevin's words, and Kevin was sad to see Brian's helplessness. "Brian, since you want everything to be well done, since you want your family to live happily together, you must settle it as soon as possible. You love Winwin, do you want her to live a sad life?" Kevin could not help and had no idea to solve these problems. He could only understand what Brian did. "Get rid of Wendy first, as long as she does not hurt Winwin, Winwin can feel better." It was the only way Kevin could think of. "That's what I'm doing now. I'm trying to get Wendy to help me remember the accident and then I will stop contacting her and make her move on. But I can't think of anything now." Brian thought so. Once a problem was solved, their life would be quieter and he could not communicate with Wendy at all. "Last time Wendy was with me. She said the accident was not a big deal at all. She said it was solved in two words. But I don't remember anything she said. I don't think it's that simple, and I remember giving her something, but she said she did not have it." "When Wendy said that, I couldn't tell whether my memory was true or what she said was true. Now I'm confused." It was not as simple as he thought, but it was getting more complicated. He didn't know who to trust anymore. "What is it you gave Wendy?" It was the first time Kevin had heard of it. "I was under the impression it was papers or something, in a portfolio. I don't know what's in that portfolio." Brian came here today was to tell Kevin about this to see if Kevin could think of anything. After all, they were friends who talked about everything. "What could it be?" Kevin was confused too. He was sure that what Wendy said was false and that Brian's memory was truth. But he did not know what was in the portfolio. Wait... How did Wendy make this up? Kevin suddenly found doubt and asked Brian. "Wendy took you to the crash site?" "You suspect Wendy isn't the woman, right?" Brian was a smart man. As Kevin asked, he knew there was problem. "....." Kevin was speechless for a while, thinking if he had said something wrong, but he did not. He continued. "It is possible." "Not only you but also Albert and Morgan have doubts. Sometimes I think what Wendy said isn't reliable. But if she wasn't the one involved, how could she have found the place so correctly?" Brian suspected too, there were many points that she mentioned was different with his memory. But now he could not be sure if his memory was accurate, so he could not tell if what Wendy said was true or false. "She took you there?" It was strange that Wendy was able to find out where it happened. "Yes, to test her, I asked her to lead the way. She was right. Do you think she's lying in this case?" This was what Brian did not understand. "I don't know. I don't understand." Kevin was also confused and wondered what was going on. Was there any connection between Wendy and Thomas? At this thought, Brian was nervous. If Wendy and Thomas had private contacts, there was a problem. Brian and Kevin chatted for a while, and there was no new discovery or solution to solve the problem. At noon, Brian returned to Kevin's home. "Winwin. Stay with Daenerys since she doesn't want you to leave. I send kids to have classes." With that, Brian took the children to go. Daenerys spoke at this time. "Come back after dropping off the children. There's something you need to know." "I'll be back." Brian did not care too much, it should not be a big deal, or Daenerys could not wait for him to come back after sending the children based on her temper. Brian left with two children, and then Winnie asked with doubts. "What is the matter? Why Brian has to know it?" "Don't ask, Emily and Leo will come. They will tell you. I think Brian should be there to prevent him from having a wild thought." Daenerys did not tell her about it. Emily said she wanted to Winnie personally. "Keep in suspense with me? I feel it is not a good thing." Winnie began to feel uneasy, but she did not know what it was. "Emily will tell you when she comes, let's talk about Wendy." Daenerys changed the subject. "There is nothing to tell about Wendy. She is a contemptible scoundrel who doesn't worth mentioning." At the thought of Wendy, Winnie felt she funny. "Contemptible scoundrel? It's true. But be careful with her. Emily told you that Wendy won't give up Brian. She will keep pestering you and keep bothering you." Although Emily had communicated with Winnie, Daenerys was still worried about her. "A woman who likes Brian will not give up easily. Brian is a rich man, even if they could not be his wife, to be his mistress is worth showing off. How could Wendy give up such a sought-after man?" Winnie was smart and she knew all these. These women were like flies around him waiting for food, but none of them had a chance until he gave them a chance. After all, Winnie thought the key was Brian. However, she could not control Brian, nor could she control the flies around him. "Do you know why I say Wendy is a contemptible scoundrel?" Winnie asked Daenerys. "Why?" Winnie smiled sarcastically and then explained. "She is attacking the wrong person. She should be focusing on Brian instead of finding ways to attack me. Even if she drive me away and kill me, there will still be women around Brian. Klara had been waiting for an opportunity. Does she want to kill all the women around him?"

CHAPTER 530 CONTACT AS A FRIEND

Hearing Winnie's words, Daenerys laughed. "Isn't this a joke? If she has such awareness as you, she would not attack you." "Winwin, you know why everyone thinks you're their enemy? That's because the only person Brian loves is you, and only by taking you away from Brian can others have a chance." Daenerys was right in analysis. It started from love. Penny, Wendy, even Klara were jealous of Winnie who could have Brian's love. Because jealousy, they grew hatred and regarded Winnie as an enemy. And these people would take avenged and that was why Winnie had suffering. "It makes sense. Does Brian really love me like they think?" Winnie asked Daenerys. She could feel Brian loved her. But she was not sure how deep the love was and whether it was the only love, because of the girl in the picture, because Brian defended Wendy again and again. "How do you think? If he does not love you, how can you get into trouble?" Daenerys gave Winnie a blank look. "I want you to be careful. We can't stop Wendy from making trouble for you. You can only be careful and protect yourself." The bottom line was Winnie. "I know. I'll be careful. You know, I'm actually glad it's Wendy who's picking on me. At least she is not so cruel as Penny. She was timid and kind, so she will not kill me. If she could do anything like Penny, I wouldn't be able to cope with it." Winnie had the same idea as Oscar. Penny was not so vicious and strong, so it was not so difficult to deal with her. "You are so optimistic." "Actually, I do not understand why you have blindly tolerance? Why don't you fight back? It's like a war between you and Wendy. Defense is important in a war, but it cannot win, let alone stop the war. You have to learn to attack to get things done." Daenerys persuaded Winnie, wanted her to take the initiative, and then in the shortest time solved the trouble. It was the only way to lessen her danger. As soon as she finished her words, Winnie laughed out. "Aren't you exaggerating too much? You even compared it to a war." Winnie laughed, but felt Daenerys was reasonable. But it was not a war time, active attack could only make more enemies and hatred more profound. Because if no one was afraid of you, no one was going to surrender, and no one was going to give anything good away. After all, people were selfish. The two talked, and soon the time passed. The man they were waiting for arrived downstairs. Leo was the first to arrive. He did not find Emily's car, so he had been waiting downstairs. When Emily came, they went upstairs together. Two people in the elevator were silent. Leo tried to speak for several times, Emily avoided it with her body language. They went to the door and Emily stopped. "I will tell Winwin and try not to make her worry. Let's just say we still don't think our relationship is right for each other and we'll keep going as friends." Emily had to tell Leo in advance, so that Winnie would not have a burden. "Ok." After hearing Leo's answer, Emily reached out and rang the doorbell. "Have you booked your flight?" Leo seized the time and asked Emily. "Yes." As Emily answered, and before Leo ask which day she would fly, they saw Brian walking out of the elevator. As soon as he reached them, the door opened. "You came up together?" Winnie felt surprised that three people had met. "We were here first, and your husband ran into us at the door." Emily made a joke which was no funny with a heavy heart. Then everyone came in and sat down on the sofa. "Daenerys, we're all here. Say what you want." Winnie had been curious, she could not wait since everyone was there. "I will say it..." Before Daenerys and Emily said a word, Leo spoke ahead. He was a man, he should bear the responsibility. He had promised Emily, but he felt that he should be the one to say it. Emily looked at Leo with surprise, but she did not make a sound to stop him. "Winwin, Brian, what I want to say is about me and Emily." "We tried, but it didn't work out. So we have broken up." It was not the first time that Leo said the words "break up", but only this time he felt his heart in great pain. Winnie froze for a moment and then looked back at Brian and then at Daenerys and Emily. After looking at them, she was sure Leo was not joking. "Is it because of me?" Before she had the answer, Winnie had begun to feel guilty. Now she finally understood why Daenerys wanted Brian to present. "No." "No." Leo and Emily deny at the same time. They were most worried that Winnie took the blame. "Because of me." "The reason is me." Emily and Leo said at the same time, both wanted to take the blame. "Winwin, it has nothing to do with you. I told you and Brian that I only regard you as a friend. So I didn't break up with Emily because of you." "Actually, it's been days since we broke up and I haven't told you, because I was afraid you would take the blame on yourself. You were on travel, I was afraid you will worry about us." "Now that you have come back, we must make things clear with you. Emily and I... I don't deserve to have Emily. I can't give her a sense of security. I don't know how to express my love and she could not feel my love." Speaking of this, Leo felt his heart hurt. He had to stop and took a long sigh to ease himself. "It is a destiny that we can't be together. We decided to be good friends." Leo took the responsibility on himself, he did not do a good job, he did not love Emily deeply, since so, he was not qualified to ask Emily to be with him. Since so, he would let Emily go, so that she could have better love. "You..." Winnie did not know how to express her mood at the moment and did not know she should persuade or blame. Others were not clear about their feeling. But if she said nothing and allow them to separate, Winnie felt it a pity. "How did you come to this? We all thought you are matched and you are meant for each other. But why you broke up?" Winnie wanted to persuade them, but it was unable to be understood. She could not figure out why they could not be together. "It is best to be friends, so that we can never separate. Winwin, you don't have to have burden." "Brian, don't think too much about it. I broke up with Emily not because I still have feelings for Winwin, but because I don't deserve to be with Emily." For fear that Brian had a wild thought, he explained. It was his problem now, not anyone else's. "I didn't think much of it. I just think it's a pity you two split up like this. Can you give each other a chance to get along again?" Brian advised and hoped that the people who love each other would not part sadly. He watched Emily and Leo carefully. Although they said that they had broken up, but there was love in their eyes to each other. Since they loved, why did they have to separate? It could not be understood and it was a pity. "We have tried, we don't need a chance." Emily finally spoke. She tried to be calm and indifferent. Emily continued to say. "Leo has already started a blind date, and I have bought a plane ticket to study abroad. We both started new, there is no need to turn back." "You're going abroad to study? Don't you love Leo? Can you get him over and never come back?" Winnie was surprised. She did not know anything, they one had a blind date, and the other had booked a flight. It was not a white lie, it was they feared that she would help them to be together again. Since they have started a new life, Winnie even had no opportunity to persuade them. Hearing Winnie's question, Emily did not know what to say. She was silent, did not know if she should tell a lie or tell her the truth. It was not just Emily who was silent. The whole room was silent, waiting for Emily's answer. Especially Leo. Leo waited for Emily's answer with expectation. He made a decision at this moment, if Emily said she loved him, he would be desperate to win her back, even if her love was mixed with hate. As long as Emily said she loved him, Leo would not mind it. However..... "No, my love for him is over." "From now on, I am single. I can fall in love with other men. I can..." Emily continued, but Leo did not listen to it. Her words pierced Leo's heart like a sharp sword. She didn't love him. Her love for him was over, but he was still in love with her, and his love had just begun, but he had lost it. "Emily, it hurts your heart when you said this. They can't understand it, but I had been there. As long as you fall in love with a person, it will not be easy to move on. The more indifferent you are, the more you love him. Come on, give you and Leo a chance." "You both love each other, why lied about it? Aren't you afraid you will regret it for the rest of your lives?" Winnie did not want them to separate. She persuaded them to give each other a chance, to love bravely, and to cherish what she could not have. "Winwin, because you have been there, you will know love cannot be forced. What was going on between you and Brian is a different situation..." "What is the difference? Is it because your love came so easily, and mine has suffered so much? Do you have to have a suffering love before you cherish? Do you have to go through as much pain as I did before you know what true love is?"
